Registrar Tells Procedure in Draft Reports

Students wishing reports sent to their Selective Service Boards have only the option to have a report sent or not have it sent. They cannot request that only certain information be forwarded, according to Robert A. McGrath, registrar. McGrath said some confusion has arisen in the fact that students believe they can determine the specific information sent to their local boards.

SIU will send out two reports a year to draft boards if the student so wishes. The student can request that only one report be forwarded, but the information requested in it is determined by the draft board. Facts in the fall report are whether the student is enrolled full-time, the quarter he will complete his current year, class standing and the expected date of graduation.

The spring report includes the student's class ranking and class standing. The class ranking is determined by what quarter of his graduating class the student ranks academically.

R. Kirby Browning, enrollment coordinator, said letters were sent to all males who were both full and part-time students.

Browning said a letter was also sent to students outlining the requirements for maintaining a 2-S deferment. He said some confusion arose over the requirement that a student must carry only 12 quarter hours to be classed as a full-time student.

Browning said although the minimum quarter requirement applies to one term, it does not hold for an entire academic year. To keep a 2-S deferment, the student must complete 48 quarter hours for the year.

Some students have been reclassified 1-A even though they requested the Registrar's Office submit reports to their draft boards. Some felt this was due to the Registrar's Office not submitting the fall report in time.

Browning said, "This is not true. We have 45 days from the beginning of the quarter to file the reports with local boards, and we sent ours out last week. They (draft boards) received the reports in ample time."

Citing a possible reason for the mix-up, Browning said some boards believe the quarters begin on Sept. 1, not on the 21st as in the case of SIU.

"Consequently, they might have acted before the 45-day grace period had expired," Browning said.

Professor to Talk On Law Careers

Theodore Smedley, professor of law at Vanderbilt University, will conduct two special briefings Friday on careers in law.

The first session will be held at 10 a.m. in the University Center Room D. The second session will be held at 3 p.m. in the Wham Education Building, Room 201.

All students interested in legal education at any institution are invited.

The enrollment coordinator said any student who has problems along this line should come into the Registrar's Office and the University will attempt to straighten it out.

"If need be, we will send out a second report to the draft boards and verify the student's eligibility if this is the case," Browning said.

Newspaper Walkout Continues

The pressmen's strike against the Southern Illinoisan newspaper continues into its third day with no new developments reported.

Clifford Barker, president of the Pressmen's Union Local 418 of Murphysboro, said attempts are being made to arrange a meeting with the paper today.

Barker said work is still halted at the newspaper's new plant which is under construction on North Illinois Avenue.

A picket line was established there also and construction workers were honoring the line.

"They don't like it," Barker said, "but they are honoring it."

The strike began Tuesday morning when the pressmen's three-year contract expired.

The workers are striking for a one-year contract instead of the three years, a 9 per cent increase in wages and a manning clause in the contract which guarantees at least four men working on a press.

The pressmen now receive $3.18 an hour.

Members of a printers union local will join pressmen Thursday in striking the Southern Illinoisan evening newspaper, the local president said Wednesday.

Donald Siefert, president of Local 217 of the International Typographical Union, said contract negotiations with the newspaper were unsuccessful. He said his membership voted to strike at a meeting held Tuesday night if talks Wednesday were not fruitful. The newspaper employs 19 printers.

12 Seats to Be Filled

Action Party Names Election Candidates

Action Party candidates for 12 of the 20 Campus Senate seats to be filled by the Nov. 22 campus election have been nominated.

The Senate reapportionment which will go into effect this month provides for nine senatorial districts for the Carbondale campus.

In the reapportionment the Illinois Central railroad tracks serve as the dividing line between east and west. The nine districts are east side dorms, east side non-dorms, west side dorms, west side non-dorms, Thompson Point, University Park, Small Group Housing, commuters and foreign students.

Action Party candidates represent six of these districts. Seats in two of the districts are not up for change and another seat will be among those filled by the Action Party executive board.

Fifteen of the 20 seats are for a full year, while five are for a half year. The five senators who will serve for a half year will be those with the lowest number of votes in their district.

The Action Party executive board will name the remaining eight of the 20 candidates at its Monday night meeting.

The 12 candidates and the districts they represent are:

West side dorms—Lynn Atkinson, Al Blumenthal, Larry Smothers and Chick Svihlik.

East side dorms — Larry Busch.

East side non-dorm — Johanna Verkamman.

Thompson Point — Bill Perardi.

University Park — Roger Schoob and Crystal Wrigh.

Commuter — Phil Egelston, Karl Maple and Paul Wheeler.

Senators in the foreign student and Small Group Housing district will continue to serve until the spring elections. The candidate for the west side non-dorm district will be announced later by the Action Party executive board.

The Dynamic Party has not yet announced its candidates for the Senate seats.

Senators Condemn 'Parentis'

The Campus Senate Wednesday night adopted a resolution condemning the tradition of "in loco parentis" and the educational habits and practices it justifies.

