HOME COMING PROGRAM

An elaborate program has been blocked out for Home Coming, Friday and Saturday, November 9th and 10th as follows:

Friday

11:30-3:00 Campus stunts—east campus.

3:00-5:00 Tea, Anthony Hall.

7:00-7:45 Pep meeting, gymnasium.

7:45-9:00 Play by Strut and Fret Club, auditorium.

Saturday

8:00-10:00 Alumni breakfast—Anthony Hall.

10:00-11:30, Sec'y.

1:30 parade, downtown to Athletic field.

2:30, football game, Carbondale-Cape Girardeau—Athletic field.

5:30, Alumni Banquet, place to be selected.

9:00, Home Coming Dance, Armory Hall.

The place for holding the banquet has not yet been selected. This banquet will replace the annual banquet usually held at Commencement. The plates will be $1.00 each. Write at once to Judge Herbert Hayes, Carbondale, for reservation. Good music and good speaking.

Sign in a theater lobby—if you must loiter in the aisles, please do so as rapidly as possible.

The ardent lover heard the clock strike the hour—first nine, then ten, then eleven. At the sound of twelve strokes, he burst forth passionately: "How fleet are the hours in your presence, my beloved!"

"Don't be silly," (the girl chided) "that's Pa setting the clock."

Maroons Battle Sesser to 6-6; Deadlock

Normal Outplays Visitors but Fails to Deliver Winning Punch

Pounding the Sesser Athletics back upon their goal line time after time in the final period of play the Maroons were unable to deliver the punch that would have sent across the winning score and consequently were forced to accept a 6 to 6 tie as the results of their maiden game played here Friday. The play of both teams was seriously handicapped by a muddy and slippery field. Inexperience, a wet ball and insecure footing were the contributing causes of numerous fumbles on the side of the Maroons.

The game early revolved itself into a punting duel. The erratic defense of both teams at periods of strength failed to give way to any onslaughts and exchange of punts featured the play. The final period saw the Maroons open up with a desperate offensive in their efforts to score the winning touchdown. Time after time they hammered the Sesser line back to the visitor's goal line only to be held for downs or to fumble the ball. With their backs against their own goal line Sesser punted out of danger only to have the same performance repeated.

The Maroons play, typical of a maiden game, was ragged and showed their inexperience. In spots they were brilliant and show great promise of development. Lack of interference and the failure of the line to open holes was perhaps the outstanding weaknesses of the team.

Individually a number of the players shone as stars. Johnson's 46-yard run on a forward pass in the final period was the feature play of the game. Blair's end running always racked up substantial gains and marked him as one of the team's best offensive backs. Lamer at full, showed power and speed in line plunging. C. Cox, McIlrath and Captain Fisher starred on the line. Anderson's kicking and his return of punts added to the security of the Maroons goal.

The Maroons scored their lone touchdown in the first half of the first quarter. Confining their tactics to simple plays they marched from midfield to the goal line by means of off tackle smashes and center plunges, and K. Blair plunged over for the score. Johnson failed to drop kick goal.

Sesser obtained their score in the final few minutes of the last quarter when they broke through the Maroon defense to block Anderson's kick and recovered the ball on the 7-yard line. Attempts on the Normal line were fruitless. A bullet pass to McKemie on the goal line was completed and Sesser scored. Their try for goal by drop kicking was blocked.

The game by quarters:

First Quarter

Anderson kicked off for the Maroons and Sesser put the ball in play on their own 30-yard line. Sesser fumbled and Normal recovered only to lose the ball on a fumble on Sesser's 25-yard line. Sesser failed to gain and punted out of bounds on their 40-yard line. The Maroons began a sweeping offensive and marched the intervening distance for a touchdown.

Second Quarter

During the greater part of the second period the teams fought in mid-field first one side in possession of the ball and then the other. Punts were frequent and neither team made substantial gains. K. Blair's recovery of a fumble back of the line of scrimmage and a consequent run of 15 yards electrified the crowd momentarily. Following a recovery of a fumble Sesser backed the Maroons up deep in their own territory with a long punt and a 15-yard penalty shoved them back to their own 20-yard line. Anderson essayed to punt out of danger, but Sesser blocked his kick and on a sequent play shot a pass to left end of the touchdown. Half. Maroons 6, Sesser 6.

