VOLUME 35 CARBONDALE, ILLINOIS, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 16, 1953 No. 9

Parents To See SIU Firsthand Tomorrow

Parents of Southern students will have an opportunity to see Southern first hand tomorrow at the fourth annual Parents Day. Registration at the Student Union is from 3 to 5 p. m. Tags and programs will be given to brothers and sisters as well as parents. Students are then to show their families around the campus. Department chairmen are to be in their offices so that they may meet parents.

Girls' Rally and APO members will be on hand at the Student Union to show around the parents to do so at that time.

A convocation featuring student talent will be held in Shrock Auditorium at 3 p. m. President Delte W. Morris will speak to the group. It is hoped that a Parents' Association similar to the Dad's Association on other campuses may be organized at that time, according to Dr. Elizabeth Greenleaf, Supervisor of Student Activities.

A buffet supper for students and their families will be in the Men's gym from 5 to 7 p. m. Social chairmen of organized houses through the Social Chairman's group are planning the supper.

There will be a coffee hour at the Student Union from 4 to 5 following the convocation. Several living centers are also planning coffee hours at this time.

A buffet supper for students and their families will be in the men's gym from 5 to 7 p. m. Social chairmen of organized houses are planning the supper which will cost 50 cents per person. Late comers will have a chance to register at the gym during this time also.

One ticket to the Michigan Central-Southern football game to-morrow night will admit an entire family. Tickets may be purchased at the Men's gym during the supper hour. Students may sit with their parents if they wish. A special section for the families will be reserved.

Mary Ann Naranus and Donovan Merry are co-chairmen for this event which is sponsored by the Student Council and the Office of Student Affairs.

Song Unveiled At Pep Rally This Morning

In addition to the new song, a number of cheerleaders and singing of Southern's Alma Mater sparked the rally, which was intended to get the student body in a competitive mood for tomorrow's game with Central Michigan.

A former alum, Clarke Morgan, who was a member of Chi Delta Chi fraternity when he was in school, is the composer of "Go Southern, Go!"

The words are as follows:

Go Southern Go!
 Fight on to Victory—
 Go Southern Go—
 March on triumphantly.
 Show, Southern, Show—
 For all the world to know—
 Nothing's gonna stop you now—
 Hit that line and show them how To Go Southern, Go!

Homecoming Parade To Follow Halloween Theme

Floats in the Homecoming parade this year will be decorated in keeping with the Halloween theme, according to Bill Phelps, co-chairman of the parade committee.

Many invitations have been sent to all the organized houses on campus and 165 bands in Southern Illinois. At press time 14 high school bands had informed the parade committee of their definite plans for participation.

Phelps said there are already more floats entered in this year's parade than were in last year's.

Competition in the parade will be divided into four divisions.

1. Floats in the women's division will compete for a first and second award trophy.

2. A similar first and second place cup will be awarded in the men's division.

3. Miscellaneous organizations (honorary groups, religious organizations, etc.) may enter floats in competition for a trophy.

4. A plaque will be awarded for the outstanding stunt in parade.

"The maximum amount of money to be spent on any one float in any of the three divisions is to be $20. The maximum amount to be spent on any one stunt is $15," according to the parade committee.

Businessmen in the area are invited to enter floats or stunts in this parade. They must meet the Homecoming parade committee's requirements and will not be eligible for competition, Phelps related.

Stunts must be under 12 feet

Alps Entertainers To Perform Here Wednesday

The Tyrolers, a widely-acclaimed group of singers and dancers from the Austrian Alps, will perform in Shrock Auditorium next Wednesday evening in the second program sponsored by the Lectures and Entertainment Committee during the current academic year.

The group of 14 was organized from the townsfolk who regularly gathered in the evenings at the tavern of Font Penzamin, leader of the Tyrolers in the new sky resort village of Kitzbuhel. Dancing in native costumes and singing traditional Alpine songs, they entertained tourists and their fellow townspeople.

Of the 10 men and four women in the company, one is a bank clerk, one a woodworker, one a photographer, and another a tailor. A ski instructor and a mountain guide are also on the roster.

Their current tour of America which ends in December, has drawn plaudits from critics in many eastern and midwestern cities.

"They give fine, substantial entertainment, the kind of entertainment that can only be provided by people doing what they love to do," the Boston Daily Record said. Lowell Thomsen called the show "the most refreshing thing that I have seen in a long time" and the Brooklyn Eagle said there was a "healthy Alpine vigor in their homelike, knee-slapping dances."

