Discuss New Union Building Plans at Alumni Board Meet

Construction of a student union building here at Southern was given special consideration by the university Alumni Association board during its regular meeting held during Homecoming on Oct. 21.

Following recommendations by President D. W. Morris and a student committee headed by Tom Sloan, president of the Student Council, the board voted to have plans submitted at a later meeting to be held in December when the type of student union building and the tentative date of construction would be decided upon.

The plans to be submitted at the December meeting will be proposals for financing the construction of the building. No funds are available at the present time, but the alumni board hopes to take definite action after the December meeting.

STUDENTS forming the committee to help plan the union building who were present at the alumni meeting were Doris Schwinn and Tom Sloan from the Student Council; Wilma Beadle from the Panhellenic Council; Nancy Willis and Muriel Fults from Anthony Hall; Patricia Drone from the Independent Girls Council; and Gene Howey.

Comments from the student representatives at the meeting urged that something be done about a student union building now and said that present facilities were too crowded. Sloan added that a union building would cut down on weekend commuting. Dr. Morris said that, in his opinion, a student union building was one of the two most critical needs of the university.

Also at the alumni meeting, it was decided that Old Main, the oldest building on campus, be preserved as a landmark until such time as it is condemned as unsafe.

Wayne Mann was installed as assistant secretary-treasurer of the association and was officially recognized by the group as director of Alumni Services at the university. Mann assumed his duties at SIU a month ago.

A TEN YEAR program for the association was presented by Mann and approved by the board. The plan calls for a series of sound movies which will be produced by alumni and university personnel. The purpose of the movies will be to show expansion of the University and sociological studies on community development in Southern Illinois.

The plan also includes the publication of a quarterly magazine which will be distributed to all dues paying members of the association. At present, all alumni receive a monthly bulletin on the activities of the university and the alumni association.

Two other projects approved were plans to distribute throughout Southern Illinois, some scale models of the proposed future campus, and to publish a calendar that would explain the advantages found in the Southern part of the state.

Southern Is Host At ACE Conference

Forty students of Southern Illinois University were host to approximately 200 members of the Illinois State Association for Childhood Education at its eleventh annual conference, Oct. 28-29.

The association is an international organization for the advancement of the education of children. In Illinois, there are eight student branches and nearly 30 teacher branches of the association.

Sue Kraper, Sigma Sigma Sigma, from Metropolis, is president of Southern's ACE.

This conference is the first one ever held in Southern Illinois. Preparations for the meeting have been under way since last June, according to Dr. Sina Mott, associate professor of education and sponsor of the club at SIU.

"USING WHAT We Know About Children," was the general theme of the meeting. Discussions concerning "Types of home and school environment best suited to the development of a well-adjusted personality," were stressed, according to Dr. Mott.

Olga Adams, former international president of the organization and member of the faculty of the University of Chicago, gave a speech and Dr. Irving Stout, professor of education at Southern Illinois University, delivered the major address.

A banquet at the Roberts Hotel in Carbondale was held Saturday evening, Oct. 28. The Sunday morning session of the conference was held at Giant City Park.

Chicago Psychiatrists To Conduct Clinic

A professional staff of Chicago psychiatrists will conduct a special clinic, sponsored jointly by the Illinois Institute for Juvenile Research and SIU's Child Guidance clinic on this coming Thursday and Friday, Nov. 2 and 3.

Staffing of a special case will be held Thursday afternoon at 1, and will refer to a child who was seen here at the clinic previously. At 2 p.m. Dr. Harold Balikov, Chicago psychiatrist, will conduct a seminar, "What Children of School Age Worry About." Both sessions will be held in the auditorium of the Allyn building.

Friday at 1 p.m., there will be another staffing of a special case, followed by an open forum in charge of Miss Marion Spasser, psychiatric social worker, on "Why Children of School Age Worry Their Parents." Both Friday meetings will be held in the Little Theatre.

Make Final Plans For Choral Clinic At SIU Saturday

Music students and faculty at Southern Illinois University are making final arrangements to welcome approximately 1300 high school musicians to Southern Illinois University's Choral Clinic-Festival. The clinic is an annual affair, held this year for the 10th time on Saturday, Nov. 4.