Lee replaced Blair. Patterson replaced C. Cox. Sesser failed to gain following the kick off and punted out to mid-field. Normal was penalized for slowing the game and Anderson punted 35 yards to Sesser. Hills completed a pass for 15 yards. Victorious, tackles and fumbles threw Sesser for a 9 yard loss. "Bud" Doofen completed a pass for 12 yards.

MADISON COUNTY ORGANIZES S. I. N. U. CLUB

During the institute in Madison County all former S. I. N. U. students gathered together and organized a county S. I. N. U. club at which there were forty-nine enrolled. It is among the first of counties to have such an organization.

Mr. Edward Zeller was elected as president. At this meeting it was decided that they should have a luncheon together the last day of the institute. When the noon hour arrived on that day all members of the association and three faculty members assembled at the St. James Hotel for luncheon which had already been prepared for this occasion. Mr. Guy Hogg acted as toast master. During the luncheon a program was given which is as follows:

Speech President Shryock
 Solo Miss Hazel MacCracken
 Speech Mr. W. O. Brown
 Speech Supt.
 Collidge of Granite City H. S.
 Solo Mr. Ray Ford
 Speech Prof. G. D. Wham
 Song by all S. I. N. U.
 Speech

President Feemley of I. S. N. U. The program was ended with a violin solo.

Everyone enjoyed seeing so many familiar faces and it made them all home-sick for the old school days again.

They will all be back Nov. 9th and 10th to help boost Home-Coming. The above was sent to THE EGYPTIAN by Miss Lulu Watson, '23, who is teaching in Alton this year.

You will notice that Madison County is taking care of a number of S. I. N. U. graduates. It is rumored that superintendents from that part of the state are already casting their eyes in this direction for teachers for another year. "By their fruits ye shall know them."

WHY A COLLEGE EDUCATION

Many young men go to college because of custom and because it is the will of their family. Others thru much effort and self-support endeavor to enter the doors of a higher institution of learning. Then there are those who with ordinary means feel the need of a higher education. You are undoubtedly in one of the above classes.

Are you getting what you should out of your college education? Hear Prof. Cisne on this subject Tuesday night at 8:30 in Association Hall.

THE RADIATOR

We shall endeavor in the Radiator Column to Radiate the wit and wisdom of our faculty members and the student body in general. It is hoped that THE EGYPTIAN readers will experience real fruition in all that finds a place here.

Thoughts of Home Coming

By Seven Representatives, S. I. N. U. Students and Faculty Members.
Breathes there the student, with loyalty so dead, who never to himself hath said,
"This is my own, my native school!"
Whose heart has ne'er within him burned,
When school news in his EGYPTIAN he hath learned
From wandering o'er its newsy pages.

If such there breathe, go mark him well,
For him no HOME-COMING raptures swell.

The ever present interest on the part of the alumni of any school is said to be a great asset.

An annual home-coming season develops and maintains such an interest, therefore let us make a start on "HOME-COMING."

The HOME-COMING last year was great. Something had been arranged so that all were pleased. This year let's have 1000 home-comers and entertain them so well they will come each year hereafter. Let Cape Girardeau be the only disappointed ones on the campus.

The popularity of S. I. N. U. football teams, and her sportsmanship has spread far and wide. This year the teams to play the Home-Coming game of three colleges, representing two states. Of course the main arranged event of the three days celebration is the game with Cape. Do you remember that game back in 19—? Sure you do. Did we win? Be here this year and help the team and the school put it across.

Why Come Back for Home-Coming.

1. To see your old classmates.
2. To greet your former teachers.
3. To meet the present students.
4. To renew former acquaintances.

FIRST YEAR MEETING

The First Year held their second meeting October 16 in Prof. Smith's room. The attendance was forty-seven. There were many nominees for the Home Coming Committee. Those elected were Lethia McLaughlin and Ralph McDaniel. There was also elected a captain for a boys basketball team—Calaert Jordan. The team will be organized next meeting.