Admission to the program in Shrock Auditorium will be free.

138 Register For Winter Term During First Day

The first week of registration for winter term will close this afternoon. At the close of the first day, 138 had registered according to Dr. Robert McLaugh, Registrar.

Some 15 courses were changed from the time when they were originally scheduled during part of last week. This change came about as the result of the decision that 10 o'clock classes may meet only on Mondays and Wednesdays.

Although the Registration Center has been open from 3 to 5 p. m. each day this week, from now until Nov. 25, it will be open only on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday afternoons.

Before registering the student must make an appointment with the advisor and fill out A.B.D. and F. cards, a Fee Address card, and an address card. He must report to the Registration Center within 24 hours after seeing his advisor.

Fee cards will be mailed to students and the fees are to be paid to the Bursar's office by Dec. 3. If the fees have not been paid by that date, the registration will be cancelled and the student will have to pay a late registration fee and register again.

Scott Lindner Chosen For Trip To New York

Scott Lindner, Marion junior, has been selected for a five-day sponsored paid trip to New York in December to attend the annual meeting of the National Association of Manufacturers at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

The 40th Manufacturers Association of the United States President, Dr. W. Morris, at the NAM entrants one college student from each state at its annual meeting, "Congress of American Industry."

Southern was selected by lot and Lindner, a business major, was selected at the recommendation of Dr. Guy Trump, chairman of the business department, and Dr. Henry H. Rehm, Dean of the College of Vocations and Professions.

Expenses of Lindner will be paid from the time he leaves the campus to attend a breakfast in New York Dec. 1 until he returns to Carbondale after the meeting, and a return Dec. 5. He will attend the luncheons and the banquet and will participate officially in at least one business session.

College students are invited to send them many more industrial leaders and exchange points of view on modern day business problems.

Martin, Hollada Editing Egyptian

Sue Alice Martin, Jonesboro junior, and Bill Hollada, former editor-in-chief of the Egyptian and graduate student from Benton, are acting as editors of the Egyptian during the absence of the regular editors.

The new editors were in charge of today's publication and continue in this capacity until Tuesday's edition is released. The regular editors are attending the Associated Collegiate Press Convention at the Morrison Hotel in Chicago.

The meeting started yesterday morning and will conclude tomorrow at noon. The convention includes editors and business managers who will be engaged in discussion workshops.

Student Union Woody Hall To Back Drive, Survey Shows

Woody Hall is solidly behind the move to raise student activity fees $1 per term, according to a survey of the girls Tuesday evening.

A survey made by Mary Ann Klingenberg, a house fellow at Woody Hall, showed that 358 of the girls planned to vote affirmatively on the question in the all-school election, October 27.

Miss Klingenberg said she polled all except one group of girls at their held their regular meetings Tuesday. She explained the plan to raise funds for a new Student Union building and then called for questions in each group.

"The girls responded well," she said. "They showed a lot of interest and asked several questions," she added.

Some of the girls wondered how the raise in activity fees would affect holders of Normal school scholarships. There will be no increase in expense to the student, she said. Normal school scholarship holders will have the increase paid for them out of scholarship funds.

Miss Klingenberg is one of five committee members who are planning to visit all organized houses in order to explain the purpose of the activity fee increase. Other members of the committee are Bob Wagner, Wynona Smith, Jack Renfro and Gae Patterson.

The study of the Student Union situation began last spring and gained momentum as the Union became more crowded this fall.

The present move is directed at raising activity fees, to start a Student Union fund which can be added to from private sources later, committee members say. Several alternative measures have been studied by the committee, but the raising of activity fees seem the most practical at the present time, they have.

The fact that students are starting the ball rolling will have a considerable amount of bearing on whether or not other funds will be forthcoming.

"The students must first show that they are genuinely interested in promoting a bigger and better Student Union, before they can expect to receive help from others," a spokesman said.

Thalman Holds Guidance Clinic

Dr. W. A. Thalman, director of Southern's Child Guidance Clinic, conducted a three-day clinic for children this week in the Cerebral Palsy at Paducah, Ky.

Those who accompanied Dr. Thalman were Mrs. Harve Gardner, faculty member, and Catherine Howells and Julia Tucker, graduate assistants. Complete studies were made of each child's intelligence, personality, difficulties in reading and other academic subjects, patterns of behavior, and maladjustments.

Sorbonne Students Up In Air

(ACP) Two professors at the Sorbonne have started holding their classes up in the sky, and this teaching method has been so successful that beginning this semester the "flying seminar" will be a required course in the natural science department.

