Eger Players, Symphony, Ball End Festival

Chamber Group Gives Two Shryock Shows

A distinguished chamber music ensemble, the Eger Players, will appear in a Fine Arts Festival concert Wednesday at 8 p. m. in Shryock Auditorium, and again Thursday morning at Freshman Convocation.

Joseph Eger, internationally acclaimed French horn soloist, heads the group. Madeline Foley, cellist, who studied with Casals; Dixie Blackstone (Mrs. Eger), violinist; and Lawrence Smith, pianist, complete the ensemble.

Eger, who has been called the greatest living performer on the French horn, is a faculty member at the Peabody Institute of Music in Baltimore. His best-selling record album, "Around the Horn," will be followed shortly by an album of Beethoven and Brahms works.

No tickets are needed for admission to the concert.

"Until a few years ago," Eger has written, "the common idea of a horn player was a large, red-faced man blowing 'umpahs' loudly and somewhat inaccurately. Today the horn can be played beautifully throughout its range of four octaves.

"Its tone may be mellow, romantic, bold or powerful. It can be as light, gay, quick-witted as an ancient jig, or delicately lyrical, ethereal, as in the Eger Players' performance of the Haydn Trio for horn, or as profoundly tragic and sombre as the Brahms Trio for horn."

The Eger Players have performed at concerts throughout the world.

Applied Science Shows Movies

Robert Lee, Cincinnati district manager, and G. M. Stauffer, district engineer for the Terrington Company will present a color movie on the design, manufacture and application of spherical roller bearings in the Applied Science Laboratory at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow.

All applied science majors have been urged to attend the movie, which offers an opportunity to see some of the current developments in industry. Other interested persons have also been invited to attend the showing.

The University has a full-time faculty and administrative staff of 1,249 and 561 non-academic employees.

U. N. SPEAKER
Clark M. Eichelberger, executive director of the American Assn. for the United Nations, told members of the SIU Model United Nations last weekend that all nations should automatically be in the U. N. Eichelberger was keynote speaker for the second annual miniature general assembly at Southern. He delivered the message at the first of two plenary sessions in Muckelroy Auditorium.

NEW ORLEANS PHILHARMONIC

Appearing in the Shryock Auditorium concert Thursday, the New Orleans Philharmonic Orchestra is brought to campus

by the Carbondale Community Concert Assn. with a program designed to fit the Fine Arts Festival theme of American arts. Conducted by Alexander Hillsberg, former associate conductor of the Philadelphia Orchestra, the musicians will give a youth concert "Magic in Music" at 3:30 p. m. Thursday, to be followed at 8 p. m. by a Community Concert. "An ensemble of notable quality and a conductor of real distinction," was the Boston Globe's comment on the performance of the group during a recent concert there.

The Four Lads, Columbia's swinging quartet, were all over the auditorium Saturday night, shifting from the sentimental "Moments to Remember" to the wild "Istanbul."

The Alpha Phi Omega sponsored show brought appreciative applause after all the lads' biggest hits. "Standing on the Corner," the first show was embellished with 16 songs.

Between shows, the Four Lads talked freely while signing autographs. Connie Codarini, spokesman for the group during the show, told of the lads' history and spoke of their feelings about playing before college groups.

"We much prefer to play before a college audience," the tall, handsome Codarini said. "The crowd is always appreciative, and we are completely relaxed."

Jimmy Arnold, who kept the crowd laughing all night with his down-stage antics, chimed in with, "Yeah, we really enjoy singing for college groups, but they spoil us. We can get away with more before them, and they just laugh along with us. But then when we get before the TV cameras or at a big night club, we can't afford to goof up."

Codarini said the group began 14 years ago in Toronto while they were in music school. They claimed the name "Four Lads" then and have never varied from it. Arnold, a slim, dark person who enjoys reading, said they have varied their style of singing only slightly since they began.

Codarini, who now sings bass, started out singing tenor and Arnold—who seems to have a built-in air pump to aid his volume—sang second voice.

The lads came to Southern—their first visit—from Milwaukee, where they appeared Thursday and Friday nights. They left by auto immediately after the show for St. Louis, where they caught a plane.

Frankie Busseri, the baritone, said all he could think of "is to get back to New York and rest again." They had only two hours sleep Friday night.

Busseri, the smallest of the lads and the person who sang the lead in "Getting to Know You" while walking down the Shryock aisle Saturday night, is the only one of the four who is not married. All four live in New York, though they are originally from Toronto.

Connie said the group's favorite song is one of their biggest hits, the "Moments to Remember" which they did in fine style Saturday night. The informal presentation of the show spread rapidly throughout the audience from the first song through their curtain-drawing rendition of the nostalgic and heart-rending "You'll Never Walk Alone."

At Model U.N.

All Nations Should Be In U.N., Says Eichelberger

All nations should automatically be members of the United Nations, the same as we are all automatically members of society.

So Clark M. Eichelberger, executive director of the American Assn. for the United Nations, told a sparse audience Friday night in flag-bedecked Muckelroy Auditorium. The lecture was delivered at the first of two plenary sessions of SIU's second Model United Nations General Assembly.

"There should be no clauses for admission to or withdrawal from the United Nations," he said. All nations should be "universally bound" with the only standard of admittance being that the nation be a "political body" and "qualified legally" to belong.

He did not overlook moral reasons for excluding a nation from the U.N., but implied that the tensions in the world today make them of secondary importance. He referred mainly to Red China's present exclusion from the United Nations.

Eichelberger said this lack of complete representation was one of the major drawbacks in disarmament negotiations, and as a result the United Nations "can't move beyond a certain point in disarmament until they've solved it."

"One-fourth of the population can't be swept under the rug," he said. "How can we have disarmament agreement if one-fourth of the world doesn't participate?"

The executive director noted a growing tendency of the "great powers" to bypass the United Nations, and said that this was a dangerous thing for the nations themselves as well as for the world. As to so-called summit conferences, Eichelberger favored them only so long as they were held with the United Nations as a "moral and legal brain."

He pointed out the tremendous contrasts in the world today. "The world is so fantastic," he said, that "one-fourth of the world will go to bed hungry tonight. One-fourth of the world can't read or write. There are parts of the world where a knock on the door strikes terror." Yet at the same time, "we are preparing to explore celestial bodies."

