Pass Spectacular Expected Tonight

Ticket Selling Will Continue 'Til 8 Tonight

Ticket sales for Saturday night's football game have been extended to give students an opportunity to adjust to the new system adopted this year.

Tickets for the first home game will be sold in the University Center until game time at 8 p.m. Saturday. The price to students is 75 cents.

It was previously announced that ticket sales would end at 5 p.m. Saturday.

The extension came as the result of action by the Student Council at its first meeting Thursday night.

The Council gave Student Body President Pat Micken a mandate to request that the Athletic Department sell the 75-cent student tickets at the gate, because of the lack of time and publicity given the new procedure.

Micken met with Athletic Director Donald N. Boydston Friday.

According to Micken, Boydston turned down the request because, for security reasons, the tickets couldn't be sold in an unsheltered area and it would be "highly impractical." Boydston reportedly said, "to try to use the regular ticket-selling facilities for selling to students, Boydston did agree, however, to extend the hours of selling tickets in the University Center until game time. The change will be effective for Saturday's game only.

Students who have purchased either a $3 or $6 season pass need only to present the pass at the gate.

Those failing to purchase tickets at the University Center before game time will be required to pay the $2.25 regular admission price at the gate.

This is the first season students have been required

Olympian's Fans Start Drive To Send Wife to Tokyo, Too

"I'm a Kristoff Fan" tags have been sprouting out all over Carbondale like mushrooms in a damp field.

Behind the tags are the coworkers of Doris Kristoff, wife of Larry Kristoff, the SIU heavyweight wrestler who recently won a berth on the U.S. Olympic team.

The object of the tags, in addition to giving local folks a chance to brag about a hometown boy who has made good, is to raise funds to send Doris to Tokyo to watch Larry compete in the Olympics.

The fund-raising drive is sponsored by Doris's coworkers at the Carbondale Clinic. They've placed donation boxes in most of the major business places around Carbondale to raise $1,300 for Doris's transportation.

The drive will get a boost from the Saluki wrestling team tonight at the football game between SIU and Louisville. The wrestlers will pass among the fans and swap "I'm a Kristoff Fan" tags for donations.

Deadline for the fund drive is Oct. 1.

Mrs. Kathryn Peterson, fund chairman, said more than $500 has been collected.

If the drive is successful, Mrs. Kristoff will leave Oct. 8 along with SIU Wrestling Coach Jim Wilkinson for the Olympic Games.

Kristoff previously has won the NCAA college division heavyweight title twice and last summer he won the Japanese national championship at the Tokyo Games, a pre-Olympic meet.

Aerial Aces to Lead Salukis, Cardinals in Home Opener

By Richard LaSusa

If past performances are any indication, footballs should fill the air tonight in McAndrew Stadium.

In this evening's 8 o'clock Saluki home opener with Louisville University are a pair of rifle-armed quarterbacks who have earned their griffin reputations by flipping footballs.

Commanding top billing on the youthful SIU squad (only two starters tonight are seniors) is standout quarterback Jim Hart, Hart, a Morton Grove junior and captain of Southern's offensive team, was the Salukis' leading passer and most valuable player a year ago when he completed 72 of 152 passes for 1,041 yards and 14 touchdowns.

Hart experienced an off day in last week's 35-12 loss to Bowling Green when he completed only six of 16 passes for 68 yards and one touchdown. According to the SIU coaching staff, the 6-2, 195-pound signal caller is going to have to have a better game against the Cardinals tonight if the Salukis are going to capture their second straight contest from the Kentuckians. Southern defeated Louisville last season, 13-7, on the strength of a third quarter touchdown pass from Hart to Tom Massey.

Louisville will also have a big gun in its offensive backfield, in the presence of passing star Tom LaFramboise.

LaFramboise, a crafty 6-3, 195-pound senior, was ranked seventh nationally in passing last season and completed a phenomenal 28 of 45 passes for 332 yards in the Cardinals' 10-7 loss to Western Michigan. His performance broke a 15-year passing record set by Johnny, now a quarterback with the professional Baltimore Colts.