This tradition places the University as the parental guardian over the moral, intellectual and social activities of the student.

The Senate confirmed its belief that the University must not restrict "freedoms of thought, association and action" which are part of the democratic order.

The resolution, adopted from the United States National Student Association, says that "paternalism in any form induces or reinforces immaturity, conformity and disinterest" among students whose desire for growth should be encouraged.

The Senate also allocated $100 for initial costs of the "Free School," and agreed to allocate further funds to the school as are justified.

The "Free School" is a Senate-recognized establishment designed to begin where the college classroom ends. The idea behind the school is that many current questions cannot be dealt with effectively by the present University curriculum and there should be a supplement to the learning of the college student.

The school will offer such "courses" as poetry, folk music, international folk dancing, philosophy, and current events.

The campus body adopted a resolution calling for a one-hour extension of the Morris Library hours, from 10:30 p.m. to 11:30 p.m.

And on Nov. 17, a French cabaret revue has been scheduled to close November's convocations program.

Two other football games are scheduled this month, in addition to Ball State.

SIU will play Northern Michigan University at Marquette Saturday, and on Nov. 19, Southern will play Southwestern Missouri State at Springfield, Mo.

Interpreters Theater will present the play, "In White America," four times this month, at 8 p.m. Nov. 12, 13, 18 and 19 on the Calipre Stage in the Communications Building.

Battle on Prices Deserves Support

Carbondale housewives may open Pandora's box over the food price issue. We hope they do.

The wives have been caught between the price of Pabulum at the supermarket and husbands screaming at home over the deficit spending on groceries.

It has been reported that food prices in Carbondale are on the average two per cent higher than neighboring communities. Why should this be?

It would seem that two stores of the same chain would have to pay the same wholesale prices for their products, and their overhead would be equal in two communities such as Carbondale and Marion.

Supermarket managers argue that they can't lower their prices because of their costs. They attribute the rising prices to other factors in the economy such as federal depletion of reserves for foreign aid, rising transportation costs and soaring pay-rolls.

They say the housewives should not bring the pressure against the grocery stores.

We say they should. This is exactly the place where the consumer should begin his campaign against inflation and high prices. The buyer certainly cannot take his case to the jobbers, wholesalers, truckers or the labor unions.

In the past, all of these groups have been unresponsive to appeals from the administration to hold the 3.2 per cent wage and price guidelines. If enough pressure is brought against the retailers, perhaps the high costs throughout the economy can be hammered down.

One supermarket owner said he still believed in the free enterprise system, and implied that the housewives' movement was running counter to this concept. This is hardly the case.

In fact, the consumers' right to accept or reject marketing practices or prices, either individually or en masse, is one of the foundations of the free enterprise system.

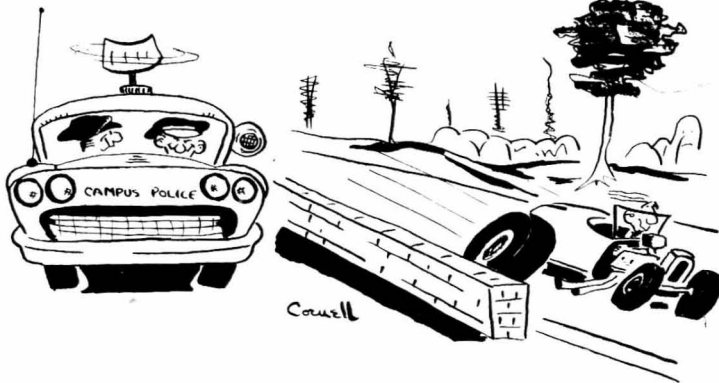

Another object of the housewives' campaign is the elimination of trading stamps and the "gimmick games." The cost of these promotional devices has to be reflected in the cost of groceries. They certainly offer nothing to the quality of the food or service, so why should the consumer have to shoulder the costs?

If all stores were to eliminate the "come-ons," then competition among them would be equal and the savings could be applied to prices. One supermarket manager said his firm would be happy to stop the promotions and giveaways if the other stores would.

Inflation in general, and grocery costs in particular, place a heavy burden on limited and fixed-income families. Retired people who are living on pensions, Social Security payments or savings are the hardest hit by the rising costs. Students, who form a large share of the Carbondale market also fall into this group.

We support the housewives efforts in this campaign and hope they can convince the food stores to establish a more realistic price structure.

Gold Buildup in France

New International Monetary System Needed to Correct Present Problems

By Robert M. Hutchins

At first glance the economic policies of Britain and France seem insane.

Britain is impoverishing her people and throwing tens of thousands out of work. This is an odd way to bring about prosperity. It is extraordinary in view of the dedication of all governments to full employment.

France is piling up gold the most sterile of all commodities. In 1776 Adam Smith proved that the accumulation of precious metals could not promote the wealth of nations.

But it is not the policies of these countries that are insane. It is the international monetary system.

