'Good Woman' Play Starts Tonight

Bertolt Brecht's "The Good Woman of Setzuan" opens tonight at the Southern Playhouse. Curtain time is 8 p.m.

The production will feature Naomi Riordan, a professional actress from New York, in the dual role of "Shen Te" and "Shui Ti."

The leading role is a dual part of the good woman and her bad cousin. The question of whether a person can be good in an evil world necessitates the main character's change from one to the other in order to survive.

Brecht's most famous drama, "The Good Woman of Setzuan" is one of the foremost examples of the Epic Theater which the German dramatist made famous.

The Epic theory is unique in that it is anti-illusionary, and the spectator is asked to take an objective view of society and concern himself with the problems which exist.

There are some 45 speaking parts in the play, most of them filled by students. However, several faculty members also have been cast.

Mordecai Gorelik, a research professor in theater and specialist in Epic theater, will direct the production.

The production will continue tomorrow night and again Feb. 11-13.

Another story concerning the Epic Theater appears on Page 8 of today's Egyptian.

Work Begins On Car Lot

Parking on the SIU campus was particularly difficult Thursday as motorists sadly discovered the parking lot northwest of the new arena and adjacent to the Thompson Point athletic field blocked.

The parking lot is eventually to be closed to make room for the new Technology Building Group, but not before another parking lot is constructed, as announced previously.

But workers closed the parking lot Thursday to begin groundwork for the new $3 million building.

A new blacktopped parking lot for approximately 275 cars should be under construction "immediately," says Willard Hart, SIU associate architect.

'Pop' Art Pioneers To Visit Campus

Pop artists will be popping up on campus next week.

Roy Lichtenstein, a youthful pioneer in the field of so-called "pop" art, and Allan Kaprow, who has gained fame for his "Happenings," will be here to lecture and work with SIU art students.

According to Bruce Breland, associate professor of art, Lichtenstein will arrive Monday and remain through Friday. He will be joined by Kaprow on Wednesday. Kaprow will remain through Sunday.

Lichtenstein, whose paintings of blown up comic strips are among the most controversial in art today, will work with graduate students on various projects.

He and Kaprow will work with SIU art and drama students on an artistic production involving objects, sounds, smells and movements called a "Happening."

Times and place of the event will be announced later.

150-200 Peace Corps Volunteers Sought at SIU

A total of 150 to 200 SIU applicants for the Peace Corps is the target next week for a Peace Corps recruiting team.

This was outlined Thursday by Jim Gibson, assistant director of recruiting from the Washington headquarters.

Sunday, he will be joined by four other members of a Peace Corps team who will be on campus all week to explain the opportunities for service. A highlight of the week will be the appearance of Peace Corps Director R. Sargent Shriver

Crisis in Red China Within Next 10 Years Predicted by News Analyst Dwight Cooke

A crisis with Red China in the next 10 years is imminent, news analyst Dwight Cooke said here yesterday.

Cooke told two somewhat awed Freshman Convocation audiences that the crisis couldn't be avoided because of Red China's "growing population, growing military power and the greatest hate campaign in history."

"And in this campaign we're the enemy--the only enemy," Cooke emphasized.

Despite the threat from Red China, Cooke said he saw no great danger of a nuclear war.

"Since it would be mass suicide, no one will attempt it," he said.

Cooke, in his candid, almost cryptic style, dismissed the Russian influences with:

"Russia's big threat is in this year's Winter Olympics." They are not going to get any stronger or any more dangerous than they already are."

Cooke, a journalist and correspondent who spends half his time touring the world gathering data for his lectures and books, recounted scenes of poverty he had witnessed around the world.

"Can you argue Democratic systems with a woman who must rent a dead baby to use as a pawn in her begging?" he asked the startled audience.

Warning that the current trend to cut back foreign aid is dangerous, Cooke said:

"If we don't change our present attitude toward foreign aid, there's not going to be a tomorrow for any of us to worry about."

Corps; and two returned volunteers, Pat McDermot and Mary Clare Cahill.

They will be stationed at an information booth in the Student Activities Office at the University Center and will be available to answer questions and to explain about the aptitude tests. Literature and application forms will be available, and any SIU student who fills out a form can take the Peace Corps placement test.

These will be administered three times per day, Monday through Friday, at 12:45 p.m., 4 p.m., and 7 p.m., Gibson said. The tests will also be given at 8:30 a.m. Saturday.

The test takes about 1 1/2 hours, he added.

