THE SOUTHERN ALL-STARS have been selected to play at the Spring Festival this year. Members of the band are leading musicians of all the local bands of Southern Illinois.

300 Girls To Visit SIU For Home Ec Day

Some 300 high school students will visit the campus Saturday, April 25, for the Home Economics High School Day activities, to acquaint themselves with the home economics curriculum at SIU.

As only seniors were invited to attend last year's activities, the attendance figure amounted to 160. The estimation for this year was made by Dr. Eileen Quigley, chairman of the department after the invitation was extended to any interested high school girl.

After registering at 10 a. m., the guests will be welcomed by Dean Henry Rehn, College of Vocational and Professions. A talk by Miss Mildred Shroberger, Dean of Women, will follow at 10:25. Careers in home economics will be reviewed to the guests by the students in the class in teaching methods.

Lunch will be served at the university cafeteria at 11:45. Campus tours will be conducted beginning at 12:30. After a scale show at 1:30 p. m., at Shrock auditorium, the girls will be the guests of President and Mrs. D. W. Morris at a 3 o'clock tea at the Morris home.

Serving as hostesses for the day will be students in home economics curriculum.

Tickets Now On Sale For Spring Festival Events

Advance tickets for all Spring Festival events are now on sale, according to finance committee chairman, Loreta Bolan and Steve Hartman. These tickets may be purchased at the Student Union, University Drugs, Walgreens, and John's.

Prices for all events are as follows: Vaudeville show, 35c per person in advance or 50c per person at the door. There will be two Vaudeville Shows on the night of Friday, May 1. The first one will begin at 7:30, and the second one will begin at 10:30.

Tickets for the concert Saturday, May 2, at 8 p. m. may be purchased for 50c at all times. Charge for the Saturday night dance is $1.50 per couple in advance and $1.75 per person at the door. This price is originally announced as 20c per person; however, it has been changed to a per couple charge.

Tickets for the events have also been distributed at all fraternity and men's residence houses. Advance on-campus sales will begin Monday, April 27 and will continue through May 1. Tables will be located in front of Old Main throughout the week, so that students may buy their tickets there. In case of rain, the tables will be moved to the crosswalks of Old Main.

Alaska Educator To Discuss Land Of Midnight Sun

A former University of Alaska professor, Dr. Byron Fryxell, will discuss some strange misconceptions about the "Land of the Midnight Sun" at SIU Thursday at 8 p. m. in the University school.

Dr. Fryxell will also talk about unusual aspects of life on the "last frontier," illustrate his lecture with Kodachrome slides, and answer questions from the audience.

He returned to his country last fall to edit a book on Alaska which will be published later this spring. The book is based primarily on a manuscript by the late Dr. Alfred H. Brooks who was located upon as the world's foremost authority on Alaska at the time of his death in 1924.

Dr. Fryxell was dramatic director at the University of Alaska and has written several articles about his experiences for theatrical magazines. He has also taught at the University of Wisconsin, Milwauk University of Decatur, Fairmont State College of West Virginia, a 4-year Wisconsin State College, Milwaukee.

The Lectures and Entertainment Committee at Southern is sponsoring Dr. Fryxell's appearance. The public is invited.

Two Students Offered Jobs

Two SIU graduate assistants were offered summer employment while they were helping F. Caletton Ball, ceramics artist in demonstrations at Leo Moberg, Monroeville, was asked to handle pottery training at an Indianapolis art school where summer workshops are sponsored by the American Art Clay Company.

Leo Moberg, Monroeville, was offered an industrial position with Western Stoneware Company.

They were working with Ball in demonstrations at a meeting of the National Art Education Association.

Upper Classmen To Have Picnic

The Junior-Senior Picnic, which is being held this year in place of the usual Prom, will be at Oak Orchard lake on Thursday. Junior and seniors will be released from classes from 2 p. m. on. Buses will leave the parking lot at Illinois and Grand beginning at 2 p. m.

Equipment for softball, volleyball, horseshoes, cards, tug-of-war, etc., will be provided. Barbecue, lemonade, and potato chips will be served at 2:30 p. m.