In 1949, 1,057 students from 25 schools were present. The 1300 expected this year will represent at least 32 schools.

Guest conductor of the clinic will be Dr. Burnet Tuffill, director of the music department at Southwestern College in Memphis. Director of the clinic is Floyd V. Wakeland, associate professor of music at SIU and director of the University choir.

"THE CLINIC is presented each year," Mr. Wakeland said, "for the purpose of inspiring students to a more vital interest in choral music through singing in a large group under the direction of nationally known conductors. We also hope that it is assisting the choral directors throughout the area," he continued, "in the selection of material and encouragement of the students in their own organizations."

The high schools who have already indicated that they will participate in the clinic include:

Anna-Jonesboro, Benton, Carbondale Community, Carmi, Carrierr Mills, Carterville, Centralia, Chester, Coulterville, Crossville, Eldorado, Enfield, Equality, Gorham, Harrisburg, Hurst-Bush, Johnston City.

Marion, McLeansboro, Metropolis, Murphysboro, New Athens, Norris City, Salem, San Jose, Sparta, Thebes, Thompsonville, Trico (Ava), University A Cappella Choir, University School, West Frankfort and Zeigler.

Pre-Registration To Be Held Soon

Advisement and pre-registration week for undergraduate students will be held Monday, Nov. 6 through Saturday, Nov. 11, the dean's office announced today.

Students will see their advisers during this week and will secure approval for their winter quarter academic programs.

After the conference between the student and advisers, the student should take his approved work sheet to the Old Main cross halls for pre-registration.

IBM class cards will be pulled and punched with the student's name so that on Registration Day, Dec. 4, the student will complete his registration with a minimum of difficulty.

Further details will be announced later.

SIU Christmas Vacation To Begin Week Early

Southern's Christmas vacation will begin Dec. 16—one week earlier than originally scheduled—according to an announcement made by President D. W. Morris.

Freshmen Have Special Election

Freshmen are today trying for the second time this year to decide upon a class president.

A special vote is being held today by the Student Council to break the tie between frosh presidential candidates Earl Cox, West Frankfort, and Gwen Applegate, Benton.

The election race between Applegate, who is a resident of Anthony Hall, and Cox, a pledge of Chi Delta Chi, was declared an official tie at 391 votes apiece after a recount of votes by the Student Council two weeks ago.

Last year when a similar situation came up in the race for vice-presidency of the senior class, Bill Liensch was named vice-president by a flip of a coin.

This year, however, the Student Council voted to hold a special freshman election to break the tie.

Hold All-School Barn Dance Nov. 4

Next Saturday night, Nov. 4, is the date for the all-school "Harvest Dance." The Agriculture club is sponsoring the event with the Sing and Swing club, the Week-end Social Committee, and the Home Economics club in the first intra-club attempt at giving an all-school dance.

The Men's Gymnasium will be decorated in true barn dance style with plenty of straw bales, brush, and corn sorghum.

The Tune Twisters, an all purpose band from Vergeennes, will play everything from modern ballads to hoedown. Other dances will include waltzes, polkas, and circle dances. Featured on the program will be an exhibition of square dances by the Sing and Swing Club. A typical couple will be chosen from those attending. Leon Mayer, chairman of the dance, says that blue jeans for the boys and gingham dresses for the girls will be suitable dress for the evening.

Admission for the dance is 50 cents, and tickets can be obtained from any member of the Agriculture club, the Sing and Swing club, or the Home Economics club.

BREAKS NOSE

Bob Swienburg, SIU halfback, received a broken nose last Saturday against Arkansas State.

Morris made the announcement after a recommendation that the change be made had been suggested by the Student Council and was approved by the Advisory Council, which is composed by student and faculty. The suggested change then went to Morris, who granted his approval.

The Student Council suggested the holiday vacation begin one week earlier to allow students a better chance to obtain employment in the pre-holiday shopping rush.

