BEVARD STATEMENT NOT SUPPORTED BY AMERICAN LEGION

Dr. Lloyd Bevard, editor of the Egyptian Legionnaire, acted without American Legion endorsement in publishing Southern's administration, according to a statement made last Tuesday by Eugene Combs, chairman of the board of governors of the Egyptian Legion.

Dr. Bevard had previously announced that the Egyptian Legionnaire demanded that the State Teachers College Board give Dr. Chester F. Lay a vote of confidence and called the charges against him "unfounded, misrepresented, and petty."

Bevard said that he had issued the statement after a committee of seven Legionnaires had interviewed student veterans, business men, and teachers in connection with charges against Dr. Lay.

The committee was composed of seven Legionnaires who had interviewed student veterans, business men, and teachers in connection with charges against Dr. Lay.

State Board Requests Persons To Submit Pertinent Information

$42,000 ALLOTTED TO '46-47 STUDENT ACTIVITIES

Student activity funds totaling $42,000 have been recently allotted to some 20 student activities for 1946-47. This total is some two and one-half times the amount allocated for these activities last year, but falls some $5,500 below the total amounts requested by the activities' sponsors.

The $42,000 represents the amount which it has been estimated can be spent during 1946-47.

It is estimated that Southern's student activity fee for 55 per cent during the year ending June 30, 1947, will yield $45,000. An estimated $11,000 of this, however, represents student activity fees for veteran students, which will not be collected from the Federal Government until after June 30, 1947.

This leaves a total estimated actual cash income during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1947, of $34,000. To this has been added $8,000 (Continued on page 4)

Barton Says Veterans Lead Other Students In Geography Classes

"Veterans of the second world war are leading the way in geography classes at Southern. According to Dr. Thomas F. Barton, chairman of the geography and geology departments, veterans are producing superior grades in this particular field."

Dr. Barton credits the veterans' success to the fact that most veterans are more serious minded. Have traveled far, and have needed many places of geographic importance. He said the veterans are more willing to spend long hours studying.

According to Dr. Barton, the veterans are not only easier to teach because of the high standards veterans are maintaining, but also are often more interesting. This fact he attributed to the wide variety of knowledge contained within group of veterans. Practically every region of the world has at least one representative visitor who can give an eye-witness report of its geographic importance.

Contributions are not only of value to the veteran but also are helpful to the student who has come directly from high school to the campus.

ALUMNUS ON STAFF AT U. OF WISCONSIN

Robert W. Finley, an alumnus of Southern, has been appointed chairman of the extension department of geography at the University of Wisconsin.

BOARDS TO MEET JANUARY 20

The next regular meeting of the Board will be held here on January 23 at which time testimony on the investigation will be heard.

Previously, Dr. Chester F. Lay had said he welcomed in inquiry into university operations and achievements. "The facts are much that we can take pride in Southern's progress," he said. "It will be glad to have all the complaints brought into the open to clear up this situation. Submitting of statements to the Board is the logical way to conduct the investigation."

The resolution of the Alumni Association asking for the investigation was adopted at their meeting here on November 2.

Holder Comes From Navy to Southern Faculty Staff As Assistant Coach

By Bill Welch

Engrossed in the hopes that someday soon he will find a home in Carbondale, Lynn C. Holder, former naval lieutenant in naval rehabilitation centers, joined Southern's faculty this fall to become an assistant football and basketball coach.

Lynn graduated with a bachelor of education degree from Southern in 1934, then attended Indiana University for the master's degree with additional graduate work he-fore he accepted the position of coach and director of physical education at Lawrenceville, Ga., township high school. He held this position until 1942.

At that time he enlisted in the United States naval reserve and became a lieutenant commander at the pre-flight school, Chapel Hill, North Carolina, where his duties were to coach basketball and football. After two years he was transferred to the naval training center at Sampson, New York, where he served as naval rehabilitation officer.

Later, he was transferred to the naval hospital at San Diego where he served as naval rehabilitation
officer in athletics and recreation administration. Then he served as liaison officer and coordinator in rehabilitation at the largest naval hospital in the world, at San Diego. Here he was stationed 22 months.

For discharge he was transferred to the naval redistribution center at Great Lakes where he was released to inactive duty on May 19, 1946.