The idea has proved particularly good in the study of geography, geology, but the professors promise to improve instruction in geophysics, botany, zoology, archeology, city planning and physics by use of the airplane, too.

Their system is this: first a lecture on the ground, then a flight over the area to be studied. A set of lecture notes or a leaflet period of description, since there isn't time to give a real lecture—takes place in the plane, which holds 40. Students listen to the instructor's words through earphones to eliminate the noise of the plane motor.

Students learn much more on one of these flights, the professors say, than they previously did by spending many lecture hours below a map.

Free Movie Tonight At Student Union

"The Count of Monte Cristo," a movie based on Alexander Dumas' novel, will be shown at the Student Union tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

A short on atomic energy will be on the program, followed by refreshments and dancing.

The evening's entertainment is free to anyone who wants to attend. Tickets Oct. 20—Sigma Pi Open House. Future Teachers of America meeting, 7 p. m., Studio Theater. Chess Club, 7 p. m., Student Union.

New Political Parties Announce Candidates For Coming Election

The Independent Party and the Student Party, both newly organized groups, have elected their candidates for the all-school election to be held October 27. The new parties will replace the Independent Students' Association which has dropped all political activities.

With the two new organizations and a Greek ticket representing the Sorbonne, Queen's Attendance, and Paul Morris, chairman of Spring Festival, will have a wide selection of candidates to choose from in the coming election.

The Student Party has chosen the following candidates for officers: Ann Travelstead, Homecoming

Committee Working For More Union Space

The Student Union Planning Committee is working on ways and means of increasing the Union Fund and temporary plans for increased student union space and facilities.

The committee was set up in the spring of 1953 by the Social Senate to investigate possibilities of setting up a student union fund.

The plan was approved by the Student Council and administration. Senate members, Bob Wagner and Wynona Smith and Student Council representative, Wilma Beadle, served on the committee.

This fall the Student Council voted to set the Union position on the ballot for the fall election. The ballot will be worded as follows:

"Do you favor increasing the student activity fee one dollar ($1) which fund shall be used to defray the cost of proposed future Student Union building?"

At their meeting Tuesday the committee voted to put the issue before organized houses and interested organizations prior to the election. Students having any suggestions or who would like one of the committee to meet with an organized house or at an organization meeting should contact the committee by their request.

Members of the 1954 Planning Committee are: Bob Wagner, Wynona Smith, Mary Ann Klingenberg, Pat Patterson, and Jack Renfro. The next meeting is scheduled for Monday, 4:30 p. m., Student Union.

Area Orchestra To Perform Here November 17

The first concert of the Southern Illinois Symphony Orchestra will be given here Nov. 17, according to Dr. Mauris Kessner, chairman of the music department.

Three local concerts by the orchestra will be sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club with the proceeds going to a scholarship fund. Two out-of-town concerts will be given, one at Anna Nov. 15, and one at Chester, Nov. 25.

The featured soloist will be Edith Garrison of Mt. Vernon.

This year's orchestra, consisting of 78 members, will be the largest that Southern has ever had and contains the largest string section of any orchestra in Southern's history according to Dr. Kessner.

Many of its members are professional musicians and music teachers who travel from all over Southern Illinois to attend rehearsals and take part in the concert. Among Southern Illinois towns represented are Murphysboro, Anna, Herrin, Royalton, Mt. Vernon, Zeigler, Carbondale, Christopher and Johnson City.

Becker said this week that station WTVI, UHF Channel 54, Belleville, will show a slide announcing the date of Southern's Homecoming, for several days prior to the event.

Arrangements have been made with Ted Westcott, vice president of WTVI, to have a special broadcast to present the announcement of public service. It is expected that the slide and the announcements which will be made during the station breaks will be seen by approximately 2,000 alumni of Southern, he said.

Our Opinions

County Clubs

Somewhere, vaguely, we recall the days of the county clubs. We knew some of the people who were active in them, and coming to camp we recall the pictures of the groups which we saw in past issues of the Obelisk.

We recall that they were groups of students from southern Illinois counties who formed in common interest groups, primarily as a social function, we believe.

There must have been a lot of fun connected with the home-town or home county group. We can imagine the parties or "reunions" which the groups held.

They weren't exclusive groups. Membership was open to those who qualified on the basis of home residence. They were just groups which got together for a lot of fun, and sometimes for serious discussions about their home counties and about Southern life in respect to southern Illinois.

