VINCENT SHEEAN, FAMED FOREIGN CORRESPONDENT, WILL SPEAK ON CAMPUS DECEMBER 3

Will Give Eye-Witness Account of Events in Europe This Summer

When Vincent Sheean, author of Personal History and Not Passes With a Sword, and one of the most colorful correspondents of modern times, who comes to S. I. N. U. on December 3 to lecture, was married in 1935 to Diana Forbes-Robertson, youngest daughter of Sir Johnstone Forbes-Robertson, the noted British actor, he said goodbye to wars and settled down in a cottage on the cliffs of Dover to write fiction.

He determined to forget the excitement of covering such international events as the Rhineland Separatist War, revolt among the Riff, and the beginnings of the Chinese revolution and his various other sensational newspaper "scope" from his typewriter there came "San Felice," a historical novel, "Places of a Fan," a collection of short stories, and "Day of Battle," a story of an historical conflict in which the English gained a victory over the English in 1745—all of which he received extravagant praise from the literary critics.

But, meanwhile, war excitement was flaring higher than ever before. Russia's legions were marching in Ethiopia, Spain had become a battlefield, and Hitler was at last prepared to begin his long projected eastward expansion. Last January with the manuscript of "A Day of Battle" delivered safely to his pub-

More And Better Prepared Teachers Needed For Primary And Kindergarten Levels

S. I. N. U. Elementary Curriculum Has Been Revised to Meet These Increasing Needs

More and better prepared teachers are needed for the kindergarten and primary levels. The city superintendents of Southern Illinois are calling for teachers who have major in these studies which will qualify them for working with young children.

To meet this demand S. I. N. U. has rebuilt its course of elementary teachers. Looking on page 42 of the school catalogue the students will find that following the first two years of general work they may select the field in which they will qualify for teaching either kindergarten or primary grades or they may select the studies which will help them to prepare to teach in kindergarten, first, second, or third grades. Inasmuch as a broad general knowledge is required of teachers in these early years the curriculum committee decided that minors would not be required of those majoring in kindergarten-primary.

It will be noted that following the first two years of general information the primary major begins method courses. On the other hand, the features of these method courses is the laboratory approach. This form the students in Music 300 go into the kindergarten, first, second, and third grades and studied only the music text suited for their levels but also the best methods to be used.

Likewise in Education 337 they have not only become acquainted with the material for the beginning reader classes in the Allyn, the Bruce, and the Lincoln buildings.

Education 341, along with the theory, these same students have had the opportunity of studying two children one under 18 months of age and a second at either the kindergarten or first grade age and have worked with these same children in their dramatic work.

Likewise these same primary majors in Education 340 this term will continue their work with the two children. Having had the background of general knowledge and the methods course in the various fields, the primary majors are then ready to take Education 316 in the spring where they will have the chance to correlate both the subject matter and methods into a working curriculum.

The laboratory work started this term will continue throughout the year. Mathematics 211 for primary teachers will be offered this winter term. Education 333 will follow in the spring. In the spring this four-hour course introduced to meet the state requirement to that field in which the student will become acquainted with the literature best suited for these ages and will have the experience of telling stories to the children in the first four years of school. In the spring this will be followed by speech 336.

With this foundation they are then prepared to undertake student teaching during the senior year. For this they will choose eight hours at the level of their first choice and four hours in their second choice.

Carty and Rains Nominated For S. C. C. President

The following persons were nominated for officers of the Student Christian Council at a meeting yesterday: President—David Carty and Wilma Rains; Vice president—Fred Diekmann and Jane Magnus; secretary—treasurer—Dorothy Reidmond and Norma Jean Norton.

Officers will be elected Tuesday of next week. At this time the group will also make arrangements for Olathek pictures.

