'Grid Explosive' Forecast Tonight

Council Picks A President Pro Tempore

James R. Standard, liberal arts and sciences senator, was chosen from among four candidates as president pro temp of the Student Council Thursday.

Don Grant, presiding officer of the Council, explained the president's pro tem's responsibilities.

"For example," Grant said, "it would be the president pro temp's job to take over my duties if something should happen to me like on the plane to or in Edwardsville Sunday."

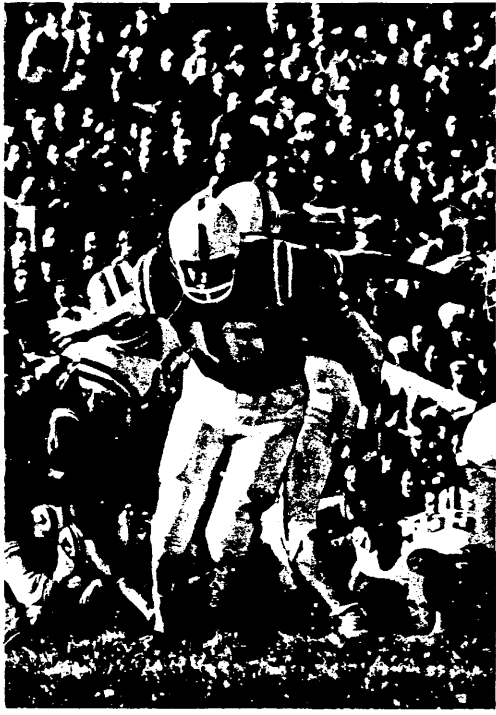

Grant and Pat Micken, student body president, will travel to Edwardsville Sunday to present a report detailing the governing power that should be allocated the present Council now that the University Student Council is in operation.

In other business, the Council voted to donate $100 to the Carbondale United Fund drive. This is the amount that has been contributed the last two years.

A bill calling for Micken to write a letter to the Carbondale Chamber of Commerce complaining about the service given to SIU students by Doctors Hospital, was referred to the Student Welfare Committee to gather more information before final action is taken.

The Council also voted to declare Nov. 22 as John F. Kennedy Memorial Day and officially set Nov. 16 to 22 as John F. Kennedy Memorial Library Fund Week.

Rodger Burt, a member of the Peace Corps, was a guest at the meeting and gave a talk on why he joined the corps and what he received from the experience.

HART ACHE - Saluki quarterback Jim Hart, handing off to an SIU back in a recent game, hopes to provide the Tigers with a lot of heart ache in McAndrew Stadium tonight.

Powerful Tigers of Lincoln To Test Improving Salukis

"Hold those Tigers" will be Southern's objective tonight when the Salukis challenge the high-powered Lincoln University grid team in McAndrew Stadium.

Game time for SIU's fourth home contest of the season is 8 o'clock.

If past performances are any indication, SIU football followers should be prepared to brace themselves for an explosive display of offensive might--both on the ground and through the air.

The mere mention of the words "running game" during the past week has caused Southern's hopeful coaches to shudder.

Struggling under the weight of a dismal 2-5 season's record, coach Don Shroyer's Salukis will face a potent bunch of Tigers who sport a classy 6-1 record and one of the most ferocious ground attacks in small-college football.

Currently, Dwight Reed's snarling cats are eighth in the small-college ranks in total offense and one of the top scoring teams in the nation with an average of 58 points per game, including victories of 73-0 and 74-0. In six games this season, Lincoln has rolled up 2,310 yards--mostly on the ground--for an average of 385 yards per game.

Shroyer hopes that his young defense can contain the favored Tigers and his awakening offense--led by stellar quarterback Jim Hart--can counter Lincoln's potent thrust.

Hart, whose passes made shambles of Lincoln's weak defensive secondary in Southern's 47-8 rout of the Tigers last season, started out slow this year but has made an encouraging comeback during the second half of the season.

Already, the Morton Grove junior has completed 77 of 174 passes for a record 1,113 yards and 10 touchdowns, Hart needs only 11 passes to break an SIU pass attempt mark and five touchdown aeriels to set another school record. Hart established the present record of 14 touchdown passes in 1963.

Hart's company in the backfield are halfback Rich Weber (SIU's leading runner with 341 yards in 91 carries), fullback Irv Rhodes and flankerback Rudy Phillips, the team's leading scorer with 34 points and top pass receiver with 21 catches.