5. To see that "Old Sweetheart of Mine."

6. To show your wives and children "your" school.

7. To see how your Alma Mater has grown.

8. To help root for the White and Maroon.

9. To revive the old school spirit.

10. To go away with a feeling of pride in your Alma Mater.

Southern Illinois is the only section of the state with personality enough to be known far and wide by a name. The people who have lived within the magic confines of Egypt are never able to get away from the lure that draws them back home. The Carbondale normal is Egypt's big school, and Home-Coming here means more than anywhere else in our great state. Whole hearted hospitality is a characteristic of Egyptians, and the beginnings that have been made in celebrating Home-Coming are sure to lead to the best affair of the kind celebrated in any school, anywhere. Last year we had a great Home-Coming. This year we have two days for Home-Coming, the 9th and 10th of November and we do not want to see an absent face in the ranks of the old grads. As in all Home-Comings the football game with Cape will be the big feature for the majority but the other features, such as the Strut and Fret Pav., Class Fight Alumni Breakfast, Society Reunions, Mass Meetings, Alumni Banquet and the Dance, can not fail to arouse attention and interest. The program is to be diversified enough to attract everyone regardless of likes and dislikes.

To make this year's Home-Coming a huge success requires the active support of every member of the faculty and student body. Be a hostess and help to see to it that this year's Home-Coming shall be an example for those in the years to come. Our motto should be 2 B's—Bigger and Better.

The Lover

The wind shall be my fan—
The turf shall be my bed;
The stars shall be my candles
To flicker over my head
And while the dawns are scarlet,
And while the skies are blue,
These shall be enough for me,
If I just, have you.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. will hold its meeting Tuesday night at 6:30 in the Association Hall. All girls are invited to come out. It will be the meeting that was postponed week before last—a forum discussion on what the Y. W. C. A. ought to mean to a college girl. Come prepared to answer such questions as: What did you expect to get out of a college education? Do you think you are getting it? Is there anything you are not getting from it that could be supplied from another course.

If you want anything, give us your want ad.

S. O. P. H.

The old members of the S. O. P. H. were delightfully entertained Wednesday evening by Miss Jones in her apartment. Members were elected for this term:

- President Mildred Anderson
- Vice President Halene Street
- Secretary Hazel Keith
- Treasurer Jane Motchan
- Chairman of the Social Committee..... Leona Guiri

The evening was spent in making plans for the benefit of the new members who have the privilege of being accepted as members of the organization. Many interesting activities were planned for the coming year.

Later in the evening Miss Jones provided a delightful surprise for which all the girls enjoyed very much.

The faculty and student body will see and enjoy later the results of the first meeting of the S. O. P. H.

WHAT IS A FRIEND?

A friend is one to whom we can tell our finest thoughts and know we will receive genuine joy, sympathy or understanding.

A friend is one who will come to us, if there is some misunderstanding, rather than go to the neighbors.

A friend is one who loves us, not for our automobiles and influential friends, but for ourselves.

A friend is one who will share his joys and prosperity as well as his troubles and poverty.

A friend is one who will not look for perfection in us and turn his back because he finds us no better than himself.

A friend is not one that idealizes us, but one that tries to understand us and loves us for what we are, and not for what he would have us.

LIFE'S LOVELINESS

I have loved autumn sunlight on far hills.

And music of a distant waterfall. The murmur of incoming tide that spills

Its fullness on pale sands, the eerie call

Of white gulls winging through a windy mist

Laden with scent of salt and of the sea;

I have loved valleys veiled in amethyst;

The opening of spring's anemone; Yet I have seen this radiance caught up

Into one perfect flower of myrtle hue;

Beauty and laughter brim my lifted cup

Since all life's loveliness has turned to you.

Teacher: "Now, Willie, I will give you another chance. Whose emblem is the leek?"

Willie: "The Plumbers' Union, Miss."

THE INQUIRING REPORTER

Question: What do you think of bobbed hair at the S. I. N. U.?

Answers: Frank Watson: "It's becoming to small girls. (a pause) Well, I think it makes womanhood a joke."

Carl Smith (enthusiastically): "I like it!"

Charles Neeley: "I think that the governing powers should stop it."

Asa Macbrath (indifferently): "Oh, it's all right."

Tuesday evening when the lights were out, the Anthony Hall girls congregated in the reading room to study by the aid of "ye coal oil lamps." Suddenly the calm was broken by a masculine voice at the front door. A scramble ensued, for the girls were not prepared to receive callers. Those listening heard the question, "Is this where the chorus meets?"

"Here is the side show, Let's go in."

"Not I."

"Don't you like freaks?"

"Yes, but why pay for it."

