ISA To Become Major Campus Power--Floro

"ISA will be a major power on the SIU campus next year," said Gene Floro, ISA president, to the General Assembly of the Student Association, members who attended the meeting last Monday evening.

The statement by Pres. Floro put the cap on a meeting that was marked by future planning, thoughts of progress and a newfound enthusiasm that Floro thinks will soon stamp the ISA as an important campus organization.

Much of this enthusiasm can be attributed to the new ideas brought back from the National Convention in Austin, Texas. Members attending the convention were: Gene Floro, president; Marie Holfield, ISA sweetheart; Marvin Barker, treasurer; and Jan Fegley, Social Senate representative. Learned a Lot

"We learned a lot at the convention," said Marvin Barker, "but most of all we've come to realize that it should be ISA for the whole school, and not just for the benefit of ISA." Barker attended a discussion group on campus politics in Austin and said that the main reason considered was "to train generation leaders, and especially train freshmen as future leaders."

Jan Fegley participated in a discussion group that emphasized "helping the individual within the organization, and not just always being a service organization." Miss Fegley also picked up helpful ideas on social planning to prevent the lagging of winter activities.

In answer to suggestions made by ISA members through questionnaires, Floro announced that the following resolutions would be emphasized in the future of the organization: more rules and regulations, better leadership, with "follow-through" being the byword, and added enthusiasm. Floro continued his optimistic outlook toward the future of the group by stating that the 1956-57 ISA theme will be, "There'll be some changes made."

Committees Appointed

Committees were appointed to serve the remainder of the term and next year. They are: membership committee, chairman Jane Curry; publicity committee, chairman Bob Reed; and political committee, chairman Marvin Barker. "These people, according to Floro, 'know the ropes, and will help train the new members of the organization.'"

In other business discussed at the meeting, April 28 was set as ISA Weekday.

One of two themes will be chosen for the week-day. The choices according to Jan Fegley, are: "A day to further the understanding and progress of ISA" or "A day for the financial betterment of ISA."

Booth plans for the spring festival were also discussed at the meeting, and Bill Featherly was appointed chairman of the booth committee.

Music Under The Stars Features Lyric Soprano

By Warren Talley

"It happens every spring" and it is no exception. It's springtime again, and time for "Music Under The Stars."

This annual music festival, featuring outstanding vocalists, instrumentalists, and vocalists from throughout Southern Illinois, will be May 12 in MacAndrew Stadium.

Virginia Haskins, lyric soprano, will be the honored soloist on this year's program. Miss Haskins, who has won in every major U. S. city both in concert and with leading symphony orchestras, is a native of Southern Illinois.

The featured soloist, born in Centralia and once a resident of Zion, Illinois, has been seen and heard by radio and TV audiences around the nation. She has performed with the NBC-TV series, The Firestone Hour, and NBC Symphony, Muscular U.S.A., and has made a wide variety of other appearances.

On Broadway, Miss Haskins alternated in the leading role of Julie for the production "Carousel."

Floyd W. Wakeland, choral director at Southern, is the prime force behind the organization and success of the event. The entire festival, although planned and coordinated by Wakeland, is made successful by the efforts of the 73 music directors in elementary and high schools of Southern Illinois.

This year's extravaganza will gather over 3,000 amateur and professional musicians and performers. It will feature the massed elementary chorus and a massed high school chorus. The school 200-piece band will contain the best from 28 area high schools. The massed elementary band stars 200 selected musicians from 26 elementary bands.

One of last year's top entertainers, the school 200-piece band will return again this year. The band will play a symphonic number, and march famous "St. Louis Blues" music.

drill team besides its regular 100 piece playing group. The band has been in concert tours to coast to coast, and from Mexico to Canada.

Another high point of the festival will be the massed baton twirling exhibition, which will be organized and directed by Dick Michalek, a former major with the Purdue and Indiana Universities bands. Michalek teaches baton twirling full time in Southern Indiana, and also judges national baton twirling contests throughout the country. He teaches at many major dance studios with his wife in Bloomington, Ind.

The honored musician of the festival will be Austin Gibson, director of the high school orchestra in Vienna.

The "Indian Dance" which will be done by 32 area Boy Scouts in the form of a musical number, promises to be one of the most colorful events on the evening. Marion Harris of Chester, an active scout worker in this area for years, will direct the dance. A special feature may be added to the Indian Dance this year.

