Petition Asks to Stop Use of Activity Funds for Speech

A petition with more than 1,300 signatures requesting that student activity funds not be used to pay for Stokley Carmichael’s May 1 appearance at SIU was accepted Monday by Paul Morrill, assistant to President Delyte W. Morris.

Morrill was unsuccessful in reaching Carmichael to get a decision regarding the financing of Carmichael’s speaking engagement. Morrill was attending a meeting on the Edwardsville campus but a decision is expected to come sometime this week.

Reports indicated that Carmichael’s appearance may be arranged for out of the University Lecture Fund.

Morrill held a 15-minute meeting with the directors of the petition movement, Leonard Maggio, a junior from Rockford, and Tom Guennewig, a junior from Staunton. Following the meeting, Morrill said, “I wouldn’t be a bit surprised if these signatures influence any decisions President Morris makes.”

Maggio added that the petitions were not asking that the administration prevent Carmichael from coming to SIU. “We just don’t want to have to pay him to come here,” Guennewig said.

Maggio said that he was threatened by several students in the student government over the past few weeks. “It’s a crisis last week when he went in to get additional petition forms,” Morrill said.

“W e were all white and we were all white students,” Guennewig said.

Guennewig and Maggio said that the petition movement began last Thursday, following the student association’s decision to ask the University to appropriate $1,500 for Carmichael’s appearance.

The student government office, under the leadership of Richard Karr, student body vice-president, began processing official petition forms and distributed them to all interested students.

Guennewig told Morrill that “If we don’t get 500 signatures, we can’t get half of the students on this campus to sign this petition.”

Both Guennewig and Maggio were under the impression that Morrill was going to make a decision Monday, and so work in obtaining signatures slowed a great deal that same morning.

Television station WPSD, Paducah, Ky., in a two-minute editorial Friday night took issue with the student senate’s “irresponsible action” in requesting the administration to finance Carmichael’s appearance.

The editorial said the student senate had “pure gill” in making such a request of the administration and “ought to know better.”

A steering committee represented the editorial at the nine o’clock and 10 o’clock telecasts.

Housing Manager Retracts Denial Of Discrimination

The former manager of Imperial West apartments, accused of refusing to rent to a Negro, has issued a statement retracting earlier denial of the action.

Carl Alexander, who managed the apartments for Jerome Robinson of Springfield until his resignation last week, said in a letter to the SIU Housing Office, the Student Senate housing commission and the Daily Egyptian: “I retract all statements made on my part to all news media concerning my refusal on May 1, 1968, to provide housing to a Negro student of Southern Illinois University.

“Regardless of earlier policy, I will, in the future, rent to all students, without exception, who wish to live in Imperial Apartments and who are financially able to pay for their housing.”

Karl F. Alberts of the Housing Office said something of the same action may still be taken against Imperial. The investigation may continue.

Richard Wallace, Senate housing commissioner, said he will not press the case any further. He said it will be up to Roger Fortune, the Negro who attempted to rent from Alberts, to take further action.

The alleged refusal has also been referred to Carbondale’s Fair Housing Board to determine if there is a violation of the city’s strong open housing law.

Fourth Party Added to Campus Slate

The fourth party to enter candidates for student government executive posts has announced its slate.

IMPACT, running Sam Panayotovich, a member of Theta Xi social fraternity, has announced that a Student Senator, candidate for vice president and Mark Hansen, also a Senator, is running for vice president for IMPACT.

Panayotovich was the first to hand in his petition with reportedly 1,000 signatures. All petitions for student government posts are due by 5 p.m. Wednesday. The election is May 15.

IMPACT is campaigning on a platform of responsible leadership, according to literature being distributed.

Other parties in the race are ACTION, RAP and SOAP.

All candidates for student body president will make their initial appearances together at 7 p.m. Tuesday in Davis Auditorium at a public press conference, sponsored by Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism society.

Gus Bode

Gus says that he’ll sign any petition and so far is on every candidate’s list.