That system calls for the settlement of international balances in gold, pounds or dollars. Any country holding pounds or dollars may demand payment in gold at the rate of $35 an ounce. When a country with a "favorable" balance, like France, loses confidence in the pound or the dollar, or when with any good or evil motive it prefers gold to pounds or dollars, it may deplete the gold reserves of Britain and America at will.

The British are a people dependent on international trade. They have been importing more than they have been exporting. They also have important military commitments overseas. Their reserves of gold, pounds and dollars cannot stand the strain.

The policies adopted by the British government are designed to deprive the people of the goods they want by depriving them of the money to pay for them. The unemployed cannot buy much. Hence, imports will be reduced.

Since domestic prices may fall, exports may be increased.

Only in this destructive way can Britain cope with the international monetary system.

France is a rich country that keeps the mass of the people relatively poor. They are not permitted to buy imported goods in excess of exports. Hence, the "favorable" balance of trade.

We can only speculate about Charles de Gaulle's motives. But, whatever his motives are, we should thank him for what he is doing. By cashing his pounds and dollars for gold he is providing a convincing demonstration of the insanity of the international monetary system. He is showing how Britain and the sterling bloc may be thrown into bankruptcy.

The difference between Britain and the United States is only one of the degree to which they are dependent on international trade. Britain could not survive without it. The United States would be the richest country in the world if it neither imported nor exported. But the balance of payments has been steadily against the United States, with the exception of the Suez period, since 1950.

The gold supply of the United States has been cut almost in half since 1949. The dollars held outside the country have increased as our gold reserves have declined. Foreigners now hold $21 billion which may be demanded in gold at any time.

Our gold supply is $13, $8 billion of which must be retained to back up our currency. That leaves $5 billion to meet $21 billion of potential claims.

For more than 30 years it has been clear that some new international monetary unit, other than gold, pounds and dollars, would have to be invented and some new international monetary system, based on the new unit, would have to be erected.

The selfishness and shortsightedness of national governments have prevented action. The disaster that threatens will admit of no further delay.

Students Display Immaturity

To the editor:

While attending the concert of the Munich Chamber Orchestra Thursday I was disgraced and enraged by the actions of some of the students in attendance.

Several times during the performance paper aircraft floated from the balcony across the auditorium to the floor below. In front of me a group of students laughed and carried on a conversation, apparently unaware that a number of us were interested in hearing what was on the stage.

Certainly if these people were not interested in enjoying the performance, they could at least have been quiet so that anyone who wanted to hear could have been able.

Perhaps if these students had given a little thought to the matter, and realized the extraordinary talents of the musicians on stage, they would have shown greater respect for the performers, quieted down and maybe even appreciated the excellent program provided by this renowned orchestra.

Faculty Members See Tax Revision Need

By Dianne Anderson

Illinois is faced with a financial decision. On Nov. 8, voters, including qualified SIU students and faculty, will be asked to accept or reject a proposed tax amendment to the revenue article of the state constitution.

The amendment opens the possibility for a state income tax. If the legislature adopts one under the proposed amendment, it could not exceed 3 per cent and would be a flat, ungraduated tax. It could be raised to no more than 6 per cent and then only through statewide referendum. If the income tax were adopted, within four years the personal property tax would be dropped and the state would distribute part of the proceeds from the income tax to local units. If the amendment fails it cannot be brought up again for four years. A similar amendment was defeated four years ago.

The proposal could be approved in two ways. The first is by a majority approval based on the total number of people voting in the election. This is unlikely, it is felt, because many persons often vote for their Republican or Democratic choices and neglect to vote on issues about which they are uncertain, like this one.

For passage under this method, it is conceivable that nearly all of those voting on the issue would have to vote "yes" to offset the effect of non-voting on the question.

The other method would require two-thirds approval of those who vote on the proposition itself.

Two groups that have taken a stand against the proposal are the AFL-CIL and the League of Women Voters.

Several faculty members have discussed their personal views on the amendment—its merits, faults, possible consequences and chance of passage. The men interviewed all agreed that the present revenue section of the constitution is archaic and needs revision. And they consider the greatest weakness in the amendment lies in the fact that it makes provision only for an ungraduated tax.

"After careful study, I think the amendment is a poor makeshift," said George Adams, chairman of the Department of History. "We have one of the oldest constitutions," he commented. "It dates back to the Civil War generation."

But, he said, the history of the state about such matters is that it is very difficult to get anything passed which even mentions income tax reform. Adams said he believes that the state needs a graduated income tax and he says that most of the large states operate with one. This amendment, he added, does not go far enough, and he concluded, "I'm against it."

Orville Alexander, chairman of the Department of Government, said, "It is what two-thirds of the General Assembly agreed to put on the ballot, and compromise is the essence of the legislative process."

"We don't have a choice between this and something else — it is this or nothing." According to Alexander, every president of the state-supported universities backs the amendment because it will provide more revenue for the school system.

Alexander, who is on a task force committee appointed by the governor, has studied future needs of the primary and secondary public school systems and said the proposed program will need more funds than are presently available.

