Speakers At Businessmen's Conference Discuss Southern Illinois Problems

"The importance of economic research in business action is nothing new to you. Through conferences of this type, however, it is hoped that the perspective of that idea can be broadened by the recitation of experiences from other places," stated David W. Day, assistant to the Field Director of the Committee for Economic Development, New York City, as he addressed an audience of more than 100 people at the second Businessmen's conference at Southern Illinois University, Wednesday, Oct. 10, at 1:30 p.m. in the Little Theatre.

Day spoke on the importance of economic research for business action. He recommended that businessmen work with institutions such as Southern Illinois University, in order to carry on research that will be applicable to their businesses.

Following Day, Werner Hochwald, Professor of Economics, Washington University and Research Consultant, Federal Reserve Bank, St. Louis, Mo. addressed the assembly on incomes in Southern Illinois and neighboring states. Hochwald pointed out that many of the problems in this area are due to the role that coal has been playing in the economy of Southern Illinois. The mine payroll, he stated, amounted to 22 pct. of the total income of Southern Illinois as contrasted to 1.5 pct. in the nation.

Analyzing further, Hochwald said that the per capita income of the 17 southern most countries of Illinois in 1950 was $996 as contrasted with $1,055 for the 8th Federal Reserve District which comprises in addition to Southern Illinois, West Missouri, southern Indiana, west Kentucky, west Tennessee, north Mississippi, and northern Arkansas. The national per capita income in 1950 was $1,436.

The second session of this three part conference featured a round table discussion of examples of economic achievement by leading area businessmen. Earl P. Strong, Director of Business Management Service, University of Illinois, concluded the session by explaining how his organization served small businesses. At the conclusion of Strong's talk, William J. Tudor, Professor of Sociology, served as leader for the discussion which followed the address.

Southern Adopts Civil Service Plan

The University becomes as of Jan. 1, 1952, a component of the University Civil Service system. In making this change-over from the Illinois Civil Service system, a program must be set up which will adjust and absorb our positions into the total University system in Illinois.

Robert Hartz, representing the Office of the Director of Nonacademic Personnel, University of Illinois, is to be on the campus this week for the purpose of making certain job analyses, job classifications, and preliminary position control. Positions on the campus will be analyzed with a view toward coordinating them in the broader picture of the University Civil Service system.

The new law establishing the University Civil Service system provides that all nonacademic positions, except those of temporary nature, are to be certified in the new University Civil Service system. Copies of the "Illini worker," the University of Illinois nonacademic publication, which carries a copy of the law and typical questions and answers with regard to the law, will be distributed this week.

BOOKSTORE TO BEGIN BOOK SALE MONDAY

Beginning Monday, the university bookstore will hold its fall term sale of discarded textbooks. The sale will continue until Saturday, Oct. 20.

Enrollment in Extension Courses Reaches 1,488

Enrollment in extension courses conducted by Southern Illinois University throughout the 31-county area served by the University now is 1,488, a record figure, according to Raymond H. Dev, director of extension and adult education.

The 49 courses offered in extension include both undergraduate and graduate work. The registrants principally are Southern Illinois school teachers who desire to further their education. The enrollment includes 1,336 in undergraduate work, 20 less than last year.

THE INCREASE is noticeable in graduate work where the enrollment is 152 as compared to 90 last year. Faculty members from the University conduct the classes, usually at night, in central locations convenient to the largest groups of enrollees.

The off-campus extension program includes enrollment of 69 persons in the Belleville residence center where the students receive residence study credit rather than extension course credit.

Campus Police To Begin Issuing Parking Tickets

Parking violation tickets will be issued by campus police to violators of parking regulations beginning Monday, Oct. 15, according to Dean of Men A. Clark Davis, spokesman for the university parking committee.

The three-day celebration will begin on the evening of Oct. 25 with an informal dance. On Friday, Oct. 26, celebrants will participate in a pep rally and bonfire program and will see the Little Theatre production, "Goodbye, My Fancy," Saturday, Oct. 27, activities including a parade, informal house brunches, and football game with Eastern Illinois, will be climaxed with the coronation of the queen at the homecoming dance. More than 7500 alumni, students, and guests are expected to participate.

Paper, Yearbook To Send Delegates To Pittsburg Meeting

Virginia Miller, editor-in-chief of the Egyptian; Barbara Ames Von Behren, managing editor; Carol Henderson, business manager; Don Duffy, sports editor; and Imogene Dillman, editor-in-chief of the Obelisk; are to be the official delegates from Southern to the national Associated Collegiate Press Conference to be held in Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, Oct. 18-20. Donald R. Grubb, acting head of the Journalism department, will accompany the group.