On the offensive line Shroyer will go with ends Tom Massey--who leads the Salukis with 340 yards gained on pass receptions--and Bonnie Shelton, tackles Vic Pantaleo and Issac Brigham, guards Mitchell Krawczyk and Earl O'Malley and center Bennie Hill.

Southern's young defensive team will have Larry Wolfe, Gary Olso, Lewis Hines, Bill Chmielewski, Jack Holderer, Dave Cronin, Jim Westoff, Norm Johnson, Warren Stahlhut and Dennis Geiseke.

Morris to Make Trip

President Delyte W. Morris will attend the 78th annual convention of the Association of State Universities and Land Grant Colleges in Wahsington Sunday through Wednesday.

On the return trip he will stop at the Alton Center Nov. 12 to deliver welcoming remarks to the Madison County Federation of Women's Clubs.

Ulysses Grant III to Be Guest At Civil War Meeting Here

Maj. Gen. Ulysses S. Grant III, grandson of the former president and Civil War hero, will be guest here Sunday at the joint meeting of the Grant Association and the Civil War Centennial Commission.

Charles Tenney, vice president for planning and review, will act as official host for SIU, which is now a major collection center for research material on Ulysses S. Grant and headquarters for the Grant Association. The joint meeting to be held at 7:30 p.m. in the University Center Ballroom, will mark the first use of the new Rare Book Room in Morris Library as the library's Grant materials open a month-long exhibit.

Also, the occasion will be the first meeting at SIU of the Civil War Centennial Commission headed by Sen. Hudson H. Sours of Peoria.

U.S. Grant III has also had a distinguished military career having served in the Cuban pacification, 1906; Vera Cruz expedition, 1914; and both World Wars. He attained the rank of major general.

Social Fraternities to Operate Blood Bank; SIU Students, Area Residents to Benefit

An Interfraternity Blood Bank for use by all SIU students and Carbondale area residents will be operated by SIU's eight social fraternities.

An organizational meeting was held Thursday evening at which Jim Hansen, a member of Phi Kappa Tau fraternity, was named coordinator of the program.

Hansen said 210 members (21 years and older) of the fraternities have volunteered to donate blood. As men under 21 receive notarized statements of permission from their parents, they will be included in the program.

The blood bank will be available free of charge for use by the two Carbondale hospitals (Holden and Doctor's) and St. Joseph's Hospital in Murphysboro, Hansen said. Fraternity men will donate to replenish existing blood banks in the local hospitals and will be on call for donations in times of emergency.

Originally the program was designed to include both the fraternities and sororities and both had enrolled voluntary participants. On the advice of Dr. Richard V. Lee, director of SIU's Health Service, the sororities were eliminated from the program.

Dr. Lee explained that college-age girls, in most cases, have such a low hemoglobin count that few would be acceptable as donors.

However, a list is being kept by Linda Atwater, Panhellenic president, so that when cases of emergency or need for rare types of blood arise, some of the girls may be called upon to make donations.

The hospitals will be able to make use of the blood bank by contacting Hansen. He will check his list and notify a number of men who have the blood type needed by the hospital. SIU Security Police have agreed to furnish transportation to and from the hospitals.

Cycle Registration Set Next Week

The Parking Section will inspect and register motorized cycles Monday and Tuesday from 8-12 a.m. and 1-4 p.m. on the new cycle parking lot next to McAndrew Stadium.

Edward F. McDevitt, supervisor of the section, said drivers should have their vehicles in good working condition prior to the inspection.

Owners also should pick up applications for registration at the Parking Section in order to have them ready at inspection time.

Gus Bode

Gus says the people at the Library can't tell whether he wants a book or a beer, so they just make him show his ID card for good luck.

Art Association Selects Pendell As President

A student chapter of the National Art Education Association has been formed at SIU.

President is William Keith Pendell of Kankakee, Norman L. Swick of Carbondale has been elected vice president, and Mary Ellen Bricker, also of Carbondale, is the secretary-treasurer.

The next meeting will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the art room of University School. The film "Passion for Life" will be shown and discussed. All art education majors are invited to attend.

Circle K Smoker Set Monday Night

The SIU Chapter of Circle K International will sponsor a smoker from 7:30 to 10 p.m. Monday in Morris Library Lounge.

