Kappa Delta Alpha to be Initiated As Beta Delta Chapter of Theta Xi

Twelve members of Kappa Delta Alpha will travel to St. Louis today to be initiated as the Beta Delta chapter of Theta Xi, national social fraternity. The ceremony will take place at Washington University, where the fraternity will be guests of the Alpha Beta chapter.

The members will be individually initiated tonight. The fraternity body, including about fifty alumni who will attend the ceremony, will be initiated as a whole Saturday afternoon. The ceremony will be climaxed by a banquet on Saturday night at the Candlelight Room in St. Louis.

The present officers will retain their positions in the new fraternity. This year's officers are: Al Trtanj, Madison, president; Art Menendez, E. St. Louis, vice-president; Carroll Cox, Palmyra, treasurer; and Al Spizzo, Chicago, secretary.

OTHER ACTIVES making the trip are Dick Brown, Granite City; Bob Mosher, Marion; Jim Parker, Texico; Wayne Davis, Wood River; Joe Harding, Chicago; John Loy, Granite City; Norm Strotheide, Granite City; and Vern Rothwell, St. Louis, Mo. Other actives who are unable to make the trip but will be installed at a later date are Don Ledbetter, Murphysboro; Norm Megeff, Granite City; and Don Duffy, Chicago.

Kappa Delta Alpha was founded at Southern in 1933, with an active body of 12 charter members. The fraternity, second oldest on the campus, was the first social fraternity to re-organize after World War II.

The Annual All-School Variety

Show, a vaudeville show whose cast is made up entirely of Southern students, is sponsored by the fraternity. Feature attraction of this annual springtime event is the selecting of the outstanding male and female students for the "Service to Southern" award.

Finish Two Additional Men's Residence Halls

Two more Men's Residence halls have just recently been completed and will accommodate some 50 more SIU students for the winter term, reports William Rogge, supervisor. The two new barracks make a total of eight finished halls now available for occupancy.

All the furniture for the barracks has now been installed with the exception of desks which just recently arrived this week.

Rogge commented on the fact that the mirrors have all been installed, that the heating system is now working, and that the walks surrounding the barracks are now in fair shape. Included in the new furniture installed are sectional day-ports, chairs for the lounge rooms, and chests for each sleeping room.

It was pointed out by Rogge that there are still several opportunities for house supervisor positions.

Continue Plans for Nine-Day Campus Christmas Program

This year for the first time organized houses on campus will decorate for the Christmas season. An entire program lasting a period of nine days has been planned to go into effect, Sunday, Dec. 9, with the Messiah under the direction of Dr. Maurits Kesnar.

Monday has been set aside as an open day for all organizations. On Tuesday a religious program will be given in an all-student assembly in the men's gym. Although plans for the program are still in the early stages, a one-act play presented by the directing class of Little Theatre will be given and the Madrigals are to sing.

A Community Concert has been scheduled for the night of December 12.

MEMBERS of the Social Senate are urging all organized houses to have their Christmas parties on Thursday, Dec. 13. This day has been specifically designated for this purpose.

An all-school dance to begin at 9 p.m. Friday night, Dec. 14, with a concert preceding it earlier in the evening will be one of the featured highlights of the season. Negotiations for a band have as yet not been approved.

Saturday night is to be planned as a "surprise night" for the student body.

An "all-church" day has been set aside for Sunday preceding the beginning of Christmas vacation.

VARIOUS Christmas carolers will be evident in Carbondale Monday evening. The Student Center is to have an open house for carolers upon their return. At this time trophies for outstanding Christmas house decorations will be given.