Recently we learned that two new county clubs were being formed on campus. We have a feeling that the spirit of the old county clubs has not died, but has lain dormant during these intervening years and is possibly going to find a which on campus, as students organize into their county groups once more.

The Cook County and Montgomery county clubs are the first new ones on campus. Both have met for organizational sessions. We will be watching to see what develops from them.

Perhaps we see premature in our judgment. Perhaps the county club will not be resurrected. Perhaps, but we'll just wait and see what develops.

There are rumors about other clubs being formed, but, as usual, we'll have to track down the rumors before we can report anything on them.

We haven't quite decided to start a county club ourselves, but we are just a bit partial to Union county, in case anyone is interested.

Thalman Explains Vandalism

Children Do Not Have Constructive Energy Outlet

Vandalism, the million-dollar pastime of our nation's children, is a by-product of our complex society, according to Dr. W. A. Thalman, director of Southern Illinois University's Child Guidance Clinic.

"Provided no outlet for constructive energies, children can cause costly damage," says the director, who has worked with thousands of problem children.

Don't blame an active youngster, thwarted in his need for learning through experimentation, when he falls into the gang joy of tearing something apart. Dr. Thalman warns that the damage happens to run into five figures may be important to society but not to him, he is merely having the time of his life satisfying pent-up energies.

The SIU professor places blame on home and school for giving children little opportunity to handle "and manipulate a variety of objects. We encourage children to play with blocks when they are small and then fail to follow up with more advanced processes of putting together and tearing apart," criticizes the guidance expert.

He points out that a child's misdeeds cannot be reckoned in dollars and cents. It must be studied in the light of motive. "If he wrecks for fun, it's not his fault. Each child needs a help to recognize his mistakes and to have his energies redirected along more constructive lines."

The clinic director is convinced that most children become destructive because they are rejected by their parents, teachers, or playmates. When rejection lies behind the child's crime, then the matter is serious, he says.

Dr. Thalman is making hundreds

As We See It

By Bob Pooe and George Evanoff

We haven't been this happy since we received our separation papers from the "Legions of glory" (armymen). Seeing such a good crowd at the Northern game almost brought tears to the eyes of these two old-hardened campaigners.

It looked like free beer night at the NCO club. Our only complaint is that the cheerleaders were all cheered out by the second half. To all the carpet baggers who went home we say—"We hope the transportation prices go up." Congrats to the Salukis on winning.

LOST AND FOUND section—Anybody who wound up with an extra blanket on the men's residence hall hallway, please, please give it back to Gib Kurtz. Kurtz says you can keep anything found on the blanket, but please give the blanket back—the bear skin rug is using now is scratchy.

SEEMS THAT OUR column is bringing results—when we complained about the lighting situation at Woody Hall, somebody made a quick move—they painted the lights red. This now lends a delightful pallor to the area. In doors panel tell us that it is hard to discern whether or not a girl is sunburned or just blushing.

Overheard at the football game—Dick Gregory, one of Southern's best track men, came out best in his own game. George got a haircut—More parking facilities—George got a haircut—Easter service and kindness, a bigger snack bar would help this.

So long for now—see you at the Central game tomorrow night, 8 o'clock.

OUR FLASH OF THE WEEK—Our glowing list of readers has swollen to three-out mothers, and some unknown girl who stopped George the other day and said she talks the column. Hope she can like her boy friend into reading it too.

A PLUG FOR THE SIG TAU'S—They are having another Robert Wickman scholarship dance at the Michigan Central game. They had a good crowd at the last one and want to thank all who were there. This dance is for a good cause. It helps people who want an education to get one.

Who knows about these new student parties being formed? Seems to be a lot of secrecy here—George and Bob haven't been able to find out the dope. Maybe some big changes in campus politics in the wind. If YOU can give us any inside-do so.

If you'd like to know the inside dope on the queen candidates—watch this column. (We're going to start running thumb-nail sketches on all them. We figure this way, you'll be able to know them a little better—we hope to run all what statistics.)

So long for now—see you at the Central game tomorrow night, 8 o'clock.

Dr. Wendell Kepper, head of the agriculture department and a former resident of the County, opened the meeting with a welcome to the students. Dr. and Mrs. Kepper are sponsors of the organization.

Bob Odaniel, acting director of Alumni Services talked to the students concerning activities and regions why county clubs are organized on the SIU campus. He elaborated on the possibility of having alumni meetings with the students in their own county. Montgomery has 68 students on campus, and there are approximately 40 alumni from the County.

