Dance To Be Highlight Of Hospitality Week-end

An all-school dance, sponsored by the Social Senate, in honor of the visiting high school seniors will be the highlight of the Hospitality Weekend's festivities. The dance will get underway at 8 p.m. tonight and will feature a floor show under the auspices of the music department at 9 p.m. and a second floor show at 10 p.m. consisting of novelty numbers and acts by Tommy Lawson and his band.

Decorations for the dance will be handled by Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity, refreshments by the Pan-Hellenic Council, and publicity by Bob Coover, according to Bill Davis, general chairman of the Senate.

Hospitality Weekend, the fifth annual one of its kind, began last night with an open house and housing assignment period at the Student Center.

This morning's activities began with a recreation period-coffee hour get-together in the Little Theatre from 8 to 10, sponsored by the Social Senate. From 10 to 11, a program in the Little Theatre will feature selections by the SIU Pep band under the direction of Phillip Olsson, introduction of the Student Council, a humorous skit by Jim Trigg and Ed Lunde, and welcome by Dean of Men I. Clark Davis.

TODAY'S activities will move along with class visitations from 11 until noon, and then a lunch hour in the university cafeteria. Class visitations will continue at one; and at two, portions of the Kappa Delta Alpha Variety Show will be presented in the Little Theatre, according to Gene Johns, director of the show.

Campus tours from four until 5:30 p.m. will be climaxed by a reception at the home of SIU president D. W. Morris.

After dinner in the university cafeteria the all-school dance at 8 in the Women's gym will end today's program.

Saturday's events will get off to a start with an early breakfast from 8 to 9 in the cafeteria, and an hour from 9 until 10 in which the delegates will have an opportunity to meet and talk with the SIU faculty in the Little Theatre.

A COFFEE HOUR from 10 until 10:30, sponsored by the Social

Southern Flag May Be Dedicated Soon

A flag dedication ceremony may be incorporated into the Spring Festival program according to Wayne Mann, director of alumni services.

C. Sanderson Knaus of the art service is now in Chicago to let the contract for the making of the new Southern flag.

THREE DRAWINGS for the SIU flag have been submitted to the art department for the final selection. Each of these three drawings has the Saluki theme: The art department is to make their selection in the next few days.

Tentative plans have been made for the dropping of the new Southern flag on the north pole. This project was suggested as a stunt by a Southern alumni who is now a member of the Air Force. Permission to carry out this project has been secured from Air Force authorities.

Senate and held in Anthony Hall will precede a program in the Little Theatre to be introduced by Tom Sloan, president of the Student Council. Selections by the Madrigal singers and piano solos by Norma Parker; a panel discussion by Tom Sloan, Doug Shepherd, Jim Throgmorton, Jim Kahmann, Doris Schwinn, and Gene Howey on "Students Review Campus Activities;" and a message from President Delyte W. Morris will complete the program.

A luncheon program at noon Saturday will terminate this year's Hospitality Weekend. A history of Southern by Dean E. G. Lentz, a satirical reading by Bob Lupella, and vocal selections by Harriet Cook will be presented under the direction of Mary Boston, mistress of ceremonies.

"This year's welcome to the high school seniors of Southern Illinois has been designated to give the high school student, who is a guest of the university, plenty of time to relax and yet to adequately view college life," according to Dean of Women Leah Farr, in an interview earlier this week.

Withdrawal Credit Rules Announced

In order to receive full credit in a course, a student withdrawing from the university to enter the military service must attend beyond the sixth week, must be passing in the course, and must enter the service within five days after his last day of classes, according to a joint announcement made by the academic deans, the personnel deans, and the registrar.

THE STUDENT should present evidence to the Registrar that he was recalled to the service because he was on reserve call or that he was drafted. The student must also present evidence that he was recalled or drafted within five days after his last day of attending classes. Such evidence must be presented before the end of the quarter.

Credit will not be counted on records until evidence of induction has been received by the Registrar. For half credit during the first six weeks of a quarter, the same principle applies.

Business Education Association To Meet

"Business Teachers and the Defense Program" will be the topic of the Southern Illinois Business Education association spring meeting here at Southern tomorrow.