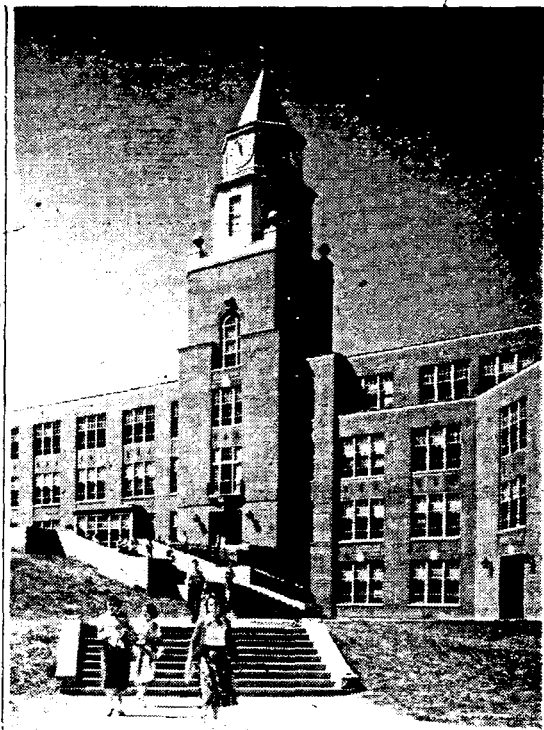

Plans for these pre-Christmas festivities are being planned co-jointly by faculty members, the Student Center, and the Social Senate. Jerry Fear, president of the Social Senate said, "We hope to plan an annual festivity here at Southern in which the faculty and students will be included together."

Miss Taft, director of Student Affairs, is the faculty sponsor of the group. School will be dismissed for Christmas vacation at 10 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 18.

JUST ONE MORE ISSUE OF EGYPTIAN THIS TERM

There will be just one more issue of the Egyptian this term. The last issue before winter term will come out Tuesday, Nov. 20. First issue of the winter term will appear Friday, Dec. 7.

All news to appear in Tuesday's paper must be turned in at the Egyptian office by 4 p.m. today.

UNIVERSITY TRAINING SCHOOL

Gov. Stevenson To Speak On Tonight's Program

Governor Adlai Stevenson will arrive in Carbondale this evening to speak at the formal open-house being held today at the newly completed University School. His address will serve as a climax to plans begun this September for an official open-house day following the completion of the building late this summer.

Preceding the assembly program, which will be last on the agenda of plans for the open house activities at the University School today, the Governor is to be the honor guest of President and Mrs. Morris at a dinner to be held at Anthony Hall at 5:30 p.m.

Other dinner guests are to be legislators from the surrounding areas, presidents of numerous educational institutes in Illinois, presidents of the Illinois Educational Associations, and other prominent educational leaders in the state.

SPECIAL PERIODS of the day ranging from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m., from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m., and from 6:30 to 10:30 p.m., have been designated as visiting periods. These periods will progress during regular class time at the school to allow visitors to observe the students at work.

Specially designed and labeled blue-prints of the entire building layout are being distributed today as a guide to all visitors so that every guest may become better acquainted with the building.

This evening's program will begin at 7 p.m. with entertainment by an instrumental ensemble under the direction of John Wharton.

During the program, Dr. Delyte Morris will be the master of ceremonies. Dr. John D. Mees, principal of the University School, SIU, will extend the welcoming address.

The University School's new public address system will be used as a medium of communication to the audience tonight, if the gymnasium will not accommodate the number of people expected.

THE NEW $2,000,000 University school is one of the most modern buildings of its kind to be found anywhere. A flood of natural daylight into the class rooms, fluorescent lighting, functional light-colored furniture, and built-in storage space are just a few of the innovations recommended by industrial researchers which make "function" the important keynote in the building, equipment, and other physical facilities.

Observation windows are a built-in feature of the special education room, nursery, kindergarten, and first grade. Other rooms and equipment of special interest include facilities for teaching hard-of-hearing pupils, soundproof rooms for the teaching of speech correction, and private practice rooms for music, plus green chalk boards, light green bulletin boards, and light, natural birch furniture to lessen eyestrain.