COMMITTEE TO SEEK SPACE FOR LOUNGE ROOM

Krause Suggests Y. W. Rent Pierce House for Co-op

Student Council May Place Lounge There

Henry Mandle and Bob Armstrong appeared before the College Council of Administration yesterday to discuss the problem of finding space for Southern's proposed student lounge. The committee was appointed Monday by the Student Council to help investigate possibilities.

During the meeting it was reported that there was "no room" in the basement of the Y. W. for such a lounge. The Y. W. and Y. W. rooms were declared unsatisfactory because of the music classes which use the rooms and the speech classes meeting in the Y. W. theatre adjoining them. The "political" excuse was given for the Y. W. as a possibility for next year but is not available this year.

Miss Annemarie Krause, a member of the Council of Administration, reported that the Y. W. is considering renting the Pierce house on Harvard avenue for a "girls' co-op" house. It is this idea which the Student Council help furnish a room in the house to be used as a student lounge until 5:30 P. M.

Vernice Criley and Walter Heinz to Be Married Tonight

Vernice Criley of West Frankfort will be married to Walter Heinz of Stanton this evening at 6 o'clock in the First Baptist Church of Carbondale. The Rev. Mr. Allan Stewer, pastor of the church, will read the single ring ceremony.

William Horvell of Anna and Wilma Brown of Broughton will be the only attendants.

Miss Criley is to wear a dark blue wool dress with a collar of white roses. Miss Brown's dress is fashioned with a black velvet bodice and a skirt of black and white checked crepe. She will wear a corsage of pink roses.

Walter Heinz, the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Heinz, of Stanton, will graduate in the spring of 1941 during his fourth year at Southern. He has been a member of the Student Council. His other extra-curricular activities include Kappa Phi Kappa, Chemeca, Delta Rho, Societal Literary Society, the Egyptian staff, and the Y. W. C. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Heinz will live at 206 West College during the remainder of the year.

The Inter-Coop Council plans to get the cooperation of certain interior, faculty and business men, to help build more co-op houses for the students of Southern.

Dunbars Plan For Tacky Party Nov. 21

The Dunbar society met Tuesday to discuss plans for a "tacky party" to be held November 21 in the Little Theatre.

Plans were also discussed to bring Miss Rose Brown, blind pianist, from Cairo, to the campus for a concert sometime after the Thanksgiving holidays.

James Price, Dunbar basketball coach, announced that all students desiring credit in basketball should report at the next practice of the squad. The team practices every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday in the Old Science gymnasium at 7:30 P. M.

EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

Following is the schedule for final examinations to be held November 27, 28, and 29:

Wednesday, November 27
First hour classes.....7:30-10:30
Second hour classes.....10:30-1:30
Sixth hour classes.....1:30-4:30
Thursday, November 28
Third hour classes.....7:30-9:30
Fourth hour classes.....10:30-1:30
Fifth hour classes.....1:30-4:30
Friday, November 29
Seventh hour classes 7:30-10:30
Eighth hour classes.....10:30-1:30

Regular classes are expected to hold examinations for only the first two of the three hours.

One-hour or two-hour courses will hold examinations, the last hour of the three-hour period.

The third hour examinations are scheduled for the period from 7:30 to 8:30 since no class meets for more than three hours that period.

FRESHMEN NOMINATE COUNCILMEN

Egyptian Asks Each Nominee to Take Stand

The following freshmen were nominated for Student Council representatives in this primary election yesterday: Men—Jack Appuhn, Bob Campbell, Joe Noto, Charles Wathen, and Bob Wells; women—Ann Abernathy, Nancy Freeman, Arlene Klapp, Patricia Pittman, and Mary Lois Zank.

Final elections will be held next Tuesday in the foyer of the Auditorium. The polls will open at the usual time and remain open until 8 P. M.

Eighty per cent of the freshman class voted in yesterday's balloting, as compared to 74.4% of the sophomores, 23.8% of the juniors, and 25.5% of the seniors in their primaries earlier in the year.

The freshmen Student Council nominees stated their opinions yesterday on the proposed publishing of the Council's individual votes.