Meetings of the Club will be on the second and fourth Tuesday of each month, with the next one being Oct. 27 at 7:15 in Aligned Hall.

Professors Study College Drinkers

(ACP) College students drink, all right, but nowhere near as much as has been supposed. That's the conclusion of a 214-page report just published by two Yale professors who've spent the last five years studying the drinking habits of nearly 16,000 students of 27 representative United States colleges.

Seventy-four per cent of the nation's students admitted taking a nip every now and then, but more than 90 per cent proved to be very moderate imbibers. Students at "dry" colleges which outlaw alcohol ran up an average drinking score only six per cent below the national average, and they demonstrated that when they do drink, they get drunker than students at "wet" colleges.

The report also said students at women's colleges drink more than women at coeducational institutions. Most common reason given by the women for their drinking habit was that it helped them get along better on dates.

Arizona State Fights Pocket Flask Tradition. (ACP) Arizona State College is campaigning against drinking at football games, and first indications show considerable progress.

Only 22 bottles were found at the stadium after the opening game, and only eight of these were in the student section. Previously "garbage barrels full" had been left behind.

SIU Government Center Aids Local Communities

"Throw the rascals out" is a typical slogan by an irate citizen when he is concerned with improving the government of his community, according to Dr. William O. Winter, SIU government department head.

Copies of "City Manager Government for Illinois," a manual published by the Center, are mailed out to many of the suffering local governments who request help.

After pleas for suggestions to various governmental officials in Illinois, this civic-minded person is likely to be referred to the SIU Local Government Center.

Aboard The Missouri Switch From Harbor Boat Gives Pleasant Change

Editor's note: This is the second in a series of articles written by R. B. W. on the Missouri River. The first installment appeared in the Oct. 2 issue.

When I got off the steamer 'Vicksburg' it wasn't only because I was fed up with the river. I was glad to see one of the best looking lakes I ever seen. I saw her, and for a week we had a real time.

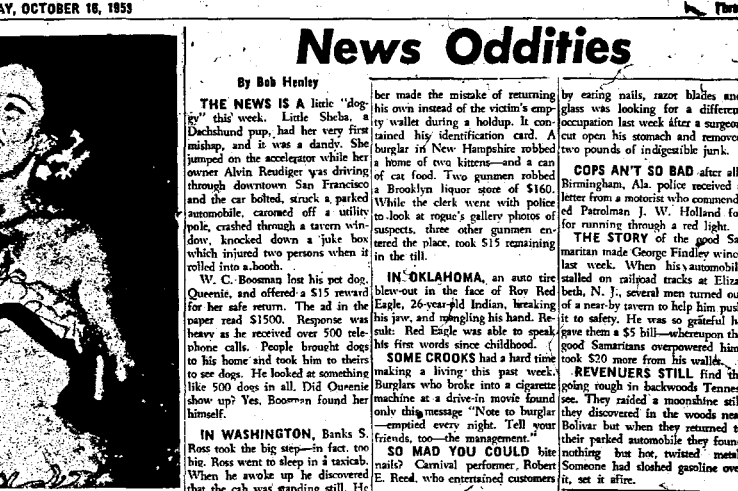

The next day, I again strapped up the steps to the NMM hall and registered to ship out. I was a little licker this time and got a job on the first tripping call.

I had the good fortune to get on the best steambot I ever been on. It had the best crew, the best cook, and the best mates I've ever worked for. Most things aren't perfect though, and the imperfection on the S. S. Missouri was the captain, Captain "Howlin" Archie Howle was a fat, blustering, self-important individual.

The best thing about working on a steambot is travel. On the Missouri one gets plenty. Within a week I had made trips on three of the major inland waterways of the U. S.—the Illinois River, the lower Mississippi, and the treacherous Missouri.

One of the trips would be worth a story, but each also had one high point. Our first stop was up the Illinois to Joliet. On this trip, we ran into the riverman's terror—willow flies.

It seems that a mosquito could hold terror for rough men. Such is the case though. The willow fly is a small, winged insect. When the willow flies hatch they do a good

THE NEWS IS A little 'dog' this week. Little Sheba, a Dachshund pup, had her very first mishap, and it was a dandy one. The owner, Alvin Reudinger, was driving through downtown San Francisco and the car bolted, struck a parked automobile, careened off a utility pole, crashed through a tarom window, knocked down a juke box which injured two persons when it rolled into a hood.