There will be no charge for juniors and seniors. Graduates and all freshmen and sophomores who wish to attend, will be charged $1.00.

Those who wish to drive their own cars are urged to do so, and take a carload with them.

All-Stars To Perform At Concert And Dance

The Southern All-Stars have been contracted to play for Spring Festival this year. They will present a concert Saturday, May 2, at 8 p. m. in Shrock auditorium. Then they will pack up, and move to the Men's gym for the dance scheduled for 9:30 p. m.

The All-Stars need no introduction to Southern music lovers. They have played for such campus events as the ROTC Ball, These XI variety show, two Theta Xi jazz concerts, and other campus dances. Last week they were the featured band in the Miss Carbonade contest.

Archie Griffin, graduate student and music director of Carbonade Community high school, is the director of the orchestra. He formerly played with the Charlie Barnett orchestra.

Members of the band are leading musicians of all the local bands of Southern Illinois. The orchestra is composed of 13 students, graduate student Troy Zimmer, Murphorsboro; Robert Reznick, instructor in music; and Philip Olsson, band director. Student orchestra members are:

Charles Bjelckick, Claude Hensley, Boyd LaMarsh, Lee Jacobson, Al Lockwood, R. Corvdon French, Jim Throgmorton, Bob Hoffman, Jack Gail, Bill Clarida, Les Ross, Richard Ward, and John Small.

John Small has done such arrangements as "Laura" for the Stan Benton orchestra and played the piano for the band. Philip Olsson and Robert Reznick are in charge of planning and programs and have played for such campus events throughout this area, having played several concerts for the Lions Clubs of Southern Illinois, as well as concerts and dances for several different schools in Illinois, Missouri, Kentucky, and Indiana.

Seven Graduates Recently Accept Job Placements

Seven more June graduates have secured positions through Southern's Placement Service according to recent announcements from that office.

MARGIE ANN FERGUSON, St. Louis elementary education major, has accepted a position as a kindergarten teacher for the Oak Grove school in Havana. She is a member of Pi Lambda, a national honorary women's education organization.

MILDRED IRENE SCHMITT, Centerville Station and a member of Sigma Sigma Sigma, has accepted a teaching position at the Church Lane school in Centerville Station. Miss Schmitt is a March graduate of Southern.

NANCY KATHERINE SPOONER, Murphorsboro speech major, has accepted a position as speech teacher in the East Richmond high school at Olney. She is a member of Pi Lambda, Pi Kappa Delta, an honorary speech organization, and the Little Theater.

FLORENCE E. NEISWEIGER, New Bunsie, a history major, has accepted a job as an English instructor at the Raymond high school, Mrs. Neiswiger is a member of the Future Teachers of America.

JO PIPPA STEPHANSON, Collierville sociology major, will work as a secretary in the Area Service department here at Southern. She has been president of Johnson Hall, the Baptist women's dormitory.

JACK ROBERTSON LAWLER, agriculture major from Belleville, will accept a position as a salesman for the Balfour Purnell Company in Belleville. Lawler is a member of the Sphinx club, the Lettermans club, and Sigma Pi fraternity.

MOLEY TYLER, Norris City physical education major, will teach in the women's physical education department of the Springfield high school. Mrs. Tyler was treasurer and vice-president of the SIU Women's Athletic Association and a member of the Women's professional club and Girl's Rally.

Auction To Start Anatolia Drive

This year's fund-raising drive for Anatolia college in Greece will feature an auction at an all-school assembly May 6 at 9 a. m. The fund will be used to support Anatolia college in Thessaloniki, Greece, and has an enrollment of approximately 150 students. Last year's drive netted $125, the amount required to fund Anatolia for one day at that time.

Articles to be auctioned off will include cakes, pies, and miscellaneous objects. Services will also be auctioned off to individuals and to groups. These services will include moving boxes, car washing, baby sitting, entertaining, and purchasing dishes in a fraternity or sorority house.

Refreshments will be served. The meeting is open to the public.

