AW's Rules No Late Leaves And Overnights At Same Time

Women students will not be allowed to take a late leave and an overnight during the same night. This rule was made at a meeting of the Association of Women Students on Nov. 8. Marcia Rhode, sorority representative, suggested the rule. Donna Menapace, a Woody Hall representative, seconded the motion which was unanimously approved.

Also in the business session, plans were made for the annual AW's Christmas Tea. It will be held in the Woody Hall lounge on Sunday, Nov. 9 from 3 to 4 p. m.

The tea will be for women faculty members, house-mothers of women students, and women students. Committees for the tea were organized. They are publicity, invitation, decorations, and refreshments committees.

Pauline Clark, a Woody Hall representative, said that a special effort will be made to contact women students' governments.

Capl. Merritt T. Spake, Capt. Nina Morrison, head of WAFROTCA, has been asked to speak at the next AW's meeting, according to a report by Marcia Rhode.

Mrs. Rhode said that she wanted everyone to think of ways to inform students about opportunities for women in ROTC.

A short talk was given by Joan Weinhold, graduate assistant in personnel, on her research about women students' governments.

She compared the women's government of the college from which she graduated, Cathlam College in Pennsylvania, with SIU's government for women.

She also said that she plans to send a questionnaire to several universities' government boards for women.

APO Discusses New Constitution

A new constitution was the main topic of discussion at an Alpha Phi Omega, honorary Phi Kappa Delta, last night. The meeting was held in room 200 in the Allyn Building.

Plans were also made for a Christmas dance to be held on Dec. 15. Proceeds from the dance will be used for food baskets, which will be distributed in Carbondale. The APO is now gathering material on campuses in Southern Illinois. The material will be put in a booklet.

The new pledges will be initiated during January. For a pledge duty new pledges are shining the time shell in front of Shryock Auditorium. The shell will be opened in 1974.

Over in Israel, there many rooms going around and much dispute over borders. It will be a good deal for the whole world when Israel takes care of its borders.

Over 140 teams and approximately 30 schools will participate in the annual event which is sponsored by the Bradley chapter of Phi Kappa Delta, national forensic society.

'Red Shoes' Plays Monday At U School

"The Red Shoes", in Technicolor, starring Moira Shearer and Anton Walbrook, will be shown Monday, Nov. 19, in the University School Auditorium.

Based on a tale by Hans Christian Andersen, it is the first feature length film to present a ballet in its entirety. The magnificent dancing, hauntingly beautiful music and the tender, romantic story make it truly a masterpiece of film art. The time of showing for this movie will be 6:15 and 8:45 p. m.

Admission for University and University School students with activity tickets will be 40 cents, single admission will be 50 cents.

MRB Choir Holds First Practice

The first practice session of the Men's Residence Halls choir was held last Tuesday night at 9 p. m. in the library auditorium.

Bob Walker, a music major from Herrin, is the director of the choir. "Any one interested in singing is invited to attend; no voice training is necessary—the only requirement is an interest in music," said Jack Buckle, supervisor of the Men's Residence Halls.

ISA Ball Postponed To February

The annual ISA Sweetheart Ball originally scheduled for tomorrow was postponed until sometime in February, it was decided Monday night.

Because the expense of the dance would exceed the amount of money in the ISA treasury, the Office of Student Affairs deemed it necessary not to approve any publicity on the matter.

Of the more than 5,000 independent students on campus only 50-75 are members of the ISA. A membership drive is currently in progress for the entire school year are $1.

Also, at the meeting, the I'S A made preparations for the annual Christmas party given the children at the Hurs-Bush Orphanage.

Each year, members of the ISA and staff of all departments are invited to donate gifts for this party. The ISA takes a Christmas tree to the orphanage, and has a Christmas party with entertainment and singing. There are about 20 children in the orphanage ranging from 9-16 years of age.

Last year, merchants donated totaling between $200 and $300.