Southern's practice sessions during the past week have been centered around pass defense, and head coach Don Shroyer feels that he has come up with an effective defensive backfield to stop LaFramboise. The starting SIU defensive backfield crew contains juniors Tom Massey, Mike McGinnis and sophomores Wayne Thames, Dennis Geiske and Rudy Phillips.

Joining Hart in the Salukis offensive backfield are leading groundgainer Monty Riffer at fullback (66 yards in 16 tries in the Bowling Green contest), halfback Rich Weber (42 yards in 14 tries) and flankerback Rudy Phillips. Weber, a junior from Mattoon, was the Salukis' leading ground-gainer in 1963 when he picked up 257 in 38 attempts for an average of 6.7 yards per carry.

Expected to start in Southern's offensive line are ends Bonnie Shelton and Mike McGinnis, tackles Isaac Brigham and Gary Olson, guards Mitchell Krawczyk and Earl O'Malley and center Gene Miller.

"The boys feel that they can win this one," said Shroyer, "and they'll be battling all the way to prove that they can."

Sherman, Brubeck Coming to Campus

Allen Sherman and Dave Brubeck will headline this year's Homecoming stage show at Southern Oct. 30, it was announced by Larry A. Lieber, Homecoming chairman.

Peter Palmer and his orchestra are scheduled to play for the Homecoming dance Oct. 31. The orchestra will also back up Sherman at Friday night's stage show.

Brubeck, a jazz pianist, will appear with his combo. Sherman is known for his comedy routines in nightclubs and on records.

Registration Deadline Nears

Unregistered Cars on Campus Are Police Quarry at Midnight

The Saturday night bewitching hour will mark the start of the be-watching hours for University Police looking for illegal student cars.

Edward F. McDevitt, supervisor of parking, announced that Saturday is the deadline for registration of cars for parking stickers.

The only autos that will be allowed to stay on campus without a sticker after midnight Saturday will be those from out of state, where the distance is too far to travel over the weekend.

These exceptions, which must be registered, will be issued a temporary storage permit until they can be returned.

The parking office, which is normally open from 8:30 to noon Saturday, will be open in the afternoon also today, but no cash transactions will be made.

Beginning Monday, cars parked along the inside curb of the University Drive will be ticketed, according to the Security Office.

Cars have been allowed to park on both sides this week, in order to hasten the registration proceedings of returning students.

COME MONDAY CARS WILL BE BANNED FROM THE INSIDE LANE OF CAMPUS DRIVE

SIU Wesley Foundation Picks Slate For Direction of 1964-65 Activities

Activities of the Wesley Foundation will be directed during the 1964-65 school year by 16 officers and committee chairman, who have, in the opinion of the Rev. Ronald Seibert, foundation director, proved their belief that religion should be a part of college education.

Elected in the spring quarter 1964 were David Swan, president; Judy Buzzard, secretary; Hiram Crawford, vice president and Clyde Boyer, treasurer.

Various committees and their chairmen are service committee, Jim Brown; music, Carla Shoaff; world Christian community, Ellery Duke; social life, Carol McWalter; strategy, Virginia Banks and "Perspective," Jan Manker.

John Downs will be Wesley's Interfaith Council delegate and Bill Davis will serve as alternate. Dottie Smith will be Kappa Phi representative and Bill Searcy will be the Grace Methodist Church representative. Methodist Student Movement delegates will be Betty Cross and Gary Nettleton.

A retreat for new students at Little Grassy Lake's Camp Carew on Friday opened the year's schedule for the Methodist student center.

Church Foundation Gets SIU Approval

The Church of Christ has received SIU approval for establishment of a religious foundation.

Joe T. Clary has been appointed to serve as director of the foundation which will limit its activities to counseling and devotions until a building site is selected and organization is complete. When fully organized, Clary plans to offers courses in the Bible and religion for academic credit.

Directors of the new foundation, all SIU faculty members, are: L.E. Bradfield, Joe Burnside, Dan McClary and O.B. Ray.

Those interested in joining in the foundation's activities may call 457-5105 for further information.