His hobbies are those of the average physical education instructor—reading, bowling, hiking. He also favors dancing with his wife, the former Mary Wayman, '35, of

This column to be known as the "Question Box for vets" makes its appearance in the Egyptian for the first time this week as part of a program to answer pertinent questions which concern veterans enrolled in Southern.

A committee composed of key individuals concerned with veteran education and affairs has been formed to answer such questions veterans may ask. These questions should be placed in the box provided at the door of the Dean of mission.

If I pass less than 12 hours this semester, will the Government
stop my subsistence?
No! As long as the school accepts you as a student for the next term, subsistence will be paid. However, attendance in at least 12 hours is necessary for full subsistence. (Langdon).

What amount of money does the Federal Government put on deposit of Southern for fees as a veteran?
The Federal Government does not put any money on deposit for any veteran. However, the University can obtain payment from the Veterans' Administration for services rendered and supplies furnished eligible veterans in training under P. L. 15 and 3-6. Payments are made as provided by contract between the University and the Veterans' Administration upon the preparation and presentation of certified public vouchers. Such vouchers must indicate the name of the veteran, his serial number, his date of certification, his period of attendance, his major, the fees charged, and a statement of the materials and supplies furnished together with a statement certifying that such materials and supplies have been delivered to the trainee.
(Miles).

If I should do unsatisfactory work in school, will I ever be able to get Government help for future training?
Yes. With the approval of your training officer, your case will be considered by the Discussion Section at the Veterans Administration Guidance Cen-

Requests for student activity funds this year totaled $46,971, or $4,971 more than the total funds available.

This year, the President approved without change the recommendations of the Advisory Council. Students on Both Budget Committees, Advisory Council.

Students are represented on both the budget committee and the Advisory Council, although this year the names of the student representatives on the Student Activity Budget Committee were not submitted by the Student Council in time to notify them of the meetings of this group on October 2, 3 and 8.

NEW MEN'S LOUNGE REDECORATED

Renovation of the Men's Lounge on Thompson street across from the University, began Monday, November 18, according to Dr. Marshall Hickey, dean of men.

Formerly a private home, the lounge was recently leased as a part of the University expansion program. The house has three large rooms, two smaller ones, and a rest room, whereas the old veterans' lounge in the Old Science building was a one-room affair.

The lounge will be open to all men students plus all women veterans who desire counseling services. The office of the Illinois Veterans Commission, under the direction of William Winkler, and the office of the veterans' counselor Glenn J. McGowan occupy two rooms. The front room is for smoking and reading, with a display of magazines, adorning the shelves, plus a radio-phonograph. One room is maintained for studying and another for the canteen.

EGYPTIAN—$5,500. Entertainment—$3,500. Hospitalization—$5,000. OBOELAK—$8,500.

University Athletics—$400. University Athletics—$13,000. Wheeler Library Activity—$100. Women's Athletics—$500.

IT ALL TIES IN

By Bill Plater

Why do men wear ties? The answer to this question would be "they don't at Southern." A person who makes frequent appearances on the campus decked out in a white shirt and tie is immediately taken to either a faculty member or an undertaker. The only way to distinguish between the two is that the undertaker usually wears conservative colored pieces of cloth, while faculty members wear everything in designs from sea horses to signs of the zodiac.

After questioning several men wearing ties, who turned out to be students, it was found that they wear them for several different reasons. One fellow explained that he had only one suit of clothes and by wearing a different tie with it every day he created the illusion of having a complete change of outfit.

Another stated that he was an artist, and the only way he could express himself in appearance was by wearing ties of various color combinations to suit his moods and personality.

A gentleman, with a book titled "A Study of Man's Mind" under his arm, explained that ties gave him a psychological uplift. Until he had started wearing a certain brand of ties, he had felt depressed and inferior, but after including one in his daily wardrobe, he felt cheerful and had the ability to meet any situation.

One fellow told me he had a tie which he wore only at night when he sat in the parlor with his girl friend. When the lights are turned off, the tie lights up and spells, "Will you kiss me in the dark, baby?"

It is found that every Southern lad owns an average of 25 ties. Most of these cost $1, and were gifts. Ties fall into three groups. Any tie under $5 is just a plain necktie. Ties costing over $5 are called cravats. All ties over $15 are known as creations and are usually hand painted.

