Council Elects Carlisle USNSA Coordinator

Chosen From Five Candidates; Senate Problems Discussed

Enrollment Up Compared To Last 5 Years

Winter term enrollment at SIU has sharply reversed a five-year trend. Southern had only two-and-one-half per cent of its students between the fall and winter quarters. Colleges and universities normally have fewer students in the winter than in the fall. . . . and Southern has been losing about five per cent of its enrollment between the two quarters for five past years.

Art Carlisle, senior from Marion, was elected USNSA coordinator by the Student Council at its meeting last Thursday.

The election of the coordinator took up most of the proceedings of the Council at the meeting. Carlisle, a personal management major, was chosen from a field of six candidates.

The Council deliberated for some time on the selection of the coordinator. Each candidate appeared individually before the Council and underwent intensive questioning about his outlook on student government, his school activities, and his ability to devote the required time to the coordinator post.

Carlisle, one of four of six candidates eventually nominated, has been active in many student affairs and was recently in running for the Service to Southern Award. Will Act as Middleman

In his new post he will act as "middleman" between SIU and the USNSA. His responsibilities will be many and he will be required to attend several conventions, including a national convention of the USNSA sometime in August.

Other candidates included James Connell, Ronald Karkner, Bill Mead, Bob Ruppel, and Bob Yuill.

Bill Berry, Council treasurer, reported that the balance as of Feb. 13 was $763.32. He also stated that the Council had requested a clarification of its allocating and distributing powers in regard to its funds.

The Senate was still puzzled on how to resolve the problem of allocating loans to newly-organized clubs on campus.

In its meeting last Tuesday the Senate had turned down the petitions of the Applied Science Club and the Dames Club. The two organizations requested loans on the basis of the Senate's granting such loans to two other clubs last year.

Berry said that the Senate had established criteria for the distribution of its funds to the clubs, but was still questioning its authority to grant the money to the various campus organizations.

Dale Cozad, senior representative, led the portion of the Council constitution referring to the powers of the Senate in the allocation and distribution of its funds. Cozad and Dan Telford, Council parliamentarian, interpreted the constitution as giving the Senate full powers in granting money from its fund, stating that it was up to the Senate to decide on the outlay.

Cozad and Telford also agreed to the Senate proposal that its funds be spent in functions directly related to Student Senate activities, and for events aimed at the largest campus representation was a sound idea.

TP Students' Spring Social Senate activities. Berry also reported that the group had decided that it should sponsor speakers for the campus in order to replace events which were formerly Social Senate functions.

A grievance committee from Thompson Point No. 1, composed of Lynn Schuman, sophomore, Dian Johnson, junior, and Linda McDonald, freshman, appeared before the Council.

The committee said it was appealing a recent item included in the minutes of the meeting of the housing staff held at the Point.

The committee said it did not oppose this criteria, but it was protesting against the ruling whereby 50 per cent of the resident hall space was to be reserved for freshman students, and that all freshman halls were to be established.

Questions of senior privilege, freshman inability to locate off-campus housing and the fairness and unfairness to either the frosh or upper class groups were batted round to see staff.

Cozad and Telford again joined the discussion and both were in agreement on whether the committee had followed a proper procedure in coming before the Council with the problem in the first place.

The two Council members felt that the Point representatives had not fully delved into the facts surrounding the 50 per cent ruling.

Cozad suggested that the committee see a proper staff members first to learn the reasons behind the ruling. His motion "to recommend that all people who are concerned with and wish to make recommendations on certain policies governing the Resident Halls should go to the housing staff to discuss the problem with them," was carried.

The student committee from the Point was told that if they still were dissatisfied with the matter after discussion by the staff, they should return to the Council to seek its aid in presenting their proposals before proper authorities.

Berry, and a few other Council members, felt that the Council should act upon the student proposal immediately, in disagreement with Telford and Cozad, and stated that the Council was failing to adequately represent the student body when it recommended that the committee go to "other channels" before it presented its proposals to the Council.

