VTI To Dedicate Wood Products Plant Nov. 12

Dedication of a cooperatively-operated Wood Products Plant at the Vocational Technical Institute will be Nov. 12.

The new plant, a joint project of research and testing, is designed for the Carbondale Forest Research Center and SIU.

Two general classes of instruction will be developed there. One is a two-year curriculum in wood technology for high school graduates, a program this fall. Another contemplates a variety of short courses and clinics for concentrated adult training in such things as lumber air seasoning and kiln-drying, lumber handling, lumber grading, woodworking machinery operation and other skills in the forest products industry.

An all-day program is planned for the opening. The morning will be devoted to dedication activities. Plant tours and equipment demonstration will be scheduled for the afternoon.

Air Society To Select New Members

Commanded by Cadet Capt. Robert Edgell, Southern's chapter of the Arnold Air Society is now in the process of selecting new members for their organization.

"Anyone interested in becoming a member," said Edgell, "must be an advanced cadet, must be in the junior class, must have a high scholastic average, and must possess all those qualities of a military leader."

The group now has 33 members, but many cadets will be added as the eligibility list is determined.

In the past, the Arnold Air Society has taken full responsibility in sponsoring the Military Ball, but this year the Angel Flight and the Silver Squadron (a sort of honor society) will be organized in the near future to assist them.

The hall will be held in the Carbondale Armory Jan. 27. As yet, an orchestra has not been named.

There are more than 100 chapters of the Arnold Air Society on college campuses in the United States. Their mission is to promote the best interest in the ROTC program and in their schools.

Southern's chapter, named after Lt. Gen. Robert W. Harper of Scott Air Force Base, is known as "Harper's Squadron." It was organized in 1952.

This year's officers in the SIU chapter are Cadet Capt. Robert Edgell, Commander; Cadet Capt. Harry Boyd, Operations Officer; Cadet Capt. Robert H. Martin, Controllers; Cadet Capt. T. J. North, Information Services Officer; Cadet Capt. Joseph P. Keck, Executive Officer and Cadet 1st Lt. John Golish, Adjutant.

Major Melvin E. Self is staff sponsor.

Beanie Patrol To Go On Duty At Assembly

The "Beanie Patrol" will set up a road block in front of Shyock Auditorium Thursday morning to check to see that all freshmen, who go to the convocation, have their beanie with them, according to Bob Dunkel, commander of the "patrol," and chairman of the "beanie move."

"The patrol will have extra beanies to sell to freshmen who do not have theirs with them," Dunkel said. At a given signal during the convocation all freshmen will put their beanies on.

The primary election for the "typical freshman girl and boy" will also be included in the convocation program.

The six boys and six girls who receive the most votes in the primary election will become the candidates for the final election to be later.

VTI Student Center To Open In Near Future

"The Southern Acres new Student Center will open in the near future," said W. L. Randall, student adviser of VTI.

The center will have a lounge, a converted apartment building on the east end of the VTI campus.

The lounge room will be devoted to television and radio, while ping-pong and pool tables will be in the game room.

The canteen will have a snack bar and tables. Newspapers, magazines and books will be available in the library.

June, June-July, civil service jobs will lead the programming and activities.

The center will be open five days a week from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. and 7 to 10 p. m. It will be closed Friday and Saturday, because "not enough students start on campus over the weekends to make it profitable to open," said Randall.

Are College Girls Spoiled? — The Guys Answer

Every male on campus seems to have something to say about the opposite sex—except when asked a specific question.

The guys on campus add a variety of reactions when confronted with "Are girls at Southern spoiled."

A lot of older fellows shied away. "I can't answer that question, you see, I'm married."

A seemingly serious looking student said, "I think the female, ha, ha, ha, ha. He stomped off in a fit of laughter."

A few brave men venture an answer.

Dennis Whitt, sophomore from Granite City, said, "Yes they're spoiled, but they're worth the trouble."

Allen Barton, senior from West Frankfort answered, "Yeah, because the college male makes them this way."

Howard Branch, junior from Mounds, "To tell you the truth, a lot of them seem a little silly. They're immature when they come here, and aren't sure what the score is."

Harvey Bishop, sophomore from Eldorado, "No—but I haven't given it much thought—I just sort of took it for granted they were nice."

