12 Seats to Be Filled

Action Party Names Election Candidates

Action Party candidates for 12 of the 20 Campus Senate seats to be filled by the Nov. 22 campus election have been nominated.

The Senate reapportionment which will go into effect this month provides for nine senatorial districts for the Carbondale campus.

In the reapportionment the Illinois Central railroad tracks serve as the dividing line between east and west. The nine districts are east side dorms, east side non-dorms, west side dorms, west side non-dorms, Thompson Point, University Park, Small Group Housing, east side non-dorms, and foreign students.

Action Party candidates represent six of these districts. Seats in two of the districts are not up for change and another seat will be among those filled by the Action Party executive board.

Fifteen of the 20 seats are for a half year, while five are for a half year. The five senators who will serve for a half year will be those with the lowest number of votes in their district.

The Action Party executive board will name the remaining eight of the 20 candidates at its Monday night meeting.

The 12 candidates and the districts they represent are:

- West side dorms—Lynn Atkinson, Al Blumenthal, Larry Smothers and Chuck Svitlik
- East side dorms—Larry Busch
- East side nondorm—Jo- hanna Verkamman
- Thompson Point—Bill Pearden
- University Park—Roger Schoob and Crystal Wright
- Commuter—Phil Egelston, Karl Maple and Paul Wheeler
- Senators in the foreign student and Small Group Housing district will continue to serve until the spring elections. The candidates for the west side nondorm district will be announced later by the Action Party executive board.

The Dynamic Party has not yet announced its candidates for the Senate seats.

Senators Condemn ‘Parents’

The Campus Senate Wednesday night adopted a resolution condemning the tradition of "in loco parents" and the educational habits and practices it justifies.

This tradition places the University as the parental guardian over the moral, intellectual and social activities of the student.

The Senate confirmed its belief that the University must not restrict "freedoms of thought, association and action" which are part of the democratic order.

The resolution, adopted from the United States National Student Association, says that "paternalism in any form imposes or reinforces immaturity, conformity and claustrophobia among students whose desire for growth should be encouraged.

The Senate also allocated $100 for initial costs of the "Free School," and agreed to allocate further funds to the school as are justified.

The "Free School," a Senaterecognized establishment designed to begin where the college classroom ends. The idea behind the school is that many current questions are effectively by the present University curriculum and there should be a supplement to the learning of the college student.

The school will offer such "courses" as poetry, folk music, international folk dancing, philosophy, and current events.

The campus body adopted a resolution calling for a one-month extension of the Morris Library hours, from 8:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m.

The enrollment coordinator said any student who has problems along this line should come into the registrar’s office and the University will attempt to straighten it out.

If need be, we will send out a second report to the draft boards and verify the student’s eligibility if this is the case,’” Brown said.

Newspaper Walkout Continues

The pressmen’s strike against the Southern Illinoisan newspaper continues into its third day with no new developments reported.

Clifford Barker, president of the Pressmen’s Union Local 418 of Murphysboro, said attempts are being made to arrange a meeting with the paper’s owner.

Barker said work is still halted at the newspaper’s new printing plant which was moved across town on North Illinois Avenue.

A picket line was established around the plant, but the pressmen were honoring the strike.

"They don’t like it,” Barker said, "but they are honoring the strike.

The strike began Tuesday morning when the pressmen’s three-year contract expired.

The workers are striking for a one-year contract instead of the three years which the paper had offered.

A 2-cents per newspaper increase in wages and a manning clause in the contract which guarantees at least four men working on a press.

The pressmen now receive $4,18 as an hour.

Members of a printers union local will picket Thursday in striking the Southern Illinoisan evening newspaper; the local president said Wednesday.

Donald Sefried, president of Local 217 of the International Typographical Union, said talks were made with the newspaper were unsuccessful.

He said his membership voted a strike after Wednesday night when talks Wednesday were not fruitful.

The newspaper employs 19 printers.