The Egyptian asked each nominee the question: "Are you willing to have your vote published on all issues, including issues involving personalities?"

Bob Campbell, Arlene Klapp, Jack Appuhn, Joe Noto, and Nancy Freeman were all in favor of making public the votes on all issues, including personalities.

Charles Wathen, Bob Wells, Ann Abernathy, and Mary Lois Zank were not in favor of the proposed publication.

Due to the short time available before the Egyptian went to press, it was impossible to obtain a statement from Patricia Pittman.

SPECIAL PERMISSION

Upon the recommendation of the agriculture committee, the Council of Administration last week approved the ruling that students are to be permitted to register for a minimum of fourteen hours and a maximum of fifteen hours without special permission.

Mr. Frank Lovell, Southside secretary of the Baptist Student Union, was the main speaker for the State Student Convention held here at a minimum, only 25 percent

PETITION ASKING THAT VOTE ISSUE BE SUBMITTED TO STUDENT BODY IS TABLED

Student Council Approves Schaffer's Motion to Hold Petition Over Till Next Meeting

A petition signed by more than 200 students was presented to the Student Council by Arthur Unger, freshman member of the group, last Monday afternoon asking that "The votes of the individual Council members on all issues, including personalities, shall be made open to student inspection."

A motion, made by Ike Schaffer and passed by a majority, prevented any consideration of the petition by asking that it be tabled until the next meeting.

The petition, according to the constitution of the Student Council, will require the issue to be submitted to the student body for a vote. There is no indication at this time when the vote will take place.

The by-laws of the Council state: "Petitions to the Student Council on matters other than amendments to this constitution shall require the submission of the subject of petition to a referendum of the student body. All such petitions must bear not less than 150 valid signatures of students, or students and faculty. The Council may of its own volition submit questions to referendum. A referendum shall require a majority of the vote of the student body."

The petition was formulated and circulated before the Council voted two weeks ago to publish a roll call vote on any personality. They agreed unanimously, however, to publish their votes on all issues in which personalities were not involved.

The idea, now approved by a large part of the student body, was originally proposed at a Council meeting three weeks ago when a student committee, representing what they felt to be the student opinion, appeared before the Council to ask that body to publish detailed minutes of their meetings, and requested that the minutes include the votes of each individual member on all issues including personalities.

The proposed change has been opposed, by all members of the Student Council except one. Arthur Unger has been consistently for publishing all votes on issues and personalities. Unger failed to receive sufficient votes in yesterday's nominations to have his name placed on the ballot next Tuesday when a freshman class elects its representatives to the Council.

At Monday's meeting, all members voted to table the petition until the next meeting, except Unger who felt that the matter should not be delayed.

It is expected the student body will have an opportunity to express its will in a referendum vote some time during the first part of next term.

STUDENT OPINION SURVEY SHOWS SIXTY-TWO PERCENT OF COLLEGE STUDENTS RARELY CUT CLASSES

How serious is the problem of the students having missed one or more class during the week of the poll. In the South over half of them, 57 per cent said they had cut at least once.

These are questions that have perhaps been answered locally in many schools, but a national study, as far as is known, has heretofore never been possible. Student Opinion Surveys of America, having in the field of social and political issues this week, has used its cost to construct a survey to measure the extent of class cutting going on today on the American campus.

The survey reveals that a good majority of students, 62 per cent, declared that they had cut at least one. But over half of these (20 per cent) missed class only once during the week.

Here are the national tabulations: Cut no classes during week.....52%
Cut one class.....20
Cut two classes.....12
Cut three classes.....4
Cut four or more classes.....4

Only 1 per cent of the students refused to answer the question or did not remember. Tests conducted by the Surveys have shown that on questions such as this very few students fail to give truthful answers; so the results above should be very satisfactory indication of conditions over the nation. The entire United States is represented because the schools in which the polls are conducted, including the Egyptian, make up a proportionate sample of all types of educational institutions as listed by the U. S. Office of Education.