Track Star To Speak In Carbondale Tomorrow

Gil Dodds, famed track star known as the "Flying Parson" and professor at Wheaton college, will speak in Carbondale tomorrow evening at 7:30 at the First Baptist Church.

This interdenominational Youth for Christ meeting is open to all students and faculty of SIU.

A Center For Students

Many people, both off and on campus, had all kinds of nice things to say about Southern's new student center when it officially opened this fall. The campus newspaper at Northern Illinois State Normal even held up SIU as a bright and shining example of what could be done with an old barracks or two and a small budget.

The student center has staged several functions since its beginning, such as an open house, a Homecoming coffee hour, a Halloween party, and a series of cultural programs under the title of Sunday Soiree. Approximately 1,772 groups used the center for meetings and parties during the month of October.

IT WOULD SEEM that the center is well on its way to performing and fulfilling the functions it should for the students, but the truth is that the student center will have to cease having parties and social hours and other affairs altogether unless more students participate in the planning by assuming positions on center committees.

According to Miss Manlee Strang, student center director, a decreasing number of committee members have been planning each function. Of course, the university supports the center financially, including the payment of salaries for three student workers and a graduate assistant, who handle the various details of office work, checking out records, books, and keeping the center in order generally. These workers have no time to handle the planning of student functions. And it is not their job in the first place, but rather it is the responsibility of the students themselves.

Besides a steering committee which coordinates all activities, there are five standing committees: refreshment, decoration, music, publicity, and program. A total of twelve students are active members of these committees at the present time, with no membership at all on two of the committees, refreshment and music.

At the present time, the student center has $150 to spend for new records and no students interested enough to go downtown and select them. The director could do this, but her selection would not represent student choice, as it should.

OTHER UNIVERSITIES have proved that students can successfully run their student centers or unions. At the University of Georgia, with the threat of decreasing enrollment ever present, the student union still manages to provide a long list of activities including dancing, dancing instructions, bridge, table tennis and pool tournaments, campus sings, a Monte Carlo party, where authentic gambling devices are used and the proceeds go back into the union fund, and many other functions.

According to Miss Strang, the center wants to plan such activities as mixers, Christmas parties, coffee hours, and "apple polishing" get-togethers for winter term. But students are needed to carry out these plans. The Center has been invited to enter the 1952 National Intercollegiate Bridge tournament, with expense-paid trips for finalists to play a final round in Chicago, but student participation has been so inconsistent that the center director is dubious about entering the tournament. Perhaps the students who play bridge for such long stretches at the Canteen might be interested.

Anyone on campus—students, graduate students, and others—who wish to help in the planning of student center activities are urged to contact Miss Strang as soon as possible. V.M.

Children's Play

English Student Reviews 'Aladdin and His Lamp'

by John Bremer

It is a comforting thought that, particularly effective when leaping in these days, when it costs more and dancing with sheer joy.

It is a strange fact that children's plays are dominated by the villain effect—in this case the magician. The contrast between the magician and the other characters was not brought out sufficiently, and although Don Fearheiley was undoubtedly good, he would do well to make his speech and gestures slower.

THE SPECIAL effects (arranged by Dave Alverson) invariably went off smoothly and are to be commended. It is no mean feat to produce slaves and genie in a flash. Of the other members of the cast, Kalissa, (Nancy Spooner), deserves special mention for a minor part well played; Aladdin's mother (Robertha Atkins), Noona (Nancy Davission), the Genie and slaves of the Ring (Ted Maddox, Pat Lamont and Rose Owen), the Genie of the Lamp (Rob Reiske) and the guard (Catherine McClintock) all gave good support.

It was not clear whether the Genies of the Ring and Lamp were indebted to the costumes or make-up for their disguise—but could the distinction between them be made more obvious? Except for this minor criticism, the costumes and make-up were admirable, and those responsible for them, as well as for props and stage management must go a large share in the credit gained.