John Paul Davis, president of the service group, said the smoker is being held in conjunction with a membership drive.

"We urge all campus men who are interested in programs of campus service to attend and become familiar with the Circle K operations," Davis said.

He explained that in the last ten years, Circle K has grown to become the largest collegiate service organization in North America, with over 12,000 members giving service to 600 campuses.

Writers Meeting At Alton Today

The fifth annual Writers' Conference is being held at the Alton Center of SIU today. James L. C. Ford, professor of journalism, is director of the conference.

The regional conference includes sessions on the novel, short story, poetry, playwriting, nonfiction for magazines, company and industrial publications, and writing for the juvenile audience.

Haitian Dancers to Present Caribbean Festival Concert

Jean-Leon Destine and his Haitian Dance Company will appear in a concert, "Caribbean Festival," at 8 p.m. today in Shryock Auditorium. The concert is sponsored by the women's physical education department in cooperation with the University lectures and entertainment committee.

Destine also gave a "master lesson" in dance at the Women's Gymnasium Friday.

A native Haitian, Destine was among the first to recognize the voodoo dances as art. The members in Destine's company include Alphonse Cimber and Jacques Succes, Haiti's most celebrated percussionists, who not only accompany the dancers but offer a "drum conversation" duet.

Republicans Hassle Over Who Will Take Helm

Party Chiefs Talk of Rebuilding

By Jack Harrison

What is the Republican party planning to do now?

Party leaders agree that disaster has befallen their organization, but they don't agree on what should be done about it.

They all have had something to say since the debacle of Tuesday's election. Following are some of the comments.

"I don't feel that the conservative cause has been hurt at all," said Sen. Barry Goldwater, head of the GOP ticket, who suffered the most lopsided defeat in modern American presidential elections.

"Twenty-five million votes is a lot of votes, a lot of people devoted to the cause of conservatism," he added.

Goldwater's personally selected chairman of the Republican National Committee, Dean Burch, said he saw some "encouraging signs" in the election. He said that the election had established a true two-party system in the South and had won more than 26 million voters to the "conservative philosophy."

Another who is not about to write off the attempt as a failure is Denison Kitchel, Goldwater's campaign director.

"We have to wait four years, but we're going to get the Government back where it belongs," Kitchel said.

Moderates in the party spoke up in favor of a few changes in Republican leadership, however.

Michigan GOP national committeeman John Martin said Burch should resign in the wake of "the near disaster we have just been through."

A MATTER OF SURVIVAL

Henry Cabot Lodge, the party's vice presidential nominee in 1960, said the Republicans are going to have to reorient their party to offer "positive solutions to the nation's problems."

New Jersey Sen. Clifford Case predicted: "The individuals that are going to be leading the party may be considerably different from what we see now."

A Republican leader who preferred to remain anonymous said the Goldwater people would try to hang on to power and that the National Committee meeting in December and January "might be the place and time for a party showdown."

Oregon Gov. Mark O. Hatfield said that moderates must become the catalysts in rebuilding the party.

"You can't reorganize or rebuild the party on left angle turns," he said.

Many Republicans expressed confidence that their party would bounce back quickly.

"The party is too strong at the local level" to be killed off by a crushing national defeat, said Robert A. Taft Jr., who ran a close race but lost his bid for a Senate seat from Ohio.

Kentucky Sen. Thruston Morton commented: "Right now, there's no question of survival. The people want a strong two-party system."

From outside the party came the unhappy assessment of James Reston, New York Times' Washington bureau chief:

"He (Goldwater) has wrecked his party for a long time to come and is not even likely to control the wreckage."

And there was the Republican state chairman in Oklahoma, who picked himself up out of the post-election rubble and asked, "Did anyone get the number of that truck?"

Problems Beset U.N. Session

By ROBERT BETTS
Copy News Service

The financial crisis for which the United Nations has long been heading will break over the General Assembly when it reconvenes in New York for its 19th regular session on Tuesday.

Refusal of the Soviet Union and other countries to pay their share of the cost of U.N. peace-keeping operations in the Congo, the Middle East and elsewhere has left the world organization short of $123 million in overdue assessments.

The biggest defaulter is Russia, which owes $55 million. Because this is equal to two years of the regular dues which Moscow pays, it stands to lose voting rights in the General Assembly.

This penalty is prescribed by the U.N. Charter. The United States will insist that it be imposed unless the Soviet Union makes a substantial payment on its debt.