Coalition Declares Revolutionary Intent; Plans Tactics

By Don Mueller and John Eppleheimer

A Student Coalition, after declaring itself Monday night to be revolutionary in intent and drawing up a partial list of goals, decided to discuss the issues in Brownie Auditorium Wednesday night to determine tactics.

Stuart Novick, a non-student planning the meeting, forecast a “major confrontation” for S.I.U. IMPACT members suggested that occupying President Delyte W. Morris’ office or bringing him to the University would be considered. Approximately 300 people were present.

On Tuesday at Carbondale’s Fair Housing Board, President Morris refused to sign any petition to admit Negroes.

Student Politicians Asked To Submit Current Photos

In an effort to provide more comprehensive coverage, the Daily Egyptian is requesting that all candidates for student body president and for the two vice president positions provide current photographs for publication. The president and president-elects are asked to forward their photograph to the Egyptian to have their picture taken.

Deadline for the pictures is 5 p.m. Wednesday. Copies of this request, along with the previously announced offer to print candidates’ statements, have been made available to candidates at the Student Government Office.

Deadline for submission of type-written statements by candidates is Monday. Statements are to be turned in at the Student Senate office.

Candidates for student body president are asked to submit statements not to exceed 300 words; vice-presidential candidates’ statements are not to exceed 200 words; and student senators’ statements are not to exceed 75 words.

The statements will be printed in parts of the Daily Egyptian coverage of the election campaign.

Krischer a Prophet?

Gary Krischer changed acts Thursday afternoon from a candidate for student body president to a candidate for student body vice president when he told Roland Keene, assistant to President Delroy Morris, that he knows who will be the next student body president—hims elf.

Krischer demanded that Keene allow him to sit next to Morris because "I'm going to be student body president next year.

Maybe Krischer has a crystal ball tucked away somewhere and has managed to find out who will win the presidency. But it is not very likely.

Some 30 or 40 students were waiting to speak with Morris in protest to the Army recruiters operating in the Union Center when Krischer appeared on the scene and demanded a meeting with the president immediately. He told the president's assistant that no meeting Morris was attending at the moment, but he wanted to discuss the issue of the right of recruiters on campus.

Krischer displayed that he possesses neither the finesse nor the speaking ability to deal with both University administrators in behalf of fellow students.

It was not being very tactful when an individual stakes out an administrator's office and demands a meeting immediately and action to be taken at that very moment. W hether the individual thinks he has the power to do so because he is a candidate for the presidency or anyone can campaign for the presidency, Mr. Krischer.

If it had not been for Harry Goldman, spokesman for the protestors, the group would not have a meeting with Morris May 10 or the possibility of the president appearing on television. It was unforeseen that Goldman was forced to struggle in communications with the president so long as he held up a meeting with Morris. His struggle came with trying to ignore Krischer and his arguments. Whatever the University is being handled.

In the unfortunate truth that Krischer did not realize he was exerting his group's cause by interfering with Goldman rather than stepping into the ranks with the rest of the students.

Food, Heart Attacks

The food industry and the medical profession are facing frustration in their desire to promote foods that will lower the chances of heart disease among Americans.

Information from medical sources concluded that diet is an important factor in the lives of the one in five Americans heart attack victims.

Items listed in the saturated fats category are the American favorites milk, butter, cheese, ice cream, beef, pork and lamb. Items that will not create products low in saturated fats that can significantly lower a man's cholesterol level. And the reason for this is that the manufacturer is not allowed to advertise the cholesterol-lowering capabilities of his product due to our present food laws.

The 1959 Food and Drug Administration issued a "policy statement" saying that labeling of substances offered to the general public as foods that would prevent, delay, mitigate or cure heart diseases would be considered false and misleading as well as illegal.

During the eight years following this statement, manufacturers have gathered more data relating a connection between the diet and heart disease. Three times during these eight years leading researchers have requested the FDA to reverse or at least to relax the policy.

The FDA's reluctance to accept this scientific data relates to state laws requiring that five per cent of the total fat content before such products as milk, butter and margarine can be called such. It is overestimated the actual fat content from the required 3.2 per cent to 2 per cent. The FDA is catching the fat content yet creating a far better product as far as health is concerned.

