Dillard voted mayor by 3-1 margin

By Catherine Edman and JoDe Rimar
Staff Writers

Neil Dillard was chosen Tuesday by voters to remain as mayor of Carbondale City Council for another four years — this time as its mayor.

Dillard took an early lead in the race for mayor and easily defeated his opponent Norvell Haynes 2,059 to 712.

Haynes said he was disappointed but didn’t intend to let it slow him down in his role as a community activist.

“You always want to win inside, but I don’t have bitter feelings. I’m not going to run away and hide,” said Haynes, 57, 1213 N. Wall St.

Haynes, who lost a bid for the council in 1985, spoke out against the convention center, the east-west couple and the railroad relocation. Dillard supported the same issues but was opposed to Haynes’ main stance — a new float of government for the city. The ward-alderman system would not work for Carbondale, Dillard said.

Serving on the council since 1981 has given Dillard the experience he said he needs to do a good job.

“I think I’ve served the city and the council real well as a member of the council and I’ll try to serve the city real well as mayor,” he said Tuesday night.

However, he said he was surprised to have won by close to a 3 to 1 margin. “I’m very appreciative of people who supported me in the campaign.”

The first meeting of the City Council including the members elected Tuesday is scheduled for April 20, when Dillard and the two new council members will be sworn in. One of the first items of business that Dillard plans to look at, said, is improving the relationship between the city and business developers.

Dillard, 58, 500 S. Oakland, has lived in Carbondale since the mid-1960s and works as assistant director of economic development at SIU-C.

Ward government rejected by voters despite legal threat

By Catherine Edman and JoDe Rimar
Staff Writers

Despite threat of a lawsuit against Carbondale, voters showed disapproval for a ward-alderman system by rejecting the measure 1,949 to 1,136.

The system, which would have taken the place of the at-large system now used to elect City Council members, would have divided Carbondale into seven wards chosen according to population.

The issue was brought to the forefront of the campaign when Dave Madlener, a council candidate in the primary election, and another candidate, Norvell Haynes filed a petition to place a referendum on the general election ballot.

Haynes said Tuesday night that there still is a strong possibility that a suit would be filed in the near future against Carbondale for violating citizens voting rights. He has said that although he would not bring suit against the city, he knew of others who were planning to do so if the referendum did not pass.

In a lawsuit against the city, lawyers would try to prove that minority groups’ votes are diluted at-large elections. In the ward-alderman system, one alderman would be elected from each of the seven wards into which the city would be divided.

The city would have to spend a lot of the taxpayers’ money defending the current system. Madlener said he still would support a lawsuit because he believes the ward-alderman system is the most fair.

See WARD, Page 3.

Simon says he will decide on presidency Thursday

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Freshman Sen. Paul Simon of Illinois said he will announce Thursday whether he will run for president amid reports Tuesday he has decided to seek the Democratic nomination.

Simon, who represented Southern Illinois in the House for 10 years before winning election to the Senate in 1984, refused to disclose his plans — See SIMON, Page 3.

Capie said.

A graduate of the University of Southern Illinois at Carbondale, Capie said.

Gus says the Russians are looking for a few good men.

Gus Bode

Gus Bode

Reagan halts move to embassy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan, seeking to respond to the escalating Marine sex-and-spy scandal, said Tuesday the United States will not move into its new embassy in Moscow and the Soviets will not occupy their new building in Washington until he is assured the U.S. building is secure.

Just two hours after the State Department lodged a formal protest with the Soviets over the “violation of sovereignty” at the U.S. Embassy, Reagan said the scandal involving Marine guards has revealed a deep breach in security at the most sensitive U.S. diplomatic post. He asked former Defense Secretary Melvin Laird to investigate.

While all the facts are not known, it is clear that security implications are widespread.

See EMBASSY, Page 3.

Five Americans sent home

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Five Americans were sent home Tuesday night. Geoff Riha, a sophomore at Carbondale High School, noticed the fire about 9 p.m. His mother, Barbara, reported it. The garage’s owner was not immediately known, and no damage estimates were available.

Marine sex-and-spy scandal, said Tuesday the United States will not move into its new embassy in Moscow and the Soviets will not occupy their new building in Washington until he is assured the U.S. building is secure.

Five Americans were sent home Tuesday night. Geff Riha, a sophomore at Carbondale High School, noticed the fire about 9 p.m. His mother, Barbara, reported it. The garage’s owner was not immediately known, and no damage estimates were available.

The system, which would have taken the place of the at-large system now used to elect City Council members, would have divided Carbondale into seven wards chosen according to population.

The issue was brought to the forefront of the campaign when Dave Madlener, a council candidate in the primary election, and another candidate, Norvell Haynes filed a petition to place a referendum on the general election ballot.

Haynes said Tuesday night that there still is a strong possibility that a suit would be filed in the near future against Carbondale for violating citizens voting rights. He has said that although he would not bring suit against the city, he knew of others who were planning to do so if the referendum did not pass.

In a lawsuit against the city, lawyers would try to prove that minority groups’ votes are diluted at-large elections. In the ward-alderman system, one alderman would be elected from each of the seven wards into which the city would be divided.

The city would have to spend a lot of the taxpayers’ money defending the current system. Madlener said he still would support a lawsuit because he believes the ward-alderman system is the most fair.

See WARD, Page 3.

Simon says he will decide on presidency Thursday

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Freshman Sen. Paul Simon of Illinois said he will announce Thursday whether he will run for president amid reports Tuesday he has decided to seek the Democratic nomination.

Simon, who represented Southern Illinois in the House for 10 years before winning election to the Senate in 1984, refused to disclose his plans — See SIMON, Page 3.

Capie said.

A graduate of the University of Southern Illinois at Carbondale, Capie said.

Gus says the Russians are looking for a few good men.

Gus Bode

Reagan halts move to embassy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan, seeking to respond to the escalating Marine sex-and-spy scandal, said Tuesday the United States will not move into its new embassy in Moscow and the Soviets will not occupy their new building in Washington until he is assured the U.S. building is secure.

Just two hours after the State Department lodged a formal protest with the Soviets over the “violation of sovereignty” at the U.S. Embassy, Reagan said the scandal involving Marine guards has revealed a deep breach in security at the most sensitive U.S. diplomatic post. He asked former Defense Secretary Melvin Laird to investigate.

While all the facts are not known, it is clear that security implications are widespread.

See EMBASSY, Page 3.

Five Americans were sent home Tuesday night. Geff Riha, a sophomore at Carbondale High School, noticed the fire about 9 p.m. His mother, Barbara, reported it. The garage’s owner was not immediately known, and no damage estimates were available.

The system, which would have taken the place of the at-large system now used to elect City Council members, would have divided Carbondale into seven wards chosen according to population.

The issue was brought to the forefront of the campaign when Dave Madlener, a council candidate in the primary election, and another candidate, Norvell Haynes filed a petition to place a referendum on the general election ballot.

Haynes said Tuesday night that there still is a strong possibility that a suit would be filed in the near future against Carbondale for violating citizens voting rights. He has said that although he would not bring suit against the city, he knew of others who were planning to do so if the referendum did not pass.

In a lawsuit against the city, lawyers would try to prove that minority groups’ votes are diluted at-large elections. In the ward-alderman system, one alderman would be elected from each of the seven wards into which the city would be divided.

The city would have to spend a lot of the taxpayers’ money defending the current system. Madlener said he still would support a lawsuit because he believes the ward-alderman system is the most fair.

See WARD, Page 3.

Simon says he will decide on presidency Thursday

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Freshman Sen. Paul Simon of Illinois said he will announce Thursday whether he will run for president amid reports Tuesday he has decided to seek the Democratic nomination.

Simon, who represented Southern Illinois in the House for 10 years before winning election to the Senate in 1984, refused to disclose his plans — See SIMON, Page 3.

Capie said.

A graduate of the University of Southern Illinois at Carbondale, Capie said.

Gus says the Russians are looking for a few good men.

Gus Bode

Reagan halts move to embassy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan, seeking to respond to the escalating Marine sex-and-spy scandal, said Tuesday the United States will not move into its new embassy in Moscow and the Soviets will not occupy their new building in Washington until he is assured the U.S. building is secure.

Just two hours after the State Department lodged a formal protest with the Soviets over the “violation of sovereignty” at the U.S. Embassy, Reagan said the scandal involving Marine guards has revealed a deep breach in security at the most sensitive U.S. diplomatic post. He asked former Defense Secretary Melvin Laird to investigate.

While all the facts are not known, it is clear that security implications are widespread.

See EMBASSY, Page 3.

Five Americans were sent home Tuesday night. Geff Riha, a sophomore at Carbondale High School, noticed the fire about 9 p.m. His mother, Barbara, reported it. The garage’s owner was not immediately known, and no damage estimates were available.

The system, which would have taken the place of the at-large system now used to elect City Council members, would have divided Carbondale into seven wards chosen according to population.

The issue was brought to the forefront of the campaign when Dave Madlener, a council candidate in the primary election, and another candidate, Norvell Haynes filed a petition to place a referendum on the general election ballot.

Haynes said Tuesday night that there still is a strong possibility that a suit would be filed in the near future against Carbondale for violating citizens voting rights. He has said that although he would not bring suit against the city, he knew of others who were planning to do so if the referendum did not pass.

In a lawsuit against the city, lawyers would try to prove that minority groups’ votes are diluted at-large elections. In the ward-alderman system, one alderman would be elected from each of the seven wards into which the city would be divided.

The city would have to spend a lot of the taxpayers’ money defending the current system. Madlener said he still would support a lawsuit because he believes the ward-alderman system is the most fair.

See WARD, Page 3.

Simon says he will decide on presidency Thursday

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Freshman Sen. Paul Simon of Illinois said he will announce Thursday whether he will run for president amid reports Tuesday he has decided to seek the Democratic nomination.

Simon, who represented Southern Illinois in the House for 10 years before winning election to the Senate in 1984, refused to disclose his plans — See SIMON, Page 3.

Capie said.