He expressed the hope that 150 to 200 SIU students would apply to take the test.

"There are tremendous opportunities in the Peace Corps, especially for college graduates," he declared. Service in the Corps "is like a post-graduate course you

Sisco Must Stay in Capital; Model U.N. to Hear Phillips

The crisis in Cyprus has resulted in a change in speakers at tonight's Model United Nations General Assembly session at SIU.

Joseph J. Sisco, deputy assistant secretary of state for international organization affairs, had been scheduled to speak tonight. However, he notified SIU officials he must

Full-Time Rank For SIU Is 23rd

SIU has become the nation's 23rd largest institution of higher learning in terms of full-time student enrollment.

According to the Walters Report, a compilation of nationwide college enrollments published annually, SIU moved up five positions in full-time student rankings from last year.

Southern now has 18,247 students on both the Carbondale and Edwardsville campuses.

The report places SIU 33rd in the nation in total enrollment, including students taking only night, Saturday and extension classes. This spot is the same as last year.

The SIU fall term enrollment was a 12.1 per cent increase over last year.

remain in Washington because of the Cyprus problem.

His substitute will be Paul Phillips, public relations officer of the State Department's Bureau of International Organization Affairs.

He will be the main speaker at 8 p.m. in the University Center Ballroom, and will be guest at a reception at the Morris Library Lounge from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m.

Kicking off the model assembly is the first plenary session scheduled for 1:30 p.m. today. It will be followed by committee meetings.

The 250 delegates, operating in four major committees, will draft resolutions covering the United Nations' stand on critical issues.

Topics to be discussed and considered include nuclear

Summer Tour of Mexico Offers Course Credit for Students

More than 20 students are expected to register for the ninth annual SIU summer tour of Mexico, A. W. Bork, director of SIU's Latin American Institute, has announced.

The tour, starting June 12, will center on Mexico City and offer five weeks of accredited courses in Spanish language, history, culture and economics at the University of the Americas, Travel on weekends, and for two full weeks before returning to SIU, will be conducted by J. A. LaFontaine of Southern's foreign language staff.

Previous summers were spent at the Guanajuato State University. The Mexico City university will provide a wider selection of fully accredited courses than the Guanajuato university, Bork said.

A minimum of one year of Spanish language at the college level, or two years at the high school level are prerequisite for the trip, Bork said.

Home Ec Seminar Lists Four Speakers

The Clothing and Textiles-570 Seminar will be held in Room 133 of the Home Economics Building from 10:45 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. Saturday.

Presentations in the seminar are centered around research in Home Economics at SIU. Guest speakers will include representatives from four departments:

Lucy Stewart; Clothing and Textiles, "Overestimation of Vertical and Horizontal Dimensions,"

Dawna Torres; Food and Nutrition "Recent research."

George Carpenter; Home and Family "Using Visual Aids in Family Counseling."

Dorothy Keenan; Home Ec Education "Value Patterns in High School Students."

Students and staff members are invited.

2 From Technology School Contribute to Safety Book

Two members of the SIU School of Technology faculty were among major contributors to a new safety manual for school shop teachers, the first of its kind.

Marvin E. Johnson and Wayne S. Ramp, both assistant professors in the SIU industrial education department, are co-authors of a section of the book, "Accident Prevention Manual for Shop Teachers," published by the National Association of Industrial Teacher Educators.

Their section is titled, "Planning and Maintaining a Safe Environment for Shop Students," and includes outlines and illustrations of safety practices used in shops at Southern.

Johnson, who holds a Ph.D. degree from the University of Missouri, served as chairman of the planning committee for SIU's first annual Industrial Safety Conference in 1961, and currently teaches a graduate course in industrial safety.

Ramp is a former Sreator high school teacher who received his Ph. D. degree from Bradley University. He is current president of the Illinois Industrial Education Association.

Johnson is a native of Albia, and Ramp is originally from Williamsfield.

Honor Freshmen Invited for Tea

Phi Eta Sigma and Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman scholastic honoraries, will hold a tea at the home of President and Mrs. Delyte W. Morris at 3 p.m. Sunday.

All prospective and present members have been invited to attend.

Training Program Here Praised by U.S. Department

An apprentice training program for members of Plumbers and Pipefitters Local Union 160, Murphysboro, carried on for more than 10 years in cooperation with SIU, has been picked as the outstanding program in his region by Wilbur G. Rusch, Alton, field representative for the U.S. Department of Labor Bureau of Apprenticeship and Training.