Studies show that diets low in saturated fats and cholesterol are helpful in maintaining a good heart condition, the Food and Drug Administration shows that food manufacturers to advertise polyunsaturated foods as such.

Why Go to SLU, Mr. Lenzi

To the Daily Egyptian:

Actually, I would like to direct this letter to Mr. Ray Lenzi and his background as a teacher. Yes, sir, Carbondale isn't New York or Boston.

According to your past statements, Southern is behind the times as far as television is concerned. Why go. SLU is not progressing as fast as you and others would like. These words do you and others attend SLU?

Don't beg you to stay on here? With such fertile fields as UCLA and Columbia awaiting, why not stay on in all that "groovy" swimming and profit.

All you do is copy from these institutions anyway.

May I ask you what gives you the right to freedom of speech and protest? It's the Constitution, of course. And who are the people who are protecting this right for you? These words do you and others attend SLU?

Yet, you have the utter tenacity to refuse these men their right to be heard. What are you afraid of? I believe you think that you wake up and let somebody else create.

Thank God you're leaving. Some of us, believe it or not, will not mourn your going. I'm sure you can have a spot at Columbia or at least at the University of Illinois. Some of us like the system of the state school. It affords us to go to school at all. I think in many ways. Why do we then have to go along in "paying" for anything? Are we not students SLU?

Also, right or wrong, there always will be a way to get along. Live with it. It will outlive you by your belief in protest. It will outlive you. Everything! The Egyptians, the military recruiters, and the university administrators of this University.

Senate Meeting Faker Show

To the Daily Egyptian:

It's a shame that the reason students on this campus missed their teach after school because of a meeting place at last Wednesday's Senate Meeting. A group of dress unkempt, pseudo-hippies and other assorted part-time hangers-on invaded the University Center ball-rooms and intimidated quite a few of our spineless "senators" into passage of a number of controversial bills without due consideration.

Senator Gary Krischer harass the Senate constantly, as did others. All year long, none of these people have attended any Senate meetings, yet they showed up and appeared that night. Gary Krischer may have won the most votes in the Senate, but he is not the most intelligent, and definitely not the most active.

In seeking change, one must act responsibly. To deal with responsible people (and I believe that most administrators are), one in violence is he that touches the mouth, picking lice out of one's hair, and throwing ultimatums at the president.

To gain their respect, and this is really necessary for living in peace and brotherhood with all people, one needs to develop a respect, first, for oneself and one's ideas as an individual, and second for one's intellectual capabilities.

One ridiculous bill which was passed this week states that any student who is expelled from school for violent demonstrations. This is just another area in which the Student Senate is interfering with us in which we have no real power. We cannot prevent expulsion, just as we cannot admit students to the University. We may give our support to amnesty, but we cannot grant it.

As regards a sleep-out and take-over of the University Center, I have this to say: Mr. Krischer, I hope you will explain to their parents why the girls are expelled, if a sleep-out which erupts into violence. You comfort them when they come to you for help. And knowing you, Mr. Krischer, I doubt if you'll help them very much when it comes to dealing with administrators and getting the participants back into school.

Learn to Tolerate Recruiters

To the Daily Egyptian:

After reading the article in the May 2 issue of the Daily Egyptian entitled "Group Wants Recruiters Out," I began to see a bit of red. It is about time the Southern Illinois Peace Committee got their feet back on the ground.

How can they honestly demand that the military recruiters be removed from the University Center while they are allowed to picket north of the Center as well as set up displays in area H? I have never been approached by any of the military recruiters, but I have had SIPC members stuff propaganda sheets into my hands on several occasions.

The article quotes a member of the SIPC stating that this is another case in which 'student desires were given absolute no consideration.' How many members does the SIPC have? 50? 100? 200? There are almost 20,000 students on this campus as well as faculty members and the administrators. It isn't possible, SIPC members, that some of the people in this large group want the military recruiters on campus?

I would guess that more people are in favor of their presence than are opposed to it.

I have a right to talk to a military recruiter if I wish to do so. I do not intend to allow a group of students to remove any rights from me. I will fight this just as hard as a removal of rights by the administration or the Congress of the United States.