Joe Gonzales, freshman from Granite City, "So far they seem pretty normal—not real spoiled—but I haven't met them all yet."

Bermudas, Cowbells Perplex Highschoolers

By Wayne Raguse

Does everyone wear bermudas shorts, have a cowbell and always seem to be in a hurry at Southern?

This question was one of many asked by nearly 875 high school students Saturday in High School Guest Day.

The upperclassmen who came from high schools located in the 31 southern-most counties of Illinois spent the day as guests of SIU.

After arriving the guests were registered at the Student Union where name tags and programs were passed out.

At a variety show emceed by Tom Hill the visiting programs were welcomed by Clyde Reynolds, Student Council president and Dr. George Hand, SIU president for business affairs.

Reynolds welcoming the high schoolers on behalf of the student body stated the purpose of the day was to instill in the visitors a desire to attend any college, not just SIU.

"Today will give you guests a chance to see our fine buildings and hear plans for others," stated Hand when welcoming the visitors on behalf of the SIU faculty. He also said, "Today you have the opportunity to see a university bursting at its seams."

On the variety show program were Pam Hindman and the Egyptian Melody Boys. The Four Cords, Pat Cook, Jo Ann McIntire, a "Couple of Tramps" and Rex Thompson.

After the variety show, Girls Rally and APO members conducted tours of the campus.

The tours ended at the Wood Hall terrace where a "chat and snack" was held from 3:30 to 5 p. m. Dean I. Clark Davis and a Mrs. Davis acted as host and hostess.

Saturday night the visiting students were guests of the University as Southern defeated Eastern 26 to 13.

Lois Harris, junior, was chairman of activities for the day.

Cafeteria Installs Meat Department

"When we are finished, we will have a meat department that will be equivalent to any in Carbondale," said F. L. Schrodt, Director of the University Cafeteria.

Schrodt was discussing the all-new, complete meat department that is now being installed in the cafeteria.

"We've got $3,000 worth of new equipment ready to put to use," said Schrodt. "We're just waiting on the carpenters and electricians to finish their work."

Included in the new equipment is a meat saw, a steak tenderizer, a large meat grinder, a large meat slicer, a hamburger press, a sausage press and a solid maple meat block.

Schrodt said, "We're employing a full time butcher, and he is going to be cutting meat for the University Cafeteria, the Southern Acres Cafeteria and the Student Union."

"Operating our own meat department is the only way we can offer our students and faculty the choicest cuts of meats," said Schrodt.

However, Schrodt emphasized that lack of storage space is a definite handicap.

"We've outgrown our meat box," he said. "We could use a cold storage box three times as large as the one we now have in use."

Bob Poes To Speak At Journalism Meeting

The first of the 1955-56 series of Jobs-In-Journalism lectures will be 1:30 p. m. Thursday, in the classroom of Barracks N.

The speaker of the evening will be Bob Poes, 1955 SIU journalism graduate, who is now a reporter on the Southern Illinoisan.

He will speak on his early experiences of a newspaperman who has recently graduated.

Following the talk, the Journalism Students Association, which along with the Journalism Department sponsors the lecture series, will have a coffee hour.

All journalism students and others interested are welcome to attend this meeting.

Campus Mail Delivery Announced

Effective yesterday, all campus mail will be delivered directly to all colleges, departmental and business offices.

Deliveries will be twice a day, Monday through Friday, and once a day on Saturday.

The delivery of the mail will begin each day as soon as the U. S. Mail is received and sorted.

Ongoing mail will also be picked up.

Girls' Rally Pledges 21

To many-one girls pledged Girls' Rally Thursday night at a meeting in the Life Science Auditorium. Cynthia Kuehn, pledge chairman, conducted the pledging ceremonies.

Groups of five or six girls repeated their Girls' Rally pledging promise to SIU, promotion of campus welfare, and interest in school activities.

Cynthia then asked the girls to pin man and white pledge ribbons, and the girls signed their names on the secretary roll sheet.

Before the meeting adjourned, Cynthia gave the pledges copies of the Girls' Rally constitution and by-laws, and reminded the girls to wear their pledge ribbons between 8 a. m. and 4 p. m. every day for a week.