TOM SLOAN, president of the Student Council, told the Egyptian. "Since classes are dismissed on Dec. 16, students will have an entire week to work as part-time Christmas help." He added, "Since classes won't reconvene until Jan. 2, this will give us ample time to enjoy the holidays."

The university calendar had listed the Christmas vacation to begin Saturday, Dec. 23 and that school should resume on Monday, Jan. 8.

Under the new schedule classes will be dismissed Saturday, Dec. 16 and instruction will be resumed Tuesday, Jan. 2. An additional day of vacation will be gained under the new system since students will get out New Years Day in addition to the two weeks prior to New Years.

The only scheduled vacation between now and Christmas vacation will be Thanksgiving (Nov. 23) and the Friday following Thanksgiving.

This lecture, open to the public, is being sponsored by the Physical Education Professional club.

EGYPTIAN PHOTOGRAPHER ACCEPTS STUDIO JOB

Richard Peterman, Egyptian staff photographer, dropped out of college last week to accept a position as co-operator of a photographic studio in Lincoln (Ill.).

Peterman, a sophomore from Eldorado, also worked in the SIU photo lab and has been associated with the Obelisk and the Egyptian for the past two years.

A Word of Explanation

In order to give students and faculty faster campus news coverage, the Egyptian this week is going semi-weekly.

We have often been confronted with the question, "Do the students want a semi-weekly?" We could take a poll, but we think the only real test is to publish semi-weekly on a trial basis to see how successful it is.

Going semi-weekly is not too easy a step for the following reasons:

1. Our budget is about the same as last year. Our money from student activity fund is about the same, and our income from advertising is about the same as the last two years.

2. Our printing costs have gone up about 25 to 30%.

3. Our staff is smaller than usual this year. We have the smallest number of reporters we have had in several years.

DESPITE THE above items, we feel that as Southern advances, the Egyptian should advance. We feel that going semi-weekly is a step in the right direction. (There are few, if any, college semi-weeklies in Illinois.)

In order to go semi-weekly and still not increase the student activity fee, we are forced to cut the newspaper size to a tabloid instead of a full-size paper.

On seeing a small paper, many persons, without too much thought, are inclined to hurriedly remark, "There's nothing in it." We admit that each issue won't have as much as a full-size paper, but should it?

AS WE UNDERSTAND it, the main purpose of a newspaper should be to get the news to the people in the shortest possible time. Since a tabloid is half the size of a regular paper, then we can publish about the same amount of news each week, but much of the news should be more timely. And for those who think a tabloid is so small, try counting the number of words in an issue.

Some may be against the smaller size paper simply because of tradition of having a large paper. Persons who argue for something merely on the basis of tradition, and not on the relative merits of the two, are using poor logic.

We hope you enjoy our new semi-weekly. If you have any suggestions, please forward them to us.—B. H.

Holiday Greetings

Quick action by the Student Council, the Advisory Council, and President D. W. Morris has upped Southern's Christmas vacation schedule one week in order to give students a better chance to get pre-Christmas jobs.

It's good to see not only the good co-operation for the students' benefit, but also the short time in which it is done. We have long felt that many things on the campus took far too long and could be speeded up by better organization and better management.

Its co-operation and speed like that that keeps a university—or any other organization—moving ahead.—B. H.

SIU Students Give

Approval of This Year's Homecoming

After every Homecoming each student forms an opinion of the event in his or her own mind, and often wonders how that opinion compares with others. Some of the opinions of students are given here.

Says Don Runge, 19, a sophomore from Chester: "Parade was fine and the floats were excellent. The marching choir is an addition that was needed for a long time. I think that the Chi Delta house decoration should have done better."

Also from Chester, Harry Jackson, 24, and a postgraduate student said: "The parade was the best thing but of course there was no rain so it's hard to compare it with past Homecomings. The dance was good and Fina played more danceable music than some of the bigger bands. It was the first football game I've seen two touchdowns made on blocked kicks. As a whole, the affair was more enjoyable than any other I've seen in the five years since I first came to Southern."