The Soviet Union, on the other hand, contends that imposition of the penalty must be approved by two-thirds of all assembly members present and voting. In addition to the Communist bloc and those other nations in arrears, the Russians are probably counting on the support of many neutrals.

Sixteen countries, 12 of them under Communist rule, are in arrears with their payments. They have withheld support of various U.N. activities for political reasons. France has contributed to Middle East peace keeping operations but has refused to support similar operations in the Congo.

The Russians maintain that special assessments are not binding on U.N. members, since peace keeping operations are "illegal" unless approved by all members of the Security Council.

However, the Soviet Union, as one of the "Big Five" permanent members of the Security Council, has used its veto against such operations. To get around this roadblock the General Assembly resolved that if the exercise of the veto prevented the Security Council from taking action to maintain peace, the assembly might be called into emergency session to recommend collective security measures.

It was under this provision that the Congo and Middle East operations were set up. The Soviet Union has refused to acknowledge their legality.

The Russians have threatened to walk out of the General Assembly and perhaps quit the United Nations if it is deprived of its assembly vote.

In a memorandum last July, however, it announced that it would support future U.N. peace keeping operations under certain conditions.

China's Friendship Has Price

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

The journey to Moscow this week-end by Red China's Premier Chou En-lai and his delegation may spell little but trouble for the post-Khrushchev regime.

Ostensibly, Premier Chou's trip is for the purpose of exploring ways and means to restore world Communist unity. Under present conditions that cannot be done.

However, this seems an opportune time for Red China to use subtle diplomacy. Anxious-sounding pronouncements under the new Soviet leadership hint that the turmoil in high places in Moscow is not ended.

The new regime, with Leonid I. Brezhnev commanding the party and Alexei N. Kosygin the government, still has a rather fragile, transitional look, and it is beset by innumerable contradictory problems.

The Bolshevik Revolution anniversary provides an opportunity for an international meeting of Red leaders to survey the ailments of the world Communist movement against the background of Nikita Khrushchev's dethronement.

The Chinese would not talk with the Russians while Khrushchev remained in the Kremlin. He was their chief target, the top revisionist, the man whose scalp was the price of even a temporary lull in the noisy battle between Peking and Moscow.

Now that there is a new Soviet regime, Peking can claim it is willing to listen, to be reasonable.

The reasonableness could serve later on as a new club for beating Russians on the head, if Moscow should finally reject China's price for muffling the dispute.

The Russians have their own demands. They likely would require the Chinese to stop trying to crowd them out of Asia and to ease up their drive for total domination of the revolutionary movement in underdeveloped areas.

The Chinese price would require much from the Russians, including abandonment of what Peking calls revisionist theory, willingness to support all violent revolution regardless of risk, greater and more significant aid to China at the expense of nations like India, and a harder Soviet policy toward the United States.

GOP Head Says Unity Imperative

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican National Chairman Sean Burch Friday called on party leaders to quit their public squabbling over the GOP's future and concentrate on providing "loyal opposition" to the Democrats.

He announced a meeting of the Republican National Committee will be held in January to discuss all questions of interest to the party, "including that of my chairmanship."

There have been calls from some Republicans — unhappy with last Tuesday's election losses — for Burch to step down as chairman.

Burch's statement came against a background of denunciations — and appeals for unity — by such Republican leaders as Richard M. Nixon, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York.

"For the first time in Republican history, we have a truly national party with significant federal aid state representation in the north, south, east and west. We have a solid financial foundation. We have an army of volunteers eager to do battle. We have active party organizations in every one of the 50 states," Burch said.

The struggle for control of the party — essentially an effort by moderates to regain the reins which Goldwater conservatives won at the national convention last summer — had been pretty much off-stage until Nixon spoke up at a New York news conference Thursday.

Nevada Tabulations Under Investigation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two state investigators flew to Nevada Friday to check reports of possible irregularities in the counting of votes in the state's tight senatorial election.

The Senate Elections subcommittee, with broad power to investigate and police federal elections, sent its Democratic majority counsel and Republican minority counsel to the state at the request of Democratic Sen. Howard Cannon.

Cannon holds a slim lead over his Republican opponent, Gov. Paul Laxalt.

Local-Level Negotiations Fail; UAW Strikes 9 Ford Plants

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co., booming along with record sales and production, suffered a staggering blow Friday as the United Auto Workers Union struck nine key plants.