So SIPC members, I suggest that you learn to tolerate the military recruiters or else simply ignore their existence. This does not effect your silly displays north of the University Center.

An Editor's Outlook

Israel's 20 Years

By Jenkin Lloyd Jones

General Features Corp.

This month Israel celebrates its 20th birthday.

Seventy-three years ago, when Theodor Herzl assembled the first Zionist congress in Vienna, he thought he had a clear vision. He reasoned that European Jews would always be racked by pogroms and persecutions until they were protected by a "spiritual home" with a flag and a government. He turned to biblical prophecy, the great "dispersal" or scattering of the Jews to be followed by the "reunion of the exiles" into a new Jerusalem.

The dream was planted, but nothing came of it until World War I, when British Foreign Secretary Arthur Balfour, desperately seeking new support for Britain in the struggle, wrote to Lord Rothschild that "His Majesty's government views with favor the establishment in Palestine of a national home for the Jewish people."

After the war, with Enver Pasha in control of Palestine, the Zionists came to collect and got nothing. The British pointed to the rest of the declaration which had added: "Nothing shall be done that shall prejudice the existing non-Jewish communities in Palestine."

The British did not intend to set up a separate Jewish state, but only to facilitate the immigration of individual Jews. So matters stood until World War II, and in the four years the population of world Jewry was reduced from 16,750,000 to 11,500,000. Outside of the 3 million Jews in America, there were only 6 million left in the whole world, and most of those in Europe were utterly ruined and uprooted.

The Zionists sprang into action. The need was obvious, on every other homeland but the Promised land of Moses would do. And 20 years ago, under heavy pressure from Washington, the United Nations authorized the new Israel.

The trouble was that the ancient Jewish homeland was no vacuum. It had been overwhelmingly Arab for 20 centuries. In 1948, the Jewish people said they only wanted half of it. The Arabs demanded to know by what right foreign nations could impose upon Palestine a vast alien immigration, lot alone an alien state. It was and is a good question. But to the government of practically everybody a fast pan-Arab war to obliterate Israel failed utterly. In the Suez crisis of 1956 the Israelis sliced through the Egyptian armies as though they were cream cheese. And the five-day war last June was a textbook classic. Any superstition that Jews can't fight has vanished.

Yet the economic side has been so bright, The Zionists envisioned a small, highly industrialized state, populated by skilled workers of principally European background, trading profitably with their near Eastern neighbors. But the Arab boycott has been tight and unrelenting. Efforts to develop suburbite trade with Africa have been only partially successful.

Israel is a relatively sterile land, possessing modest amounts of potash, phosphates and copper. It is not a low-cost country for its people will not accept coolie wages. Miracles have been accomplished in factory building and irrigation. With a courage which Washington would do well to emulate, the Israeli government has dampened tendencies toward inflation.

But Israel remains a mendacious nation. It has received from the U.S. government $1 billion in grants and loans. Germany has paid it $860 million in reparations. It gets $80 to $800 million annual infusion from the United Jewish Appeal. And still its imports normally exceed its exports by two to one.

There is no peace with its neighbors. There will be none for a long time. Some Arab leaders need hatred-of-Israel. It is their substitute for reform within their own countries. And Israel cannot act as the United Nations would like to have it act as long as it looks down the barrel of a gun.

That's why the United States is wrong in pressing for a return by Israel of all the captured territories as long as there is no formal peace between the Jews and the Arab world. Israelis are not again going to try to till their fields beside the Sea of Galilee, between shellbursts from Syrian guns on Golan Heights.

Uncle Sam has been badly hurt by his headlong and headline support of the Zionists 20 years ago. It cost him the friendship of the Arab world at the moment he began to need it. America has become an open anti-Semitic as it seeks to tilt the balance of world power by wooing the oil-rich Arab states.

But Israel is now a fact, and no honorable nation can permit 2.6 million people to be driven into the sea. We, more than any other nation, set up Israel. We must now guarantee her.

What went wrong 20 years ago was the assurance by the Zionists that after a short period of unrealistic aggression, they would come around. Theodor Herzl's vision may have been clear, but the prophets were way off.

