They will compete against squads from most Big Ten schools and other large universities throughout the nation.

Bitzer will also participate in a seminar discussion with representatives from other schools on the same question.

Both sessions will be in the University School Auditorium.

Gassy Furnace Scares Tri Sigs

A false fire alarm in the Tri Sig house Wednesday night caused a great deal of excitement, confusion and feminine yells for the fire department.

Someone smelled smoke fumes and smoke was pouring from a flue in Tiny Hill's room. A clear head called the Carbondale fire department and a truck load of smoke eaters was rushed to the house.

The gullible freshmen prepared to save at all costs the bevy of beauties who may have been trapped but soon quiet reigned when a surging full of gas was discovered to be the cause of all this fuss. The firemen went back to their proclivities and the girls to their studies.

Edward R. Murrow Shows Eldorado Story On TV

Eldorado's "Operation Bootstrap" was the subject of Edward R. Murrow's nationally televised "See It Now" program Tuesday night.

Fred Friendly, co-producer of the show, notified townspeople here and SIU's department of community development recently that a film about Murrow's cameraman this summer was slated for telecast this week.

The film deals with some of the improvements brought to Eldorado by democratic citizen action in the "Operation Bootstrap" project. The SIU department of community development under Richard W. Poston offered technical assistance to the program which is continuing under a permanent Eldorado Community Development Association.

Murrow's show was on the CBS network at 9:30 p. m. CST. A caravan of Eldorado townspeople was organized to go to Station WTVI, Belleville, to watch the program.

Hospitalization Portion Of Activity Fee To Hit $25,000

At the present time, an SIU student is covered by $80 health insurance for a $2.15 portion of his Student Activity fee collected each quarter.

That means the hospitalization fund of the Health Service can aid the eligible student up to the amount of $80 during the school year. This sum may be applied on hospital bills, surgeons' and physicians' fees, x-rays, etc.

All full-time students, part-time students taking eight hours of study or more, and graduate students who take the option to pay the activity fee are eligible to receive full benefits of the University Health Service. The total number in this category for the fall quarter now stands at 4,167, according to registrar, Dr. Robert McGrath.

"On the basis of our present increased enrollment and assuming that number decreases a small percent to the winter and spring quarters, the 1954-55 hospitalization portion of the Student Activity fee will be approximately $25,000," stated Dr. Anthony J. Raso, director of the Health Service. This amount will be used to pay for all medical supplies and all hospitalization up to the amount of $80. The hospitalization fund is administered by Dr. Raso, assisted by dean of men, I. Clark Davis, and dean of women, Mildred Schroffinger. In 1953-54, the Health Service spent $19,627.87 of a $20,175.00 budget on 21,735 students.

Mary W. is an example of a student who came to the Health Service. Mary made 10 calls during the nine-month school period. Each time she was treated successfully at the Health Service without requiring any services not available on campus. The expense of her visits was approximately $5 per visit plus additional fees for some inductive x-rays and special medicines. When the sum total of expenses reached $80, it was necessary for the director of the Health Service to advise the student that financial obligations would have to be assumed by the student or his parents.

"It can't happen to me, seems to be the attitude of most college students concerning illnesses and accidents that require hospitalizations," according to Dean Davis. Statistics show that in 1949, there were 1,250,000 accidents in the college age

Here's A Toast

Everyone is talking about the poor spirit at Southern, but few are doing anything about it. At the football games held at home this year only two groups have united long enough to furnish any respectable cheering section for the team. The Greeks and the ISA had fair turnouts for the first two games and carried the brunt of the cheering. However, one man is trying to stimulate more spirit and pride in SIU among the student body. This man is Col. Alexander MacMillan, the new Professor of Air Science. In two speeches to AF ROTC cadets this year Col. MacMillan has stressed the importance of spirit and a sense of pride in our growing university.

Perhaps a new person on campus such as Col. MacMillan has a better view of this negligible matter of "spirit" than someone who has been at SIU a long time.

At the Washington University game Nov. 13 the SIU ROTC cadet corps will put on their Air Force uniforms and march in the front of the stands before the game. The cadets will then sit in a block to form a cheering section for the game. In return for this performance the cadets will receive an excused cut from the Teachers' drill period.