Registrar Tells Procedure in Draft Reports

Students wishing reports sent to their Selective Service Boards have only the option to have a report sent only if they request it. They cannot request that only certain information be forwarded. Senator Robert A. McGrath, registrar, said new confusion has arisen in the fact that students believe they can determine the information sent to their local boards.

SIU will send out two reports a year to draft boards if the student so wishes, but the information requested in it is determined by the draft board.

Facts in the fall report are whether the student is enrolled full-time, the quarter he will complete his current year, class standing and the expected date of graduation.

The spring report includes the student’s class ranking and class standing. The class ranking is determined by what quarter the student is enrolled in and the student ranks academically.

R. Kirby Brown, enrollment coordinator, said letters were sent to all males who were both full- and part-time students.

Browning said a letter was also sent to students outlining the requirements for maintaining a 2-S deferment. He said some confusion arose over the requirement that a student must carry only 12 quarter hours to be classified as a full-time student.

Browning said although the minimum quarter hour requirement applies to one term, it does not hold for an entire academic year. To keep a 2-S deferment, the student must complete 48 quarter hours for the year.

Some students have been reclassified 1-A even though they requested the Registrar’s Office submit a request for draft boards. Some felt this was due to the Registrar’s Office not submitting their request for a report in time.

Browning said, "This is not true. We have 45 days from the beginning of the quarter to file the request with local boards, and we sent out our last week’s draft boards and received the reports in ample time.

Citing a possible reason for the mix-up, Browning said some boards believe the quarter begins on Sept. 1, not on the 21st as in the case of SIU.

"Consequently, they might have acted before the 45-day grace period had expired,” Browning said.

Battle on Prices Deserves Support

Carbondale housewives may open Pandora’s box over the food prices issue. We hope it does.

The wives have been caught between the price of food at the supermarket and husbands screaming at home over the deficit spending on groceries.

It has been reported that food prices in Carbondale are on the average two per cent higher than neighboring communities. Why should this be? It would seem that two stores of the same chain would have to pay the same wholesale prices for their products, and their overhead would be equal to two communities such as Carbondale and Marion.

Supermarket managers argue that they can’t lower their prices because of their costs. They attribute the rising prices to other factors in the economy such as federal depletions of reserves for foreign aid, rising transportation costs and soaring payroll.

They say the housewives should not bring the pressure against the grocery stores.

We say they should. This is exactly the place where the consumer should begin his campaign against inflation and high prices. The buyer certainly cannot take his case to the jobbers, wholesalers, truckers or the labor unions.

In the past, all of these groups have been unresponsive to appeals from the administration.

Gold Buildup in France

New International Monetary System Needed to Correct Present Problems

By Robert M. Hutchins

At first glance the economic policies of Britain and France seem insane.

Britain is impoverishing her people and throwing tens of thousands out of work. This is an odd way to bring about prosperity. It is extra­ordinary in view of the dedication of all governments to full employment.

France is piling up gold, the most sterile of all commodities. In 1776 Adam Smith proved that the accumulation of precious metals could not promote the wealth of nations.

But it is not the policies of these countries that are insane, it is the international monetary system.

That system calls for the settlement of international balances in gold, pounds or dollars. Any country holding pounds or dollars may demand payment in gold at the rate of $35 an ounce. When a country with a “favorable” balance, like France, loses confidence in the pound or the dollar, or when with any good or evil motive it prefers gold to pounds or dollars, it may deplore its gold reserves.

The British and the French are people dependent on international trade. They have been importing more than they have been exporting. They also have important military commitments overseas. Their reserves of gold, pounds and dollars cannot stand the strain.

The policies adopted by the British government are designed to deprive the people of the goods they want by depriving them of the money to pay for them. The unemployed cannot buy much. Hence, imports will be reduced.

Since domestic prices may fall, exports may be increased. Only in this destructive way can Britain cope with the international monetary system.

France is a rich country that keeps the masses of the people relatively poor. The French are not permitted to buy imported goods in foreign exchanges or imports. Hence, the “favorable” balance of trade.