A graduate of the University of Southern Illinois at Carbondale, Capie said.
LOWEST PRICE IN TOWN!
(don't be fooled by percentage off coupons)
KOPIES & MORE
607 S. ILLINOIS AVENUE
529-5679
OPEN: Mon-Fri 8 a.m.-6 p.m., Sat 9 a.m.-4 p.m.
5 1/2¢
THESIS COPIES
Graduate School Approved 25% Rep-20 St. Bond
Auto Fed-Cash Only-This Coupon-Expires 5/9/87

NOW—1st Time Ever
TURN BROWN EYES BLUE or Green or Aqua
DuraSoft Colors
by Wesley J. Jensen
Have Brown eyes today—Blue eyes tonight—with the rage of the eye fashion world. New opaque contacts that will actually change the color of your eyes. Continous Care Program necessary at additional charge.
You Buy The 1st Color
2nd Color 1/2 Price
DAILY WEAR CONTACTS
PRESCRIPTION EYEGLASSES
From $19
From $49

761 A S. ILLINOIS
Carbondale 549-7841
Times Square Mall
Mt. Vernon 3099 Broadway
(618)244-2282
The Eye Doctors
Campus Shopping Center
222 W. Freeman
549-5326

Weisser
EYECARE
Trusted Since 1899

ALL RESERVE SEATING!
Air Cond., Washroom Equipped, Reclining Seats, Staged throughout Chicago & Suburb.
COMFORTABLE, DELUXE COACHES
EXPRESS BUS SERVICE TO CHICAGO & SUBURBS
ALSO KANKAKEE & CHAMPAIGN
EASTER WEEKEND
DEPARTURES
Thurs. 1:10pm, 4:10pm
Fri. 12:10pm, 4:10pm
RUNS EVERY WEEKEND
ONLY $43.75 ROUND TRIP

CHECK THIS COUPON VALUE
$4.00 off all tickets
EXPRESSES FRI., APRIL 10
STUDENT TRANSIT
715 S. University Ave., 529-1862
On the Island, upper level, see map above
Mon-Thurs 11am-5pm, Fri 10am-5pm
"Established Service You Can Depend On"

Newswrap
world/nation

Palestinian refugee camp freed from Amal Blockade
BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Syrian troops entered the Palestinians’ Shatila refugee camp Tuesday, ending a 5-month-old blockade by the Shiite Muslim Amal Militia that halted food supplies and pushed residents to the edge of starvation. Hundreds of women and children cheered the Syrians as their trucks rolled through the narrow alleys of the famine-stricken Shatila shantytown, home to an estimated 10,000 refugees. Sixty Syrian special-forces troops set up positions around the camp.

ID card links accused war criminal to SS
JERUSALEM (UPI) — An expert on Nazi documents testified Tuesday that an identification bearing the name, photograph and description of accused Nazi death camp guard John Demjanjuk does not match the einer’s head which is the key piece of evidence at the war crimes trial, identified the retired U.S. autoworker as a member of a special unit trained by the SS at the Travniki camp in Nazowitz, Poland. Demjanjuk’s attorney said the card was a Soviet-made forgery.

Pope urges stand against injustice, violence
MENDOZA, Argentina (UPI) — Pope John Paul II warned Tuesday that Latin American political conflicts open the door to demagogy and urged Christians to take a strong stand against injustices that breed violence. The pope made a strong appeal for regional and world peace during a stopover in the Andean mountain-side city of Mendoza, near where Chile and Argentina erected a mammoth statue of Jesus in 1904 vowing not to war against each other until the Andes crumpled.

Iraq claims halted new Iranian offensive
ATHENS, Greece (UPI) — Iran said its troops launched a new offensive against Iraqi positions in southern Iraq early Tuesday. Iraq claimed its forces halted the invasion force and sent it into retreat. In an offensive code-named “Karbalah-4,” state-run Tehran radio said the Iranians pushed forward from 125 miles to defensive positions outside Basra, Iran’s second-largest city, the Iraqi forces repelled the two Iraqi counterattacks, the radio said.

CIA says no drug smugglers funded Contras
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The CIA vehemently denied Tuesday that the spy agency financed the Nicaraguan republic’s effort to train and arm drug smugglers and called the reports fairy tales that are “beyond contempt.” The music and entertainment magazine Spin and the CBS program “West 57th Street” reported Monday that drug traffickers were recruited to run guns to the rebel Contras and then flew drugs back to the United States un molested by federal authorities.

Texaco requests relief from $12 billion bond
WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (UPI) — Texaco Inc., warning it faces “imminent financial collapse and bankruptcy” if required to post a $12 billion bond in its legal battle with Pennzoil Co., Tuesday asked the Texas Court of Appeals for relief from putting up the full security. The oil giant acted after the U.S. Supreme Court ruled Monday that a New York federal district court should not have excused Texaco from posting the bond. Texaco is appealing a damage award, which now stands at $10.3 billion, won by Pennzol in a dispute over the acquisition of Getty Oil Co.

Church to decide on Bakker resignation
DUNN, N.C. (UPI) — An Assemblies of God inquiry board met under a secrecy “mandate” Tuesday to decide whether to accept the resignation of television evangelist Jim Bakker or rule him unfit to be a minister. Bakker and his right-hand man, the Rev. Richard Dortch, submitted their resignations to the charismatic Assemblies of God church March 19, the day Bakker admitted him extramarital sexual encounter seven years ago and resigned from his PTL empire.

Safety board to study N.Y. bridge collapse
FONDA, N.Y. (UPI) — The National Transportation Safety Board began an independent investigation Tuesday into the New York Thruway bridge collapse, while heavy rain slowed the search for more victims of the disaster. Three bodies had been recovered and at least four people — including three utility workers returning from a bowling tournament in Syracuse — were missing because of the Sunday collapse that sent cars and trucks plunging 80 feet into the rain-well Schoharie Creek.

Daily Egyptian
(USPS 16226)
Published daily in the Journalism and Egyptian Laboratory Monday through Friday during regular semesters and Tuesday through Friday during summer term by Southern Illinois University, Communications Building, Carbondale, 116290. Second class postage paid at Carbondale, Ill.
Editorial and business offices located in Communications Building, North Wing, Phone 565-2111, W. Marion Field, chief office.
Subscription rates are $4.25 per year or $25 for six months within the United States and $10.00 per year or $5.00 for six months in all foreign countries.
Postmaster: Send change of address to Daily Egyptian, Southern Illinois University, Communications Building, Carbondale, Ill. 62901.
Morris, Mills coast to wins in race for City Council seats

By Catherine Edman and JoDe Rimar
Staff Writers

With only six votes separating them, Richard Morris and John Mills were elected to the two available Carbondale City Council seats. Morris received the most votes, 1,923, but Mills came in a close second with 1,817.

Morris and Mills took early leads over Christine Wright, who received 604 votes, and Harris Rubin, who received 706 votes, and each of the winning candidates had more votes than the other two candidates combined. Morris, 45, 604 Skyline Drive, said winning "feels great."

He was very honest throughout his campaign, he said, and did not change his stance on the issues.

"I worked very hard to win, but I was really surprised at the outcome," Morris said. "I was very pleased."

Morris is manager of the Carbondale Job Service and sits on many local, regional and national groups and committees. He said he would bring this experience to the council.

Mills, 38, 608 N. Oakland, is chairman of the Liquor Advisory Board.

His said his experience there has helped him understand the mechanics of city government.

Mills’ plan for Carbondale includes smoothing out the governmental processes for businesses entering the Carbondale market.

The ward-alderman referendum, which was defeated in the election, did not receive the support of either candidate.

Morris said it was for the best that the voters expressed dissatisfaction with the system. "I feel the alderman system is the best form of government. But for Carbondale — no."

E TURNED his attention to the board and that additional quick action is required to prevent further damage to our national security," she said.

Appearing on short notice in the White House briefing room, the president said Secretary of State George Shultz would go forward with his April 13-16 trip to the Soviet capital for talks with Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard Shevardnadze, despite concerns about the security of communications between Moscow and Washington.

"I don't think it's good for us to be run out of town," Reagan said in response to questions about why he did not insist the meeting be held in a different location.

Reagan also said he has told Shultz to bring the security matter up during his talks with the Soviets.

Revelations about the scandal arose last month when two Marines who had been guards at the U.S. Embassy in Moscow were charged with espionage. The Marines were said to have had sexual affairs with Soviet women and later allowed the KGB agents to roam the embassy building numerous times in 1985 and 1986.

Officials have said the Soviet spies had access to the most sensitive areas of the embassy and much of the secure communications equipment and coding were compromised.

In a statement, the president said:

"I am not going to say what it is. See you there," he told one questioner in a Capitol hallway.

A Chicago newspaper columnist and NBC News said Tuesday Simon will run. He initially said he was out of the race after 1985 election.

SIMON, from Page 1

"I'm not going to say what it is. See you there," he told one questioner in a Capitol hallway.

A Chicago newspaper columnist and NBC News said Tuesday Simon will run. He initially said he was out of the race after 1985 election.

Simon supporters in Southern Illinois, following a weekend meeting with him, said Monday they believed he will run.

Confidants say some labor leaders, the education community, some congressional colleagues and Democrats who want a mainline liberal in the race have urged Simon to run. After Bumpers dropped out, a Simon staff worker used vacation time to go to Iowa to check on the sentiment of labor leaders.

EMBASSY, from Page 1

"Two weeks ago when the severity of the situation became clear, I ordered a meeting of all national security advisers and ordered Frank Carlucci to immediately begin an internal assessment of the damage."

"The United States will not occupy our new embassy building in Moscow unless and until I can be assured that it is safe to move into a secure embassy environment," he said. "Likewise, the Soviet Union will not be allowed to occupy their new facility in Washington until a simultaneous move by both nations is possible."

"The U.S.-Soviet agreement, we can move both to new embassies in each other's capitals, neither side can move into its embassy office building without the other doing likewise. "This general outline is that they will not move into their chancery building until we are allowed to move into ours," State Department spokeswoman Phyllis Oakley said Monday.