All students of all denominations are invited to come and worship with the group. Thanksgiving dinner will be served for 35c.

Also, at this meeting, any person who wants to join the Foundation, may become a member.

Ag Representatives Study Buildings

Four representatives of the SIU agricultural department spent two days and two evenings being used for teaching and research in colleges and universities of three states.

The observers were W. G. Kammlade, Jr., sheep and beef cattle specialist; Joseph E. Burnside, swine specialist; Fred R. Roth and Milton Shute, agricultural engineers at Southern's School of Agriculture.

These men visited Oklahoma; Kansas State College, Manhattan; and the University of Missouri, Columbia.

The reason for observation was to obtain knowledge of these types of buildings prior to planning and constructing facilities for similar purposes at SIU.

Eileen Farrell Opens Community Concert Season

The Carbondale Community Concert Association, one of the first and most successful members of the nation-wide organization, opened its 23rd concert season Wednesday by presenting Eileen Farrell, solo and operatic star who has been hailed as "one of the best sopranos in the United States."

The 8 p. m. concert at Shryock Auditorium inaugurated a season which will also feature the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra, pianist Eugene Istomin and tenor Leopold Simoneau.

Miss Farrell, whose voice was used for the sound track of "Interrupted Melody," film biography of Marjorie Lawrence, scored her greatest success last November when she sang the lead in the American premiere of Gershwin's "Porgy and Bess" at New York's Town Hall. The performance, called "A stunning vocal feat" by "The New Yorker" magazine and monu-

Giant City Students Have Their Share Of Problems

Delayed Moving Causes Increase In Discomfort

The evenings are long and often cold for Southern's forgotten men at Giant City... and the compensations are few.

With eyes toward the calendar, and minds often far off from their present "outposts," 120 SIU students are patiently and sometimes painfully awaiting Nov. 30.

This will be movement day, the men have been told, just 14 days from today. The men in the emergency housing have unanimously agreed that the movement will be a "welcome relief."

The men at Giant City have been living with their inconveniences since last September, housed in barracks that were built in the 1930's, located just inside the state park on Route 51, 11 miles from the heart of Southern's campus.

Problems of study space, hot water, heating, prepared meals, and transportation have plagued them throughout their stay.

One of the main problems confronting the men has been the lack of hot breakfast every morning.

Ten days ago, on the morn of the area's first real cold wave, five perturbed and hungry campers decided to do something about their plight.

Armed with a single graham cracker and a cup of cocoa, the whole of their morning's breakfast, they drove from Giant City to the office of President Delyte W. Morris. After entering the president's office, they asked the secretary to telephone the president and "invite him to breakfast."

"Basis of the cocoa incident came from the fact that the men had been doing without hot breakfasts during the weekdays, with rolls and coffee usually sufficing. Only on Saturdays and Sundays were hot breakfasts being served."

Fortunately, a cook had been located a few days earlier to remedy the situation, but hadn't been scheduled to begin work until the following Monday. The men, however, enjoyed a hot breakfast on Thursday, the following morning.

"It was the first time we'd had a cooked week day breakfast since we'd been out there," said GARY Clark, president of the Giant City group and leader of the cocoa delegation.

The breakfast problem, according to Paul Isbell, director of auxiliary enterprises on campus, has been in finding someone to rise at the early hour of 5 a. m. to prepare the meals. Another problem has been in finding suitable transportation to and from the camp in

Spanish Film To Be Shown Here Sunday

"Flamenco", a Spanish film with English sub-titles, will be shown Sunday, Nov. 19, at 8:30 p. m. in the Library Auditorium.

Those who love the dance, music and the beauty of Spain, will find them in this picture. This film, documentary of extraordinary liveliness and authenticity, is a conclave of "flamenco," the gypsy dance which is based on ancient tradition and which varies from locality and with the individual self-expression of the performers.