In connection with this poll, it may be recalled that last February 64 per cent of the collegians in a Survey expressed the opinion that compulsory class attendance should be abolished.

Although the frequency of attendance is quite uniform from one section of the country to another, New Englanders and Southerners appear to be at the two extremes. In the northeast corner of the nation cuts are at a minimum, only 25 percent

STELZRIEDE IS NEW PRESIDENT OF DELTA RHO

Marshall Stelzriede was chosen to head Delta Rho for the winter and spring terms at an election Monday.

Other officers elected at the same time are Claude Pyle, vice president; Betty Johnson, secretary-treasurer; and Wesley Reynolds, program chairman.

FIVE YEAR EXPANSION PROGRAM

WHAT THE STUDENTS ARE THINKING

PRESS MAY BE DANGEROUS

The press is powerful, and when its stories are written in such a manner that they can be construed incorrectly, the press is dangerous. Last week's issue of the EGYPTIAN carried one or two stories which, I think, need a bit of explanation.

In the story concerning the petitions which members of Harwood Hall circulated, the comment was made that this year's council showed "considerable disunity." I've attended all the Student Council meetings this year, and if there is disunity in the Council, I've failed to see it.

Regarding the question at hand, that is, publishing individual votes of the Council members on personalities, the entire membership of the Council is opposed to such action. For some time there was one member who favored the proposition, but at last week's meeting he was the one who made the motion that the Council refrain from publishing individual votes for editors of the EGYPTIAN and OBELEISK.

On page two of last week's EGYPTIAN was an editorial which suggests that there is only one level-headed Council member who has the courage to speak his convictions. The members of the Council this year are Walter Heinz, Hank Mannie, Betty Gum, Kate Bunting, Charles Wagner, Mary Ellen Evans, Sarah Hunter, Duke Elliott, Bob Armstrong, Graham Crichton, Pat Lill, and freshman appointed members Clyde Cook, Arthur Unger, Ann Abernathy, and Nancy Freeman.

IKE SCHAPFER, Junior Student Council Member.

A FEW QUESTIONS FOR MR. HEINZ

Last week Walter Heinz published a defense of the Council's desire for secret balloting. In the article, which is answered elsewhere in this paper, several innuendoes or insinuations are made that I feel should be called to the attention of the student body.

In fact I rather doubt if the Council members have a thorough knowledge of Roberts' Rules of Order. I would like to quote from page 194 of the copy of Roberts' Rules in the City Library.

Along this same line I would like an explanation of the remark, "certain students who already have their eye on an editorship."

I think that this so-called defense of the Council's attitude is extremely weak and represents merely a rationalization on the part of the Council.

I want to take this opportunity to urge all students who feel as I do to contribute their vote and influence to the passage of the referendum requiring that all votes on all issues be open to student inspection.

WANTS THE LID ON THE KETTLE AGAIN

I understand that there aren't any more letters to be printed in the EGYPTIAN. This makes me feel oppressed. In fact, every body is so unhappy these days I'm sure that letters to the editor would relieve some strain and pressure.

