PE Building Framework Goes Up

Construction Lags Three-Months Architect Says

Workmen yesterday began erecting the steel framework for the new $4.2 million Physical Education-Military Science Building south of the physical plant.

Charles Pulley, SIU architect, said the work on the steel frame is about three months behind the original schedule. It was hoped that this work could begin by Aug. 15, he said, but weather and materials delays set the project back.

"If we have reasonably good weather, we expect work on the building to continue on through the winter," Pulley said. "But we expect a slowdown in the winter," he said.

About 1,126 tons of steel will go into the rib cage to support the 300-foot diameter dome which will be one of the building's main features. The dome is designed to cover an area which will seat 10,000 for basketball games and more than that for assemblies.

Contract for the building was awarded Nov. 9, 1961, and construction work began early this year. The M.H. Wolfe and Company Construction Co. of Granite City is the general contractor for the project.

Target date for completion of the building is 1964. It will be used for convocations, commencements and other mass meetings.

Prof. Hunt To Lecture On Motivation

J. McV. Hunt, professor of psychology at the University of Illinois, will present a lecture at 4 p.m. today in the Seminar Room of the Agriculture Building.

Topic of his talk will be "Approach and Withdrawal in Intrinsic Motivation." Hunt's major fields of interest are effects of early experience on adult behavior, personality dynamics and psychotherapy.

Hunt, a professor at the U. of I. since 1951, received his Ph.D. from Cornell University in 1933. He has been associated with Columbia University, Clark University and Brown University.

A former president of the American Psychological Association, Hunt has edited a handbook, based on experiment and clinical research, entitled "Personality and the Behavior Disorder." His most recent book, "Intelligence and Experience," was published in 1961.

Off-Season Hunters Disciplined

Disciplinary action has been taken against six students who were fined $300 each for possession of game out of season, according to officials in the Office of Student Affairs.

They are Dale Belmonte, 20, of Chicago; James Delorto, 21, of Elmwood Park; Hugo Tagli Jr., 20, of Elmwood Park; Lynn Sweet, 21, of Champaign; Ralph Ciangi, 20, of Elmwood Park; and John Ruggero, 21, Chicago.

The students were charged after game wardens obtained a search warrant and found deer meat and other game in their rented house near Carverville.

SIU officials said the students were instructed to register their guns and were warned against improper use of the firearms about a month ago after neighbors had complained about their random shooting.

All six have been informed that they are not to possess guns as students throughout this academic year.

Ciangi, Delorto, Ruggero have lost their motor vehicle privileges as undergraduates. Tagli was allowed to retain his motor vehicle privileges until the end of this quarter, so the group will have time to make arrangements for transportation, and then will lose his car privileges.

Ciangi, Ruggero, Sweet and Delorto have been placed on disciplinary probation until the end of Spring quarter. Belmonte is on disciplinary probation through next Summer quarter, and Tagli will remain on disciplinary probation through Winter quarter.

Belgium Consul Will Discuss Trade Market

Jozef Lodewyck, consul general of Belgium in Kansas City, Mo., will speak at a public meeting at 7:30 p.m. next Tuesday in Morris Library auditorium.

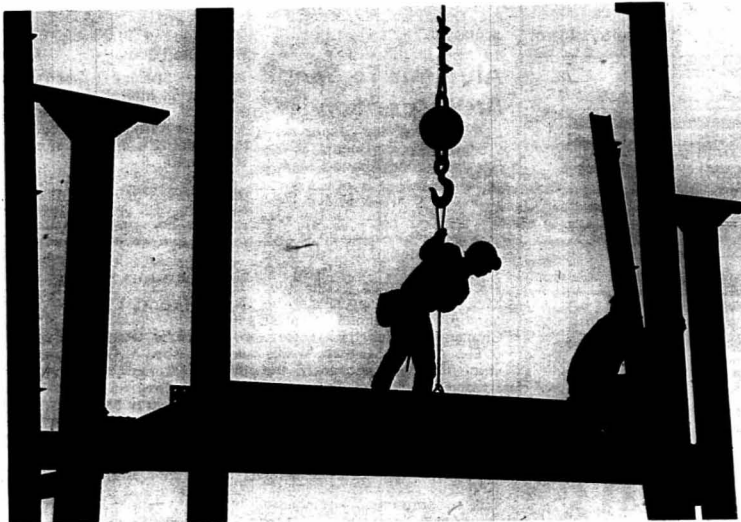

He will discuss "How Does Belgium Feel About The Common Market?"

Lodewyck was graduated from the University of Ghent in 1941 and entered the Belgian Foreign Service in 1946. He has served in embassies in Iraq and Jordan. He was a consul in New York City in 1958 and was put in charge of the Kansas City consulate in March, 1959. He maintains a branch office in St. Louis.