The United States and the Soviet Union have been building new embassies in each other's capitals for several years. Last year, lawmakers complained about the State Department permitting the Soviets to build their new post on the highest lot of land in Washington, giving the Soviets direct line of sight to many of the capital's key buildings.

WARD, from Page 1

referredendum was voted down, Madlener said Tuesday night, "but the voters have spoken and it's obvious they're opposed to the ward-alderman system."

M-yor-elect Neil Dillard, who did not support changing the system, said he was pleased the referendum "went down."

"The city can't afford a lawsuit," he said, "but the voters weren't deterred by it and I, as allowing both to construct new embassies in each other's capitals, neither side can move into its embassy office building without the other doing likewise. "This general outline is that they will not move into their chancery building until we are allowed to move into ours," State Department spokeswoman Phyllis Oakley said Monday.

The United States and the Soviet Union have been building new embassies in each other's capitals for several years. Last year, lawmakers complained about the State Department permitting the Soviets to build their new post on the highest plot of land in Washington, giving the Soviets direct line of sight to many of the capital's key buildings.

THE 2% PLAN

HOW THE ADMINISTRATION PROPOSES TO INCREASE FACULTY SALARIES AND IMPROVE ACADEMIC PROGRAMS AT SIUC

"I think you should be more explicit here in step two."

"Two weeks ago when the severity of the situation became clear, I ordered a meeting of all national security advisers and ordered Frank Carlucci to immediately begin an internal assessment of the damage."

"The United States will not occupy our new embassy building in Moscow unless and until I can be assured that it is safe to move into a secure embassy environment," he said. "Likewise, the Soviet Union will not be allowed to occupy their new facility in Washington until a simultaneous move by both nations is possible."

"The U.S.-Soviet agreement, we can move both to new embassies in each other's capitals, neither side can move into its embassy office building without the other doing likewise. "This general outline is that they will not move into their chancery building until we are allowed to move into ours," State Department spokeswoman Phyllis Oakley said Monday.

The United States and the Soviet Union have been building new embassies in each other's capitals for several years. Last year, lawmakers complained about the State Department permitting the Soviets to build their new post on the highest plot of land in Washington, giving the Soviets direct line of sight to many of the capital's key buildings.

THE 2% PLAN

HOW THE ADMINISTRATION PROPOSES TO INCREASE FACULTY SALARIES AND IMPROVE ACADEMIC PROGRAMS AT SIUC

"I think you should be more explicit here in step two."

"Two weeks ago when the severity of the situation became clear, I ordered a meeting of all national security advisers and ordered Frank Carlucci to immediately begin an internal assessment of the damage."

"The United States will not occupy our new embassy building in Moscow unless and until I can be assured that it is safe to move into a secure embassy environment," he said. "Likewise, the Soviet Union will not be allowed to occupy their new facility in Washington until a simultaneous move by both nations is possible."

"The U.S.-Soviet agreement, we can move both to new embassies in each other's capitals, neither side can move into its embassy office building without the other doing likewise. "This general outline is that they will not move into their chancery building until we are allowed to move into ours," State Department spokeswoman Phyllis Oakley said Monday.

The United States and the Soviet Union have been building new embassies in each other's capitals for several years. Last year, lawmakers complained about the State Department permitting the Soviets to build their new post on the highest plot of land in Washington, giving the Soviets direct line of sight to many of the capital's key buildings.

THE 2% PLAN

HOW THE ADMINISTRATION PROPOSES TO INCREASE FACULTY SALARIES AND IMPROVE ACADEMIC PROGRAMS AT SIUC

"I think you should be more explicit here in step two."
Killing bonus points raises discontent

ON MONDAY, THE State Universitites Civil Service Merit Board eliminated civil service bonus points. We think this decision ends an unfair reward system.

Under the bonus system, points were awarded to civil service employees on the basis of years clocked in — rather than on skill, performance or seniority. Although it did address concerns of another employment minority — women, blacks, youths and immigrants — it was unfair because it arbitrarily gave points to long-term employees on the basis of experience.

Bad workers should not be rewarded on the basis of experience. It is also unfair to reward those who have remained isolated within their own little enclaves. Such an attitude can only be a hindrance to creativity and learning.

Some international students on this campus are expressing a feeling of alienation and displacement. Some claim they have not been able to fit in because the lifestyle here is radically different from that at home. This is true and one can understand their predicament.

However, there are other students who have made little or no attempt to benefit from their new culture for fear of being rejected. The refusal (whether it is because of negative experiences or because of their inability to blend into the culture) forces these students to remain isolated within their own little enclaves. Such an attitude can only be a hindrance to creativity and learning.

In reply to the questions asked by Ernest Brown, I sincerely believe that it is not we Americans who isolated ourselves from you, it is simply that some Americans are too proud to hang around to learn from you. People have the idea that we who come from the Third World countries are not worthy to be seen with you. People have the idea that we who come from the Third World countries are not worthy to be seen with you.

Furthermore, it is true that more than half of the foreigners at SIU-C have good G.P.A.s, but not all. I know of almost 50 foreign students who had G.P.A.s below two. If you believe we think ourselves smarter than you, then answer my question: Why should we travel a few thousand miles to learn new knowledge and ideas from Americans? The money you send us here comes from our parents' pockets. Does $17,000 a year sound like a lot to you? That's not all. Do you know that we are not allowed to work outside of the country?

Letters

Foreign students often alienated

Some international students on this campus are expressing a feeling of alienation and displacement. Some claim they have not been able to fit in because the lifestyle here is radically different from that at home. This is true and one can understand their predicament.

However, there are other students who have made little or no attempt to benefit from their new culture for fear of being rejected. The refusal (whether it is because of negative experiences or because of their inability to blend into the culture) forces these students to remain isolated within their own little enclaves. Such an attitude can only be a hindrance to creativity and learning.

In reply to the questions asked by Ernest Brown, I sincerely believe that it is not we Americans who isolated ourselves from you, it is simply that some Americans are too proud to hang around to learn from you. People have the idea that we who come from the Third World countries are not worthy to be seen with you. People have the idea that we who come from the Third World countries are not worthy to be seen with you.

Furthermore, it is true that more than half of the foreigners at SIU-C have good G.P.A.s, but not all. I know of almost 50 foreign students who had G.P.A.s below two. If you believe we think ourselves smarter than you, then answer my question: Why should we travel a few thousand miles to learn new knowledge and ideas from Americans? The money you send us here comes from our parents' pockets. Does $17,000 a year sound like a lot to you? That's not all. Do you know that we are not allowed to work outside of the country?

About racism: Please try to be friendly to your own fellow black Americans before trying to judge us. I'm sure you can find a few black Americans who deserve better treatment from the University than the blacks are American too. If you've solved the discrimination against black Americans, then you've the right to judge us. —Ngatman Wongso, Junior, marketing.

Bigotry, narrowness displayed in letter

I was very surprised to learn that the foreign students on this campus are so terribly "isolated." Since I enrolled here last year, I have had the pleasure of becoming acquainted with may good people from Asia, Africa, Latin America and Europe. I am sure that they are equally surprised to hear about our isolation.

I would like to respectfully submit to Mr. Ernest Brown that the problem lies with your rather transparently bigoted attitude. Does the sound of a foreign language bother you? Why don't you try learning one? A university is supposed to broaden a person's horizons.

G.P.A.s, but not all. I know of almost 50 foreign students who had G.P.A.s below two. If you believe we think ourselves smarter than you, then answer my question: Why should we travel a few thousand miles to learn new knowledge and ideas from Americans? The money you send us here comes from our parents' pockets. Does $17,000 a year sound like a lot to you? That's not all. Do you know that we are not allowed to work outside of the country?

About racism: Please try to be friendly to your own fellow black Americans before trying to judge us. I'm sure you can find a few black Americans who deserve better treatment from the University than the blacks are American too. If you've solved the discrimination against black Americans, then you've the right to judge us. —Ngatman Wongso, Junior, marketing.

Bigotry, narrowness displayed in letter

I was very surprised to learn that the foreign students on this campus are so terribly "isolated." Since I enrolled here last year, I have had the pleasure of becoming acquainted with may good people from Asia, Africa, Latin America and Europe. I am sure that they are equally surprised to hear about our isolation.

I would like to respectfully submit to Mr. Ernest Brown that the problem lies with your rather transparently bigoted attitude. Does the sound of a foreign language bother you? Why don't you try learning one? A university is supposed to broaden a person's horizons.

G.P.A.s, but not all. I know of almost 50 foreign students who had G.P.A.s below two. If you believe we think ourselves smarter than you, then answer my question: Why should we travel a few thousand miles to learn new knowledge and ideas from Americans? The money you send us here comes from our parents' pockets. Does $17,000 a year sound like a lot to you? That's not all. Do you know that we are not allowed to work outside of the country?
The applications and nominations of potential candidates for SIU-'s being reviewed by the candidate search advisory committee, which will be narrowed down to about 25 on April 16, Lawrence Dennis, director of the presidential search at SIU, said.

Dennis, a professor in educational administration, said the 18-member committee has not yet seen the nominations and applications, which will be reviewed by the search firm of Heidrick and Struggles Inc. of Chicago. The committee will see the nominations and applications at the April 16 meeting and discuss with the firm who they think is most qualified, Dennis said.

APPROVAL OF the candidate recommendations from the search committee and firm must come from Chancellor Lawrence Pettit. Though the final list of nominations and applications, any committee member may look for information on the candidates to get more information about their background. Also, the committee also is not limited to making a recommendation for a candidate that the firm has proposed, he said.

Of the candidates, 25 had submitted applications and 97 were nominated by friends and associates. Heidrick and Struggles is getting background reviews of the candidates, who are being reviewed by the committee and Pettit, said Bill Bowen, director of the SIU-C presidential search committee, which is working with Heidrick and Struggles.

THE POOL of candidates also has been increased from recruiting activities by the firm, which identifies potential candidates around the country, Bowen said.