We can only speculate about Charles de Gaulle’s motives. But, whatever his motives are, we should thank him for what he is doing. By cashing his pounds and dollars for gold he is providing a convincing demonstration of the insanity of the international monetary system. He is showing how Britain and the sterling bloc and America and the dollar bloc may be thrown into bankruptcy.

The difference between Britain and the United States is only one of the degree to which they are dependent on international trade. Britain owes more than we do. The United States would be the richest country in the world if it were not for European imports. The balance of payments has been steadily against the United States with the exception of the Suez period since 1950.

The gold supply of the United States has been cut almost in half since 1945. The dollars held outside the country have increased as our gold reserves have declined. Foreigners now hold $21 billion which may be demanded in gold at any time.

Our gold supply is $13, $8 billion of which must be retained to back up our currency. That leaves $5 billion to meet $21 billion of potential claims.

For more than 30 years it has been clear that some new international monetary unit, other than the pound, pounds and dollars, would have to be established. Some new international monetary system, based on the new unit, would have to be evolved.

The selfishness and shortsightedness of national government have prevented action. The disaster that threatens will admit of no further delay.

Letter to the Editor

Students Display Immaturity

To the editor:

While attending the concert of the Munich Orchestra Thursday I was disgraced and the gold reserves of some of the students in attendance.

Several times during the performance paper aircraft floated from the balcony across the auditorium to the floor below. In front of me a group of students laughed and carried on a conversation, apparently unaware that a number of us were interested in hearing what was on the stage.

Certainly if these people were not interested in enjoying the performance, they could at least have been quiet so that anyone who wanted to hear could have been able. Perhaps if these students had bothered to think about the matter, and realized the extraordinary talents of the musicians on stage, they would have shown greater respect for the performers, quieted down and maybe even appreciated the excellent program provided by this renowned orchestra.

Reds Kill Seven in Korea

The Red raiders killed six American soldiers and a South Korean on duty with them. They wounded the eighth man, an American, in the gravest such incident involving U.S. soldiers in this particular nation since the Korean War ended in 1953.

President Johnson commented on his return to Washington that the United States will not allow the Communists to stand unopposed in Asia. "And you can put that in your pipe and smoke it," he said.

In Washington, the State Department expressed serious concern about this attack plus others since Oct. 15 which the department said have taken the lives of 22 other South Koreans.

North Korea's Central News Agency, without referring to the Red attack, issued a declaration from Pyongyang that Johnson had been "sowing the seeds of a new war" in the Korean peninsula.

In another dispatch, it charged that American troops staged various provocations and fired more than 800 bullets into Communist territory during five consecutive days, Oct. 22-29, and again on Oct. 31.

President Chung Hee Park's Seoul government denounced the ambush as an "incredible and barbarous act which deserves condemnation by all free peoples of the world.

Information Minister Hong Jong-chul suggested the raid grew out of North Korean jealousy over South Korea's "fast economic progress and enhanced national prestige in the international community," attained with substantial American help.

President and Mrs. Johnson were sleeping at their hotel in Seoul when grenade explosions opened the attack on the patrol at a point, 30 miles away, about 800 yards south of the demilitarized zone between North and South Korea.

U.N. Passes U.S. Appeal

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) - The U.N. General Assembly's Political Committee gave overwhelming approval Wednesday to a U.S.-Soviet appeal to all nations to refrain from any action that might help the spread of nuclear weapons.

Clamoring nearly two weeks of debate, the 121-nation committee passed the East-West resolution by a vote of 100-1 with Cuba abstaining. Only Albania voted against the resolution.

The resolution, initiated by the Soviet Union with U.S. support, had picked up 45 sponsors by the time it came. It was introduced as a stopgap measure until an accord can be reached on a treaty banning the spread of nuclear weapons.

Dry Milk Inventory Recalled

WASHINGTON (AP)—All stocks of the Borden Food Co., non-fat dry milk product Vimm Juice, are being recalled from distributors and stores across the nation because of the discovery of salmonella organisms in samples of the product, the Food and Drug Administration announced Wednesday.