He has served as secretary to several Belgian delegations at the Belgian-Netherlands-Luxembourg Economic Union, which paved the way for the European Common Market. These three countries as well as France, Germany and Italy are now members of the Common Market.

His nation occupies a key spot in the development of greater Western European economic cooperation and its capital, Brussels, is the seat of the Common Market.

The future of the Common Market is currently attracting wide interest. Great Britain currently is carrying on negotiations for entrance and the United States is preparing to negotiate drastic tariff reduction with Common Market countries under a trade bill recently passed by Congress.

New Peace Corps Representative To Hold Informal Interviews Today

Robert C. Ruben will replace William A. Delano as the Peace Corps representative on campus today.

Ruben is director of radio and television in the Peace Corps office of public affairs. He will hold informal interviews with individuals and small groups from 9:30 a.m. to 11 a.m. Friday in the Student Government office in the University Center.

From 3 to 3:30 p.m. he will show a new Peace Corps film in the Illinois and Sangamon River rooms in the Center. And at 7:30 p.m. in the same rooms, he will repeat the film and give a talk on Peace Corps opportunities.

Refreshments will be served by the International Relations Club.

Delano, general counsel of the Peace Corps, had been scheduled to appear here but was forced to cancel.

His replacement is a native of Minneapolis. He was associated with the National Broadcasting Company and KTTV in Los Angeles from 1948 until 1962 when he joined the Peace Corps.

Thirteen former SIU students already are serving in the Peace Corps.

They are Nancy Barnes, Somalia; Ronald Bowden, Venezuela; Fred Detjen, Columbia; Vernon Eaton, Sierra Leone; Richard Ende, Nepal; Daniel Gleason, Peru; Sara Luebben, Chile; Frances Malcolm, Ghana; Edmond Mietzner, Venezuela; Allen Pastryk; Philippinie; and Gary Robinson, Columbia.

Also James Allen, Bolivia, and Nancy Ely, Nigeria. Both are from the Edwardsville campus.

The plan to secure study rooms in other buildings got started after some students complained that it was difficult to study in Morris Library because of construction noise.

Mr. Akin, who yesterday concluded a five day inspection tour of SIU student service programs, was high in his praise for the policies of Dean Clark Davis, Director of Student Affairs and his associates.

He especially liked the residence halls and their management systems. And like everyone else he was quite impressed by the new University Center.

SIU is the seventh of twelve

During his tour - which will extend until Jan. 14, 1963 - Mr. Akin is primarily interested in observing the student counseling programs and services in the representative colleges and universities which he will visit.

Also, since he presently serves as the Secretary to the Dean, College of Liberal Arts, Thammasart University in Bangkok, Thailand, he is very much interested in the organization and curricula of colleges of liberal arts.

"Particularly gratifying," remarked Mr. Akin, "was the friendly and helpful attitudes of the students." He added that the four Thai students who attend SIU were "very happy" here.

In chain-drag test, truck raises heavy dust clouds to check air filter efficiency.

Results: Up to 30,000 miles between filter changes in Ford-built cars for '63!

The 1963 Ford-built cars you see on the road these days can eat dust and keep coming back for more, thanks to improved carburetor air filters.

In our continuing quest to build total quality and service-saving features into Ford-built cars, our engineering research staff explored the entire field of physical chemistry for new air-purifying properties in materials.

The result: a filtering material made of chemically treated wood pulp and paper that permits Ford-built cars under normal operation to go from 24,000 to 30,000 miles before carburetor air filter replacement is required.

The new, tougher filter paper is accordion folded to increase surface area four-fold, permitting higher filtration in a smaller package. The more matter it accumulates, the better it filters right up to its full rated service life. It saves owners time and money. It keeps Ford-built engines livelier longer.

Tiny Audience Gives Unknown Starring Role

Student Teacher For Kindergarten Class Scores 'Hit' At Carbondale's Brush School

Nobody in the audience had heard of Ellen Bennett when she walked onto the stage to begin her newest and most exciting role.

No roses came and she couldn't hope for a curtain call. But then first graders don't think of such things, and teachers are rewarded in nicer ways.

"I couldn't believe it was really happening to me," said Miss Bennett, a 21-year-old kindergarten-primary education major who is student teaching this term at Carbondale's Brush School.

But if being on the other side of the desk was a strange experience, it was doubly so for Miss Bennett. A Carbondale resident, she attended the same school many autumns ago.

Fallen leaves were blowing in the big school doorway as the blue-eyed young woman told of her trials and tribulations, and of the joys that made it all worth while.

