quiet should make it a good weekend for you. A bit of advice, in passing. As you know, Southern is a growing university. Don't be alarmed by the construction and tearing down which you will see going on around campus. We wouldn't want our guests to be frustrated by what has become an everyday experience for us. Seriously, we don't think there are enough "hazards" on campus to spoil the week-end for you. If you have any questions, and you want to see us again, won't you? B.B.

New Student Week was the keynote topic at Tuesday's Student Council meeting. Miss Betty Greenleaf was present to explain the Office of Student Affairs' plan for New Student Week. With the proposed plans the Office of Student Affairs hopes to make the freshman feel more at home at Southern and take more advantage of the week. They hope to get at least 100 volunteer student leaders to serve during the 1953 New Student Week.

Dr. Alexander's request was presented for appropriations to five students to attend a conference on

OPTOMETRY IN THREE YEARS, IF YOU HAVE SIXTY L. A. CREDITS

In three college years, you can prepare for the attractive profession of optometry, if you have a minimum of sixty required Liberal Arts credits.

There is a shortage of optometrists in many States. Eighty per cent of the Nation's military dependents are obtainable almost from the beginning of his practice. Optometry is especially attractive to women.

The U. S. Department of Defense and Selective Service grant optometry students the same consideration as awarded medical students. Chicago College of Optometry, nationally accredited, is located in the heart of the world's greatest center for teaching in the healing arts. It is famous for his eye clinic, a building program in progress, laboratory accommodations, apartments and other facilities are available on a large campus.

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Plunked The Finger-Nail Test

"LISTEN, BIRD-BRAIN, don't get soot, but I copped over love you," said Sheedy's little chickadee. "Your hair's scintilly for the birds! Better remember the new cardinal rules for social success so you won't be so blue-wren. 1. Hop to a sweet goose counter. 2. Pick up a bottle or tube of Wildroot Cream-Oil, America's Favorite Hair Tonic, Constant Lashion, Non-alcoholic. Grooms the hair. Relieves dizziness. Removes goose, ugly dandruff. Helps you pass the Finger-Nail Test. 3. Use it daily and people will love you." Paul got Wildroot Cream Oil for himself and a diamond wing for his sweetiepie. Better buy a bottle or tube today. Or ask for it at your barber's. If you don't you're cool!

Tennis Squad Expects Three Rough Matches

By Don Primas

Although the tennis squad brimmed the pans of Rola, 6-1, Coach Jim Wilkinson feels reasonably sure that his net knockers are going to have a tough time of it in their next three matches.

The coast crew travels to Illinois Normal on April 18 and to Washington U. on April 22, before entertaining Bradley on April 25. Northwestern dominated the conference for the last four years, and they have three freshmen back from last year's team. Washington is one of the best teams in the midwest, while Bradley is rated near the top.

Short Shots On Diz Dean

By Dan Primas

The pride and joy of Jimmy Wilson, who was on the receiving end of Dizzy Dean's fist, was some silk shirts. One day he found one missing, and a few days later, another one of the expensive shirts was gone.

Wilson searched high and low for the missing shirts, and finally he caught the great Dean wearing one of them.

Wilson had a good argument for swapping the shirts. He said that all he ever had was cotton shirts, and since he was a great pitcher, he deserved to have some silk shirts.

The exasperated Wilson said, "I've got one more silk shirt in my room. So you better go on up there and take that one, too. Nothing too good for a great pitcher like you."

The very next morning Dean went up and got the shirt.

Some baseball players are superstitious; occasionally a whole team is. So no one thought it too unusual when the Philadelphia Phillies adopted a white rabbit for a good luck charm, back in the '30's when Dizzy Dean pitched for the St. Louis Cards.

Dizzy and the Cards came into Philadelphia for a three-game series, and Dean was scheduled to pitch the first game. Just before the game got underway, Dizzy went over to the Phillies dugout and petted the white rabbit, and petted the white rabbit.

He won the game easily. The next time the Cards played the Phillies, of Dizzy petted the rabbit again and won himself another ballgame.

Unfortunately, the rabbit died. The Phillies gave it a proper burial, and on its grave marker they placed this epitaph: "Here Dizzy Dean's luck lies buried."

Pigskin Predictions

By Jim Kahnman

A big scrimmage Friday afternoon will wind up the spring football season for 30 of Bill O'Brien's tough guys. We say tough guys because the last 20 days, O'Brien and Franz have been showing Saluki ballplayers how it will be next fall. And from all appearances, the gridders have mastered an unbelievable amount of football knowledge in the past spring ball. And they look tough.

The usual connotation of spring football is as a limbering-up period, a brief period during which the men loosen up their muscles, add distance to their punting, and sharpen up their passing.

This past spring season, however, has been different. Southern's football players were tackling, and charging after the first day of practice. And, except for a few blunders, they seem to have finished in great shape.

As Mr. O'Brien would say, "Actually, I'm more than pleased with our men this spring. They surprised me, in fact. We had a very successful spring session, and I know we've accomplished a lot."

During the first two weeks of practice, much of the time was spent on running plays, timing, blocking, and tackling. But for the past 10 days, O'Brien has been scrimmaging his men just as much as possible every night. Plenty of causticities preceded each session, and after that, it was the real McCoy.

Practice ran from 3 to 5 p. m., and the last hour was open scrimmaging. During this time, O'Brien added 5 or 6 new plays to go with those of last fall. Thus, he will have a big jump when he suits his team next fall. Provided he has the same 30 men in uniform next fall, he'll be able to go right into scrimmage sessions, and start adding polish after the first week.