Baby son of campus professor: "Did you hear the scap ladder fall, ma'am?"

Mother: "Yes, I hope father did not fall."

Son: "He didn't fall, he is hanging to the picture hanging."

A LINE TO LIVE BY

If you're a friend of mine, be true;
Forgive, if I offend;
For things we say and things we do—
Forgive, if you're a friend.
To err is human, that you know;
Forgiveness is divine;
And, if I wrong you, tell me so,
If you're a friend of mine.

So many hide the little hurt
Until old friends it parts.
How much of pain we might avert
If we would open hearts.
It is a careless way we go,
With thoughtless word or sign;
But if I wrong you, tell me so,
If you're a friend of mine.

Perhaps I was misunderstood;
Perhaps I did not say
The thing you thought so often would
The clouds be cleared away
If frankly friend to friend would go
When enemies malign,
And ask the truth—Oh, ask me so,
If you're a friend of mine.

And, though the thoughtless thing I do,
And souls are sensitive,
We are not perfect, I or you,
To love we must forgive.
For such the friendship that endures;
Again the sun will shine—
And I shall be a friend of yours,
And you a friend of mine.

STAND BY YOUR TEAM

"If you think your team's the best,
Tell 'em so.
If you'd have them lead the rest,
Help them grow.
When there's anything to do,
Let the fellows count on you,
You'll feel bully when it's through;
Don't you know?
If you want to make a hit,
Get a name.
If the other fellow's it,
Who's to blame?
When there's a game played in your town,
Help your team win victory's crown;
Yell and smile—but never frown,
That's the game.
If you're used to giving knocks,
Change your styles:
Throw bouquets instead of rocks,
For a while:
Let the other fellow roast,
Shun him as you would a ghost,
Meet his hammer with a boast
And a smile.
When a stranger from afar comes along,
Tell him just how fine they are—
make it strong.
Needn't flatter, needn't bluff,
Tell the truth for that's enough;
Join the boosters—that's the stuff.
We belong."

Better be happy, now while you can;
you may be rich some day and can't.

SENIOR MEETING

A meeting of the Senior class was held in the Socratic Hall Tuesday at the chapel hour to plan for a class party in the near future. No definite date could be decided upon so it was left to a committee to arrange for a ball, and announced later the time.

A committee was also appointed to arrange some sort of entertainment for the Senior's part of the program to be given Friday night of the Home Coming.

The President very urgently requested the members to place their orders for rings, pins and sweater before the week had ended. It is to be hoped that none will neglect this matter as they may experience vain regrets when they view the other Seniors "decked" out in their new "regalia" for Solomon in all his glory will not have felt on whit prouder than the newly "be-jeweled, be-sweatered Senior.

EDITORIAL

APROPOS FOOTBALL

The recent snappy chapel stunt in which a drive was made for the sale of season tickets should have been sufficient to induce every member of the student body to give his support to OUR football team.

There should be no lagging enthusiasm when it comes to the matter of supporting our various athletic activities. The athletic teams are made up of students. To have a winning team, the morale of its members must be kept at high pitch. When the student body does not respond with the degree of eagerness and devotion necessary to inject the fighting spirit, the team's morale drops. When the student body yells for victory and indicates by its attendance that it wants victory, they are likely to get it.

Get together and make the football season the occasion for general jollification since it is the opening of the athletic events which mark the college year. Football is fast gaining ground as America's greatest game, its appeal is universal. Whether or not you are particularly interested, come to the athletic field and witness the many thrills of a most popular game. At the same time you will be instrumental in creating a proper college atmosphere and, above all, you will show the "boys" that, win or lose, they have your support.

What do you think of your class or your organization leaving a lasting memorial on the campus?

It requires a lot of material to print "The Egyptian." You know things of interest that we should have. Please drop any articles in Collection Box at the office door.

APPOINTMENTS

The appointment's committee did remarkably well in placing the seniors last year. Some of the data was not in for the former issues of this paper. Some of the seniors did not intend to teach or attend school therefore no complete record is known of their work. The following is a final list of appointments and of those who will not teach or attend school.

- Eva Gore, McClure, Primary.
- Roy Clem, West Frankfort, Departmental.
- Max Lollar, Royalton, Principal grades.
- Wanda Wilson, Madison, Ill., Elementary.
- Florence Woodside, West Frankfort, Eighth grade department.
- Ruby Reno, Rural school, Jackson County.
- Carrol Moore, Will not teach.
- Paul Doolittle, Will study pharmacy.
- A. L. Shelton, Entered business.
- I. W. Shelton, Entered business.