SIU's Sunday Seminar will be conducted by George E. Axtelle, professor of administration and supervision. He will discuss "The Private Interest and the Public Good" at 8:30 p.m. Sunday in Room D of the University Center.

8 Baptist Students Served Missions

Eight Baptist students from SIU's Carbondale campus have concluded a summer serving as missionaries, according to Charles Gray, director of the Baptist Student Union.

"This is the largest number of students that Illinois has ever had in the field at one time," he said.

Two of the students served in foreign countries--Leslie Pappas of Fairfield was in France, and Jerry Moore of Lawrenceville in Trinidad.

Those who worked in home mission service were Joe and Bonnie Spicer of Crossville and Maida Quick of Odin, who served in Michigan; Effie Mae Kelly of Carbondale, in New York; Martha Jackson of Herrin, in Kansas, and Georgina Phillips of Sesser, in California.

Several of these students were sponsored by the Baptist Student Union, others by the Home Mission Board, Gray said.

Baptist Student Leaders Map Program for Fall at Retreat

Student leaders of the Baptist Student Union at SIU planned their fall program at a preschool retreat at the Baptist camp grounds at Lake Sallateeska near Pinckneyville, according to Charles Gray, BSU director.

The organization's fall calendar lists numerous activities that are religion-oriented. Activity committees will be headed by 22 students who will select other members to aid them in planning.

Some of the programs planned are study groups, visitation to new students, visitation to Carbondale churches, BSU state and regional conventions and conferences, Christmas caroling, and Chapel Singerstours.

Students chosen to head the different BSU offices and committee chairmanships for 1964-65 include Effie Mae Kelly, Walnut Street representative; Mary Roper, Murdale Church representative; Judy Harbison, social co-chairman; Frosti Croslin, Beacon co-chairman; and John Crenshaw, interfaith co-chairman; Alice Malone, Carrier Mills, secretary; Bill Shahan, Centralia, stewardship chairman; Paul Smith, Downers Grove, secretary; Ellie Harper, East Alton, chapel-promotion chairman and Leslie Pappas, Fairfield, missions co-chairman.

Other officers include Norma Hodges, Fairfield, international committee chairman; Stan Hill, Marion, enlistment co-chairman; Karen Eubank, Marshall, Lantana Church representative; Norma Barrow, Metamora, Lakeland Church representative; Maida Quick, Odin, missions co-chairman; Gary Grigg, Peoria, president; Faye Andrews, Peoria, interfaith co-chairman; Steve Edwards, Pinckneyville, social co-chairman; Jan Thompson, Sesser, University Baptist Church representative; Georgina Phillips, Sesser, Beacon co-chairman; Valerie Withrow, Sima, enlistment chairman; and Linda Priestley, Sparta, devotions chairman.

Warren Findings Could Cause Uproar in Europe

By Louis Levin
Associated Press

LONDON--The Warren commission's report on President John F. Kennedy's assassination is certain to produce a storm of controversy in Europe if it holds that the accused killer, Lee Harvey Oswald, acted alone.

An Associated Press survey of nine European countries showed that leftist circles will take the lead in charging a whitewash if the commission's report, to be made public Sunday, upholds the FBI's version of the Dallas killing.

Europeans in general have regarded reports from Dallas with feelings ranging from misgiving to outright suspicion. Leftist organizations have long subscribed to the theory that the assassination was a rightist conspiracy with Oswald as its tool and that Dallas night-club operator Jack Ruby shot Oswald to silence him.

The publication in Europe, as a newspaper serial and as a book, of "Who Killed Kennedy?" by Baltimore reporter Thomas G. Buchanan, has added to the doubt. So has New York lawyer Mark Lane, who toured the continent denying that Oswald was the assassin. A "Who Killed Kennedy" committee has been formed in Britain by Bertrand Earl Russell, 92, the philosopher and pacifist. But British opposition to the Warren report probably will generally be confined to leftists.

Viet Groups Stir Unrest

By Jack Harrison

Interest groups are demonstrating more dissatisfaction with the government of South Viet Nam.