Staff Members Meet At School Board Meet

Two Southern Illinois University staff members participated in a meeting Tuesday at a school board meeting in the spring conference and dinner meeting of the Southwestern division of the Illinois Association of School Boards on Wednesday at Maplewood Hill.

Dr. Charles Neal, director of teacher training, spoke on "How Are We Improving Elementary Instruction?" Dr. Marshall S. Hickey, chairman of guidance and special education at Southern, discussed "Guidance and Counseling—Preventive and Curative."

The meeting was attended by school board members and school administrators throughout Southern Illinois.

Komm To Be Speaker At Next FTA Meeting

Dr. Alfred Komm, mental hygienist, will speak to the members of the F. T. A. tomorrow night at 7:30 in the Student Theater of University school.

Dr. Komm will speak on health in regard to the school. The final plans for the trip to Pekin will be made. Also, delegates will be appointed for the election of next year's officers.

Refreshments will be served. The meeting will cost $1 if purchased at the door. They are now on sale from any sorority member.

Sorority Graduates To Sponsor Floorshow

The Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority graduate chapter will hold its annual Kachaboo and floorshow Thursday at the Old Army Hall from 9 to 12 p. m.

Tickets are selling in advance for 75c, but will cost $1 if purchased at the door. They are now on sale from any sorority member.

Geology Club To Meet

The members of the SIU Geology Club are to have a meeting Tuesday at 4 p. m. in 213 Old Main to discuss the possibilities of field trips this spring and to finish up the business concerning the Spring Vacation Field Trip.

The day has been changed to Tuesday because of the Junior-Senior Picnic conflict on Thursday.

New Student Week Plans Announced

The success of Southern's 1953 New Student Week will depend very much on the work of the new student leaders on campus, said Dr. Bery Greenleaf, director of student activities today.

"This fall we will try a new plan, which should make introduction to college a little easier for our freshmen," she said.

The Greenleaf and Myers Smith student chairman of the New Student Week, are making their plans now, for the event which will be held September 9-14.

THE PURPOSE of New Student Week, or Orientation Week, was to be made this year more meaningful to the students," said Dr. Greenleaf.

Businessmen To Come To SIU For Employees

Schools and businesses from all parts of the United States are contacting the SIU Placement Service concerning candidates for employment.

New requests are being received daily for teachers, administrative personnel, sales trainers, field representatives, secretaries, and even professional Boy Scouts.

Openings are listed each day in the Placement Service Office for the purpose of aiding those who are seeking positions after graduation.

This week, several organizations will be on campus to interview candidates for openings. Representatives include: Elizabethan, Inc., Public Schools, on Wednesday, April 23, and the following week, on April 28, representatives from the National Insurance Co. of Evansville will interview applicants in the afternoon on Thursday, April 23, and the following week, on April 28.

On Wednesday, April 29, the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. will hold a group meeting to discuss opportunities with that company in the fields of store management, budget, membership, and field representation.

Interested students should come in regularly to the Placement Service and look over the job opportunities which are being posted and appointment with company representatives prior to the interview.

Last week the service scheduled nine interviews with business organizations and districts of 18 schools. A total of 71 candidates were interviewed at this time.

Card Tourney To Be Feature Of Greek Week

One of the most eagerly anticipated events in all of Greek Week is the annual Card Tourney which determines the best "card sharks" in all the sororities and fraternities.

This year has proved no exception, as members of all Greek organizations are diligently practicing their card playing, knowing that they will win honors for their organization.

The tourney will be played off May 14 in the recreation room of the Women's Gym, starting at 7:30 p. m. Bridge and pinocle will be the two games played.

There will be five tables for a bridge. Two rubbers will be played. Losers at each table will be eliminated, and the winners will play the winners of another table.

Five tables will also be set up for pinocle. It will be played with single deck. Players at each table will play four hands. The process of elimination will be used here also.

Pairings for the tournament are: Chi Delta vs. Alpha Eta; Theta Xi vs. Alpha Kappa Alpha; Sigma Pi vs. Delta Sig; Sig Tau vs. Pi Kappa and IKE vs. Iu Sig.