IN THIS DELIGHTFUL setting the story of Aladdin was enacted by a cast, who although not polished, were able to hold the audience and transport them to far-off China, where the action takes place. Bob Cagle, who played the Sultan at very short notice, and who also acted as graduate student director, is to be congratulated on a very convincing performance—although a little lacking in composition. Aladdin (Tom Berry) and the Princess Adora (Teresa White) were as infectiously naive and enthusiastic as we could hope—Aladdin being

Japan University Sends Thanks for SIU Books

Tatsuo Morito, president of Hiroshima University, Japan, sent his thanks to Southern Illinois University recently in a letter to President Delyte W. Morris, for a gift of 19 books selected and sent by Dr. Robert H. Muller, director of SIU libraries.

Hiroshima University's library collections suffered great damage, President Morito reports, and its buildings are not yet completely rebuilt.

IN SPITE of some minor mishaps the play never fell flat on its face. The only major criticism to be offered is that the play was not finished and at times seemed unrehearsed but by the next performance this defect will have been remedied. Could not some suitable music be found to set the stage, as it were—as an overture? The play was supervised throughout by Dr. Archibald McLeod.

It is unfortunate to see children, who at the age of four or five were always inquisitive, being almost unable to ask a question by the age of sixteen or more, when they have undergone our educational system; and similarly it is unfortunate to see children lose their delightful sense of imagination during the same period—to find them demanding "reality" meaning all the gadgets and devices used, in every day life, on the theatre stage.

Anything which encourages children and adults—to preserve that imaginative faculty is to be commended, and this series of plays at SIU and elsewhere, should be supported—for the high standard of production, and for the philosophy underlying the project.

Salukis Meet Cape, Arkansas State Next

Just one win. That's what Southern's Salukis will be searching for tomorrow when they pit forces against the Cape Girardeau Indians. The Salukis will attempt to put an end to a losing streak which has now extended through eight games, including last year's 25-7 loss to Western in the season's finale.

IN A GAME last Saturday, the Indians were nosed out 7-6 by Southwestern Missouri State Teachers' College of Springfield, Mo. This victory gave the Springfield team a first place tie with Litchfield in the final conference standings.

The Cape Indians will be out to avenge a beating which the Saluki "B" squad handed the junior Indians earlier in the season. But the Salukis, too, will be out for vengeance. A second quarter touchdown, and two safeties gave the Cape Redskins a 10-0 victory in last season's staging of the 38 year old rivalry.

SOUTHERN SALUKIS will then return home to play the role of host to the Arkansas State Indians next Saturday, Nov. 24. For the rebel Indians, victors in last year's engagement by virtue of a 47-0 scalping, the game will serve as a warm-up session and proving ground for their post-season bowl invitation. Coach England's Arkansas squad has accepted a bid to appear in the annual Refrigerator Bowl at Evansville, Ind., Dec. 2.

Southern Faces Indiana State in Cage Opener

Southern Illinois University's basketball team initiates its 1951-52 varsity season tomorrow night in Harrisburg when it shoots at Indiana State College from the famed Hoosier basketball state in the opener of a 25-game season.

Some 14 of the varsity squad's 27 men will make the trip to Harrisburg in hopes of getting the season off on the right foot for themselves and head Coach Lynn Holder.

Holder has reported that the probable starting lineup for tomorrow night's game will have freshman Bud Ripplmeyer at the center, captain Tom Millikin at one forward, Jerry Halloper or Welch at the other forward, and Kurtz and Taylor or Horst at the guard positions.

Following Saturday's game, the Salukis will have a two week interval before running up against Southeastern Louisiana, Dec. 1, on the Carbondale home court.

Holder regards the team as one of "the most highly spirited and hardest working crews I've had." He was assuring in saying, "The boys will give a good account of themselves come Saturday night."

Recently the varsity squad had its final cut which left 27 still on the team. In addition to those already mentioned are Valier, Thate, Theriot, Hodge, Halobowski, Engle, Miller, Henley, Newell, Dornier, Renfro, Scroggins, Nicholas, Johnson, Duncan, Ross, Reynolds, Gann, Cox, and Butler.