At the business meeting preceding the pledging June Curry, activity chairman, announced that Girls' Rally will usher at the Community Concerts and at certain football games not yet decided.

Co-chairman of this year's Homecoming chrysanthemum sale, Jeanne Harboud said that "mums" sales will be Oct. 31 through Nov. 5. Seven hundred gold "Mums" with maroon ribbons have been ordered. As in the past, mums will be $1.

Letters To Alumni Come Home For Homecoming

That's what a group of SIU students were saving yesterday as they mailed 15,000 information sheets on Homecoming to alumni.

The letters contained a schedule of all events at Homecoming.

"The Alumni and Past Homecoming Queens Committee," headed by Bob Edgell and Joyce Hastings, co-chairmen, mailed the letters from the Alumni Office.

Foreign Students To Participate In UN Ceremonies

Six foreign graduate students, representing Korea, China, Iran, France, West Germany and Peru, will give their respective countries' views toward the United Nations in observance of the tenth anniversary celebration of the UN.

The program is sponsored by the Southern Illinois Association of Geneva, Korea, a government Relations Club and the First Methodist Church of Carbondale.

The event will be at 7:45 p. m. Thursday at the First Methodist Church.

Members of the foreign UN discussion are: Moo Sung Pak of Andong, Korea, a government graduate and an interpreter for UN forces in Korea; George P. K. Jan of Peiping, China, a government graduate and publisher of a weekly magazine and editor of a newspaper in Formosa; Pariz Zebell of Tchernan, Iran, a government graduate and nephew of General Zadeh, premier of Iran from 1953 to 1955.

Gabriel Savignon of France, a government graduate and a student at the universities of London, Geneva and Greenville, France; Hans, Meyer, West Germany, history graduate, and a student at State Teachers College in Bremen, Germany, King's College and Tennessee; and Asgipite Agreda of Lima, Peru, an English graduate and a teacher at a summer normal school in Lima.

Co-chairman of "UN-Day" are J. A. Anderson, executive secretary of the Southern Illinois Association of the UN, and Dr. Frank Klingberg, government professor and adviser to the IBC.

The Rev. Hugh H. Hays, pastor of the First Methodist Church will open the program with an invocation.

New Parking Lot Nears Completion

Another parking lot will be ready in the near future at the corner of Thompson Ave. and Service Shop Road.

"As soon as railroad ties are used to mark off the parking lot, we will have a lot for 50 automobiles ready for use by persons who have parking permits," Physical Plant Director, W. A. Howe reported last week.

This parking lot will be located south of the old agriculture house site.

Geography Fraternity To Initiate Wednesday

Membership initiation for Gamma Theta Upsilon will be at 5 p. m. tomorrow at the City Reservoir Park.

The organization, a national geography fraternity, is open to any who have a 3.5 grade average.

Anyone interested may pick up applications from Dr. Floyd F. Cunningham, faculty sponsor for the organization.

Applications must be turned in by today, according to Robert Harper, associate professor of geography.

New officers recently elected are Warren Neal, president; Bob Bates, vice-president; Melting Hus, secretary, and Nelson Lee, treasurer.

More than 1000 students this year live in organized houses of the campus, including fraternities and sororities.

Some of the housing shortage was taken up by an increase in the number of commuters—students who drive to the campus from three to fifty miles distances. In the past, one out of every four SIU students has been a commuter. Should that be the case this year, about 1,400 students live outside the Carbondale area.

Additional housing provided by the University this fall included dormitory space for 70 more single men and a dormitory housing 32 men which was purchased last month by the SIU Foundation.

Formerly known as Miller's, the building has been renamed Illinois Avenue Men's residence Hall.

Jack Buckle, supervisor of men's residence halls, said two new Thompson Lake dormitories now under construction — each to house 20 men—are scheduled for completion in time for the 1956 fall term. Two others are under contract and three more may be contracted for soon.

"By early 1957 we should have on-campus housing available for more than 1,100 men, doubling our present capacity," Buckle said.

No additional on-campus housing for single women has been made available since the completion of Woody Hall, which accommodates 132 students.

With the University able to house only about 170 family units, a crisis is being felt by married students and faculty members. Two and three bedroom rental houses in Carbondale are nearly impossible to obtain. Realtors are experiencing a flurry of home buying and construction are building a number of new residences.

