SCENE FROM THE Dixieland band concert given by Norm Murphy's band from St. Louis last Thursday night in conjunction with the WSSF drive being conducted on campus. A novelty of the concert featured the trombonist (left) playing his instrument while lying on his back on the stage floor. The concert and the dance following were sponsored by the WSSF and the SIU Social Senate.

May 22-24 Is Date For Spring Play

Witty lines and humorous predicaments characterize Southern's spring play, "Blithe Spirit," to be presented in Shryock auditorium May 22, 23, 24 at 8:00 p.m.

"Blithe Spirit," an improbable farce in 3 acts, was written by Noel Coward, an outstanding English playwright.

"Blithe Spirit" played in New York from 1941-43 and was produced as a movie in England with Rex Harrison playing the part of Charles Condomines a middle aged author, who holds the spotlight in the drama.

Charles, played by Tom Sloan, is a middle aged author who at the beginning of the play is searching for material on the after life.

He holds a party and invites Madame Arcati, to be played by Betty Jeanne McConnell, who is able to call spirits.

AT THE END of Act I she succeeded in bringing back from the dead Charles Condomines' first wife Elvira, to be played by Carol Krusen, much to the amazement of Dr. Bradman (double cast with Don Manners and James Sprinkle) and Mrs. Bradman (double cast with Jo Ann Eblen and Sue Smith) who are also present at the party. This brings about an amusing triangular situation which finds Charles with two wives.

His ghost wife, anxious to have him come over to the other world fixes his car, but Ruth, (Dorothy Ann Patterson), his living wife, uses the car first and is killed.

At the end of Act II we find two ghost wives in the house with him.

As the play develops we find out how Condomines' ghost wives disappear, and also who the character Edith (double cast with Carolyn Reed and Phyllis Alverson) is.

Research Assistants Receive Appointments

Three Southern Illinois University research and teaching assistants have been appointed to positions in other universities for teaching advance study, according to Dr. Williard M. Gershbacher, chairman of the zoology department.

Charles G. Smith, Carbondale, will go to the University of Oregon as a teaching assistant in zoology.

John D. Parsons, Carbondale, will go to the University of Missouri as a teaching assistant in zoology.

Troy Dorris, Creal Springs, has been awarded a fellowship in the department of zoology at the University of Illinois.

Nominations Today For Student Council, Homecoming Head

Today until 4 p. m. polls will be open for the nomination of next year's Student Council members and next year's Homecoming chairman. Polls are located at the main gate, but in case of rain they will be moved to the crosshalls of Old Main.

This year's freshmen, sophomores, and juniors may nominate members of their classes to serve on the Student Council. Every student making nominations will have an opportunity to nominate one student for the position of Homecoming chairman.

TWO BOYS and two girls from each class will be nominated for the Student Council. Requirements which all nominees must meet were listed in a previous Egyptian. All students making nominations must present their activity cards.

Names of students who receive at least ten nominations today and who meet the other necessary requirements will be placed on the ballots for the election which is to be held next Tuesday, May 22.

Graduate Students To Hold Picnic May 18

All graduate students and their guests are cordially invited to attend a picnic at Giant City Park at the shelter near the playground next Friday, May 18.

Cars will leave the flagpole in front of Old Main at both 3:30 and 4:30 p.m. Food and equipment will be furnished but a charge of 50 cents a person will be made to help cover expenses.

Sing Contest To Launch Greek Week Tomorrow

With the presentation of the annual Greek Sing contest tomorrow night at 7 p.m. in front of Shryock auditorium, Greek Week will officially begin. The public is invited to attend the Sing.

Each of the fraternities will compete against each other by singing three songs, one of which will be a fraternity song. The winner will be presented with a trophy at the close of the Sing. The sororities will compete in the same manner, and the winning sorority will also receive a trophy. Winners will be determined by out-of-town judges.

