Press Association Meet Begins On Campus Today

Southern's campus is the site for a Southern Illinois High School Press Association meeting being held today and tomorrow. This is the second annual meeting of the Association on Southern's campus since it voted to have its headquarters permanently established here.

Donald R. Grubb, instructor in journalism and director of the Southern Illinois High School Press group, announced that 87 high school delegations have been invited to attend from 31 down-state counties.

HIGH SCHOOL newspaper and yearbook advisers and their staffs, who make up the association, will participate in a Fun Fest scheduled for this evening after registration. Registration will begin in the Student Center at 5 p.m. today and a dance and recreation will follow until 11 p.m.

Tomorrow the press group will attend panel discussions on subjects touching on various phases of newspaper and yearbook production, photography, and business matters.

Featured as guest speaker for the meeting will be Chaplain Henry F. Gereke, Lutheran chaplain at the Menard State Penitentiary. Menard, Ill. Chaplain Gereke is internationally known for having served as chief chaplain during the trials of the Nazi leaders at Nuremberg by the International Military Tribunal and for his assignment as spiritual adviser to the fifteen Protestant defendants.

Chaplain Gereke publicly told his story to the world for the first time in the Sept. 1 issue of the Saturday Evening Post in an article entitled "I Walked to the Gallows with the Nazi Chiefs." Rev. Gereke will talk to the group at the noon luncheon tomorrow on the topic, "Men In High Places Who Forgot God."

OTHER SPEAKERS on the program are Donald E. Brown, director of the Illinois State High School Press Association and professor of journalism at the University of Illinois; and Dr. John S. Rendleman, legal counsel, Southern Illinois University.

Prof. Brown will report on the "Business Problems Confronting High School Publications" at the Advisers' Banquet scheduled at 8 p.m. today. Dr. Rendleman will welcome the delegates in the first general assembly tomorrow at 10 a.m.

Ask Students To Show Activity Tickets

All Southern Illinois University students and University school students attending football games have been asked to have their activity tickets ready to present to the ticket takers at the gate to the stadium.

According to Glenn (Abe) Martin, athletic director, the line was held up last Saturday night because students did not have their activity tickets ready when they presented their reserved seat tickets.

Jo Ann Eblen To Play Lead Role in Homecoming Play

Jo Ann Eblen, senior from McLeansboro, will play the lead role in the Homecoming play "Good-bye, My Fancy" to be presented in Shryock auditorium Oct. 26. Mr. Archibald McLeod, associate professor of speech, has announced.

Eblen will play the part of Agatha Reed, a liberal congresswoman who in a conflict over a film she shows to a group of college grads exposes a college president, whom she thought she loved, to be a spineless and irresolute figure.

THE DISENCHANTMENT drives her into the arms of a wartime acquaintance who, as a Life photographer, has come to cover the event. From there on, it's just one big happy ending.

The rest of the cast for the three act comedy include: Grace Wood, to be played by Dorothy Ann Paterson; Prof. Brideshaw, by Betty Jean McConnell; Shackleford, by Virda Lea Sill; Dr. Pitt, by David Alverson; Ellen Griswald, by Sue Smith; James Merrill by Robert Cagle; Prof. Dingley, by Norman Megeff.

The dance has been titled a "Press Dance" as it is being held in honor of high school students who will be on campus this week end for the Southern Illinois High School Press Association meeting.

Ping pong and other specialized entertainment will be conducted in the co-recreation room during the dance for students who do not wish to dance.

Doree McClane, Social Senate member, is the general chairman for the all school dance.

One hundred and thirty-five delegates have pre-registered, and over 200 are expected to arrive at SIU tonight for the SIHSPA meet.

Fall Enrollment At SIU Totals 3,175 Students

Enrollment at Southern Illinois University reached 3,175 Wednesday, with late registrations expected to continue for another week.

In addition, University school, SIU teacher training center, has 388 registrants, making an overall total of 3,588.

The present total includes 2,715 full-time students at Carbondale, and 69 full-time at the SIU residence center, Belleville. Registrations in the division of extension, 1,415, and Vocational-Technical Institute, 150, are counted on a 4 to 1 basis, making the equivalent of 391 full-time registrants.

ON-CAMPUS ENROLLMENT by classes is as follows: freshmen, 989; sophomores, 568; juniors, 495; seniors, 386; graduate school, 245; and unclassified, 32. Included are 1,665 men and 1,050 women. The preponderance of men is attributed in part to the activation this month of an Air Force ROTC unit at SIU.

Residence enrollment shows a decline of 357 from a year ago, while the extension division shows an increase of 22, the University training school, an increase of 26, and the Belleville center an increase of 14.

A Waste of Time and Money?