"Flamenco" brings to the screen the internationally famous dancer, Antonio, now appearing in a triumphant American tour; Pilar Lopez, the Ballet Espanol, with Maria Luz; and Gypsies of all ages who sing and dance in their own villages.

"I appreciate your expression of feeling," said Buckle, "and I hope that I can be of some help to you in the future."

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Dunkled were also present at a plaque at the informal meeting in the temporary office of the Thompson Point No. 4.

Point Residents Give Plaque To Buckle

"This is the most outstanding honor I have ever received," said Jack Buckle, head resident of Thompson Point Monday night, when he was presented a plaque for the work that he did at Little Grass this year.

Buckle was presented the plaque at an informal meeting in the temporary office of the Thompson Point No. 4, residence hall. The students decided that this was the best way for them to show their appreciation for the help that he gave them during their stay in the tents at Little Grass.

"I appreciate your expression of feeling," said Buckle, "and I hope that I can be of some help to you in the future."

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Dunkled were also present at a plaque at the informal meeting which made them "Honorary Residents" of Thompson Point No. 4.

Nurses Institute Here Nov. 17

Illinois State Nurses Association offices from the 12th and 14th districts will participate in a leadership institute on Nov. 17.

"Programs of the State Nurses Association" is the topic of Mrs. Ann Zimmerman's address. She is the executive secretary of the state nurses organization.

Miss Virginia Harrison, chairman of the SIU department of Nursing, will talk at the institute which is held at Old Main. William J. Tudor, acting director of Area Services, Maude A. Stewart, associate professor of guidance and Elizabeth A. Greifeld, coordinator scheduled to speak.

The 12th district president, Miss Louise Acker, and Mrs. Mary Louise Perkins, 14th district president, are in charge of arrangements.

"We expect 40 persons," said Miss Harrison. A coffee, hour at 9 a. m. will begin the institute.

Common Cold Biggest Illness For Students

This well known sound known usually as an indicator of the common cold has been heard quite frequently around the SIU campus during the past week.

Health reports state 375 students came in with some kind of illness and the largest portion suffered from the common cold, number one "nauseator."

Approximately 85 of those students so affected were ill enough to be excused from classes.

'Highlights Problem' Davis

"This only highlights the fact that we are one year behind in meeting Southern's housing problem," said I. Clark Davis, acting director of student affairs. "We only hope to keep the residence halls going up to meet our housing demands."

President Morris has held weekly meetings with the building contractor for the past six weeks in an effort to push up the building completion. The ultra-modern dorms were originally scheduled for September, then Nov. 3, and now Nov. 30.

SIU is leasing the facilities—the state park from the state of Illinois. Because of some technical improvements cannot be made by the University other than on a temporary basis.

In contrast, the Little Grass area belongs to the University and the improvements such as gravel on the roads, have made a long-range value for SIU.

There has been a hot water problem at the camp all fall, with one gallon of hot water per man being available each day. The men however, according to president Davis, have made the best of the situation by showering at the men's gymnasium on campus.

Sometimes Hot Water

"Sometimes we have hot water, and sometimes we don't," said George Bueltmann. "It's a wonder that the men aren't sick because you can hardly get the places clean with cold water."

Bueltmann works in the kitchen at Anthony Hall and also at the camp. He says the cooking is done in the kitchen.

Each of the three barracks is lighted by a single row of lights down the middle of the aisle. For heating, each of the barracks is equipped with coo-rop, belled stoves. The students have been issued an ample amount of blankets from the university, as well as foot lockers and clothing rack.

Studying Is Difficult

The dining room doubles as the study room, with each table having one study lamp. More lamps have been broken, and a new set of encyclopedias has been given to the campers for reference use.

Individual study is virtually impossible in the dining room," said Gary Clark. "Especially when every one of the students are trying to study."

The hours at the SIU library have been extended until 11:30. Space in the Anthony Hall basement, equipped with lounge chairs, coo, study desks and mail service is also available for the men during the day.