The children's eagerness to learn more than made up for the long hours and such temporary inconveniences as aching muscles from teaching them outdoor games, she said.

But Miss Bennett was eager, too. She reported for duty when school opened in August, weeks before the term began at Southern. The rules say she could have waited.

"I wanted to be there from the start," she reported, and the children were glad to have her.

In addition to the endless lessons, Miss Bennett said, there are such varied tasks as fastening tricky buttons and removing bubble gum from noses and hair.

"Your relationship with your supervisor is an important thing, too, and mine is wonderful," she said of Mrs. Mary Wilson, who is a five year veteran at the school.

Miss Bennett works closely with Mrs. Wilson in preparing her daily lesson plans, and they share teaching chores.

The two teachers are literally better than one, since the 24 first graders are placed in three sections according to their learning speed. This means those who need more time to master a particular skill can have it, without holding back the faster learners.

"I'm not going to talk to you about loving children," Mrs. Wilson told her at the start. "I know you do or you wouldn't be a teacher," she related.

Mrs. Wilson, prim and pretty behind black-rimmed glasses, wore a striped blouse with white cuffs and collar, black skirt and flats.

"Probably the most important thing is to wear comfortable shoes," Miss Bennett mused, obviously recalling all the walking.

How many youngsters returned home one day last week with the words 'sassafras dumplings' on their lips can only be attested to by their mothers.

They were the magic words taught them by Miss Bennett during the manufacture of a tall palm tree from ordinary newspapers. It was a special treat, of course.

"We're just about ready now," Miss Bennett told the spellbound children, wielding a paper tube and scissors which could easily have been a magician's wand. "Say the magic words," she coaxed.

"Sassafras dumplings!" squealed the first graders.

Silence. Then exclamations of pure delight as the wonder unfolded--Miss Bennett pulling strings to make the miracle happen on cue.

"There it goes! It's getting bigger. It's more bigger! Wow!"

The last word caught on and soon everyone was repeating it, until the paper tree nearly touched the ceiling.

They squirmed in their seats, leaning forward, and when it was over some of the bolder children applauded--the everyday rewards that teachers take home and treasure.

An arithmetic lesson was greeted with a smattering of applause. It consisted of simple addition problems and counting exercises.

Time to go home. Some seem reluctant to leave. A boy is in love with his teacher. He lingers as she helps with his jacket. Another golden moment.

For Miss Bennett, who resides with her parents at Rural Route One, Carbondale, it's just the beginning. She'll be graduated in March with a bachelor's degree in education.

Ellen is one of 189 Southern students who are teaching this term at off-campus schools from Anna to Salem.

Book Reviews Latin American Relations

Reviewed by Albert W. Bork

"Latin America Between The Eagle And The Bear", by Salvador de Madariaga, New York, Frederick A. Praeger, 1962.

Written by a distinguished Spanish liberal diplomat, essayist and historian, "Latin America Between The Eagle and the Bear" is a presentation of the various cultural, political and ethical aspects of the problem of the Hispanic American nations of the Hemisphere in their relations with the rest of the world.

In his consideration of the problem Don Salvador, (who, by the way, writes equally well in either English, Spanish, or French,) presents the Latin American, the Spanish, the American (United States), and Soviet and Chinese aspects of the world situation as related to Hispanic America. The longest section is dedicated to the characteristics of society and politics in the various nations South of the Rio Grande. At the same time, however, the very important relationship of Spain and Portugal to the whole problem is presented.

There is also a discussion of the relationship of Russia and China to Hispanic America, and of the important Chinese efforts to spread their brand of Communism in the region. Soviet activities and organizations in the various nations are detailed and chief leaders listed.

Of chief importance in the work are the discussions of ideological and ethical differences between the Anglo-American and the Hispanic American cultures. In addition, Madariaga, who participated actively in the work of the League of Nations and was a witness and one might say participant in its demise prior to World War II, presents in his closing chapter, entitled, "Action," his analysis of the responsibilities of the United States in present-day Inter-American relations.

First and foremost is the need of a change of mind and heart, he says, and for the "restoration of the moral authority of the West and above all of the United States. "Not only is this necessary in the world as a whole, but it is the key also to the problem of Inter-American relations, for it stands to reason that no measure however well meant and well conceived, can achieve full results while the present mistrust of U.S. motives and resentment for the past (indeed, present) practices lingers in the South."

The United States must cease to consider the problems of the Hemisphere as they purely affect us, but rather as they affect the interested parties, and we must cease to look down our noses ethically, culturally, and in other ways at the Hispanic Americans. We must cease to look upon Latin America as a series of satellites which revolve about us.