Some of the viewpoints that contribute to the turbulence are not compatible with the current fight against the Communist Viet Cong.

One of the strongest of the new political groups is the Council of National Salvation, a band of Buddhist intellectuals in the university city of Hue.

The goal of this group is civilian government for the country. It is opposed to U. S. support of the war effort, and many observers believe that the council's main aim, though not yet announced, is a quick peace at any price.

Many other groups in South Viet Nam would not accept this course of action without a struggle.

The Council of National Salvation, led by the Hue University medical dean, may be behind youth demonstrations that were staged during the last week in several Vietnamese cities.

Many other groups-- intellectuals, labor, Buddhists, students, Catholics, generals of the Army and mountain tribes-- have agitated against the government in recent weeks.

Eric, Atlanta Journal

As concessions are granted to one group, the others make more and more noise lest their demands go unheeded.

The labor movement in Saigon got concessions this week from the government of Premier Nguyen Khanh after a one-day deadline.

Khanh is facing a deadline for reorganization of the government that was nearly toppled in an attempted coup three weeks ago.

At that time Khanh was ousted from the office of President. To gain time to maneuver after the attempted coup, Khanh agreed to become premier for only two months, during which time machinery would be set in motion for the organization of a government of the people.

Nearly half the time has elapsed without a man named to the 20-man council which is to designate lawyers to draw up a constitution and then take over the government provisionally.

Haggling over terms of the council's organization has prevented the appointment of anyone. Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh, former president, is to be chairman of the council and has been trying to select other members. But so far there have been no takers.

The authority of the government has been weakened by recent events. And no order seems yet to be appearing from the chaos.

'Enough for Mother'

Attorneys for Sen. Hubert Humphrey released his financial statement, showing him to be the poorest of the four national candidates but still with enough, as he said earlier, "to take care of mother." Humphrey's assets were listed as $171,396.

Campaign Takes Shape; Candidates Busy

By Larry Lorenz

The campaign for the presidency has begun to fall into a pattern it is likely to hold until Nov. 3. The issues are set, barring any unforeseen national crises, and the fast pace of the candidates apparently will be steady.

President Johnson, who has done little actual campaigning up to now, announced Monday that he plans to visit "many, many states" between now and election day. And almost immediately he began moving.

The President addressed the United Steelworkers of America convention in Atlantic City on Monday.

Tuesday, he spoke to the International Union of Electrical Workers in Washington, while five other union groups across the country watched on closed-circuit television.

He flew to El Paso, Tex., Friday to participate with Mexico's President Adolfo Lopez-Mateos in ceremonies marking the new U.S.-Mexico border. Later in the day, he spoke to a crowd at the Oklahoma State Fair at Oklahoma City.

Everywhere the President's message was the same: the Democratic party is the party of love while the Republican party is the party of hate; the Democrats hold out a helping hand to the needy while the Republicans have no compassion. And he matched Senator Goldwater's pledge to cut taxes by promising a cut in excise taxes, although he did not say by how much.

Goldwater launched his most intensive week of campaigning with a Monday morning visit to the Gettysburg, Pa., farm of former President Eisenhower, where the two men made a half-hour campaign film for television broadcast later in the week. The film was aimed at countering charges that Goldwater is impetuous and irresponsible.

Then, out to the hustings to present the new image to the electorate. Goldwater flew first to Charlotte, N.C., traditionally safe Democratic territory, then to President Johnson's home ground, the southwest. At the end of the week, he was in New York.

At every stop he sought to convince his hearers that his is the voice of reason. He tried to boomerang charges of "trigger happiness" back to the Democrats, specifically the President and Secretary of Defense McNamara. Goldwater said he believes military commanders already have authority, in an emergency, to use nuclear weapons without presidential approval--which he has strongly advocated. If so, he said, President Johnson and McNamara are, by their own definition, "trigger happy."

Goldwater criticized the nation's military posture under the Democrats as being weak. He told the American Legion convention that the nation's concern with arms reduction, along with a "let's be friends" approach to Moscow, seriously endangers world peace.