"Illinois is a rich state," he said, "but the tax base is limited." The sales tax and property tax have gone as far as he feels they ought to go and he sees grave consequences if the state does not get more revenue.

The opposition, according to Alexander, is divided into two groups—the ultraconservatives who want no tax increase, and the extreme liberals who think the limitations are too restrictive. "I feel I'm more practical," he said, "and I plan to vote for the amendment—and I hope it passes."

"The strength of the amendment is that it does allow the legislature to act," said Elmer Clark, dean of the College of Education. "This is an advantage over telling exactly what kind of a tax is to be levied."

"It is generally agreed that the personal property tax is not at all well-handled," he said. "And any income tax allowing for proper exemptions is fairer than the sales tax which allows for none."

Clark said there are many areas of need in the state but the one that he is most closely concerned with, of course, is the future needs of the state's public schools, junior colleges and universities. "I feel certain that the revised tax structure would also mean more revenue for the local school districts," he commented.

Clark would support the proposal that a percentage of the federal income tax be rebated to the state because he said, the exemption system used by the federal government is as fair to the taxpayer as any yet devised.

He referred to the suggestion, made by the Advisory Commission in Intergovernmental Relations, which is being considered by some congressmen. If made into law, this proposal would give taxpayers a federal income tax credit if they paid state income taxes. If Illinois had a three per cent individual income tax under this plan, the federal government would give equivalent credit against the individual's federal tax.

He favors income tax, he explained, because as income increases, revenue increases. Conversely, in a depression era, taxes go down proportionately with decreased income.

Charles Clayton, professor of journalism, agrees that the personal property tax is unequal and unenforceable and that most people will not pay more taxes through the amendment than they are paying now.

"My principal objection is that it doesn't go far enough and it is obviously a compromise," he said. "But," he added, "half a loaf is better than none."

Clayton fears that the press has not done an adequate job in informing the people about the amendment and that many people do not know it's on the ballot. Also, he added, fairly influential groups are against the proposal.

"I would rather have seen the legislature given even more flexibility," he said. "And, if a safeguard were wanted against irresponsible major changes, he suggested it could have provided for a mandatory statewide referendum."

To have to go through the entire process of changing the constitution each time a revision is needed is a real roadblock, Clayton contends.

Reds Kill Seven in Korea

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—Striking from ambush under a full moon, Communist North Koreans wiped out an eight-man patrol of the U.S. 2nd Infantry Division below the armistice line Wednesday, just eight hours before President Johnson left South Korea for Washington.

The Red raiders killed six American soldiers and a South Korean on duty with them. They wounded the eighth man, an American, in the gravest such incident involving U.S. servicemen in this peninsular nation since the Korean War ended in 1953.

President Johnson commented on his return to American soil that the United States will take a firm anti-Communist stand in Asia, "and you can put that in your pipe and smoke it."

In Washington, the State Department expressed serious concern over this attack plus others since Oct. 15 which the department said have taken the lives of 22 other South Koreans.

North Korea's Central News Agency, without referring to the ambush, broadcast a declaration from Pyongyang that Johnson had been "sowing the seeds of a new war" in Korea. In another dispatch, it charged that American troops staged various provocations and fired more than 800 bullets into Communist territory during five consecutive days, Oct. 25-29, and again on Oct. 31.

President Chung Hee Park's Seoul government denounced the ambush as an "intolerable and barbarous act which deserves condemnation by all free peoples of the world."

Information Minister Hong Jong-chul suggested the raid grew out of North Korean jealousy over South Korea's "fast economic progress and enhanced national prestige in the international community," attained with substantial American help.

President and Mrs. Johnson were sleeping at their hotel in Seoul when grenade explosions opened the attack on the patrol at a point, 30 miles away, about 800 yards south of the demilitarized zone between North and South Korea.

In Guinea

Toure Sees Ambassador

PARIS (AP)—Robinson McIlvaine, the U.S. ambassador in Conakry, Guinea, said Wednesday anti-American demonstrations there are over and that he has managed to see President Sekou Toure.

McIlvaine told the Associated Press by radiotelephone that only the government radio station is pursuing the attack against the United States.

McIlvaine was placed briefly under house arrest Sunday when Guinea learned that its foreign minister and 18 other Guineans had been taken from a Pan American World Airways plane in Accra, Ghana, and held. Guinea blames the United States for the incident, McIlvaine said this "is purely ridiculous."

McIlvaine had filed a request to see Toure at the beginning, but was admitted only at 2 a.m. Tuesday, he said.

The meeting followed a speech in which Toure threatened "to make the obvious decision" unless the United States "fulfills its obligations" in the case.

"He seemed to be restraining himself during the speech," McIlvaine said. "And he told me at our meeting that he had cut out the worst part of it."

As for the meaning of "the obvious decision," McIlvaine said, "I really don't know. Your guess is as good as mine."

U.N. Passes U.S. Appeal

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. General Assembly's Political Committee gave overwhelming approval Wednesday to a U.S.-Soviet appeal to all nations to refrain from any action that might help the spread of nuclear weapons.