W. C. Boomsaw lost his pet dog, Quentie, and offered a $150 reward for her safe return. The ad in the paper read $1500. Response was so fast that he received over 500 telephone calls. People brought dogs to his home and took him to theirs to see dogs. He looked at something like 500 dogs in all. Did Quentie show up? Yes. Boomsaw found her himself.

IN WASHINGTON, Banks S. Ross took a big step toward making his dog sleep in a bathtub. When he awoke up he discovered that the dog was standing still. He stepped out, made a quick descent and found himself sprawled out and pain in several places. While Ross was catching his breath, the dog had been hoisted up on a grass sack.

FRED W. ISEMANN had his first automobile accident in Washington the other day and he did a wonderful job of it. The charged leveled against him by police were for drunken driving, leaving the scene of an accident, colliding, backing negligently and driving the wrong direction on a one-way street.

JOHN HEERN was elected historian for the sorority to replace Betty Ross, who is no longer in school.

TRIGS SELECT HOMECOMING CHAIRMEN. Carol Teece was elected overall chairman of the Homecoming House Deceptions. Other Chairmen are Audrey Weaver, Nan Van Mære, and Rebecca McGovern.

RESTAURANT owner Harry Bred asked a $400 increase in his income tax for business losses suffered when an odorous skunk hid under his eating place and drove away patrons. Uncle Sam felt differently.

THIEVES WERE WORKING again as usual, but were doing things differently. In Italy, a confused robber made the mistake of returning his own instead of the victim's empty wallet during a holdup. It contained his identification card. A burglar in New Hampshire robbed a home of two kittens—and a can of cat food. Two gunmen robbed a Brooklyn house for a score of $160.

THE CLERK went to look at suspect at rogue's gallery photos to inspect, three other gunmen entered the place, took $15 remaining in the till.

IN OKLAHOMA, an auto tire blew out in the face of Row Red Eagle, 26-year-old Indian, driving his job and remodeling his old. Red Eagle was able to speak his first words since childhood.

SOME CROOKS had a hard time making a living this past week. Burglars who broke into a cigarette machine at a drive-in movie found only this message "None to burglar" —empied every night. Tell your friends, too—the management.

SO MAD YOU COULD bite nails. Carnival performer, Robert E. Reed, who entertained customers by eating nails, razor blades and glass was looking for a different occupation last week after a surgeon cut open his stomach and removed two pounds of indigestible junk.

COP'S AN'T SO BAD after all. Birmingham, Ala. police received a letter from a motorist who commended Patrolman J. W. Holland for running through a red light.

THE STORY of the good Samaritan made George Finley's since last week. When his automobile stalled on railroad tracks at Elizabeth, N. J., several men turned out of a nearby tavern to help him push it to safety. He was so grateful he gave them a $5 bill when they got good Samaritans overpowered him, took $20 more from his wallet.

REVENUERS STILL find the going tough in backwoods Tennessee. They raised a moonbath still they discovered in the woods near Bolivar but when they returned to their parked automobile they found nothing but hot, twisted metal. Someone had sloshed gasoline over it, set it afire.

Salukis To Face Central Michigan

Southern's Salukis, fresh from their first victory of the 1953 season, will tackle the high-ranking Chippewas from Central Michigan in McAndrew stadium Saturday night.

Coach Bill O'Brien's Maroon team defeated Northern last week, 27-14, and Central bowed to an outstanding Great Lakes team, 39-16.

The Chips, currently tied for the IIAC lead with Illinois Normal and Michigan Normal, will field a veteran team against Southern. Four of the starters, backs Verne Hayes and Chuck Miller and linemen Marty Kloak and Ken Barron, were all-conference selections in 1952. The Salukis also boast an all-league returnee in Big Cliff Johnson, mainstay of the left side of the Maroon line.

Southern bowed to Southeast Missouri, 32-6, and to Illinois Normal, 27-20, before taking Northern into town. Central has defeated Iowa State Teachers, 34-20; Western Michigan, 21-0; and Eastern Illinois, 23-6.

Frank Warfield, Southern's bone-crunching fullback, is the second ground-gainer of the IIAC with 120 yards in 16 carries; Mighty and outer walls of hewn logs were Milt Kadlec, Illinois Normal fullback, built in the usual manner with space back in out in front with 183 yards and 17 carries, a percentage of 10.7 will be made of logs stood on yards per try. Jerry Thomas, Cen-

COACH JIM BOSCO, who has been working with the "B" squad this year. So far the "B" squad has had a 20-20 tie against Eastern's "B" team. They play again the 19th. This is Bosco's first year at SIU.