We want you students to be the first to know. Southern had its first pep rally of the football season last Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock, with a rousing group of five cheerleaders and about 25 people present. The steps of Old Main were so packed that John's had to take care of the overflow.

OK, so what? So, we're all just tourists, and Southern is strictly a day school. We don't care, or do we?

One student suggested that since we all seemed to be entirely indifferent to whether the team wins or loses, we might as well quit entering into competitive athletics, and stop wasting that part of our budget allotted to sports. He has a point there.

Far be it from us to make martyrs of the football team and berate the rest of the students for their lack of that old, trite, and often mythical, quality known as school spirit. We personally don't have that "rah-rah, the boys are playing their hearts out for us ungrateful wretches" attitude. If the guys didn't want to play, they wouldn't be out there. We just think it's a poor policy to have functions, such as pep rallies and cheering sections, representing the whole university, with so few students attending.

It would be less obvious and much less ridiculous just to discontinue pep sessions, if we don't have either the time or the inclination to go to them. After all, the cheerleaders aren't yelling for their own amusement, or to increase their lung power, so why waste their time, and ours?

Perhaps yelling at games is too gauche and high-school-ish, now that Southern is a university. But those who have ever attended one of the Big Ten games and have seen the organized cheering sections of the Illini or Northwestern could hardly go along with the idea that cheering isn't collegiate.

If we do continue to have pep rallies, why couldn't they be held on some other day besides Friday—the day of the great student migration. Perhaps rallies could be held on a night during the school week, from 7 to 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium, or on the steps. Or if the nights are too crowded with other activities, and it would be better to have a session the day before the game, a half-hour pep assembly on Friday morning might be arranged, with shortened classes. Then there might be a slight increase in attendance over the last rally. After all, the Canteen and UD's can only hold so many. —V. M.

Father: "I don't ask for thanks, my dear, but I must insist on respect."

Southern Explores Possibilities of Television Channel

Southern Illinois University, in keeping with its objective of furnishing area wide service is, at the present time, exploring the possibilities of having a very high frequency television channel allocated to Carbondale for use at the university as an educational station, according to Buren G. Robbins, assistant professor of speech and director of radio.

The university administration and Board of Trustees, stated Robbins, feel that television has every prospect of being one of the greatest mass education mediums of all time.

IN LINE WITH THESE objectives, last week, the university filed with the Federal Communications Commission extensive testimony and exhibits. It will be some time, probably the first of the year, before the university will know whether it has been allocated this channel.

Robbins emphasized, however, that at this stage, educational television at SIU is merely in an exploratory stage. The university has not applied for a construction permit which would give it a right to build the station. It has only asked for the assignment of a channel.

Even though a channel is allocated, Robbins stressed, it would still be necessary to find means to operate the station and subsequently make application for construction of a station.

Student Center Has Library Service

In order to supplement the present facilities of the SIU library, a new collection of some 1000 books has recently been installed in the new Student Center.

This "Books for Living" collection contains information dealing with all fields of knowledge. According to Miss Eleanor Taft, dean of Student Affairs, "The books will be available to all students on the same loan basis as regular books in the library." Miss Taft added that "Students will need only their library cards in order to check the books out for a two-week period."

AT PRESENT, the collection contains only non-fiction books, but will soon include other types.

The books were all selected last year by the faculty with the preliminary work on the project being done by Hugh Satterlee, graduate student, who worked half time in the library while enrolled at Southern.

All the books chosen had to meet certain requirements in that they had to be authoritative, reliable, readable, informative, supplementary to the student's general education, and in keeping with a central problem.

Concerning the book service, Doctor Muller, director of the SIU library, said, "I hope all the students will make good use of the books and hope that no student will ever find his time wasted if he reads a book taken from the collection."

AGRICULTURE CLUB ELECTS BOB AARON AS PRESIDENT

Bob Aaron, West Frankfort sophomore, was elected president of Southern's Agriculture club at their first meeting this year held last.

Other officers elected were Robert Quick, vice-president; Ronald Aaron, secretary; and Jim Lipe, treasurer.

Committees were appointed, and tentative plans for a Barn Dance, to be held later in the fall, were discussed.

Deans Appoint Freshmen To Student Council

Four SIU freshmen have been appointed by the personnel deans to serve one term as freshman representatives on the Student Council.

Freshmen who have been appointed from applications are Jerry Hawkins, Iuka; Kathryn McClintock, West Frankfort; Bill Phelps, Carbondale; and Carol Treece, Anna.

Jerry Hawkins, now enrolled in the College of Education, graduated from the Salem high school where he received the Most Valuable Student award. He was president of his junior and senior classes and also participated in sports.

KATHRYN McClintock, College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, was selected the outstanding citizen from the high school in West Frankfort. She was valedictorian of her class and editor on the yearbook.