Columbia U. Closes

NEW YORK (AP)—Two weeks of campus crisis at Columbia University ended Monday, but almost two-thirds of its schools and departments abandoned formal classes for the rest of the term.

The besieged university opened its doors for the first time in 10 days, directing its faculty and students to work out their own ground rules. But the acting dean held captive for 24 hours when the student protest started April 23 said the normal education process was finished for this school year.

Rebel students arriving to close the 25,000-student Ivy League university altogether mounted a boycott of classes Monday morning. By noon, about 300 men token picket lines before more than a dozen buildings. But after minor early morning scuffling, the pickets merely shouted and jeered at unsympathetic students and staff members striding along their line.

The movement to call off formal classes almost four weeks before the official end of the term May 29 was led by Columbia College, two centuries old and the largest of the university's units. Its faculty voted to take that step Sunday.

Many Voters Undecided

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Undecided Indiana voters who make up their minds at the polls in Tuesday's primary may alter the course of the Democratic presidential nomination contest.

Although they vary in percentages, the opinion polls indicate that a substantial portion of the Democrats among nearly one million Hoosiers scheduled to cast ballots are waiting until the last minute to decide whether to support Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., or Gov. Robert Branigin.

Supporters of former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, alone on the GOP ballot, bought extensive newspaper, television and radio advertising to urge Republicans not to cross over into the Democratic column.

Nixon's supporters published a full page ad, "Are you willing to lie for Hubert Humphrey?" The ad went on to say that a vote for Brangian is a vote for Humphrey. Branigin, running as a stand-in for President Johnson until the latter took himself out of the race, shifted to a favorite son stance. He and Humphrey have exchanged statements of mutual admiration.

There are indications that any GOP cross-over voting might be aimed primarily against Kennedy. Some polls are predicting more than 15 per cent of the 350,000 or more Republicans will vote Democratic.
27 Trapped
In Flooded
Coal Mine

HOMINY FALLS, W. Va. (AP) -- A "wall of water" from an abandoned mine poured in on a coal crew Monday, trapping some of the 27 miners as far as two miles from the surface.

Officials said: "We hope to get as many as 12 out sometime during the night but 'expect the worst' for the remaining 12."

Rescue workers made contact with 17 closest to the mine opening but another ten could not be reached by radio telephone.

The mine is the Carwell No. 8, owned by the Coalve Coal and Coke Co., and is located about 75 miles southeast of Charleston, the state capital.

Water broke through and trapped the men just before noon while they were chopping at a coal vein. Company officials said they were working from an old map which indicated an abandoned mine was 200 feet away. But they punched through the wall and water flooded the passageways.

Big pumps were hauled into action to drain the water but there were cars that it was rising as fast as it could be pumped.

A group of students from Crittchen High School helped lay lines for the pumps. But they said the water level swelled by two feet in the five minutes they were in the passageway.

The 15 in telephone contact with rescue units said they were on 'fairly high ground and are okay for the time being.'

They were about one mile from the mine opening on a broad level in the passageway and said 'we have enough air.'

Mine foreman, Frank Davis, and another worker were one and one-half miles from the mine opening. They were reached once by telephone but contact was then lost.

The remaining 12 workers were scattered throughout the mine, working in groups in separated pockets.

"March" Donations
Local Drive for Poor Starts

A drive to raise money to purchase food for those involved in the Poor People's March in Washington is in progress on campus.

Steve Lewis, instructor in education, said approximately $200 has been collected on campus. Minors have been stationed outside the north end of the University Center and have also visited dormitories.

The SIU movement is a part of the Memphis phase of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference's Poor People's March.

Stuart Taylor, assistant professor of management, his wife, Steve Hoffman, graduate student in the Department of History, and his brother Tom Hoffman left Monday night for Marks, Miss., to take donations to the marchers. They will return today.

In the near future the SIU branch will seek building supplies such as hammers and nails, adhesive bandages, cigarettes and other items to be used while marchers camp in Washington.