Climaxing nearly two weeks of debate, the 121-nation committee passed the East-West resolution by a vote of 100-1 with Cuba abstaining. Only Albania voted against the resolution.

The resolution, initiated by the Soviet Union with U.S. support, had picked up 45 sponsors by the time the vote came. It was introduced as a stopgap measure until an accord can be reached on a treaty banning the spread of nuclear weapons.

Marines Killed in Fire

SYLMAR, Calif. (AP)—Three Marines died while fighting a brush fire in rugged Southern California hill country Wednesday, bringing the number of men killed in a plague of flame to 13.

The Marines fighting a 4,500-acre blaze at the big Camp Pendleton Marine base, were trapped when flames swept over the top of a ridge, base spokesmen said.

Names of the victims were withheld pending notification of kin.

Fire officials had hoped for control of most of the fires that erupted in Southern California on Tuesday. One fire, 25 miles northwest of Los Angeles in the Angeles National Forest, covered more than 2,100 acres.

Erhard May Resign Post

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Ludwig Erhard, beset by a crisis generated in part by difficulty in finding money to fulfill promises to buy arms in the United States, said Wednesday he will resign if necessary.

Some leaders of the party, the Christian Democrats, have urged him to quit. Though Erhard was West Germany's most popular politician when he succeeded Konrad Adenauer as chancellor Oct. 16, 1963, he has been sliding downhill politically for several weeks.

New taxes are considered necessary to patch a hole in the 1967 budget, a shortage of revenues estimated to range from the equivalent of $725 million to a billion dollars.

At least $450 million is needed to complete promises to buy arms in the United States. Such purchases help to offset the dollar drain in the maintenance of American armed forces in Germany.

Dry Milk Inventory Recalled

WASHINGTON (AP) — All stocks of the Borden Food Co. non-fat dry milk product Starlac are being recalled from distributors and stores across the nation because of the discovery of salmonella organisms in samples of the product, the Food and Drug Administration announced Wednesday.

FDA, which sampled the product, recommended the recall procedure and said the company agreed to this course of action. The announcement added that the company and the FDA are working in full and close cooperation to carry out the recall.

The product has been distributed nationally, including shipment to about 67,000 retail stores.

The company has notified all distribution points to request the return of all stocks of Starlac. The company has arranged to make reimbursements for all retail stocks, including packages returned to stores by customers.

The salmonella organism—of which there are over 1,200 strains—produces gastro-intestinal infection which can have serious consequences.

10% Passenger Fare Increase Sought by IC

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Four railroads operating in Illinois have filed proposals to increase interstate passenger fares by 10 per cent effective Nov. 21, the Illinois Commerce Commission announced Wednesday.

A similar increase in interstate fares has received Interstate Commerce Commission approval.

The railroads are Illinois Central, Gulf Mobile & Ohio, Norfolk & Western, and Chicago & Eastern Illinois.

The first three lines seek the 10 per cent increase in both coach and first class fares. The C. & E. I. proposes to boost only first class fares since its coach fares were raised in 1965.

Parlor car fares would be boosted from 7 to 9 per cent by the first three railroads.

The fare changes would not apply to commuter and multiple ride fares.

Present first class rate of I.C. and C.M.&O. is based on a charge of 3,859 cents per mile for one-way fares and 3,473 cents per mile for round trip. All but the Norfolk & Western propose the increases to be effective between all be effective between all be effective between all stations in Illinois. The N.&W. proposes increases between Chicago and Litchfield, Edwardsville and Granite City,

Johnson Back Home; Visited Seven Nations

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson came home Wednesday night from his whirlwind, 17-day, 31,500-mile tour of seven Asian and Pacific nations.

Winding up what he called the most historic jaunt of his career, the President's huge Air Force One jet touched down at nearby Dulles Airport in the Virginia countryside.

Undertaken in the midst of an off-year election campaign at home, it was a trip highlighted by:

- A Manila conference pledging an allied withdrawal from South Viet Nam within six months after North Viet Nam disengages from the war.

- A pledge by allied nations—the United States, South Viet Nam, South Korea, Australia,

New Zealand, the Philippines, Thailand—to wage an expanded war on hunger, disease and illiteracy.

- A visit by Johnson to the shores of Cam Ranh Bay, South Viet Nam, where he ate chow with GIs in battle dress and adjured them to "come home with that coonskin on the wall."

Chicken Colonel Tells Party He Committed Political Foul

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Col. Harland Sanders, who made millions in the fried chicken business, landed in a political frying pan Wednesday because of a $500 donation to a Republican's congressional campaign.

Disclosure of the gift embarrassed Sanders. He is chief fund raiser for the Democrats' fall campaign in Kentucky.

"I'm apologizing to the party," he told the Associated Press by telephone from Toronto, Canada, "Somebody broke a confidence."

The colonel, easily recognized by his white goatee and black string bow tie, admitted that he gave the money to former Louisville Mayor William O. Cowger, the GOP Nominee in the 3rd District. "Cowger, is a traitor to his word," asserted the 75-year-old businessman.