Bob Van Horn, junior, 19, who is new at Southern this term, had this comment, "I saw Homecoming at Blackburn college and the show that SIU put on this year was much better. The dance was wonderful and the choice of queen was fine. Homecoming even brought out Southern's school spirit."

Another junior, Bill Collett, 21, of Carbondale, said "The results of the football game were unexpected and I think that we gained a moral victory."

Even the freshmen had a good time during Homecoming if Jack Sivert, 18, of St. Louis, is taken as an example. He says "In my opinion it was handled nicely. All the decorations were good and the house judging must have been a hard job. I had a great time."

Bill Turner, 18, of Carbondale, also a freshman, agreed and added "The parade was better this year than last. The football game was wonderful."

To go from one extreme to the other senior Tom Jackson, 24 from Du Quoin, said "I've had more fun at this Homecoming than I have had at any of the others that I have attended. It was the largest we've had yet and I'm looking to larger ones in the future."

Another senior, Jane Kibler, 20 from Yale, (Ill.), answers like this "Never had so much fun in my whole life. The parade was best, much better than any others I've attended."

All things put together, students seem to agree that this year's Homecoming would be hard to surpass.

Duo-Pianists

Morley and Gearhart Display Piano Mastery

by Kate E. Moe, assistant professor of music

The concert presented by the duo-pianists, Virginia Morley and Livingston Gearhart, in Shryock auditorium last Wednesday night was more of a layman's concert than a musician's concert. If the two pianists set out to entertain the audience, they certainly accomplished their purpose, judging by audience response.

The program included the well-known favorites of the average untrained listener, and the artists played these numbers very well. The performers are, unquestion-ably, excellent pianists, but the music lover wishes that they had included in their program some of the compositions written for them by Milhaud, Diamond, and Dello Joio.

THE CONNOISSEUR of music was not entirely neglected, however, for the musical highlight of the evening was the Brahms Variations on a Theme of Haydn. In this great set of variations the piano team displayed a mastery of some of the best of musical literature.

As one musician in the audience remarked, the performers would surely not have studied with Casadesu and Boulanger if all they had wanted to do was to play boogie-woogie and semi-classical music. The performance of the Brahms Variations was proof that the artists not only enjoyed playing music of a high calibre, but also that they were able to do so. This writer feels that Morley and Gearhart are among the few who can play serious and light music equally well.

SIU Exposure

Presenting Queen First at Dance Ruins Suspense

by Harry Reinert

Most of what needs to be said about Homecoming has already been printed, but we believe that one point was overlooked. We noticed an innovation in the coronation ceremony which should be omitted in the future.

Although in courts of olden time the subjects undoubtedly bowed before the queen, we feel that considering the rivalry prevalent in campus queen elections that it is merely pouring salt into an open wound to have the runners-up curtsy to the queen. This is not to be interpreted as a slur on the other candidates, but it is merely subjecting them to undue humiliation.

Also, a lot of the fire of expectation was taken out of the coronation by announcing the name of the queen so early in the ceremony. The introduction of the remainder of the court was as a result a sort of anti-climax.

One last word about elections. The record turnout at the polls for Homecoming and class officer elections is an indication of a new trend among SIU voters—the very healthy trend of going to the polls when an election turns up. This is the only way any semblance of a representative student government can ever be maintained on campus. Our congratulations go to all those who voted, both for recognizing this and for doing something about it.

As all fans must already know, the Egyptian is going semi-weekly starting this week. Southern Exposure, however, will continue to be published on a weekly basis—probably in each Tuesday's edition. In case of some extraordinary circumstances, this column may appear in both editions occasionally.

Notable quote: Against stupidity, even the gods strive in vain.

OF THE selections which were not originally written for two pianos, the Prelude in G minor by Rachmaninoff seemed best to lend itself to two-piano transcription; the Chopin Nocturne-Fantasy, perhaps, the least well. The addition of another piano in the latter number seemed quite superfluous.

Gershwin's "An American in Paris" is not the type of music that wears well, and, to this writer, it was worn out long ago. The Spinning Song from "Pelleas and Melisande" by Faure was a refreshing bit of music in a program made up almost entirely of "old war horses."