The group is looking for faculty personnel such as teachers, singers, readers, recreation workers and nurses' aides to contribute professional services in Washington over the Memorial Day weekend.

Those making the memorial weekend trip will also deliver the collection of food and will form an SIU delegation to speak to Congressmen concerning proposed legislation.

According to Lewis, those planning to make the Washington trip hope to obtain University transportation.

Persons wishing to contribute food may take contributions to 116 South Forest. Contributions made during the day should be placed on the porch while night contributions should be placed through the window of the building.

Contributions may be made by Tuesday night at the Thrift Shop, 10E. Jackson, or may be taken to the Canterbury House, 402 W. Mill.

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) -- Cassius Clay, the world's heavyweight boxing champion who refused induction into the armed forces last year, lost an appeal of his conviction and five-year prison sentence Monday.

The 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals ordered a lower court judge's decision that Clay should have accepted service as an Army private, despite his claims to be a Black Muslim minister and conscientious objector.

A federal court jury in Houston, Tex., June 29, 1967, convicted Clay on criminal charges. The judge sentenced him to the maximum prison term of five years and a $10,000 fine.

"Being entirely satisfied that he has been accorded due process of law and without discrimination, we affirm this conviction," wrote Circuit Judge Robert A. Atkinson Jr. of New Orleans.

Clay, who prefers his Muslim name, Muhammad Ali, is free on $5,000 bond. His lawyers have promised a fight to the U.S. Supreme Court.

His draft board ordered him to report for duty on April 24, 1967, in Houston. Once at the induction center, however, in a highly publicized move, he would not take the traditional one-step forward, signifying entry into the armed forces.

Although the influential U.S. boxing circles stripped Clay of his title when he defied induction, he is still recognized as the champion in some countries of the world.

GENERAL EXAMINATION INFORMATION

Examinations for one and two-credit hour courses will be held during the last regularly scheduled class period prior to the formal final examination week. Three, four, and five-credit hour courses will meet at the times listed above. Any no-credit courses having examinations will follow the same schedule as outlined for one and two-credit hour courses.

A student who finds he has more than three examinations on one day may petition, and a student who has two examinations scheduled at one time should petition his academic dean for approval to take an examination during the make-up examination period on the last day. Provision for such a make-up examination period does not mean that a student may decide to miss his scheduled examination time and expect to make it up during this time. A special examination is to be used only for a student whose petition has been approved by his dean.

A student who requires a special examination may not take an examination before the times scheduled for the class examination. Information relative to the proper grade to be given a student who misses a final examination and is not involved in a situation covered in the preceding paragraph will be found in the mimeographed memorandum forwarded to members of the instructional staff at the time they receive the final grade listing for the regular term.

A special note needs to be made relative to examinations for students who have been granted a special time for examining all sections. As some students are scheduled at night they may not be able to attend the special examination period scheduled for the daytime, each department involved will have to arrange special examination periods for such students. This problem involves those night students who are fully employed during the day and who are taking night courses because it is the only time they are able to do so.

Geology Department Gets Seismic Unit

A trailer-mounted seismic recording unit has been presented to the Department of Geology by the Shell Oil Co. to be used in class instruction and research projects.

The $17,000 unit is designed to record seismic shock waves generated within the earth by explosives and is used extensively in petroleum exploration, according to Dan Miller, chairman of the Department of Geology.

"Recordings are made of the times of arrival of shock waves at various distances from an explosion," Miller said. "By studying these arrival times, we can interpret what the attitude and depth of deep rock layers may be." Included in the unit are 24 electronic amplifiers, batteries and a generator for its power, photographic supplies for recording the shock waves, and 3,600 feet of cables with 30 geophones which are placed on the earth's surface to receive the shock waves.

Miller said the cables and geophones are laid out at intervals along a line 1,200 feet in length. Dynamite is exploded at one end of the line. The shock waves, traveling through the earth along the line of geophones, transmit the signal through the electronic amplifiers onto the photographic paper.

Formal presentation of the unit was made to the SIU Foundation.

Student Promotes Own Candidate

Looking for a dark horse in the '68 presidential election? Gregory D. Laun, a junior in micros and in preventing rattling conventions. "Laun said.