The card tournament will follow the All-Greek picnic which is scheduled for 4 p. m. Thursday, May 14. The picnic is to be held at Crab Orchard Lake.

Students Work On SIEA Newsletter

Fourteen students of the journalism department of SIU are working on a newsletter for the Southern Illinois Editorial Association. The news is gathered from the various newspapers throughout Southern Illinois which are sent to the information service of the university. Dodd Larson of the Journalism department is in charge of the project and has divided the news into four categories.

"Just Between Us" is the first group that includes things that are of interest to the other editors of the area. Also in the newsletters are "Quick Quotes," "Oddities in the News," and "New or Different."

This is the second term that the journalism students have worked on this project.

Program Slated For Freshmen

Weekly assembly programs will be held beginning next fall at Southern Illinois University, and attendance will be required of freshmen, according to recommendations of a committee to supplement the work of the instructional departments.

The committee has asked for a minimum rescheduling of classes but, according to plans, there will not be any 10 a. m. classes next year. Since registration for 1011 classes has already begun, all 10 a. m. classes will be moved to 11 a. m. with following classes being held an hour later.

The program committee will enable the Faculty, Faculty Council, Student Council and other groups to meet at 10 a. m. The Fire Force Reserve Officers Training Corps will discuss one day a week at this hour starting at 10 a. m. staggered shift period system now used.

The three faculty members of the planning committee are Robert D. Famer, English department; Donald A. Ingham, education department; and C. Horton Taylor, Speech department. The Student Council will appoint three students to serve on this committee.

SIU To Have Government Club

A club for government majors and minors is in the process of being organized at SIU. A committee headed by Dr. Dewey McCann is to discuss formation of a constitution.

Students who attended the conference were: Bob Duffy, Jerry Anderson, Charles Joiner, E. H. Abrams, Jack Hagler, John DeJap, Stan Danielson, Bob Jackson, and Bill Lower.

Anyone interested in joining the club may contact the government department office.

Chandler To Work On Doctorate At Purdue

Robert E. Chandler, graduate assistant in the department of advanced and special education at SIU, has recently accepted the graduate school of Purdue university to work toward the doctorate, according to Dr. Charles H. Hickey, chairman of the department of guidance and special education.

Mr. Chandler, who will complete a major in guidance and counseling this summer at SIU, has been granted a half-time admission that will pay him $1500 and remission of fees.

Before entering the armed forces, Mr. Chandler graduated with honors from SIU.

FRANCES ANDERSON, student employee in the Registrar Center, Algood Hall, helps students through an intermediate step in their advance registration.

Our Opinions

One Hundred

One hundred is a dollar's worth of pennies. It's a Century note to some. It's ten times ten, or four times twenty five.

They will need this many students, at least, in order to provide the proper counselling for new students during their work of orientation before fall term.

But we did appreciate the attention we were given when we first came to Southern. We are sure that new students this fall will feel much the same as we did when we were freshmen. Can't we help them, as others helped us?

Salukis Slap Hurons For Double Victory In Big Doubleheader

Southern initiated their drive for success in IAC crown and the baseball season for Michigan Normal by beating the Hurons from Ypsilanti 14-2 and 5-2 here Friday.

The Salukis outlasted the men from the North in an icy, muddy two-hour double. The first game was decided at the end of the third inning for an hour as the rains splashed over the playing field. The second contest was a five inning affair played in a biting wind.

As southpaw Wayne Grandcolas stopped the Hurons with three hits in the top half of the twin bill. Lanky right-hander Darrell Thompson, with some Frank Merrivell help from Rupp Rippelmeyer in the fifth, put the skills under Michigan in the eighth.

Captain Stan Tomczak of Michigan and Centerfield Don Campbell of the Salukis hit popper balls in the first game. Tomczak's homer drove in both of Normal's runs. Campbell also had a triple in five times at bat.

Southern rightfielder, Verlan Zepotock had the biggest day with the stick, getting a double, two singles, two walks in four times at bat. He bled in one run and scored all for the Salukis.