In barracks two there are six broken windows," said Allen Erber, another Giant City resident.

The holes in the windows are stuffed with rags and cardboard to keep out the cold. The windows were broken before the men moved in the barracks last September. Some of the buildings also have holes in the roofs, and when it rains... it drips.

May Break Contracts

"If we break the civil work of this term, the men were slated to move, a penalty was imposed on all men who broke their contracts and moved out. Now, however, any man may leave if he wishes, with no penalty. These men will be allowed to move into the new dorms winter term, with their names moved to the top of the priority list.

The camp operates a busy bus schedule, going back and forth almost every hour of the day. Students were broken before the men moved in the barracks last September. Some of the buildings also have holes in the roofs, and when it rains... it drips.

Alumnae Officer Tri Sig Guest For Anniversary

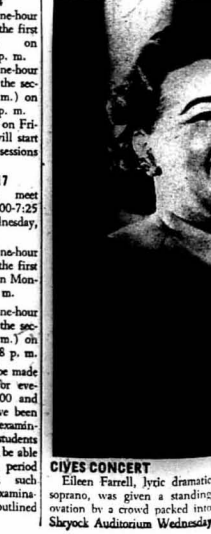

Mrs. J. Hyde Crawford, Orlan-du, Ala., alumnae secretary of Sigma Sigma Sigma, will be the guest of honor at Alpha Mu chapter Sunday afternoon, Nov. 19, at the SIU campus.

There will be a banquet Sunday night and a tea Sunday for the Tri Sig members and alumnae.

Alpha Mu chapter first organized as a local society during the spring term of 1931, was installed Sept. 2, 1931, at SIU. The Carbondale alumnae chapter was organized in 1933.

Sigma Sigma Sigma, a member of the National Panhellenic Conference, was founded in Virginia in 1898, and now has a total membership of 20,000 in more than 150 college and alumnae chapters throughout the nation.

Each of the barracks is equipped with two new fire extinguishers and a hand-operated fire alarm in this area is centrally located.

Eileen Farrell, lyric dramatic soprano, was given a standing ovation by a crowd packed into Shryock Auditorium Wednesday night. Her vivacious personality captured the audience and had backstage well-wishers in laughter.

SIU Foreign Students Give Views On Crisis In Home Countries

(This story represents three very different and nationalistic opinions of the Middle East crisis as seen by SIU students from Egypt, Israel and Jordan.)

Fahmi Dahdab, Jordan
 Dahdab, black wavy hair and a dark intense eyes beneath a pair of prominent brows, is a graduate student majoring in chemistry. He is the president of the International Relations Club.

"Israel was credited by force," said Dahdab. "We feel that we were deceived when Israel was established. We fear Zionism as much as the West fears Communism."

"For a long time the West tried to get a united Europe," said Dahdab who speaks English fluently. "Why does the West object to a united Arab world?"

"The Arab world has been waiting for someone like Nasser for a long time."

Dahdab fled to Jordan as his hometown was taken by Israel.

With the creation of Israel an attempt to solve one refugee problem, only resulted in creating another, Dahdab said.

"Nasser is trying to unite the Arabs and free them of all colonial influence regardless whether it is from the East or the West. He wants to get rid of the British and the French but he does not want to invite the Russians."

"Why do they want to place the Suez Canal under international Egyptian control?"

"They proved that they are able when England and France withdrew their pilots. The Canal remained in function. It is to Egypt's interest that it do."

"Does it mean that because the British and French hold most of the shares of the Suez Canal that they should rule the country?"

"I think that one of the objectives of the Anglo-French-Israeli attack was to destroy the arms which Egypt had obtained from Russia," said Dahdab.

"I think that after this crisis the Arab world will be more united against the British and French and their stooges than ever before."

"I have lost confidence in the great powers; as a matter of fact, two of them proved unworthy to be called a great power."