Elizabeth Mullins, Council faculty adviser, offered her interpretation of the Council action in referring the student committee to see the staff first. She indicated that the Council may have erred in failing to act immediately on the student proposal.

However, Berry's move to resign as either Cozad motion was made to see the staff first.

Mary Ann Edwards, Council president, read a letter at the meeting from Elbert Fullerson, secretary of the University Faculty Council's letter advised the Student Council of a meeting on the grounds of the Faculty Council at its meeting on February 10, 1958. This Committee did not approve the placing of your proposal on the Faculty Council agenda for the regular meeting of February 20, 1958. The Committee did decide, however, that the proposal would be considered for the agenda of a next meeting of the Council.

Next meeting of the Student Council will be Feb. 27, at 8 p. m. in the President's office.

SMILING QUEEN

Miss Susie Sims, freshman from Dupu, beams happily at her date, Jerry Rhodes, Friday night after being crowned "Sweetheart Queen" at the Off-Campus Organized House dance.

She was the candidate from Johnson Co-op. Other finalists were Jan Horne, Barrett Dorm; Ella May Joyce, Club 16; Marianna Mitchell, Tower Hall; and Joyce Arnold, Jewel Box.

Of Organized Houses

Susie Sims Crowned Queen

The crowning of the "Sweetheart Queen", Miss Susie Sims, freshman from Dupu, climaxed the first off-campus organized house dance Saturday night.

Miss Sims is an education major from Johnson Co-op. She was picked from a field of 13 candidates entered by the organized houses.

The four other finalists were Jan Horne, Barrett Dorm; Ella May Joyce, Club 16; Marianna Mitchell, Tower Hall; and Joyce Arnold, Jewel Box.

The dance was held at the Eaves in Anthony Hall. The music for the dance, which drew a large crowd, was furnished by "The Tempos," a newly-organized 13-piece band from Thompson Point.

The social dance was organized by the social chairman of each organized house. The chairman of the group, which has been planning the dance for over a month, is Jerry Rhodes.

The Eaves was colorfully decorated with red and white streamers and hearts.

According to Jerry Rhodes, the dance was such a great success that there will definitely be more such social activities for the off-campus residents in the near future.

Dinner Get-Togethers

What was thought to be a large number of prepared plans for a dinner last Sunday turned out to be too few, and a number of people had to be turned away. This sort of summary of the success of the "Latin American" meal given in a native setting in the Student Union.

Someone had an idea, and the result was a group of Southern students from Latin America prepared a meal and arranged decorations in their homeland styles. The Student Union House Committee and the International Relations Club were sponsors of the dinner.

The meeting, talking and enjoying understanding of people of various nationalities, creeds or whatever is the very thing most of us realize will bring the world closer together and reduce tension and fear. When food—and a specialty at that—is on hand, success is inevitable.

Perhaps the results of the dinner get-togethers will encourage more dinners in the future. Perhaps each country or corner of the globe represented here at Southern can be host of a dinner similar to the one prepared by our Southern friends.

In thumbing through the exchanges, we find these interesting tidbits in the Daily Texan:

Final exams have been completely abolished at Oklahoma State University (formerly Oklahoma A. & M.).

Several colleges, in an attempt to solve the parking problem, have set up meter parking on campus grounds, and some have a parking system on a credit basis.

The Student Union at Wisconsin serves beer on tap:

At Dartmouth, every student has at least one course meeting on Saturday.

"Almost, just before I turned into my street some fool stepped on my fingers."

A psychologist is a man who, when a beautiful girl enters the room, watches everybody else.

A college student is one who enters school dressed in green and emerges as a senior dressed in black. The intermediate process of decay is known as college education.

An unconfirmed report has it that a mare was graduated from the University of Illinois at mid-year commencement.

It's probably the first time that Illinois has graduated an entire horse.

Home is where you can scratch any place that itches.