Significant in the relations of the United States, in the present crisis, Madariaga points out, is the fact that when the Alliance for Progress came into being not one first-rank statesman with a fluent speaking knowledge of Spanish could be found to make a visit to the various capitals of South America to present a public image of the United States to the governments and public of our colleagues in the "Alliance."

Of course, to find anyone who might speak Portuguese could not even enter the mind of anyone concerned, for even the State Department, in a particularly unguarded moment released pictures of the Brazilian President in Washington and attached a translation of his remarks from the "original Spanish" in which they had been delivered.

Not only have the government and mass media in the United States looked down their noses at the Hispanic Americans, their ethics, and their culture, but they have never ceased to make it known that true progress there, or elsewhere in the world, is to be equated "with development along lines closer and closer to those of the United States. . . . What is wanted is a sincere appreciation of the value of Latin American culture as it is, and a desire and effort to cooperate in its development as it is."

ALBERT W. BORK

Basic, too, is the need to cease to feel that "Latin America is a fair field for all kinds of financial and economic hunting. . . . The huge dimensions of modern industry no longer allow the easy-going indifference of nineteenth-century liberalism to rule our behavior." There is need for "less show and more intimacy." Necessary is "more and more informal and frequent intimacy between leaders of U. S. policy and men wisely respected from the Rio Grande to Patagonia, men who are available, free from official responsibilities, rich in experience and wisdom. A new style less tense with crises, less loaded with statements and declarations, quieter, simpler, closer to the facts, would do much to clear the air of distrust and almost despairing scepticism. . . . and it would initiate a much needed recovery of the moral authority of the United States."

While there is much of value in this essay of 188 pages, one feels that there is something of a lack in coherent organization. To one even superficially acquainted with some aspects of the situation, there are, moreover, apparent errors.

Nevertheless, there are so few efforts to present a well-rounded discussion of this entire problem, and people in the United States are so generally unaware of the important and key details to relations between the nations of the Hemisphere that this is an important and worthwhile contribution. It deserves to be read and pondered by anyone who pretends to have an interest in the true nature of Inter-American Affairs.

Grad School Enrollment Almost Doubled During Past Five Years

The Graduate School is now rounding out its second decade of operation with an enrollment of 1,257 in 51 advanced degree programs.

The enrollment has almost doubled within the past five years after an explosive growth from 110 to 779 students during the 1947-57 span.

Enrollment the first year of Graduate School operation, 1944, was 19 and no degrees were awarded. The number of students more than doubled the second year and two master's degrees were granted.

By 1948 there were 167 graduate students and 36 degrees were awarded. The enrollment climbed to 1,003 by 1958 with 262 graduate degrees granted.

The doctor of philosophy program added in 1956 gave new impetus to the enrollment climb. Southern awarded its first Ph. D. in 1959, Doctoral programs are now offered in 25 departments, and 14 students won doctorates in 1962.

David T. Kenney, assistant dean of the Graduate School, emphasized the importance of the graduate program, "as the training ground for future college teachers. If graduate school enrollment does not keep pace with undergraduate enrollment, there is danger of running out of qualified college teachers in the coming school population explosion."

Southern Acres Senator Election Brings Protest

The election of Marvin Weaver as Southern Acres senator has been challenged by a protest filed with the Election Commission. The protest charged irregularities in voting in the election held Monday.

Charles Novak, election commissioner, said the Election Commission has decided that Monday's election will be thrown out and the election held again on Wednesday, Nov. 28.

This action was taken because the ballot box was unlocked at the time of this week's election, he said.

Saluki Slingshot Could Topple Grid Giant

SHORT GAIN - Irv Rhodes (64), SIU sophomore halfback, is stopped after a short gain in third quarter action of the 14-7 loss to Fort Campbell. Two unidentified Southern players are blocking Fort Campbell players. Sam Silas (52) is moving in to help the Salukis block.

SIU Out To Clip Falcon's Wings Tomorrow In Bowling Green Game

Bowling Green, the first of two major-college teams SIU will face in the concluding weeks of the season, promises to throw a devastating ground attack and strong defense at the Salukis.

Bowling Green is a member of the Mid-American Conference which is rapidly developing into one of the outstanding conferences in the Midwest.

The Falcons won the MAC last week with a 7-6 victory over a strong Ohio University squad.

Saturday's meeting between the two schools will be the fourth, with Southern yet to win.

Doyt Perry's Falcon squad relies heavily on a strong running attack inside and outside of tackles. Perry stresses power football with the halfbacks and fullbacks crashing into the line for short yardage.

Carmen Piccone, SIU head coach, says Bowling Green does nothing fancy except beat you with good rough, tough football.

