Campus Officers Will Be Decided Today

★ ★ Plan Honors For Scholars

The annual Scholastics Honors Day Convocation will be held at 7:30 p.m. May 16, in Shryock Auditorium, according to William J. McKeefery, acting vice president for operations and dean of academic affairs.

The principal address, "For What Purpose Honors?" will be given by Wilbur Moulton, assistant professor of chemistry.

The 7:35 p.m. classes (except those meeting once a week) will be dismissed on May 16 so that faculty members and students may attend the convocation.

Twice-Honored Pop Gives Tot Top Spot

Donald Musgrave, a senior industrial science major, will have to pass up being present to receive a top national award Friday because of another honor.

He will be home babysitting with his first child—an eight-pound, two-ounce son.

Musgrave is one of 24 students from throughout the U.S. chosen to receive the 1963 Merit Award of the American Society of Industrial Designers.

The Merit Award is given to honor most promising seniors in industrial design programs in degree-giving schools across the nation. This year's awards to Midwest students are to be given at a Chicago dinner.

But Musgrave will be home with his wife and new-born son, Mark Evan. The child and his mother were returned home early this week from Doctor's Hospital, where the baby was born last Thursday.

John Erickson, acting chairman to the SIU industrial education department, said Musgrave wanted very much to attend the awards dinner. "But he couldn't very well plan in advance with the baby due," he added.

Joint Meeting :

Journalism Council To Discuss Egyptian Proposals Tonight

Proposals concerning the activity fee budget allocations and the Daily Egyptian will be discussed at a meeting of the Journalism Council with Student Council members at 9 p.m. today in the University Center Mississippi Room.

George Graham, one of the three Council members who worked to draw up the proposals, said if no substantial changes are recommended at tonight's meeting, the proposals will be presented at the Student Council meeting Thursday night.

In regard to the activity fee budget, the proposal states that the activity fee programs have outgrown the income from the $9.50 activity fee and that increases to pay for various activities and health services will soon be needed.

The proposal recommends that a budget of $342,000, financed by the $9.50 activity fee, be submitted to the Board of Trustees for the 1963-64 school year. It suggests, however, that a referendum on a fee increase to be effective in 1964-65 be submitted to the student body in the Fall of 1963.

Advisors of activity fee accounts will be asked to submit budgets for 1963-64 as soon as possible, with new or expanded programs postponed until 1964-65 whenever possible.

In regard to the recent controversy over recommending to withhold funds from the Daily Egyptian, a proposal was prepared concerning the power of Student Government in determining policy for activity fee account programs.

The proposal recommends that all-university activities should have a policy board selected which determines the policy and line of development of the activity. Student Government should make recommendations when necessary, it continues, but would operate within the policy set forth by the board.

8 To 5 Hours Set For Four Polling Places

Students are voting today at four locations on campus in the annual spring elections. Polls will remain open until 5 p.m.

Polls are located in the University Center, at the Agriculture Building breezeway, in front of Old Main and at Southern Acres.

Voters today will select a student body president, student body vice-president, 13 senators to the Student Council, homecoming chairman and most popular faculty member.

There are four candidates for the president. They are Jeffrey Barlow, Dick Moore, Wendell O'Neal and Rod Rees. Candidates for vice-president are Charles Zoeckler, Gerry Howe, John Huck and Gerald Knoll.

Senators are to be elected to represent Woody Hall, Thompson Point (two senators), commuters, men's Small Group Housing, women's Small Group Housing, Southern Acres, off-campus men's housing, off-campus women's housing, University family housing, out-in-town, foreign students and men's temporary housing.

Tom Castor, election commissioner, said everyone voting will be required to present a plastic student identification card and a current certificate of registration, which has been filled out properly.

No one will be allowed to vote for more than one senator, Castor said.

WRA Elections Windup Today

Women's Recreation Association election of officers winds up today after two days of balloting.

To be elected are a president, vice president, secretary-treasurer, two publicity managers, and a chairman of sports managers.

Ballots may be obtained in the lobby of the Women's Gym. Voting is from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Gym.

Nominees for president are Bev Sellinger and Nancy Bischoff; for vice president, Karen Brandon and Jane Hucklebridge; and for secretary-treasurer, Mary Ann Griot and Mary Vandermark.