Grandcolas helped his own cause in the first game slapping two singles in five trips to the plate and driving in four runs.

In the nightcap Rippelmeyer came to when the Hurons' big Belleglye right-hander loaded the bases with no one out. Rippel-

Baseball Jokers

By Don Primas

Year ago, back when John McGraw and his Giants ruled the top of the baseball roost, one of the star pitchers of the Giants was Luther Taylor. He won many hard games—in spite of the fact that he was deaf and dumb.

Just because he was deaf and dumb didn't prevent him from becoming an accomplished umpire-baiter. In one game he was pitching, it began to rain in the fourth inning, and it grew quite dark. The two teams huddled in their dugouts, but the umpire refused to call the game.

Suddenly, walking down the field from the centerfield gate, came "Dummm" Taylor, clad in high rubber boots, a fisherman's raincoat and hat. He was carrying an open umbrella in one hand, and a lighted lantern. Without much ceremony, the umpire called the game.

Most of the time, the reporter covering the spring training camp will content himself with acquiring the antics of a colorful rube; the come-back story of an aged veteran, and so on. But when he departs from the conventional, things may happen.

John McGraw and his New York

Baseball Jokers

Giants were holding spring training at Birmingham, Ala., many years ago, and the scribe assigned to the team concerned himself with writing about the strange habits and customs of the natives instead of the players.

McGraw was worried by the mayor that such journalistic things should cease, but McGraw told him to transport himself to Hades.

The Reporter continued to write his satirical stuff. And one day the mayor showed up with a squad of police and kicked McGraw and knocked him cold.

his team out of town. They were accompanied by the reporter.

Around the turn of the century, one of the most colorful umpires was Tim Hurst. On one occasion he called a close decision against a famous outfielder. The embittered player rushed at Tim and screech, "You're a blankety-blank crook!"

"Do you really think I'm that kind of a crook?" asked Tim sweetly.

"You're darn right I do!" snarled the player.

"Well, then," said Tim, "You better get off the field. You're too nice to be associated with the likes of me. Go on, git!" And when the mayor showed up with a squad of police and kicked McGraw and knocked him cold.

It's days like this that give an editor ulcers and drive him to drink. This looked like a good week for the sports page at first. We had a double header baseball game, a track meet, and golf and tennis matches scheduled. On a week like this you begin to worry if you'll have enough space to run all the stories. Then comes the blow. Everything cancelled except the baseball games. The crowning touch was—why they were cancelled. Snow! In April! It could only happen here.

The last time I lost a story was when the baseball game was rained out last week. Rain isn't so bad but when snow interferes it makes you want to give it all up as a bad job. You get the feeling that somehow you just can't win.

If the weather ever permits, Southern might get a very successful spring sports carnival under way. With the baseball wins and the track team one win and close defeat, things are looking good so far. Spring football is over now and there won't be much gridiron talk till next fall. Next football season should be an interesting one here.

If hard work pays off the SIU gridiron should go all on way.

The only contests that weren't had—weathered out this week were the two games with Michigan Normal. The baseball team showed their muddling ability in winning both games. It looked for a while like this was going to be another disappointment for Southern sports fans when the game was called in the third inning.

After the rain stopped they continued however and the second game was played in weather a lot more conducive to duck-hunting than baseball playing.

Some information that I've been asked to pass on to whoever is interested is that the "Chauteauau Charter" would like to have a sports edition. The "Charter" is a paper put out by the residents of Chauteauau housing project. They would like to run a sports column. Anyone interested should contact Mrs. Harry Lewis, apt. 2C. Mrs. Lewis is editor of the paper.

It has been brought to my attention that we haven't been giving the intramurals much coverage. This is going to change. I've got a man assigned to cover all intramural contests now. If you or your organization has any intramural sports news and no one does get the info from you send the news on up. We'll rewrite it for you and get it in if you'll just give us the basic facts and scores. While intramural sports might not seem to be as important as varsity contests they make just as good reading to those who are interested. I want to get in any athletic contest that takes place on this campus like a football game or a tiddly winks contest.