Speakers will be as follows: Dr. Lewis R. Toll, director, Division of Business Education, Illinois State Normal university; Wilson P. Coker, office manager, Illinois State Employment Service, Murphysboro; James E. Trabue, director of vocational education, Belleville Township High School and Junior College; and E. J. Simon, director of the Vocational-Technical Institute, SIU.

MacArthur vs. Truman

When a lieutenant disobeys his captain, he is subject to removal from his command or court martial . . . Likewise when Gen. Douglas MacArthur disobeyed the orders of his superiors he was subject to dismissal.

It cannot be denied that MacArthur is a military man of great ability. This he has proven throughout the past years in Asia. But he was guilty of a grave military crime—that of insubordination. If others of the military took it upon themselves, as MacArthur did, to disobey their superiors, the whole structure of our well-established military organization would collapse.

MAC ARTHUR WANTED to carry the general war to Asia. In doing this he flaunted the policy of Truman, the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and the United Nations, who believe that the general war (if there is to be one) should be fought in Europe. The UN set down the policy that Korea should be isolated, but MacArthur disagreed. In doing so, he assumed a command which was not his—the making of foreign policy.

Doubtless, the protests of Britain and France played a great part in the firing of MacArthur. Both countries protested mainly because of the fact that the general wanted the war to be fought in Asia. They knew well that if the war were fought in Asia, the countries of Europe would be left at the mercy of the Communist menace because there would not be enough men or materials to supply a full scale war on both the European and Asiatic front. Truman was probably influenced greatly by the views of these two countries and for good reason. Without them, a war in Europe would be futile.

WE DO BELIEVE, however, that while Truman was right in his removal of MacArthur from command of the United Nations forces, he was wrong in removing the general from his command of the occupation forces in Japan. MacArthur has served in the Asiatic theater for his whole military career and is thoroughly indoctrinated in the ways of the Japanese. When he assumed command of the Occupation troops in Japan, he became to the Japanese people what Hirohito had been during the war years. By this dismissal of the Japanese occupation commander, Truman has let the people of Japan down. It will take a long time for Lt. Gen. Ridgway to command the respect that the Japanese have for Gen. MacArthur.

It may be shown later that Gen. MacArthur was right in his thinking, but he was wrong in his disobedience. If MacArthur was right, it will not be he who will have to suffer the ultimate consequences of the military program that has been established. O. W.

Southern Hospitality

Today and tomorrow, Southern is playing host at its annual Hospitality Week-end to approximately 125 high school seniors from the Southern Illinois area. This meeting is not just another convention SIU is sponsoring—like the Ladies Garment Workers or the Southern Illinois Firefighters—to be put aside by Southern students as unimportant.

These high school seniors, our guests, are a select group, chosen to attend Hospitality week-end by scholarship, leadership, and other high qualities. Most of them are planning to go to college next year, and some of them are trying to make up their minds whether to go to SIU or some other school. Their reception here may be the deciding factor.

OF COURSE, AS USUAL, APO and Girls Rally are doing their share of the welcoming, as are several student committees, but they should not be left to do it alone. An all-school dance, with music by Lawson, will be held at the Women's gym tonight, starting at 8. This does not mean all-high school dance—it is for university students as well. You don't have to stay and dance all night, but could just stop in for a little while to say "hi" to the seniors and make sure they are having a good time.

We won't even mention the phrase "Southern hospitality"—that has become a by-word around here, to be taken for granted. We'll just ask you to stop and remember how you felt when you were a senior in high school. (Come now, you're not that old.) V. M.

Little Theatre Gives Play for Children

"The Indian Captive," a children's play, was presented in Shryock auditorium yesterday by the Little Theatre for school children of Carbondale and of towns in the surrounding area.

It was the last of a series of three plays produced during the current school year by SIU dramatists under the sponsorship of the Carbondale branch of the American Association of University Women.

"THE INDIAN CAPTIVE" was written by Charlotte Chorpennig and was based on the authentic story of the captivity among the Seneca Indians of Eleanor Lytell, who was later the wife of John Kenzie of Chicago. Her friendship with the Indians saved her family in the Great Chicago Massacre. Much dialogue of the play is taken from the records of her captivity.