With enrollment at Southern expected to continue its growth, the housing situation is a right and probably will for a few more years, observes I. Clark Davis, dean of men and acting director.

Davis thinks the situation definitely is improving, however with much more new housing planned and residence halls construction in progress.

"This was a crucial year in housing, but I am confident we provided enough places to live this fall for all students who really wanted to attend SIU," Davis said.

A new innovation has been added to Homecoming this year in the form of a Homecoming breakfast.

After the dance at the Armory, a restaurant-style breakfast, featuring two menus will be served from midnight to 2 a. m. in the University cafeteria.

In-charge of the breakfast will be F. L. Schrodt, supervisor of the SIU cafeterias and the Homecoming breakfast committee.

Ralph Flanagan and his band will be invited.

Thursday, SIU talent will be presented in a variety program at the freshman assembly in Shyock Auditorium to kick-off Homecoming promotion.

A tape recording will be made of the show which will be duplicated to other tapes and sent to at least twelve area radio stations.

The Homecoming steering committee, which is sponsoring the project, has as its aim to inform the people of the area what the dates and happenings on campus for the Homecoming weekend.

"Salute to Homecoming," the theme of the show, has as its sponsors the radio and TV Homecoming committee, with the production cooperation with the SIU Broadcasting Service.

Chairmen for the show are Bill Turner and Jon Poston.

Crucial Problem Of Housing Record Enrollment Overcome

The problem to find suitable places to live for nearly 1000 new students and faculty members in an area already cramped by a housing shortage.

Officials at SIU explained how this tremendous obstacle was hurdled after it became apparent that the University's 1955 fall term enrollment would approach record smashing 5500 students.

First of all, although several long-range residence halls projects were in the mill-and-work actually has begun on two new halls for men and one for women.

Secondly, the University's Southern Couldn't take care of its immediate housing needs.

A plea went out to all home owners in the Carbondale area from Mrs. Mabel Pulliam, supervisor of off-campus housing, asking that her be made available for students.

"The response was wonderful," Mrs. Pulliam said. "For the first time Carbondale people prepared one or two rental rooms for a few students. Others who formerly rented a few rooms to students completely emptied their homes into rooming houses. Some even added cat-serviced."

Rooms for students are being inspected by the University and, as a new policy homes which meet requirements for students are being certified. This information is for both the students' and homeowner's protection, Mrs. Pulliam said.

Although figures aren't complete, SIU officials estimate that some 300 more students are living in such off-campus unorganized houses this fall than last year. This doesn't include an estimated 400 students who

Little Red Circus

Throughout the last six months we received numerous news releases publicizing the Fifth World Festival of Youth and Students for Peace and Friendship. We refused. So did many others.

The material mailed to us told of the color and gaiety being planned for a big show in Warsaw. The festival committee expected free publicity in the Egyptian as well as other college publications through out the world. We refused. So did many others.

The World Festival of Youth and Students for Peace and Friendship had a primary function—to convert college students throughout the world to Communism.

They were selling a colorful bill of goods. Over 30,000 young people from 100 countries were attracted to the event, according to the festival committee.

Among the gimmicks the Red publicity agency used was an international sports meet, which was separate from the festival but to which festival members could obtain free tickets.

The Communies played up the "real charm of the streets and squares of old Warsaw." In fact the place was so faithfully restored that by night you could "almost hear carriages clattering over the cobblestones and footmen shouting."

Cheap round trip excursion rates were published. Cruises, parades, picnics, dances every night in scores of places, the Moscow Ballet, special stage performances imported from China India and Paris . . . All the ballyhoo.

A fabulous rate of exchange was offered to American Students.

Polish Zlotys were converted at 16 to the dollar, four times the usual exchange rate.

The Little Red Circus used most all the noise makers found near Warsaw. Sound trucks and buses and Army transport were gathered from all over Poland, from other Cominform countries, from East Germany, Czechoslovakia and Hungary.

The top talent of Polish newspaper and radio journalism was taken to the press center to guide and entertain the number of visiting reporters.

Even with all its bunting and fanfare the Little Red Circus flopped.

Not all of the visiting youth were even potential converts to the Red doctrine. It seems that the sports teams previously had decided not to participate in the festival itself.