While Bowling Green fashions a powerful offense, its defense is much more than adequate.

After six games Bowling Green had limited opponents to only 77.3 rushing yardage per game. In total defense including rushing and passing, opponents were averaging 190.5 per game against the Falcons.

Perry is expected to start Tony Ruggiero at quarterback, Don Lisbon and Jay Cunningham at halfbacks and Ray Bell at fullback.

Up front Perry will start an all-senior forward wall. Bert Kennedy, 197-pounds, and Tom Hogrefe, 200-pounds, will be the ends, tackles Bob Reynolds, 242-pounds, and Bob Crofcheck, 230-pounds,

DON LISBON

Gary Sherman, 221-pounds, and Jim Wasserman, 200-pounds, at guards, and Aase, 185-pounds, at center.

May Relive David-Goliath Hassle At Bowling Green

Carmen Piccone hopes his Salukis will play David to Bowling Green's Goliath Saturday.

The game between Bowling Green and SIU will be the fourth with Southern yet to win.

Piccone is counting on a Bowling Green letdown following last week's 7-6 victory over Ohio University which gave the Falcons the Mid-American Conference championship.

"Bowling Green is just as tough as ever," Piccone says, "but I feel they are a step below Fort Campbell which was hard-pushed to beat us."

"The boys would like nothing better than to upset Bowling Green," Piccone continued. "We need the victory and I don't anticipate any difficulty in getting the boys up."

Immediately after last week's 14-7 loss to Fort Campbell there were cries in the SIU dressing room, "Let's get Bowling Green."

Saturday's clash promises to be a contest to see which team has the better defense against rushing. Both coaches have defensive units which have been outstanding all season.

Bowling Green's defense has limited opponents to only 766 yards rushing for a per game average of 95.8. Southern's defense has given up 1262 yards rushing for 158.2 per game average.

When he left Thursday morning by bus, Carmen Piccone wasn't sure of his starting backfield. It appeared that Charles Warren and Charles Hamilton would start halfback and fullback respectively but after that he stopped.

He is contemplating moving Dave Harris to the quarterback position and Irv Rhodes to the right halfback position. Both would be starting for the first time.

Bowling Green possesses a 6-1-1 record with the only loss coming at the expense of West Texas State (20-13) and a 24-24 tie with Miami University (Ohio).

Southern has a 4-4 record with one game left to play after the Bowling Green encounter.

Winner In Doubt:

Piccone Matches Wits With Electronic Monster

If Coach Carmen Piccone is showing an inordinate interest in data processing these days its because he suddenly has something in common with SIU's "electronic brain."

Both the brain and Piccone are trying to figure out the outcome of the SIU-North Texas State game to be played here Nov. 24.

Piccone is doing it with scouting reports for the most part while the IBM 1620 computer is electrically digesting every possible statistic about the two teams which has been fed it.

Two football fans at the Data Processing and Computing Center are responsible for the scientific approach to football predicting. They are John Hamblen, director of the Center, and Tom Purcell, computer division manager.

They have dubbed their spare-time project SCORE (Statistical Correlation of Ranked Efficiencies). But they refuse to predict whether their prediction will be predictable.

They think the machine will come up with its prediction—right or wrong—by Nov. 19.

Size Can't Keep A Good Man On The Bench

HIGHT KICKER — Bobby Hight, the Saluki's kicking ace, demonstrates the style that has won him considerable attention and helped the Salukis win a number of football games. Coaches feel he could have a career in pro ball despite his handicap. However, he says he is more interested in a forestry career.

Determination Subs For Stature

Basketball and football are games now completely monopolized by big men. On the basketball floor, only the towering men have a chance and, on the gridiron beef and brawn are prime requisites not only for success but sheer survival.

However, on SIU's football team there still is a place for the good little man. Bobby Hight is the lightest man on the Saluki squad at 175 pounds.

What he gives away in size he makes up for with determination and heart.

Hight was born with one arm but doesn't let that keep him from playing football or any other sport.

Currently he is the place-kicking specialist on Southern's football team which possesses a 4-4 record.

Hight has kicked two of six field goal tries this year and eight of 11 extra point attempts. He missed two field goals Saturday in the 14-7 loss to Fort Campbell.

In the Texas A & I and Northern Michigan games he put the Salukis on top with field goals. However, in the end SIU lost.

Hight also handles kickoffs for the Salukis. He has averaged 52 yards per kickoff in 22 attempts this season and his normal kick, which sails high as well as long, enables SIU defenders plenty of time to get down-field.

He often gets downfield in time to make the tackle himself on kickoffs.

"I still like to rough it up," says Hight. "I played defensive linebacker at Centralia my freshman and sophomore years."