William Held, Murphysboro, business representative for Local 160, says this training started in the early 1950's with the help of the SIU Division of Technical and Adult Education under Dean E.J. Simon. The object was better-trained plumbers and pipefitters for work in the area. The union's joint apprenticeship committee worked with Southern on the program. Adult classes were established at the University's Vocational Technical Institute.

More recently, with the help of John McDermott, director of the SIU Labor Institute, and Simon, the program was expanded to include training for both journeymen and apprentices.

3rd International Night Saturday

The third annual International Night will begin at 7 p.m. Saturday in the University Center Ballroom. The program will feature an international coffee house, displays of artifacts and talent from various nations by international students attending Southern Illinois University.

The International Stage Show will be held at 8 p.m. Saturday in the Ballroom of the University Center, and again at 9:30 p.m. in the Roman Room of the University Center. On Sunday the Stage Show will be at 3 and 7:30 p.m. in the Ballroom of the University Center.

All are invited to attend the Stage Show, sip coffee at the International Coffee House, and view the displays.

- ENGLISH DIALOG -

A beautiful film, more than a year in the making, this is the gentle story of a Mexican boy and the animals and birds he loves. Chico is a Mexican preon about twelve years old whose only playmates are the animals around him. One day his favorite pet, a road-runner, drives off a snake about to strike the sleeping Chico. A most unusual film both in content and technique. Especially fine for children, but adults will be equally fascinated.

FAA Air Control Will Be Discussed At Flying Club

A two-man briefing team from Lambert Field in St. Louis will discuss air traffic control, tower operations and show movies at the Saluki Flying Club meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

Speaking to the group will be Ralph K. Murkin, training officer at the St. Louis Tower, and John W. Blizzard, watch supervisor.

Murkin joined the FAA in 1946 as an assistant controller. He has been a tower training officer for four years and previously was both a journeyman controller and a watch supervisor.

Blizzard has been in the aviation field since 1941 and has served as a journeyman controller.

The session will be held in the Agriculture Building Seminar Room.

THE WAY TO A MAN'S HEART IS STILL THROUGH HIS STOMACH

Males' Defenses Probed

Food Gets High Marks as Leap Year Lure

The way to a man's heart still is through his stomach via the steak, potatoes and vegetables route.

Those are the words of advice to girls hoping to take advantage of leap year. They are from Anna L. Smith, professor of foods and nutrition.

"Men still enjoy eating," she said.

And to prove her point, she has handy the results of research she has done on what college students eat.

"I found that you can feed the male students steaks, potatoes and vegetables without having them tire of them," she said.

She added that her observations indicate that the male students like cake but most of them seem to prefer pie for dessert.

"When a man gets interested in food, he is a 'discriminating epicurian,'" she remarked.

She believes that a man likes to experiment with food. She pointed out how the outdoor barbecue brings the man to the foreground.

"This is where they really like to shine," she said.

"Today there is more food for more people due to science and research," she continued. "People who love to eat can enjoy much more in their diet today than they could in past years."

But she admitted that some people need to be helped when it comes to making a better selection of food.

The question "Do you think that we will be taking pills in the future in place of food?" brought an emphatic "No, I don't" from Professor Smith. "The American people like to eat."

She told of doctors who like to cook food simply for relaxation and pleasure. She added that the superintendents at Anna State Hospital said that food helps a person who is disturbed.

New SIU Electronic 'Reader' Will Scan 5,000 Cards Hourly

An electronic optical scanner which reads coded information at a rate of some 5,000 sheets an hour and feeds data directly into a computer has been ordered by SIU.

John W. Hamblen, director of the SIU Data Processing and Computing Center, said the machine will "close the loop" so far as handling coded copy is concerned in the University's data processing system.

Operating on an infra-red principle, the scanner will make it possible to record such information as student admission data, test results, personnel information, payroll changes, inventories and many others simply by marking keyed sheets.

Hamblen said it is possible for a data sheet to contain up to 7,000 bits of information, with the scanner able to read both sides of a sheet at once.

Without a scanner, the same information must be punched into cards before it is fed into a computer.

"One of our major problems in the future will be to maintain 'current' data files," Hamblen said. "The scanner will make it possible to print information in a file from coded sheets, review and re-code it, then re-enter it directly through the scanner to update the file. We can't even estimate the value of this yet, because we've never been able to do it."