BASCOM-HARRISON FIGHT WILL BE TELEVIEWED

(AP)—St. Louis—Westbury Baseball of East St. Louis, Ill., and Tommy Harrison of Los Angeles, will meet in a nationally televised heavyweight match here April 25. Promoter Hans Bernstain, said the bout won't be seen on TV locally but will be carried in other cities on the ABC network.

In these days of the "All-American" classes, where athletes make a "C" average merely by enrolling in a course, people toss the term "good athlete" around with glib abandon. At many of the bigger universities, a sport hero is called a good athlete strictly on the strength of his performance on the athletic field. In many of said universities, an athlete can graduate with a B. S. without even cracking a sweat.

But it's not that way of Southern, and that fortune it isn't.

Here, an athlete is just like anybody else, and here to be called a good athlete, a man has to be pretty fair in all departments—hygiene, scholastics, and physical fitness.

This condition is looked upon by many as one that should be corrected. Some people ask how can a guy play his heart out in a game once or twice a week, practice three hours every day, and still be expected to keep up with his school work. He's asking too much they say. . . . show our athletes leniency, they say.

This school of thought preaches, whenever a case pops up there a football, basketball, track, or whatever you say is declared ineligible because of poor grades. "What our team could have done this year, if only Charley or Sam would have been eligible," is about what it sounds like.

At Southern, this case has come up time and time again. Several of our best athletes have had to sit out seasons because of penalties in the classroom. Many say that they were sold down the river; that if only Dr. So-And-So would have given the guy a break, they would have won a couple more football games.

Without mentioning any names, there have been five or six great athletes ineligible this year at Southern because their grade point averages were so high.

Let's see a couple of football, basketball, track, and yes, even golf. Lynn Holder had a fine golf team in the making this year, but lost a couple of real good boys because of grades. It's too much to ask, it's too much to take, and rough on the boys too. When this happens to some fellows, they give up in despair, and throw in the towel without any sense.

But looking at it from a standpoint of fairness, the pattern is the only one for a true center of learning to follow. After all, it is fair to the drum drummer, the debater, the actor, and the first tenor to GIVE a grade to an athlete. We all know it isn't.

Sure, sports are sports, and college wouldn't be any good withmeyer, forced Richards, Michigan Normal left-hander, to tap back to the mound starting a double play from Rippelmeyer to catcher Jack Chor to first baseman Larry Burns. Then the Valmeyer sophomore whiffed Tomczak for the third out and the victory.

One of the oddities of baseball showed up in the second game. The Salukis won the game on only one, a burst by Shortstop Jerry West in the fourth inning.

In that big fourth frame Southern beat 40 men to score 4 runs. Zepotock led off with a walk. Third baseman Wayne Williams sacrificed but was safe on a throwing error on Huron pitcher Earl Steinhard, who hadn't allowed a hit. Zepotock scoring and Williams going to second.

Bill Williams, a right-hander, then replaced lefty Steinhard on the mound for Michigan. West then dropped his/bunt down the third baseline but Larry McDonald's throw was late and Southern was on in first and third with no outs. Burns walked to fill the bases. Williams hit a wild streak and walked Chor and Thompson to score in two runs, giving the Maroon lead 6-1 and they always seem to score.

Southern theicer.

In the fifth Rippelmeyer came in to perform his fireman duties to preserve the win.

Tomczak was the top man on the totem pole for Normal batting in both runs with his homer in the

Northern Huskies Pitching Staff Said To Be Weak

If the Salukis have to face Northern in the IAC baseball tournament pitching of the Northerners should not be one of the big problems. In nine games opposing, Northerners have thumped Huskie hurlers for 80 runs on 97 hits and a 322 batting average. In addition 532 men have reached base with the walk.

The best hurler on the Huskie staff is Lou Bissel, Calumet City freshman. He has chalked up two wins so far and one loss. Bissel is a southpaw.

Northern's best hopes for an improved pitching staff are wrapped up in sophomore Billy Graham of Chicago Heights. Graham was slated to be the number one hurler before