Of the encores, the two artists' own Boogie-Woogie was definitely the most delightful.

NEA's-Tri-Sigs Revive '20's With Charleston

by Doty LaBash

NU EPSILON ALPHA is sponsoring a revival of the "Charleston" on the campus. An exchange party with the Tri-Sigs was held Wednesday night using the Charleston theme. Costumes representing the '20's were worn. Long-waisted skirts, striped coats, and knickers were worn by those attending.

Dr. Dorothy Davies and Mrs. Mary Coffy, Tri-Sig house mother, were chaperones.

An impressive number of alumni attended the alum brunch and smoker last Saturday. They were Walter B. Young, Jr.; Richard Kiader, Bill Perry, Waldo McDonald, Ernest Yubas, Fred Hagalae, Hal Miller, Roger Downey, Robert Dean Isbell, Bill Plater, Warren Elliott, Bob Carmody, Loren Wilson, Gene Wells, Loren Kolditz, Delbert McGee, Donald Boesch, Paul Dickerson, Dick Hemmingsen, Harold Barnard, Melvin Wittenborn, Charles Wittenborn.

Bob O'Daniel was elected as alum recorder. This is a new office in the fraternity and was created for the purpose of representing the alum organization in meetings.

DELTA SIGMA EPSILON pledges and actives celebrated yesterday as their fall term Topsy-Turvy Day. For that one day pledges reigned as actives.

Actives Helen Nance, Annie Foley, and Joan Foley, and pledges Libby Mars and Jean Hudgins are going to attend the Eastern Illinois State Teachers' college Homecoming celebration at Charleston this week end. They will stay at the Delta Sigma Epsilon chapter house while there.

Joan Foley and Bunky Paterson attended the University of Illinois Homecoming celebration this last week end.

Among the alums who stayed at the chapter house during our Homecoming were Harvalae Greenwood, Shirley Broadway, and Trudy Troesken, who were all in school here last year.

PI KAPPA SIGMA will have a chili supper at the chapter house on Thursday night, Nov. 2, beginning at 5 p.m. Tickets may be secured from any Pi Kap or at the chapter house for 50c.

SCF Holds Work Party

A work party was held at the Student Christian foundation earlier this month for the purpose of re-decorating the foundation kitchen.

Herbert Rieke, freshman from Carbondale directed a workshop service, "Work and Christian Faith." Others participating in the service were Chuck Wildy, sophomore from Belleville, Rev. Elwood K. Wylie, the foundation director, and Lisa Chang, graduate student from Korea.

Duo-Pianists Use Variety of Style

Livingston Gearhart and Virginia Morley opened the 1950-51 Carbondale Community concert season before a capacity crowd of students and concert association members Wednesday night at 8.

Gearhart and Morley, in private life, Mr. and Mrs., demonstrated throughout the concert a unity of thought and execution which kept pace with the varied program. A bit of good "theatre" was injected into the evening's presentation by the often humorous comments offered by the duo in place of the usual program notes.

The young artists presented a variety of styles and composers, literally running the course from Bach to Offenbach. The latter's "Can-Can," opened the second portion of the program after two compositions by Brahms, and was followed by the sophisticated "Piece en forme de Habanera" of Ravel. The Ravel in turn preceded Gershwin's breezy, brisk, "An American in Paris." The first half of the concert was closed with an encore, the Arensky "Waltz."

The audience called back the pair for four encores: "Flight of the Bumble Bee," the Gearhart's "Baby Boogie," "Limehouse Blues," and with fine clarity and a sure touch, the Bach chorale, "Jesus, Joy of Man's Desiring."

Kazmayer Speaks At Teachers' Meet

Robert Kazmayer, world traveler, lecturer, and columnist, was the principal speaker at the annual conference of the southern division of the Illinois Education Association, at Shryock auditorium, Friday, Oct. 27.

Speaking to more than 2,700 teachers from 14 Southern Illinois counties, Kazmayer warned the group to keep their eyes on Europe for the development of new wars. He stated, "Of six wars fought by the U. S., five have had their roots in Europe. . . . We have got to clean up situations which we have created. A foreign policy has to be for the long range good of the government."