Panciful dream? Eichelberger thinks not. "The good Lord who gave us the scientific capacity to split the atom also gave us the capacity to conquer the heavens," he said.

At the past General Assembly, he said, it was decided to hold an outer space conference at Geneva, Switzerland.

In concluding his lecture, Eichelberger spoke directly to the student delegates.

"In learning about the point of view of other countries have fun, but realize too that you are acting on the assembly could very well be the delegates of tomorrow."

Folklorist At Home Ec For Talk Tonight

Archie Green, a folklorist who specialized in the American labor movement, will speak and perform at SIU tonight.

Green's 8 p. m. talk—actually a combination of singing, poetry reading and lecturing—will be given in the Home Economics Building Family Living Center and will be open to the public.

His working topic will be "The Death of Mother Jones: A Journey in Labor History and Folk-song Scholarship."

A former member of the Brotherhood of Carpenters (20 years) and one-time secretary of the San Francisco local, Green recently received a masters degree in library science from the University of Illinois. While at the U. of I., he was attached to the Institute of Industrial and Labor Relations.

Green is nationally known as a collector of labor lore, an authority on such labor-language words as "goon," "gink" and "scab," and a member of many folklore organizations including the American Folklore Society. His talk will be sponsored by the SIU Library and the Labor Institute.

Disarmament Eichelberger believes that total disarmament is the only workable solution to world tensions: "You can't kill an animal by cutting off its tail," he said.

But at once three problems arise, he said, which Henry Cabot Lodge pointed out: (1) What kind of inspecting police force will there be? (2) What kind of law will operate? (3) What shall be the nature and size of police forces remaining in each country after disarmament?

The problem of disarmament is further complicated by what he called Nikita Khrushchev's "faulty logic" in Soviet arguments against disarmament. Eichelberger cited Khrushchev's argument wherein he insisted that if you had total disarmament there would not be anything to inspect. The obvious fallacy in this, he said, was that you need inspection to see that total disarmament is maintained.

Bypass U.N. The executive director noted a growing tendency of the "great powers" to bypass the United Nations, and said that this was a dangerous thing for the nations themselves as well as for the world. As to so-called summit conferences, Eichelberger favored them only so long as they were held with the United Nations as a "moral and legal brain."

Please Crowds

The Four Lads Backstage

Four Canadian lads relaxed in the Shryock Auditorium dressing room, smoked cigarettes, drank coffee and signed autographs Saturday night. They had just finished a 40-minute concert before a large crowd, and were awaiting the second show of the evening.

The Four Lads, Columbia's swinging quartet, were all over the auditorium Saturday night, shifting from the sentimental "Moments to Remember" to the wild "Istanbul."

New Orleans Philharmonic In Shryock Twice Thursday

Two concerts by the New Orleans Philharmonic Orchestra will be given Thursday in Shryock Auditorium. The afternoon concert will be a youth concert at 3:30, and the evening concert will be a Carbondale Community Concert Assn. program, at 8 p. m.

In keeping with the theme of the current Fine Arts Festival on the afternoon concert, which will include a portion devoted to American music, Samuel Barber's "Overture to School for Scandal" and William Schuman's "Symphony for Strings" are on the program.

The evening concert is open only to Community Concert Assn. members and students who secured advance tickets. Approximately 1,000 area high school music students will be on hand for the afternoon concert, which has a theme of "Magic in Music." The SIU students will be allowed to fill the remainder of the Auditorium seats without tickets.

The New Orleans Symphony, considered the outstanding symphony orchestra in the South, is directed by Alexander Hillsberg.

Fresh, Former Principals Meet Thursday

Principals from some 25 high schools are expected to attend the high school principal-college freshman conference at SIU Thursday. The conference is sponsored by the Division of University Extension.

Principals from schools as far north as Springfield which have 10 or more graduates in the freshman class at Southern have been invited to participate in the conference. They will meet with former students and with University officials to try to determine ways of improving the student's transition from high school to college.

The visitors will meet with students from 10 to 10:50 a. m. Students whose former principals will be on campus are being notified by letter.

The conferences began in 1953, and have been held periodically, usually in alternate years. The program is carried out by the Division of University Extension in cooperation with the Office of Student Affairs, Academic Advisement Center and various schools and colleges of the University.

Purpose of the conference is to provide the principals with the opportunity for gaining information from their graduates as to deficiencies in their high school curriculum. During the afternoon sessions the high school leaders will share their findings with University personnel.

Masked Ball Features Art, 'Salty Dogs'

The second annual masked costume ball, climaxing the 1960 Fine Arts Festival at SIU, will be held Friday in Lentr Hall at Thompson Point.

A full costume party, the Masked all is open to costumes depicting anything in American art, from any period. Decorations and refreshments will reflect the Fine Arts Festival theme, "America and the Arts."

The Ball will feature music by The Salty Dogs, a Dixieland band from Purdue University. The Glenn Daum orchestra will supply dance music. Admission to the Ball is $1 per person, with advance ticket sales now going on in the Student Union. Tickets for the 8:30 p. m. Ball will also be on sale at the door.

Week's Highlight

Bowyer Hall Banquet And Style Show Well Attended

Highlighting this weekend's events was the banquet and style show at Lentz Hall for the residents of Bowyer, Thompson Point, and girls from the dormitory were the models and planners of it.

Starting off the evening was the banquet, held in one part of the dining hall. The residents found their places marked by tiny candy cups with hearts and their names. Guests of honor at the banquet were Mrs. Leder, resident counselor of Bowyer, Mrs. Loretta Ott, Asst. dean, Art Swanson, resident advisor of Thompson Point, and his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Kay, owners of Kay's of Carbondale.

At 8:15, the style show began and was divided into four sections: suits, dress dresses, sportswear, and beachwear. Introducing the different sections were four residents dressed as beatniks who put on skits for the appropriate divisions. Those in the skits were Karen Reinhamer, Joyce Arrowsmith, Gloria Vallosio and Sara Jo Smith. Miss Smith played the bongos throughout the skits.

All girls in the fashion show wore Linda Horace. Linda's suit was light baby blue wool, with a grey fur accent on the collar. The suit top was accented with a rose made of the blue wool. To accompany the suit she wore a white blouse, a spring hat of blue flowers, and dainty white wrist-length gloves. A perfect outfit for Easter. Dressy dresses were shown in the second division, exemplified by Julie Dietrich, above. Her offering was a two-piece dress of red and white plaid. The sheath skirt was topped by a blouse with jacket featuring long sleeves and a peterpan collar. A red tie and buttons on the blouse carried out the outfit's colors. Julie also wore tiny white gloves to make an outfit fit for church or a tea this spring.