Virginia Miller is to serve on a panel discussion group at the conference. Miss Miller is to represent Southern along with representatives from other colleges such as Yale and Harvard on the panel which will discuss "Off-Campus News."

THE COLLEGIATE Press Conference, which is an annual occurrence, was held in Chicago last year. The University of Pittsburg will serve as host to the meet this year, and the sessions are to take place at the William Penn Hotel in Pittsburg. Seven hundred delegates from all large universities and colleges in the United States will attend.

A comprehensive schedule consisting of various sessions to be presented to the delegates by a group of outstanding speakers has been planned for the session with conference.

Dean Lentz Chosen To Direct Alumni Services at SIU

Appointment of E. G. Lentz, Southern Illinois University professor emeritus and former dean of men, as acting director of the SIU Alumni Services has been announced following approval by the University Board of Trustees and the executive committee of the SIU Alumni association. He will fill the position being vacated by Wayne M. Mann, alumni director, who was granted a leave of absence to complete graduate study.

SIU PRESIDENT D. W. Morris said Dean Lentz is particularly well qualified to carry on Mann's work because of the former dean's long experience as a teacher and personnel administrator at Southern, together with his wide personal acquaintance with alumni and alumni affairs.

Dean Lentz was the first person ever to receive the SIU honorary title, "University Professor," permitting the holder of the title to engage in teaching or research on a University-wide basis, without restriction to any one college or department.

Mann plans to complete requirements for a doctor of philosophy degree in administration at Stanford University.

During the past year, the SIU Alumni association active membership has been increased from 780 to 2,500. In the same period, the Alumni Services office has produced two promotional movies, launched publication of a quarterly magazine for alumni, and published a booklet on alumni chapter organization and operation.

Admission will be by student activity tickets and membership cards only.

TO PRESENT BLUEPRINTS OF UNIVERSITY SCHOOL

The newest development in program plans for the open house to be held at the new University School Nov. 16 to be the printing of several thousand completed blueprints of the interior of the building to be distributed to all visitors present at the open house.

* Those who were nominated and who are planning to remain as candidates for the Homecoming Queen's Court are Pat Taylor, LaVerne Williams, Gwen Neely, Jane Barco, Pat Marlow, and Jackie Bitner.

QUEEN'S ATTENDANT candidates are Nancy Rains, Jo Rushing, and Rosemarie Gendron. Anna Mae Hayes, who was nominated as a candidate, has been disqualified by the Student Council because she does not meet requirements which are to be met by all candidates.

Also in last week's nominations, several students were nominated to run for class officer positions who do not meet all requirements, and for this reason have been disqualified.

CLASS OFFICER candidates who have been disqualified by the Student Council are Barney Ross, freshman; Kermit Braddock, sophomore; Ruth Henderson, junior; and Joanna Beggs, junior.

Barney Ross was disqualified because the Registrar's office does not have him listed as a regular student.

George Gabor, senior, who was previously announced as being ineligible, has been claimed eligible as a candidate by the Student Council.

All candidates must have at least a three point scholastic average and must meet quarter-hour credit requirements for the respective classes.

Cafeteria Adopts New Seating Plan

In order to accommodate more students in a shorter amount of time, the university cafeteria will adopt a new seating plan Monday, Oct. 18.

Beginning Monday, several cards will be placed in the cafeteria. Each card will designate a section of tables. As a student leaves the counter, a host or hostess will ask him to go to a definite section. Students are requested to go to the empty table space farthest from the counter, as directed by the host.

EACH SECTION will be completely filled before the next section is opened for eating. As tables from the first section empty, the bus boys and girls will rapidly clear that section. In this manner, one should be able to find a clean table without waiting.

"We aren't attempting regimentation, but it will be helpful in finding a pleasant surrounding more quickly," according to Miss Bernice Sexauer, manager of the cafeteria.

The new system should even help speed up that long line, and the cafeteria will also be able to handle more customers quicker and easier, said Miss Sexauer.

To AFROTC Student

The art of "drill," which is much discussed, liked and disliked, has now taken a back seat for indoor activity.

It was the enthusiastic interest shown by the Air Force ROTC students that made it possible to accomplish the basic and advance maneuvers in drill in such a short time. Normally, squadron drill with "flanking movements," "to the rear" and "parading," is not attempted before 15 hours of instruction. The cadets of SIU have displayed an ability to learn fast and perform with precision. All of the instructors from the Air Force ROTC Unit tip their hats to such fine performance.