The FDA, which sampled the product, recommended the recall procedure and said the company agreed to this course of action. The announcement added that the company and the FDA are working in full cooperation to carry out the recall.

The company has notified all distribution points to request the return of all stocks of Starlac. The company has arranged to make reimbursements for all retail stocks, including packages returned to stores by customers. The salmonella organism—which is one of several that produce gastro-intestinal infection which can have serious consequences—has been distributed nationally, including stores by customers.

10% Passenger Fare Increase Sought by IC

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Four railroads operating in Illinois have filed proposals to increase intrastate passenger fares by 10 per cent effective Nov. 21, the Illinois Commerce Commission announced Wednesday.

A similar increase in inter-state fares has been requested by the state Commerce Commission approved for travel.

The railroads are Illinois Central, Gulf Mobile & Ohio, Northern Illinois and Chicago & Eastern Illinois.

The first three lines seek the 10 per cent increase in both coach and first class fares. The L. & I. proposes to boost only first class fares since its coach fares were raised in 1965.

Parlor car fares would be boosted from 7 to 9 per cent by the first three railroads. The fare changes would not apply to commuter and multiple ride fares.

Present first class rate of L.C. and L.M. & O. is based on a charge of 3.859 cents per mile for one-way fare and 3.473 cents per mile for round trip. All but the Northern Illinois and Western & Eastern propose the increases to be effective between all stations in Illinois. The N.C.W. proposes the increase to be effective between Chicago and Litchfield, Edwardsville and Granite City, New Zealand, the Philippines, Thailand— wage an expanded war on hunger, disease and illiteracy.

A visit by Johnson to the shores of Cam Ranh Bay, South Viet Nam, where he is called home with the 3rd Corps, and South Korea, Australia, the former Louisiana Mayoral William O. Cowger, the GOP Nominee in the 3rd District, "Cowger, is a traitor to his word," asserted the 75-year-old businessman.

Sanders said he made a commitment to a doctor, not identified, to contribute to Cowger's campaign. "The thing that helped before I joined the Democrats' money drive," continued Sanders, "I never had a chance to see the doctor again so I handed the check to Cowger personally. He assured me it would be kept confidential."

News of the gift leaked out when Cowger filed a financial statement with the clerk of the House of Representatives in Washington. Such statements are required by law of all candidates for office.

Johnson Back Home: Visited Seven Nations

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson came home Wednesday night from his whirlwind, 17-day, 31,500-mile tour of seven Asian and Pacific nations.

Winding up what he called the most historic year of his career, the President's whirlwind tour is a tour of the Virgin Islands.

Undertaken in the midst of an off-year election campaign for home, it was a trip highlighted by:

- A Manila conference pledging an allied withdrawal from South Viet Nam within six months after North Viet Nam disengages from the war.

- A pledge by allied nations— the United States, South Viet Nam, South Korea, Australia, the Netherlands, New Zealand, and the Philippines— to wage an expanded war on hunger, disease and illiteracy.

- A visit by Johnson to the shores of Cam Ranh Bay, South Viet Nam, where he is called home with the 3rd Corps, and South Korea, Australia, the former Louisiana Mayoral William O. Cowger, the GOP Nominee in the 3rd District, "Cowger, is a traitor to his word," asserted the 75-year-old businessman.

Sanders said he made a commitment to a doctor, not identified, to contribute to Cowger's campaign. "The thing that helped before I joined the Democrats' money drive," continued Sanders, "I never had a chance to see the doctor again so I handed the check to Cowger personally. He assured me it would be kept confidential."

News of the gift leaked out when Cowger filed a financial statement with the clerk of the House of Representatives in Washington. Such statements are required by law of all candidates for office.

Chicken Colonel Tells Party He Committed Political Foul

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Col. Harland Sanders, who made millions in the fried chicken business, has been in a political frying pan Wednesday because of a $2,000 donation to a Republican's congressional campaign.

Disclosures of the gift embarrassed Sanders, He's the chief fund raiser for the Democrats' fall campaign in Kentucky.

"I'm apologizing to the party," he told the Associated Press by telephone from Toronto, Canada, "Somebody broke a confidence."