DAN SMITH, one of the foremost Salukis ends. He lettered last year, and is again playing for SIU. Smith is a sophomore.

Fighting Irish Will Not Play Post-Season Ball

The president of Notre Dame said recently there was "no possibility" the Fighting Irish will lift their ban on post-season football games.

Commenting on reports the Irish athletic department would reconsider acceptance of a possible bid to the Sugar Bowl game, Rev. T. M. Hesburgh, school president, said:

"There is really nothing to it. We feel pretty strongly against post-season games. There is no possibility that we will participate in such games."

Edward "Moose" Krause, Irish athletic director, said in an interview Tuesday at Chicago he would urge the school's athletic board to accept any bid the Irish might receive from the Sugar Bowl sponsors.

Later, Krause said there was no change in Notre Dame's anti-bowl game policy. Fathen Hesburgh said Notre Dame's requirements for high academic standards was the main reason for banning post-season play.

Jim Wilkinson Three Way Coach Lives Busy Life

End coach for the Salukis this year is Jim Wilkinson, who also assists head coach Bill O'Brien with the backfield.

Besides his duties on the gridiron, Wilkinson is head coach of the tennis and wrestling teams, and a P. E. instructor. He is also usually responsible for intramural sports.

In his undergraduate days at the University of Indiana, Wilkinson won the Midwest AAU wrestling championship in 1941 and the Big Ten championship in 1942. He was also Indiana AAU champion in 1941, 1942, and 1946.

Wilkie's first career to Southern in 1948, and in 1950 went to Oregon State to coach wrestling. He came back to SIU in 1951.

Basketeers Begin Spring Workouts

With the football season just under way, Basketball Coach Lynn Holder has issued the first call for basketball candidates.

The roundball men began workouts for team prospects on Oct. 12. Mike coach Holder can speak like Columbus and discover something new.

All prospects for the varsity squad were at the first session the 12th at 3 p. m. Holder says he had a large turnout. Every participant, except varsity lettermen, furnished his own equipment.

Northern "B" Squad Undefeated So Far

DeKalb, Ill. Northern Illinois State's Junior Varsity football team will put an undefeated record on the line when they face the Beloit college "B" team at Beloit Thursday at 7:30 p. m.

The Northern Pups won their Friday night game of the season by topping Wisconsin Junior college of Chicago, 20-13. They have wins over Wright Junior college and the Illinois State Normal University junior varsity, also.

The first two Protestant churches in Illinois were organized in the New Design settlement in Monroe County, the Methodists in 1793 and the Baptists in 1795.

Primas On The Loose

Herman, son of Fat Freddie, is a dolt, a slouch, and a mooch. Besides several other things a gentleman wouldn't mention in Sunday school. But he's good for one thing.

Since most of the guys who hang around the pool room are men who've got call bookworms, they are sometimes sadly lacking in education. So Herman, who is a bookworm (not to mention other kinds of worms), sort of fills in for them some of the things they've missed.

For instance, the other day four of the boys were casually shooting a few games of pool and bating the breeze about this and that. Herman was standing at a respectable distance, picking his teeth with a cue stick. The boys presently ran out of topics to mull over, and that is where the slub Herman got his chance to shine.

"Fellows," said Herman in a disgustingly nasal voice, "I was reading the other day about the origin and history of football. The Greeks played it with a stuffed sausage and later taught it to the Romans."

"Herman, you're crazy," interrupted Greasy Charles. "The only thing the Greeks and Romans used a sausage for was to carry their wine around in."

Herman didn't stop to question Greasy Charles' argument. But hurried on in his dissertation. After all, when you're as unpopular as Herman, you don't wish to offend your fellow men.

"Football was popular in England during the Middle Ages," Herman continued. "Edward II forbade it by royal decree. Edward III renewed the ban in 1365 because his women played football instead of practicing the archery that was so vital to the national defense."

"But Henry VIII, the Tudor monarch who was an all-around athlete, endorsed football for his soldiers. When Henry needed an army to invade France, he was informed by the Earl of Buckinghamshire that the later's busky yeomen preferred playing football to fighting the French."

"The King had never seen football but was curious to view any game that could divert soldiers from war. He rode to the protesting district, beheld the entire male population lined up in two teams ready to play football, climbed off his horse and kicked the ball that started the game."

"He played until the coldest was over and then, sporting a purpled eye and with his royal raiment badly torn, strove to entice 'both sides for the war.'"