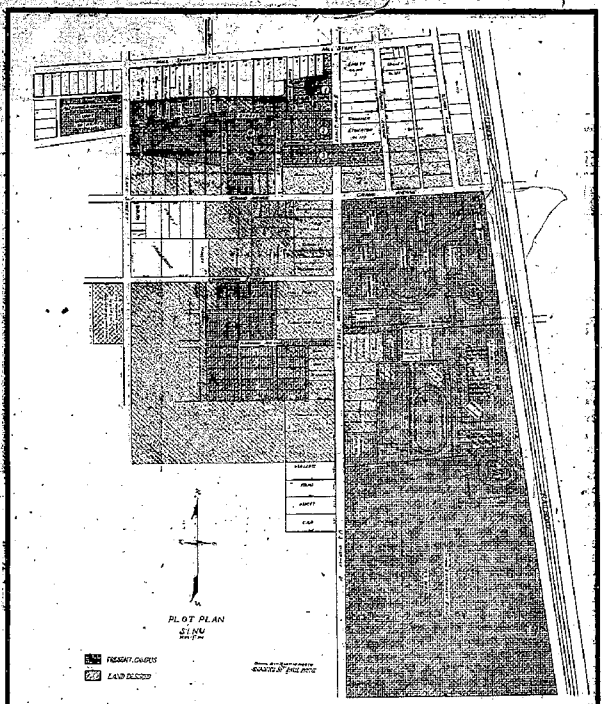

In the first place, all of this fluttering about in regard to what the student council is doing is worth any amount of letters for publication. Perhaps maybe a letter from someone can straighten me out.

Then too there are series of editorials and news stories and features which seem so logical that I'm sure the points expounded upon are the right ones. Then I read about exactly the opposite points of view and I become confused again.

Maybe some of the old fashioned letters to the editor from the student council members might put the lid on the kettle again.

Ed. Note: It is true the old column, "Letters to the Editor," has been discontinued; however, the column in which this student editorial appears will take the place of the old department.

The above drawing describes the Five-Year Program of expansion as outlined for S. I. N. U. by President Fulliam, during the early part of the term.

The legend on the map indicates land now owned by the college and also land which ought to be purchased for the college by 1945.

It is not expected that all the land will be acquired in one purchase nor does the administration expect to complete the entire program immediately.

Included in the first classification are the Hall and Thompson tracts fronting on Thompson street across from Parkinson laboratory.

Also included in the first classification are the French tract off Grand avenue, and lots seven, eight and nine located in the corner area formed by Grand avenue and McKenzie street.

Under classification two are (a) Pierce, Fierke, Baldwin, Boomer, Petersen, and Troughall lots on Harwood avenue, (b) the private property between Thompson avenue and the stadium.

In addition to the Thompson woodlot located between Chautauqua and Thompson, the college has also recently acquired the darkly shaded tract between Lake and Normal which will be the location of the new Training Building.

The Alexander Conservation unit shown in the northwest corner of the map was purchased last winter by the senior class.

FRANKSGIVING DAY

Families all over the nation will gather around festive boards tomorrow to observe Thanksgiving Day, lately referred to jokingly as 'Franksgiving Day' since Franklin Roosevelt moved the day up a week.

When one recalls that Roosevelt is the third president to tamper with the nation's Thanksgiving date, one wonders just what the relation is between this day and politics.

Of course, the original Thanksgiving goes back to the old familiar story of the Pilgrims at Plymouth Rock. After a hard winter, during which almost half of the Pilgrims died, Governor William Bradford declared a day of Thanksgiving in the fall of 1621.

A century and a half later, George Washington, apparently dissatisfied with the way this holiday had been observed, set aside November 26 as a permanent Thanksgiving Day.

In 1863, Abraham Lincoln made Thanksgiving a national holiday, and designated the last Thursday in November as the day for which all the nation should be thankful for the blessings it enjoyed.

For seventy-six years the nation accepted Lincoln's Thanksgiving Day. Last year, however, Franklin D. Roosevelt, America's third great president, shifted the date for the third time.

It is interesting, if not significant, to note that the three changes have been decreed by three great presidents during three very crucial periods in United States history. The first change occurred while the colonies were struggling for survival under the first president; the second change was made during a period of great civil strife, and the last has been made while the nation has been witnessing its greatest period of social reform.

STUDENT COUNCIL PRESIDENT INSULTS ITS MEMBERS BY SAYING SECRECY IS NEEDED

Believes Fear Is Real Reason For Council's Refusal to Publish Votes on Personalities

By C. WESLEY REYNOLDS. Why would the publishing of individual votes encourage or enhance the power of pressure groups by claiming that a Council member would vote differently on personalities when he knew that his fellow classmates would know how he voted?