The scanner, called DOCUTRAN, is being built for SIU by the Measurement Research Center, Iowa City, Iowa. Installation is expected early next year.

Martire Attends Chicago Meeting

John G. Martire, associate psychology professor at SIU, is attending a symposium on clinical internship training at the Northwestern University Medical School, Chicago, today.

Among other things, the meeting will include consideration of fellowship programs and philosophies of clinical training in psychology. Martire is clinical training director in the SIU department.

Cuba Cuts Guantanamo Water In Retaliation for Fishing Arrests

WASHINGTON--The Castro government of Cuba officially notified the United States Thursday it was cutting off water to the Guantanamo Naval Base and the cutoff will last until the United States releases 36 Cuban fishermen held in this country.

A note was delivered to the State Department through the Swiss Embassy, Switzerland looks after U.S. interests in Havana because there are no diplomatic relations between Havana and Washington.

In Key West, the Cubans appeared in Criminal Court Thursday, prior to word of the Cuban government's halting of water service, on charges of violating a Florida fishing law and Judge Thomas A. Caro released seven of them because they were under 17 years of age.

The remaining 29 said they would ask the Czechoslovakian government to provide them with legal representation.

The 36, and two others who subsequently asked for political asylum in the United States, made up the crews of four fishing trawlers seized by the Coast Guard. The Coast

Russia Says U.S. Tries to Start War

MOSCOW -- The Soviet Union stated Thursday night that the seizure of Cuban fishing vessels by the United States could have "disastrous consequences."

The declaration came a few hours after Washington announced that Cuba had cut off water supplies to the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo as retaliation for the seizure.

The Kremlin stepped into the dispute by releasing ahead of time a special article that will appear in today's edition of Pravda, the Communist party newspaper.

The article charged that "wild men" in the United States are attempting to start war with Cuba.

It quoted a Cuban exile leader as saying: "This year we shall be fighting on Cuban soil."

Pravda declared: "The anti-Cuban policy which the rabid reactionaries are trying to impose on the United States may lead to disastrous consequences and is doomed to inevitable failure."

Gus Bode...

Gus says he is saving his cigarette coupons to pay the premium on his life insurance policy.

Guard said they were fishing inside U.S. territorial waters. The Cuban government denied that.

The men were turned over to Florida after it was determined there is not federal penalty for what they did.

There are about 10,500 military and civilian personnel and dependents on the base

Beckwith Case Goes to Jury

JACKSON, Miss. -- The murder case against Byron De La Beckwith was handed to an all-white circuit jury Thursday.

In final arguments the prosecution said Beckwith, 43, killed Medgar Evers, a Negro civil rights leader, "with no more compunction than he

13 Cypriots Dead In New Violence

NICOSIA, Cyprus -- Greek Cypriot police overran and burned a Turkish village near Nicosia Thursday in the worst outbreak of violence on this divided island since the bloody clashes of last December.

At least seven Turks and four Greeks were killed in the fighting at Ayios Sozomenos, 10 miles south of Nicosia, the reports from the scene said.

The attack came after Turkish Cypriots ambushed a party of Greek Cypriots near the village of Athienou, 15 miles south of Nicosia, killing two and wounding three.

British troops, trying to keep the lid on the communal fighting, were rushed to the area.

Injunction Expected Today In Notasulga School Crisis

TUSKEGEE, Ala. -- The mayor of Notasulga, Ala., who turned away six Negroes from a white school Wednesday, said he will abide by a court order if an injunction is issued prohibiting him from interfering with their enrollment.

Mayor James Rea said Thursday he had no intention of defying any court order after he was served with a summons to appear today before a federal judge at an injunction hearing.

He explained again that he barred the Negroes Wednesday from Notasulga High because admitting them would have over-crowded the school building in violation of a 10-day-old fire safety ordinance.

Rea has been ordered to appear at 10 a.m. today before U.S. District Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr., who already had directed that the six Negroes be admitted to Notasulga because of a school closing at Tuskegee.

"Frankly, I still feel our ordinance is valid," Rea said.

The department said the Guantanamo base has millions of gallons of water in reserve.

The United States holds the base under a no-time-limit treaty and pays $3,000 a year rental to Cuba.

The fertilizer salesman from Greenwood was charged with shooting Evers in the back with a high-powered rifle. Evers was state field secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Hardy Lott of Greenwood, chief defense attorney, implied there was a conspiracy to railroad Beckwith to the gas chamber.