Previous experience forced the Reds to make student participation in the various political meetings voluntary. Many of the visitors took advantage of the freedom to stay away.

"Many Western delegates visited their respective embassies," according to reports from representatives of the free world press. "and exposed in the process a sturdy immunity to the political purpose of the gathering. A number of the European delegates were obviously there for a cheap holiday and no other purpose."

"The great majority from Cominform countries were 'Communist believers' anyway, so their presence meant little gain to the Reds."

The cost of the festival must have shaken the Polish Government and in turn its followers. More than likely the average Pole is grumbling that the fortune spent for the Little Red Circus would have "bought a lot of corn and beans."

Under the Red came up with a more workable idea we doubt that the students of SIU will receive any more invitations to a festival in Warsaw.

Twenty-one girls pledged Girls Southern Represented At MacMurray Athletic Met

Sandra Stein and Sharon Russell were on the program of the Athletic Federation of College of Women Meeting on the MacMurray College campus at Jacksonville Oct. 14-15.

Sandra spoke on "Intramural an Extramural Organization" while Sharon was a recorder for one of the discussion groups. Both are juniors at SIU.

Accompanying the group will be Dr. Lura Evans of the women's physical education department.

Fresh Applications For Obelisk Work To Be Taken

All freshmen interested in Obelisk work should leave their applications with the Obelisk office in the northwest wing of the Student Union or contact Don Hargis, editor.

"Approximately 60 applications have been received already but the staff is still in the formation stage and anyone interested in a position may apply," Hargis said.

Religion—A Living Thing
Theater Major, Singer Muses While Registering

By Gene Coyer

"To me, religion is a living thing; it's exciting and colorful and I try to make it that way in my concerts," Peggy Vallet said in an interview in Dr. Paul Hunsinger's office Friday.

She was completing the process of registering as a theater major for the winter term. During the course of the talk, she practically obliterated the facts on a sheet of paper she held by twisting it into a thin rod. The paper proved to be essential in registering her as it contained a transcript of her academic record.

Peggy Vallet

The epitomy of the "home town girl makes good" myth, Peggy, a Herrin product, made a tour of 10 states, Kentucky, Indiana, Tennessee, Georgia, Colorado, California, Illinois, Missouri, Texas, and Oklahoma this summer, singing in religious musicals and dramas and appearing on numerous television shows.

"I try to mold my performances to appeal to young people like myself," Peggy said. "I want them to feel about religion as I do and not consider it a drab, theoretical, misty subject."

"In November, I plan to return to California, where I made several TV appearances this summer, for more TV. I'm supposed to be featured in a religious musical in Pasadena and appear with the Hollywood Christian Group. That's the group that Jane Russell, Roy Rogers and Dale Evans are associated with. I'm looking forward to that."

While she was in California, she was asked to sing at a church sponsored by Shipstead and Johnson, owners of the "Ice Follies."

At present, she is giving concerts in churches in Illinois, and when she arrives here for the winter term, she is to be on a program at the Wesley Foundation.

YWA Has Annual Meet In Baptist Foundation

The Y. W. A., affiliated with the Baptist Student Foundation, held its annual meeting at 7 p.m. Oct. 3 in the Baptist Foundation.

Getting acquainted with the organization and its members was the chief aim of the meeting. The guest speaker was Miss Earline Sanders, a Baptist instructor, who showed slides of some of her summer classes in Iowa.

President of the Y. W. A., Laverna Croce, sophomore, majoring in English, said that the group has planned a Christmas caroling party and a Foreign Embassy Week which will be Nov. 28-Dec. 3, which will be Nov. 28-Dec. 3.

The next scheduled meeting will be today at the Baptist Foundation.

SIU Board Of Trustees Advance Study To Other Illinois Schools

The SIU Board of Trustees recently sent to all other Illinois state boards of higher education copies of a study concerning reorganization of the control of publicly supported colleges and universities.

Although the report carried no recommendations and the board took no formal action, members expressed favor toward a proposal that state boards of higher education voluntarily establish a committee of representatives to consider coordination of biennial budgetary requests and other common problems.

Prepared by Dr. Jacob O. Bach, director of the SIU Educational Research Services, the report reviewed previous surveys of higher education in Illinois and related studies in other states, noted action taken by the state legislature and pointed out advantages and disadvantages of various proposed reorganizations of higher education in Illinois.