Most of the college guys tie are the four-in-hand style with one or two bows for formal occasions. The tie element could be one reason for the preference of four-in-hand. It takes only one minute to tie them and two to four minutes to tie a bow. Only one man in ten can tie a bow properly. The present trend today is slowly giving in to the fact of which there are some 120 different varieties. Famous men like Churchill, Sinatra, and Dagwood have done much to recover the tie.

The older men around the campus are found to tie their knots tighter and smaller, while the younger prefer the large, loose AC method. If you see a fellow wearing a wide four-in-hand, it is usually an indication that he is so intimidated. Stripes show inconsistency and red—determination.

"Is there really a game here this afternoon?" This was the first question that assailed me as I entered the field where the W.A.A. hockey game was scheduled last Thursday about 4 p. m. As far as the amount of fans were concerned, I can truthfully say that I had my pick of seats from which to watch, since the spectators present could be counted on one hand. Of all the students at SOUTHERN who seemed to be present, only five of them could be present to see the players outside themselves in the Thursday contest. Come on out, students, and give the co-ed a better looking during basketball season. They will really appreciate it.

Tidbits: No more attempts to master the merely art of football will be made at Kati State Hall for a long time. A broken window was the result of the last two men (7) game carried on with the assistance of the 1 Club Homecoming football, which was won by Peg Sawyer. Two bad, Nide and Thomas, that your ambitions were squelched so early in the game.

Sportswomen of the Week—This week I want to introduce Evelyn Parker as the "sportswoman" of the week. Evelyn, a resident of Danvers, is a senior from Rindford and a physical education major. She is a member of W.A.A. in which she holds the office of president. At present, she is captaining the Southern Pioneers team which is currently wearing the 1946 women's hockey crown.

STATEMENT FROM PRESIDENT LAY

the opening of school, for example, in order to help provide instruction for the extraordinarily large enrollment of students, particularly veterans.

Naturally, with so many temporary appointments being made, the turnover is bound to be large. Appointments to the permanent faculty and staff, of course, are made with the greatest care to insure the securing of personnel of the highest caliber. Of this permanent teaching faculty members, 18 hold the doctor's degree, highest academic and professional degree. (In all, 81 members of the faculty hold the doctor's degree, holding two doctor's degrees each. In 1944-45, there were 44 members of the faculty who hold the doctor's degree, including 14 members then on leave of absence.)

From these facts, it would appear that Southern's faculty has not only been enlarged to take care of the exceptionally large enrollment of students, but has also been considerably strengthened by the qualifications—both in training and experience—of the new people added to it.

(4) Southern received an appropriation for the 1947-48 fiscal year of four and two-thirds million dollars for the acquisition of land and the construction of new buildings. At the time this appropriation was made, the war was still in progress. Yet plans were pushed forward for building just as soon as labor and materials became available. Many months ago University authorities completed the plans for these new buildings and applications were placed in the hands of the State Department of Architecture and Engineering. When the law is responsible for the drawing of final blueprints, awarding of the contracts and in general seeing to it that buildings are actually erected.

Meanwhile, both labor and materials are still scarce, and construction costs have risen to almost double what they were when the funds were appropriated. More than one set of bids on construction of State buildings has been rejected because all bids were in excess of funds available. Only recently the State Department of Architecture and Engineering reported to us that bids would be called shortly on construction here at Southern. Whether any of the bids obtained will approximate the funds available is not known.

Here again, neither Southern nor the State Department of Architecture and Engineering can purchase materials or hire labor on the open market to construct its proposed buildings. The accepted procedure for State institutions must be followed. Expenditures must be limited to the amounts specified by the General Assembly. Plans for the buildings have been approved by Southern officials, and the matter is completely out of our hands.

Meanwhile, to date, Southern has completed the purchase of properties totaling $178,450 and has obtained options on additional properties totaling $278,390 toward its land acquisition program for the expansion of its present plant. In other words, $429,750 of the total appropriation of $737,500 for land acquisition during this biennium has been spent or obligated. Other properties will continue to be purchased as rapidly as negotiations can be closed.

The facts in regard to the above points are readily ascertainable by any person who wishes to seek

Onized-Chefford To Open Southern Cage Season On Nov. 30

With the opening games of the season only four days away basketball practice is moving into high gear in anticipation of meeting the traditionally strong Alton Onized and Chefford Manufacturing teams Saturday night in the gymnasium. Earlier drills placed emphasis on conditioning, ball handling, shooting, and defensive work, but last week the squad began strenuous scrimmaging which will continue all this week.