The play was produced under the co-direction of Dr. Archibald McLeod and Laurence Voss of the speech department. Student coach was Virda Sill, junior from Carbondale.

Cast for the play was composed of both University school children and students from the SIU Little Theatre.

Rookies Win Matches In Initial Tennis Meet

By Jim Turpin

Inability of upperclassmen to come through in the clutches cost the Southern tennis team their first meet of the year to St. Louis University last Saturday. The score was 4-3.

Co-captains Jack Norman and Bob Barnhart failed to win in either of their singles matches and were also beaten in number one doubles play, thus accounting for three of the team's four losses. Stan Cooper, Carmi freshman, was ousted in the number one singles match for the other loss.

Most impressive was the play of freshman Omar Winter, who blazed to a victory in number two singles and teamed with Cooper for a win in number two doubles.

Bob Wichmann, who edged out another Carmi freshman, Jim Solidary, for the number five spot on the team, romped over his opponent in straight sets, 8-6, 6-1. If he continues to come through and Norman and Barnhart rise to expected heights, the Maroons will be tough this year.

The netters travel to Cape Girardeau for a dual meet tomorrow afternoon.

The results of the St. Louis meet are as follows:

Jack Webber (SL) defeated Cooper (S) 6-0, 6-3.

Chas. Ploussard (SL) defeated Norman (S) 6-3, 0-6, 6-0.

Jack Moore (SL) defeated Barnhart (S) 6-4, 4-6, 6-4.

Joe Periera (SL) lost to Wichmann (S) 8-6, 6-1.

Webber and Ploussard (SL) defeated Norman and Barnhart (S) 6-2, 6-2.

Winter and Cooper (S) defeated Freitag and Stewart (SL) 6-3, 6-3.

In the Women's division the title went to the Pi Kappa Sigma quintette of Jackie Bittner, Celia Hutton, Joan Gee, Mary Lou Wright, and Mary Ann Klingenberg.

The two top teams also had the top bowlers in both divisions. Bob Barnhart's average of 166 was high for the men, while Mary Ann Klingenberg's 141 was best in the women's bracket.

Chuckling Chuck Nails Down Third Base Job

By Jim Kahmann

Chatter around the locker rooms early this spring had it that third base on the Maroons' baseball team was wide open to anyone. Three or four men proceeded to become third basemen in the hopes of nailing the position down for themselves. But when it was all over, and the team was boarding the bus for the southern trip, a smiling kid by the name of Chuck Valier was resting in his seat, pretty well assured that he would open up at the hot corner.

And Valier's assurance had been well-deserved. He had hustled from the opening gun, he had banged the horsehide off the ball, and he had played a good fielding game around the sack.

Valier is a native of Pinckneyville, where he played baseball on the high school team. In the summertime, he played for an independent team around Pinckneyville, where he was second in team hitting. He was on the SIU squad last year, and came through with several hits in clutch, but he didn't see enough action to letter.

The hustling third sacker is a big kid, tall and on the gangly side, but he reaches out to either direction to snare ground-huggers off the bats of rival swingers. At the plate, he takes an even cut at the ball, and is more or less a punch hitter. Four out of five of his base knocks end up in left field. He rarely pulls the ball, but he's been on base as much as anyone on the team. At the present time he's hitting .365, second high on the squad.

Valier is a pretty fair all-around athlete. In the wintertime, he's forward on the Pinckneyville Lions basketball aggregation. In one contest last year, after Southern's regular season was over Valier played with Captain Tom Millikin of Southern's five. He got 16 points and Millikin got 23. After the game,

CHUCK VALIER

Duster Thomas came over to Valier and said, "Chuck, if we hadn't had that powerhouse in '48, you'd have played a lot of basketball here." Duster Thomas is the cage mentor in Pinckneyville, and he was referring to the State Champion team of 1948 when he said, "powerhouse."

When the ump yells, "Batter up," and the first opponent batsman steps into the batters' box, Valier is raring to go. He wants all the chances to come to him, because he likes to field ground balls, no matter where they're hit. The alert combination of the Southern infield just wouldn't be the same if Chuckling Chuck wasn't around.

WHAT?