Melvin Seiner, director of music at Du Quoin Township High School, will direct the massed high school band this year. Seiner is a graduate of SIU and a member of the Southern Illinois Symphony.

The massed elementary band will be directed by Festus W. Paul, director of music at Sparta grade and high schools.

Belle Longhorns, vocal instructor in Junior High School and the School in West Frankfort, will direct the massed high school chorus. Belle Longhorns, a University of Illinois graduate, has directed bands, choruses and ensembles in both district and state music contests for years.

The massed elementary chorus will be led by Irene Watson, vocal supervisor of Marion Community. These selected bands and choruses will begin rehearsals on the morning of the 12th, and work the entire day in preparation for the night's final performance.

'Henry V' Plays At U. School

"Henry V" fumed award winning classic motion picture, starring Laurence Olivier and Robert Newton, will be presented April 23 at 6:30 and 8:50 p. m., in the University School Auditorium.

The technician motion picture captures the brilliance of Shakespeare's original play and transports the viewer from the live stage to the historic Battle of Agincourt.

Single admission price is fifty cents.

University and University School students will be charged only 40 cents plus their activity ticket.

The Saturday Review of Literature commented on the film.

"As Shakespeare wrote it, the Chronicle History of Henry the Fifth is an intensely masculine, simple, sanguine drama of kindred and war. Its more eloquent theme is a young king's coming of age. Once an endearing young Prince of Wales, Henry the Fifth at 28 had to prove his worthiness for the scepter by leading his army in war. He invaded France, England's long-time enemy."

"He captured Harfleur, then tried to withdraw his exhausted and nearly outnumbered army to Calais. The French confronted him at Agincourt. In one of Shakespeare's most stirring verbal sonnets, Henry urged his soldiers on to incredible victory."

There are many other moving scenes in the picture which include the death of Falstaff.

President Morris Speaks To Alumni Club

"The Growth of the University" was the topic of the speech presented by Pres. Delyte W. Morris at the inaugural meeting of the Madison County Alumni Club in Alton Thursday, April 12.

"There were 135 alumni present at the meeting," said J. W. King, field representative of the SIU alumni service. This attendance represents over 20 per cent of the total Madison County alumni, which is an exceptionally good turnout for the club's first meeting.

A club constitution was adopted at the meeting and the alumni officers were elected. The officers are: George T. Wilkins, president; Alvin Heimel, vice-president; Mrs. Art Berry, secretary; and James Casper, treasurer. Board members chosen were Dr. Robert Lewis, Richard Harrison, Glen Desson, and Robert Kiesel.

Other officers elected included: Gene Ensor, secretary-treasurer; Dave Rogers, sports chairman; and Clyde Beasley, representative to the Men's Residence Hall Council.

Following the election the hall's residents discussed plans for a picnic and a future inter-district softball game. A committee was appointed for the May-September festival.

VTI Woman Joins Fire Department

The Southern Acres Fire Department has admitted its first woman member, according to Joe Mayo, fire department chief. Mrs. Paul Loughey, whose husband is a drafting instructor at VTI, has been awarded a card reading "Honorary Member of the Southern Acres Fire Department."

Mrs. Loughey recently extinguished a grease fire in the stove of Mrs. James Oberg at the Southern Acres apartments with a foam-type fire extinguisher while visiting in the Oberg home. The only apparent damage done, according to Mrs. Mayo, was to the women's nerves.

Just a few weeks ago Mrs. Loughey extinguished a similar blaze in the apartment of Mrs. Homer Vowels, also of Southern Acres apartments. As a result of these two fire fighting experiences, Mrs. Loughey was awarded her membership in the fire department.

Today Last Day To Drop Courses

If you're planning to drop a course, this is the week to do it. No grade is recorded for courses dropped before the fourth week.

After the fourth week a grade is recorded and it becomes a permanent part of the student's record. These grades are included when computing grade averages.

A course is dropped only when a "program change" card, properly approved, is filed with the registrar. Any student who withdraws from a class (or from the University) without following the prescribed procedure will receive a grade of "W-E" in the course regardless of when the withdrawal occurs.

The high school seniors will begin arriving on campus this afternoon. They will take part in a full weekend of activities which are designed to acquaint them with SIU and its students.