Bach made the study at the request of the SIU board after the board had been queried by State Senator David Davis concerning opinions on controls for state colleges and universities. Senator Davis is chairman of a sub-committee of the Illinois Higher Education Commission.

"The trend in institutions of higher learning is toward closer coordination of programs and activities," the report stated. "The problem is to find the most satisfactory organization for higher education in the State of Illinois."

The four alternatives listed in the report for regulation of state colleges and universities were:

1. Centralized control, i.e., putting all of the schools under a "super board."
2. Decentralized control. This would provide for establishment of one regulatory board, but institutions would keep their present board set-up.
3. Voluntary cooperation through a Council of Presidents or other body.
4. Continuation of the present organization, or some modification of combination of the above alternatives.

Geology Club On 3-State Trip
The origin of the coal fields in Illinois, Wisconsin and Iowa was the main topic of the tri-state field trip that the Geology club attended Friday.

This field trip is the second of two October trips. The first trip was in the early part of the month. The club toured the lead and iron mines in eastern Missouri.

Over the weekend, 300 geologists and geology majors attend the tri-state field conference. Those attending were from Iowa, Wisconsin and Illinois. The trip is an annual affair and was attended by nine SIU geology majors and one instructor.

Those attending were: Dr. Stanley E. Harris, associate professor of geology, and six Geology Club students attended the tri-state field trip near Canton, Sunday and Sunday.

The purpose of the trip was to study and examine the Pennsylvanian rock and pleistocene deposits.

Post Office, Telephone Exchange Face Problems With SIU Growth

Both the post office and the telephone exchange on campus have "many new problems to work out," said Paul Isbell, director of Auxiliary and Service Enterprises.

Isbell was commenting on the new system, inaugurated this summer, whereby the post office and telephone exchange fall under his supervision.

"The purpose of putting the post office and telephone exchange under the supervision of the Auxiliary and Service Enterprises," said Isbell, "is to make the two more cohesive. We must work with the post office and telephone exchange and try to solve their immediate problems, and at the same time plan for the future."

Physiology Department Gets Radioisotope Films

A series of four films have been received by the SIU Physiology Department about radioisotopes from the U. S. Army. Two films were series was shown Thursday in the Life Science Auditorium.

"The complete series covers what radioisotopes are, their uses and properties. A radioisotope is usually artificially produced.

It is normally made of any two or more inert chemical elements occupying the same place in the periodic table and being nearly identical in properties. These elements differ only one or two units in atomic weight.

Salukis Drop Panthers 26-13 Retain 1st In IAC Race

By Gene Cryer

Scoring once in each quarter SIU retained possession of first place in the IAC grid standings by dropping the Eastern Illinois Panthers, 26-13 Saturday night in McAndrew stadium.

The win left the Salukis with a 2-0 record in the IAC play and a 2-2 season record.

Southern drew first blood midway through the opening period on an 18-yard romp by halfback Jack Schneider, one of two scoring punts by the senior speedster Bill Spratt missed his first try for the conversion, but a personal foul by Eastern gave him another try, which he made to put the Salukis ahead 7-0.

Jack Schneider scores his second touchdown of the game on a 20 yard run. Schneider gained 112 yards in 10 carries to victory over Eastern.

The Panthers roared back with a 79-yard scoring march climaxed by quarterback Gary Anderson's 24-yard heave to halfback Darrell Brown. Fullback Roger West converted to knot the score at 7-7.

Late in the second stanza, the visitors gambled on fourth down with a fake punt and gave up the ball on their own 16-yard stripe.

On the next play, halfback Ed Johnson took the oval to the four yard line where it was first and goal to go with one minute left in the half for the hosts.

Johnson picked up three, and then fullback Hank Warfield bulled his way into the end zone.

In the opening minutes of the second half, the Salukis advanced to the Eastern 20. Then Schneider uncorked his second touchdown of the contest. Spratt ruined his perfect record on extra point tries when the ball sailed wide of the uprights, but the Salukis led 20-7.

Eastern took the kickoff and advanced to the SIU 14 yard line. Wayne Williams recovered a fumble.