Ceramics Teacher Gets Fellowship

Fredrick C. Ball, assistant professor of art in ceramics, is both the first SIU faculty member and craftsman to receive a grant from the Ford Foundation. All other grants have been to either artists or writers.

Ball is now at Alfred University in New York studying glaze technology and the history of ceramics. He will remain at Alfred for three months, then move to Tulane for several months of continued study. For the second six months of the one-year fellowship Ball will be in residence at the Archie Bray Foundation in Montana. There he will test new techniques and apply his first six months study and training toward improving pottery and ceramic forms.

Ball received the $3500 Ford grant a half pay sabbatical leave from SIU. The man who has not anything to boast of but his illustrious ancestors is like a potato—the only good belonging to him in under—Sir Thomas Overbury.

MAIL BOX

Dear Editor: The editorial written by you, concerning the ISA platform, was most interesting. In it you found cause to state that our platform was "a platitude." After looking all those words up in the dictionary I have a few things to say. Regarding your comments on the first plank, the need for majority rule, you really should talk to your typewriter! However, I assume you are for our position from your comments. I believe that we could all agree that majority rule is one of the fundamentals of a democratic government.

In discussing our second plank, the need for an open primary, you said that a few students could block the polls and control the election. Frankly, I don't see how this would be possible. Open primaries have been held before at SIU and that situation did not exist. And further, nothing is easier to control than a closed caucus, such as is annually held by the Greeks.

As regards our third plank, you ask who is to decide when a decision by the administration is in the best interests of SIU. And to that I would answer: the students. It could and would be discussed by the ISA meetings, open to all the students, and, if necessary, a poll could be taken.

On the parking problem you call it a noble cause but say that nothing can be done. Please be advised that the chairman of the parking committee disagrees with you. He will agree with you that nothing is being done but not that nothing can be done. The parking committee appears to believe that more student interest in the matter can produce some positive action.

On point six, a raise for student workers, you again refer to it as a "noble idea" but again you say that it would be "next to impossible to materialize." Possibly you are not aware of the fact that in the spring of 1952 representatives of ISA had several conferences with Dean Davis and Dr. Tenney and that as a result of these conferences, in the fall of 1952 a general wage increase of five cents an hour was given. I realize that departmental funds for student wages are very limited this year. I believe, however, that now is the time to point out also, concerning that tenth plank, that student assistance was used extensively in 1949 in securing funds from the legislature. Do you remember the "Buckets for Southern" brigade?

I fail to see how the administration can refuse to listen to the students and faculty on the matter of 10 o'clock classes. Do they really know that a surprisingly large number of our students are eating either a quiet early or a quite late lunch as a result of this action? I believe that if it is up to the administration in the right way justice will be done.

Concerning alumni relations you say that the ISA "must go a long way to catch up with the Greeks." You are right. The Greeks do have fine alumni relations, with Greek alumni. We are referring to the entire body of Southern alumni.

Let me thank you for your support in the matter of increased health insurance for the students and your stand on the new Student Union Building. In closing let me add that the ISA of 1954-55 has no intention of developing an anti-Greek attitude. As a policy this represents negativism. We are interested in a positive and forward looking policy. That is why we adopted our platform. Sincerely, Bob Scrivner, Vice-President, ISA. Editor's Note: I do not believe you grasped the meaning of the first part of the editorial because of the typographical errors. I am very sorry.

Forest Research Expands Staff; More Expected

Roy Whitmore, 27, native of Baltimore, Md., has been added to the research staff of the Carbondale U. S. Forest Research Center at SIU. Richard Lane, forester in charge, announced today. Whitmore is the first of several contemplated additions to the Research Center's staff under a recent federal appropriation of $150,000 for expanding forestry research here.

Lane says that Whitmore's principal work will be research in the field of marketing forest products. The primary objective will be to conduct studies leading to new methods and more efficient marketing of forest products of Southern Illinois, benefiting the woodland owners as well as wood-using industries. Included in such studies will be the marketing of rough products, such as logs and stumps; semi-finished forest products, such as lumber, and manufactured forest products, such as will be tested in a new forest products pilot plant being instituted cooperatively by the Forest Service and SIU at the university's Vocational-Technical Institute campus.