Humphrey, or Kennedy, anding the dark., smoke-filled back room of Bloum's Tavern and lunch in New Holland, according to Laun, who quipped that "this is probably as close as Mayor Bell will ever get to the smoke-filled rooms of professional politics."

When pressed on the matter, Laun admitted that he was not really serious about this. "As far as I know, Levi isn't considering running for President, but he might accept a true and meaningful draft," he said. Laun also admitted that he does not even know which party Bell belongs to.

"It's just too early to say whom I would really vote for. So much depends on what happens in Vietnam and in the cities this summer," said Laun, whose birthday is in November, but too late for him to be eligible to vote this year.

Injury-Riddled Team Faces Illini

SIU's injury-riddled track team will limp into Champaign today for a dual meet with the University of Illinois.

Five of Southern's top performers are doubtful participants. Without them the Salukis' chances of winning are considerably reduced.

"With a maximum effort from the injured boys we would lose 74-74," said Coach Lew Hitzqog. "If they are all healthy it will be close enough that any one of the other boys could turn out an outstanding performance and we'd win it."

The injured players include SIU record holder Rose Mackenzie, Chuck Benson, Rich Ehrlich and Matt Livingston.

Mackenzie, who runs the 440 and relays, is hampered with a tendon "tie-up" while running-mate Benson is suffering from an injured calf that occurred when he fell and spiked himself in the meet with Kansas last Saturday.

Ehrlich, who holds the SIU pole vault record, pulled a muscle in his abdominal wall and Bill Gardiner, who runs the 440, is suffering from a pulled hamstring.

Livingston, SIU record holder in the high jump, is also a doubtful entry as he has been suffering from a bad back and was not able to participate in the Kansas meet.

The crippled squad drags into the dual meet with powerful Kansas 103-37.

Mackenzie won the 440 in 48 seconds, Jeff Duxbury captured the mile in 4:14.7, John Vernon won the triple jump at 50-5 and Dan Tindall won the javelin at 220-5/12.

Seconds went to Vernon in the long jump, Fll Blackiston in the shot put and Grover Webb in the discus.

Third place honors went to Jim Thomas in the high jump, Al Deppe in the 100, Duxbury in the 880, and Ken Holman in the two-mile run.

Southern gained runner up honors in the 440-yard and mile relay competition.

Triangular Golf Meet

Scheduled in St. Louis

Coach Lynn Holder's golf team will shoot for its first match victory of the year when SIU meets North Texas University, Wichita State and Saint Louis in a triangular meet today at the Missouri Country Club in St. Louis.

Southern's linksmen won their 15th match Friday evening at Downeast Missouri State 10 1/2 to 51/2 in Cape Girardeau. The Salukis have lost six times this season.

Senior Steve Heckel was medalist with a 71, barely edging teammate Dave Wargo who scored 72.

Harvey Ott and Jim Schonhoff finished with 73's to round out the lineup for the Salukis.

Saluki Soccer Club Suffered Defeat by Panthers Sunday

Eastern Illinois shattered the SIU International Soccer Club's hopes for an undefeated season with a 1-0 victory here Sunday afternoon.

The defeat was SIU's first in three outings this year. The club owned Eastern in the first two.

The visiting Panthers scored the only goal of the match in the opening minutes of the first half when a pass from the right wing was shot in from close range.

Southern had trouble putting an attack together in the opening round as numerous passes went wide or away.

In the meet at St. Louis today, the Salukis will be up against one of the top golf teams in the nation in North Texas State. The Eagles have captured two NCAA championship titles and are perennial powers in the collegiate golf circuit.

The Salukis will be meeting North Texas for the first time this season. The linksmen downed St. Louis in a match held earlier in the year 382 to 407.

Heckel, who had a scoring average of 72.5, is going into the match with Southeast Missouri, maintained the number one spot on the team with his 71.

Tennis Team Triumph In Tennessee Tourney

Southern's tennis team added another trophy to its growing collection yesterday, securing the Tennessee Classic Tournament at Knoxville.