Unsigned Election Campaign Circular Under Investigation

I. Clark Davis, student affairs director, told the Egyptian yesterday he is "trying to determine the basic facts involved in the writing and distribution of an unsigned circular" which voiced support of Dick Moore and Gerry Howe for student president and vice president.

Lindsey Lawwill, editor of the Southern Independent, the newspaper of the Off-Campus President's Council, has admitted being the author of "Plain Facts and Common Sense," a mimeographed sheet distributed Monday night.

The circular questioned former integrationist activities of student presidential candidate Wendell O'Neal.

Lawwill signed a statement saying he had been encouraged to print and distribute the circular "by the group attending a meeting at the Phi Kappa Tau fraternity house Sunday, May 5."

Lawwill said Moore, candidate for student president, was at the meeting. He said Moore "saw and read the circular before it was printed." "The information contained in the circular was furnished by Dick Moore," he added.

The circular was unsigned, and there was no indication as to where the sheet originated. Lawwill said he hadn't recognized "this campaign practice" for what it was.

He expressed his apologies to the other candidates in the election and "specifically to Wendell O'Neal for the unjust treatment he received due to the influence of the Moore-Howe team." Howe is a candidate for vice president.

A statement to Davis, signed by Moore and seven other students, said Lawwill brought the original copy of the circular to the Sunday meeting "of his own accord."

Moore's statement said the sheet was passed around to the group but "was not approved." The statement said: "Dick Moore stated that sections of the original circular could not be used."

It was pointed out in other meetings that the racial issue which was included in the letter was against Moore's basic beliefs. The letter (circular) was never approved by the committee."

In the circular, Lawwill said:

"There is one other fact which makes these candidates questionable. This is the fact that O'Neal has had to face before the sit-ins at Cairo and their results." Lawwill said Southern's name had been "dragged through the mud" as a result of the activities in Cairo of O'Neal and Bill Fenwick, student president.

"If this were to happen again, a degree from SIU would be almost useless," he declared.

In the mimeographed circular, Lawwill strongly urged the election of Dick Moore and Gerry Howe and asked: "Will Wendell O'Neal act as an individual and go again to Cairo or elsewhere if he is elected? It is a question that the voter cannot answer and it would be foolish to vote for him as long as the question remains unanswered."

Metcalf Runs 'Store':

Uncle Sam's Helper Keeps Everything In Flying Order

The place looks pretty much like a men's clothing store. There are the counters, the racks, the bins, the measuring tapes. But you don't see a cash register.

There are coats and pants, shirts and shoes, ties and socks, and raincoats. Only they're all alike, almost. Some of the pants and shirts are blue; some are khaki.

You're in the supply house for the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps, where more than 3,000 student cadets receive their military clothing each year. The "store" is in the annex to Wheeler Building, the former location of the University book shop.

In charge of issuing all the garb and equipment is James L. Metcalf of Murphysboro. He's officially the assistant military property custodian but the work is in his hands as the business manager of the University has the title of custodian.

Metcalf is not a military man. He's a man who knows clothing, with 40 years of experience. His 2-1/2 year tenure here has seen the problem of issuing clothing and equipment to students develop into an efficient operation. What once took five weeks is now done in ten days.

"Since I've been here," recalled SM/Sgt. B. E. Parsons, who was assigned to the campus AFROTC four years ago, "I've seen lines of students 75 to 100 yards long waiting to get their clothing and equipment. But Metcalf came, placed the assignment of clothing on an appointment basis, and got things running like clock-work."

Metcalf explained he schedules 30 appointments an hour and sometimes gets ahead by running 40 through in 60 minutes.

"The boy comes in the front door," he said. "He gives us his clothing sizes if he knows them, and if not, he's measured. And I might say that three out of five can't tell us."

"Then he gets a blue coat, khaki and blue shirts, his pants and a raincoat. After that his cap, socks, belts, ties and insignia are placed in a shopping bag. He also gets shoes, which he keeps for two years. The other things come back at the end of the school year."

To get all this, the student produces a fee statement showing he has deposited five dollars for it.

Each year Metcalf's staff handles 3,800 pairs of trousers, 5,000 shirts, 3,800 coats, 3,300 raincoats, and 2,000 pairs of shoes.