FOLLOWING is a list of the sororities and fraternities in the order in which they will appear at the Sing: Sigma Beta Mu, Chi Delta Chi, Pi Kappa Sigma, Tau Kappa Epsilon, Sigma Sigma Sigma, Nu Epsilon Alpha, Delta Sigma Epsilon, and Kappa Delta Alpha. Master of ceremonies for the Sing will be Jim Kahmann.

Finals in the men's sports events will be played off Thursday as another highlight of Greek Week.

Friday's Greek Week event will be an all Greek picnic to be held from 4 to 8:30 p.m. at Crab Orchard Lake. Students planning to attend the picnic should meet at the flag pole in front of Old Main at 4 p.m. Friday.

AWARDS FOR the Most Valuable Sorority Girl and the Most Valuable Fraternity Man will be presented at the Greek Week dance Saturday night. Candidates for the sorority award are Mona Williams and Ruth Young, Pi Kappa Sigma; Jan Mayer and Betty Neubigh, Tri Sigma; Dolores Hamp and Barbara Ames, Delta Sigma Epsilon.

Entrants in the Most Valuable Fraternity Man contest are Anson Smith and Lowell O'Daniel, NEA; Bob Wichmann and Jack Donahue, Sigma Beta Mu; Jim Throgmorton and Bob Swoboda, Chi Delta Chi; Bob Lupella and Jack Flynn, TKE; Gene Johns and Lou Diamond, KDA; and Bob Smith, Alpha Phi Alpha.

Dean of Women Leah Farr will present the sorority girl award and Dean of Men I. Clark Davis will present the fraternity man award. The awards will be given at 10:30 p.m. Saturday night at the dance. Also at the dance, Lowell O'Daniel, past president of the Inter-fraternity Council will present the awards to the winners of the sports events and to the winners of the Greek Bowl contest.

THEME OF the Greek Week dance Saturday night is "The Carousel." The dance will be held from 9 to 12 p.m. in the Old Science gym. The women's gym was originally scheduled for the dance, but due to unfinished repair work being done there, the dance will have to be held in the Old Science gym. If the repair work on the Women's gym should be completed in time, the dance will be held there as previously scheduled.

On Sunday afternoon from 2 to 4 p.m. the three sororities are jointly sponsoring a tea in the Little Theatre. The public is invited to attend the tea.

Then at 5:30 p.m. Sunday, three card tournaments will be held as a feature of Greek Week. Winners of the tournaments will receive medals. A bridge tournament will be held at the Delta Sig house, a canasta tournament at the Tri Sig house, and a pinocle tournament at the Pi Kappa house.

To Give Awards At Honors Day Program Thursday Morning

Twenty organizational awards and scholarships will be presented and mentioned at the Honors day assembly to be held Thursday, May 17 at 10 a.m. in Shryock Auditorium according to Dr. Vera Peacock, chairman of the Honors Day assembly.

The following are the awards which are to be presented on Honors Day: American Association of Teachers of Spanish award, Independent Student Union Scholarship plaque, Betty Rhodes Memorial prize (Delta Sigma Elipson), Janice Neckers Memorial prize (Sigma Sigma Sigma).

PHI BETA KAPPA prize, Joe Dougherty award (Tau Kappa Epsilon), American Association of University Women Graduate Scholarship, Pan-Hellenic Scholarship plaque, Inter-Fraternity Scholarship plaque, and Mallarm's prize in French studies.

The below listed awards will have their winners announced by President Morris, but they will not be presented during the Honors Day assembly: Parent Teacher Association Scholarship, Rotary Fourth Object Scholarship, Charles Neely prize (American Association of University Professors).

Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs Scholarship, Thelma Louise Kellogg Scholarship, B'nai B'rith Scholarship, Knights Templar Educational Fund, Illinois Association of Colored Women, Business and Professional Women's Club, and June Vick Memorial (Beta Sigma Phi).

Our Opinions . . .