"Do you think I would have been safe to go to his jail cell and ask him about witnesses?" he asked the all-white jury. "That jail cell might have been bugged."

Beckwith testified Wednesday that his rifle was stolen the day before Evers was slain.

Viet Cong Guerrillas Launch New Attacks

SAIGON, South Viet Nam-- Communist guerrillas struck their hardest blows against U.S.-backed Vietnamese government forces Thursday since a Saigon coup deposed the old military junta Jan. 30.

Major onslaughts were staged in battalion strength south and northwest of the capital.

The ordinance adopted Jan. 27 by the City Council prohibits filling public buildings beyond a capacity to be determined by the fire safety inspector--Rea.

Infantry units reportedly were placed on alert at Ft. Benning, Ga., for possible use in Alabama's latest integration crisis.

Elements of the 2nd Infantry Division and the 11th Air Assault Group were alerted Wednesday for movement into east Alabama within 30 minutes, sources at Columbus, Ga., said.

From "Huh?" to "Goo-goo."

Has the student newspaper been reduced to something in which to wrap the garbage or, in a pinch, to substitute for toilet paper? This was the impression gained after a week of asking, "What do you think of ka?" Answers ranged from, "Huh? What's that, a new fruit?" to the more enlightened, "Goo-goo." Some merely looked as if Count Dracula had approached them and asked for donations to the Transylvanian Blood Bank.

ka is an attempt to bring SIU an independent newspaper which will complement the matter-of-fact, presentation of news in The Egyptian.

It appears within The Egyptian because it is 1) economically feasible, and 2) serving a complementary function.

The staff of ka, aside from its editors and a few needed reporters, is the student body, the faculty and any other interested individuals. ka is your paper. Its purpose is to express your opinions. You can make it your voice or you can destroy it with your usual apathy. ka cannot print what it does not receive. Expression cannot be printed unless it is submitted. If you let ka die, you destroy your chance to have a paper openly dedicated to the expression of your opinion.

Policies of ka are the responsibility of the editors. Statements published here do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the administration or any department of the University.
Editor, Micki Coldfeather; Managing Editor, Bob Drinen.
Faculty Adviser K.D. Frandsen

Some of it is ridiculous...

Yes, Karyn, there really is a ka. These are the opinions of people who have read it:

Jerry Henderson, senior from Karnak: "The writing is good, better than the regular Egyptian. It is written in good taste and the selection is excellent. Let's see more!" John Huck, junior from Chicago: "Some of the articles express the first undiluted glimmerings of student protest."

John Parker, sophomore from Edwardsville: "Fine to have it but some of it is ridiculous and isn't what I thought it would be."

Earl Glosser, counselor, Office of Student Affairs: "I like to see students express themselves in a responsible fashion. It has good balance, I hope that it will continue." Kenneth Ray, sophomore from Zion: "There should be a vehicle that gives form or direction to the apathy that has formed on this campus. If ka is that vehicle, then I'm all for it."

Sharon Yates, freshman from Kimmunity: "Adds enjoyment to your day."

Mary Randolph, senior from Springfield: "As it stands it certainly needs improvement."

Jim Larson, freshman from Frankfort: "I enjoy it, but occasionally fail to comprehend the content of the articles because they appear to be directed over the heads of the majority of the students."

Sharon Anderson, sophomore from Geneva: "I like ka very much. So far the publications are representative of interested SIU students interested in the life around them, not simply academic studies. I especially enjoyed the poems."

Phil Beers, senior from Mt. Carmel: "I don't think that the editorial page should be sacrificed for a page of modern poetry and far-out articles. I feel the students need the editorials for information."

Dwanah Williams, freshman from Denver, Colorado: "The fable was good, but it beat around the bush. We need more solid, overt action. Why don't they come right out and say it?"

Sherry Nickell
Gene E. Nelson

Suggestions, Anyone?

In an effort to find student opinion in its most natural form, the editors of ka asked a friend to raid the suggestion box at the University Center Information desk. Suggestions are read, discussed, and forwarded by the Programming Board to departments which could best carry them out. Some of them contain a natural humor which merits reproduction. Here are the genuine, unsalted, unedited ideas from the student body-at-large:

"Put Webster Dictionary in Magnolia lounge!"

"There should be a dance lounge in the Union. Complete with coke machine, coke machine, coke machine, and juke box."

"I think there should also be a boy working at the Information desk."

"Serve coffee with warm milk in the Oasis -- i.e. cafe-au-lait, or cafe au leche. This might appeal particularly to South American students, since it is drunken there."