The general classification testing for draft deferments is in progress. The last chance to take the test will be announced this week. Students who fail to take the test will not be given another test until September, 1952. This will mean no draft deferment consideration for the interested students for the school year of 51-52. Draft deferments are dependent upon a score of 110 or higher on this test. Continued deferment will require that each student maintain a scholastic average of "C" or better. The factors used for determining Air Force ROTC students grades are classroom work, military courtesy, personal appearance, unexcused absences and late for class.

As of Wednesday of last week, political geography became the "hot subject" for the Air Force ROTC students and instructors. The tight schedule of instruction as set up in AF ROTC is being accomplished with the complete cooperation of the students and the faculty of SIU. The gratitude felt by the military personnel can only be expressed by a "Thank you very much."—Capt. P. M. Lunde.

Surplus Commodities

Ernest Wolfe Picks Up Bargains for Southern

by Willard Dawson

In this day and age it's hard to find someone getting something for nothing.

Southern has just such a man however, (or at least he gets things practically for nothing—two and a fraction per cent of their actual value!) in the person of Ernest Wolfe, veterans housing director and government surplus representative for Southern.

DURING THE PAST four years, Wolfe has purchased $220,000 worth of surplus government material for the university. The purchase price—less than $7,000.

To locate the material he traveled as far west as Kansas City, as far east as Jeffersonville, Indiana, north to Waukegan, and then to Des Moines, Iowa.

Southern's government surplus representative co-operated with similar representatives from the University of Illinois, University of Michigan, Wisconsin university, Iowa university, Missouri university and Notre Dame in securing surplus material.

AMONG HIS MANY bargains are such things as a bus, two station wagons, two trucks, a ticket booth which sits on the east side

Sponsor for the talks was the International Relations club.

Students Work as Radio Announcers

A trio of sophomores here at Southern is profitably mixing radio announcing with studying. Courses in radio have been offered at the university for only one year, and the students became interested in the field as freshmen after enrolling in a radio speaking class.

Working on week-ends and in spare time, the three students are staff announcers on three Southern Illinois radio stations. They are also carrying the full number of scholastic hours and taking advanced training in radio.

Their jobs require the students to be disc-jockeys and news commentators as well as announcers.

DOUG MATTHEWS, Fairfield, does several mornings shows a day Monday through Friday on WCIL, Carbondale. Norm Megeff, Granite City, is a staff announcer over WJPF, Herrin, on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays. Lloyd Bitzer, Carmi, announces on Saturday for WROY, Carmi.

In addition to these students, Don Smyser, who took radio courses at the University last year, is a full-time announcer on WGGH, Marion. Miss Darthamae Davis, who is taking radio production now, has a weekly program, the "Dottie Dee Story Hour," over WAVA, the Ava station.

Buren C. Robbins is instructor in the SIU radio courses.

Salukis Take Victory Hopes to Washington U

Coach Bill Waller's Salukis travel to Washington U. tomorrow in hopes of finding their first victory at Francis Field, home of the Washington U. Bears.

The last time the two teams met was in 1914, when the Bears handed Southern Illinois Normal a 66-0 shellacking. Now, after 37 years, the loss may be avenged. Thus far, the Bears have a record of two victories and no defeats, holding triumphs over Missouri Mines and Central College.

SOUTHERN'S LINE is still hit hard by injuries. Junior Funderburk and Jim Buckler, who were out of the muddy feud with Northern are still sidelined. Don Ledbetter, injured in the first half of the Northern game, is still favoring his knee, and probably will be out for another week. Alden Ray, who suffered his second shoulder dislocation of the year, will not return for the remainder of the season.

However, the backfield is in good shape for the contest. The switch of Bob Ems from fullback to half, with Kendrick now running from the fullback spot, seems to add more to the Saluki's offensive punch, a punch which thus far has thrown nothing but a few weak jabs.

A NORTHERN BACK splashes through the mud in last Saturday night's game played on a rain-drenched field. Northern gained first place in the I.A.C. by scoring a 14-7 victory over the Salukis. The players in the muddy, rain-soaked uniforms are unidentifiable.

Lose Anything? Center Has Variety Of Lost Articles

A variety of articles have been collected by the lost and found department of the Student Center since it has been organized.

Class rings, glasses, trousers, glass cases, wallets, pens, pencils, earrings, sweaters, raincoats, cigarette lighters, watches, and even a diamond ring are waiting for owners to appear for claim.

THE LOST AND FOUND department is located in the Student Center at the information desk. Lost and found department personnel have stressed the fact that the Student Center contains the only central lost and found agency on campus.