He charged McNamara with trying to turn the Department of Defense into "a disarmament department." And he lashed out at the Democrat's "great society" theme, saying the administration is wasting money on "do-gooder schemes" at the expense of military preparedness. "That way," he said, "lies national suicide."

Cartoonists View 'Thurmond Nuclear' Blast

A predicted rush of southern Democrats into the Republican party failed to materialize and Sen. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, who switched labels last week, found himself alone in moving over to a Republican desk Monday morning. Thurmond, known as a maverick in politics, announced that he was a "Goldwater Republican" and introduced the presidential candidate at a campaign speech in South Carolina.

Contract Talks Fail; UAW Strikes GM

DETROIT--The United Auto Workers Union struck General Motors Corp. Friday when company and UAW bargainers failed to reach agreement on a new contract by a union-imposed deadline.

UAW workers walked off the job at GM plants across the nation at 10 a.m. EST when no word of settlement was received.

The strike came after a 24-hour last-ditch negotiation session.

Negotiations were broken off, and no further sessions were scheduled.

The union previously negotiated three-year pacts at Chrysler Corp. and Ford Motor Co., final agreement coming only 55 minutes ahead of deadlines at each.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther said at 10:30 a.m. that it was with "a great sense of sadness and disappointment" that he announced failure to reach agreement with General Motors.

Reuther said he thought the GM economic offer was satisfactory, but said workers are interested in more than just money alone. He said workers "are entitled to decency and dignity at the place where they work and that's the reason for this strike."

Louis G. Seaton, GM vice president in charge of personnel, said the strike "is completely unnecessary and unjustified."

"The union's reasoning behind its last-minute decision to break off negotiations and resort to the strike weapon is all the more difficult to understand because substantial progress toward resolution of our differences had been made at the bargaining table," Seaton continued.

Non-economic demands of the union, rather than money, apparently brought about the strike.

Unresolved issues at the start of a 24-hour marathon bargaining session included grievance procedures, union representation in the plants, production standards, disciplining of workers and working conditions.

Senate Okays 'New Hope' Plan For Appalachia by 45-13 Vote

WASHINGTON--The Senate passed Friday the billion-dollar "new hope" plan for the Appalachian Mountain region, the last of President Johnson's major antipoverty programs. The vote was 45 to 13.

The heart of the aid program to upgrade the economic life of the 165,000-square-mile area of 11 states is a five-year $840-million highway construction program.

A total of $220.2 million also is authorized for two years for a variety of services and improvements, including hospitals, clinics, restoration of worked-out mine areas, sewage-treatment facilities, and expansion of numerous existing federal programs.

Goldwater Hits Johnson Stand On Rights Law

ENROUTE WITH GOLDWATER--Sen. Barry Goldwater charged Friday that President Johnson "shows no inclination" to support the new civil rights law.

The Republican presidential nominee plunged into a whirlwind tour of northern New England--with a quick trip into New York--declaring that the civil rights bill he opposed in the Senate has not solved the problem of inequality.

"It's not going to do it unless it's enforced and the present administration shows no inclination towards supporting it," he told a police-estimated 1,500 people at an early morning rally at the Portland, Maine, airport.

Goldwater said laws won't really do the job anyhow.

"The law passed on civil rights will never correct the inequity in this country," he said. Goldwater said it is a problem that must be solved first in the hearts of Americans.

Goldwater slapped the administration on the Bobby Baker affair, forecasting a whitewash of what he called a kickback "that could have directly benefited Lyndon Johnson's political career." That charge came in a speech at Albany, N.Y.

President Accents Prosperity, Peace, Conservation on Tour

EL PASO, Tex.--President Johnson, joining Mexico's chief executive to celebrate settlement of a 97-year-old border dispute, said Friday he will "go anywhere, talk to anyone, discuss any subject" in the cause of peace and freedom.

Johnson made his pledge as he swung into a jet-speed tour of Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas before settling down at his central Texas ranch for a weekend visit.

In each of the three states, the President was covering territory canvassed earlier by his Republican rival, Barry Goldwater. But in his first prepared speech of the day, for a Mexican and United States audience at El Paso, Johnson took no direct note of Goldwater or the campaign season.