The firm is being paid $75,000 plus expenses in the search, Dennis said. It has not been determined what the president's salary will be, Pettit said.

Pettit said he hopes to announce his choice for president to the Board of Trustees at its July meeting.

During the first screening, the firm and committee will look over candidates' resumes and vitae and eliminate those who do not meet the qualifications, Dennis said. The second cut, which could be toward the end of May, will narrow the search to 10 candidates and the final stage of the search will present a choice of three candidates, Dennis said.

SOMETIMES IN the summer an on-campus interview will be held for the final 10 candidates to discuss their qualifications and address questions from students, faculty and staff. Students, faculty and staff will be able to give their opinions of the candidates through written responses, Dennis said.

Many faculty members are not teaching during the summer but Dennis said he hopes it will be possible for them to come to the on-campus interviews.

The search committee lists the qualifications for president as "a person of significant academic achievement with administrative and managerial experience and extensive leadership skills, including the ability to communicate and interact effectively with a wide constituency groups in and outside the University."

THE SEARCH committee is made up of a broad campus representation, including the Undergraduate Student Organization, the Graduate and Professional Student Council, the Faculty Senate, and faculty members representing various departments, Dennis said.

"They are people who know the University well and have interests in a first concern," he said.

Dennis said he has heard rumors that the chancellor has already determined who will be president despite the search, and says they are false.

"The University is doing its level best to get the most qualified person for the job, I'm absolutely convinced that the committee will get the determined set of candidates at all," he said.

Heidrick and Struggles met with the search committee and the chancellor in January in which to define those qualifications, Bowen said. Since the qualification description is not clear-cut, determining what assets are the most important is a matter of judgement between the committee and search firm, Dennis said. Attributes such as educational accomplishments vs. managerial skills and demonstration of commitment to affirmative action will be debated as candidates are interviewed and the search is narrowed, he said.

Acting President John Guynor is among the candidates and Dennis said there are advantages and disadvantages for inside candidates because committee members know their faults and their strengths.

Washington trails early; win expected

CHICAGO (UPI) - Early returns gave City Councilman Ed Vrdolyak a lead in Tuesday's mayoral election.

Vrdolyak was reporting, 255,511 votes, or 51.7 percent to 208,778, or 43.4 percent. Republican Donald Debaters M. Scott Parsons, fourth in 1985 and in the national championship last year, won expected.

Of the city's West and South sides.

Yet, with 53 percent of the vote, appears to have won the most votes.

Early returns gave City Councilman Ed Vrdolyak a lead in Tuesday's mayoral election.

Vrdolyak was reporting, 255,511 votes, or 51.7 percent to 208,778, or 43.4 percent. Republican Donald Debaters M. Scott Parsons, fourth in 1985 and in the national championship last year, won expected.

Of the city's West and South sides.

Yet, with 53 percent of the vote, appears to have won the most votes.
Staff Photo by James Quigg

A group of anti-nuclear protesters fell to the ground after Civil Defense sirens sounded during a monthly test.

‘Die-in’ staged to protest nuclear weapons policies

By Tom Whelehan
Staff Writer

Shouts of “No more war!” and “No Star Wars!” filled the Free Forum Area Tuesday morning but were quickly drowned out by the scream of air raid sirens as people fell to the ground in “death.”

The demonstration, sponsored by the Mid-America Peace Project, was one of the activities presented for Peace Week, a program designed to create public awareness of the building of nuclear armaments.

At 9:30 a.m., people began filling the Free Forum Area to listen to speeches from protest organizers. Speakers included Jim Frost, MAPP president, Tim Larson, president of “People Living the Dream,” and Cass VanDermeer, member of the Southern Illinois Latin America Solidarity Committee.

When the sirens went off at 10 a.m., the participants pointed skyward to imaginary missiles, screamed and fell to the ground. “Chalkers” outlined the bodies on the ground for others to see after the event ended.

The purpose of the event? “To make people think,” said Christie Brooks, freshman in journalism and MAPP member.

“Today we are protesting violence,” VanDermeer said in her speech. “Every day we should protest violence.”

According to Larson, Reagan’s proposed “Star Wars” missile defense shield is illegal under the rules of the 1972 Anti-Ballistic Missile Treaty between the United States and the Soviet Union. Larson said Reagan has ignored the ABM treaty and prefers to interpret it his way. “You interpret songs and movies,” Larson said, “not treaties.”

By the end of this year, 240 million children will die from dehydration due to lack of clean drinking water,” Frost said. “We should not spend money on nuclear weapons but on housing, food and education for the poor.”

Other events for Peace Week include a Coffee-Condo Wednesday in the Student Center that will feature poetry readings and music. Thursday, a concert will be held in the Free Forum Area and the movie “Dark Circle” will be shown. Later this month, a march and rally will be organized for a trip to Washington, D.C., to protest apartheid, U.S. involvement in Central America and nuclear weapons.

New Jersey Supreme Court OKs hearing Baby M case

TRENTON, N.J. (UPI) - The New Jersey Supreme Court agreed Tuesday to hear the landmark Baby M custody case directly, expediting it by waiving the usual review by a lower appeals court.

The court set Sept. 14 as the date for oral arguments, and on Friday will conduct a telephone conference call to determine whether surrogate mother Mary Beth Whitehead should be allowed to visit her daughter during the appeal process.

Harold Cassidy, Whitehead’s chief lawyer, had filed papers Monday asking for a stay of last week’s trial court order that cuts off Whitehead’s visitation rights and all legal connection to the baby girl.

Cassidy also asked the state’s highest court to take the case immediately because of the important issues it raises and because it “ultimately involves the status of a child.”

“We are pleased that, within one week, we have gone from a matrimonial judge in Bergen County direct to the best court in the country,” Cassidy said, referring to Superior Court Judge Harvey Sorkow, the Bergen County family court judge who rendered last week’s ruling.

Vail Apartments...
The Change You’ve Needed.
Completely Remodeled & 2 Bedrooms

ALL
• Windows
• Appliances
• Corner of
NEW • Carpet
• Furniture
• Wall & College

Next Fall
Come to Vail
487-3821

USO to suggest alternative to increased bar entry age

An alternative to the proposed ordinance that will require everyone entering a bar to be 21-years-old is among legislation scheduled for tonight’s Undergraduate Student Organization student senate meeting.

The resolution, drafted by College of Science Sen. Chuck Hagerman, proposes that the City of Carbondale distribute nametags of underaging drinkers violators to local bars, which would suspend anyone on the list from entry for three months.

If anyone on the list is found on the premises during their suspension, the bar owner would pay a fine and be subject to a liquor license revocation. It also calls for heavier fines than are now imposed when first-time offenders are caught.

Other legislation for tonight’s meeting include a resolution that recognizes problematic situations at Morris Library and a bill to give Registered Student Organization status to the Cypriot Students Association.

The library resolution supports severe punishment for the destruction of books and journals. It also supports an increase of the library’s endowment fund because the library’s budget has forced cuts in book-binding, book ordering and subscriptions.

MOVIES

AT KERAPOTES THEATRES

LIBERTY
684-0272
Murphysboro, Allo Secs 1
A Nightmare
on Elm Street: 7:00

SANUKI
549-6422
Bourgier (Ph)
5:15/7:15
Crimes of the Heart (R)
5:30/7:30

FOX Eastgate 457-5685

Blind Date (PG)
5:00/7:00
Horsemen (PG)
4:45/7:15
Crocodile Dundee (PG)
5:30/7:30

VARSIY
457-6100

Tim Men (R)
4:15/7:00
Angel Heart (R)
4:45/7:15
Police Academy 4: (PG)
5:30/7:30

21+ ALL SHOWS BEFORE 6 PM. DINE

MICHAEL J. FOX

There’s no such thing as an overnight success.

Brantley Foster took two weeks.

THE SECRET OF MY SUCCESS

© 1987 Twentieth Century Fox Film Corporation

- A KASTAR PRODUCTION - HERBERT Ross - THE SECRET OF MY SUCCESS - HILLER STEINER - RICHARD JORDAN - NARDIETI NESTHAWIT

SCREENPLAY BY JIM CASH & JACE EPPS, JR., N.J. - AL CARROTTI

STARRING BY MARY WARD STONE & AL CARROTTI & HOPE DAVID STOUTE

NARRATOR BY MICHAEL J. FOX

ORIGINAL MUSIC BY HERBERT Ross & UNIVERSAL MUSIC

- OPENS APRIL 10TH -
Corporation mum on cardboard craft design

By Lori Rea
Student Writer

The Polymer Boat Division of General Kinetics Corp. is keeping quiet about the specifics of its top-secret project. The corporation has high expectations for the project and is confident of its success.

"The corporation has declared secrecy as being important," said William Brower, executive officer of the corporation.

The project is known to be made of cardboard. It's being designed to be the Great Cardboard Boat Regatta during SUU-C's annual Student Celebration.

General Kinetics, which actually is a group of General Dynamics Corp., has been keeping quiet about the project.

"We can't tell you what it will be," Brower said, "but I can tell you what it won't be. It won't be nuclear-powered."

"It's organized in such a way that everybody does their share, we hope," Brower said.

The group has decided to totally redesign its boat this year, despite the success of the boat designed and built by engineering students last year.

"The group has been reading the reports on the development of last year's boat quite intently," Brower said.

Asked whether he thought the new design would be successful, Brower replied, "Well, we won last year, so..."

The pilot is very important, Brower said, adding that Lynn Irons, pilot of last year's championship boat, is a candidate for the driver's seat this year.

Irons, 1986 Illinois state roadcycling champion, is considered a "good, but chancy, candidate for the job." Irons, a recent master's graduate in materials engineering, is looking for a job.

Last year, the championship boat was one of three designed in the engineering course. This year, the class is designing just one boat.

"The numbers game does come into play, there's safety in numbers," Brower said. "But I think the boat will probably be good."

State imports coal despite high output

By David A. Cowan
Student Writer

Illinois imports about half of its coal from other states, despite its ranking as the nation's fifth-leading coal producer, experts say.