Salukis Meet Normal In Second IIAC Game

Illinois Normal will be hosts to the Salukis tomorrow afternoon when Southern's football squad will play their second conference game of the season.

Through the years, the two teams have met 20 times. Southern has won six of the 20, and tied one. The tie came in a 14-14 contest played during Homecoming Week-end last year, when the Redbirds took first in the conference with an unbeaten season.

Coach Bill Waller said he would probably start the same team he used against Central Michigan last week, with Val Gribble possibly replacing Reid Martin at left-half. Gribble is now sidelined with a bruised knee, but may be in shape for tomorrow's game.

Bob Kendrick, freshman fullback from Johnston City, is also on the injured list with a wrenched arm. However, he, too, may be ready for action against the Redbirds.

Normal is the more experienced team of the two, having 10 returning lettermen on the roster from the 1950 championship team. The Redbirds also opened their 1951 schedule last week, scoring a 27-7 victory over Indiana State.

SIU Parking Committee Announces Ordinances Affecting Campus Parking

Carbondale police officials met with the university parking committee this week to discuss city ordinances which affect campus parking. The officials brought to light two city ordinances, the violators of which are subject to civil court action.

The ordinances are (1) Parking on the parkway (the area between the curb and sidewalk) of the south side of Grand Ave., between Illinois Ave. and the railroad is prohibited, and (2) Parking on the parkways on Grand between Thompson and Lake St. is prohibited.

The parking committee has announced that all parking areas will be open lots until announcement is made at a later date and assignments are made to parking areas. According to Dean of Men I. Clark Davis, parking committee spokesmen, delay in making lot assignments to faculty members and students has been caused by attempts to locate new parking areas and to work out procedures for handling violators of regulations.

"THE UNIVERSITY parking committee is making an exhaustive survey of the parking problems and possible solutions, and co-operation from both faculty members and students is being sought by the committee," said Dean Davis.

The university parking committee consists of seven faculty members and two representatives from the Student Council. Faculty members are Dr. W. C. Bicknell, chairman of the committee; Dean Davis, Dr. Louis D. Rodabaugh, Dr. L. J. Bischof, William A. Howe, Charles Pulley, and Dean Douglas Lawson.

Student Council members on the committee are Barbara Ames Von Behren and Phyllis Lord.

Basketball Tryouts to Begin Monday, Oct. 1

Coach Lynn C. Holder announced that practice for the varsity basketball squad will start Monday, Oct. 1 at 3:30 p.m. in the men's gym.

This will be the last call for anyone wishing to try out for the 1951-52 varsity squad, with the exception of athletes now participating in either football or cross-country. These men are to report for practice at the end of those seasons.

Athletic Directors Plan N.A.I.B. Playoffs

Athletic directors from 22 Illinois colleges will meet Sunday at Bloomington to plan N.A.I.B. playoffs for basketball, track, tennis and golf.

The meeting will be under direction of Glen "Abe" Martin, Southern Illinois University athletic director and Illinois district chairman of the National Association of Intercollegiate Basketball. Martin is also a member of the national executive council.

Playoffs in track, tennis and golf, Martin explained, will be held for the first time in 1952. Purpose of the meeting Sunday is to pick dates and sites for the playoffs. Last year's basketball playoffs were held at Champaign.

The meeting will be held in Memorial Hall, Illinois Wesleyan University, Bloomington.

When the Saluki baseball squad plays their third fall exhibition game tomorrow, they will be meeting an opposing team which should be any coach's dream come true.

This team remains unaffected by eligibility rules, calls to military service, and enticements from larger institutions. The only thing affecting this team is graduation, only in this case it's called "parole." Yep, Menard Penitentiary team would sure be a coach's dream come true—that is, as long as the coach remains just a commuter.

But remember boys, when you're playing up there Saturday, don't call the ump a robber. After all, you may be right . . .

The statistics from last Saturday's game against Andy MacDonald and Dave Clark show that the two boys combined to total 309 yards between them. Compare this to 143 for the whole Southern offense combined and—well, maybe it's just as well to forget it.

Clark carried the ball 11 times for a total of 114 yards, or an average of a little over 10 yards a try! Oh! Andy heaved the pigskin 18 times and made connections with the party on the other end of the line for 12 completions and 195 yards. The remaining four yards he picked up on a quarterback sneak.

Top dog for the Salukis in the ground gaining department was Johnny Vanderpluy, with 36 yards in eight carries. Joe Huske, who did most of the passing, completed six out of 13 for 84 yards. Not bad for a guy who spent most of his time dodging would-be tacklers who cracked through the not so sturdy forward wall!

Shades of Fred Brenzel! Charlie Neiry, who handled Southern's booting, averaged 38 yards per punt. That was one department that the Salukis led in.

Well, that's it, for better or worse. LOOK OUT NORMAL, HERE WE COME!