PRESIDING AT the conference was Geoffrey Hughes, president of the association and county superintendent of schools in Franklin county.

The program also included a welcome address by Dr. Willis G. Swartz, chairman of the SIU graduate school; an address by Mr. Hughes; and the presentation of past presidents and present division officers.

General aims of the IEA are to improve the professional status of the teacher, the efficiency of the schools, and the public relations between the teacher and the parent.

Southern Gets Shipment Of Old Mastodon Bones

A new shipment of mastodon bones and relics has been received by Southern from Dr. John Dorris of the history department of Richmond State Teacher's College, Richmond, Ky.

The rib and leg bones of the mastodon (an extinct elephant-like animal) were discovered near Blue Lake, Ky. This animal vanished from existence 10,000 years ago.

The shipment also included explosive shrapnel shells from the battle of Vicksburg, Miss. This particular shell was one of the earlier makes. It is hollow and the inside was filled with powder; the three inch shell exploded upon contact. A piece of a sycamore tree trunk from Boonesborough, Ky., completed the shipment. This sycamore tree was planted at the time of the founding of Boonesborough—an early settlement named for Daniel Boone.

J. W. Allen, curator of the museum, says that they expect to have the additions ready for display in two weeks.

Arkansas Indians Do High Class Scalping, Tromp Maroons 46-0

Southern's Maroons suffered their third loss of the season Saturday night at Kays Field, home of the Arkansas State Indians, as they were scalped 46-0 for their worst defeat of the year. The Maroons fought hard but were completely outclassed by the hard running backs and charging line of their hosts.

Injuries to Brown, Wangelin and Kraus weakened Southern's line, and injuries also wreaked havoc with the backfield, at one time in the game necessitating the playing of three fullbacks, including defensive center Paul Swoboda.

Arkansas romped through the first half, scoring almost at will as they accounted for 32 of their 46 points, and compiling 256 total yards gained as compared to 41 for Southern. The Maroons were forced to punt on third down after receiving the opening kickoff. The Indians took possession of the ball on their own 42 yard line. Hard running by fullback Romero and halfback Osseimeier carried the action to Southern's three yard line, from where they bowled over to score. LaPlante's kick was locked and Arkansas led, 6-0.

Later, after a field drive consisting solely of running plays, Rudy Wagner charged over for the Indians second touchdown. LaPlante failed to convert as the kick sailed wide.

Southern held on the third series of Indian downs, however, and thanks to the fine defensive play of Captain Don Cross and Chuck Oylar, the first quarter ended with Southern only 12 points behind.

A fumbled lateral by Southern on their own 12 yard line set up another State touchdown at the start of the third quarter. Petroff recovered, and Romero scored two plays later, and LaPlante kicked the placement. Score, 19-0.

Fumbleitis took over again in the Maroon backfield, and Harold Call's 35 yard kickoff return went to no avail. On the third play from scrimmage, Call received an injured hand, and had to leave the game. Brenzel recovered two fumbles in the SIU backfield before punting to the Arkansas 23.

For the second time in a series of downs, Arkansas failed to score as Dee Bonner dropped a touchdown pass in the end zone. Southern later scored their initial first down, when Oylar's pass to Herb Cummings was completed on his own 36. However, on second down, A.S.C. recovered another Maroon fumble, and turned it into another touchdown in the person of Dick Wolt. Wolt ran through the entire Southern team, for 23 yards and the fourth tally. LaPlante's kick was good, and the score read 26-0.

Later, a short blooming lateral was grabbed from Swoboda's hands by Trishman, a 180 pound guard, who stepped across the goal line to score. Swoboda, however, later blocked LaPlante's try for the extra point.

In the third period, Captain Cross recovered a fumble on the Arkansas 40, but a series of pass interceptions put the ball back in the Indians' hands. However, the Maroons miraculously held the State boys for two series of downs, and were on the offense when the third period ended.