The strikes came over failure to settle local-level contracts which supplement the national labor agreement reached Sept. 18.

A Ford spokesman said the strikes at the plants cut the company's auto production—about 10,000 per day—by 16 per cent. Truck production, rated at 1,800 daily, was cut 34 per cent.

Malcolm L. Denise, a Ford vice president and chief negotiator, said strikes called Friday morning against plants of Ford Motor Co., "are completely unnecessary. We have worked diligently with the UAW, on both the national and local levels, to settle hundreds of unresolved issues—many of which should not even be on the bargaining table."

Ken Bannon, the UAW Ford Department director, said "in every instance where an unresolved issue has prevented a settlement, a settlement on that question has been reached at another plant. This is the greatest disappointment I have had in my long experience dealing with Ford."

The Mercury assembly plant at St. Louis, Mo., postponed its strike deadline until Monday morning.

'Half-Cocked' Talk Hit By Senator Goldwater

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, pausing here to clear up some business before taking a vacation, advised other Republican leaders Friday not to make any "half-cocked" recommendations about the party's future.

When Goldwater arrived at Dulles International Airport, about 75 people were on hand to welcome him.

President Relaxes, No Trip Planned

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, relaxing and working at his LBJ Ranch, moved indirectly Friday to scotch speculation that he or Hubert H. Humphrey might travel to Europe before the inauguration.

Malcolm Kilduff, acting White House press secretary, told newsmen that no travel is presently contemplated or in the offering. He said this applies both to Johnson and Sen. Humphrey, the vice president-elect.

Although Kilduff spoke in response to questions, he was well-primed for such inquiries.

Kilduff said Johnson obviously wants to get together with North Atlantic Treaty Organization leaders. But he said there has been no discussion of when or where to hold such meetings.

The State Department is understood to have advised Johnson against any quick trip abroad, citing among other reasons the question of presidential succession at a time when there is no vice president.

In addition, diplomatic sources have said the pressures of the political campaign in this country have not allowed the time to prepare carefully for any tour. They say careful planning is especially needed in view of the changes in government in Great Britain and the Soviet Union.

Another question dealt with a rumor that Johnson might fly to the Brazilian capital of Brasilia sometime in the coming months.

"I've never even heard of it," Kilduff replied.

Johnson divided his time between relaxation and official business.

New U.S. Satellite To Study Radiation

WALLOPS ISLAND, Va. (AP) — The largest and heaviest satellite ever launched from this space center soared into orbit early Friday. Almost immediately it began sending back data on radiation 300 to 600 miles above the earth.

Designated Explorer 23, the 295-pound package of instruments primarily will provide scientists with information on the minute particles called meteoroids during the vehicle's anticipated year of useful life.

Mathematics Faculty Adds Versatile Prof

Andrew Sobczyk, 49, who lists Micanopy, Fla., as his home "until we sell our property," has joined the faculty of the Department of Mathematics as professor.

Sobczyk, who was born in Duluth, Minn., and has five children, has quite an impressive portfolio. His single-spaced list of education, special interests, memberships, offices, honors, publications and reports occupies five pages of a Math Department bulletin.

He was awarded B.S. and M.S. degrees in mathematics with a minor in theoretical physics at the University of Minnesota and earned his Ph.D. in mathematics from Princeton in 1939.

His research experience includes: staff member, MIT Radiation Laboratory; staff member, Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory; and work on the Missile Test Project at Cape Kennedy, Fla.

He has been instructor and associate professor of math at Oregon State University, and professor of math at University of Miami and University of Florida.

In addition to directing several masters' thesis, Sobczyk has been chairman for seven doctoral candidates.

His research affiliations include: the American Association of University Professors, American Mathematics Society, Mathematics Association of America, Swiss and Belgian Math societies, and Amateur Radio Relay League.

He is interested in topology, functional analysis, algebra, feedback control systems and stochastic processes.

In addition to scores of articles and reports already in print, Sobczyk has at least 15 more soon to be printed.

He is now conducting a seminar in functional analysis at SIU and doing research on projection in Banach spaces and linear topological spaces and algebras.

SIU Official Slates Address in Peoria

Robert C. Child, assistant director of Community Development Service, will speak at a family-style dinner at 6:30 p.m., Nov. 14, in the Parachute Room of the Greater Peoria Airport, Peoria.

