Musicians, Dancers, Singers to Audition at

Studio Theater on June 21-22

Talent try-outs will be held Thursday and Friday, June 21-22 in the University School studio theater at 7 p.m. for all students attending summer session.

Dancers, musicians, comedians and other talent selected at this audition will participate in the summer talent show scheduled later in the summer. They may also be named to play a part in the weekly Friday-Saturday night "parties" scheduled at various locations throughout the summer term.

The weekly "parties" will be sponsored by the activities development center of the office of student affairs and will begin Friday, June 22. Each event will be themed differently with square dances, song-fests and jazz sessions among the entertainment planned.

Applications are available at the information desk in the University Center for students who wish to try out for the talent show or assist with planning and organization of the weekly "parties."

A piano and record player will be available at the try-outs, but performers must bring their own accompanists and records. Applications will also be available at the try-outs for those who do not submit them in advance.

Some of the dance parties will be held in the Roman Room of the University Center, while others will be held at such locations as the Beach House.

Date for the Summer Talent Show will be announced later, activities development center officials said.

Robbins, director of the broadcasting service. William Ray Mofield will give the descriptive commentary starting at 7:15 p.m. and continuing through the recessional. Production of the two broadcasting services will be separate.

Uray has reported that the center of the field and one on the left near the south end of McAndrew stadium, should be able to pick up close ups of the various winners of awards, special honors, and each student as he accepts his diploma.

A television receiver will be placed in each of the alternate auditoriums in case of rain to hear the commence-

Work Of Student Government Continues During Summer

The work of the student government will continue throughout the summer in preparation for new student week next fall and plans will be drawn for the 1962-63 school year, according to William A. Fenwick, president of the student body.

Fenwick hopes that council members will volunteer one hour of their time to work in student government this summer. He said he is planning to spend two hours a day in the student government office through the summer term. He will post his hours outside the office at the beginning of summer term and is hoping that students will stop in to state problems of interest to the student government and also offer suggestions as to how the governing body could assist the students in any way possible.

Fenwick said that the student government is planning to conduct a price study of food and clothing compared to the prices of similar merchandise in Herrin, Murphysboro, Marion, and Anna.

Many key members of the southern spirit committee will be on hand this summer developing their plans for next year.

Bird Egg Display

At SIU Museum

A display of bird eggs is currently on exhibition in the Southern Illinois University Museum. Most of the eggs on exhibition come from the United States but part of the collection came from abroad.

The collection was started by George Center of Benton, Ill. and donated by his son, Dick Center. While the collection has no monetary value, it is very valuable as a study collection, museum officials said.

It was pointed out that egg collecting is now illegal in the United States, thereby making this collection rare and valuable.

Pay Raise Needed

The Student Council has talked about the possibility of a five cent increase in wages for part-time work on the campus. If the raise is given, the student's pay scale would range from $.85 to $1.30.

With the cost of living going up every month, the pay raise seems justified. Many students work their way through school, including many who are married.

The raise seems to be mandatory when one considers a student can usually earn more money on an off-campus job. Most of the part-time jobs are important functions in the University's operation. If students were not available, the University would be forced to hire Carbondale residents at an increase in salary over the students' pay scale.

SIU is now getting recognition as one of the top universities in the nation. In order to be big-time, one must go all the way.

About 2,500 students are employed on the campus, and few would object to a pay increase. Regardless of what the Student Council does, a pay increase on this campus is needed in the immediate future.

More Than A Stepping Stone

For what purpose do many students come to college? Is it merely for preparing themselves for some future materialistic gain, or is it, and should it be, something more? Unfortunately, it seems that a great number of students come solely for the vocational preparation college offers them in hopes that their cherished sheepskin will swing wide the golden doors of opportunity.

In this age of assembly line graduates it seems imperative that we take a closer look at the process of going to college.

There seems to be too many rigid, stereotyped views of "what should be" the mode of living and learning among students today. There appear to be too many who find themselves complacent victims of the "standard operating procedure" of learning. Some seem to be more concerned with simply obtaining the "right answers," than to investigate and indulge in any form of creative activity or constructive discussion. Many students are so bound to the prevailing college standards, that they frequently neglect their own dormant ways of thought. This "conformity of values" hampers what they might possibly otherwise attain.

A university atmosphere of exploding, living, intellectual awareness can greatly help to erradicate this presence of conforming, standardized student values.

Perhaps, if many students will take the opportunity to enlarge their visions, their educational pursuits in college will be much more than a stepping stone to some future monetary gain; it will serve as an intellectual contribution to living.

Joe College will then possess something of much more value than his treasured "standard equipment" sheepskin could ever bring.

Who's Smarter -- College Men Or Women?

The rapidly rising position of women in our modern society has recently become a popular subject for discussion. It has been pointed out that women are casting over 51% of the ballots in our elections; they are spending over 50% of the money spent in the U.S.; they now own about 50% of the property in our country; and their life span exceeds that of the male sex--71 years for women and 69 for men. They have not only been given the suffrage, but they have also been admitted to our colleges and universities on an equality with the men.