Students or faculty members who lose something should go to the Student Center as soon as they lose the object and fill out a slip, describing the item, and leave their name, address, and phone number.

If a student is able to identify an item, the item will be turned over to him.

Students who find lost articles on campus should take them to the lost and found department, in accordance with the principles of honesty and sportsmanship.

Chi Deltis and Tekes Lead Greek Bowl

SU's Hellenic handicap bowling league opened its fourth season last Thursday. Chi Delta Chi, third last year in the men's division, led the eight team circuit with a team series high of 2325. Jim Throgmorton led the Chi Deltis with a 549 series, including the individual high game of 205, to give his team a triple victory over Pi Kappa Sigma sorority. Jo Ann Gee was high for the losers with a 439 series.

Kappa Delta Alpha, defending champions in the men's division, took two out of three, one by the margin of four pins, from Sigma Tau Gamma; Art Menendez's series of 522 was high for the K.D.A's. Tau Kappa Epsilon gained a tie for first with Chi Delta Chi by sweeping their series with Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority. Sigma Pi, last year's runners-up, turned back Delta Sigma Epsilon sorority two games to one.

Neiry Listed Sixth In Punting Score For Small Schools

Trouble is one thing Southern's football team has had plenty of. Thanks to Chuck Neiry, however, they've had less than they might have had.

Neiry, a husky freshman from West Frankfort, currently has a punting average of 40 yards, which ranks him among the best in the nation. According to the latest NCAA statistics, Neiry's average ranks him sixth among the players outside of the major conference schools.

In Southern's three games, Neiry has punted 22 times for a total of 881 yards.

Bob Ems, Fisher sophomore, leads the Salukis in rushing. He's carried the ball 37 times for a total of 122 yards net gain. That gives him an average of nearly 3.3 yards per carry. John Vanderplym, Harrisburg junior, is next with 70 yards gained on 22 carries for an average of 2.1 yards.

Joe Huske, Chicago sophomore, is the team's leading passer. Huske has passed 32 times and completed 10 for 137 yards. He's made one scoring pass.

Leading pass catcher is Leo Wilson, another sophomore from Blue Island, who's caught six passes for 102 yards gain.

Scoring of Southern's 20 points has been evenly divided between Val Gribble, Harrisburg; Vanderplym and Wilson, each of whom scored one touchdown. Neiry has kicked two extra points and Ems carried over another one.

The Salukis have a net total offense of 328 yards, 191 by rushing and 137 by passing. This stacks up against 1029 yards total offense to their opponents, 744 rushing and 285 passing.

Against Southern's 20 points, the Salukis' three opponents have scored 68.

Cross Country Squad Beats Eastern 27-26

Hoping to keep alive their winning ways in the I.A.C., the Southern Saluki cross country squad matches its speed and stamina with Illinois Normal of Bloomington this coming Saturday afternoon on the S.I.U. track. The 1951 version of the Southern harrmers won its opening meet of the year last Friday afternoon, at Eastern, by the score of 27-26.

Much of the burden for the coming meet, according to coach Doc Lingle, will fall on the shoulders of Phil Coleman, Southern's returning letterman, who finished first in the meet at Charleston Friday. Additional weight, however, will be carried by the four under-

Salukis Meet Washington U., A Team With A Historic Past

Although Washington U. isn't the toughest team on the Saluki's schedule this season, it's far from being a breathing spot. Head coach "Utiz" Uteritz's Bears are fresh from a 33-0 trouncing of Central College. The Bruin's ground attack piled up 308 yards, compared to 32 for Hilltop. Norm Mueller and Jim Burst, Washington U.'s "touchdown twins" according to the St. Louis papers, ran wild, scoring twice in 51 seconds.

Football has been de-emphasized at Washington since its re-organization in 1947. But in the late '30's the Bears played schedules which included gridiron greats like Army, Southern Methodist, Oklahoma, Illinois, and Notre Dame. The Bruins began playing in 1889, with a 45-0 victory over Missouri A.A.

FRANCIS FIELD, site of the Bear's home games, is an historical marker in itself. It is the oldest concrete stadium in the United States, with a total seating capacity of 10,064. Can't figure where that 64 fits in, unless it's the two opposing teams.

As usual, the Salukis will be playing against a more experienced outfit. The Bear's roster lists only 11 freshmen out of a total of 61 players.

Both of Washington U.'s victories were over colleges with enrollments of less than 1500. From here, it seems if the Salukis plan on winning a game this season they couldn't ask for a better chance. This looks like it could be it.