JUNIOR SOCIAL

A delightful evening was spent by the Juniors on October 11 at 6:30 p. m. A happy crowd of them met in front of the main gate, and then walked to a woods west of the campus for a weiner roast. Two big bonfires were built, and "loads" of weiners and marshmallows were roasted. Of course pickles were also there.

After having filled themselves with good things, the group gathered in a circle about the fire and sang, told jokes and stories, and yelled. At about 8:00 o'clock the group broke up, and the first Junior party was over. Will it be the last? Ask any junior.

PARODY ON MAUDE MULLER

The opening of the hard road leading to Marion recalls to mind the muddy, miry, detour we encountered in entering the city and the congested traffic there and makes one think of a parody on Maud Muller.
 "Maud Muller on a summer's day
 Raked the meadow sweet with hay,"
 But we Egyptians raked the mud
 From off our fenders, hood and hub.
 The Judge did grumble o'er his mug,
 We grumbled o'er the long hard tug
 Of pulling through that awful clay.
 And around the cars stuck by the way.

HOME COMING—Friday and Saturday, November 9 and 10.

SCHOOL GOSSIP

Last Sunday a party of young people drove to Chester. Among those driving up were Halene Street, Blanche Herman, Edna Roberson, Helen Deeslie, Lillian Stady Dewitt Roberson, Paul Travelstead, Joe Hickey, John Lockwood.

Prof. Warren was at Shawneetown last week lecturing at the County Teachers' Institute.

Prof. Boomer did not meet his classes Friday while he lectured at the Parent-Teachers' meeting at Baldwin.

Prof. R. E. Muckelroy spoke at the Greenville farmers' institute Thursday, October 18th.

Miss Ethel Parr spent Saturday and Sunday at home in Carterville.

Miss Irah Jackson, of West Frankfort, spent last week-end at her home.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council held its first meeting Tuesday at chapel hour in Miss Baldwin's room. Mr. Warren explained the purpose and work of the Student Council to the members. Glenn Fishel then took charge as president. The management and future of the College Book Store was discussed. The Student Council is "up and coming" now, and is all ready for business.

AGGIES HOLD ANNUAL WATERMELON FEAST

The Agricultural Club held its annual watermelon feast at the State Farm Wednesday night. The crowd assembled at late twilight and before them lay one hundred and fifty choice watermelons, which had previously been quartered, and were ready to be eaten. When President Booker gave the command, "commence eating" about five hundred watermelon friends wormed their way up to the tables and were each provided with a quarter melon. The feasters declared that they were matchless in quality and soon returned for a second helping.

When the gormandizing bout was staged, only three could be found who had not been filled to overflowing. They were each provided with an enormous melon and the bout was on. The shouts of the spectators only tended to make the gormandizers more voracious, until the time limit closed the contest. The purse was one dollar and fifty cents.

The object of this feast was for its social effect, and to afford the boys and girls an hour of recreation so that they might to some extent forget the toilsome grind of the day's work.

MAKING IT EASY FOR EVERY STUDENT TO WEAR GOOD CLOTHES

That's been one of the big ideas behind this store for a good many years. Our whole merchandising policy is built around it.

We sell them on a very small margin of profit—a margin so small that merchants everywhere wonder how we do it.

But there's no secret about it. The big values bring us a very large volume of business. We pay our store expenses by a little profit on each of many sales rather than by a large profit on a few.

And in so doing we keep the price of really good clothes down within the reach of all

JOHNSON, VANCIL, TAYLOR CO.

POEMS WORTH REMEMBERING

"IF"

By Rudyard Kipling

If you can keep your head when all about you
Are losing theirs and blaming it on you;
If you can trust yourself when all men doubt you
But make allowance for their doubting, too,
If you can wait and not be tired by waiting,
Or being lied about, don't deal in lies,
Or being hated, don't give way to hating;
And yet don't look too good, nor talk too wise.

If you can dream—and not make dreams your master;
If you can think—and not make thoughts your aim,
If you can meet with triumph and disaster,
And treat these two imposters just the same;
If you can bear to hear the truth you've spoken
Twisted by knaves, to make a trap for fools
Or watch the things you gave your life to broken
And stoop and build them up with worn-out tools.