A judge was examining a prisoner who was accused of stealing silverware. "Where did you get it?" he asked the thief.

"From a fraternity house, Your Honor."

"Call up the restaurants, Sergeant, and distribute the stuff."

And here's a parting shot for the girls:

If you write illegibly when you sign out, it won't be so obvious when you sign in.

She's a pretty little wench
Sitting there upon the bench

After reading the above, we predict that Oklahoma State and Wisconsin will be flooded with transfers from Southern and Dartmouth students will receive letters lamenting their ivy misfortune.

And the following was pilfered from that old standby, Max Shulman's "Guided Tour of Campus Humor":

Then there was the janitor who worked in the girl's dorm and was entrusted with a pass-key to every room in the building.

The following week the dean ran across him and asked, "Why didn't you come around Friday for your pay, John?"

"What do I get wages, too?"

Then there was the Joe College who decided to reform. He cut out smoking the first week, drinking the second, and women the third. The fourth week he cut out paper dolls.

It seems a traveling salesman was journeying along a country road in the midst of a howling storm when he came to a washed-out bridge. He could not remain in the car so he got out and went to the nearest farmhouse. An old, wrinkled man answered the door.

"I'm looking for a place to spend the night," said the salesman.

"Well, you can stay here," said the farmer, "but you'll have to sleep with my three sons."

"With your three sons?"

"That's right."

"Excuse me," said the salesman, "I must be in the wrong job."

Sunday morning joke:
"Did you get home all right after the party last night?"

Cadets Fly To Texas For Weekend Instruction

Three girls were along with 35 fellows in less than 500 square feet of space for six hours. But don't drool yet boys. There's more to the story.

Three girls, 28 AFROTC cadets, three officers and a flight crew from Scott Air Force Base took off to Harlingen AFB, Texas to see the largest School of Navigation in the world.

Everyone was dressed in uniform. Captain Patricia Doyle, head of the WAF program, and Carol Cockrum Walker, WAF cadet, were attired in smart blue flying trowsers. The officers and crew wore flying suits with all kinds of zipper pockets.

The group started in a Cargo plane (C-119 with snow and below-freezing temperatures Valentine's Day. They arrived in Harlingen six hours later and about 60 degrees higher.

Flight lunches were provided for each person in individual boxes the size that shoes come in. And there are about 35 people who will have a good argument for those who claim the service has had food. Opening the boxes was like Christmas on Valentine's Day.

Bag, Some Eat'n

One smiling student yelled out "chicken!" Assorted shoes could be heard. "Ham sand"... turkey... an egg... even a toothpick... catsup, mustard, mayonnaise.

Leon Fodas, Racine, Wisconsin public schools (Elementary & Secondary).

Mildred Ingram, Danville, Illinois public schools (Elementary).

Felix Williams, Sup., Sikeeville, Nev. schools (Kindergarten & High School Mathematics).

Three girls were along with 35 fellows in less than 500 square feet of space for six hours. But don't drool yet boys. There's more to the story.

Everyone got the same and those who'd never seen a flight lunch, it was a rare delight—too much to eat and too delicious to waste. The price was 40 cents.

The plane began to lose altitude. It turned to one side and the other. Suddenly the motor was very loud. Then there was a bump.

The motors stopped. The doors were opened and the smell of a summer breeze followed the sunshine into the plane.

It was Harlingen Air Force Base. Swinging palm trees and green grass were the first spectaculars the cadets saw.

"Okay, fellows, fall in!" shouted Cadet Major Robert R. Koehnle, of Alton. "You'll be assigned to cadet quarters and then the rest of the evening will be your own. Movies, the bowling alley and the cadet club will be at your disposal. Reveille is 5 a. m. We will then tour the base until time to leave tomorrow at 10 a. m. Forward HHHHhah."

Plenty of 3.2

That night there were 29 SIU cadets in the cadet club drinking 3.2 beer in honor of Harlingen's Squadron A. The squadrons were having a contest to see which one would have the largest bill in the club by a certain date. The one that wins gets a keg of beer. None of the students had any trouble with 1.0's even though few were 21 because 3.2 beer is considered non-alcoholic.