Working with Metcalf are W. R. Winklemeier and T/Sgt. Tolby, provided by the Air Force to assist in interpretation of military requirements. During issue time 18 SIU students work half-time.

Metcalf said his department has run into unusual requirements, such as size 54 coats, size 46 trousers and size 16-EE shoes.

"These are taken care of by special order," he said. "You won't find them in stock."

RONALD CRUICKSHANK

Scottish Tapestry Designer Teaches Here This Week

A Scottish tapestry designer and weaver will spend three days at SIU this week to instruct students in the ancient craft.

Ronald Cruickshank, who was associated with Gobelins in Paris and was the only weaver outside the famous Aubusson rug-weaving center in France to weave designs created by Lurcat, noted French tapestry designer, will teach here Wednesday through Friday.

Cruickshank has been in this country since 1960 and is now teaching tapestry designing and weaving at the University of Southwestern Louisiana, Lafayette, La.

First apprenticed in tapestry at the Dovecote Studios in Edinburgh at the age of 15, Cruickshank became head of those studios in 1946 and began to direct their work toward contemporary designs.

In 1952 he opened his own studio in Edinburgh where he began many experiments in design, colors and techniques as well as in the use of man-made yarns.

His largest work, a 16 feet by 8 feet tapestry, hangs in the lounge of the Pacific & Orient liner, the SS Iberia, but he also works many "home-size" pieces, often 6 feet by 5 feet.

Cruickshank brought his own 7 feet by 8 feet loom, weighing a thousand pounds, to America, but has designed a special loom for his Louisiana college classes.

He will bring his large collection of slides on the history of tapestry to SIU, and Breland has arranged for him to give a general lecture on "The Evolution of a Tapestry," open to all interested persons, Friday night at 8 p.m. in the Allyn Building.

Fire Damage On Marion Square Could Amount To $1 Million

MARION, Ill.

Fire damage in the Marion Public Square Monday has been estimated from $350,000 or more to $1 million.

The flames raged out of control for over four hours, destroying six business places and causing severe damage to three other buildings.

Three persons were injured as over 100 fireman manned equipment from at least 14 Southern Illinois towns.

Low water pressure hampered fireman, and Mayor Robert Butler has urged a full scale drive to secure federal funds to help rebuild the central city water supply system.

A confessed British spy and a "confessed Russian traitor, glaring with hate at each other, pleaded guilty in a Soviet court Tuesday to charges that they relayed Soviet secrets to the West through the U. S. and British embassies.

The Briton was Greville Wynne, 42, a businessman who has made about eight trips to the Soviet Union. The Russian was Oleg Penkovsky, 43, a former official of the Soviet Committee for Coordination of Scientific Research.

Lee Suspended Pending Outcome Of Court Case

Robert Lee, 20, a freshman from Jersey City, N.J., charged last week with showing pornographic films, has been placed in a status of suspension from the University, pending the outcome of his court case.

Lee was freed on $2,000 bond after a preliminary hearing in Jackson County Court. He was taken into custody after SIU Security Police interrupted a scheduled showing of what was termed "lewd movies" at a fraternity house last week.

Authorities said the movies had been shown earlier in the evening at another fraternity house. A further investigation is being conducted in an attempt to determine where the films were obtained.

WHAT'S HAPPENED TO FALCON

EVERYTHING! AND YET...

Early this year we put a 164-hp V-8 in a new kind of Falcon called the Sprint, and entered the stiffest winter road test we could find... the 2,500-mile Monte Carlo Rallye. We didn't know what would happen... but happen it did.

First, no one dreamed all the Rallye cars would have to experience the worst winter in decades. Snow, below zero temperatures, and the most demanding terrain in Europe took their toll. Two thirds of the 296 cars that started, failed to reach Monaco.

A lot of experts told us that the Falcon V-8's, untried as they were, could not hope to finish the Rallye with the best of weather. But not only did two Falcon Sprints finish, they placed first and second in their class. But there were more surprises (for everyone) in store. Against all competition, regardless of class, the lead Sprint went on to take first in the final six performance legs.

We honestly didn't know the Falcon Sprint would do this well. But it showed us a Falcon with our new 164-hp V-8 is a car that can perform with the best of them. So a lot has happened to Falcon, and yet...