According to SUU-C's Coal Resource Research Center, 56.3 million tons of coal were sent into Illinois during 1984, of which two-thirds was imported from other states. At the same time, Illinois consumed 40 million tons of coal, of which 25 million tons were produced, resulting in an importation of about half the total coal consumed.

Almost all of the imported coal is consumed in Northern Illinois. Wyoming is the primary producer of the imported coal, said David Ayey, assistant director of the coal center.

"The coal imported into the state is low-sulfur coal, which means that the coal is low in sulfur content, resulting in small concentrations of sulfur dioxide precursors being emitted into the atmosphere," Ayey said.

Sulfur dioxide precursors are air pollutant particles that are sent into the atmosphere by smokestacks and contribute to the formation of acid rain, Ayey said.

"The majority of coal burned in Illinois is for electrical generation," he said.

Arey, assistant director of the coal center, said Brower, associate professor in the College of Engineering who teaches the course, "Materials Selection for Design," is building the boat as one of its class projects, said Brower, associate professor in the College of Engineering who teaches the course.

"It will probably look nothing like last year's boat," Brower said, referring to the engineering boat that won four major races last year, including the SUU-C Regatta.

"It operates on some different principles than last year's boat," Brower said. "I can't tell you what it will be, but I can tell you what it won't be. It won't be nuclear-powered. They considered a submarine design, but that's out, and hydropilots are definitely out - cardboard doesn't seem to be strong enough."

The Polymer Boats Division of General Kinetics, a name that closely resembles the Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics Corp., has been structured with divisions like those of a large corporation.

The Manufacturing, Research and Development, Finance and Documentation divisions must work together to produce the boat, Brower said.

"It's organized in such a way that everybody does their share, we hope," Brower said.

The group has decided to totally redesign its boat this year, despite the success of the boat designed and built by engineering students last year.

"The group has been reading the reports on the development of last year's boat quite intently," Brower said.

Asked whether he thought the new design would be successful, Brower replied, "Well, we won last year, so..."

The pilot is very important, Brower said, adding that Lynn Irons, pilot of last year's championship boat, is a candidate for the driver's seat this year.

Irons, 1986 Illinois state roadcycling champion, is considered a "good, but chancy, candidate for the job." Irons, a recent master's graduate in materials engineering, is looking for a job.

Last year, the championship boat was one of three designed in the engineering course. This year, the class is designing just one boat.

"The numbers game does come into play, there's safety in numbers," Brower said. "But I think the boat will probably be good."

Classical guitarist sets senior recital

A piano concerto concert sponsored by Steven Barwick will be held at 8 tonight in Shryock Auditorium.

Works by Mozart, Beethoven, George Gershwin, Ravel and Tchaikovsky will be performed.

Pianists Walter Bragg, Donna Haney Hildali, Kimberly Maney, Tina Meier and Nga Huean Ong will be assisted by Kevin Doyle, Nor Hayati Hjfalat, Lynn Stroom and Sung Soon Yoon.

Admission is free.

THIS DEAL IS SO BIG, WE CAN'T KEEP THE LID ON IT.

Domingo's Pizza Delivers Free.

WEDNESDAY'S 12 INCH PEPPERONI DOUBLE CHEESE PIZZA SPECIAL JUST $5 (No Limit)

JUST ASK FOR WEDNESDAY'S SPECIAL. DELIVERED IN 30 MINUTES OR LESS. GUARANTEED.

No substitutions please. No coupon necessary. Offer good only on Wednesdays. © 1986 Domínico's Pizza, Inc. Limited delivery area. Our drivers carry less than $20.00. No other coupons accepted.

NOW, FREE COKE. ™ Get 2 free 16 oz. packer cups of Coke with any 16" pizza. Additional cups of Coke only 25¢ each. No Coupon Required.

437-6776

10
defects -10
Oscar gold flows into nation's movie houses

Cost Cutter Specials!

MEAT
Kroger Wieners
12-OZ. PKG.
129

FANCY MIChIGAN RED ROME OR A "Lr" Red Delicious Apples
6-LB. BAG
268

NEW CROP CALIFORNIA
Driscolls Strawberries
QUART
198

HALVES OR QUARTERS
Red Ripe Watermelon
LB.
29

PATTERNED
Surf Detergent
147-OZ. BOX
599

RITZ
Frito Lay Ruffles
6½-OZ. BAG
99

DINNER

Sausage or Pepperoni
Thin Crust Pizza
12-inch
5.50

Deli Bagels
6-Ct.
1.19

GO SALUKIS!
Deaf cast performs ‘Annie’ with sign language

By Dave Wrone
Staff Writer

The Traveling Hands Theater Troupe performed “Annie” Monday at the Student Center. Produced by the Chicago-based Center on Deafness, the troupe featured a cast of deaf and partially deaf actors who used sign language in correlation with spoken dialogue.

Dr. Patricia Scherer, Center president, said about two-thirds of the troupe’s cast was totally or partially deaf. The partially deaf members spoke their own lines, but the totally deaf — among them the actors who played Daddy Warbucks and Miss Hannigan — attempted to mouth their lines in sync with an offstage voice.

Scherer said the Traveling Hands tours Illinois every spring, performing a different play with a different cast each year. “We usually put on a musical,” she said. “We want to help them (the deaf) appreciate the arts.”

Performing in a play without being able to hear is an inherent ability, Scherer said. “It’s like someone who can really play the piano well. They have to pick up on little clues.”

On the average, 20 percent of the troupe’s audience is hearing impaired, Scherer said.

The troupe numbers 18 people, ranging in age from 7 to the mid-30s. Scherer said all of them are fluent in sign language. Her two granddaughters, aged 7 and 8, have been cast members since their pre-kindergarten days. Both have known sign language since they were 3.

Scherer established the Center on Deafness in 1973 because she “wanted to set up a program in the community that offered deaf people a cultural outlet that no one else did,” she said.

In addition to offering deaf people exposure to the performing arts, the Center on Deafness also has established a home for the emotionally disturbed deaf.

The Traveling Hands Theater Troupe recently graduated Marlee Matlin, who won a Best Actress Oscar at this year’s Academy Awards because she “wanted to set up a program in the community that offered deaf people a cultural outlet that no one else did,” she said.

Please Give Blood

April 8-10th, 1987

When I needed blood, it was there for me.

Please give blood for those in need.

Blood Drive Hours:
Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, & Friday
10:30am-4:30pm
Wednesday 12:30pm-6:30pm
Student Center Ballrooms,
2nd floor

Drawing for SEARS Men or Women’s 12-Speed Bicycle.
(Courtesy of Sears) will be Friday at 4:30pm.
King memorial highlights civil rights, racial equality

By Tracy Barton
Staff Writer

Concerns for common humanity, peace, justice, racial equality and education were the highlights of a memorial tribute to Dr. Martin Luther King, who was assassinated April 4, 1968.

Several speeches remembering Dr. King and supporting human and civil rights, racial equality and education were presented Tuesday in the Morris Library auditorium.

"WE'RE HERE to remember him and what his principles were, but how many of us knew what he stood for? How many in this room can feel civil rights in their hand?" asked James Davis Jr., chairman of the Black Affairs Council.

Davis said the people at the tribute had at least one thing in common with Dr. King: knowing the difference between right and wrong.

"It gives me great pleasure to know that different organizations on this campus can come together and unite, disregarding race and religion," Oneyewuchu said.

DONALD SMITH, senior in administration of justice, roused the audience with his statements.

People suffer because they dare to tell the truth, Smith said. Not only Dr. King, he said, but Malcolm X and Mohammar Khadafi, who they tried to "bomb out of his boot," because they dared to tell the truth about the American government's involvement in terrorist activities.

Reagan is a "master of deceit," Smith said. "The No. 1 enemy of freedom, justice, and equality around the world is the U.S. government. It's not Russia, it's not the Palestinians, it's not Botha, it is the U.S. government," Smith said.

"WHEN THE Botha regime killed black men, women and children on a consistent daily basis, what is the President's response to those acts of terror? Now, you tell me - who is the real terrorist?" he said.

Dr. King paid a price for us, he said. "If one is not for or against the oppressed, one is on the side of the enemy, said Smith.

Luke Tripp, professor in special work, also spoke at the memorial service.

"We need a global vision and a human orientation. We need to challenge the values of our society. We need to look at the world rather than values fostered by Wall Street," Tripp said.

Dr. King anticipated his death, he said. He tried to love and serve humanity - he leaves a committed life behind, Tripp said.

Word Processing Student Discount Prices:
95¢ per page
Bring 2 papers, get an extra 30¢ off each page.
(between 5 & 11 pm)

Kurt: 549-5974

Chains of Love
Lunch Special (11-2)
Sweet & Sour Chicken $2.75

Includes: Soup, eggroll, fried rice, & fortune cookie.

Pleasant Hill Rd., 1/11 S. of SIU on Rte 61 King's Wok

THE GOLD MINE
$1 OFF

Limit 1 per person

Medium or Large Pizza - In-house or Delivery

FREE 1-32 oz. Coke with delivery of small or medium pizza
2-32 oz Cokes with Large pizza

529-4138 or 529-4130

Miss Eboness, Gina Nelson, dances during a Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. memorial service Tuesday at Morris Library.

Staff Photo by Scott Olson
Committee saves 3 defense systems

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The House Armed Services Committee rescued the Navy's newest missile weapon Tuesday, after keeping its budget hopes alive for a rail-based MX missile and scaled back the size of a cut in the "Star Wars" program.

The actions, taken in a rare open "mark-up" of the 1988 defense budget, are not final and could be challenged on the House floor. But the committee has not yet started on its version of the President's Pentagon budget.

Although President Reagan asked for some $312 billion in defense spending, enough to cover inflation plus 3 percent, the House panel set its target at $304 billion.

Soviet maneuvers target U.S.

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The Soviet Union has deployed five nuclear-powered attack submarines to the western Atlantic Ocean for an exercise simulating a wartime slab at two major U.S. East Coast Navy ports, the Pentagon said Tuesday.