"I would like to extend an invitation to all SIU students to join in the fun with the high school seniors," stated Jim McKinstry, publicity chairman for the weekend.

"In this way, by having college students joining in and mixing with the students, the seniors will have a better picture of what college is like. Several organized living groups are cooperating by keeping visitors in their houses during their stay."

Activities on the program for the high schoolers include a mixer, buffet supper, variety show, a tape recorded breakfast, campus department tours, meetings with academic advisors, swimming show, two dances and a banquet.

Representation No. 2

In Tuesday's issue of the Egyptian, the present system of representation was presented and defended. It's values and good points were brought out because of past known accomplishments. Today the topic is complete representation.

Does it have any values? Does it have any bad points? Student Council representation system Number Two is the plan for arbitrarily assigning seats based on the percentage of the entire student body a living group represents. If this plan was adopted, voting in an all-school election would be unnecessary. Each group simply would choose its own delegate to the Council.

Good point Number One is that each group on or off campus would be represented. According to present university figures, this is the suggested side for representation would give the off-campus housing groups six representatives, Men's Residence Halls, two; Women's Residence Halls, two; Greek housing, two; and married university housing, one. Also there would be one representative chosen from each class. These would have to be chosen in class elections.

The basis for this code is: 50 to 300 students, one representative; 300 to 700, two representatives; 700 to 1,500, three; 1,500 to 2,000, four; 2,000 to 3,000, five; and 3,000 up, six. This would supposedly give each group of students in SIU a representative to the Council. The fact that the proposal was even

Monster Stalks Campus Strange-Looking Apparatus Is Really A Tent

"Who are they doing with that umbrella? It isn't going to rain," "Will it fly?" These comments were made by SIU students Tuesday afternoon as they viewed the strange looking apparatus being worked on behind the Allin Building. What they were actually seeing was the experimental work being done on an "emergency tent" by Harold L. Cohen, associate professor of art, and his product-shelter students.

A shortage of sleeping quarters for the young people will be met at Little Grass Camp this summer is responsible for the emergency work being done by Cohen and his students. As a service to the department of recreation and outdoor education, the designed tent, similar in shape to an inverted 4 o'clock flower.

Umbrella Ventilates
The shelter being built by Cohen is made of rope and cotton fabric—with an old army umbrella being used as part of the ventilation system.

At present, the tent is still in the experimental stage, because it was "sewed together" incorrectly when first made. The tent will be tested tomorrow in an effort to clear up defects. The success of the tent will remain undetermined until these tests have been made. Speed is the byword in this de-

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

By Dick Sibley

"EYEKRAIM—HE WROTE HIS CRIBNOTES SO SMALL HE COULD HARDLY READ 'EM."

We Are Too Practical; Inner Life Is Important—Viereck

The importance of the inner life of the individual was the subject of a talk given by Peter Viereck, Pulitzer prize winning poet, in Woody Hall formal lounge Tuesday night.

Speaking privately, he asserted his belief in the private life against the conformity of "chrome-plated, cellophane-wrapped, gadget-minded" neighbors, as he described them.

This is the theme of a new book he is writing in which he will express his ideas of how to have a private life and still adjust to the external world.

"The complete man turns to the classics on the one hand and to religion on the other," he said. "It is high time and fortunate that we are beginning to turn inward."

"Because Americans are too practical, we are losing respect abroad," said Viereck, who recently spent some time abroad.

"We talk too much about material things and not enough about spirit. We are about such writers as Thoreau and less about our technical progress."

He expressed optimism about America's future cultural about. Besides being a poet, he is also a historian, having a doctor's degree in history from Harvard University. In the historical sense he described America's future.

Three Frontiers

"America has had three frontiers. The first was material, on the horizontal plane and symbolized by Daniel Boone. It ended with our expansion to the Pacific Ocean," he said. "The second was also material but on the vertical and was symbolized by Horatio Alger. It emphasized material gains. This period was ended by 1929 and Sinclair Lewis."

"The third frontier is in progress now and is cultural. It is symbolized by a turning inward for our values."

Speaking about most schools at present, he said, "Most curricula reflect the American Age where a premium is placed on the technical."

Sororities Plan Greek Week Sports Events

Sorority games during Greek Week (May 20-26) will climax a series of sporting activities for sorority women. Contests in softball will begin May 23 between various Greek women's houses.