This is what the freshman has in mind. If he can have 30 veterans ready to go in the fall, along with several promising freshmen, he should be able to field his kind of team.

It's always hard to get "snitches" out of Mr. O'Brien. He thinks of his club as a single unit, and individuals' needs must take up the unit—they do not stand out as individuals. He coaches a team, singular.

But, after observing a few scrimmages now and then, there are several individuals who stand out. Bill O'Brien's backfield, for instance, should be a good one. In Jack Schneider and Eddie Johnson, he has two running backs who can really score. Both men will be sophomores next fall. Both played

Racial Discrimination In Deep South Baseball

Racial prejudice struck out in the Deep South again recently. The Cotton States Baseball League kicked out its Hot Springs club because the team insisted on using two Negro pitchers.

Shortly after the unexpected decision, officials of the Hot Springs club said they will protest to the president of the Association of Minor League Baseball Clubs, George M. Trautman.

Trautman declined comment on the squabble until he had received further information.

The squabble was over Jim and Leander Ferguson of Florence, S. C., Negroes who have never been players in the league.

The Hot Springs Junior Chamber of Commerce sent a telegram to League President Al Haraway who is responsible for the decision.

The telegram reminded him that the J. C. had begged his request to take over the club in 1951 to keep the league from becoming defunct.

"Now, two years later," the Jaycees added, "the arbitrary, unchristian, undemocratic, unamerican and unchristian action of the Cotton States League has shocked and outraged us."

BASEBALL IMMORTAL DIES AT AGE OF 83

(A.P.) Charles A. "Kid" Nichols, one of baseball's all-time greats, died recently. The 83-year-old Nichols, whose sports career spanned two generations, became ill a year ago with a neck ailment.

As a right-handed pitcher, Nichols was on the mound for the Boston Nationals for 11 years, beginning in 1890. He was respected by batters for his speed, his curve and his control. He pitched 366 major league victories, including 50 shutouts. His top salary with the club was $3,000.

His best mark was in 1892 when he won 35 games and lost only 16. He completed his major league career in 1905 when he played with both the St. Louis Cardinals and the Philadelphia Nationals.

Jerry West Is To Be Southern's Shortstop

Southern's varsity shortstop, Jerry West, came here back in the fall of 1950 from a rather illustrious high school diamond career that started in 1947.

Jerry, who is a better than average shortstop, has not always played this position. He started out the baseball road as a catcher in '47 with the Belleville High School team. While playing he caught one of Belleville's best pitchers, Dabell Thompson who is now on the Southern baseball roster. The next season Jerry moved to his present position, hit 300, and along with ace hurler Thompson led Belleville to the state championship.

During the summer of '48 Jerry played with the Belleville American Legion team that finished third nationally (17,000 entrants). In 1949 Jerry had another great season at short, and Belleville won another state championship. Jerry's not the reason Belleville won the state, but what team couldn't use a good-hitting, good fielding shortstop.

During the summer of '48 Jerry played some more American Legion ball. It was during this time, Jerry decided to come to Southern, and the following fall he became one of the Martin men.

Jerry lettered his first season as a member of the Southern baseball squad, and the following season he continued to prove his worth by playing great ball, and hitting in the clutch.

It seems that Jerry just doesn't believe in statistics, especially those that say shortstops are weak hitters. He consistently hits 300 or better. He slugged out a .515 pct. last season and he'll be out to better the mark this year.

Jerry, who is a junior here at Southern, has one more season as a Saluki baseballer, and you can be sure that he'll be doing his best to make it better than any previous season.

Eagles often attack fishing spears, making them drop fish they have caught and then seizing the food; but sometimes a group of coveys will attack an eagle and drive it out of the neighborhood.

An opportunity to serve your country and build a personal career that will fit you for responsible positions both in military and commercial aviation.

It won't be easy! Training discipline for Aviation Cadets is rigid. You'll work hard, study hard, play hard—especially for the first few weeks. But when it's over, you'll be a pro—with a career ahead of you that will take you as far as you want to go. You graduate as a 2nd Lieutenant in the Air Force, with pay of $5,300.00 a year. And this is only the beginning—your opportunities for advancement are unlimited.

ARE YOU ELIGIBLE?

To qualify as an Aviation Cadet, you must have completed at least two years of college. This is a minimum requirement—it's best if you stay in school and graduate. In addition, you must be between 19 and 26 1/2 years, unmarried, and in good physical condition.

YOU CAN CHOOSE BETWEEN PILOT OR AIRCRAFT OBSERVER

If you choose to be an Aircraft Observer, your training will be in Navigation, Bombardment, Radar Operation or Aircraft Performance Engineering.

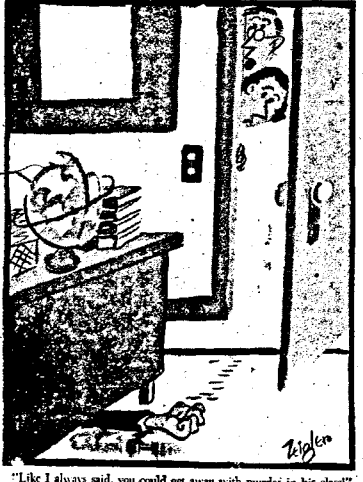

New Aviation Cadet Training Classes Begin Every Few Weeks!

HERE'S WHAT TO DO:

1. Take a transcript of your college credits and a copy of your birth certificate to your nearest Air Force Base or Recruiting Station. Fill out the application they give you.
2. If application is accepted, the Air Force will arrange for you to take a physical examination.