Sanders said he made a commitment to a doctor, not identified, to contribute to Cowger's campaign.

"This happened before I joined the Democrats' money drive," continued Sanders. "I never had a chance to see the doctor again so I handed the check to Cowger personally. He assured me it would be kept confidential."

News of the gift leaked out when Cowger filed a financial statement with the clerk of the House of Representatives in Washington. Such statements are required by law of all candidates for office.

The National Campers and Hikers Association plans to hold its annual convention in 1968 at Du Quoin, as a feature of the Illinois Sesquicentennial celebration, which will continue throughout that year.

Don't read this ad unless you mean business

If you're looking for a job to tide you over until you decide what you really want to do with your life . . . forget us. We're in a hurry, we're growing fast, and we promote from within our own organization.

That means we're highly selective. This year, we'll settle for just 150 college men who appreciate the difference between contributing as an individual to a team effort, or working for an organization big enough to hide in, where their mistakes won't be noticed. If you are an individual, and want to remain one, you should be talking to us soon.

Here are a few facts that may help you determine your future:

Hyster people are different because their business life is purposeful. Every member of the Hyster top management team has earned his promotion through the Company ranks. All Hyster products are sold through dealers, and most of these are independent businessmen. They are free to choose the manufacturer and the products they want. In the U. S. these same businessmen have been Hyster dealers for an average of 16 years.

Hyster markets a complete line of fork lift trucks, earth compacters, heavy-duty trailers, and logging equipment in principal cities throughout the free world. These products are manufactured in 12 company-owned plants around the globe. From our start as a one-market company, we are today reporting sales in practically all industrial market classifications. Some 75 per cent of our sales volume is currently spread over 15 major industries. Total sales for 1965 amounted to more than $127-million, an increase of 28 per cent over 1964. Profits rose 35 per cent over 1964, to $9.8-million.

For all these reasons, Hyster is interested in you if you are an Engineer or a major in Business Administration, Marketing, Accounting, Liberal Arts . . . and feel you are ready for this kind of challenge. Contact your placement officer for an interview, or write directly to Jim Chapman at the address below. We'll take it from there.

Experts to Speak

Formal Opening Set For Communications

A broad look into all aspects of modern communication will provide the basis for discussions and panel programs during the formal opening of the Communications Building on Nov. 18 and 19.

Each major division of the communications media will be represented at a symposium entitled "Basic Communication Problems of Our Time."

Experts in theater, speech, speech pathology, photography, broadcasting and journalism will comprise the symposium at 3 p.m., Nov. 18.

John Howard Lawson, authority on drama writing, playwright and film script writer, will represent the theater division. Franklin S. Haiman, chairman of the Department of Public Address and Group Communication at Northwestern University, will discuss the field of speech. Lee Edward Travis, dean of the Graduate School of Psychology of Fuller Theological Seminary, will be the guest in speech pathology.

A professor of photography at Indiana University, Henry H. Smith, will be symposium speaker for photography. Harrison Summers, director of the Radio-Television Division at Ohio State University, will discuss the problems in broadcasting.

SIU Soil Judges Vie in Wisconsin

The SIU soil judging team, the first since 1958, competed Saturday with eight other teams in the Regional III soil judging contest at the University of Wisconsin, Madison.

"Although we failed to place in the top three, the boys received their first taste of actual competition," Coach Joe Jones, associate professor of plant industries, said.

Bruce F. Currie, Alma, Norman L. Kilpatrick, Bridgeport, John C. Wilmert, Lincoln, and Donald J. Dallmier, Newton, made the trip with Jones.

Contestants in the meet examined soil profiles at four different sites for depth of horizons (layers), texture, color, moisture consistency, and the type and grade of soil structure.

Questions and problems in journalism will be reviewed by Paul Fisher, chairman of the Freedom of Information Center at the University of Missouri.

Communication through the medium of theater will climax the Friday evening activities with the production of "Rainbow Terrace." The play, presented in the School of Communications Theater at 8 p.m., was written by Mordecai Gorelik, research professor of theater at SIU.

"The Communication Mechanisms of Interpersonal Influence" will be discussed by Paul F. Lazarsfeld, a pioneer in communications research from Columbia University. Lazarsfeld will speak at 10 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 19.

The educational value of communications will be considered by President Delyte W. Morris at the noon luncheon. His speech is entitled, "The Place of Communication in Higher Education."

ROBERT COCKREL

Former Air Force Sergeant Seeks Degree in Agriculture

Nationwide, young men are leaving the farm for city jobs in industry and business, but Robert Cockrel, a military electronic technician, has turned his back on space-age communications for "the good earth."

He's seen Paris—and also North Africa and Alaska—but he has enrolled in the School of Agriculture to become a plant industries specialist.

Retired after 11 years from the Air Force with the rank of sergeant, he lives on a farm near Vienna with his wife and three young daughters, works part-time on his brother's stock farm—and car-pools 80 miles day, round trip, to attend classes at the University.