(This editorial first appeared in a Jackson, Miss., college newspaper. Although it was written primarily for that particular college, we are printing it in its entirety, as have several other college papers, because of its clever style of presentation. It is not a "sob story," but a tongue-in-cheek observation of his position by an Old South college paper editor.)

Editorial Privileges

Profs can sit crosslegged on the top of a desk; dean's first list of students can let down their guard; student body presidents can fraternize with the masses.

Only an editor is required to be pontifical always.

Only an editor is supposed to know everything that happens, so it is taken for granted that he always knows it, and nobody ever tells him anything; only an editor is supposed to keep an open mind always, and at the same time make snap decisions for each political impasse; only an editor is required to keep his nose out of politics, meanwhile keeping tab on the strength of each separate lineup.

Profs have their apple-polishers who ask questions after class; dean's list students get their quarterly reports; student body presidents hear quarterly reports; student body presidents hear complaints in SEB meetings.

Only an editor has to guess.

Only an editor has to grope blindly along, trying to put out a paper for a student body who will talk only behind his back, who will never tell him what they like or don't like, who will squawk audibly only when they are mortally and irreparably wounded; who never thank him when he says anything nice about them or censor anything nasty, who have to be tracked down, cornered, and beaten insensible before they so much as give him a news lead.

Profs have the satisfaction of seeing their teachings put into practice; dean's list students are an inspiration to their successors; student body presidents can point with pride at year's end to long rows of achievements.

Only an editor never accomplishes anything.

Only an editor has to endure the spectacle of 559 of his 600 loyal readers, each and every week, turning immediately on receipt of the paper to the Finger of Scorn, ignoring everything else in the issue; to find the layouts on which he and his staff have spent hours of work, completely unappreciated; to feel his editorial campaigns which he has planned for months, which are his only method of criticism of his school and society, coldly ignored.

Profs get to sit on the stage; dean's list students don't have to attend class; student body presidents get to introduce visitors.

Only an editor is damfool enough to want to trade places with any of them.

And, when all's said and done, only an editor has the satisfaction of knowing that his thousand words a week are written down in letters that can never be erased; of feeling something in a way which must have immediate and lasting effect; of knowing that, if he knew how to use it, he has the whole state for his audience; of sensing that he is doing a job for the students which no one else could do in quite the same way; and last but not least, of being sure of a staff that, no matter how much he is forced to abuse them, overwork them, deny them any reward for their work, will be driven back for more by pure love of literary effort.

Only an editor would gripe about it.

Odd Residents . . .

Rabbits and Mice Inhabit Island

There's a hideaway island in Crab Orchard Lake where the soberest of humans could have a nightmarish "Lost Weekend." The principal island inhabitants are mice and painted rabbits.

The rabbits, cowardly creatures by nature, have yellow stripes down their backs. Some of them are painted red or blue, like Indians on the warpath. And there are mice all over the place. No dogs, no people—just rabbits and mice.

IT'S HARDLY the ideal spot for a picnic. Yet there are far-reaching lessons to be gleaned from watching these little creatures and every once in a while a number of men armed with notebooks and pencils take a boat out to the island to do just that.

Dr. Willard Klimstra, assistant professor of zoology here at Southern carved out the island empire for the cottontails and mice. With the help of some students he is making observations about the rise and fall of isolated mouse and rabbit populations.

Even on their primitive island paradise, the mice are suckers for cheese and allow themselves to be caught twice a year for a tiny sliver of Liederkrantz. The mice are trapped in the spring so the investigators can learn how severely the winter has depleted their ranks. In the fall, the breeding population is catalogued.

EVERY FEW months, the rabbits are doused with peroxide and aniline dye or smeared with airplane paint so the investigators can keep score more easily. Breeding tendencies of rabbits being what they are, it obviously wouldn't be very practical to give each bunny a name.