Zamir Bavel, Israel:
 "We want peace," said Zamir Bavel. "If the Arabs accuse us of doing what we would not have given back the Sinai peninsula."

An instructor in the mathematics department, Bavel recently wrote a musical composition called "Ismael Rhapsody."

"The power which created Israel was the Arab power," said Bavel. "Massacres in Palestine since 1929, continuously since 1939, caused the U.N. to enforce a demarcation line and create the two states, Israel and Jordan, out of old Palestine."

"Nasser boasted time and again that he could smash Israel but we called his bluff," said Bavel. "Egypt fooled both the East and West who now may force her to keep peace."

"For the past decade, there was this trend toward nationalism among the Arabs. They have formed the alliances for the purpose of making the Arab nations a major power. They have much of what they need to be a major power."

They have undoubtedly a plan for this, said Bavel most seriously. The first step was the Suez Canal, the next was Israel, oil wells, and so on.

"Since the end of the war in 1948, the people of Israel have been enduring such provocation as to make their suffering admissible," said Bavel with an expression of sadness.

"We have been enduring raids without definite action for eight long years. Each time we were raided we complained to the United Nations, which is supposed to handle such matters. Each time nothing was done."

Finally, after the raid on a bus, without definite action for eight long years. Each time we were raided we complained to the United Nations, which is supposed to handle such matters. Each time nothing was done.

"We finally retaliated at the risk of being called an aggressor. We had much at stake. There is just so much a nation can be expected to endure."

"War is the last thing we want," said Bavel with emphasis.

"But eight years of suffering leaves no alternative at present. Such provocations cannot be ignored."

War is definitely not the answer."

"From the Egyptian point of view, the Anglo-French intervention is both unjust and a self-defeating move," said Bavel.

"From the English-French view, it is good but not necessarily just. From our standpoint, it is good and just."

"We have never considered England as a friend, but France has long been a friend to Israel. We have certain agreements with France."

"We feel, however, that England will do what is good for England. Right now it just happens that what is good for England is good for Israel. If tomorrow it would be profitable for England to blow Israel off the map, we believe they would do it, if they could."

Sarkis K. Tchejeyan, Cairo.

Egypt:
 "The bombing of Cairo was an act of barbarity," said Sarkis. They knew very well that the airports were not in the downtown areas of Cairo because the English had built most of them during their recent occupation which lasted over half a century."

Tchejeyan, a graduate student of Physics, was worried about his mother and brother who live in the part of Cairo which was bombed most."

"The whole attack was organized with Israel and well timed," said Sarkis. "According to the U. N. agreement and the United States' assurances to attack as its first aggressor, Egypt was not to keep any heavy arms on the Sinai peninsula. When Israel marched against Egypt, Britain and France bombed the airfield and roads to stop the expedition of reinforcements to Egyptian forces in the Sinai peninsula."

"The Suez Canal has always been an Egyptian property and a settlement. The invaders have to pull out all the forces they brought to Egypt and England must pay for all the casualties."

WHO'S BREAKING WHAT?

Just who is breaking what contract?

Men who have been forced to live at Giant City and Little Cransy this fall have been forced with the penalty of losing their rooms at the new Thompson Point dorms if they didn't live out "in the suburbs" until the buildings were completed.

Those who refused to live in the tents or the barracks until the buildings were finished forfeited their rooms.

At least one case offered to pay rent for the "luxurious" tent even though he refused to live there just so he could keep his reservation at Thompson Point. He was released and even threatened with having to pay for the entire term for having broken the contract.

Those who refuse to live in the inadequate and undesirable conditions any longer now may

To Mr. Mendenhall and the Drill Team
 Via: Editor of The Egyptian
 Personally, I feel that the majority of the SIU student body and football guests present at the Norman game did enjoy your exhibition and the effect of all those who participated as drill team members. One may well expect that a public performance will not be met with 100% approval, therefore, we must expect criticism to some degree. If, however, you really have the desire to make SIU proud of your group, then you will, and your purposes will be accomplished through more effort.