From West Texas, Johnson was bound for remote Eufaula Dam in Oklahoma--to dedicate that $120-million structure.

In his prepared text for the dam dedication, Johnson said:

"The government has a responsibility not to waste the taxpayers' money, but the government also has a responsibility not to waste the nation's resources. The real wasters, the real spendthrifts, are those who, by neglecting the needs of today, destroy the hopes of tomorrow."

At Oklahoma City, the state fair was the locale for Johnson's third formal speech of the day.

In this prepared text, he said:

"The fact is that never in our history has American business been more alive and growing and filled with opportunity. And you know in your heart that this is right."

Thus he concluded this key passage by borrowing, as he has before, a slogan of the Goldwater campaign.

Women's Recreation Group
Open to Male Students, Too

Sports activities sponsored by the Women's Recreation association are primarily for girls, but several events are open to male students as well. This year three of the elected leaders are males.

Phil Pfeffer of St. Louis was chosen leader of the club section in badminton, and Samuel James of Memphis and James Larson of Frankfort are coleaders of the Fencing Club. The Modern Dance Club, headed by Nona Mundy of St. Louis is also open to male students.

More than a thousand SIU woman students participate in the sports program each year. WRA officers for 1964-65 are Jane Huckelbridge of Shipman, president; Joyce Niestemski of Oxford, Conn., vice president; Carol Hilliard of Marion, secretary-treasurer; Paula Von Gerichten of Breese, chairman of sports managers; and Jane Johnston of Evanston and Margaret Stagner of Murphysboro, publicity managers.

Other sports leaders are: Oneta Spence, leader of house competition in basketball.

Cathy Moskop, tennis leader.

Sue Buckley, hockey leader. Mary Jane Dameron, golf leader.

Sheila Bates, softball leader.

Jean Kahl, leader of class competition in badminton.

Lenore Nelke, competitive swimming leader.

Mary Ann Griot, leader in class competition in volleyball.

Sue Roberts, leader in house competition in volleyball.

Joanne Van Anrooy, archery leader.

Channel Cats Swim

SIU Research Institute Proves
Fish Can Live in Mine Ponds

William Lewis for many years felt certain that the ponds created by abandoned strip mines in this area could be put to use in raising fish. Now he has the proof to back up his belief.

The results of a two-year experiment in which channel catfish were successfully raised in small ponds supplied with water from strip mine ponds has just been released.

The experiment was conducted by the Cooperative Fisheries Research Institute at SIU. Lewis is director of the institute.

Channel catfish were chosen for the experiment because they make an excellent addition to Southern Illinois lakes and ponds. They are a fine eating and sports fish, taking artificial lures as well as live bait, Lewis explained.

Catfish normally prosper and reproduce only in large, clean rivers, using hollow logs and holes in the bank for spawning. But the SIU experiment, conducted in strip mine pits on land owned by Joe Moroni, a Carbondale restaurant operator, found that by substituting clean water from strip mine pits and milk cans for the hollow logs, the channel cats reproduced quite readily.

In the experiment at the Moroni farm, ponds a third of an acre in size and three to five feet deep were dug alongside a strip mine pit.

In the ponds, 10 brood channel cats were placed, and 10 milk cans staked horizontally, in three feet of water. Fathead minnows were stocked as a forage fish, and a regular feeding program of trout pellets was tested.

When the fry (young brood of fish) became fingerling size, they were transferred to another pond without any adults that might exhibit cannibalistic tendencies.

The first hatch of the experiment is now yearling size

(about six inches) and Frank Bulow, a graduate Zoology student at SIU, will begin stocking small strip pits, keeping an accurate check on feeding, growth and mortality.

Lewis said the experiment has confirmed that channel catfish of adequate size, well-fed and living in strip mine waters, will reproduce. Water from strip mine pits unless it contains a concentration of sulphur, is quite acceptable for the breeding ponds, Lewis said. The high concentration of other minerals seems to have no effect on the fish.