Sorority volleyball games begin May 8, tennis May 11, and archery and swimming May 14.

Katherine Grauel is the chairman-in-charge of all Greek Week sporting activities for women. Other leaders include Judy Fanta, Peg O'Brien, Sissy Cunningham and Gale Gehls.

Geology Class Studies Glacial Deposits, Rocks

Glacial deposits and rocks of the Mississippi System were studied by the physical geology class Saturday on an earth science field trip. The trip was sponsored by the Illinois State Geological Survey. The group visited Redbud, Randolph and Monroe Counties.

Traffic Safety Workshop Held Wednesday

"The whole idea of the program is to get down to the local level in promoting traffic safety."

With these words Mrs. Roberta Roberson, a safety traffic coordinator, summarized the objective of an Illinois Traffic Workshop meeting which was held in the Library Auditorium, Wednesday from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Forty-five county officials, representatives, SIU faculty members and students were attracted to the workshop. Phil M. Brown, field coordinator of the traffic safety unit of the Illinois department of public safety, was in charge of the discussions.

Principal speakers for the day included: Mayor John J. Wright of Carbondale, Vernon Kuper, Illinois highway engineer; Sgt. Lendell Rockwell, head of the District 13 traffic division; Murphysboro county Judge Peyton Kuncade and "Pete" Peterson, Carbondale Police Chief.

Wright opened the assembly by welcoming Carbondale and out-of-town representatives to the workshop. Field Coordinator Brown followed the introduction up by explaining the basic functions of the traffic safety program.

Kuper then gave his resume' on various accident trends of Illinois counties. He remarked that Franklin County had one of the lowest accident and fatality rates of any county in this area, and called for the importance of complete accident reporting for accurate information.

Capt. Elza Brantley, head of District 11 and 13; Lt. Earl Pogue, of District 13, and Sgt. Rockwell then discussed in detail reports about local safety effort trends, and county and city traffic essentials.

Other featured speakers for the day were: Victor H. Honey, managerial assistant of the Carbondale News Citizen; and Howard Leininger, traffic safety coordinator.

The Carbondale program was a one in a series of 12 traffic safety workshops held throughout the state of Illinois.

Bridges Speaks At Home Bureau Meeting

Dr. Frank Bridges, assistant professor of health education, spoke to the Home Bureau Unit Leaders of White County in Carmi last Tuesday.

About 50 women were present to hear Bridges talk on the nationalities of first aid. He told how to control bleeding, how to treat burns, and what to do for shock.

"We had a very good discussion," Bridges said, "and it was very interesting to me."

The leaders will take the information back to their home units. Bridges said, and first aid will form the basis for several discussions.

13 H. S. Students To Get Science Scholarships

Thirteen high school students were chosen to receive scholarships at the Greater St. Louis Science Fair at Washington University Wednesday.

One of the scholarships to be awarded will be given by the SIU College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, according to Dr. Willard M. Gersbacher, a member of the Zoology department.

Dr. Gersbacher, the SIU representative at the science fair, said the scholarship winners will not be announced until a later date.

Representatives from 12 other schools also attended the exhibits, and each chose one student to receive a scholarship. The students were from Missouri and Southern Illinois high schools.

They were judged on the basis of exhibits which they displayed and on personal interviews.

Sponsored by the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, the science fair was held in the field house at Washington University.

Colleges and universities represented were: Culver-Stockton College, Fortbonne College, Illinois Wesleyan University, Lindenwood College, MacMurray College, St. Louis University, University of Missouri.

Missouri School of Mines, Washington University, Webster College, Connecticut Wesleyan University, William Woods College and Southern Illinois University.

Some time ago in a western city the air raid siren blared. The inhabitants thought it was just an other drill and ignored the warning.

"Later it was announced that five unidentified planes had crossed our radar screens and were headed inland," declared Dr. Young.

I Don't Care Attitude People Not Interested In Atom Bomb Attacks

No, no, I don't have time to save my life. The SIU Radiological Research department is attempting to change the mind of many individuals who hold this opinion.

A thirty-hour short course stressing the fundamentals of nuclear physics began April 10 in Parkington Laboratory under the direction of Dr. Otis Young, professor of physics.

The class is comprised mainly of high school teachers but any qualified person is eligible to enroll. The course originated at a September Radiological Defense Conference held in Urbana.