Saturday was a little bit cooler than Friday. The temperature was in the high 60's. The group toured the control tower, a T-29 and the Spitz Planetarium, where navigation students observe the sun, moon planets and stars on a large globe.

It's Flying School Room

The plane that all student navigators use for training the T-29, is what caught the eye of the cadets. The plane is equipped so that 22 students can learn dead reckoning, celestial and radar navigation.

"Boy, I've never seen anything like it!" said one cadet with a smile on his face. "They've even got desks in there."

But like all good adventures this one had to end too. So after stopping at Randolph Field in San Antonio, Texas, to refuel, the large C-119 roared into the air toward Scott Air Force Base and freezing weather. Mission accomplished.

Southern Styles

By Barbara Downen

To dye or not to dye, that is the question now.

To twist an old familiar phrase, that is exactly the question in the minds of girls today on hair color.

Today coloring the hair is simple, more natural and not so noticeable as it was once. New improvements in the field of hair conditions, dyes, permanents and rinses have given the modern woman a new outlook on her natural gifts.

Besides the durable colorings on the market today, temporary color methods can be easily obtained. The color can be whitened right off in the weekly shampoo. With a minimum of mess, worry and bother, the hair can be changed from color to color.

The new color shampoos are just the thing for the more timid girls, or for those who only wish to highlight their natural color scheme.

Although the market is full of aids for coloring the hair, it is advisable for any drastic change in the coloring to come after careful consideration. It is better to try one of the color rinses to test the effect of the hair on the complete make-up of the individual. Hair color changes would be made by a professional, experienced hair dresser.

Many girls are allergic to the chemicals in the tinting and it can cause serious injury to the hair and head of the person if careful measures are not taken. It is always wise to make a patch test before applying any quantity of the coloring material.

Of course, the girl has to consider the amount of money which must be spent on changing the hair color, because good hair-dressers do cost money. The growing-out period when the hair is resuming its natural coloring is a long, nerve-racking period.

After considering all of the details, the woman still wants to change her hair and be a dazzling redhead, saving black beauty or a sultry blonde, then it will be worth the money and time if the dream is fulfilled.

Although most women enjoy the change which comes when they have a new hair shade, some feel emotionally distressed to see themselves looking so different.

True that we usually get accustomed to ourselves as we appear, and any change may be disturbing, but it works two ways. If we become used to seeing ourselves with eye make-up or lipstick, we feel dumb without it. So if we get used to a brighter shade of hair, it won't look right to us when it reverts back to the natural color.

More new, softer permanents are on the market today than ever before. There are permanents for hard-to-wave hair, for easy-to-wave hair and for normal-to-wave hair. For each type of hair there is a special type of permanent.

The new pin-curl permanents are very simple to give and leave the hair more manageable and natural-looking.

No shade or style of hair looks nice if it is not clean and healthy-looking. Brushing the hair will keep the tangle beneath the scalp circulating freely which is a must for attractive hair. Frequent washings, based on the condition of the hair, is a necessary operation for the well-being of the hair. Oily hair requires more shampoos than does dry or normal hair.

There are many pointers on the style of hair-do for each woman to use, but there are a few basic ones which cover the wide range of differences in women.

For those girls with a low forehead, it is better to sweep up the top of the hair. If bangs are desired, it is advisable to wear them high on the head.

Fruited bangs or a partial wave helps to cover the forehead for those with a high forehead.

It is better for those with a narrow forehead to comb the hair back from the sides and try to achieve a full effect of the temples.

The sides of a broad forehead should be covered with curls or a wave, but it should be kept close to the head.

Girls with a long nose, should brush the hair high or back from the face. Low bangs and middle parts should be avoided by these girls.

Bangs below the hairline, but not too long is the style best suited to offset the short nose.