The submarines were spread over a wide area of the Atlantic, east of Bermuda and were under constant surveillance. They are the first Orion submarine hunting aircraft from Iceland, Bermuda, the U.S. East Coast and Canada, and U.S. and NATO destroyers and frigates, the officials said.

"They're making a big footprint," one official said of the Soviet sub dispersion.

The exercises are the biggest maneuvers since a halt dozen Soviet attack subs operated in the western part of the Atlantic in the summer of 1985, the Pentagon said. At least some of the submarines are Victor III class boats, the Navy's new nuclear-tipped torpedos.

Despite the unusual nature of the Soviet submarine activity, Moscow occasionally has ordered an increased presence of both missile and attack subs closer to U.S. shores. Attack submarines do not carry nuclear-armed ballistic missiles.

"Although this Soviet submarine deployment is not routine, Atlantic Command and NATO forces are maintaining surveillance of the activity and there is currently no increased threat to U.S. interests or territory," the Pentagon said in a rare public statement about activities that generally are kept secret.

Charges possible against owner of killer pit bulls

DAYTON, Ohio (UPI) - Police considered charges Tuesday against the owner of two pit bull terriers that killed a retired Veterans Administration hospital chief surgeon in a 25-minute attack that horrified neighbors could not stop.

Witnesses said about nine people tried to subdue the dogs with poles, pipes and brooms. The animals mauled Dr. William Eckman, 67, as he left his home in suburban Kettering Monday.

Joetta Darmstadtter, 32, who police said owned the dogs, along with another man, was injured and listed in fair condition at Good Samaritan Hospital.

Today's Puzzle

Puzzle answers are on page 20.

ACROSS
1. Pier
2. Commotion
9. "Off"
10. Be uncertain
15. The best
16. "Off-the-man"....
17. Cooling
18. Soviet city
19. Irritated
20. Sixsone
21. Wealth
24. Norse diet
25. Coining to a point
27. Motherly
29. Family gal
30. All right angles
33. Glenn
35. Inferior
36. Block
37. Neck growth
40. Scale
41. Relative
43. French again
45. Relish
46. Monetary unit
47. On the beach
48. Responded
51. Pronounced
52. Quebec
53. Modern
54. Sited
59. Toward the center of
61. Vestment
64. Anticipation
65. "About"
66. "Can"
68. Hope

DOWN
2. Goddess
6. Boy in
28. Boston
29. Hard wood
34. Overall
35. "Off-the-
36. In the past
37. Tobacco
38. Erasure
38. Chinese VIP
40. "Why"
42. "For a reason"
43. "Role" for a
44. "Religion" for a
45. "Religion" for a
46. "Reason for a"
48. "Reason for a"
50. "Response for a"
51. "Reason for a"
52. "Response for a"
53. "Response for a"
54. "Response for a"
55. "Response for a"
56. "Response for a"
57. Source of
58. "Source of"
59. "Source of"
60. "Source of"
62. Into the
63. "Add"
64. "Cleanse"
65. "Hope"
66. "Boil in"
67. "Boil in"
68. "Boil in"

SOMMER JOBS
$2,100-up for summer
A.M.I. Has Summer Jobs
In Following Illinois Counties

Alexander - Franklin
Bono - Gallatin
Calhoun - Greene
Clay - Hamilton
Clinton - Hardin
Douglas - Jackson
Effingham - Jasper
Fayette - Johnson
Monroe - St Clair

INTERVIEWING ONE DAY ONLY- THURSDAY, APRIL 9, 1987
APPLY IN PERSON AT ILLINOIS ROOM
STUDENT CENTER-S.I.U.
INTERVIEWS WILL BE CONDUCTED AT 10:00, 11:00,
12:00, 1:00, 2:00, 3:00, 4:00
INTERVIEWS WILL LAST 30 TO 40 MINUTES
(Interviews are informal)
A.M.I., 30 N. Market St., Marion, IL 62959

NEWSPAPER
Daily Egyptian, April 14, 1987

Page 12
IRA backers battle police in second day of protests

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI) — Masked supporters of the Irish Republican Army attacked police with firebombs and grenades and torched buses and cars Tuesday night to protest a clash between police and mourners at the funeral of a slain guerrilla.

A sniper shot and seriously wounded a British Army soldier in the IRA stronghold of West Belfast, and gunmen hijacked cars and set them ablaze.

In the mostly Roman Catholic city of Londonderry, 85 miles northwest of Belfast, IRA supporters stoned police and parked a van loaded with time bombs in front of a police station. Police discovered the van and army bomb experts worked to defuse the explosives.

In Belfast, IRA supporters raked a joint army-police station with bullets before speeding away, hurled gasoline bombs at police patrols and threw homemade grenades at a police-army patrol in an armored car.

Besides the soldier, no serious injuries were reported Tuesday night. Flights from Belfast's Aldergrove Airport were delayed after a van loaded with suspicious beer kegs—often used to hide explosives —was abandoned nearby.

"I'd say people are getting pretty restless," a police source said. "We found 15 gallons of petrol, bottles and masks in West Belfast — the materials that can proceed serious riots."

The violence was triggered by a battle between police and mourners Tuesday at the funeral for IRA member Laurence Marley, 41, that forced his family to postpone his burial for a second straight day.

About 1,000 mourners hurrying bricks and other objects were met by baton charges from part of the 1,000-member police contingent around the home of relatives of Marley, who was slain by Protestant gunmen last week.

The relatives quickly hauled Marley's coffin back into a house after marching 30 yards and said the funeral should not go ahead until police withdrew.

A policewoman struck by a spade and two mourners, blood streaming from their heads, were injured at the funeral, but none seriously, police and witnesses said. Police reported several arrests.

At the same time, some 50 bomb hoaxes spread across Belfast.

30 bodies found in British ferry

ZEERUGGE, Belgium (UPI) — A flotilla of salvage vessels and an army helicopter searched for bodies on a ferry that sank last week.

A Belgian salvage official, who asked not to be named, told United Press International that salvagers reported seeing "about 30" bodies as they worked to right the vessel. Hours later, Belgian radio and Dutch television reported "some 30 bodies" were recovered, placed in plastic bags or aluminum caskets and taken to a makeshift morgue at a navy base.

The figure could not be independently confirmed. Officials said no information will be released until a briefing today.

Divers using arc lamps searched the ferry, capped March 6 with more than 500 people aboard, for the scores of bodies still on the wreck, which had been estimated to number between 75 and 130. Sixty-one bodies were recovered after the accident.

Officials said the divers would work in relays through the night, weather permitting.

As the 7,000-ton, 435-foot vessel was lifted virtually upright by giant cranes and tug barges, the ferry displayed for the first time some of the external damage it suffered when it keeled over on a run from Zeerugge to Dover.

Parts of it remained submerged in 30 feet of water and divers began searching the ship only after toxicologists conducted a survey and determined it was safe for them to enter.

Salvage experts had feared the cargoes of chemical tank trucks may have spilled when the vessel capsized. But after the survey they gave the go-ahead for the search to begin on the vessel.

Japan endorses measures to improve ailing economy

TOKYO (UPI) Prime Minister Yasuhiro Nakasone's party Tuesday endorsed a $34.5 billion package of measures to stimulate Japan's economy, saying, "there is an urgent need to reduce the country's trade surplus."

Under protest from the United States, the Liberal Democratic Party adopted the package shortly before Finance Minister Kiichi Miyazawa flew to Washington for key financial talks with Japan's major allies, which have been urging Tokyo to spur domestic growth.

The measures outlined by the ruling party — estimated by a leading member to be worth $8.5 billion — called for a substantial boost in public works projects and a "drastic large-scale supplementary budget."

The measures must be approved by Nakasone's government and placed by parliament in the national budget. Details of the measures were expected to be approved before Nakasone travels to the United States April 29. With the high yen hurting exports, the government has been under increasing pressure to find ways to reduce Japan's reliance on export-led growth and boost both domestic demand and imports.

Tuesday, the dollar fell to its second postwar low in a week on the Tokyo foreign exchange market.
SLICED FREE, TENDERLEAN
Rib Half Pork Loin 1.00 lb.

CALIFORNIA, TENDER
Asparagus Spears .99 lb.

FINE QUALITY QUARTERS
Imperial Margarine .37 lb.

DIET PEPSI, PEPSI FREE, DR. PEPPER
Pepsi Cola 2.99
12 pack
12 oz.

PRICES GOOD THRU SAT. APRIL 11TH 1987. RIGHT TO LIMIT. NO SALES TO DEALER.
Classifieds

Automotive

1972 FORD FAIRLANE TOWN. Runs and looks good. $250-350
4-87 02464-3212
1981 DODGE CHALLENGER. PS, PB, AM-FM radio. Excellent condition. $450
4-87 02464-3212
1982 DODGE CHALLENGER. PS, PB, AM-FM radio. Excellent condition. $450
4-87 02464-3212
1984 DODGE CHALLENGER. PS, PB, AM-FM radio. Excellent condition. $450
4-87 02464-3212
1964 DODGE DPIA. PS, PB, AM-FM radio. Excellent condition. $450
4-87 02464-3212
1980 DODGE DAKOTA. PS, PB, AM-FM radio. Excellent condition. $450
4-87 02464-3212
1981 DODGE DAKOTA. PS, PB, AM-FM radio. Excellent condition. $450
4-87 02464-3212
1982 DODGE DAKOTA. PS, PB, AM-FM radio. Excellent condition. $450
4-87 02464-3212
1983 DODGE DAKOTA. PS, PB, AM-FM radio. Excellent condition. $450
4-87 02464-3212
1984 DODGE DAKOTA. PS, PB, AM-FM radio. Excellent condition. $450
4-87 02464-3212
1985 DODGE DAKOTA. PS, PB, AM-FM radio. Excellent condition. $450
4-87 02464-3212
1986 DODGE DAKOTA. PS, PB, AM-FM radio. Excellent condition. $450
4-87 02464-3212
1987 DODGE DAKOTA. PS, PB, AM-FM radio. Excellent condition. $450
4-87 02464-3212
1988 DODGE DAKOTA. PS, PB, AM-FM radio. Excellent condition. $450
4-87 02464-3212
1989 DODGE DAKOTA. PS, PB, AM-FM radio. Excellent condition. $450
4-87 02464-3212
1990 DODGE DAKOTA. PS, PB, AM-FM radio. Excellent condition. $450
4-87 02464-3212
1991 DODGE DAKOTA. PS, PB, AM-FM radio. Excellent condition. $450
4-87 02464-3212
1992 DODGE DAKOTA. PS, PB, AM-FM radio. Excellent condition. $450
4-87 02464-3212
1993 DODGE DAKOTA. PS, PB, AM-FM radio. Excellent condition. $450
4-87 02464-3212
1994 DODGE DAKOTA. PS, PB, AM-FM radio. Excellent condition. $450
4-87 02464-3212
1995 DODGE DAKOTA. PS, PB, AM-FM radio. Excellent condition. $450
4-87 02464-3212
1996 DODGE DAKOTA. PS, PB, AM-FM radio. Excellent condition. $450
4-87 02464-3212
1997 DODGE DAKOTA. PS, PB, AM-FM radio. Excellent condition. $450
4-87 02464-3 Classic Car Care