Whitmore came to Carbondale from two years of forest survey work for the Central States Forest Experiment Station, Columbus, O. He has a bachelor's and master's degree in forestry from the University of Michigan. Two years of undergraduate work was taken at the University of Vermont.

ROTC Officers View Eglin Fire Power Show

By Phil Meagher

Two members of the AFROTC staff Major Paul Timm and Major Melvin Sell were among the earliest of 200 viewers at the Fire Power Demonstration at Eglin Air Force Base Sunday.

Sponsored by the Air Proving Ground Command whose job it is to develop and test new equipment for the Air Force the demonstration was presented for a gathering of U. S. military personnel and selected foreign representatives. (Similar demonstrations are presented as often as three times each year and spectators are allowed by invitation only.)

THE TWO MAJORS were picked up at Scott AFB, Belleville, Sunday morning and were flown to Eglin, Fla. The aerial taxi was arranged by the AFROTC unit at Purdue University to enable personnel at far-flung units to get around at Eglin by the fastest and easiest method.

According to eye-witnesses Timm and Sell the most spectacular demonstration included the performance of the famed Aerojet team from Luke AFB Arizona; a comparison of the destructive ability between the trans-continental B-36 present USAF heavy bomber and the W W II mainstay B-17; breaking of the sound barrier by the F-100 Super Sabre jet in level flight and by the F-86 Sabre jet in a dive from 4000 feet.

F-84 Thunderjets went through precision aerial acrobatic maneuvers. Outstanding in their performances according to Major Sell was the act which they call "the bomb burst." The four planes dived in diamond formation from an altitude of about 5000 feet and as they neared the top level each plane shot off toward one of the four points of the compass. As they left the "bursting" point each did a loop and a roll and then headed back toward the field where they passed simultaneously over one another. As the pass was made the lower plane was less than 50 feet above ground and the top plane at about 250 feet. All were exceeding 500 mph. when this pass was made.

THE SUPERSONIC speed of the F-100 newest USAF interceptor aircraft and the F-86 was used to bombard the audience with shock waves. (After a turn in level flight of a pull-out from a steep dive during which the speed of sound has been broken) the attack was continued in the initial direction. When this wave reaches a solid object in this case the earth there occurs a bomb-like explosion. Cases have been reported in California where the percussion of the waves has shattered glass windows.)

Other performances include the refueling of a B-47 jet bomber in mid-air and a mock aerial rescue of a downed pilot by helicopter while flying over the water.

"THIS TYPE OF RESCUE though comparatively new to warfare methods was very effective in Korea," said Major Timm a former helicopter pilot.

The demonstration was concluded with a fly-by of every known type of tactical and strategic aircraft.

Bankers Finish VTI-IBS Course

A two-week course for bank employees at SIU's Vocational-Technical Institute will graduate 43 students today.

In order to learn how to be better bankers and junior bank executives, 88 employees, including seven women, attended daily classes and lived on the VTI campus.

The short banker's course, known as the Illinois Bankers School for the Development of Junior Bank Executives, was in its second annual session. Forty-three of 52 who took the beginning work last year, completed the advanced course and will receive diplomas tonight in the University Club Auditorium. Dr. I. Walter Malone, president of Millikin University, Decatur, will give the commencement address. A senior banquet at the University cafeteria will precede the commencement.

The Illinois Bankers' Association, sponsors of the school, assembled more than 45 banking specialists for a faculty.

169 Korean Officers Visit Southern Campus

Mrs. Victor A. Hyde

By Jerry Kolesky

A 26-year-old Korean Lieutenant Colonel respectfully visited the SIU campus Wednesday afternoon. Led by being alone, he was accompanied by 168 fellow officers.

Lt. Col. Choi Min Do, commander of the group, explained they had just arrived from Oakland Calif. on a special train and will start a six month basic training course at Ft. Benning, Ga.

He said this group is the 10th largest and such Korean class has come to the United States as part of the Mutual Defense Assistant Pact.

During the 11-hour delay in Carbondale, the officers enjoyed a meal at the University Cafeteria, visited the University high school and SIU campus, saw movies and talked to students.