Many of us appreciate the fact that your group has not drilled scientifically to be a perfect precision group. The fact remains that you did drill, you do represent us and we are happy and proud that this is true. I have been connected with troop drills for many years and know that it takes time and patience. You may be assured that many a student simulated a nod and chuckled at me and my group when we erred. It is funny to the onlooker and can be to the drilling group, as long as they improve before the next outing.

Your group is OK and is doing a good job. Precision drill is a difficult requirement, so smile a little at a mistake and work a little harder. You'll get it job done; we are looking forward to your next performance.

Big Hole In Front Of Library

Pools, Extensive Landscaping To Beautify Library

The big hole in front of the library will become a naturalistic pool, according to Tom F. Lonergan, University Landscape Architect.

"The project itself is not a separate project but a continuation of work that starts at Thompson Point and reaches the library and Grand, tying that part of the campus together," said Lonergan.

The huge stone that will create the naturalistic effect was brought, with difficulty, from five miles south of Carbonale on "low-boy" trailers. According to a workman on the site, one of the stones weighs 26 tons, and was so heavy that a crane could not lift it.

Between the naturalistic pool and the library will be a reflecting pool. Work is already well underway on this shallow, rectangular pool. There will be three water heads and the water will be continually circulating.

"We have been very lucky because the weather has remained favorable," commented Lonergan, "and we are already about 6 months ahead of schedule."

"There is no definite date set for the completion of the project," said Lonergan, "it will depend entirely on the weather."

"These psychological examinations include individual tests, achievement tests, and personality studies," said Russell.

Salakis Travel To Northern For Season, IAC Finale

East is east, and west is west, but Southern's football team will be at Northern this weekend for the campaign finale, where the Salukis have a chance to tie for Northern for fourth place and Northern then will have a slight chance to win its first IAC game.

The Salukis are now tied for the next-to-the-cellar spot with Eastern Illinois, each having a 2-3 record.

The Huskies of Northern have clinched the cellar position with an 0-5 IAC record. They are tied for the next-to-the-cellar spot with Eastern Illinois, each having a 2-3 record.

Carver Shannon, fleet Saluki halfback, has a last shot at the IAC scoring crown, trailing Jim Podoley of Central Michigan by 19 points. Podoley played his last conference game last week.

He picked up six touchdowns against Western's total 78 points in conference play and go way in front of Shannon. Shannon, however, with 59 points, can beat the Podoley mark with a 20-point scoring performance in Huskie territory this weekend.

The Salukis are in the contest in the red against the Huskies in life-time records. In 24 previous meetings, Northern has won 16, while SIU has won seven. They tied one game.

In last year's battle, Salukis blanketed Northern, 20-0.

The Southern forces are now owning a three game losing streak, having an overall season record of 3-5.

Tom Skubich, Huskie halfback, who led the team in rushing last season, may be a potential thorn in the already aggravated hides of the Salukis.

For four Saluki seniors, this will be their last game.

John Gelch, end; Gene Krolak, tackle; and Tim Bowers and Jim McCann, guards are bowing out.

Probable starters for the SIU vanguard will be Norwood of Wheeler at quarterback, Shannon and Lewis or Hart at the halfback slots, with White or Hamilton at rushing and Batura will be at the ends. Haves and Krolak at tackles, with McCann and Bowers at guard and Abramovich at center to round out the other probabilities.

Football Giants Recall Williams

Wayne Williams, one of Southern's all-time great ends has been recalled by the New York Giants of the National Football League.

Williams, a 6-3 200-pound flanker, was signed by the Giants last winter and scrimmaged with the parent club until his release last September.

Prior to his recall, the Du Quoin product and a 1956 graduate of SIU had been doing graduate work in the department of recreation and outdoor education.