The objectives of the course are:

1. To gain and understanding of the fundamental concept of nuclear physics.
2. To become familiar with the types of nuclear explosions.
3. To learn about the biological effects of the atom.
4. To become acquainted with and learn to use the types of instruments required to detect and measure radio activity.
5. To learn how, and where to report the information regarding radiological hazards.

Young cited an example of what can be expected in case of an attack when people are not properly informed.

"Some time ago in a western city the air raid siren blared. The inhabitants thought it was just an other drill and ignored the warning."

"Later it was announced that five unidentified planes had crossed our radar screens and were headed inland," declared Dr. Young.

"Time in the Sun," a Mexican film, will be shown Sunday in the Library Auditorium at 6:30 and 8:45 p.m. The movie is one of the regular Sunday presentations by Southern's Film Society.

Tom Sunday's film is produced by Marie Senn, directed by Sergei Eisenstein and photographed by Edward Tisse for the unfinished "Que Viva Mexico."

The film is an attempt to reconstruct Eisenstein's projected epic of Mexico from a portion of the original footage.

The movie consists of four novels taken from a prologue and an epilogue. The prologue is about ancient Yucatan before the coming of the Conquistadors.

The first novel concerns Cortez and the settling of Spanish life on the dark, broad base of the old Indian culture. The second novel concerns the survival of the ancient monarchy of Tehuantepec.

The third is about brutality and exploitation, typical of feudal Mexico, in Corpus Christi.

The revolution (not filmed) covers the fourth novel. The epilogue is about the traditional festival of All Souls' Day.

Students are also invited to attend the morning sessions to be held in the Life Science building from 10:15 a. m. until noon. These meetings will be devoted to consideration of preliminary steps for an over-all curriculum in the communication fields from the intermediate grades through the freshman year in college, said Camp, who is secretary — treasurer of the Southern Illinois Association.

Apache Dancer Makes Various Appearances

Dressed in black from head to open pumps, "Man'selle Monique," SIU's first French-Apache dancer, appeared in Freshman assembly yesterday to solve the mystery of the "Red Garters."

Green-eyed and brown-haired, Helen Chapman, a freshman elementary education major from Clinton, said, "Look under your seats. If you have one of these red garters," she said pointing to the similar red garter on her left thigh, peaking through the slit on the side of her black skirt, "you have a free ticket to Hal McIntire's 'Symphonie du Printemps' Saturday, May 5 at 7:30 p.m. in Sharpock."

"Man'selle Monique" will appear throughout the month in assemblies and make other unannounced appearances to hand out red garters which entitle the holders to free tickets to "Symphonie du Printemps."

Illini Gain Revenge; Blast Salukis 15-2

The University of Illinois gained revenge for last year's defeat by the Salukis, as the Southern basebatters Wednesday by lambasting the Salukis 15-2 at Champaign.

Errors and wild pitching hurt the Salukis, as the Illini scored eight unearned runs. Southern committed four errors, and allowed three runs to score on wild pitches.

Ronnie Ayers was the losing pitcher for the Salukis, as he allowed 10 hits and 13 runs in 3 1-3 innings. Gordon Lambert relieved Ayers in the fourth and allowed five hits and two runs in his two inning stint. Don Gibbs then stopped the Illini cold the last 2-3 innings with no hits and no runs. In fact, Gibbs' pitching was just about the only bright spot in an otherwise dismal game for the Salukis. Wayne Williams was the only Saluki to collect two hits.

Ayers got off on the wrong foot in the first inning. Two singles, one double, a walk, two errors, and a wild pitch combined to give Illinois five runs. They scored one more in the second, five in the third, two in the fourth, and two in the sixth.

Southern's runs came in the third frame on hits by Tabacchi and Sasek, combined with an infield error on an attempted double play.

The game was played with the temperature in the 40's, with the fans huddled in their overcoats.

Sports Show In Progress

Carbondale's Armory is an outdoor wonderland indoors this weekend after the opening of the first annual sportsmen's show.

Response for the show has been so good that some prospective exhibitors have been turned down because of the lack of space. Sponsors of the show, the Physical Education Majors Club of SIU, say it is the largest display of outdoor equipment ever assembled in Southern Illinois.