"I didn't start kicking until my junior year. I never had any doubts about my playing football and I owe a lot to Evers (Centralia coach Jimmy Evers) for helping me get started in the game."

"My father always encouraged me to compete in sports. He played basketball at Centralia in high school and later for some independent teams. I was playing in a baseball league for kids by the time I was in the fifth grade."

"I went to junior college for a while, but when I came to SIU, I asked if I could play football. They said I could and I think it's been worth it."

Piccone thinks that Hight may find some pro football teams interested in his kicking talents if he continues to improve next year.

Hight isn't counting on a pro career, however, and would prefer to go directly into forestry work which he is majoring in at SIU. He is carrying a 3.7 scholastic average in addition to his football competition.

Intra - Squad Meet Tuesday Ushers In '63 Gym Season

SIU's gymnastic season gets underway Tuesday night at 7:30 in the Men's gymnasium with the annual intra-squad meet which will find the freshman and juniors competing against the sophomores and seniors.

Last year the freshman-junior group handed the sophomores-seniors a shocking setback.

This year the sophomores-seniors figure to reverse the tide but as Bill Meade, SIU gymnastic coach, calmly puts it, "You can never tell what might happen."

This year's varsity squad consists of such seasoned veterans as Fred Orlofsky, Bruho Klaus, Rusty Mitchell, Chuck Woerz, Charles Ehrlich, Hugh Blaney and Tom Geocaris.

All figure to play a key role in Meade's plans for the NCAA gymnastic championship after two consecutive years in second place.

But sophomores appear to be the cause for Meade's optimism so early in the year. The second-year group of Dennis Wolf, Bill Hladik and Steve Pasternak brings a smile to Meade's face every time he thinks of the group.

Wolf is the individual standout in the sophomore group with his all-around ability. He performs on the high bar, side horse, still rings and free exercise events.

Last spring Wolf won the all-around title at the National Junior AAU championships and Meade promptly tagged him as a "sure scorer" in the NCAA gymnastics meet.

Hladik and Pasternak promise to add depth to this year's squad which promises to be stronger than the teams of the past two years.

"This year we will have depth to go with our veterans," Meade says. "In the past we have taken first and second places but didn't get enough fifts, sixths and sevenths to win the championship."

Mitchell is the NCAA tumbling champion and anxiously awaits the opening of the season.

Orlofsky is the "old-pro" of the team with his Olympic performances in 1960 and the World Games competition which took him to Prague, Czechoslovakia. He continues to be one of Meade's most consistent performers.

SIU students will be admitted to the intra-squad meet free by presenting their activity card at the door.

Top Teams Compete Saturday In Cross-Country Championship

For the second time in as many years, SIU will take part in the Central Collegiate Conference cross-country championship meet which attracts some of the United States top cross-country teams.

Teams from Western Michigan, Kansas, Notre Dame, Bowling Green, Ohio State, Indiana, Illinois and other Big Ten schools are expected to compete Saturday.

Jim Dupree, Brian Turner, Bill Cornell, John Saunders and Don Trowbridge will run for the Salukis and will be trying to improve on last year's satisfactory 22nd place finish.

Cornell and Turner are expected to lead Southern's charges in Saturday's meet.

Lew Hartzog, cross-country coach, has been pleased with the boy's performances in practice but at the same time has been disappointed with their showings in competition.

The meet Saturday will serve as a tune-up exercise for the following week when the Salukis compete in the NCAA university-division cross-country championship.

Woods Career To Be Stalled By Accident

George Woods is expected to be released from Doctors Hospital within the next week or 10 days where he has been since Sunday because of a hunting accident.

He accidentally shot himself in the left foot while hunting at the Crab Orchard Lake with teammate Joe Beachell.

The accident will delay Woods' career indefinitely although the Sikeston, Mo., sophomore insists he still will be a contender for a berth on the 1964 Olympic team.

Woods has been called by Lew Harzog, SIU track coach, as "the most dedicated weight man I've ever known."

United States Track and Field Magazine listed Woods as the third ranking freshman among the shot putters in the nation last spring with a 55-8 3/4 effort.

In the first meet this fall Woods put the shot 55 feet eight inches only 3/4 less than his best from last spring.

"We expected George to hit 60 feet next spring," Harzog said, "and that probably would have been good enough to get us several additional points in the NCAA."

3 Football Players Attract Pro Scout

Dennis Harmon, Jim Battle and Sam Silas attracted attention from the St. Louis football Cardinals with their performances in last Saturday's 14-7 loss to Fort Campbell.

Harmon appears to be a sure bet for the professional ranks as a safetyman.

His crushing tackles of opposing players drew the praise of the St. Louis scout who witnessed the game.