Complete Wash & Wax Special
Car Wash Special

1200 March St. SPECIAL! Only $80.00
329-3814
14-87

EXHAUSTS 4's into T's $7.80 each
1995 and up. 547-2201
205 Washington

EXHAUSTS 4's into T's $7.80 each
1995 and up. 547-2201
205 Washington

EXHAUSTS 4's into T's $7.80 each
1995 and up. 547-2201
205 Washington

EXHAUSTS 4's into T's $7.80 each
1995 and up. 547-2201
205 Washington

EXHAUSTS 4's into T's $7.80 each
1995 and up. 547-2201
205 Washington

EXHAUSTS 4's into T's $7.80 each
1995 and up. 547-2201
205 Washington

EXHAUSTS 4's into T's $7.80 each
1995 and up. 547-2201
205 Washington

EXHAUSTS 4's into T's $7.80 each
1995 and up. 547-2201
205 Washington

Classifieds

10% off

Parts & Labor

(Excluding air conditioning units. Not good with any other coupon)

Radiator And Auto Center

529-171 Open Saturdays

Expires 5/11/87

Summer SUBURBS No.1 for 2 Wheeler and Motorcycle camping and conveniences.

4-87 0457-6495

Bicycles

LUGGAGE SUPER TOUR. 15 speed. Black 26 inch frame. New tires. Good condition. $50
4-87 0457-6495

BICYCLE 1: $99.95. BICYCLE 2: $129.95. Call 457-3636
4-87 0457-6495

BICYCLE 1: $99.95. BICYCLE 2: $129.95. Call 457-3636
4-87 0457-6495

BICYCLE 1: $99.95. BICYCLE 2: $129.95. Call 457-3636
4-87 0457-6495

BICYCLE 1: $99.95. BICYCLE 2: $129.95. Call 457-3636
4-87 0457-6495

BICYCLE 1: $99.95. BICYCLE 2: $129.95. Call 457-3636
4-87 0457-6495

BICYCLE 1: $99.95. BICYCLE 2: $129.95. Call 457-3636
4-87 0457-6495

BICYCLE 1: $99.95. BICYCLE 2: $129.95. Call 457-3636
4-87 0457-6495

BICYCLE 1: $99.95. BICYCLE 2: $129.95. Call 457-3636
4-87 0457-6495

BICYCLE 1: $99.95. BICYCLE 2: $129.95. Call 457-3636
4-87 0457-6495

BICYCLE 1: $99.95. BICYCLE 2: $129.95. Call 457-3636
4-87 0457-6495

BICYCLE 1: $99.95. BICYCLE 2: $129.95. Call 457-3636
4-87 0457-6495
GIANT STEP UP IN MOBILE HOME LIVING
and 3 Bedroom at 910 E. Park
You'll love:
- Great new location
- Storage building
- Lighted parking

2 and 3 Bedroom Furnished
- Nicely Furnished
- Large Energy Saving
- Underpinned
- New Laminate Floors
- Near Quiet I CIMM setting
- Near Campus
- Sony NoP... Accepted
- For rent...
- Ph. 457.5266
- Unltdy Hlst
- Mon.-Fri. 9-5
- Sat. 10-2
- Warren Rd.

ROOMS

49085

Do not hallucinate.

ROOMS

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.

2 BDRMS. NEEDED, please see above.
PERSON WITH EXPERIENCE working on chain link (fencing) to help with reservations, with experience in Ornament and Garden Center and CF Nursery. Must have some previous plant sales experience. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.

PERSONNEL NEEDED for summer use. AC colonies. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.

PERSONNEL NEEDED for summer use. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.

PERSONNEL NEEDED for summer use. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.

PERSONNEL NEEDED for summer use. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.

PERSONNEL NEEDED for summer use. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.

PERSONNEL NEEDED for summer use. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.

PERSONNEL NEEDED for summer use. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.

PERSONNEL NEEDED for summer use. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.

PERSONNEL NEEDED for summer use. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.

PERSONNEL NEEDED for summer use. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.

PERSONNEL NEEDED for summer use. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.

PERSONNEL NEEDED for summer use. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.

PERSONNEL NEEDED for summer use. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.

PERSONNEL NEEDED for summer use. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.

PERSONNEL NEEDED for summer use. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.

PERSONNEL NEEDED for summer use. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.

PERSONNEL NEEDED for summer use. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.

PERSONNEL NEEDED for summer use. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.

PERSONNEL NEEDED for summer use. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.

PERSONNEL NEEDED for summer use. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.

PERSONNEL NEEDED for summer use. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.

PERSONNEL NEEDED for summer use. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.

PERSONNEL NEEDED for summer use. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.

PERSONNEL NEEDED for summer use. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.

PERSONNEL NEEDED for summer use. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.

PERSONNEL NEEDED for summer use. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.

PERSONNEL NEEDED for summer use. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.

PERSONNEL NEEDED for summer use. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.

PERSONNEL NEEDED for summer use. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.

PERSONNEL NEEDED for summer use. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.

PERSONNEL NEEDED for summer use. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.

PERSONNEL NEEDED for summer use. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.

PERSONNEL NEEDED for summer use. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.

PERSONNEL NEEDED for summer use. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.

PERSONNEL NEEDED for summer use. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.

PERSONNEL NEEDED for summer use. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.

PERSONNEL NEEDED for summer use. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.

PERSONNEL NEEDED for summer use. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.

PERSONNEL NEEDED for summer use. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.

PERSONNEL NEEDED for summer use. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.

PERSONNEL NEEDED for summer use. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.

PERSONNEL NEEDED for summer use. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.

PERSONNEL NEEDED for summer use. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.

PERSONNEL NEEDED for summer use. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.

PERSONNEL NEEDED for summer use. A+ Landscape, 202-683-0100 x 14.
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Three American guards arrested in the Moscow Embassy’s sex-for-secrets investigation last year from the brig because of insufficient evidence were released on Monday by the Marine Corps announced Tuesday.

The same time, the Pentagon announced that about half of the entire 28 Marine contingent assigned to the U.S. Embassy in the Soviet Union was to be transferred to Frankfurt, West Germany, for unspecified reasons and questioned by investigators. For reasons, there will be new travel orders and the turnover should be completed by April 15, the Pentagon said.

Staff Sgt. Robert Stufflebeam, 27, a native of Mobile, Alabama, was ordered released Monday from the brig at the Marine base at Quantico, Virginia, at a telephone magistrate, Maj. Ronald McNeil, but was ordered retained for the installation, the Marines and Pentagon spokesman Robert Sims said.

Stufflebeam, the deputy commander of the Marine contingent from May 1985 until May 1986, was arrested April 1 at the Marine base at Twentynine Palms, Calif., as a "possible security risk" in the sex-and-spy investigation because of alleged unauthorized contacts with a Soviet woman and his failure to report those contacts.

He was released from the brig Tuesday because the magistrate found "insufficient justification to continue the confinement pending a trial," a Marine spokesman said.

But Stufflebeam was restricted to Quantico to be available for additional questioning and "is still considered a suspect," Sims said. He said it is normal procedure for a magistrate to release a suspect if he believes the individual does not intend to flee or try to commit suicide.

The sergeant will be allowed to receive visitors, make telephone calls, eat in the base mess and use the dispensary, Sims said.

Stufflebeam could be rearrested if the investigation yields new information, the Marine spokesman said.

Stufflebeam’s service in Moscow overlaps the stay there of Sgt. Clayton Lonetree, 25, of Chicago, and Cpl. Arnold Bracey, 21, of New York City.

The difficulties demonstrate the difficulties Americans face in working in Moscow. Arthur Hartman, who recently left his post as U.S. ambassador to Moscow and retired from the Foreign Service, said in an interview published Tuesday that Moscow is "a very abnormal place."

The Pentagon has charged the Marines with engaging in espionage while serving as guards with a Marine detachment, having KGB-inspired affairs with Soviet women in 1985. At least one of the women was an employee of the embassy.

The Marine’s fraternization policy is the subject of a widening investigation after allegations of KGB-sponsored sex activities and having "peruse" sensitive areas of the embassy.

Hartman told the Foreign Service Journal that "embassy operations are being clashed to a bare minimum. Budget and fiscal functions will be shifted to an American in Western Europe, he said.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department Tuesday that five Americans working in the U.S. Embassy under a private contract have been sent home in the last year, including two for associating with Soviet citizens.

Spokeswoman Phyllis Oakley said Tuesday that a total of 36 private civilians are now in Moscow working for the U.S. Embassy with more to come as a California consulting firm the American did jobs once performed by Soviet citizens.