Cockrel, reared in Joppa, thought he had a good career in the Air Force. He trained in the airborne radio maintenance and ground radar schools.

He enrolled in SIU last January and this fall will reach junior status in the School of Agriculture, where he has maintained a grade-point average of 3.934.

Although somewhat older than the average undergraduate, Cockrel, 30, takes part in School of Agriculture activities and has been elected by his fellow students as a member of the Dean's Council.

He and his wife, the former Carolyn J. Baker of Temple Hill, and three daughters—Vickie Denise, 9, Angela Dawn, 7, and Monica Renee, 4—live four and one-half miles east of Vienna.

For November Release

SIU Press Publishers Seven New Books

The Southern Illinois University Press published seven new books for November release, according to Vernon Sternberg, director.

Four books to be published on Nov. 7 are "Our Public Life," by Paul Weiss, $2.25 (cloth $6); "The Theatrical Public in the Time of Garrick," by Harry William Pedicord, $2.65 (cloth $6); "John Dewey and the World View," by Douglas E. Lawson and Arthur E. Lean, $2.25 (cloth $6); and "The Poets Laureate," by Kenneth Hopkins, $3.45 (cloth $7).

Two books set for Nov. 10 release are "Face to Face with the Mexicans," by Fanny Chambers Gooch, priced at $6.95, and "Three Years in Chile," by Mrs. George B. Merwin, $4.50.

These two books bear all the earmarks of the enlightened and "interesting" woman, in this or any age, Sternberg said.

"The Other Side of the Mirror," by Enrique Anderson Imbert, a collection of short stories, playlets and "situations" will be published on Nov. 21, at $5.95.

This book, which introduces Anderson and his work to the North American continent, balances the two worlds of "real" and "magic." It juxtaposes goblins and men, light and darkness, sun and water, devils and angels, so there is no telling where one ends and the other begins, Sternberg said.

DEAR REB:

Even When She Answers, He Still Gets the Busy Signal.

DEAR REB:
Lately, every time I call my girl, she's either "not in" or "not interested." Last week I called her 23 times and couldn't even make a coffee date. The trouble started when she started dating a guy who owns a Dodge Coronet. Now she goes to parties with him, dances, football games, etc. Do you think I should call her again, or should I forget her and break her heart?

DEAR BAD CONNECTIONS:
I think your next call should be to your Dodge Dealer. Then make a date to see the '67 Coronet, the car that's breaking hearts all over America. You'll find that its good looks are pretty hard to resist. Now, before you break your girl's heart, give her another break. Ask her to go for a ride in your new Coronet. I think she'll get the signal.

Sincerely, Reb

Here's the heartbreaker... '67 Dodge Coronet 500. A campus favorite with its great new looks, ride, and list of extras that are standard. Like bucket seats with either a companion seat in the middle or a center console. Plush carpeting. Padded instrument panel. Padded sun visors. Seat belts, front and rear. A choice of Six or V8 models. And lots more. So get with '67 Dodge Coronet and get busy.

CLOUD OF DUST—Jim Flowe (33), East Carolina fullback, goes down in a cloud of dust as he is stopped for no gain by the Saluki defense. Diving in for the clinching tackle is Craig Whitlock (83), SIU defensive end. The Saluki defensive effort last Saturday was termed by Coach Ellis Rainsberger as the best this year. The Salukis will be in Marquette, Mich., this Saturday to play Northern Michigan which has a 5-3 record.

Northern Michigan Next Foe

Wildcats' Attack Strong, Balanced

In playing Northern Michigan University at Marquette Saturday, SIU will be facing an opponent with a strong balance attack.

The host Wildcats will take a 5-3 record into the afternoon contest with the Salukis coming in at 3-3-1.

In eight games, NMU has scored 169 points, averaging better than 21 points each contest.

The defense has held opponents to just 64 points, giving up an even eight points each game.

All of this, plus the fact that the Wildcat offense is adept in both the air and ground attacks, makes NMU a very formidable foe.

In their three season losses, the Wildcats have yet to be humbled. The defeats came at the hands of Akron, 18-10, Hillsdale, 7-0 and Dayton, 10-0.

On the other hand, Northern's winning scores have been rather impressive.

The team opened with a 21-0 shutout over State College of Iowa. Bradley was a 42-8 victim and Central Michigan went down 35-14. St. Norbert was stung 37-0 and the latest NMU victory was 24-7 over Findlay.

The Wildcats have averaged close to 200 yards a game on the ground and nearly half that amount in the air.

Two fine quarterbacks and an outstanding halfback in the person of Larry Snoddy form the nucleus of the backfield.

Both Rich McCarthy and Clair Lambert have been getting the job done as signal callers with McCarthy getting a slight nod over Lambert in action.

McCarthy has hit 24 of 67 passing attempts and Lambert has fired good 26 of 61.

Snoddy has carried the ball 104 times, a team high, and run for 393 yards. Other halfbacks who have produced are Lonnie Holton and Jim Lindstrom.