The game originally scheduled for December 3 with Merremac Caverns has been canceled because of a raid on the Merremac team by the St. Louis Blue pro team. After the games Saturday the Maroons' next project will be an invasion of St. Louis to play St. Louis University and Washington University on succeeding nights. The following night the Billings team from Eastern will be the Washington Bears face Eastern. The following night the Billings team from Eastern will be the Washington Bears face Eastern.

Stellar and Cabutti Report
Gene Stellar and Leo Cabutti from last year's team reported for practice last week and will be the only members of last year's championship team that will be available for the first game.

Sam Milavich, Southern's great center and forward for the past three seasons, will be out of action indefinitely as a result of a severe bruise suffered in the football game against Northern. This blow, coupled with the broken ankle that star player Quincy Stinson suffered earlier, has cast a gloom over the Maroon camp. Coach Martin is now faced with the task of building the team over instead of having four men for last year's first five to depend upon in the early times.

However a number of freshmen from beyond the war are on hand to lend stability and experience to the large number of freshmen who Six teams of Harriers take off in the rain as Southern played host to the State Invitational and I.I.A.C. Cross-country meet. Wheaton won state honors, while State Normal upset Southern as top champs.

..Sport Shots..

By BOB McDOWELL

"Always a bridesmaid—but never a bride." That is the axiom that is holding true for the Southern Harriers. For the past three years, the Maroons have battled to the end of the football season for the crown only to have DeKalb beat them out in the last game of the season.

In 1944, the Huskies took the final encounter 10-12 and annexed the I.I.A.C. crown. Northern took a 1-7 verdict in 1945, giving the State Normal Redskins the title; and this year, the men from DeKalb laid it on the Maroons 10-0 and won the honors again.

It seems as though, this "colony of the north" is a particular nemesis for Southern, although last Saturday, the weather didn't help the Maroons' cause (either financial or game) any. However, the DeKalbs had to play on the same field.

As they say in Brooklyn, "Wait until next year."

Attention! All eligible bachelors on Southern's campus. If you desire to wed, if you desire to become a husband, if you desire a wife, the answer is simple. Join the Egyptian sport staff. James G. Gibson made his vows on Saturday, November 16, while Otto Knight expects to do the same.

Northern Sweeps To I.I.A.C. Crown By Downing Maroons

By Richard Jackson

On cold and wind-swept MacAndrew Stadium, Saturday, November 16 the Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference championship went to DeKalb's Huskies by virtue of a 10-0 win over the valiant Southern Illinois Normal Maroons.

The muddy condition of the field made both yard line and running extremely difficult. A great game was turned in by the Southern line which was headed by glint tackle Charles Mathew of Eldorado, and Charlie Hahn of Gillespie, center. Hahn and Mathew were not the only players who were outstanding, however. Bob Etheridge of Fairfield, Leo Bill Cabutti of Johnston City, Gene Stollman of Johnston City, and Gene Stollman of Pinckneyville contributed sparkling plays to the game.

Battle Gained Momentum

The battle seemed to gain momentum as time passed, since the first period was devoid of anything like a scoring play except when Southern got down to the Volleys' seven yard line through a clipping penalty, but were held by the stout DeKalb line. Frustrated in this quarter was featured line play with few long runs. However, DeKalb showed up on this Saturday ready to pace his men, until warned by officials that no pacing was allowed. Wonder where he disappeared to just before the race and two more victories carried the broadcast of the Southern-Northern football game. They were Station WJPF of Hering, with Doug Hadley at the mike and Station WGL of Carbondale with Don Boudreau officiating. This is the first time in Southern's history that two stations have handled the football broadcasts, simultaneously. Mark another milestone. Cheers for the band and the handful of spectators who braved the weather to watch the Maroon-Huskie tilt. Mr. Hines promised us before the game that "nothing short of a cloud-bomb will keep us off the field today."

The only touchdown of the half game came unexpectedly when Ed Bohannon intercepted and 37 Bill Malinsky's pass intended for Leo Bill Cabutti, and letted the pigskin behind blocking from the 47 to the 19. Three plays later saw hard-driving Hennigan plunge over from the one yard strike to make it 6-0. Hennigan had trouble counting on the conversion, but it was good, 7-0. No one threatened during the remainder of the period.