Ems Leads Salukis In Total Offense

Final statistics for Southern in conference play show that Bob Ems led the team in total offense with 371 yards. Ems picked up 331 yards in 93 carries for an average of 3.56 yards per try. Ems received five passes for a total of 119 yards. The hard-driving back also led the team in scoring with five touchdowns and one extra-point for a total of 31 points.

HUSKE was second in total offense with 292 yards, all of which came on passing plays. Bob Kendrick, freshman full back, was third in offense with 155 yards in 50 carries for an average of 3-1.

LEO WILSON was second in the scoring totals and first in total pass receiving. Leo caught 18 passes for 204 yards and two touchdowns.

CHARLIE NEIRY, the West Frankfort freshman who handles the kicking for the Salukis, punted 36 times for 1374 yards—an average of 38-17 yards per boot. He attempted eight conversions and succeeded three times.

Northern Huskies Win 1951 IAC Title, Salukis Last

Northern Illinois State's 20-7 victory over Western in DeKalb last week, their eighth straight win of the season, gave the Huskies undisputed possession of the Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference championship.

THE PENNANT WAS brought to DeKalb from Illinois Normal University, the first winner in the newly formed IAC. Northern's last conference win in 1946 was in the Illinois IAC, from which the Interstate league was formed.

This week the Huskies will try to clinch their first undefeated, untied season since 1944 when they played Omaha University at Omaha. Western, second place finisher for the second straight, will meet Carthage College Friday night at Carthage.

CENTRAL MICHIGAN, lopsided victors over Ferris Institute last week, will try for victory number six at Western Michigan Saturday, while Eastern Illinois travels to James Millikin.

MICHIGAN Normal, the team that walloped Southern Illinois University 47-7 last week to rise to fifth place after a winless season in 1950, will gun for the third straight against Wayne University in Detroit.

Southern, still looking for the first win of the season, will be at Cape Girardeau.

Salute the Salukis

by Jack Nettland

There haven't been too many bright spots on the Southern football machine this season but one has come in the person of Chuck Neiry. Chuck, a freshman from West Frankfort, has done the punting and extra point kicking for the Salukis during '51.

Recent final statistics released by the IAC show that Neiry led the league this year in the punting department with a 38.63 average for 33 kicks. This record was good enough to nose out one of the League's outstanding players from DeKalb, Bob Heimerdinger, who took second. Also helping the record was the fact that none of the 33 boots were blocked.

Punting to Chuck just seems to come naturally. Last year, while at West Frankfort High, he led the South Seven loop in that department. Previous to 1950, Chuck had prepped at Herrin and Harrisburg high schools in his sophomore and junior years respectively. During this time he also had a major interest in the field of kicking.

Neiry, a Southern version of Johnny-on-the-spot, (he's rushed in to punt on the average of six times per game) remembers two kicks in particular when recalling his SIU grid achievements for this fall. One came in the game with Northern of DeKalb and the other in the game against Illinois Normal played in Bloomington. "Both," grins Neiry when telling of them, "went about 55 or 60 yards."

In discussion the season thus far, Neiry refers to the Western game at Macomb as the toughest. (Southern lost that tussle 53-14.)

at Charleston.

Coleman, winner of the Loyola Invitational race Nov. 3, failed to recapture his IAC title in a meet here last Saturday. He was beaten by Michigan Normal's Ed Aylmer who won't be running in tomorrow's meet.

His closest competition is expected to come from Bob Swift of Illinois Normal who ran third in last week's conference meet.

Southern 'B' Squad Plays Scott Field Here

Southern's Saluki pups will meet the Scott Air Force team in a grid game today at McAndrew Stadium. The kick-off is at 3 p.m. This is the second contest between the two teams this season. In the previous encounter at Scott Field the Flyers eked out a 6-0 victory in a hard fought battle.