For a student leader and has no right to be on the Student Council, which supposedly contains only the highest type students. It seems, however, that a Council member's reelection would be jeopardized not only if he allowed his vote to be determined by a small pressure group, and in that case, it is only right that such a Council member be removed from office.

Why would the publishing of individual votes encourage or enhance the power of pressure groups by claiming that a Council member would vote differently on personalities when he knew that his fellow classmates would know how he voted?

It seems, however, that a Council member's reelection would be jeopardized not only if he allowed his vote to be determined by a small pressure group, and in that case, it is only right that such a Council member be removed from office.

So far these remarks have concerned themselves with merely answering the arguments advanced by the president of the Student Council. It is to be hoped that the very little defense of democracy should be needed, but one might like a few of the reasons that cause a majority of the students to feel that the Council should not be permitted to vote in secrecy on personalities.

The argument of the ignorant influence of pressure groups was the only reason given for the Council's refusal to assume the responsibility for their own votes on personalities. Perhaps the Student Council does have other more logical arguments to present to the student body. Certainly let us hope so.

Carter's Aces Dominate All Star Baseball Team; Place Five Men

SPIRITS PLACE THREE SBM GETS TWO, 705'S ONE Wayne Dempster and Scott Gill of Aces Win Only Unanimous Choices

Carter's Aces, double champions in regular intramural play and in the playoff series, dominated the 1940 fall I-M All-Star baseball team by placing five of their men on the mythical outfit. The Spirits of '78, tied in league play, placed three men, Sigma Beta Mu counted two while the runner-up 705's gained one berth.

Only unanimous choices on the all star team were Wayne Dempster, pitcher, and Scott Gill, center fielder, both members of Carter's Aces. Dempster led the league's buyers with a perfect record including a no-hit performance while Gill posted a .77 batting percentage to head the loop in that department.

The teams were chosen by a committee of the intra-mural team managers, the official scorer and one umpire under the auspices of the Egyptian sports staff. This committee consisted of Mel Paul, C. H. Cramer, Charles Pigg, Gerald Veach, Charles Morgan, Bill Cozart, Allen Caviness, Charles Brookert, R. Cleland, E. Echols, E. Brown, Charles Fochner and Baker.

Cramer Wins Award For Best Sportsman in League; Gene Echols of 705's Voted Most Versatile Player

Fletcher Guye, bespectacled left-hand hurler for the 705's, was voted the fall intramural baseball league's most valuable player, awarded by the league's committee of managers and officials yesterday. Dr. C. H. Cramer gained the honor of being voted the best sportsman in the league, which consisted of nearly 140 players. Most versatile player award went to Gene Echols of the 705's. Guye was the lone member of the runner-up 705's outfit to gain the distinction of being placed on the league's All-Star team. Likewise, Cramer was nominated to a berth on the mythical aggregation. Guye pitched an otherwise weak team to the runner-up spot in the league by leading his outfit to the finals in the Carter's Aces squad. Gene Echols, also of the 705's, was not placed on the All-Star team probably due to the fact that his versatility made him practically ineligible for any one spot. Nevertheless, he was voted the most versatile player. Not only did Cramer win the best sportsman award but he also received a formidable backing in the most valuable player department, while both Guye and Echols, 705's, gained honorable mention in the best sportsman's department.

State Normal Meets Illinois Wesleyan This Afternoon In Test of HAC-ICC Strength

Wesleyan Is Illinois College Conference Title Holder While Normal Holds I. L. A. C. Crown

Two Illinois College teams representing schools only a mile apart will occupy the spotlight of this week's games, as Illinois Wesleyan of the I. C. C. and Normal of I. L. A. C. clash this afternoon in their annual city series. Old Normal set two records last week when they subdued a strong DeKalb eleven. This was Coach Hancock's ninth consecutive conference victory and also his second successive IAC title. The Red Birds will be out to add another laurel to their successes by turning back Wesleyan in order to be the first Normal eleven to capture the conference and city title in the same year.