On the next play, however, Jerry Hart fumbled and the Panthers recovered. Anderson hit Fritz Borthen for the final Eastern tally. The try for the extra point was bad, and the Southwestern still led, 20-13.

After an exchange of punts, Jerry Hart intercepted a Panther aerial on his own 30 and came back to the 45. Two plays later, Schneider uncorked a 43-yard run for

The Campus Cryer

By Gene Cryer

The Salukis played Saturday night's game literally taped together.

Jack Schneider, John Gelch, Jim McCann, Jerry Hart, Bill Spratt and Ed Hayes, among others, had been on the injured list since the Centrl home and Wayne Williams recovered a fumble.

"We haven't been able to scrimmage for two weeks for fear of hurting somebody again and putting them out of action," said SIU Coach Al Kaval in the dressing room after the game. "Not being able to scrimmage sort of made us a little ragged, but the boys played good ball all the way. I'm proud of 'em."

I'm "proud of 'em" too. I also want to express publicly my admiration of Kaval. To put together the kind of team he has this year has been a tremendous feat. My hat is off to the Salukis and the coaches.

Jack Schneider turned in another stellar performance Sunday night, as did every member of the team.

Besides scoring two touchdowns, Schneider gained 112 yards in 10 carries for an 11.2 average to lead the team offensively. He also played a splendid defensive game.

The Saluki line played one of the best defensive games I have ever seen Saturday night. They allowed only 63 yards to Panther attackers in the whole contest. Congratulations on a fine job.

put the hosts on the Eastern seven.

Schneider, Johnson and Spratt advanced the ball to the one foot line, where the Panthers took over.

Three plays later, however, Bishop fell on a fumble on the five. Schneider carried for five yards and Johnson covered the remaining ground to put the score at 26-13.

Intramurals

By Bill Rupp

At a special meeting of the Intramural Student Board held Thursday, several more changes were made to six-man touch football last week. The fraternities requested permission to play the nine-man game until the playoffs between the various leagues in the intramural program. Permission was granted to the fraternities to do so. They will then play in the playoffs with six-man teams.

The schedule for touch football games today through Thursday has been posted by Tom Spratt on the Intramural bulletin board. For the benefit of those who have not seen it as yet, it is as follows:

Tuesday, October 18: Field I. Sigma Tau Gamma vs. Tau Kappa Epsilon; Field II. Delta Epsilon Chi vs. Kappa Alpha Psi; Field III. Phi Kappa Tau vs. Sigma Pi; Field IV. Chautauqua Co-ops vs. Baracks No. 8.

Wednesday, October 19: Field I. Baracks No. 4 vs. Anthony Hall "Hounds"; Field II. Baracks No. 3 vs. Anthony Hall "Roughs"; Field III. Baracks No. 2 vs. Baracks No. 6; Field IV. Last Resort vs. Miller's Dorm (Illinois Avenue Men's Residence Hall).

Thursday, October 20: Field I. Bungalow vs. Delta Delta Delta; Field II. University Drugs vs. White Hall Inn; Field III. Falstaff vs. Habsburg; Field IV. Baracks 5 vs. Chautauqua Co-ops.

All students interested in playing in the intramural ping pong tournament must register at the Intramural Office not later than tomorrow. Play in the tournament begins on October 24.

Matches may be played in the men's gymnasium after 6:30 in the evening or on Saturday between 9:00 and 12:00 and 1:00 p.m. and 5:00 p.m. Sunday afternoon are available for play in the tournament between 1:30 and 5:00. Students wishing to play their matches on other facilities must do so for the winner of their matches played on campus must report the score to the Intramural Office within 24 hours after the match is played.

Some of the rules as outlined to the Intramural Office to be followed in the ping pong tournament are as follows:

The winner of a ping pong game shall be the player who first reaches 15 points unless the score is tied at 14 all, in which case the winner of the game must first gain a two point lead. The player first obtaining the two points is declared the winner of the match.

Deadline for entry in the badminton playoffs is Friday of this week. Play in the sport will begin on Tuesday of next week. The winner of a badminton game shall be the player who first reaches 15 points unless the score is decided at 14 all. The winner of the match must then gain a two point lead.