The island has been loaned by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Ser-

Newman Club Chairmen For 1951-52 Chosen

New committee chairmen of the Newman club for 1951-52 have been announced by Joe Harding, president; men's membership, Al Trtanj; women's membership, Betty McLaughlin; social service, Teresa McLafferty; publicity, Mary Ann Narusis; social, Pat Neagu. Pat Nickoloff was elected as new corresponding secretary at the regular monthly meeting on the club last Wednesday.

At the meeting, Al Spizzo gave a report on the National Newman club federation convention which he, Joe Harding and Al Pyzka attended at Ames, Iowa, recently.

Geraldine Nordmeyer, Dot Hanagan, and Duane Frey were placed in charge of the club's concession stand at the Junior-Senior prom.

Plans were made for a picnic, the last social event of the Newman club this term. Announcement of the date and time will be placed on the bulletin board in the near future.

vice for the population studies and the university supervises the hunting of the cottontails in season. Dr. Klimstra and his students want to find out how severe the harvest can be before the rabbit population is too weakened to come back in force the following spring.

They are also studying the rate of production, sizes of litters, and the cottontails' chances of survival. The rabbits have to struggle through adverse winter conditions and dodge hunters' bullets, but they get one break—the island doesn't have a single red fox which is the chief predator of rabbit populations.

The mice are lucky too—there aren't any cats or screaming women around.

Chicago Music Festival Holds Contests Here

Philip Maxwell, director of the Chicagoland Music Festival, was in Carbondale Saturday in connection with preliminary contests for the Chicago Festival. The preliminaries were held here at Southern Saturday morning, preceding the Southern Illinois Music Festival that was staged in McAndrew Stadium Saturday evening.

Individuals from the area competed in baton twirling, vocal, piano, and other instrumental events. Persons who received certified superior ratings are eligible to enter the Chicagoland Music Festival, sponsored by the Chicago Tribune Charities Inc., and directed by Maxwell. The Chicago festival will be held on August 25 in Soldiers Field with a cast of 10,000 performers and an audience of more than 90,000.

To Conduct Course For Coroners Starting Today

Southern's Vocational Technical Institute will hold a ten weeks course for Southern Illinois coroners beginning today. The course also will be open to sheriffs, city police, and members of the legal and medical profession.

The F. B. I. and State police will be called upon to present information on preservation of evidence, investigation techniques, and the questioning of witnesses. A metropolitan coroner has been invited to give a lecture-demonstration on the conducting of an inquest.

A fee of $5.00 will be charged to help defray expenses of the course. The class will be held in Parkinson Laboratory at 7:30 p. m., tonight.

June Graduates Accept Positions for Fall

According to the Placement office, the following June graduates have accepted positions for next fall: Maurine Taylor, Pinckneyville, has accepted a position with the Champaign elementary schools. Henry Barnard, Jr., Chester, will also teach there.

Antonio Romano will teach agriculture at Olive-in-Rock, while Andrew Rendleman, Anna, has accepted a position as supervising inspector for the Anti Hydro Waterproofing Co. in Carbondale.

Loren Jung, Shawneetown, will be the principal of the Glen Garbon elementary school; and Mary Ruth Webb, Broughton, has accepted a position as home economics instructor in the McLeansboro high school.

DANIEL McClerren, Thompsonville, will be principal of the Goreville high school; and Hubert Sutton has accepted a position as superintendent of the elementary school at Fairfield.

Walter Knecht is to be the principal of the new Maplewood high school, while Leroy Duncan, Salem, has accepted a position with the analytical division of the Hanford Works for General Electric at Richland, Washington.

Stanley Allen will work at the Hoosier Cardinal plant in Marion, and Jack Harper, Cairo, has been employed by the Edgar Stevens and Sons Contracting Co. in Carbondale. Gilbert Butler, Raleigh, will be an engineering draftsman at Rock Island, Ill.

Indian Relics

Curator Relates Facts About American Indians

Agriculture was highly developed among American Indians 500 years ago although horses, oxen, wheels, and plows were unknown to them, according to Irvin Peithman, curator of archaeology in the Southern Illinois University museum.