A six-cylinder Falcon has just finished the Mobil Economy Run and finished first in its class. It had to take a lot of punishment, too... 2,500 miles from Los Angeles to Detroit over mountains, deserts, and long stretches of superhighways. But the nickel-nursing ways of the all-time Economy Champ took all comers in its class.

So you see something has happened to the Falcon. It can be what you want it to be... a V-8 that travels in the same circle as Europe's performance kings... or a Six that can travel cross-country on a budget. There's something to put into your compact.

Student Elections

We support Wendell O'Neal for Student Body President.

We cite his liberal attitude, his active participation in Student Government and his support of worthwhile, positive legislation. He has the experience in Student Government that is needed, having spent the 1962-63 school year as out-in-town senator to the Student Council. The running-mate he has selected has also had experience in Student Government, having served capably on the campus Judicial Board.

In contrast, Dick Moore, while he has served capably on the Spirit Council, is conservative. His devotion to the status quo is seen, for example, in his opposition to home delivery of the Egyptian.

Jeff Barlow, temporary men's housing senator this past year, has had experience, but he has not been an active participant in the vital issues the Student Council has faced this year. Only recently has he joined the council discussion.

The main objection to Rod Rees, the fourth candidate for president, is his lack of experience. The post of student president demands a familiarity with the workings of Student Government and with the problems relative to students, groups and the administration.

The multiplicity of candidates for president and vice-president tend to be confusing, especially since tickets have developed. Many may prefer one individual for president but find his running-mate undesirable. However, by voting for the presidential candidate of one ticket and the vice-presidential candidate of another, the student voter should be able to select the slate which appeals to him.

Letter To The Editor:

The time has come to call everyone's attention to the barrel-sized blight on campus. It is represented by large green containers, presumably to act as waste cans. But one must carry more than his share of insensitivity to be unable to notice what has happened. The lines of the SIU landscaping and buildings have been heedlessly disrupted, subtracting from the aesthetic excellence of the campus, to which has been devoted much time and expense. However, setting economics aside, beauty for beauty's sake is in itself enough to justify efforts at removing the eyesores. (Not being content with the plainness of inelegance, one organization, in characteristic fine taste, has chosen to paint on the sides of the containers bright pleas for help to keep the campus clean.)

Save School Drop-outs Now

Between now and the end of the school year, thousands of American boys and girls will drop out of school. Most of them will be teen-agers in high school. For countless numbers of them, it will be the major tragedy of their lives.

These drop-outs will occur all over the country. Many will take place in Illinois, in Pennsylvania, in Wisconsin—in every state in the union. Wherever they occur, there will be too many, even after allowances are made for the differing elements in the population and varying aptitudes for study and learning.

Heavy Pressures

School authorities are under two pressures with respect to drop-outs. The first pressure is the proper one of trying to keep students in school. The second is the increasingly powerful pressure of the onrush of students that is coming with the post-war population bulge.

The pressure of ever more and more students tends to cause many school officials, whether they would admit it or not, to welcome drop-outs here and there on the grounds that these drop-outs make it just a little easier to cope with the growing school population.

Closing Doors of Future

But that is only the short view. There is only one way to see drop-outs and that is in terms of the careers at stake 10, 15, 20, 25 years from now. That there should be many thousands of drop-outs across the nation at a time when automation is spreading thru

Irving Dilliard

American enterprise is little less than madness.

What do these boys and girls without high school educations expect to do in the years ahead? They will find that machines have taken job after job after job formerly held by the unskilled. They will find it hard enough to get work now that will suit them. They will be the first to fall victim before still further automation.

Then what? Can they be other than public charges, more or less? Belatedly they may try to save their lives, with new training or retraining, but in most instances that will be far from satisfactory for these Americans of the future—or for the society of which they are to be a part.

These then are crucial weeks. Parents, school officials, teachers, members of the clergy, business and industrial leaders, all in the communications fields should join in keeping the 1963 drop-out toll as low as possible. There are few things more worthwhile that any adult American can do in the weeks immediately ahead than to help persuade some thoughtless, uninformed boy or girl to finish up this school year with a good record—and a resolve to go on in September.

We Need Facts

What value is a school counseling system if it does not see boys and girls over the drop-out hurdle? What statistics can the state offices of education compile and release that would be more worth knowing than the record of the schools of the state in terms of drop-outs?

Does anyone know which state has the best record in keeping boys and girls in school—and which has the worst?