Newman Club 2 Takes Lead In Indee Bowling

Through the potent efforts of Chuck C. Fredrickson, Newman Club No. 2 moved into the lead in the Independent Students bowling league by capturing the full set from Botany Club this week. Fredrickson's 563 series was top billing for the night.

The Chautauqu Co-Op's applied the whitewash brush to Newman Club No. 1 for the other clean sweep of the evening to the tune of a 2409 aggregate. H. W. Reed's 510 captured the attack with Carl Prada's 497 and Len Supry's 462.

Edman wheeled in a turtle 545 series for the victims. A. J. Opiun Pi and Thompson Point had themselves a healthy scrap, with the former talking 2392 and the latter 2400 and eking out a 3-1 decision. Jim Lotgren was a 4-1 winner. Jim Lotgren was a 4-1 winner. Jim Lotgren was a 4-1 winner.

Stearns Residence took a split decision from the Five acts to support the results. Bob Gausatz and Leroy Henning shared the spotlight with 513 and 512 series, respectively.

One of the purposes of the club discussed is the role of the university in promoting tennis.

It can be the hub of tennis activity in Southern Illinois, new facilities are built," Dr. Le Feyre said.

When the new field house is built, tennis facilities will be made 15 available.

Thompson complained of abdominal pains late Tuesday night, and was taken to Doctor's Hospital Wednesday where he underwent surgery. He was in the operating room for three hours.

It was found that Thompson had a kidney which had been torn loose during the football game. This kidney had to be removed.

Thompson, 26, is a student at V.T.I.

The Giants, one of the stronger clubs in the NFL, are currently tied for first place with the Chicago Cardinals in the Eastern Division with a 6-1 record.

Southern Illinois Tennis Group Asks for Admission to USLTA

Representatives of tennis clubs from various sections of southern Illinois met Saturday and unanimously approved application for the Southern Illinois Tennis Association.

The application will now go to Chicago, Western Lawn Tennis Association headquarters, for consideration in January.

All then be forwarded to the United States Lawn Tennis Association at New York a week following the district approval.

When it is approved the SITA will serve as a governing body for tennis activity in Southern Illinois, such as clinics and tournaments," said Dr. John Le Feyre, president of the Southern Illinois group.

Since the Southern Illinois area is one of the few areas not directly connected with the national organization, approval is almost certain, he pointed out.

There are about 31 counties included in the SITA area.

"We expect to have membership from other area clubs, which include Centralia, Roxana and Fairfield," the club president said.

There will be another meeting in Olney on Dec. 15 at which full membership is expected.

Other club officers are Joe Barry, vice-president, Charles Stratton, treasurer, and Robert Montgomery, secretary, social chairman. Directing the swimming show was Al Cline. Club adviser is SIU swimming coach Bill Heuser.

Dolphin Club members include Larry Havens, Peter Morris, Vaughn Hathaway, Wib Stoever, Bob Schulof, Earle Bitter, George Harvat, Joe Barry, Robert Montgomery, Rex Paddock, Benjamin, Tom Harris, John Huber, Bill Bush, Bob Campbell, Charles Stratton, Clarence Luckett, John Mantia, Dave Richardson, Terry Yates, Al Cline, Bruce Coleman, Terry Lockman, Roger Counsell, and Dave Barkstaller.

Requirements of each club is to present a professional-type swimming show once each year.

Southern gave its first annual production here last week, performing 19 variety acts before near capacity crowds at five different showings. More than 70 were included in the cast.

Theta Xi On Top In Greek Bowling League

Delta Chi, behind Ron Pemberton's 460, defeated a strong Sig Tau team three games to one in the Greek Bowling League this week. Hansbury was high for the Sig Taus with 459.

A very strong Tri Sig team defeated the Tetes four points to none. Lois Nepute's 10 series was high for the winners while Ecker's 501 series proved in vain for the Tetes.

Jerry Lucas' 513 series was high for the Phi Taus as they defeated the Delta Sigs all four points. Joanne Friscoe was high for the Tetes with a 374 series.