The DeKalb team will be strengthened considerably by the services of Hubert Hancock, Hancock, a triple threat back, had been on the sidelines during the Red Birds' last three encounters.

Illinois Wesleyan has developed into one of the strongest teams in Illinois. Wesleyan is tied for first place in the Illinois College Conference with a perfect record of three wins against no defeats.

Bill Glenn of Charleston is certain to be named on the 1940 IAC eleven. Glenn has been rated above Paul Christmas of Missouri, but since he is from a much smaller school he does not receive nearly the publicity. He has proven a considerable asset in the Panthers' victories this fall and wound up the season last week when he pitched the Charleston Teachers to a 1-2-4 victory over DeKalb. Glenn completed 12 of 23 trials for 177 yards during the encounter and his passes were responsible for both touchdowns.

During eight games, Bill heaved the pigskin a total of 90 times and connected with 63 of his trials. Nine of his aerials were directly responsible for touchdowns while only seven were intercepted. Glenn will be completing his collegiate career this year as will five other team mates.

The Illinois Intercollegiate Conference will see activity on only one front as Macomb invades DeKalb. DeKalb will be fighting for a possible fourth place in the conference.

Gridiron activities for all other members of the HAC will draw to a close on Thursday when Southern meets Cape Girardeau, Missouri, in a Turkey Day game.

Following is the standing of the conference teams:

William McAndrew to Represent SINU at Recreation Meet

William McAndrew, Southern athletic director, will represent the college at the second annual Illinois Recreation Conference in Evansston on Monday, November 25. Sessions of the meeting to be held in Scott Hall on the campus of Northwestern University will consider suggestions for improvement in current methods of recreation promotion in schools throughout the state.

The conference will be highlighted with addresses by President Snyder and by Dr. Arthur Todd, both of Northwestern, on subjects related to the subject of discussion. A series of panel sessions and group meetings will also be held to carry their informal consideration of improvements in recreation plans.

Meet Stubbermen For Second Time In 1940 Season

Game Marks Last College Contests For Six Men; Co-Captains to Start

Southern's gridlers wind up the 1940 season tomorrow afternoon with a Turkey Day feature at Cape Girardeau, meeting Cape Girardeau's men for the second time since the opening of the current campaign. In the initial encounter of the annual two game series between the two squads, the Maroons edged through with a thrilling 14-13 victory.

With Co-captains J. T. English and Bill Preburg and Verdie Cox slated for regular assignments, Coach Glenn Martin had considerably more optimism concerning the engagement at Honck Field. All three of the veterans came out of the Southern-Eastern game with injuries and until early this week were doubtful starters. English will return to left end, Preburg to quarterback, and Cox to half. Also to appear in a variety role after several weeks of inactivity will be Herman Aldrich and Lawrence Califfetti. Aldrich, a scrappy left tackle from Sparta, and Califfetti, a freshman fullback candidate from Johnston City, won starting positions early in the year, but have been handicapped in the past few games by injuries.

In regard to the remaining posts, Coach Martin indicated yesterday that the usual men will get the call. Though possessing winning odds because of having handed the Indians one defeat already this year, the Spartans, it is rumored, will be faced by a really improved eleven when they line up for the opening kickoff. While it is true that Coach Stubber does not have as high a caliber an outfit as he has in some recent years, he still has a squad that has displayed the traditional Cape fight and drive. That fact was borne out two weeks ago when they tied a dangerous team from the Rola School of Mines. Where power may received and were then placed at the position that best suited the all star team play. In most cases the players have played the majority of this year's games in the position at which they are listed on the all star team.

General Coach, playing manager of the Aces, holds down first sack while the Spirits keystone combination of Kenneth Van Lente at second and Richard Hamann at short gives both fielding and hitting strength to the inner defenses. Hamann, with a .500 batting average in fall play.