The third section featured spring sportswear. In the picture shown, Bonnie Meirink wears a two-piece outfit perfect for weekend afternoons or a picnic. The pants are of brown cotton accented with an orange sash which peeks out from her blouse. The blouse, one that fits over her waist, is of brown and white stripes with brown flowers dressing up the front. The blouse has three-quarter-length sleeves and a large turn-down collar. With this outfit Bonnie wears tan shoes, a favorite on SIU's campus as well as on many others.

Other models in the show were Claudia Castallo, Joan Lennan, Judy Valente, Beverly Coleman, Sara Millsbaugh, Suzanne Smith, Karen Adams, Sheila Fraser, Anita Lubko, Sherrie Sausley, Lou Evans and Connie Houston. The last section of the show featured two beachwear outfits. These were modeled by Anita Lubko and Connie Jo Houston. All the fashions, which were for both spring and summer, were supplied by Kay's of Carbondale. Each girl modeled at least three times, one in each of the three sections. Both hats and gloves were worn with the dresses and suits.

Judy Brown, social chairman of the dorm, was in charge of the event, and Ruby Ballentine acted as mistress of ceremonies.

Only 3 Groups Busy This Week; FFA, APO, & C.E.C.

C.E.C. JOINT GROUP HEARS SPEAKER

Southern's chapter of the Council for Exceptional Children will hold a joint meeting with the West Frankfort chapter of C.E.C. Thursday evening when they hear J. W. Lentz speak. Lentz is the southern Illinois area psychological examiner.

He will speak to the groups on the role of the psychological examiner toward special education in the Agricultural Building, Room 116. The meeting will begin at 8 p.m.

FFA IMPORTANT MEETING TONIGHT

An important meeting of the SIU Future Farmers of America chapter will be held tonight at 7:30 in Room 224, Agriculture Building. After a business session, a movie will be shown.

The group's program committee has met and planned programs for all meetings throughout the spring term. Committee members are Paul Cranfill, Wayne Cross, Richard Rigg, Clifford Hayes, Neal Jolliff, Jack Wiggins and Vernon Caupert.

UGLY MAN RULES SENT BY APO

All the living areas, clubs and organizations on and off campus have now received the rules and entry forms for the annual Alpha Phi Omega Ugly Man on Campus contest. The distribution of these forms was done by the APO pledges.

The winner of the contest will be the contestant with the most votes, votes consisting of 1 cent each. All contributions will go to the winner's favorite charity, and the winner and his sponsor will both receive awards.

The contest is three weeks off, in all forms, plus a picture of the candidate as he will be turned in the contest should be turned in as soon as possible.

Campus Chest This Week

Collections began yesterday for the 1960 Campus Chest Drive, which has a goal of $3,000 to be reached this week. Proceeds will be divided equally among the Blind Service Agency, Save the Children Federation, United Cerebral Palsy and World University Service.

The World University Service should be especially close to students, according to drive committee spokesman Wallace Altes, because of its service to students the world over. The functions of this organization are to continually improve student lodging and living, to improve student health and to give individual and emergency aid, Altes said.

After World War I, relief was provided for students in Europe and Asia; during World War II, books were sent to American, British, Dutch, Polish and Yugoslavian prisoners of war. In the Korean conflict, emergency aid was given to student refugees, and in 1956, 1,000 Hungarian student refugees were placed on scholarships in American colleges by the service.

SIU Scientist Reports On Cancer Study

Extremes of temperature, either hot or cold, may possibly be an influence on the development of cancer cells, an SIU scientist indicated today.

Dr. Maurice Ogur, associate professor in the Biological Research Laboratory, said his experiments were conducted with yeast cells as a model for the conditions described in Warburg's theory of cancer. This theory, widely discussed but not universally accepted, contends that radiation, skin irritation and other known causes of cancer bring on the disease by knocking out the respiratory apparatus of cells.

If the German scientist is right in his belief that cancer is caused by the cells' loss of their ability to "breathe" properly, Ogur said, then variations in temperature might speed up or slow down this change in the formation of cancer cells, as it did in the yeast model.

Ogur described his experiments with yeast cells as "another theoretical step" in exploring the implications of Warburg's concept. The unexpected result of his tests, Ogur said, was that temperatures speed up the mutations which lead to respiratory deficient cells.

A report on his studies, to be published by Genetics magazine, also states that the reproduction rate of hereditary particles in the cytoplasm — the outer rim

European Ag School Studied

Dr. Joseph P. Vavra, associate professor of plant industry, SIU School of Agriculture, will be in a six months' sabbatical leave March 15 (until Sept. 15) for study in Europe.

Vavra will embark March 29 and will visit universities, agricultural experiment stations, a national soil science institute in Belgium, Denmark, England, France, Germany, Holland, Italy, Norway, Spain and Sweden. In England he will visit one of the world's oldest agricultural experiment stations at Rothamsted, near London.

During the trip Vavra will observe teaching methods, research techniques and results, and exchange ideas with European authorities in the field of soil chemistry and soil fertility.

Vavra, a member of the SIU faculty since 1951, teaches courses in soils and fertilizers and has conducted numerous experiments on the use of fertilizers for crop production on soils common to southern Illinois.

A native of Union Pier, Mich., he is a graduate of Michigan State University and received his master's degree there in 1948. He obtained his doctorate in soil chemistry at Purdue University in 1952.

Vavra's family will accompany him and visit with Mrs. Vavra's parents near Munich, Germany.

Register Early Urged For All Students

A concerted effort is being made to acquaint students with the problems of registration and the benefits of advance registration by the Registrar's Office at SIU. Registrar Robert A. McGrath said last week that approximately 700-800 students who were in school during the fall term did not advance register for this quarter, adding greatly to the registration load during the first two weeks of the winter term.

Registration offices are not equipped either in terms of staff or space to handle large numbers of students during the first week of a term, McGrath pointed out, and students who pre-register save a great deal of inconvenience to these offices as well as to themselves.