Maroon, Northern Drives Short.

Repeated drives by both the Maroons and Northern, quartered short of pay-dirt in the third stanza. The big heavy forward walls were battling through to hit the offensive backfield man, whether Maroon or Huskie, and first downs were tough to find. Mud by this time almost obliterated players' numbers which made it hard for broadcasters from WGL and WJPF to distinguish.

Late in the final quarter, Northern sought to insure their seven point margin by trying a field goal from Southern's 25 yard line. Hennigan, the husky kicker, essentially was entrusted this difficult task, and a beautiful field goal resulted in three additional points for the Huskies. This three points was only protective insurance. Southern was unable to score, and the game ended with the Maroons leading 10-0 with the score standing 10-0.

Me DeKalb-Carbondale game last Saturday finished all-gridiron activity in the I.I.A.C. this season. Coach Glenn "Ab" Martin's team, with a record for conference play of three victories and one defeat, rank second in the final standings which are usually free from ties and shared championships this year.

FINAL I.I.A.C. STANDINGS

DeKalb	4	0	100
SOUTHERN	3	1	70
Normal	2	2	50
Charleston	1	3	20

Highlighting the Maroon's basketball schedule this year are games with St. Louis and Washington University of St. Louis and with the University of Chicago and Loyola University, also, of Chicago, in addition to a Christmas tournament and the National Intercollegiate Tournament, both of which are to be played at Kansas City.

The Martinmen, reigning national intercollegiate champions, will face their first crucial test on December 6 when they meet St. Louis University on the "Missouri" home court. Southern will go into the contest with a decided advantage in that it will be their second game of the season and St. Louis' first. Those early games usually do much to toward working out kinks of the kinks which are likely to appear in any basketball machine.

Coach John Flannigan of St. Louis whose team will be making a bid for national recognition, has an unusual pre-season attitude this fall, considering the way most coaches go around kicking their heels and singing the blues because of season's delay. Flannigan admits that he is "pleased" with the showing of his practice squad, which began training early in October. Flannigan is hesitant about naming a first five, but would name Hucalacy at center, Schumann and Wilcutt at guards, and Schmidt and Miller at forwards, if it were necessary for him to floor a team today.

On December 7, the night after the Maroons meet St. Louis, they are scheduled to face Washington University. That will be quite a bid for national recognition, as Washington is one of the best so-called student who want to see several good games while relaxing after finals.

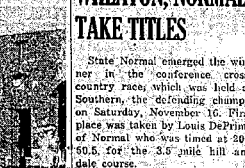

Washington plays her first game against Carbondale on Tuesday night. Washington is scheduled to meet St. Louis on Tuesday evening. Long has the high season score for the vet team.

Washington, with a varsity squad already out to 15 men, has begun intensive work on plays. Four lettermen from former years are back to strengthen his hopes for a successful season. They are Campbell, Walter, Schunkmiller, and London.

In addition to those teams already mentioned, Carbondale is scheduled to meet such strong outfits as Arkansas State, Indiana State, Milliken, and Cape Girardeau, as well as her conference opponents, Normal, Charleston, Macomb, and De Kalb.

WHEATON, NORMAL TAKE TITLES

State Normal emerged the winner in the conference cross-country race, which was held at Southern, the "defending champs" on Saturday, November 16. First place was taken by Louis DePue of Normal who was timed at 20:00.5 for the 3.5 mile hill and dale course.

The schools finished in the following order: first—State Normal (25 points); second—Southern (51 points); third—Western (66 points); fourth—Eastern (74 points).

Concurrent with the conference go was the State Invitational meet in which Wheaton College emerged victorious out of a five team field. Wheaton, which is coached by Ed Dodds, one of the best pillars of the country, was sparked by its star Bob Baker, who completed the course in 19:50.5.

The teams finished as follows in the invitational: first—Wheaton (26 points); second—State Normal (11); third—Southern (77 points); fourth—Western (93 points); fifth—Eastern (93 points).

Higher during the season. The coons are about $0 this year. All other prices are approximately the same. Wheaton, which is coached by Ed Dodds, one of the best pillars of the country, was sparked by its star Bob Baker, who completed the course in 19:50.5.

On or about December 20 of last season, mink prices jumped from $25 to $32. An increase of 28 per cent means that mink prices will start at about $40 and may go higher.