Battle and Silas were singled out by the scout for their outstanding work on defense against Fort Campbell.

Four Lettermen Return This Year

Experience and depth appear to be the strong points of the 1962-63 SIU wrestling squad which opens its season with the Illinois Invitational wrestling tournament Dec. 1.

Jim Wilkinson's squad last year placed sixth in the NCAA championship meet and has four members returning from that squad.

Frank Coniglio, Ken Houston, Don Millard and Roger Plapp return to give Wilkinson a nucleus to build around for the coming season.

Coniglio will wrestle at the 130 pounds, Houston at 191, Millard at 167 and Plapp at 177.

At the lighter weights Wilkinson will use Izzy Ramos at 115 pounds, Terry Finn at 123 pounds and either Ray or Jim DiDonato at 137 pounds.

Sophomores will be counted on to lend support to the first line wrestlers. In case of injury Wilkinson has a group of sophomores who will come in handy to replace the seasoned veterans.

Dave Holian is a sophomore who is looking good to Wilkinson with his wrestling ability. He is wrestling at the 167 pound class.

This season Southern will once again wrestle such stand-outs as Oklahoma and Oklahoma State.

SIU opens its home season Dec. 8 against Findlay College.

The remainder of the schedule includes dual meets at Bloomsburg (Pa.) State College Jan. 12; at Miami (Ohio) Jan. 26; Oklahoma State here Jan. 28; and at Indiana State Feb. 15.

Pall Mall Presents~ GIRL WATCHER'S GUIDE

CAMPUS TYPE IV

Few sights in all the world of girl watching are as breathtaking as the unexpected observation of a Gym-Dandy in midair maneuver. Plato might well have had the Gym-Dandy in mind when he wrote, "When a beautiful soul harmonizes with a beautiful form, and the two are cast in one mould, that will be the fairest of sights to him who has the eye to contemplate the vision."

Although the Gym-Dandy is a joy to behold even while tightening the laces of her sneakers, she must be seen in action to be fully appreciated. The same thing is true of a Pall Mall. It's a long, firm cigarette in a handsome package, but it must be tasted to be fully appreciated. Try Pall Mall and see.

Pall Mall's natural mildness is so good to your taste!

So smooth, so satisfying, so downright smokeable!

Fast-Acting Computer To Take Over Record Keeping Chores In 1964

A new IBM computing machine which can store and retrieve complete student and University fiscal records for both the Carbondale and Edwardsville campuses is expected here late in 1964.

John Hamblen, director of SIU's data processing and computing center, said the rapid binary computer will rank among the most advanced in any U.S. school. The new machine, known as the IBM 7040 data processing system, is still being tested and has not been installed anywhere. Hamblen said the machine, if purchased commercially, would cost $1,300,000. The University plans to lease the equipment at a cost of $13,200 per month, using a 60 per cent educational allowance.

The system will be linked by remote stations to key administrative spots on the two campuses. Two random-access magnetic disc files in the system can store upwards of 112 million characters of information and deliver any of it in one-tenth of a second. The discs are stacked like records in a juke box. Desired information is delivered from the computer in a typewritten message.

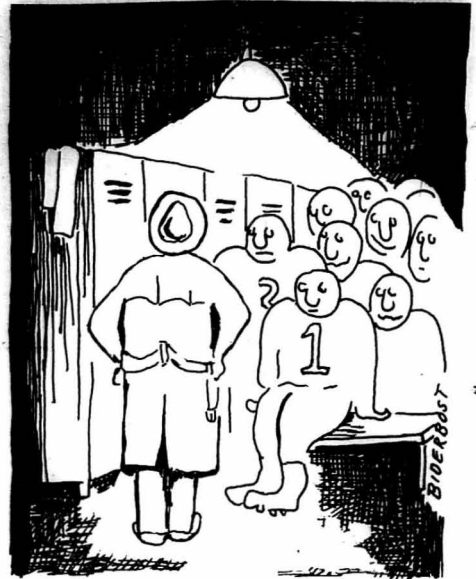

VTI Holds Hop

A pre-holiday record hop will be held from 7 to 10:30 p.m. Sunday in the VTI Student Center.

Now Is The Time To Be Alert For Fires Warns Safety Center

Now is the time for all good men--and women--to be alert for fires.

That was the warning this week from James E. Aaron, coordinator of the Safety Center.

Did you realize, for example, that: 3,400 children died in fires last year--38 per cent of all fire victims are children; 115,200 persons have perished in fires during the last 10 years; $1 1/4 billion was the economic loss attributed to fires last year; 50 per cent of all fires affect jobs; and 43 per cent of business firms hit by severe fires never resume operation.