Perhaps there are such figures, but if there are, they get scant circulation. Let's do all we can to keep Americans off the scrap heap.

Foreign Students In America Must Make Effort To Adjust

I wish to make some comments about the letter of J.S. de Santa Cruz published in the Egyptian of April 25th. de Santa Cruz criticizes the behavior of the average American student in relation to his foreign colleague. If some of her comments are right, I think de Santa Cruz considers the problem from a wrong point of view.

It is a big mistake to consider the foreign student as a visitor, and the American student as a host. The American hospitality goes beyond that level. The American student wants his foreign friend to feel like a member of the same informal family. The international student must adjust himself to this situation, without complexity. Too often, foreign students remain in a "ivory tower." This behavior will prevent American students from accepting them in a warm and wholesome fashion.

The primary interest of too many foreign students arriving on campus is to find friends with the same skin color and same language. As soon as they are found, they stay together as a "foreign clique." This prevents any good intentions of American students from entering in this self-segregated community.

Too many foreign students always talk of their own cultural and educational system with a nationalist mind and as being far superior to American systems. What are they doing here then?

While it is true to a certain extent that American Students "a priori" are not very much interested in foreign colleagues, I consider it is the responsibility of the international students to awaken their interest with their conversations and their behavior.

Home Track Season Opens Against Western Michigan

Western Michigan will be the opponent Saturday night when Lew Hartzog's SIU track team opens its home season at 7:30 p.m.

Saturday night's meet is the first of two dual meets which the SIU students have a chance to see.

Last year Western Michigan won both the Mid-American and Central Collegiate Conferences outdoor track titles. The Broncos won the Central Collegiate with 53 1/2 points. SIU was fourth with 31.

In the Mid-American meet Western Michigan took the team title with 85 1/2 points.

Western Michigan will bring eight two-year lettermen with them Saturday. Jerry Bashaw, Floyd Cook, Dick Greene, Alonzo Littlejohn, James McNutt, Dave Underly, Cal Williams and Dennis Wright are the lettermen.

Littlejohn finished in a four-way tie for second place in the high jump at the NCAA meet last year. He jumped 6-feet 9 inches.

Neil Browne ran the mile last year at the Michigan AAU meet in 4:17.4. He is expected to join teammates Bashaw and Greene in the mile event against the Salukis entry of Bill Cornell.

Last year Cornell ran the mile in 4:00.2 at the NCAA. In addition to entering the mile, Cornell probably will be entered in the half-mile event too.

Bruce Burston will run the three-mile event for Western Michigan. He will be challenging SIU's Brian Turner, who last week won the event at Kansas in 14:39.7.

George Dales is the Western Michigan track coach and has built the school into national prominence. He took over the reins in 1952 and his success

Northwestern Hands Netmen First Setback In 14 Matches

Northwestern University became the first team to knock off Southern's previously undefeated tennis team, as the Wildcats beat the Salukis Monday afternoon 7-2 at Evanston.

The loss marked the first time that SIU has lost in 14 outings this year.

By winning Monday's match, the Wildcats boosted their season won-loss record to an impressive 13-1.

Coach Dick LeFevre's squad traveled to Bloomington, Ind., yesterday to meet another Big Ten Conference member, Indiana University. The results of the match with the Hoosiers were not available.

In Monday's loss, Bob Sprengelmeyer was the only Saluki to win individual honors as he defeated the Badgers' Bill Rice in a hard fought singles match. Playing at the number four singles position, Sprengelmeyer kept his undefeated string on the line with 14 singles wins this year.

The Salukis gained their second point of the afternoon when Southern's number two doubles combination of Lance Lumsden and Wilson Burge beat Ken Paulson and John Erickson in three sets 6-3, 4-6, 6-4.

As expected, Northwestern's number one and two singles players Marty Riessen and Clark Graebner had little trouble in defeating SIU's number one and two players, Lumsden and captain Pachito Castillo.

Riessen, the defending Big Ten champ downed Lumsden in two straight sets, 6-3, 6-0. Graebner, the 1961 Wimbledon junior champ, had an even easier time with Castillo as he beat the Saluki captain, also in two straight sets, 6-0, 6-2.

The Wildcats also spoiled undefeated strings of Roy Sprengelmeyer, Burge and George Domenech, as all three Salukis lost in singles matches ending win streaks of 13, 12, 12 respectively.