A few general hints on the hair: Extremes of hot and cold weather are bad for the hair so cover it up when out of doors.

Change your hair part every so often so it will get a chance to get plenty of fresh air.

Eat plenty of fresh vegetables, fruit and sea food for nutrition.

Try not to fool with your hair in public. It gives people the impression that you are fussy and lack self-confidence.

Cagers Clip Normal, Lose To Western In Thrill-Packed Games

By Ron Jacobs
After clipping Illinois Normal in a thrill packed double overtime game Friday night, 77-75, Southern's basketball team "tragic hub-bub" finally broke as they lost to an undefeated Western Illinois squad in a ruggedly fought game, 65-58.

In the Normal game the score was tied at the end of regulation time, 65-65. In the first overtime, it looked as if Southern was doomed until Seymour Bryson took a pass from Rick Talley, and hit layup with eight seconds remaining.

In the second overtime of one of the most exciting games of the year, Normal scored first only to have Bryson tie it up again. Talley then hit two free throws as the Salukis took the lead. The score was again tied at 75-75 when freshman Tom McCreel hit a jump shot with only two seconds remaining in the thrill-packed contest to give SIU the victory.

In the "dream" game against Western, currently ranked No. 2 in the nation in the small college ranks, the Salukis blew a 10 point lead in the last six minutes of the game. Leading 58-49 with six minutes remaining, South's "red didn't" score a single point in the rest of the game. Western scored the last 16 points of the game.

In the first half, the Salukis jumped off to a fast 18-12 lead with 10 minutes gone. SIU went to the locker room at half-time with a 35-29 lead. Rebounding was a big factor for Southern in the first half as they pulled down 22 defensive rebounds and 8 offensive rebounds. In direct contrast they grabbed only 11 defensive and one offensive rebounds in the second half.

Western, now 20-0 for the season, tied the game at 42-42, with six minutes gone in the second half but Southern immediately took the lead again until Chuck Behrends hit on a layup to give Western the lead for the first time in the game with one minute remaining.

For Southern the game was a heartbreaker, because of the way they played. They hit about 40 percent from the field and at times were very good on defense. Seymour Bryson played an excellent game on the boards as he grabbed off 14 rebounds, twelve of them in the first half.

The game, which was played before a large home, screaming and cheering crowd was marked by very rough play. Two fights broke out on the floor but were quickly stopped.

Southern lost the ball four times in the last two minutes to dampen any hope the Salukis had left.

Both In One Meet Gymnasts Tromp Eastern, Lose Close One To Western

A constantly improving Saluki gymnastic squad split two dual meets over last weekend as they mauled Eastern Illinois, 82-19, and lost to Western Illinois in a very close match 58 1/4-53 1/4.

Actually the gymnasts only competed once in the "double-due" meet but the scores were matched against the other two opponents.

By losing to Western by only five points, the Salukis showed again that they are constantly improving because only two weeks ago they lost to Western Illinois by a score of 70-42.

Western jumped off to a big lead as was expected as they took a first, second, and fourth on the trampoline and a first, third and fourth in the free exercise. Roger Council shook off his jinx and took third on the tramp. Gene Salomon worked his way to a second place in the free-e department. After these two events, Western had a 23-9 lead over Southern.

In the side horse-vest, the Saluki began moving back in the meet as John Ostarelo took first, Bob Kitz took third and Gene Salmon took fourth.

In the next event, the high-bar, John Taylor continued his fine work and grabbed first. Jerry Bickenback took second, and Ed Bufum took fourth. Jon Qada of Western snatched into the third spot.

The parallel bars were next and SIU continued to move. John Ostarelo, the only double winner of the day, took first, and Gene Salomon took fourth. After this event, Southern was leading, 42 1/4-39 1/4.

Three men hotly contested for first on the rings. It ended up in a tie between Bob Foster, SIU and Glenn Wilson of Western with 26 1/2 points. Ed Foster finished second with 26 1/2 points.

Going into the final event, tumbling, Southern was leading by seven points.