Stu had 17 points compared to Tennessee's 14, Tulane's 13 and Florida State's 10. Tennessee beat Tulane and Florida State 5-4 and 4-5, and dropped a 4-5 match to Florida State.

The key individual win came when Stu's Macky Dominguez downed Florida State's Tom Schaeferman 1-7, 7-5 and 6-3. Until then, the Salukis had won just 4-4 in point matches.

The team performed excellently against three very talented teams. Both Tennessee and Tulane were ranked among the nation's top 10 teams, according to "Tennis," Coach Dick LeFevre said.

"Each team played with all their forces, with each single match and three doubles," LeFevre said. "One point was given for each win and loss.

The victory raised the team's record to 13-1, 7-0 and 5-3. For Dick, this was his first tournament as head coach for the Salukis.

Stu's only loss was to Oklahoma City, 5-4.

Freshman Peter Feimer lost to Tennessee's Tony Mozur and Tulane's president 4-6, 6-2 and 6-2.

Stu also beat Perce Kelly, Tulane, and Dennis Gage, Florida State, 8-6 and 6-3.

Stu's game against Tulane's Jim Ward, Tulane's Captain, was 6-3, 6-4, and 6-1. Villarino beat Herb Rapp, Florida State, 8-6 and 4-5.

Stu's game against Tulane was 6-3, 6-1 and 6-0.

The Salukis won all doubles but two. Yang-Maggiori lost to Tennessee's Grinnan-Rush and 6-4, 6-5 and 6-3, and to Tulane's Durkin-Kelley, 7-5, 7-5 and 6-3.

The team will host Toledo May 8. Toledo is in third Mid-American Champ.
Returning Regulars Win Intrasquad Game

SIU's notorious John Quillen produced several new surprises during the team's annual Red-White intrasquad game Saturday afternoon.

Quillen took the opening kickoff and scooted 99 yards to open the scoring for the Red unit, comprised of returning regulars.

He later scored two more touchdows, including the first half touchdown to lead his team to a convincing 47-0 win over the Whites.

"I was very surprised," Quillen said. "This had never happened to me before." The junior, who doesn't look like a football player, stands 5-9 and weighs 149 pounds. His punch, though, was good enough to supply two additional touchdowns on runs of 77 and three yards.

"The 7-yarder was on a draw play," Quillen said. "The offensive line did a pretty good job. Their timing and execution were very good."

Quillen first gained notice during SIU's 16-13 Tulsa upset at homecoming last fall. In that game, Quillen intercepted three passes from Tulsa quarterback. He still prefers offense, however, and says "I like to run the ball."

The junior from New Orleans sat out the final 15 minutes of the game after he injured his jaw playing in the defensive secondary late in the third quarter. Quillen said Monday that his jaw might be fractured. Results of X-rays will not be known until Wednesday.

Setting the final quarter of Saturday's game did bother Quillen, because he wanted to have a shot at a fourth touchdown.

"I think I might have gotten it," Quillen said. "The defensive line has been improving every week."

Quillen gained 110 of the Reds' 267 yards on the ground. He carried the ball only 10 times.

Other scoring punch for the Reds was supplied by Tom Wirth with two wild pitches, and single touchdows by Roy Gray and Dave Krissman. Ron Presson added three extra points and Ed Edelman scored two points on a conversation attempt after a touchdown.

Quillen, because he wanted to have a shot at a fourth touchdown, tipped the game from the Red/defensive end, Greg Johnson, tipped a pass by Whites' quarterback, Tom Witz. Krissman grabbed the loose ball in mid-air, and carried the ball the final three yards.

The Reds' defense completely overwhelmed the Whites' offense, holding it to a meager 80 yards, only 10 of which were on the ground.

The Whites defense had its troubles, allowing a total of 435 yards to the Red Team. Jim McKay, Reds' starting quarterback, threw the only touchdown pass of the day, a 49-yard pass to Gray just before the game's end. In all McKay hit on nine of 27 passing attempts.

Other than Quillen, leading ground gainers for the Reds were Ed Lanier with 44, Edelman with 42 and Wirth with 37.