The concept of the advance registration system at SIU is based on current students' advance registering for next quarter during the eight-week period set aside for that purpose, McGrath said. The Registrar said the advance registration system has a week in support of the effort.

DELTA CHI BOWLING TEAM TAKES FIRST

Delta Chi's bowling team beat Sigma Tau Gamma Sunday to number of advantages over a central registration system which requires all students to register during the first few days of a term.

McGrath urged that all students in classes this term who plan to attend next quarter advance register before the March 4 deadline. Plans are now being studied whereby students who are unable to pay their fees before the deadline will not have pre-registration cancelled, McGrath said.

The Registrar met with the Student Council Jan. 28 and called for the Council's support in stimulating increased advance registration. He told the Council that 6,653 students did advance register for the winter quarter, but that it would have been much better if all current students did so. The Council indicated its willingness to help.

Student Body President Bob Hardwick issued a letter to all organized house presidents last week in support of the effort.

DR. JOHNSTON SPEAKS TO HOMEMAKERS

Dr. Betty Jane Johnston, chairman of the home and family department in the SIU School of Home Economics, spoke before the Jackson County unit of Homemakers in Homemaking, a branch of the American Home Economics Assn., in Carbondale recently. Subject of the talk was "150 Homemakers Talk About Laundering." Dr. Johnston recently attended the American Gas Assn. Workshop in Chicago.

An exchange party was held at the chapter house Sunday with Alpha Gamma Delta Sorority. The chapter also participated in a serenade held for the pin woman at Sigma Sigma Sigma, Sigma Kappa and Woody Hall this week.

SIG PI WINS IN LAST GAME

Sigma Pi's basketball team finished the season by defeating Sigma Tau Gamma, the A team winning 77-55 and the B team winning 52-36. Both teams were defeated once, the defeats coming from Kappa Alpha Psi.

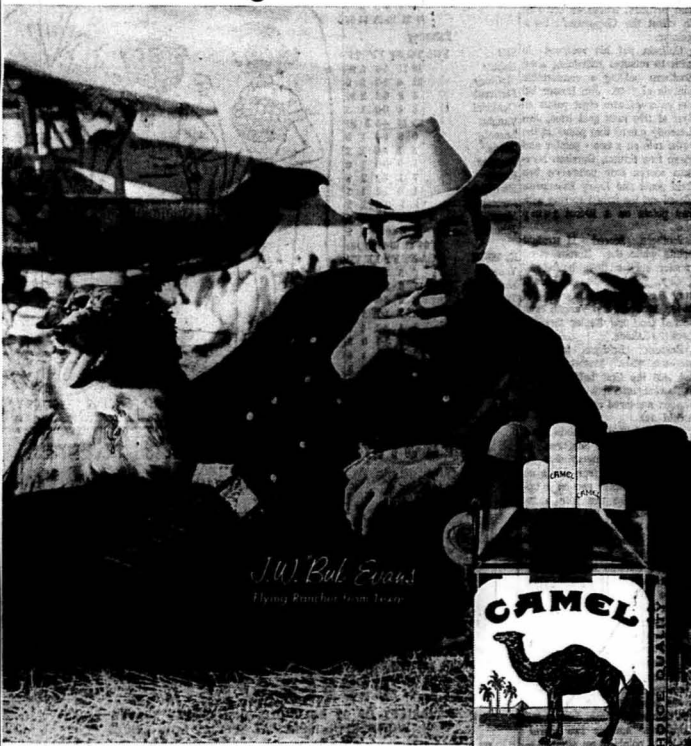

Don Spike and his committee are busy with Theta Xi Variety show plans. The fraternity nominated Phyllis McGill for its candidate for Miss Southern Acres.

The annual Orchid Ball is in the hands of Steve Strider. The affair will take place Feb. 26 at Giant City Lodge.

KARLIN OUTLINES TRAINING PROGRAM

Dr. Robert Karlin, head of the SIU Reading Center, outlined plans for training reading specialists, consultants and supervisors to the board of directors of the Educational Council of 100 recently. SIU has the only program of this kind south of the Cook County area of Illinois. Karlin cited the in-service training program for teachers now being carried on jointly by the public school systems of Grayville and Crossville in cooperation with the center.

Cagers Tinker With Michigan Squads; Open Up Game Lead In IIAC Race

Salukis On Top With 8-1 Mark As Northern Stops Western

By Tom McManara

Southern's running Salukis moved a step closer towards their first IIAC title in 12 years by defeating Central Michigan, 81-52, Friday and Eastern Michigan, 101-61, Saturday.

With the two wins, Southern took over undisputed possession of first place as Northern Illinois defeated Western Illinois, 90-84, Saturday night.

Southern has lost once in conference play while Western has been defeated twice and Northern three times.

Gary Lee put Central Michigan ahead 2-0 on a drive-in, but Charlie Vaughn came right back with a 20-foot jump shot and the game was tied for the first time, 2-2.

Carl Williams gave the Chippewas' last lead, 42, on a rebound shot and the Salukis came roaring back as Don Hepler scored on a drive-in and Jim Gualdoni scored on a lay-up. Tom McGreal hit a 20-foot jump shot and a Randy McClary scored on a drive-in and free throw, and McGreal hit on a jump shot from the circle to put Southern ahead to stay. The 11-point scoring spree came with about six minutes gone in the game.

Karl Richardson hit on a set-up and Lee a free throw pulling Central within six of the Salukis 13-7. Vaughn then hit two of his jump shot specialties from the right side of the circle and Southern led 17-7.

Richardson tallied a free throw and McGreal hit a jump shot, giving Southern a 21-8 lead. Dan Adams scored on a drive-in pulling the Chippewas' within 11 points, 21-10.

Southern held a 25-14 lead before Hepler scored for a point on a row on two jump shots and Gualdoni scored on a drive-in and free throw. McGreal hit a bonus toss to give Southern a comfortable margin of 35-14.

"Sweet" Charlie gave Southern a 75-point lead on a lay-up and a 15-foot jump shot from the left side. Salukis coach Harry Gallatin put in reserves and Central Michigan trailed at halftime 47-21.

Ken Vanduyke hit a jump shot from the deep corner but Vaughn and Gualdoni scored on drive-ins to offset the Chippewas' two-pointers.