"Why have a separate day for program changes when those who have not pre-registered have the priority over those with program changes even when those with program changes have been waiting for more than four hours, or perhaps even two days. When the people who did not pre-register had the same advantage to register as the people who need to have program changes, why should they be allowed to go before us on the day of program change (?)"

What to do with ka.

The first thing you can do with ka is...read it. It appears every Friday on page six of The Egyptian. The second thing you can do is help us, and, at the same time, help yourself. If you have anything to say, write it down and submit it to ka, care of the Activities Office in the Center.

Letters to ka

ka: In your last issue you printed a letter of mine which "panned" the architects of the Wham Building. I wish to retract and revise the statement and its implications.

The Wham Building is not to be blamed on the builders or architects. No other building or facility on this or probably any other campus is entirely the fault of poor planning by these gentlemen. The responsibility rests on the persons, panel or Board of a University to whom the economic factor is more important than the human factor. Architects are but artisans (bad or good) who attempt to "sell" their skills. The final decisions rest upon a nameless, faceless group of people whose concern is only the appearance (whether or not "it" will fit in the University plan), and the price, rather than the function of the building. Its function should be to serve people and, believe it or not, students are people.

Notes on Apathy

by Bob Allinson

Currently it has been the rage to inveigh against that scourge of the college landscape, apathy. It appears as if we are dealing with a strange creature, for even those who recognize the demon lurking in their own breasts pay it no heed. In much the same fashion, smokers readily acknowledge that they may be courting death but, nevertheless, continue on their merry chase.

All that previous critics of apathy (I was almost minded to say 'apathetic critics') have been able to discover is: "People are apathetic because they do not care." The guiding assumption of the critics has been that if people did care (about government, for instance), they would do something about it (i.e., go to the polls on election day). Assuredly, these critics have caught sight of the problem, but missed the main question: "Why is it that people do not care?"

It seems to me that the reason stems from a curious, often unconsciously held view of human nature that is grossly outdated. This view closely corresponds to the 17th century view of nature wherein a body is thought to be naturally inert, and to become active only when another body is unkind enough to disturb the natural inertness. This mechanistic view of nature transfers to the realm of human events wherein the human being is held to be solely a re-active organism, incapable of creating movement in and of itself.

Now, if people will take the trouble to acquaint themselves with the modern conceptions of how people act, they might find that they would rather enjoy their new status. No longer need they think of themselves as mere sponges of experience, reacting only when squeezed, but, rather, as creative centers of action. If people realize that they are capable of creative action (action not caused by external forces), then very probably they will begin to utilize their creative potentialities.

An oft heard reply to the question, "Why don't you vote?" is, "What difference would one vote make?" It would seem then, that people are unaware of their status as creative agents; but, see themselves and others as tiny cotter pins in the huge machine of the world. And, after all, what difference does one more or one less cotter pin actually make in the scheme of things?

The fact of the matter is that people are not mere cotter pins, passively holding together the machine of the world; rather, they are, or more accurately, could be, initiating causes in a world that does not in the least resemble a machine. The reason, then, that people are apathetic is that they do not realize their potential for initiating change. When people formulate new conceptions of their role as human beings, then and only then will they cease to be apathetic and begin to act.

The Senator Speaks...

To the students in Communications:

People in the School of Communications may have been wondering what their representative has been doing on Student Council. I was a member of the committee that helped make ka a reality. I supported the Health Service Referendum and spoke against NSA. There is one item before the Student Council that is of special interest to the students in Communications... the student oriented, campus radio station. As you probably know, WSIU is an area FM radio service. Many students want an AM radio station that will cater to the SIU students' needs and wants. I would like to know how you feel about this matter. Are you for or against this proposal? Do you have suggestions or questions pertinent to its operation and/or programming? As your representative I would like to hear from you regarding this or any other issue that concerns the campus. Just write to me in care of the Student Government Office. Thank you.

The Rat-See Tail

by Walt Dismally

Once upon a time, in a land called Silly-U, there was a club called RAT-SEE. This club was the delight of Silly University's freshmen and sophomores. It was a recognized chapter of the National Organization of Mickey Mouse Clubs and acted accordingly.