Featured are demonstrations, movies, and the latest in boats, fishing tackle, outdoor motors, guns, and camping equipment. A live animal exhibit by the State Department of Conservation is one of the highlights.

Boat displays range from the very smallest to a $3,000 fiberglass boat. Fishing all over the world will be shown in the free color movie, "God's Country."

Among the demonstrations will be bait casting by 14-year-old Tommy Randle, who has given demonstrations in several sports, including a recent one in St. Louis.

The show will be open from 7 to 10 p. m. tonight and from 2:30 to 5 p. m. and 7 to 10 p. m. tomorrow. Admission prices are 25 cents for SIU students and 50 cents for adults. There will be no charge for grade school and high school students.

Trackmen Host Rolla Tomorrow

The SIU tracksters go into a dual meet with Rolla tomorrow. The SIU team is in several sports, including a recent one in St. Louis.

With hurdler Warren Wilkinson out for the season, Coach Lingling has been seeking replacements in the timbers, and he may have found it in Julian Dahneke. He ran the 200 yard low hurdles in 26.3 during a practice session this week. That time eclipses the winning time in the Western meet last week by .4 of a second.

Vernon Sprehe, Southern's top sprinter who is recuperating from a pulled muscle, will compete for the honors in the dashes. If Dick Fiskary sounds into shape, he looms as a strong threat in the 880 and mile.

Intramurals

By Charles Schleper

More than 20 teams have signed up now for softball competition in the Intramural League. Spring practice for the sport ends tomorrow as each club strives for physical fitness and perfection when the season opens Monday, April 23.

Shuffleboard games also commence Monday. Scheduled for league play, both in softball and shuffleboard, will be posted on the Intramural Board in the Men's Gymnasium on Friday of the week preceding the games.

Approximately 450 players—comprising 30 teams—dominated the intramural sport scene last spring which saw the Southerners, an independent loop entry, take the softball crown.

In 1954 some 360 college students played on 28 clubs while competing for the intramural trophy.

Glenn (Abe) Martin is director of the program, assisted by Bill Rupp, graduate assistant.

Sig Tau's Take Slim Lead In Hellenic Bowl

Sigma Tau Gamma moved into a slim lead in the Fraternity hall of the Hellenic Bowling League Wednesday. The race is still very close and could very well be decided next week when the Theta Xi and Sig Tau's meet in a very crucial battle. The Sig Tau's led by Jack Davis with 462 took four points from the Delta Sigma. Jo Ann Fransson was high for the girls with 326. Delta Zeta took 3 points from the Theta Xi quartet and by virtue of the win moved into the first place with Pi Kappa Sigma who drew a bye from the evening's action. Cis Cunningham sparked the girls with a 432 series while John Meckles had 501 for the fellows.

Delta Chi had their hopes dashed by Tau Kappa Epsilon. The Delta Chi's could back into the first place spot with the right combination of wins and losses by the front running teams. Don Cross led the Delta Chi with 495 as they took 3 points from Delta Sigma. Don Thomas had 410 for the losers.

Phi Kappa Tau stopped the Tri Sig's drive for first place in the Sorority half of the league by downing them for 4 points. Ron Dunsenberry led the boys with a 463 total while Marie Ann Wago had a 440 in a vain effort for the girls.

Then, to the delight of the fans, Hartwig and Trabert teamed up to take Segura and Gonzales in the doubles, 6-3, 3-6, 6-1. Trabert started out strong against Gonzales and kept on even terms until the seventh game of the first set, when Pancho broke Trabert's service and took a 4-3 advantage. He went on to win the first set, 6-4. In the second set, Gonzales broke Trabert's service in the first game and went on to win handily. The score was 6-4.

close match all the way, with the bow-legged pigeon-toed Segura finally losing out in the last game when he served a double-fault, and went on to lose five successive points and the match.

In the doubles event, Hartwig

Segura and Hartwig played a was outstanding as the youthful pair took the veterans without much trouble. Hartwig excelled at the net, and many times backed up to smash a lob across for a point. Gonzales' serve was just as good as it was supposed to be. Find his agility at covering the court tabbed him as the top player. Trabert's serve was nothing to sneer at, either, but he was considerably slower about than Gonzales. Segura was his two-hand forward drive, was the darling of the crowd. Often when he muffed a shot, he admonished himself with an audible "Pancho."