Nearest competition to the Dempster and Gill as unanimous choices was Dave Morgan, Sigma Beta Mu hot corner man. Mel Paul, Morgan's teammate and manager, was voted to the first string utility infield post.

The Aces gained complete mastery of the outfield, placing their trio on the varsity team. Scott Gill, unanimous choice in center field, is flanked by Steven Major in left field and Leroy Miles in right field. The all star battery boasts of an illustrious trio also. C. H. Cramer of the Spirits holds down the catching spot, while the Aces' Wayne Dempster and Fletcher Guye of the 70's get the pitching assignments. Guye was the coveted most valuable player award by voting out Dempster in that department.

be lacking in some quarters, experience is to be found in a sizeable group of returning letterman makes the Indians an eleven to watch at all times.

Much of the Subborn's offensive thrust is scattered around George Kelly, leading rusher. Kelly, in the current season, Illinois against Miles south intercollegiate conference teams and outside opposition. Having prepared under Coach A. L. Trout at Centralia, Kelly has shouldered a considerable amount of Cape's attacking assignments. Two other former Southern Illinois high school stars hold down backfield positions. Elton Mitchell, also of Centralia, and Warren Crews of Elkville, in recent games have started at right half and quarterback, respectively; "Dutch" Hoob, fourth member of the quarter, Illinois has not received as much publicity as Kelly but certainly deserved consideration from opposition.

Southern will lose six seniors with the close of the grid schedule tomorrow. From the line they will be robbed of Cecil English, an end; Bob Smythe, a tackle; Eugene Dillow, a guard; and Ray Bjorklund, a center. Granting backs are Bill Brown and Ed Hilliard, both half-backs.

The probable starting lineups for the Thanksgiving Day game are as follows:

Southern	Par.	Cape
English (co-capt.)	L. E.	Brauch
Mines	L. T.	Hay
Guiney	L. G.	Turner
Prey	C.	Marchand
Trehand	R. G.	Patchell

WHAT DO YOU KNOW ABOUT LITTLE EGYPT?

some of its outstanding features, we would understand this.

The rock of the park belongs to the Pennsylvania geological period, of about 280 million years ago. This is proved by coal outcrops between thick layers of sandstone and shale, and fossil fragments of fish, bushes and fern-like trees. The sandstone cliffs are of the same period as the great Mississippi Valley swamp.

About a quarter of a million years ago a great upheaval raised the Maize area and pushed the sea towards the Gulf of Mexico. Next the glacier which touched the north boundary of the park. The floods of its melting cut the deep canyons in the heavy sandstone and left a hill of soft shale with a sandstone cap at the site of Giant City.

This softest of thick sandstone cap is broken into huge blocks by two sets of parallel cracks, intersecting each other at right angles. These are the streets of Giant City, probably produced at the time of the uplift. The passages are as straight as if laid out by a surveyor and constitute one of our most interesting natural phenomena.

breches, to name but a few. The butterfly weed, daisy fleabane, bergamot, and black-eyed susan bloom in quantity. There is a glorious profusion at all times.

There are many southern species of birds and animals in the park. The chickadee, the meadow lark, and the southern crow are rarely found farther north. Rabbits, squirrels, and frogs, to say nothing of lower animals, are all also apt to be southern forms.

These innumerable varieties of plants and animals fascinate those traversing Giant City's woodland trails. The rock formations and lovely scenery add to the total effect. All in all the park is well deserving of its title as the most popular recreational center in Illinois.

than on personal grounds. If they do choose to permit their votes to be determined by personal motives, then their classmates will be cognizant of it and will have the opportunity to pass judgment in the next election.

But why should we defend democracy? The burden of proof in this controversy rests squarely on the Council. They are the ones to offer reasons and excuses for their stand. Democracy is supposedly an accepted principle in this country and on this campus. Let us hear some more of the reasons why the Student Council refuses to permit the students who elect them to know how their representatives vote.