Male quips about the "dizzy blondes'" shallow thinking has been given a jolt by statistics on college accomplishments on the higher levels. In the programs for Honors Day on the SIU campus, held on May 17, it was disclosed that of the group of "B" average students who received financial grants for further education, 66% were women and 34% men.

In the freshman class the group who carried a 4.5 average for the fall and winter terms were 56% women. For for same group in the sophomore class the percentage of women increased to 65%. Juniors with a 4.25 average was 58% women; and in the June graduating class with 4.25 overall averages the women led by 64% to 36% for the men. Twenty women and nine men in the class had an overall average of 4.5, there were six women and three men with a 4.75 overall average, and two women and one man with the almost perfect average of 4.9.

On the higher level of achievement, women in SIU are doing very well. On the general average of the student body as a whole, they possibly demonstrate the same superiority. On the lower levels they make a good

We bet the DAR is plenty worried about that slip, and in this age of fanatics we surely do feel sorry for that unfortunate student editor.

Writer's Reply To Letter Draws Fire

Editor:

I am sorry that Larry Meyer had to resort to slander because I questioned his attitude toward dove hunting as "worthwhile." He replied in a letter to the Editor that I had previously advertised for a home for a "young bird dog." On the contrary, my advertisement requested a home for a "young Pointer." Pointers are also excellent pets but apparently Larry Meyer's narrow perspective permits him to see dogs only as part of the hunter's apparatus.

It might be mentioned that this dog had originally been abandoned by a hunter after hunting season had ended.

SIU Teams Have .658 Winning Average For 1962

SIU won 85 out of a possible 129 athletic contests during the past year for a 558 winning percentage. This year's SIU teams won 85 while losing 43 and tying one.

Enroute to the 85 wins Southern won its fourth straight Interstate Conference II-Sports Trophy with 96 out of a possible 98. The Salukis won nine of the 10 IAC sports championships.

Cross-country and gymnastics were the only SIU teams to go through the entire season without a loss in dual meet competition. Cross-country won all three of its dual meets while gymnastics won all eight of its matches.

Track lost only one of three dual meets this spring. The only loss came at the hands of Kansas. Lew Hartzog's trackmen beat Oklahoma State and the Chicago Track Club in dual competition.

SIU Swimmers in AAU Open At Marion

More than 50 participants are expected to compete Saturday in the second annual Egyptian Open AAU swimming meet at Marion.

Ray Padovan and Ted Petras, both of SIU, hope to establish new outdoor records in the meet. Padovan and Petras are both from North Miami, Fla. and will be bidding for possible marks in the 100-meter butterfly and 100-meter breaststroke events, respectively.

Padovan has placed in the NCAA championships for the past two years while Petras is a freshman who has shown great promise throughout the winter season.

Meet director Bob Steele, SIU graduate assistant, reports preliminaries begin at 7 p.m. in the Marion 25-meter pool. Finals are scheduled to begin at 7 p.m.

SIU's 14th annual fall coaching clinic has been scheduled for August 8-9.

SIU won 21 of 31 basketball contests enroute to its third place finish in the NCAA college-division basketball tournament.

SIU's 21 basketball wins represented the most victories by a single SIU athletic team. Included in the SIU hardwood wins were teams from Indiana State, Tennessee State, Austin-Peay and Evansville.

Glenn Martin's SIU baseball team chalked up 17 wins in 25 regular season contests to take runnerup honors behind SIU's 21 basketball victories.

Southern's wrestling and football teams each lost three games during the year but all came at the hands of national rated teams. Coach Jim Wilkinson's wrestlers lost only to perennial wrestling powers Oklahoma, Oklahoma State and Michigan State.

Carmen Piccone's football Salukis lost only to Bowling Green, Western Illinois and Missouri Valley Conference member Drake. Bowling Green represented the first major-college football team ever to play SIU.

SIU's swimming squad won only two of six meets last winter in a year that found Ralph Casey switching from an easy schedule to a top-flight schedule. The Saluki swimmers lost to national powers Indiana, Minnesota and Missouri Valley member Cincinnati.

BILL MEADE

Golf lost five of 18 matches this spring and also played the lone SIU tie. Coach Lynn Holder's linksmen lost to Purdue, the defending NCAA golf champion, Michigan State, Notre Dame and Ball State. Holder's golfers beat Illinois State four times, Southeast Missouri, Evansville, St. Louis, Washington and Missouri Mines twice each.

SIU's tennis team had the only losing record of SIU's 10 athletic teams but played what might be considered the toughest schedule of any SIU team. Coach Dick LeFevre's tennis team dropped two matches to perennial tennis power Lamar Tech, lost twice to Kansas and once each to Northwestern, Oklahoma State, Iowa, Notre Dame and Ohio State.

Since 1957 SIU teams have won 483 athletic contests in 667 outings for a .724 winning percentage. Dr. Donald Boydston took over the reins as SIU athletic director that year and SIU won its first IAC title.

Just five years later SIU now is regarded highly among some of the U. S. top athletic teams.