Western came through with a first, second and third in tumbling to win the meet by five points.

Bill Meade, head coach, was again highly pleased with the showing of the gymnasts. He said, "the boys just keep getting better every meet and it is sure going to be interesting to see what happens next weekend when we meet Indiana and Wisconsin at the University of Indiana."

Meade pointed out that two weeks ago against Western, Southern didn't take a first place but Saturday they took four firsts. Meade said, "I think if we had another shot at them in a dual meet we could beat them."

When SIU's points were matched against Eastern Illinois, the third team in the meet, the final

Swimmers Dunk Illinois Normal

Paced by captain Joe Barry, the SIU swimming team dunked Illinois Normal University Saturday afternoon in the Redbirds pool, 52-33.

Barry, a standout for Southern for the past two years, took first in the 50 yard freestyle and the 100 yard freestyle as he led the Salukis to their fourth dual meet victory in six meetings this year.

The tankmen, who were in control all the way, started off by taking the 400 yard medley relay in 4:21.5.

In the 220 yard freestyle, Warren Dick took second and Roy Walker grabbed a third behind Brooks of Normal.

Barry then took first in the 50 yard freestyle. Anderson dove his way into third place in the fancy diving event.

Dave Burkhalter, SIU, won the 200 yard butterfly but was disqualified so first place was given to Wayne Olsen.

Barry then came through with his second win of the afternoon by stroking his way to first place in the 100 yard freestyle in :56.8. Bob Schulhof was second.

Bob Steele, SIU's top back-stroker, grabbed first in the 200 yard backstroke. Edwin Payne placed third.

Warren Dick stroked his way to first place in the 449 yard freestyle event.

Chuck Markham finished second in the 200 yard breaststroke behind Schieber of Illinois Normal.

The Salukis finished off a fine afternoon by taking the 400 yard freestyle relay with a time of 4:08.4.

The tankmen were swimming without the services of first-stringers Montgomery, Swanson, and Council, Montgomery and Swanson have ear injuries and Council was with the Gymnastic team at Eastern Illinois.

Wrestlers Grab Tourney

Paced by Jim Blodsoe, "Deke" Edwards, Grubbs, Herman Ayres and Marion Rushing, Southern's wrestling squad grabbed the Wheaton Invitational Tourney Title, Saturday afternoon to add another brilliant victory to their unwinnable record.

Competing against top wrestling squad such as Northern Illinois, Notre Dame, Wheaton, Bradley, Illinois Normal, and Western Illinois, the Saluki grapplers grabbed five championships out of the nine weight classes. SIU outpointed their nearest opponent, Northern Illinois, 67-55.

To win the titles, the wrestlers had to wrestle, and win, three matches.

Jim Blodsoe of Southern defeated Sandova of Western Illinois, 7-3, in the final match to win the 123 pound class title.

"Deke" Edwards defeated Hill of Augustana College, 7-5, to grab the 130 pound title.

Grubbs Wins
Lee Grubbs, SIU captain, turned in a very fine performance to dump Nans of Wheaton, 13-6, to win the 147 pound title for the second consecutive year.

Herman Ayres won in the final round when Young of Northern Illinois could not continue because of an injury.

"Rush"
In the heavyweight class, Marion Rushing, senior in his first year of wrestling, put on quite a show as he won three straight to grab the heavyweight title. Rushing defeated Seaman of Normal in the final match. He pinned Seaman in 8:27. "Rush" has never won a match all season still hit three in a row Saturday.

Phil Thorne took a fourth when he lost to Armstrong of Notre Dame 2-1, on riding time.

Great Job!
Phil Franz, head Saluki coach, said "They all wrestled very hard and did a tremendous job." When asked who was the most outstanding for Southern, Franz replied, "Oh man, they all did a tremendous job, but I guess Grubbs and Edwards had the hardest matches. Rushing deserves a tremendous amount of credit though because he really wrestled hard and did quite a job."
