The world today is not what it used to be. The world has changed, and so have we. The world is a place of uncertainty, where change is the only constant. The world is a place where everything is possible, and nothing is certain. The world is a place where the future is unknown, and the past is forgotten.

Southern Needs Win To Stay In IAC Race

By GLENN BROWN

Southern, Texas, struggling for its second straight IAC victory and second-place finish in the Western Athletic Conference, on Saturday, the Maroons are favored to keep its slim chances for a first-place finish alive. The Maroons have lost two straight conference battles, being downed by Texas Tech and Texas. The Maroons have been victimized by the injuries lately, and a shoulder injury to quarterback John Heady last week has been a major blow. The Maroons will be coming off a good victory over New Mexico State, and they are in a must-win situation.

Coach Glenn Mulligan has called upon the team to step up its game, particularly on defense. The Maroons have allowed 28 points in each of their last two games, and they need to improve on that average if they are to have any chance of winning the IAC title. Mulligan has been critical of the defense, saying that they need to play better if they are to have a shot at the title.

Mulligan also said that the team needs to play better on offense, particularly in the running game. The Maroons have averaged only 130 yards rushing per game this season, and they need to improve on that average if they are to have a shot at the title.

The Texas Tech game will be a tough one for the Maroons, as the Red Raiders are a good team. The Maroons will need to play their best game of the season if they are to have any chance of winning.

Mulligan said that the team needs to be mentally tough and play with a lot of heart if they are to have any chance of winning.

The Maroons are in a must-win situation, and they need to play their best game of the season if they are to have any chance of winning.