The members played games like "Who Can Pass Out on the Field" and "Step on the Next Man's Heels" and "Fallen Arches." They also went to highly valuable movies which put the Mouseketeers right to sleep. This is very beneficial, almost as beneficial as the classes where Big Mouseketeers instructed them in how to kill their neighbors with nuclear bombs and chemical bacterial warfare. Membership also entailed wearing cute uniforms whose pants were made just like the sails of a pirate ship, and fit like it.

The students enjoyed immensely missing one to three class hours a week that would otherwise have been wasted working on a major or getting an education. That they enjoyed it immensely was proved by the fact that droves of them rushed to sign up for the "Advanced" group.

Yes, it was a good club as Mickey Mouse Clubs go, and every Tuesday morning, as the boys passed 1008 Stompsom Street, they could hear someone humming. "Come along and sing a song and join our family -- M-I-C... K-E-Y...M-O-U-S-E-F!"

SALUKI ROADBLOCK - SIU's wrestlers will find Dewayne Schroeder, Colorado School of Mines heavyweight, a formidable roadblock in the meet Saturday at Golden, Colorado.

Saluki Wrestlers to Compete In 4-Way Colorado Contest

Coach Jim Wilkinson's once-defeated matmen will travel to Golden, Colo., Saturday to compete in a quadrangular meet with Western State (Colo.) College, Colorado School of Mines and Moorhead (Minn.) State College.

The Saluki wrestling squad, but-grappled 27-7 by mighty Oklahoma State in its last meet, will have its hands full Saturday.

Western State, defending NCAA College Division wrestling champions and one of the best small college mat teams

SIU Gymnasts Face Ball State

Southern's gymnasts will visit a Ball State College team tonight at Muncie, Ind. The Hoosiers haven't won a meet in nine outings this year.

The Salukis should have little trouble in gaining their 72nd straight dual meet victory against the Cardinals but might have a tougher time when they face Ohio State in Columbus tomorrow afternoon.

The Salukis should, however, come home with two more victories to their credit after the weekend.

In losing nine consecutive meets the Cards were trounced by Indiana and Chicago Illini. The Salukis beat Navy Pier 77-29, Mankato State also thumped the Redbirds, 83-29. SIU beat the Minnesotans, 64-47 but without the services of their all-around threat, cocaptain Rusty Mitchell and John Probeck.

Both Mitchell and Probeck will be back in the Saluki lineup tonight against the Cardinals.

7-Game Winning Streak

Salukis to Play Ohio Central At 8 Tonight in Men's Gym

Hoping to keep alive a seven-game winning streak, Southern's cagers will have their work cut out for them when they play a tough Ohio Central outfit at 8 o'clock tonight in the Men's Gym.

Tonight's encounter with the Marauders originally was slated for Carbondale's Bowen Gym, but was switched back to the campus gym.

The Salukis edged the Marauders last year 74-69 but the Ohio quintet has a stronger club this year despite the loss of last year's high scorer, Jerry Cummings.

Ken Wilburn, who scored 13 points in last year's meeting with SIU -- Cummings tallied 16 to lead the Marauders -- is Ohio Central's leading scorer this year with a 16-point average.

The Marauders, who received some votes in this week's AP-College Division poll, have knocked off Xavier (Ohio) and Tennessee State this year.

The Marauders beat Xavier, who have a good major college team this year, on the Musketiers home court by seven points. Tennessee A&I, who split with the Salukis this season, fell to the Marauders in a Mid-Western Athletic Association conference game.

The Salukis, who turned in one of their most gratifying performances against the Tigers Monday night, probably will be going with the same starting lineup against the Marauders.

Cocaptain Joe Ramsey, who had the best night of his career against A&I with 26 points, lifted his season's average to 14.8 on 252 points.

Paul Henry, who suffered an ankle sprain in Monday night's game, might not be ready to start tonight. If he doesn't get the OK from Doc Spackman, coach Jack Hartman will have to go with veteran Eldon Bigham and soph Dave Lee in the backline.

KEN WILBURN

Lloyd Stovall, who turned in a fine performance against the Tigers, will get the nod at center. The fifth spot probably will go to Duane Warning who won back his forward spot over Randy Goin Monday night. Goin did not see much action in that one but probably will get more work tonight.

Coach W.C. Lucas will most likely go with 6-5 1/2 Wilburn at the center post with Jerry Tiltman, 6-4 1/2 and Vaughn Graham 6-3 at the forwards.

John Marsh, 6-2 1/2 and Ted Day, 6-0 will be in the backcourt for the Marauders.

The Salukis will travel to Evansville after tonight's game to meet the No. 1-ranked (AP-College Division) Purple Aces tomorrow night.