The colonel, easily recognized by his white goatee and black string bow tie, admitted that he gave the money to former Louisville Mayor William C. Cowger, the GOP Nominee in the 3rd District.

Sanders said he made a commitment to a doctor, not identified, to contribute to Cowger's campaign.

"The thing that helped before I joined the Democrats' money drive," continued Sanders, "I never had a chance to see the doctor again so I handed the check to Cowger personally. He assured me it would be kept confidential."

News of the gift leaked out when Cowger filed a financial statement with the clerk of the House of Representatives in Washington. Such statements are required by law of all candidates for office.

If you’re looking for a job to tide you over until you decide what you really want to do with your life... forget us. We’re in a hurry, we’re growing fast, and we promote from within our own organization.

That means we’re highly selective. This year, we’ll settle for just 150 college men who appreciate the difference between contributing as an individual to a team effort or working for an organization big enough to hide in, where their mistakes won’t be noticed. If you are an individual, and want to remain one, you should be talking to us soon.

Here are a few facts that may help you determine your future:

Hyster people are different because their business life is purposeful.

Every member of the Hyster top management team has earned his promotion through the Company ranks. All Hyster products are sold through dealers, and most of these are independent businessmen. They are free to choose the manufacturer and the products they want.

In the United States these same businessmen have been Hyster dealers for an average of 16 years.

Hyster markets a complete line of fork lift trucks, earth compactors, heavy-duty trailers, and logging equipment in principal cities throughout the free world. These products are manufactured in 12 company-owned plants around the globe. From our start as a one-man company, we are today reporting sales in practically all industrial market classifications. Some 75 per cent of our sales volume is currently spread over 15 major industries. Total sales for 1965 amounted to more than $127-million, an increase of 28 per cent over 1964. Profits rose 35 per cent over 1964, to $9.8-million.

For all these reasons, Hyster is interested in you if you are an Engineer or a major in Business Administration, Marketing, Accounting, Liberal Arts... and feel you are ready for this kind of challenge.

Contact your placement officer for an interview, or write directly to Jim Chapman at the address below. We’ll take it from there.

Experts to Speak

Formal Opening Set For Communications

A broad look into all aspects of modern communication will provide the basis for discussions and panel programs during the formal opening of the Communications Building on Nov. 18 and 19.

Each major division of the communications media will be represented at a symposium entitled "Basic Communication Problems of Our Time." Experts in theater, speech, speech pathology, photography, broadcasting, and journalism will comprise the symposium at 3 p.m., Nov. 18.

John Howard Lawson, authority on drama writing, playwright and film script writer, will represent the theater division. Franklin S. Hallman, chairman of the Department of Public Address and Group Communication at Northwestern University, will discuss the field of speech. Lee Edward Travis, dean of the Graduate School of Psychology of Fuller Theological Seminary, will be the guest in speech pathology.

A professor of photography at Indiana University, Henry H. Smith, will be symposium speaker for photography. Harrison Summer, director of the Radio-Television Division at Ohio State University, will discuss the problems in broadcasting.

SIU Soil Judges

Vie in Wisconsin

The SIU soil judging team, the first since 1963, competed Saturday with eight other teams in the Regional III soil judging contest at the University of Wisconsin, Madison.

"Although we failed to place in the top three, the boys received their first taste of actual competition," Coach Joe Jones, associate professor of plant industries, said.

Bruce F. Currie, Alma; Norman L. Kilpatrick, Bridgeport; John C. Wilmers, Lincoln; and Donald J. Balmier, Newton, made the trip with Jones.

Contestants in the meet examined soil profiles at four different sites for depth of horizons (layers), texture, color, moisture consistency, and the type and grade of soil structure.

Questions and problems in journalism will be reviewed by Paul Fisher, chairman of the Freedom of Information Center at the University of Missouri.

Communication through the medium of theater will climax the Friday evening activities with the production of "Rainbow Terrace." The play, presented in the School of Communications Theatre at 8 p.m., was written by Mordecai Gorelik, research professor of theater at SIU.