The very fact that some 800 homes are consumed by fire each day in the United States should stimulate us to put our houses in order to eliminate the possibility of such a disaster, Aaron said. Learn and obey these rules:

Be careful with matches and smoking materials.

Eliminate electrical hazards.

Clean out old rags, papers, mattresses, broken furniture and other combustibles.

Check heating and cooking equipment.

Keep basement, garage and yard clean.

Develop a family exit plan and practice it. Know how to evacuate your home from any room.

Flu Shots Available

The Health Service has issued a second reminder to all students and University personnel to get flu shots.

Now a clean-filling, smooth-writing, money-saving Parker cartridge pen... only $3⁹⁵

New PARKER ARROW

You can buy an ordinary cartridge pen for a dollar and even get a couple of cartridges thrown in free. But, then you pay and pay and pay. This pen can save you up to 20¢ every time you buy cartridges. You get five BIG Parker Quink cartridges for only 29¢. But, even if you didn't save a dime, this pen would be worth the extra price. It's a Parker.

And only Parker gives you a solid 14K gold point tipped with platinumium—one of the hardest, smoothest alloys ever developed. It should last you for years no matter how much you use it.

The pen won't leak the way the cheap ones do. It has a built-in safety reservoir, and it must meet most of the tough specifications we set for our $10 pens.

If you have trouble saying it, say it with a Parker. If you're a little shy and have difficulty saying "I love you" or even "I like you very much"—say it with a Parker.

The new Parker Arrow makes a beautifully expressive gift and looks as if you paid a small fortune for it.

The new Parker Arrow comes in black, dark blue, light blue, light gray, and bright red, with a choice of four instantly replaceable solid 14K gold points. Gift-boxed with five free cartridges.

Election Saturday:

Many Students Eligible To Vote On Carbondale Park Bond Issue

Many SIU students and faculty are eligible to vote in Saturday's Carbondale Park System bond issue. The announcement came from Jerry Lottmann, secretary and superintendent of the Carbondale Park Board.

In the special election, voters will decide on the Park Board's proposal to issue $775,000 in bonds for financing a swimming pool, a 9-hole golf course, a lighted baseball park with stands, additions to the community center, acquisition of four neighborhood parks, and improvements to several existing playgrounds.

Lottmann said the Park

District hopes eligible SIU students and faculty will show an interest in the proposal by casting their votes Saturday. The polls are open from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Requirements for voters in municipal elections are that they be at least 21 years of age, a state resident for a year, and have lived in the county for 90 days and the precinct for 30 days.

The Park District includes Thompson Point, Small Group Housing, and the SIU Trailer Court, Lottmann said. The Southern Hills area is outside the district. Students living there are not eligible to vote.

There are four polling places. People living west of the Illinois Central tracks and north of Main Street will vote at Carbondale Community High School; those living east of the tracks and north of Main will vote at Attucks High School; those west of the tracks and south of Main Street will vote at Winkler Grade School; and those east of the tracks and south of Main Street will vote at Lincoln Junior High School.

Towns Ask Foreign Students To Share Thanksgiving Dinner

Two southern Illinois communities have extended Thanksgiving vacation invitations to foreign students at SIU and several Carbondale residents will again host international students on Thanksgiving day.

Willis G. Swartz, foreign student adviser, said plans have been completed for 14 foreign students to spend a three-day Thanksgiving vacation in homes at Robinson, Ill. The program there has been carried out for several years under the sponsorship of the Robinson Council of Churches.

Albion has also invited 14 students for the vacation period through the Rev. Tom W. Shepherd formerly of Carbondale. International students may sign up for this trip at the foreign student office. A waiting list will be maintained in case of trip vacancies.

Mrs. Mary N. Wakeland, assistant foreign student adviser, said many of the foreign students will not be able to leave Carbondale for the entire vacation period, but would welcome invitations for Thanksgiving day only.

She said Carbondale area families interested in inviting international students to their homes for the holiday should contact her at the Graduate School, telephone 453-2357.

IC Delays Departure For SIU Vacationers

The Illinois Central railroad has arranged to delay departure time for a noon train to Chicago so that students going home for Thanksgiving can catch it.

Miss Elizabeth Mullins, coordinator of student activities, said students with 11 o'clock classes will be able to get aboard train #9 detained to leave at 12:29 p.m. on Nov. 21.

Commission Studies Greek Housing

A research project to determine the status of independents living in the Greek Row area is being conducted by the Student Rights Commission, according to Student President Bill Fenwick.

Fenwick said the present constitution directs students to vote in the area in which they live. "Since independents cannot vote for Greek Senators, they end up not being able to vote for anyone," he added.