Gallatin put his reserves in with 10 minutes remaining and Southern holding a comfortable margin of 62-35. Jim Essenspreis led the reserves with eight points on four of five field goal tries, Jim Lazenby scored five points in the relief role on a two-pointer and three free throws. Garrison Newman scored four points on two field goals and Larry Essenspreis closed out the Salukis scoring with two points on a 10-foot jump shot.

Southern scored 11 straight points while the Husons could muster only a tip-in basket by Treddy, giving the Salukis a very comfortable margin of 66-18. McGreal and Vaughn each scored four and Hepler three to pace the Salukis.

Eastern Michigan trailed at halftime, 50-25. Southern shot a hot 488 the first half on 21 of 46 bucket attempts while the Husons mustered only 8 of 23 for a cold 348.

Vaughn tallied 17 points and Hepler 16 to lead Southern to the big margin at intermission.

McClary scored four points on field goals, Hepler two on a 20-foot jumper from the left side of the circle to build Southern's lead to 50-23. Vaughn hit two 20-foot shots to give Southern a 87-45 lead and Gallatin began running in his reserves. The reserves played the rest of the game.

John Mees hit two free throws and Essenspreis one to push Southern over the century mark for the second time this season. Southern led at this point, 101-57.

Southern held Central Michigan's top scorer Gary Lee to only seven points. Lee was averaging 16.4 before the game. Adams, the Chippewas' number two scorer scored 16 points in an attempt to pick up the slack left by Lee's poor scoring. Adams is averaging 13.4 for the season, with 399 points. Captain Dick Ruggles was used sparingly by Gallatin and turned in an excellent floor game. He led McGreal, McClary and Hepler with beautiful passes which led to two-pointers. Vaughn also showed good teamwork with brilliant passing to the big boys underneath the hoop. Vaughn needs only 61 points to tie his 620 point mark last year. He has five more games in which to get the 61 points. He has 539 points so far this season.

Southern now has a 15-6 record overall, 8-1 in conference play and have won six of their last seven games. The only loss was a heartbreaker, 89-87, against Kelly Coleman and company last weekend.

Vaughn took game scoring honors both nights with 17 and 30 points, respectively, and Hepler was close behind with 15 and 25 points for two night's work.

Hepler continues to play consistent ball as he hit 7 of 14 and 11 of 19 field goal attempts in the games this weekend. Southern shot 458 on 41 of 94 attempts for the game and Eastern Michigan managed only 19 of 53 attempts for a cold percentage of .358.

ROSSER RECOVERS

Jim Rosser gains control of a loose ball in the second half of Southern's 101-61 conquest of Eastern Michigan Saturday night. In reserve appearances, Rosser dropped in three points in the contest and eight against Central Michigan Friday night.

Frosh Win Eighth Straight

Eastern Illinois fell victim to an improved Saluki freshmen team Saturday night, 69-52, as Frank Lentfer scored 20 points to pace the freshmen to their eighth victory in a row. Southern defeated McKendree College, 80-57, Friday night as Lentfer scored 20 points to pace the Salukis to this victory.

McKendree led Southern throughout the first half until Dave Henson, Leroy Newton, Jack Keller and Lentfer hit jump shots to give Southern its first lead of the game, 37-34. The freshmen trailed after this early lead. The game was tied five times in the first half.

Dick Burda has been forced to give up basketball this year because of an ankle injury. The injury occurred in the game against the second half to come away with a 69-52 victory. Eastern defeated the Saluki freshmen earlier in the year, 75-68.

Southern led McKendree at halftime, 42-38, and pulled away from McKendree in the second half by scoring 11 straight points. Henson led the scoring spree with four points, followed by Lentfer, Don Kasulke and Newton, who contributed two points each during the scoring barrage.

McKendree used two of its varsity members in an attempt to add more scoring punch. Former Herbie Adams, former basketball coach at Taft High School (Chicago) and scout for the White Sox. Smilgoff also was a clinic speaker in 1954.

Charles McClendon, defensive line coach and director of the "Chinese Bandits" at Louisiana State University, and John Kundla, head basketball coach at the University of Minnesota, will headline talks at the fall clinic Aug. 4-25.

Both clinics will be conducted in the SIU University School.

Drive For 'Y' Begins

A membership drive for a family-type YMCA in Carbondale began yesterday with a goal of 1,150 members and $10,000. The campaign is the first step in an effort to intensify the "Y" program in Carbondale, with a building as the eventual goal.

The YMCA program currently includes Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y groups for junior high boys and girls plus 17 tribes of Y-Indian groups. These tribes, meeting twice each month, have a total membership of 200 boys and about the same number of girls.

The Thursday night adult recreation program of the YMCA in University School is conducted for two hours each week.

Coming up March 6 is a series of travelogue films and lectures, "See America." Chairman of the series is John Allen, SIU Information Service. The programs are scheduled for 4:30 p. m. in the Studio Theatre of University School.

Coaching Clinic Dates Are Set

Dates and speakers for SIU's 12th annual spring and fall coaching clinics are now complete, according to Dr. Andrew Vaughn, SIU clinic director.

The one-day spring clinic will be conducted April 1. Speakers are George Rider, head track coach at Miami, Ohio University, and James Smilgoff, former baseball coach at Taft High School (Chicago) and scout for the White Sox. Smilgoff also was a clinic speaker in 1954.

Charles McClendon, defensive line coach and director of the "Chinese Bandits" at Louisiana State University, and John Kundla, head basketball coach at the University of Minnesota, will headline talks at the fall clinic Aug. 4-25.

Both clinics will be conducted in the SIU University School.

Win 63-32 Swimmers Outclass Normal; Meet Indianapolis Club Sat.

SIU swimmers set two new records en route to defeating Illinois State Normal Saturday at Bloomington, 63-32. St. Louis University postponed the meet with Southern for Saturday, but Coach Ralph Casey landed a prize replacement in the Indianapolis Athletic Club.

Walt Rodgers set a new record in the 200 individual medley with a time of 2:06.6 to break his own record of 2:11.0 set last week against Eastern Illinois. The time was good enough to have won fifth year last in the national championships.

Clyde Epperson set a new school record in the 50-yard freestyle with a time of 22.8. He beat Ray Padovan, who finished with a time of 22.8. Both men were under Padovan's old record of 23.1, set in December.

Padovan reversed the decision in the 100-freestyle by beating Epperson in the time of 51.8. The meet was marked by an oddity in that the Salukis ran into the first conference swimmer in two years that they could not beat. Vriel, Normal's backstroke beat Ron Ballatore in the medley relay and Bob Steele in the 200. Vriel's times in both races were record.