If you can make heap of all your winnings
And risk it on one turn of pitch and toss
And lose, and start again at your beginnings
And never breathe a word about your loss;
If you can force your heart and nerve and sinew
To serve your turn long after they are gone,
And so hold on when there is nothing left within you,
Except the will which says to them "Hold on."

If you can talk with crowds and keep your virtue
Or walk with kings—nor lose the common touch,
If neither foes nor loving friends can hurt you,
And all men count with you, but none too much;
If you can fill the unforgiving minute,
With sixty seconds full of distance run,
Yours is the earth and everything that's in it
And which is more—you will be a man, my son.

WANTED TO KNOW

Why Miss Jones didn't have a chap-eron go with the faculty on their picnic?
Why we're always shaking hands with Dr. Caldwell?
Why the Dr. is so worried?
Why the Librarian is so cross?
Why the clocks won't go?
Why the boarding houses are always out of stock?

On Bouncing Women

WOMEN are like Rubber BALLS.
Some are HARD to make An IMPRESSION on;
Others are NOT.
But a man often finds That a woman who Is easy to SQUEEZE Is hard to BOUNCE.
And if, finally, He throws her DOWN For good, she BURSTS— Into TEARS.
Then, if he is A "NICE" man, He picks her up And plays with her.
But a BRUTE Leaves her—FLAT.
If ONE man Lets a woman DOWN, You may be sure She will "HIT UP"
The NEXT one For all he is worth.
Many a man Gets h's wife On the REBOUND.
But she's so SMOOTH He never suspects it.

Peter: "Yeah, that's why I'm looking for a girl with a lot of money"

BUT SHE COULDN'T HELP HER MOTHER

she could swing a s.x-pound dumb b. ll. She could fence and she could box; She could row upon the river, She could clamber among the rock; She could golf from morn till evening, And play tennis all day long; But she couldn't help her mother, 'Cause she wasn't very strong.

"Class," said the new teacher, I want you to be so quiet that you can hear a pin drop "

Silence was golden
Small boy in the back of the room
"Let 'er drop."

COAXING YOU TO SMILE

Her Intentions

Mrs. Blifins met Mary Smith, whom she had recommended to a neighbor for a situation.

"How are you getting on at your new place?" asked Mrs. Blifins.

"Very well, thank you," was the reply.

"I am glad to hear it," remarked Mrs. Blifins. "Your employer is very kind, and you can't do too much for her."

"I don't mean to, ma'am," replied Mary.

Mistaken Identity

The following story about an absent-minded Bishop is being whispered around in ecclesiastical circles: At the end of a very tiring day he was conducting a confirmation service, at which there was a large number of candidates.

The last candidate to come up was an old man with a perfectly bald head. This Bishop placed his hand upon his head in the usual manner, but in the most unusual manner was heard to exclaim as he did so:

"I declare this stone to be well and truly laid."

Mother Knew

The young man who had been calling so frequently on Helen came at last to see Helen's father.

"It's a mere formality, I know, sir," he said, "this asking for your daughter's hand, but we thought it would be pleasing to you if it were observed in the usual way."

Helen's father stiffened.

"And may I inquire," he asked, "who suggested that asking my consent to Helen's marriage was a mere formality?"

"Yes, sir," replied the young man. "It was Helen's mother."

Playing Safe

The dear old lady entered the drug store and looked doubtfully at the youthful clerk behind the counter.

"I suppose," she said, "you are a properly qualified druggist?"

"Yes, madam."

"You have passed all your examinations?"

"Certainly."

"You've never poisoned any one by mistake?"

"Not to my knowledge."

She heaved a sigh of relief.

"Very well, then, you can give me a nickel's worth of cough drops."

Knights and Nights

"Knighthood," he said, is quite a complicated subject. Very few people understand the various types of knighthood, their significance and so forth. A young lady once said to a gentleman: "What are the Knights of the Bath?"

"Why," the young gentleman answered, "why, Saturday nights, of course"

Dawning of Light

The skipper was examining an ambitious gob who wanted to be a gunner's mate.

"How much does a six-pound shell weigh?"

"I don't know," the gob confessed.

"Well, what time does the 12 o'clock train leave?"

"Twelve o'clock."