Arkansas then took over again, and Dee Bonner climaxed a 70 yard drive by snaring a pass in the end zone. LaPlante kicked the point from placement and the score went 39-0. Then Southern started their only offensive of the ball game.

Paul (Red Man) Swoboda, regularly a defensive center, went to fullback and collaborated with VanderPluym and Zima to give the Maroons a first down on the ASC 31. However, Romero broke up the drive when he intercepted Zima's pass on the line of scrimmage and started another Indian war dance. Osseimeier finally plowed over from the two and LaPlante converted again. Final score 46-0.

Brenzel later intercepted again on the Indian 27, but Bonner obliged by re-intercepting once more to thwart any possible Maroon scoring.

The Maroons will have to completely alter their football play if they are to make any kind of showing at all against Eastern at Charleston this week-end. With three tough games remaining on the football agenda, the local boys will have to work hard to eek out a single victory. However, now that they have this one bad game out of their systems, there is a possibility that they can come back strong.

Phil Coleman Sets Another New Record In X-Country Meet

Running a three and half mile course in a sizzling time of 17 minutes, 25 seconds, Phil Coleman of Southern captured first place in a double dual meet at Normal Friday.

Coleman averaged less than five minutes per mile in setting the new pace. Last week Coleman set a new record of 20 minutes for a similar course at Southern.

Coach Leland Lingie said "it was a new course and it's difficult to compare Phil's time with the usual course times." He added, however, "It's the fastest yet on that course and great time for any three and a half mile course."

TEAMMATE Joe McLafferty ran with Coleman for two miles and was setting a great pace until McLafferty had to slow down to a walk to relieve a side pain.

Normal edged Southern, 30-25 and Southern bested Northern, 36-19, and Normal beat Northern, 37-18, in the unusual meet in which each team vied with each other similar to a rual meet.

Coleman finished 16 seconds ahead of Swift of Normal. McLafferty was fifth, Ray Palmer sixth, and Harry Pick tenth.

Washington U. Hands Maroon Bees Initial Loss of Season, 25-14

Washington University's junior varsity squad tipped the Southern Maroons' B squad, 25-14, in a game played in St. Louis Saturday afternoon.

It was the first defeat in three encounters and also marked the end of the season for Coach John Corn's second stringers. Earlier in the season Southern had defeated Washington, 19-13.

Southern outgained Washington both in yardage and first downs. Southern's passing offense looked especially good during the second half.

With quarterback Joe Huske doing most of the tossing, Southern completed 10 passes out of 23 attempts for a total of 149 yards. Washington completed only three of 10 attempts for a total of 49 yards.

On the ground, however, Southern was not too strong, especially during the first half as they gained a total of only 28 yards by rushing. Totals gave Washington 246; Southern 172.

In first downs Southern made 14 compared to 11 for Washington.

Following a long drive, Washington scored early in the first quarter, Bob Lasley making the touchdown from the two. Lasley's kick for the extra point was low.

Risley cut off left tackle and raced 40 yards for a second touchdown near the end of the first quarter.

Southern almost got a beautiful scoring opportunity midway in the second period when McCullough, who made several outstanding kicks during the contest, kicked from midfield and end Jim Veatch, recovered a Washington fumble on the 10. However, the play was nullified by a backfield in motion penalty against the Maroons.

Jim Uteritz tossed a 19-yard aerial to Jay Metcalfe to climax another Washington touchdown drive late in the first half. Try for the extra point was no good. Washington led, 18-0 at half time.

Southern's passing attack began to click early in the third period and the Maroons moved downfield. After reaching the Bears' 25, Huske tossed to Leo Wilson who caught it on the 15 and ran the remaining distance for a touchdown. Huske, on a quarterback sneak, scored the extra point.

Seconds later, however, Washington's Bill Dean slipped around right end and scampered 56 yards for a touchdown to give the Bears a comfortable 25-7 advantage.

Southern scored its last touchdown on the first play of the final period as Huske tossed 38 yards to Mel Cochran. Huske passed to Nick Vermis for the extra point.

The Maroons penetrated to the Bears' four-yard line in the closing seconds of the game, but could not score.