Capt. John Pennino, just arrived from Korea, is acting as counselor to the group. Capt. Pennino represents the Korean Military Advisory Group. He said they are delighted in Carbondale because Ft. Benning is not quite ready to receive them.

JERRY KOLESKY, Egyptian reporter, chats with Major Chong Bai Kim, left and Lt. Lt. Lee Bok Hyung of the Korean Army during their stay on campus Wednesday. One hundred and sixty-nine Korean officers were detained here on their way to Fort Benning, Ga. to take some infantry training.

Lt. Col. Do has been in the Korean Army for six years and fought with the Second Battalion, 15th Regiment ROK Army. He received his Commission through the Korean Military Academy.

It is with the greatest pleasure that we stay in Carbondale," said Lt. Col. Do. He said everything in the United States is beautiful, good, farms and schools.

Lt. Col. Do said these officers, whose average age run from 25 to 28 years, want to learn the fight as the Americans did in Korea and were especially chosen for this training.

Lt. Col. Do continued to say, "We represent our country and we are trying to serve the United Nations. We have fought close to your fathers, sons and brothers. During the fighting in Korea we realized the American soldiers were well trained and we wanted to learn their methods. We did our best in the Korean War and have a good record." He ended the interview by saying, "We will always have a place in our hearts for those who gave their lives for us."

Three Loop Bouts Over Weekend

A trio of league contests will be spotlighted Saturday in the Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference.

The meetings send Southern Illinois to Central Michigan, Western Illinois to Illinois Normal, and Illinois State Teachers to Michigan Normal. Only Eastern is idle.

It's homecoming time at Mt. Pleasant and the Central Michigan gridder, fired up by last week's 32-28 loss to Great Lakes, will be out to extend a four-game homecoming win streak at Southern's expense.

The Huskies have a 2-1 record, while the Ypsilanti aggregation is unbeaten in four starts, and last week it crushed winless Eastern, 33-0. Northern hopes center on passer Ron Hicks, who has 15 completions in 25 attempts. The fullback Billy Graham who reeled off 31 yards against Southern.

The Hurons, however, have the top passer in the IAC. Bob Middelkauff, who already is hitting on 500 of his bolts. Coupled with fullback Bill Williams, the pair gives Normal a potent offense.

The Standings

Central Michigan	W. L.	1.000
Illinois Normal	1 0	1.000
Michigan Normal	1 0	1.000
Northern Illinois	1 0	1.000

Northern Faces Michigan State At Ypsilanti

Once-beaten Northern Illinois State will face undefeated Michigan State Normal in an Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference football game at Ypsilanti on Saturday.

The Huskies will throw an impressive pass-defense record against accurate Huron, Bob Middelkauff, all-league quarterback last fall. The Middlekauff to Nick Munch passing combination has spearheaded the Normal attack, putting both men near the top in national figures.

In its first three games, however, the Northern pass defense has allowed only eight completions for 117 yards and no touchdowns. The Huskies have intercepted five aerials. Al Busch, senior fullback from LaGrange, has accounted for two of these.

Northern, too, gave evidence of a dangerous passing attack against Southern Illinois University last week, which could give the Hurons trouble. Quarterback Ron Hicks, a Moline Junior, connected on 15 of 27 passes for 228 yards and three touchdowns in the 24-7 win over the Salukis.

Ends Joe Moser of Northbrook and Dan Biddick of Cicero and Tom Skubich, halfback from Hinsdale, scored on Hicks' passes. Little West Luedeking of Freeport was his favorite target, however, grabbing five aerials.

Merrick, Ericson Speak To Pro Club

Dr. Russell Merrick and Dr. George Ericson were guest speakers before the first meeting of Women's Professional Club last week.

Dr. Merrick spoke on Physical Education as a profession, and Dr. Ericson gave an explanation of football. Ita Lou Bozarth discussed the purposes of the Professional Club.

The guest speakers served as judges of skits presented by classes and faculty members. The faculty group won.

The SIU line scrimmages on the practice field in preparation for the weekend game with Central Michigan Chippewas.

The Salukis will be after their first win of the season when they meet the defending IAC champions.