Byron Cox and Larry Assmusen both came up with their best performances of the year in the breaststroke in a losing race to Scheiber of Normal.

"Norbert Rumpel did not compete in the meet because I wanted to give the other boys a chance and they did a creditable job, despite losing," commented Casey.

Indianapolis Athletic Club features George Green, who holds the Olympic record in the 1500 meters free style and holds the record in the Pan-American 400-meter champions.

The club is made up of college and high school boys and they never know who they will have to compete. Dennis O'Neill, Dick Williams and Albie Burk are other top boys for the athletic summer.

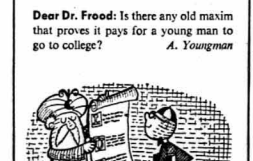

SIU scoring—Lentfer 20, Barty 13, Newton 13, Spill 17, Henson 6, Eastern—Spill 18, Roland 11, Helweger 8, Wick 9, Wagner 2, Helwinger 2, White 4.

LUCKY STRIKE presents

Dear Dr. Frood:

SUBLIMINAL? FROOD PLEADS NOT GUILTY

Dear Dr. Frood: Is there any old maxim that proves it pays for a young man to go to college? A. Youngman

Dear Sturgis: You could still be black-balled by the Book-of-the-Month Club.

Dear Dr. Frood: Presumably college is a time of intellectual ferment... a period of curiosity and discontent preceding a man's plunge into commercialism and the material life. Why must this inquiry after lofty truths suddenly give way to crass financial motives? Ibid

Dear Yungman: "Let us collect knowledge young. Soon thou respect intelligence kings envy." (See previous question).

Dear Ibid: It's the children. All they seem to care about is food, food, food.

Dear Dr. Frood: I've been kicked out of college, rejected by the Army, divorced by my wife, disinherited by my father, and fired from my job. What is there left for me? Sturgis

Dear Dink: Makes good sense, Friend Dink. Will give it a go. Now, old bean, as for that part of your letter you asked me not to print. Don't be afraid of girls. Sure you stammer and choke and blush. But just walk right up and announce, "Hi, I'm Dink, and I think you're swell." Skool.

Dear Dr. Frood: I am a skin diver. Is it possible to enjoy a Lucky under water? Jules

Dear Jules: Certainly. You may have a little trouble lighting the match, however.

Dear Dr. Frood: Every now and then you sneak a plug for Luckies into your answers. Is this subliminal advertising? Psych Major

Dear Psych: No, sir. Subliminal advertising is much less obvious. For example, Notice what the first letters of all the words in the next answer spell.

CONFERENCE RACE AT A GLANCE
It's an early race—all they have to do is claim it.

Southern's first basketball title in 33 years that's right, not since the 1936-37 season costs only the least to do it up but that's a big thing.

Harty Gallatin's crew received a big boost last weekend when the Huskies of Northern Illinois turned the trick against Western Illinois, 30-24, at DeKalb. Western has been right behind Southern since with only one loss.

Here's how the conference looks after last weekend:

Southern	W 1
Western	L 2
Northern	L 3
Eastern Ill.	L 4
Ill. Normal	L 5
Central Mich.	L 6
Eastern Mich.	L 7

The big thing to remember is that the title is anything but elusive. Possibly, the three toughest games of the season remain for Gallatin's troops.

It makes me shudder when I think of how many conference titles Southern has thrown in the past couple of years. For instance, last winter the Salukis needed a victory at Eastern Illinois late in the season to clinch at least a tie for the title. They were defeated by two points after missing four free throws in the last half minute. Earlier in the season, the Huskies defeated Western Illinois, but later had to forfeit the game because they used an ineligible player. That also would have meant the title.

In football two seasons ago (1968), the Salukis needed only a victory in their final game of the season against sixth place Northern Illinois for at least a tie for the title, but lost a very decisive decision.

It seems as if Southern finds a new way to lose championships every year, so, this race is far from over.

This weekend, Southern meets Northern Illinois. Northern is the only conference foe to knock off the Salukis this season. The Huskies also tripped Western Saturday night.

The following weekend, Feb. 20 and 27, Gallatin and his troops are at Western Illinois and Illinois Normal in two contests that will undoubtedly decide the title.

Western Has Five

Western on the other hand has five remaining IAC games. Next weekend, the Leathernecks play at Central Michigan Friday night and at Eastern Michigan Saturday night. Central, and Eastern for that matter, can be real rough at home. Central lost to Southern by only four points on their home court and defeated Northern Illinois. Western has turned back Central earlier this season, by one point at Macomb.

Northern is still in the race. After playing here Saturday night and at Eastern Illinois Friday night, they still have to play Eastern Illinois at home.

Charlie Vaughn has received a tremendous amount of publicity and pats on the back this season, and probably the majority of them have been deserved. However, two other guys have been doing a great job lately without too much fanfare. Without them, Southern wouldn't be where they are in the conference.

Don Hepler and Tom McGrath have joined in great performances most of the season, but have been especially outstanding in the past six games.

In all six of those games, Hepler and McGrath have hit the double figure mark offensively, and have been standouts on the boards. Hepler, in his last six games, has scored 26, 19, 10, 21, 14 and 22 for 110 points (18.6 per game). McGrath has tallied 18, 15, 14, 17, 20 and 14 for 96 points (16 points per game).

Rebounding, Hepler has led the parade since Vaughn was moved to guard. For instance, last weekend, Don pulled down 20 rebounds in the two games. McGrath grabbed 17. A truly great job.

Speaking of publicity on Vaughn—there's more. Charlie, deft master of the fall-away jump shot, needs only about 15 points a game for here on in to set another single season basketball scoring record.

Vaughn set the record last season as a freshman as he pumped in 620 points. In 21 games this winter, he has notched 540 points. Southern has five regular games remaining.

Vaughn also holds SIU's single game high of 43 points. He set it last December in an 89-64 win over national champion Tennessee A&I in the semi-finals of the Quincy Holiday Tourney.

Charlie plays center and guard at the same time. He jumps center on the tip-offs opening the halves and is always going against boys at least three to four inches taller than he is and sometimes up to eight inches.

"It really doesn't make much difference where I play Charlie," Harty Gallatin said. "He can find the range from any spot on the floor."