All three matches were fought right down to the wire with each match going three sets. Burge just did get nipped by Art Templeton in what was probably the hardest fought match of the day. The second set between the number five singles players was taken by Templeton, 15-13.

LeFevre scratched Southern's number three doubles combination at the last minute, as Domenech's racket slipped out of his wet hands and hit his teammate Bob Sprengelmeyer in the mouth. Two teeth were broken and five stitches were taken in Sprengelmeyer's lip. It was not determined if the injury will keep him out of the lineup for any length of time.

The Results:

Riessen beat Lumsden 6-3,

Graebner beat Castillo 6-0,

6-2.

Paulson beat R. Sprengelmeyer 6-1, 1-6, 6-3.

B. Sprengelmeyer beat Rice

6-4, 5-7, 6-4.

Templeton beat Burge 2-6,

15-13, 8-6.

Skip Gage, NW, beat Domenech 1-6, 7-5, 6-4.

Riessen - Graebner beat

Castillo - R. Sprengelmeyer

6-0, 6-1.

Lumsden - Burge beat Paulson-Erickson 6-3, 4-6, 6-4.

Baseball Team Plays Tulsa Here Today

SIU's baseball team plays host to Tulsa this afternoon at 3 p.m. in a baseball game at Chautauqua field.

Tulsa is a member of the Missouri Valley Conference and represents the second MVC school which Southern faces this season. Today's meeting is the first between the two schools in baseball.

Tulsa, however, competes against the Salukis in golf, football and tennis.

Southern's Salukis hold a 2-0 record against MVC members this spring. SIU beat St. Louis in a double header one month ago.

Tulsa enters today's game with an 8-10 record but has played better teams than SIU. Tulsa split a double header with Missouri. Missouri is rated the number one collegiate baseball team, according to the coaches poll.

Against Nebraska in a three-game series Tulsa came away with victories in two of the games.

Tulsa is led by Bill Lingo who is averaging .342. He has hit safely 13 times in 38 appearances at the plate. Mike Godat is next with a .320 average on the basis of his 16 hits in 50 times at bat. Joe Burge and Richard Goins are the leading Tulsa pitchers. Burge sports a 2-0 record and Goins is 1-0 with the year.

Ed Walter, a freshman righthander from Mt. Carmel, probably will start on the mound for Glenn Martin's SIU Salukis. The Salukis played yesterday afternoon against Southeast Missouri.

SIU is led in hitting by Jerry Qualls. Right behind him is Gib Snyder and Ron Landreth. Qualls is a sophomore third baseman. Snyder is a shortstop and Landreth plays second base for the Salukis. Qualls is hitting .389. Snyder .353 and Landreth .342.

Mike Pratte, SIU's junior catcher, is next with a .333 batting average.

Salukis Lead Indians

SIU held a 6-2 lead over Southeast Missouri after three and one-half innings of play yesterday afternoon in a baseball game played at Chautauqua field.

Southeast Missouri took a 1-0 lead in the second inning when Dennis Creech singled and scored after the ball rolled through Dave Harris' legs.

Glenn Martin's SIU Salukis took the lead in their half of the second. Dave Leonard walked, advanced to second on Mike Pratte's single and scored after the ball rolled through the Missouri left fielder's legs.

Pratte scored the second run of the inning on Jim Long's double to left-centerfield.

Southeast Missouri scored once more in the third when Dave Hawkins singled, stole second and scored on Floyd King's base hit.

signed to eliminate the danger of an irresponsible Student Government damaging a valuable program, according to the proposal. If Student Government feels strongly about a program over a period of years it can change the direction of the program by appointing forceful people to the board and by adopting recommendations for policy changes stating the reasons for the change.

The recommendations of the proposal include the following four items:

1. That the Communications and subsidiary councils be quickly organized and that a similar policy group be set up for musical activities.

2. That these policy boards as well as the Council or Intercollegiate Athletics formulate the level and direction of operation of their programs.

3. That these boards develop and submit budget requests for funds from student and other groups.

4. That the proper response of Student Government to these recommendations is endorsement or recommendation of policy change -- not a withholding of funds.

Jeffrey Barlow, Wendell O'Neal and Graham prepared the proposals.