"All right, then; how much does a six-pound shell weigh?"

"Ah," said the youthful mariner, a great light dawning on him, "12 pounds."

A New Meaning

Brother Rufus Abraham, who had been pastor of a colored church for several years, had lately fallen under suspicion. Some of the worthy brethren accused him of using the Sunday collection for purposes not related to the cause of a religious institution. Finally the matter was taken to court. Brother Abraham was called on to testify.

"Mr. Abraham, how long have you been pastor of that church?" questioned the attorney. Rufus' dusky brow wrinkled as he pondered long and hard.

"Well, your honor, I reckon I been pasturin' there about e'ght years."

What the two behind, be for.

Dr. Caldwell: "Name three articles containing starch."

Freshman: "Two cuffs and a collar."

She: "A penny for your thoughts."

He: Mr. Stayiate, "I was thinking of going."

Her father at the head of the stairs: "Give him a dollar, Viola, it's worth it."

Not His But Wife's Will

"Before I married," said the middle aged man, "I was terribly extravagant. I went to theaters and dances all the time, smoked cigars, drank champagne. But now—well, I live a quiet life at home, smoke and drink water."

"What a strong will it must need to change like that," said the young bachelor.

"Yes, she has a very strong will," replied the married man.

"When Bill danced with me last night he kept letting his hand slip down my back."

"I hope you reprimanded him."

"I did, I told him to keep it up."

The Way We Feel About It

Long Shot: "Why don't Jack and Laura make up?"

Halene: "They like to, but unfortunately they can't remember what they quarreled about."

Dwight: "My train goes in fifteen minutes. Can you not give me one ray of hope before I leave forever?"

Dorothy Farr: "Er—that clock is half an hour fast."

Gathiel Pence: (cross eyed) bowing with courtly grace at Fraternity Dance: "May I have the pleasure of this dance?"

Two wall flowers answered as with one voice: "With pleasure."

1st Oyster: "Where are we?"

2nd Oyster: "We're in the boarding house soup."

1st Oyster: Well, what are we both doing here?"

Miss Trovillion: (when signing assignment cards) "Now the 'A' come forward."

Mabel Neely: (starting to front), "Sure, I want an 'A.'"

Freshman in book store: "I want a tractor."

Clerk: "What do you mean by tractor?"

Freshie: "One of them there things ye use in geometry."

MAROONS BATTLE SESSER TO 6 TO 6; DEADLOCK

Johnson intercepted a pass on Normal's 40-yard line. Johnson, Blair and Anderson tore through the defense for 31 yards and three first downs before the quarter ended. Score 6-6. Lamer replaced Lee and Cox replaced Patterson.

Fourth Quarter

Blair opened the final quarter with a 28-yard sprint around end. Johnson plunged through a massed defense for 7 yards. Anderson slipped through for 2 on a fake. Sesser's line strengthened and failing to plow through, the Maroons lost the ball on the 5-yard line. Anderson's return of the Sesser punt and gains by Blair pushed the oval to the 15-yard line where the Maroons again failed to deliver the punch. Sesser punted out. McIlrath nabbed a pass from Anderson for 11 yards. Two unsuccessful passes and two line bucks and the Normal lost the ball on downs on Sesser's 40-yard line. Sesser's offensive even though aided by a five yard penalty on the Maroons failed to make 1st downs and was forced to punt. Anderson returning 8 yards. On the following play Johnson got away for his thrilling 48 yard run after nabbing Anderson's pass near the sidelines. Lamer completed a pass for 9 yards. Blair made 6 yards on a short end run and Anderson hit the line for 4 yards. Sesser recovered a Normal fumble that stemmed the onrush to the goal. Anderson took Sesser's punt on the visitor's 37-yard line. McIlrath completed a pass for 11 yards. Blair made 1st downs on the three succeeding plays. Lamer plowed through the heart of the defense for 8 yards. Two line bucks failed to make 1st downs and Sesser took possession of the ball on their own 7-yard line. Anderson returned Sesser's punt 15 yards. The Normal failed to gain and Sesser again in possession of the ball punted. McLaughlin replaced Johnson. Failure to complete passes, to gain around end and a bad pass from center and Sesser took the offensive. The game ended almost immediately. Score Sesser 6, Normal 6.

The line-up:

Sesser	Positions	Normal