Last Friday in this column, Iowa's gymnastic coach, Dick Holzapfel, was quoted from a wire story as saying that gymnastics could never get big because it did not have a dollar sign attached to it.

Saluki coach Bill Meade, said Sunday, commenting on the article, that he simply "couldn't agree" with some of the things the Iowa mentor said. "I think the sport is getting pretty popular," said Meade. "We sure have good crowds for our meets here. We had a good crowd at Lewis." (Southern lost to Iowa Jan. 30.)

Meade said Holzapfel may have been thinking in terms of crowds of 10,000-15,000 when he said it would never get big.

We both agreed that the fact that no one can get rich selling high bars and mats has little or nothing to do with the spectator interest.

"I think the kids here have been very good to us," Meade stated, "that always appreciate a good performance and applaud regardless of what team turns it in."

Dogs Score Two Pins

Grapplers Brush Off Normal's Birds

The Saluki wrestlers took 9 of 10 matches from Illinois State Normal to post the Redbirds, 5-3, Saturday afternoon in an IAC meet at Men's Gym.

SIU's Jim Bledsoe and Houston Antwine scored the only falls in the meet. Bledsoe flattened Mike Emerson in the 126-pound bout in 1:28 of the second period to gain his fourth victory of the season and his third pin. Antwine disposed of ISNU's Gordon Graves in 2:48 of the second period for his third win against two losses and a draw.

Bob Spicer, State's stellar performer, extended his winning streak to 23 with a 4-0 conquest of Larry Meyer in the 167-pound class to account for the visitors' only scoring in the meet. Spicer lost his first match of the season on a referee's decision in overtime.

Dick Frankenberger and Jack

Crider racked up their eight victories to share the team lead in Normal to post the Redbirds, 5-3, Saturday afternoon in an IAC meet at Men's Gym.

SIU's Jim Bledsoe and Houston Antwine scored the only falls in the meet. Bledsoe flattened Mike Emerson in the 126-pound bout in 1:28 of the second period to gain his fourth victory of the season and his third pin. Antwine disposed of ISNU's Gordon Graves in 2:48 of the second period for his third win against two losses and a draw.

Dick Frankenberger and Jack

The Salukis will wrestle in the Western Invitational Tournament Friday and Saturday and will not have a home meet until Feb. 27.

The results:
115- Izzy Ramos (S) beat Ron Williams, 3-0.
126- Chico Coniglio (S) beat Ken Weaver, 6-1.
130 - Jim Bledsoe (S) pinned Mike Emerson in 4:28.
137- Dick Frankenberger (S) beat Bob Keller, 4-2.
147- Jack Crider (S) beat Reggie Weaver, 6-1.
157- Ed Lewis (S) won by forfeit over Don Lafond.
167- Bob Spicer (ISNU) beat Larry Meyer, 4-0.
177- Ken Postles (S) beat Bob Krider, 4-2.
191- Ken Houston (S) won by forfeit over Don Lafond.
Hwt.-Houston Antwine (S) pinned Gordon Graves in 5:48.

State Coach Eugene Hill was unhappy about Referee Don Ingerson's ruling on the bout. He said that Lafond got hurt because "He (Houston) had an illegal maneuver, and there was no question about it."

Southern Coach Jim Wilkinson commented about his team's only loss. "We worked to beat Spicer," he pointed out, "but not enough."

Normal No Match For Gymnasts

The Saluki gymnastic team today with Illinois State Normal, 87-21.

Bill Meade's powerhouse swept all the first place events and won all seconds but one.

Jack Wiley led the Salukis with two first place awards. Jack won the first and last events in the meet, free exercise and tumbling. Bob Kies again turned in a brilliant performance on the side horse as he scored 93 of a possible 100 points. Ed Foster, third in the NCAA last year on the still rings, presented a fine performance on his apparatus and won another first. Ed Buffum won the high-bar event while Fred Tijerina won the parallel bar competition. Hunt of Normal finished second for Normal's only first in the second place finish in the meet.

Joe Schidler rounded out Southern's robust attack with a blue ribbon performance on the trampoline.

Saturday, the Salukis entertain the University of Chicago at 2 p.m. in the Men's Gym.

"No, we didn't have too much to do," joked gym coach Bill Meade after Saturday's meet with Normal. Meade took his team to the meet, though. "We are starting to make the 'big push,'" said Meade, "we have to turn in good performances to get sharp for conference and NCAA finals."

Meade said that he "has been pleased" with the performances of the Saluki gymnasts this season. He did point out that if the squad had been a little sharper the two previous weekends against Michigan and Michigan State, they could have possibly won both.

"I'm sure we could be undefeated at the present time if we had been using some of our freshmen," stated the one-time outstanding gymnast, "but now we are over the hump as far as the NCAA is concerned." He means that since the freshmen did not compete in varsity meets this season, they will have three years of eligibility left in the NCAA competition. This is a big problem because some of his top performers will not be able to compete in the NCAA finals next year because they competed in their freshman year.

The results of the Normal meet:
Free exercise—Wiley S. Kalaskian S, Taylor S, Rounds N, Trampoline—Schidler S, Kalaskian S, Ballester N, Wiley S, Side horse—Kies S, Salmon S.

Concerning The Outdoors

By Larry Meyer

Several students attended an organizational meeting of the SIU Rifle Club Saturday at the rifle range in Old Main. Jack Phibbrick, the organization's acting director, explained the purpose of the club and the rules, which have been approved by the Office of Student Affairs.

The club is open to any student who desires to learn better shooting techniques and improve his skill in shooting. Its main purpose is to give students a chance to shoot inexpensively and under supervision.

The only weapons allowed at the range will be 22-caliber rifles with an overall length of at least 38 inches. The rifles must be registered with the Student Activities Office and stored at the arms locker in the University Police Office. They will remain under lock except during authorized firing periods or when they are being removed from the University area, and will be issued only to the range supervisor or his authorized representative. Student identification cards must be presented in order to obtain firearms.

The only ammunition allowed will be 22-caliber long rifle cartridges, and it will be stored in a separate locker in the storage room. Loaded firearms may not be taken from the storage room.