A good game is on tap in the 5:45 preliminary when the Saluki frosh go after Murray State, who nipped the Salukis last week in overtime.

He said this has been at some expense to his personal life, "but the Peace Corps is one of the finest things this country has done. I love the work," he declared.

City Council Defers SIU Rezoning Request

An SIU request for rezoning of a large land area to be acquired in the future was deferred until further study at Wednesday's meeting of the Carbondale City Plan Commission.

William Burns of the City Conservation Board asked to halt action until additional inquiries concerning the effect of rezoning on urban renewal can be made by the City Council and the Conservation Board.

The area that SIU has requested to be rezoned is bounded by Grand and Illinois Avenues and Freeman and Wall Streets. The university has stated that the rezoning action will not adversely affect property values in that area.

A proposal to hire professional planners to assist in solving the problems connected with the growth of the university and Carbondale was made by Hans Fischer, a local attorney.

Fischer noted that planning problems will continue to grow in complexity and said that the Plan Commission is not equipped to handle the situation alone. Professional people, he added, would aid in co-ordination of planning.

In other action, the commission appointed committee chairmen and members for the coming year. Heading the Zoning Committee is William McBride, last year's chairman of the Plan Commission. Charles Clayton will chair the committee for Urban Renewal.

Other committees and chairmen are: Sub-Division Regulations, Hans Fischer; Master Plan and Review, Mrs. W. B. Schneider; Capital Improvements, Robert McGrath; Regional Development Liaison Committee, Kenneth Miller; Mobile Homes Park Study, Archie Jones; Traffic, Street and Parking committee, Bob Merz and the At-large Committee with Kenneth Miller as chairman.

A brief public hearing was held before the meeting concerning a request by the Cherry Construction Co. to build a dormitory on Rawlings St. about two blocks from campus.

A representative from the company read a letter asking for permission to build the dorm. There was no opposition and the request was later approved at the Plan Commission meeting.

McBride conducted the meeting in the absence of the new chairman, John Lonergan.

The required meeting will not apply to seniors who have used up their eligibility.

Shroyer, who has been on campus since Monday, has not yet met with the players.

The new coach was backfield coach with the St. Louis Cardinals of the National Football League. He succeeded Carmen Piccone Shroyer, 38, was a Chicago Bear and once received honorable mention in the Little All American list.

Gorelik Calls Today's Theater Dull, Sophomoric, Unintelligent

Mordecai Gorelik, a specialist of Epic Theater and colleague of Bertolt Brecht, the leading innovator of the epic theory, says today's theater is generally "very dull, vague and very sophomoric."

Gorelik, a research professor in theater, is the director of the Southern Players' production of the "Good Woman of Setzuan," one of the foremost examples of Brecht's Epic Theater. It opens tonight.

"I admire the fact that the young people are looking for something new, but don't get the idea that such things as the absurdist theater are new. The same techniques have been used for years," Gorelik explained.

"A good many have fallen for the absurdist movement because they think it is the coming thing, because it is intended as 'a slap in the face of the squares' as they put it," he added.

"At best, today's theater is good psychological drama. At worst, well, just look at the sentimental bunk on TV, the soap operas."

Referring to "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf," as a typical example of today's theater, Gorelik said: "I get tired of plays about people who can't love ('After the Fall') and plots which deal with impotence and other psycho-sexual problems."

"In the first place, Americans are not that morbid," he commented. "Secondly, we as a nation face tremendous problems. Our theater should be dealing with them."

Gorelik explained that Epic Theater concerns itself with much more objective problems and of a much larger scope, housing, juvenile delinquency, and racial issues.

Gorelik said that what we need is something more worthy of our age of science and industry. It is a real challenge to coming dramatists, he said, to face the complexities of our society.

Gorelik went on to explain the techniques used in the Epic theater in approaching the presentation of such problems.

Not only does the epic theory put a wider scope on the problems it deals with, but it attempts to conduct a careful, objective evaluation of them.

"The trouble with most of our theater today is that the spectator is asked to check his intelligence along with his hat and coat when he enters the theater."

MORDECAI GORELIK

scope than does today's theater. It attempts to go beyond mere family and individual problems; beyond two lovers -- to society.

"Today's playwrights use important social and moral problems merely as local color for 'boy meets girl' -- if they use them at all," he added.

"The Good Woman of Setzuan," for example, concerns such external pressures as problems of population explo-