"The Communication Mechanisms of Interpersonal Influence" will be discussed by Paul F. Lazarsfeld, a pioneer in communications research from Columbia University. Lazarsfeld will speak at 10 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 19.

The educational value of communications will be considered by President Delyte W. Morris at the noon luncheon. His speech is entitled, "The Place of Communication in Higher Education."

President Morris said, "The Place of Communication in Higher Education."
Former Air Force Sergeant Seeks Degree in Agriculture

Nationwide, young men are leaving the farm for city jobs in industry and business, but Robert Cockrel, a military electronic technician, has turned his back on space-age communications for "the good earth."

He's seen Paris—and also North Africa and Alaska—but he has enrolled in the School of Agriculture to become a plant industries specialist.

Retired after 11 years from the Air Force with the rank of sergeant, he lives on a farm near Vienna with his wife and three young daughters, works part-time on his brother's stock farm—and car-pools 80 miles day, round trip, to attend classes at the University.

Cockrel, reared in Joppa, thought he had a good career in the Air Force. He trained in the airborne radio maintenance and ground radar schools.

He enrolled in SIU last January and this fall will reach junior status, in the School of Agriculture, where he has maintained a grade-point average of 3.93.

Although somewhat older than the average undergraduate, Cockrel, 30, takes part in School of Agriculture activities and has been elected by his fellow students as a member of the Dean's Council.

He and his wife, the former Carolyn J. Baker of Temple Hill, and three daughters—Vickie Denise, 9, Angela Dawn, 7, and Monica Renee, 4—live four and one-half miles east of Vienna.

For November Release

SIU Press Publishers Seven New Books

The Southern Illinois University Press published seven new books for November release, according to Vernon Sternberg, director.

Four books to be published on Nov. 7 are "Our Public Life," by Paul Weiss, $2.25 (cloth $6); "The Theatrical Public in the Time of Garrick," by Harry William Pedicord, $2.65 (cloth $6); "John Dewey and the World View," by Douglas E. Law- son and Arthur R. Leah, $2.25 (cloth $6); and "The Poets Laureate," by Kenneth Hopkins, $3.45 (cloth $7).

Two books set for Nov. 10 release are "Face to Face With the Mexicans," by Fanny Chambers Gooch, priced at $6.95, and "Three Years in Chile," by Mrs. George B. Merwin, $4.50.

These two books bear all the earmarks of the enlightened and "interesting" woman, in this or any age, Sternberg said.

"The Other Side of the Mirror," by Enrique Anderson Imbert, a collection of short stories, playlets and "situations" will be published on Nov. 21, at $5.95. This book, which introduces Anderson and his work to the North American continent, balances the two worlds of "real" and "magical." It juxtaposes goblins and men, light and darkness, sun and water, devils and angels, so there is no telling where one ends and the other begins, Sternberg said.

DEAR REB:

Even When She Answers, He Still Gets the Busy Signal.

DEAR REB:

Lately, every time I call my girl, she's either "not in" or "not interested." Last week I called her 23 times and couldn't even make a coffee date. The trouble started when she started dating a guy who owns a Dodge Coronet. Now she goes to parties with him, dances, football games, etc. Do you think I should call her again, or should I forget her and break her heart?

BAD CONNECTIONS

DEAR BAD CONNECTIONS:

I think your next call should be to your Dodge Dealer. Then make a date to see the '67 Coronet, the car that's breaking hearts all over America. You'll find that its good looks are pretty hard to resist. Now, before you break your girl's heart, give her another break. Ask her to go for a ride in your new Coronet. I think she'll get the signal.

Here's the heartbreaker—'67 Dodge Coronet S00. A campus favorite with its great new looks, ride, and lots of extras that are standard like bucket seats with either a companion seat in the middle or a center console, push-pedal panel, padded sun visors, seat belts, front and rear, a choice of Six or V8 models, and lots more. So get with '67 Dodge Coronet and get busy.