The club will follow the rules and regulations of the National Rifle Association. Students may practice target shooting Saturday at 1 p.m. at the rifle range, fourth floor of Old Main. For this week only, all students will be allowed to store rifles and ammunition off campus. Rifles which are cased or broken down and ammunition may be transported to and from campus this Saturday only. A 5-cent range fee will be charged Saturday, and shooters must provide their own ammunition. However, they may purchase cartridges in the near future at the storage center at reduced prices.

Lake Murphysboro contained approximately 1,389 largemouth bass and 7,406 redear sunfish during the spring of 1959. About 40 percent of the bass were 10 inches or more in length.

These annual statistics were compiled as part of a study conducted by Dr. William M. Lewis, Robert Summerfelt and Michael Bender of the SIU Cooperative Fish Research Laboratory. The project concerned estimating the numbers of fish in lakes by using an electric shocker and the mark-and-recovery technique.

The study was also conducted last August at Isak Walton Lake in Christopher. The estimated population showed 1,185 bass, but only 10.3 percent were of catchable size.

The mark-and-recovery technique involved capturing fish along the entire shore line (by electrical shocking), tagging or fin clipping them, releasing them, and repeating the procedure a dozen or more times.

A mathematical formula was used to compare the marked and unmarked fish recovered in a Turnbow said that once a scholarship is acquired, a student must follow through promptly in working toward fulfillment of teaching requirements.

Present holders of teacher training scholarships who have not conferred with Turnbow this year are asked to do so between Feb. 15 and Feb. 29. His office is located at 610 W. Grand Ave.

STUDENTS TO ATTEND POWER CONFERENCE

Three SIU students from the applied science department have been selected to attend the 1969 American Power Conference in Chicago March 28-31 under the sponsorship of two area companies. Stan Chesnek, Centralia senior, will be sponsored by the Central Illinois Public Service Co. Bob Goodrich, senior from Percy, and Glenn Freitag, Taylorville senior, will be sponsored by Trux-Traer Coal Co. Sponsors pay all expenses for the trip and four-day conference.

Robert Allyn, the first SIU president, served from 1874-1892.

Council Bans Greek Hazing

A condemnation of hazing in fraternities has been acclaimed by the National Interfraternity Council at a recent National interfraternity conference.

A letter to Southern's Council from Robert W. Kelly, national secretary, said the Executive Committee of the conference unanimously adopted a motion concerning hazing.

The resolution reads: "RESOLUTION NO. 1: Whereas the National Interfraternity Conference believes and stands for the strongest possible constructive development of the individual fraternity man and is dedicated to elimination of all forms of conduct which are inconsistent with this purpose, therefore be it Resolved, That the Conference reaffirms its condemnation of any and all activities of fraternity members calculated to impose embarrassment, harassment or physical or mental strain in connection with pledge training, initiation or preinitiation procedures."

"It is probable that the method will prove effective for the largemouth bass, carp and at least some of the sunfishes," Lewis stated in a written report.

In the science of modern communications, the sky is no longer the limit. No one is more aware of that than a major communications system. That's why we are constantly exploring and developing new areas of research far beyond our celestial canopy.

Take "MASER," for instance. This is a wondrous new device that can noiselessly amplify extremely weak signals from outer space.

In working to improve and simplify MASER, we are bringing closer the day of intercontinental communications via man-made satellites.

MASER devices have many possibilities, including the tracking of missiles, and increasing the range of radar and radio telescopes. This is a typical example of how we use research—not only to meet today's communications needs, but to answer tomorrow's.

Students Go To International Relations Meet

A delegation of SIU students accompanied by faculty sponsor Frank Klingberg attended the two-day Mid-West Regional Conference of International Relations Clubs at De Paul University last week.

The conference was centered on "American Foreign Policy in Asia" with addresses and discussions of Arab nationalism, British oil diplomacy and the Far East—Japan, Formosa, India, the Philippines, and Nationalist and Communist China.

Southern has participated in the conference, which includes all universities in Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin, since 1942. The 1969 conference was hosted by SIU.

Attending the meeting were Brenda Herndon, James C. Hising, Lester Margolies, Arthur Miller and John Mustoe. These students were selected for the trip by the SIU Executive Committee and approved by the Student Council.

Southern's film library of nearly 3,600 motion picture films and many additional film strips is serving the needs of more than 80 schools and adult organizations.

Quiet Session

Council Backs Move For Ban On Obscene Literature In Mail

A quiet, but lengthy, session of the Student Council Thursday night was little more than committee reports and the preparation of the annual Council budget.

The most striking of the subjects discussed was the Council's decision to back a federal government drive to obliterate obscene literature from the mails.

A local woman's club requested the Council's backing on the anti-smut program, which the group eventually gave. The postal department is currently waging battle against private companies who are using the mails to send pornographic comic books and other types of literature to children of grade and high school ages.

Agrees To Support

The Council, urged by a proposal by Senator Bill Morin, agreed to support the drive. Senator George Bricker raised the question of what the ban would cover, and Senator John Mustoe retaliated with the statement that the government would make it a "law of the land."

"It is not our job to judge,"

Mustoe said, "but only to go along with the laws."

Advisor Marc Karson of the government department gave his views on the banning of literature declaring that suppression of such things as this is a dangerous thing in the United States today.

"I'm certainly not upholding pornographic literature," he said, "but saying only that it is the government's job to decide what is to be banned and what isn't."

The Council proposed a budget increase for the fiscal year beginning July 1 which would be a $1,000 lift over the past year's operating expenses. The Council had a $4,550 budget this year, and is asking for $5,555 for next year.

The action was simply a request by the Council, and was not official. All organizations submitted budget requests, which will be examined in April.

In other Council action at the two and one-half hour meeting.

Student Body President Bob Hardwick reported that the local telephone company representative called to explain telephone rates, following an inquiry by Senator Bricker. Bricker said several Southern Hills citizens were complaining of the high prices for installation of phones.

The representative stated that a set $5 installation charge is given all "in-city" residences, plus so much per mile to those living "out of town." Southern Hills is considered out of town.

Council members said the main complaint had not been the installation charge, but the fact that the telephone company was charging "exorbitant" prices when telephone lines were already installed. Hardwick said he would rectify with the company.

Council Leader Marsha Van Cleave said she had met with most of the departmental deans concerning a joint student-faculty committee to look into curriculum changes, and all had agreed to nominate faculty members.

Hardwick suggested that a committee of six investigate the possibility of a bus system in Carbondale. The proposal was