"That's a great story, Herman," said Round Roger. "I can see it now—football, 1953: the recruiting officer rides up to a smelly football game, hops out of his car, invites himself into the game, gets smeared, and has his uniform torn into shreds. And after the game is over, he whips out his pen and all the boys present, sign their names on the dotted line which makes them part of Uncle Sam's army."

"And they live happily ever after. Of all the screwy stories I have ever heard, yours is the screwiest," Round Roger retorted.

A mutter of assent rose from the rest of the group. Herman began to notice certain familiar actions—Greasy Charles fingered his switchblade, Round Roger picked up a stool.

Herman, son of Fat Freddie, stayed to see no more. He bolted for the door, like a thoroughbred out of a starting gate, with the boys in close pursuit and pool balls whirling by his ears.

Northern Plays Michigan Normal This Saturday

DeKalb, Ill. — An impressive Homecoming won-lost record will be at stake when the Northern Illinois State football team enters the Michigan State Normal Homecoming Saturday.

The Huskies had dropped only two Homecoming contests since 1930. Illinois Normal turned the trick both times, topping the Northern gridlers 14-2 in 1937 and 14-12 in 1948. Michigan Normal will be highly favored to become the second team to accomplish the feat in this 23-year period.

Undefeated in four outings, the Huskies have established themselves as one of the outstanding teams in the IIAC. They have wins over Hope and Hillsdale colleges, Wayne university of Detroit and Eastern Illinois State.

In retrospect the Huskies have to win this season, falling before Lewis and Beloit colleges and Southern Illinois university in their most recent outing. Southern's Salukis gained their first win of the season over Northern, 27-13, Saturday evening.

The Huskies were hampered by the limited use of their versatile back, Billy Graham of Chicago Heights, who was injured in the last game; and by an over-abundance of penalties. Although they accumulated only 85 yards in the five-year variety and came at critical times. Northern picked up more than 15 penalties which helped to bog down a non-impressive offensive machine ever more.

Meanwhile, Southern passed their way to victory, completing 11 of 17 aerials for 182 yards and three touchdowns. Michigan Normal has complained of an impending passing attack, however, throwing outline passes in their first two games and might not be able to take advantage of Northern's weak pass defense.

Hopeful signs for the Huskies were the performances turned in by senior fullback Ed Bauer of DeKalb and freshman halfback Vesper Laudeking of Freeport. Bauer picked up 68 yards making six conversions and pool balls whirling by his ears.

Michigan Normal extended its winning streak to four straight games by drubbing Eastern 34-6. It was the first conference win for the Michigan team. Southern Illinois University won its first victory, 27-14 over Northern Illinois.

Powerhouse Central Michigan dropped its first game in four starts to a strong Great Lakes squad 39-16; and Western's Leathernecks bowed to Wheaton 14-3.

Quarterback Ben Huske led the Southern Illinois Salukis to their first win of the 1953 season as he completed 10 of 14 passes for 158 yards and three touchdowns. The win broke a five-game losing streak for Southern; they lost the last three games of 1952 and dropped their first two starts this season.

Michigan Normal's high-riding Huskies rolled over Eastern 34-6 with their first IIAC contest. It was Eastern's third loss of the season in as many starts and their second conference loss. Michigan Normal intercepted four Eastern passes, blocked a punt, and recovered a fumble, all of which aided in setting up scoring chances for the Huskies.

In non-conference games the Redbirds of Illinois Normal ended Beloit's 13 game winning streak 10-6. Normal's great passer Wes Bain hit Roger Fransour with a pass to set up the winning marker with two minutes remaining in the game. Redbird fullback Milt Kadlec rolled over for the touchdown. It was Normal's second victory against one of the Huskies.

Central Michigan's winning streak was snapped at eight straight by the Sailors from Great Lakes 39-16. Gene Schroeder, former star with the Chicago Bears, scored three touchdowns to pace the Lakers.

A missed extra point sent Western to a 14-13 tie with Eastern. Central Michigan's all-round performance. He returned three punts for 66 yards, three kick offs for 71 yards and suggested three plays.

Another freshman back — Joe Acoo, a former star for Provis high school—took over most of Graham's punting chores with great success. He booted three times and had a 45.3-yard average.

Last year a survey was made in leading colleges throughout the country which showed that smokers in those colleges preferred Luckies to any other cigarette. This year another nation-wide survey was made—a representative survey of all students in regular colleges coast to coast. Based on thousands of actual student interviews—this survey shows that, as last year, Luckies lead again—lead over all other brands, regular or king-size—and by a wide margin! The reason: Luckies taste better.