At fullback, Dick Haynes is in the No. 1 position averaging 4.9 yards per carry.

Halfback Jim Lindstrom is now the leading pass receiver on the squad with 10 receptions good for 217 yards and one touchdown.

The weather awaiting the Salukis promises to be cold and the possibility of snow is good. At last report, Marquette had about five inches of snow and forecasts called for continuing cold weather.

Bump vs. Pete Saturday

Illini-Michigan Game Is Family Affair

CHICAGO (AP)—Brotherly love momentarily ends Saturday when Illinois faces Michigan at Ann Arbor in Big Ten football.

On opposing sides of the field will be Wolverine Coach Bump Elliott and Illini Coach Pete Elliott.

Pete's Illini never have defeated Bump's Wolverines. This will be their sixth meeting.

"There's no family squabble connected with this game," Bump told the Chicago football writers by phone Tuesday. "We get along real well. The fact that we've defeated Illini the last five years when Pete has been there is just one of those things. We've been lucky. I'm certain Pete and Illini want to change things and get the record turned around."

Bump conceded that Michigan has played "reasonably well" in the last couple of weeks' in defeating Minnesota.

Arena Times Given For Intramural Use

The Intramural Office has announced that the Arena will be open to all intramural basketball teams for practice from 8 to 10:30 p.m. on the nights of Nov. 3, 7, 8, 9, 10, 14, 15, 16, 17, 22 and 28. Teams must sign up in advance at the office.

The Arena will also be open at the same times through Nov. 14 for those participating in the intramural wrestling tournament scheduled Nov. 15-17. The mats on the upper concourse may be used for practice.

Illini Guard Out

CHAMPAIGN (AP)—Defensive guard Al Waters will not play for Illinois against Michigan Saturday because of a knee injury.

sota 49-0 and Wisconsin 28-17.

Michigan and Illinois each are 2-2 in the conference. Asked if any thoughts of a possible Rose Bowl trip were in his mind, Bump replied: "Too many things have to happen for such a possibility. We must win all our remaining games Illinois, Wisconsin and Ohio State and then see what happens in the rest of the conference."

Michigan's top rusher, full-back Dave Fisher, injured his shoulder against Wisconsin

Baseball Program Continues As Team Waits for Spring

With the fall baseball program turning into winter league play, Coach Joe Lutz figures to keep his boys out-doors "until the weather brings us in."

In the intersquad games which have been played since the beginning of the quarter, pitchers Skip Pitlock and Bob Ash are the top hurlers with 5-1 records.

In the hitting department, but Bump said he may be able to play against Illini.

Other coaches' comments: Jack Mollenkopf of Purdue—"I think our offense is more exciting and stronger than a year ago. Bob Griese has great poise and confidence. He is as great an over-all quarterback as any we've ever had. Few quarterbacks have done so much for a team as he's done for ours."

Murray Warmath, Minnesota—"We all were embarrassed by the 49-0 licking by Michigan two weeks ago. But our seniors got together with the other players, talked it over and sort of rallied the troops. Then we defeated Ohio State."

Alex Agase, Northwestern—"I would class Michigan State's secondary as super. They didn't give our receivers a chance to breathe last week. Trying to make a first down against the Spartans is hard enough, let alone a touchdown. Against Minnesota Saturday we will have to try to contain Curt Wilson and his runs off the option. He is the same scrambling, running type of quarterback as MSU's Jim Raye."

Jack Finney is leading with a .444 mark. Barry O'Sullivan, Bob Warn, Ron Kirkland and Paul Pavesich follow.

An all-year program is set for the baseballers even after the weather chases them in.

Weight lifting will be just one of the activities involved in the program before action officially starts during the middle of March.

Michigan State, Notre Dame Game on Regional TV Only

NEW YORK, (AP) - The most frustrating blackout since the Eastern Seaboard power failure a year ago is scheduled Nov. 19 on ABC television and it has football fans from Portland, Ore., to a jail in Texas screaming for relief.

That is the date of the clash between Notre Dame and Michigan State, the unbeaten and top ranked college teams in the country. But the ABC television schedule calls for the game to be regionally televised only, in a doubleheader with UCLA and Southern California, and there are no plans to change it. This regional telecast will not be seen in most of the South and the Pacific Northwest, where fans will be offered the Tennessee-Kentucky and California - Stanford games.

"They put my name in a newspaper (in Portland) last week as the person to complain to," said Beano Cook, ABC publicity director for college football, "and I received 350 letters, some telegrams and 10 long distance phone calls—some collect—in three days, all pleading for a change."

"If I weren't here, I would travel to see the game on television," wrote an inmate in a Texas jail to ABC Vice President Roone Arledge, "but I won't be out by Nov. 19."

"The game probably will have the largest audience of any NCAA regional season regional game ever telecast," Cook said, "but somebody had to miss it."

"We get complaints every week, but this is the largest amount of frustration—not anger, but frustration—that we've had since the beginning of college telecasts."