Redbirds Prepare For Leathernecks Tomorrow Night

An important Interstate Conference football game will be played at Normal tomorrow when Coach Ed Struck's Illinois State Normal Redbirds are at home to the Leathernecks of Western Illinois State College.

The Redbirds have one conference victory during the young league season while it is the first IAC competition for the Western elven, coached for the first season by Wes Stevens.

In all-time competition, State Normal teams have won 21 games. Western teams have won 15, and two have ended in ties. However, four of the 13 Western victories have come within the past five years.

Not since the spectacular 21-20 victory by ISNU during the 1950 Homecoming contest have the Redbirds been able to halt the Leathernecks.

A comparative score is available in that Western played Bradley to a 7-7 tie a week after the Peorians had topped ISNU 34-13 during the opening game of the season here at McCormick Field. The undefeated M'comb team holds victories for the season over Loras, St. Ambrose, and Lewis.

Since the Bradley opener, Coach Ed Struck's Redbirds have topped Southern Illinois (7-2) and Beloit (14-7) with Bob Rigganback, junior halfback from Tremont, standing out as the chief offensive performer with better than 100 yards per game in total offense.

Veteran quarterback Wes Bair, P. J. Dittus, W. S., started slow but seemed to hit his old stride against Beloit, completing eight of 10 attempts against the Bucs.

The M'comb attack features the running of veteran Ted Mullen and a host of new backs behind a strong line which will outweigh the Redbirds' forwards by some 10 pounds per man.

Southern Illinois University prepared an elaborate exhibit for the World Columbian Exposition in Chicago in 1893.

Southern Looks For First Scalp Among Chippewas

SIU football coach Bill O'Brien will carry his quest for a 1954 victory to Central Michigan tomorrow, where he will pit his winless Salukis against the once beaten Chippewas.

Central Michigan, defending IAC champions, boast one of the best small college backfields in the nation, headed by Jim Podoley, who has called 12 touchdowns in five games.

O'Brien, troubled over the recurrence of a leg injury to fullback Bob Ems in the 24-7 Northern Illinois setback last week, began the task of shuffling his backfield. Capt. Jack Schneider will probably move back to fullback, but from there O'Brien will have to select a starting crew from Joe Yasko, Hank Warfield, Gene Ernest, or Ed Johnson at halves and Gene Tabacchi or Gerry Hart at quarter.

Ed Hayes, five foot ten, 250-pound freshman tackle from St. Francis, made an outstanding showing against Northern in his first starting assignment and was nailed down the left tackle post. Steve Drave, Kent Werner, Tom Kull, Cliff Johnson, Wayne Williams and John Gelch probably will be O'Brien's other line starters.

Following the Central encounter Southern will return home to entertain Michigan Normal, highlighting the 32nd annual homecoming festivities Oct. 23.

Johnny Hopp and Bob Swift were released Tuesday as coaches for the Detroit Tigers.

They will be replaced by Billy Hitchcock and Jack Tige.

President Walter P. (Spike) Briggs Jr., making the announcement, said that Schoolboy Rowe would be retained as a coach for the 1955 season.

Hitchcock managed Buffalo of the International League this season. Tige, meanwhile, was a scout showing against Northern in his first year in the Tiger farm system.

Saluki Harriers Meet Western Here Tomorrow

Southern Illinois University's cross country team, after dropping its opener 17-41 to Eastern Illinois Oct. 2, will return to action Saturday against Western Illinois at Carbondale.

Coach Leland P. "Doc" Ling's Salukis finished 5, 6, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13 in the Eastern dual behind the Panthers' Chuck Mabe, who covered the three mile course in 16:38.7. Lingle, working with only one letterman, Capt. Larry Havens, Hurst sophomore, is depending largely upon freshmen.

Larry Terneus, Hillsboro freshman, turned in the best time for Southern in the first meet, finishing fifth in 16:57.4. Howard Brames, sophomore track letterman from Mounds, took sixth with 16:58.9.

Remaining on the schedule after this Saturday's meet: Ill. There Oct. 22, Eastern Oct. 23, Normal, Oct. 24, Washington U., Oct. 25, Nov. 13 IAC Meet, at Normal.