Tobacco and corn were two of the plants which the Indian introduced to the world and which, from a monetary standpoint, have been worth more than all the gold hauled away by the early Spanish conquerors.

PEITHMAN SAYS that tools used by the Indians about the time Columbus discovered America indicate that all cultivation was done with crude hand implements. Maize or corn was their chief cereal, but they also raised potatoes, beans, and squash.

It is now an accepted fact that the earliest Americans made their appearance via the Bering Strait thousands of years ago. These people were hunters and wandered over a great part of America.

Flint projectile points, one of the evidences they left, have been found in Southern Illinois. These flint pieces are referred to by archaeologists as "Ohio fluted points." Similar projectile points—along with bones of animals now extinct—have been unearthed on sites in New Mexico and Colorado. They are known as "Folsom fluted points." The western states were inhabited as long as 10,000 years ago.

Peithman believes that the finding of Ohio fluted points in Southern Illinois is good evidence that early hunting groups lived here, also, thousands of years ago.

EXACT DATES when the tribes of Ohio fluted points to Southern Illinois came to Southern Illinois cannot be determined. However, camp sites left by them are numerous. They were excellent workers in flint and polished stone. Projectile points found in the area indicate that the tribes were hunters.

For weapons the early Illinoisans used flint spear points fastened to the ends of wooden shafts. They moved frequently and, therefore, did not have permanently established homes. According to Peithman, the most interesting feature about these people is that they did not know the art of pottery making.

After many centuries, these groups of wandering Indians became settled and established permanent homes—and other types of Indian began to make their appearances.

Conference on Camping To be Held Here Friday

The relationship of camping and outdoor education to the learning process of children will be studied in a special conference here at Southern Friday, May 18.

Leaders in education, recreation, and conservation fields will be on hand to hear authorities on outdoor education and to visit camping areas.

Through lectures and symposiums, the group will explore the desirability and possibilities of extending outdoor education and school camping in Southern Illinois. They also will study reports on school camping projects and other agency camps now in operation in various parts of the country.

Principal speaker for the one-day conference will be Dr. Julian Smith from the State Department of Public Instruction in Lansing, Mich. He will talk on "Learning in the Out-Of-Doors." President D. W. Morris will deliver the welcoming address.

UNIVERSITY LIBRARY TO REMAIN OPEN ON SUNDAYS

The University library is still remaining open on Sundays from 2-6 p.m. and from 7-10 p.m. as has been the practice for the last five Sundays.

Average Sunday attendance at any one time has been 20 students. The most popular attendance hour is from 3-4 p.m.

According to Miss Elizabeth Stone, assistant director of the library, the library will continue to remain open on Sundays as long as there is a fair amount of attendance.

Millikin All-Around Star As SIU Whips Big Blue

By Don Duffy

Tom Millikin made his debut as a starting pitcher a success with a 12 inning 3-2 victory over Millikin University's Big Blue. This was the second overtime game in a row for the Martinien, who bested Michigan Normal in ten innings in their last start.

Millikin gave up eight hits, walked four, and struck out nine. The slow working basketball star pitched great ball in the clutches. Three times the Big Blue found themselves with runners on first and second with only one gone, but all three times Millikin retired the side with no further trouble. All told, Millikin University left 12 men stranded on base. Besides showing a master's exhibition of pitching skill, big Tom also batted in the tying run in the seventh with a clean single over the shortstop's head.

THE BIG BLUE took an early lead when they scored one run in the second inning. After two were out, Schaub singled to right, and took second when the ball bounced through Elliott's legs. Williams drove him home with a single to center. Jim Schmulbach then made a diving catch of Kowalski's sinking fly ball to retire the side.