Northern Michigan Next Foe

Wildcats’ Attack Strong, Balanced

In playing Northern Michigan University at Marquette Saturday, SIU will be facing an opponent with a strong balance attack.

The host Wildcats will take a 5-3 record into the afternoon contest with the Salukis coming in at 3-3-1.

In eight games, NMU has scored 169 points, averaging better than 21 points each contest.

The defense has held opponents to just 64 points, giving up an even eight points each game.

All of this, plus the fact that the Wildcats offense is adept in both the air and ground attack, makes NMU a very formidable foe.

In their three season losses, the Wildcats have yet to be humbled. The defense came at the hands of Akron, 18-10, Hilldale, 7-0 and Dayton, 10-0.

On the other hand, Northwestern’s winning scores have been rather impressive.

The team opened with a 21-0 shutout over State College of Iowa. Bradley was a 42-8 victim and Central Michigan went down 35-14. St. Norbert was stung 37-0 and the latest NMU victory was 24-7 over Findlay.

The Wildcats have averaged close to 200 yards a game on the ground and nearly half that amount in the air.

Two fine quarterbacks and an outstanding halfback in the person of Larry Snoddy form the nucleus of the backfield.

Both Rich McCarthy and Clair Lambert have been getting the job done as signal callers with McCarthy getting a slight nod over Lambert in action. McCarthy has hit 24 of 67 passing attempts and Lambert has fired good 20 of 61.

Snoddy has carried the ball 164 times, a team high, and run for 393 yards. Other halfbacks who have produced are Lonnie Holton and Jim Lindstrom.

At fullback, Dick Hayes is in the No. 1 position averaging 4.9 yards per carry.

Halfback Jim Lindstrom is now the leading pass receiver on the squad with 10 receptions good for 217 yards and one touchdown.

The weather awaiting the Salukis promises to be cold and the possibility of snow is good. At last report, Marquette had about five inches of snow and forecasts called for continuing cold weather.

Bump vs. Pete Saturday

ILLINI-MICHIGAN GAME IS FAMILY AFFAIR

CHICAGO (AP) — Brotherly love momentarily ends Saturday when Illinois faces Michigan at Ann Arbor in an unaccustomed football match.

On opposite sides of the field will be Wolverine Coach Bump Elliott and Illini Coach Pete Elliott. Pete’s Illini never have defeated Bump’s Wolverines, this will be their sixth meeting.

“T新品 of family squash connected with this game,” Bump told the Chicago football writers by phone Tuesday. “We get along real well. The fact that we’ve defeated Illinois the last five years when Pete has been there is just one of those things. We’ve been lucky, I’m certain Pete and Illinois want to change things and get the record turned around.”

Bumping conceded that Michigan has played “reasonably well” in the last couple of weeks” in defeating Minnesota.

Fans Upset

Michigan State, Notre Dame Game on Regional TV Only

NEW YORK, (AP) - The most frustrating blackout since the Eastern Seaboard power failure a year ago is scheduled Nov. 19 on ABC television and it has football fans from Portland, Ore. to a jail in Texas screaming for relief.

That is the date of the clash between Notre Dame and Michigan State, the unbeaten and top ranked college teams in the country.

But the ABC television schedule calls for the game to be regionally televised only, in a doubleheader with UCLA and Southern California, and there are no plans to change it. This regional telecast will not be seen in most of the South and the Pacific Northwest, where fans will be offered the Tennessee-Kentucky and California-Stanford games.

“They put my name in a newspaper (in Portland) last week as the person to complain to,” said Beano Cook, ABC publicity director for college football, “and I received 300 letters, some telegrams and 10 long distance phone calls—some collect-in three days, all pleading for a change.”

“If I weren’t here, I would travel to see the game on television,” wrote an inmate in a Texas jail to ABC Vice President Roone Arledge, “but I won’t be out by Nov. 19.”

“The game probably will have the largest audience of any NCAA regional season game ever televised,” Cook said, “but somebody had to miss it.

“We get complaints every week, but this is the largest amount of frustration—not anger, but frustration—that we’ve had since the beginning of college telecasts.”