The hole-in-one golf tournament will be started next Monday. Contestants simply need report to the contest officials at the basketball field and give their name, address and organization or league which they are representing. Equipment for the contest will be at the field. Starting time is 3:00 p.m. Touch football games yesterday for which no results were available at press time included Men's Residence Hall League games between Baracks No. 2 and Baracks No. 3, Baracks No. 6, and Miller's Dorm, Last Resort and Baracks No. 5 vs. Baracks No. 7.

The VII intramural program is progressing rapidly in spite of the fact that the bad weather has countered thus far. Six touch football teams have been organized to play a round robin tournament. Winner of the VII championship will meet the winners of the Men's Residence Hall League to determine their representative in the all-school championship playoff.

Corkball schedule for this week includes games to be played today through Thursday:

Today: Brown Jog vs. Student Christian Foundation; Field I. White's vs. White Hall Inn; Field II. Tau Kappa Epsilon vs. Sigma Tau Gamma; Field III: Baracks 7 vs. Baracks 5; Field IV: Coop vs. Baracks 5; Field V: Anthony Hall vs. Baracks 3; Field VI: Baracks 2 vs. Baracks 4; Field VII.

Tomorrow: Baracks 8 vs. Anthony Hall II; Field I: Baracks 4 vs. Baracks 6; Field II: Delta Psi vs. Baracks 6; Field III: Delta Psi vs. Sigma Tau Gamma; Field IV: Phi Kappa Tau vs. Sigma Tau Gamma; Field V: Delta Epsilon Chi vs. Delta Epsilon Chi; Field VI: Sigma Pi vs. Sigma Pi; Field VII: Sigma Tau Gamma vs. Field VII.

Thursday, Baracks 2 vs. Anthony Hall II; Field I: Baracks 8 vs. Baracks 4; Field II: Baracks 1 vs. Baracks 3; Field III: Student Christian Foundation vs. Delta Delta Delta; Field IV: Phi Kappa Tau vs. Tau Kappa Epsilon; Field V: Delta Epsilon Chi vs. Delta Epsilon Chi; Field VI: Sigma Pi vs. Sigma Pi; Field VII: Sigma Tau Gamma vs. Field VII.

Cross Country Team Beats Western 20-35

The SIU cross country team made it two in a row Saturday when they beat the Warriors from Western Illinois at Maconry 20-35.

Six Saluki runners competed on the three and one-half mile course. Ryan of Western finished first. Then came Bernard Kabot, Capt. Howard Branch, Ron Helberg, Bob Kierczyk and Joe Betts, all of SIU, in this order.

Four Leatherneck runners came next, followed by SIU's Garrison Newsum.

The Salukis beat Cape Girardeau in the season opener Oct. 10.

The SIU gymnastics team is the newest member of the SIU varsity intercollegiate athletic program. The gymnasts achieved varsity status last week.

by a decision of the athletic council.

Gymnastics Acquires Varsity Standing

The SIU varsity intercollegiate athletic program has added a new sport. Gymnastics has been added to the list by a decision of the SIU Council on Intercollegiate Athletics at a meeting Tuesday.

Although no meets have been scheduled so far, the team plans to enter competition this year. They have 20 exhibition appearances scheduled in Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky and Missouri. Jerry Oetle and Bill Marshall have been elected as the captains of the first gym team in SIU history. Don DeCarly is the coach.

The team performed in the half time festivities at the football game Saturday night for its first appearance this year.

The addition of gymnastics to the varsity agenda brings the total of varsity sports at SIU to 19, including football, basketball, baseball, track, cross country, swimming, wrestling, golf, tennis and gymnastics.

The fleet of football player-propelled bicycles which crosses the campus every afternoon is not a revolutionary innovation to the time-honored game, but merely University School gliders on the way to practice.

Southern is a member of the Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (I-IAC).

Horseback Riding Now To Rec Program

Glen "Al" Martin, head of the Campus Recreation committee, has announced that the campus recreation program will include horseback riding. The riding is scheduled for Saturday mornings between 9 a.m. and 12 noon, but Martin adds that additional hours will be made open to students if enough of the students indicate an interest in the program.

In case of rain, or inclement weather, Martin has indicated that there will be sufficient space for indoor riding in the program. The Hillcrest Stables, one mile west of the University Center on Chautauqua Street, will provide the horses.