Southern left five men on base before tying the score in the seventh. Don Campbell led off and was safe at first when pitcher Gene Stauder dropped the throw from the first baseman, Weisbecker bunted in front of the plate, and the runners were safe all around when Van Doren's throw was too late to force Campbell. Menendez also tried to sacrifice, but this time Van Doren's throw was in time to force Campbell at third. With one out Millikin singled sharply into left to drive in Weisbecker with the tying run. Schmulbach lined to the shortstop, who threw to second for a double play, ending the inning.

The Maroons loaded the bases with two out in the eighth, but couldn't score. The Big Blue had men on second and third via a single and an automatic double over the short right field fence in their half of the inning. Bill Williams then took a called third strike for the third out.

MENENDEZ singled to open the ninth for Southern. A wild pitch sent him to second. Millikin hit a ground ball to Williams at third, who tagged Menendez coming from second, and threw to first in time for a double play. Schmulbach beat out an infield single, but Coleman grounded out to end the inning.

Tom Millikin found himself in a tight spot in the last half of the ninth. Two walks put men on first and second with only one out, and the second and third hitters coming up. Laetke topped a roller in front of the plate and was thrown out at first by Weisbecker. The runners moved to second and third on the play. The next batter was Carl Van Doren, currently leading the Big Blue with an average well over the .400 mark. Millikin retired the side by striking him out for the third time.

Neither team threatened seriously until the twelfth. Then Southern got to the slow stuff of Gene Stauder for three hits and two runs. Schmulbach led off with a short fly to the second baseman. Coleman walked, but was forced at second on Valier's ground ball. Joe Jones advanced Valier to third with a double over the right field screen.

Coach Martin sent Ems in to pinch hit for West, who had replaced Elliott in right field in the ninth inning. "Candy" Ems hit a ground ball to deep short. Valier scored from third, and Ems beat the throw to first for a base hit. Don Campbell singled to right, driving in Jones with the second run of the inning. Stauder left the game after he walked Weisbecker to fill the bases. Lutes, the new pitcher for Millikin U., whipped a called third strike past Menendez to end the rally.

Dick Halliburton, better known for his play at half back than at right field, singled to deep short to open the twelfth for the Big Blue. Laetke popped to Joe Jones. A balk by Millikin, his second of the game, sent Halliburton down to second. Van Doren struck out for the fourth time. Sutherland singled for his second hit, sending Halliburton around to score. Millikin then struck out Morris to end the game.

Records Fall As Track Team Outpoints Western

By Jim Turpin

Two records fell last night as Southern romped to a 73½-57 2/3 win over Western Illinois in McAndrew stadium.

Phil Coleman turned in by far the most impressive performance of his college career as he broke his own record in the two mile run by some 15 seconds. Coleman toured the eight laps in 9:44.3 breaking his old record of 9:59 set earlier this year.

Jaack Pensinger of Western who has established himself as one of the top high jumpers in the nation, leaped 6'5¾" to top the Stadium record held by Southern's Harold Hartley. Pensinger left the field at 5'10" and proceeded to clear every jump thereafter, raising the bar two inches each time. He failed in three attempts at 6'6½".

Again it was the sensational Jim Alexander and the consistent Joe McLafferty that swept the match for Southern. Alexander continued to turn in his iron man stunts by winning each of three events which he entered, the two hurdle races and the broad jump. McLafferty won the mile easily in a good time of 4:32.6 and then came roaring from behind and out of a pocket to capture the half mile in 2:02.

The results:

Mile run: McLafferty (S) Palmer (S) Coleman (S) 4:32.6.

High jump: Pensinger (W) Keen (S) and McLean (W) and Bowyer (W) tied for 2nd, 6'5¾".

Shot put: Kuteosky (S) East (S) Boyer (W) 41'10".

440 yd run: Mayhew (W) Renfro (S) Church (W) 50.5.

100 yd. dash: Jackson (W) Suehr (W) Robertson (S) 10.1.

High hurdles: Alexander (S) Franklin (W) Fletcher (W) 15.6.