Child will speak on new developments at SIU. He will supplement his talk with colored slides of new buildings on campus. The dinner is given by the Peoria area SIU Alumni.

100 Register This Week for Peace Corps Test; Recruiters Consider Visit 'Very Successful'

Approximately 100 students signed up to take the Peace Corps placement test this week, a Peace Corps recruiter said.

This is only about half the number who signed up for the test last spring, when the Peace Corps sent its first team of recruiters to SIU. R. Sargent Shriver, Peace Corps director, was on campus for the start of that drive. Bruce Joseph, a spokesman for the recruiters who were on campus this week, said the time spent here was "very successful."

Joseph attributed the success to the work of John Thomas, local committee chairman, who handled the arrangements for the Peace Corps staff of seven.

Joseph was also pleased with the cooperation of the department heads and instructors who relinquished 15 to 20 minutes of class time so the program could be explained to the students.

The placement tests will be at 10 a.m. today and at 10 a.m., 1, 3 and 7 p.m. on Monday and Tuesday. The tests, which will take about one and one-half hours, will be given in Room F of the University Center.

Joseph said that if there is a schedule conflict and the test cannot be taken at these times, it can be taken later. Students can ask at the Post Office to learn the make-up dates.

The Peace Corps group has made tentative plans to return to campus in spring. Students interested in joining the Peace Corps before then can get in touch with John Thomas at the Peace Corps office on Marion Street for information.

60 to Attend Seminar Here

Nearly 60 advance registrations have been received for a special Admiralty Law Seminar which opens on campus Monday.

Designed for inland waterways operators and maritime legal counsel, the 3-day seminar will be conducted by the SIU Transportation Institute.

Registrations have been received from virtually every state concerned with inland waterways and include attorneys, operators of barg lines and representatives of industries with waterside installations.

The seminar is the first of its type to be conducted. It will cover seven topics, including personal injuries to seamen, maritime worker and the public; collision and property damage; and maritime contracts.

Game Here Tonight

Lincoln Speedsters Challenge Salukis

By Richard La Susa
SIU football fans, beware! Roaming around the tidy confines of McAndrew Stadium tonight will be a pack of teething and revenge-filled Tigers, hungry for a football victory over Southern's proud Salukis.

The Tigers, the property of Lincoln University, will be seeking their first win over Southern since the current series between the two schools started in 1962. Since then, Lincoln coach Dwight Reed has seen his Tigers drop 13-0 and 47-8 decisions to SIU.

Don't expect Lincoln to be the same group of docile tabbies that which flourished and lopped here last season. These Tigers are for real, and have convinced their opponents of the fact this year by grinding them into the ground with a lethal running attack and powerful scoring punch.

The Salukis are aware of Lincoln's prowess and have worked long and hard in practice this week to find a way to stop the razzle-dazzle tiger offense. "We're going to have to slow down their running game, if we expect to win," said head Coach Don Troyer.

Lincoln, averaging 58 points per game, plays a fancy, wide open style of football which has produced six victories in even outings for the re-energized Tigers this season.

The Tigers love to run with the football, and there are three excellent reasons why-- Willie Dent, Zeke Moore and John Hunter. All three run the undred in less than 10 seconds, and are about as easy to contain as a raging California brush fire.

Moore, a sophomore speed merchant, is the Tigers' leading scorer and groundgainer. The swift halfback is averaging 6.6 yards per carry for team which specialized in quick bursts through the line and roaring sprints around nd.

Fullback Hunter is a hard-driving 185-pound senior who rovides the Tigers with an ample amount of power running and fine blocking. Hunter also doubles on defense as a linebacker.

Rounding out the Tiger backfield are junior halfback Dent--Lincoln's second leading rusher and scorer--and junior quarterback Alton Adams. While Adams has been a key factor in the precision operation of Lincoln's running offense, the sparky quarterback also has thrown with consistency all season and is averaging 80 yards per game in the air.

The Tigers have another ace up their scoring sleeve in center Gerald Walker. Walker is a mainstay in the light Lincoln line and a top field goal kicker. In Lincoln's 32-12 victory over Kentucky State two weeks ago, the big junior booted booming field goals of 28 and 40 yards.