ISAAC BRIGHAM

Field Actions Speak Loudest For Frosh Saluki 'Big Isaac'

By Richard LaSusa

Tom La Framboise, beware of Saluki Isaac Brigham tonight. Big No. 79 is liable to run you right off the field, or into it.

Big Isaac, as he is called by his Saluki teammates, is a likeable, 6-3, 229-pound freshman tackle, and one of the bright spots in this year's SIU football picture.

A native of Chipley, Fla., Brigham played two seasons of army football with SIU foe Ft. Campbell before coming to Southern last winter.

According to head football coach Don Shroyer, Brigham is a quiet but doggedly aggressive ballplayer, a claim well supported by the quality of Brigham's line play against Bowling Green last Saturday. In fact, Brigham was one of a scant number of Saluki linemen who succeeded in feeding Bowling Green quarterback Gerry Ward a little University Field dirt.

In Shroyer's estimation, Isaac probably did a better job than any Saluki lineman in Southern's 35-12 loss to the powerful Falcons.

"He's an aggressive ballplayer and really came through for us on defense against Bowling Green," said Shroyer proudly.

On the practice field or during a game Brigham doesn't say much, verbally that is. Big Isaac lets his polished football skills do all of the talking for him.

"He doesn't say much," said Shroyer, "but he's a hustler and gets the job done for you in a big way."

When he takes his position at the right tackle spot in McArthur Stadium tonight (on both the offensive and defensive units), Brigham will be the only freshman in SIU's

Injuries Plague Saluki Footballers; Three to Miss Louisville Contest

Injuries, like tackling and touchdowns, are a part of football.

The injury plague, which casts its evil spell on most gridiron aggregations across the nation this time of year, has made its presence felt on the SIU football scene in recent weeks.

In fact, Southern's bandage and ointment crew has been working overtime this week in a frantic effort to get some of the Salukis' walking-wounded into playing condition for tonight's home-opener with Louisville.

Some of the SIU football players injured in practice earlier this week will be in uniform for this evening's contest, but others will have to remain on the Saluki sick list for some time to come.

Following is a who's who of the SIU injury list:

Jim Westoff--counted on to be a starting tackle--will be out until next Saturday's game with Tulsa with a back injury.

Ron Leonard--a second-string defensive end whose severely sprained hand forced him to miss practice this week--may see limited action tonight.

Merchants Sponsor SIU Street Dance

The downtown Carbondale merchants will sponsor a "Let's Get Acquainted" street dance at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the A&P and P.N. Hirsch parking lots on South University Avenue.

Pat Micken, student body president, called the dance, which will feature two bands, free refreshments and records to be given away, a step toward a better student-merchant relationship.

Micken feels this might be a new trend and added, "I hope the merchants will begin to take a more liberal view when a student tries to cash a check in their places of business."

Danny Cagle and the Escorts along with The Mustangs will furnish music for the dance.

John Warmelink--a reserve end bothered by a sprained finger on his right hand--will be in uniform tonight.

Mike McGinnis--a tight end bothered by a re-occurrence of a knee injury suffered earlier in fall practice--expected to be in the starting lineup tonight.

John McKibben--halfback out indefinitely with a possible blood-clot in his right leg--injured in practice two weeks ago.

Paul Della Vecchia--a veteran guard--football career has been terminated because of a pinched nerve in his neck.

starting lineup. "You'd never know he's only a freshman by watching him play," said one SIU football assistant. "Isaac performs like a seasoned four-year veteran."

Big Isaac doesn't particularly care for the sight of an opposing quarterback with a spotless white uniform (like Falcon Ward's after 60 minutes of play last Saturday) and No. 79 is hoping his line play this evening can provide Louisville's star quarterback LaFramboise, and his Cardinal red and white uniform, with an ample amount of McAndrew stadium turf.

Intramural Office Seeks Referees

The Intramural Office is looking for persons to officiate at flag football games this fall.

Applicants must have free time in the afternoons. They will receive $2 a game.

Applications should be submitted as soon as possible to the Intramural Office, Room 128, SIU Arena.