Sig Eps proved all too powerful for Aocasia by defeating them all four points. Adelman was high for the winners with 442 while Bob Ruppel was high for Aocasia with 418.

Pi Kappa Sigma came through by defeating Delta Zeta three points to one. Nichoff's 366 series was high for Pi Kaps while Bowd's 432 was high for the losers.

Theta Xi took honors over Sig Pi three to one. Gwyn's 545 series was high for the winners and Wally Reese scored 508 in the losing Sig Pi cause.

Also committees were chosen: Constitution Committee, Ted Bradley, Murphysboro, chairman; Junior Development Committee, Cecil Poveless, Flora, chairman; Membership Committee, George T. Johnson, Murphysboro, chairman; Ranking Committee, Norman Dean, East St. Louis, chairman.

U. D. Plaza Takes All-School Touch Football Championship

The Monschein-Buyan battery of the U. D. vanguard connected for a lone tally to haunt Flatbroke Hotel into a 7-0 loss Wednesday for the all-school intramural touch football championship.

Roger Buyan, U. D. setback, accepted a long pass from K. N. Monschein in the first half of the tie to run 30 yards to end zone territory to give unbeaten U. D. Plaza its seventh straight win of the campaign without a loss and its first intramural football trophy.

Monschein also pitched to Jerry Trickey for the U. D. extra point.

The amazing U. D. forces cut a wide winning swath through intramural football, allowing only two points to be scored against them all year.

The only team to score against them was Southwestern A. C., which fell beneath the Plaza mauler's 37, in the second game of the regular season.

U. D.'s has compiled a tremendous 140 points as sharply contrasted with their opponents seven points. Also, the Plaza has allowed only 11 first downs.

So, there isn't too much awe as to why they ended up with the all-school trophy.

Ken Monschein, captain of the Plaza, did most of the passing, while Roger Buyan was top leg man in TD territory. Paul Chesnik and Jerry Trickey also added to the bulwark.

U. D.'s Plaza is a representative of the organized house league. Flatbroke is a Southern Acres team.

Last year, the intramural football trophy went to Sigma Tau Gamma in the fraternity league.

The largest number of participating individuals for intramural basketball is expected this year.

There are approximately 850 players, comprising 71 teams in intramural basketball, which started this week.

There are four different divisions within the league.

There are 15 teams from the Fraternity league, 19 from the independent league, 13 from the organized house league and 24 from Men's Residence Halls.

Games will be played at the armory, men's gym, women's gym,

Southern's P. E. Activities At Peak

Southern's physical education activities have reached a record peak this fall, straining all available facilities.

The university is offering more than 1200 physical education courses, while more than 1,000 students are participating in the men and women's intramural programs.

All this activity taxes Southern's athletic facilities, which were built for a student body of less than one-third of the present 6,255. It also has proved difficult for Southern's athletic teams to find time and room for practice because of crowded scheduling.

During the past month, more than 300 athletes representing six varsity sports — football, basketball, cross country, wrestling, swimming, and gymnastics — have been undergoing daily workouts.

Four players are in the badminton semi-finals. Cleon West, Bob Wood and Wayne Trost of the Embassy and Rick Eickman of MRH.

Two Michigan rivals, Central and Eastern, totaled 69 points each to tie for the IAC cross-country title at De Kalb Saturday. It was the first time in six years that Eastern did not win undisputed honors.

Illinois Normal grabbed third with 73, followed by Northern Illinois' 87, Western's 95, Eastern's 144 and Southern Illinois' 147.

Fred Sandoval of Western was the individual champion, finishing in 19 minutes, eight seconds. Competition was so close that the first 20 runners were below 20 minutes.

A free coke dance will be held in the Student Union Saturday, from 3 to 5 p. m. The Egyptian Melody Men will play.

All students are invited; no admission will be charged. Free cokes will be served.