Coach Reed will go with a small, young but eager line in tonight's game. Starting on the forward wall, which has provided Lincoln backs considerable running room thus far, are ends Gerald Woodard and Sam Parham, tackles Jimmie Curtis (208) and Richard Carr (223), guards George Buckner (195) and Ray Wooden (212) and center Walker (207).

Chaplain of Prison To Speak Sunday

Pitt Must Handle Irish Passing Game

By the Associated Press

Mazurek, their third-ranked career total offense leader. But Mazurek has had a rough time in Pitt's last four games.

But for the season he has run for 433 yards and four touchdowns and passed for 531 and two touchdowns.

Once again Notre Dame will be counting heavily on quarterback John Huarte, who has completed 72 passes in 128 attempts this season for 1,273 yards and 12 touchdowns.

Huarte will have the help of end Jack Snow, who has caught 41 passes for seven touchdowns and gained 741 yards this season.

But Notre Dame doesn't confine its game to the air. It can move on the ground too. Its leading rusher is halfback Bill Wolski, who has picked up 468 yards and six touchdowns on 94 carries.

Top-ranked Notre Dame takes on Pittsburgh's slightly bedraggled Panthers today in what is considered by many to be the top college game of the week.

The Fighting Irish will be after their seventh straight win under their new coach, Ara Parseghian. And the Panthers, at best, can only hope for an upset.

Last year when the two teams met, Pitt won an easy 27-7 victory. But things are different this season. Pitt, for example, is mainly a running team and Notre Dame's defenses have allowed only 183 yards on the ground this season.

If the Panthers are to pull an upset they will need a top game from quarterback Fred

ARA PARSEGHIAN

In today's other major games, Ohio State, which dropped to second after a close call against Iowa, plays Penn State; No. 4 Arkansas meets Rice; fifth-ranked Nebraska takes on Kansas; Texas, No. 6, plays Baylor; seventh-ranked Georgia Tech meets Tennessee; Florida, No. 9, takes on Georgia; and No. 10 Purdue plays Michigan State.

Baseball Owners Seek Draft, Set Commissioner's Election

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)--The major league club owners have set machines in motion for adoption of a free-agent draft, a vote on a commissioner to succeed the retiring Ford Frick and the establishment of a central building to house all major baseball officials.

Each club owner was asked to send one or more recommendations to a three-man screening committee consisting of Frick and one club owner from each circuit. The club owners were not named.

The committee would then trim the list to three leading candidates who would be presented to the club owners for a vote.

The owners, upon Frick's urging, agreed to either erect or lease a building called "Baseball" either in New York, Chicago or Los Angeles.

More and more it has become necessary for a closer liaison between the commissioners, the league presidents and the head of the minor leagues.

The present procedure is costly in money, in time and in efficiency.

A five-man committee consisting of Frick, league presidents Joe Cronin of the American and Warren Giles of the National and a club owner from each league was appointed to map out plans.

The free-agent draft, if approved at the joint session here Saturday, would be brought up for adoption at the annual winter meetings in Houston next month.

If adopted, it would replace the first-year player rule which has been in effect since 1961.

The Los Angeles Lakers have moved into a tie with the St. Louis Hawks in the Western Division of the National Basketball Association.

The Lakers matched St. Louis' 5-3 record Thursday night by defeating the New York Knickerbockers 106-96 in Los Angeles. It was the only game scheduled.

Braves' Court Battle Begins; County Fights Proposed Move

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Milwaukee Braves? Atlanta Braves? Maybe the Bank Braves is more fitting.

President and General Manager John McHale have admitted under cross-examination that the Braves used player contracts as collateral to obtain a $3-million long-term loan from the First Wisconsin National Bank of Milwaukee.

The loan was obtained when a Chicago area syndicate headed by Bill Bartholomay, now the club's board chairman, and Tom Reynolds, the executive vice president, bought the Milwaukee franchise two years ago.

Now Bartholomay, Reynolds, McHale & Co. are engaged in a bitter legal fight over the desire to move to Atlanta. Milwaukee County is insisting that the Braves fulfill a contract to play all home games at County Stadium through 1965 and has obtained a state court order temporarily restraining the Braves from moving.

The Braves claim "diversity of citizenship" because the club is a Delaware corporation and its principal business has been conducted in Chicago since Oct. 5.

McHale noted that Bartholomay, Reynolds and two other members of the Braves "finance committee" live in the Chicago area. He said the committee voted Sept. 14 to move the headquarters.