On the past year, she said, five of the workers have been sent home, two for medical reasons, two for violations of the embassy’s "non-fraternization policy" and one who was fired for "performance problems." Another four will be leaving, but not for misconduct, she said.

The difficulties demonstrate the difficulties Americans face in working in Moscow. Arthur Hartman, who recently left his post as U.S. ambassador to Moscow and retired from the Foreign Service, said in an interview published Tuesday that Moscow is "a very abnormal place."

The Pentagon has charged the Marines with engaging in espionage while serving as guards with a Marine detachment, having KGB-inspired affairs with Soviet women in 1985. At least one of the women was an employee of the embassy.

The Marine’s fraternization policy is the subject of a widening investigation after allegations of KGB-sponsored sex activities and having "peruse" sensitive areas of the embassy.

Hartman told the Foreign Service Journal that "embassy operations are being clashed to a bare minimum. Budget and fiscal functions will be shifted to an American in Western Europe, he said.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department Tuesday that five Americans working in the U.S. Embassy under a private contract have been sent home in the last year, including two for associating with Soviet citizens.

Spokeswoman Phyllis Oakley said Tuesday that a total of 36 private civilians are now in Moscow working for the U.S. Embassy with more to come as a California consulting firm the American did jobs once performed by Soviet citizens.

On the past year, she said, five of the workers have been sent home, two for medical reasons, two for violations of the embassy’s "non-fraternization policy" and one who was fired for "performance problems." Another four will be leaving, but not for misconduct, she said.

The difficulties demonstrate the difficulties Americans face in working in Moscow. Arthur Hartman, who recently left his post as U.S. ambassador to Moscow and retired from the Foreign Service, said in an interview published Tuesday that Moscow is "a very abnormal place."

The Pentagon has charged the Marines with engaging in espionage while serving as guards with a Marine detachment, having KGB-inspired affairs with Soviet women in 1985. At least one of the women was an employee of the embassy.

The Marine’s fraternization policy is the subject of a widening investigation after allegations of KGB-sponsored sex activities and having "peruse" sensitive areas of the embassy.

Hartman told the Foreign Service Journal that "embassy operations are being clashed to a bare minimum. Budget and fiscal functions will be shifted to an American in Western Europe, he said.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department Tuesday that five Americans working in the U.S. Embassy under a private contract have been sent home in the last year, including two for associating with Soviet citizens.

Spokeswoman Phyllis Oakley said Tuesday that a total of 36 private civilians are now in Moscow working for the U.S. Embassy with more to come as a California consulting firm the American did jobs once performed by Soviet citizens.

On the past year, she said, five of the workers have been sent home, two for medical reasons, two for violations of the embassy’s "non-fraternization policy" and one who was fired for "performance problems." Another four will be leaving, but not for misconduct, she said.

The difficulties demonstrate the difficulties Americans face in working in Moscow. Arthur Hartman, who recently left his post as U.S. ambassador to Moscow and retired from the Foreign Service, said in an interview published Tuesday that Moscow is "a very abnormal place."

The Pentagon has charged the Marines with engaging in espionage while serving as guards with a Marine detachment, having KGB-inspired affairs with Soviet women in 1985. At least one of the women was an employee of the embassy.

The Marine’s fraternization policy is the subject of a widening investigation after allegations of KGB-sponsored sex activities and having "peruse" sensitive areas of the embassy.

Hartman told the Foreign Service Journal that "embassy operations are being clashed to a bare minimum. Budget and fiscal functions will be shifted to an American in Western Europe, he said.
Attention RSO's
Raise money at SPRINGFEST '87
"RIDE THE WAVE"
May 2nd
Set up a booth or run an event.
Applications are in the SPC office, 3rd floor
Student Center.

ART ALLEY
The University of Wisconsin-Madison
Traveling Print
Exhibition
April 2-17, Art Alley
Sponsored by: SPC Fine Arts, and the Craft Shop
Playwrights experiment with 'comic routine'

By Mary Caudle
Staff Writer

Rick Cleveland and Lavonne Mueller had developed their own 'comic routine' interview by Tuesday afternoon, their last day as visiting playwrights at the University.

Back and forth, they would go. About critics Cleveland quipped, 'Critics are a nightmare. They can say anything they want...'

"...and you have no recourse," Mueller finished the sentence with a practiced air. They would laugh.

AFTER TWO days of interviews and classroom visits at SIU-C and John A. Logan College, Cleveland and Mueller, whose visits were sponsored by the SIU-C Theater Department and through a grant from the Illinois Arts Council, were slaphappy and practically able to switch chairs and tell each other's histories.

Putting jokes aside momentarily, Cleveland, an Ohio native, explained that he left college in 1981 to pursue a career in acting. Moving to Chicago, he an headed for Manhatten and wrote his first full-length play, "Buffalo Boys."

Mueller supports herself with playwriting grants and a teaching job at New York University, working on her latest plays and other creative writing. She is completing a trilogy of plays about the Korean War.

PLAYWRITING HAS had its obstacles, Mueller said. She cited America's attitudes toward artists as a major obstacle for the writer or playwright, adding, "on the one hand we're considered to be bums, while on the other, there's an air of mystique that surrounds us."

"It's a dualism that you have to fight in society, being laughed at and respected at the same time," Mueller said. "Especially in your family."

Cleveland added, telling stories of uncles who told him bad jokes in the hope that he would use them and others who asked if he wrote for "Miami Vice." This followed a period when "help wanted" ads were left conspicuously around the house.

BOB MUELLER and Cleveland stressed that their message to young playwrights would be "get another job that you can fall back on and make sure it's something that you can live with."

Cleveland, who has held jobs ranging from factory worker to furniture delivery man, agrees, "the theater can bring the writer in contact with and help them learn about "real people," something vital to the playwright.

TV, screenwriters join strike

NEW YORK (UPI) — Leading television and motion picture writers joined striking newspaper workers from ABC and CBS Tuesday to call for a settlement of the contract dispute that has idled 525 employees at the networks for 27 days.

The screenwriters and 150 Writers Guild of America members rallied at ABC headquarters in midtown Manhattan and heard the writers of "Bonnie and Clyde," and "Roots" and other productions tell them to stand firm against the networks.

"When one writer is in trouble, all writers are in trouble," Peter Stone, president of the Dramatists Guild, told the enthusiastic crowd.

The noontime rally came just hours after the union announced ABC had rejected submitting the dispute to binding arbitration. ABC confirmed the report but offered no reason for its decision.

Guild spokesman Martin Waldman said the proposal was made last Friday and the day in ABC's response led the union to believe the network was seriously considering it.

"We would have liked binding arbitration. That would have been a way of speeding up the process," he said.

Talks with ABC were scheduled to resume Tuesday night.

Last week CBS rejected the arbitration proposal, saying it "didn't want to give up the right to negotiate the rules and will govern our future.

Guild officials have accused both networks of delaying the talks and Waldman said binding arbitration could have brought a quick end to the strike, which began on March 2.

Ernest Kino, who wrote the television mini-series "Roots," told the demonstrators the network's stalling tactics were an attempt to avoid good-faith bargaining.

Ring Lardner Jr., who wrote the screenplay for the movie "M.A.S.H.," said the "television networks are trying to achieve the same thing that the movies once tried to do... to smash the union.

Mueller, on the other hand, said that she is "issues oriented," usually starting out with an idea that she wants to work with. "What I try to do is personalize those issues so that people can identify with them," Mueller said.

ORIGINALLY WANTING to be an "academic," Mueller moved to New York from her hometown of DeKalb in 1979 to pursue a career in theater. Chuckling, she said, "If anything will make you want to go into theater in New York, it's living in DeKalb." Her first play, "Breaking the Prairie Wolf Code," about a pioneer woman and her daughter on a trek across the country, was produced in New York in 1980.

Mueller supports herself with playwriting grants and a teaching job at New York University, working on her latest plays and other creative writing. She is completing a trilogy of plays about the Korean War.

PLAYWRITING HAS had its obstacles, Mueller said. She cited America's attitudes toward artists as a major obstacle for the writer or playwright, adding, "on the one hand we're considered to be bums, while on the other, there's an air of mystique that surrounds us."

"It's a dualism that you have to fight in society, being laughed at and respected at the same time," Mueller said.

"Especially in your family."

Cleveland added, telling stories of uncles who told him bad jokes in the hope that he would use them and others who asked if he wrote for "Miami Vice." This followed a period when "help wanted" ads were left conspicuously around the house.

BOB MUELLER and Cleveland stressed that their message to young playwrights would be "get another job that you can fall back on and make sure it's something that you can live with."

Cleveland, who has held jobs ranging from factory worker to furniture delivery man, agrees, "the theater can bring the writer in contact with and help them learn about "real people," something vital to the playwright.

The network's stalling tactics were an attempt to avoid good-faith bargaining.

Ring Lardner Jr., who wrote the screenplay for the movie "M.A.S.H.," said the "television networks are trying to achieve the same thing that the movies once tried to do... to smash the union.

Mueller, on the other hand, said that she is "issues oriented," usually starting out with an idea that she wants to work with. "What I try to do is personalize those issues so that people can identify with them," Mueller said.

ORIGINALLY WANTING to be an "academic," Mueller moved to New York from her hometown of DeKalb in 1979 to pursue a career in theater. Chuckling, she said, "If anything will make you want to go into theater in New York, it's living in DeKalb." Her first play, "Breaking the Prairie Wolf Code," about a pioneer woman and her daughter on a trek across the country, was produced in New York in 1980.

Mueller supports herself with playwriting grants and a teaching job at New York University, working on her latest plays and other creative writing. She is completing a trilogy of plays about the Korean War.

PLAYWRITING HAS had its obstacles, Mueller said. She cited America's attitudes toward artists as a major obstacle for the writer or playwright, adding, "on the one hand we're considered to be bums, while on the other, there's an air of mystique that surrounds us."

"It's a dualism that you have to fight in society, being laughed at and respected at the same time," Mueller said.

"Especially in your family."

Cleveland added, telling stories of uncles who told him bad jokes in the hope that he would use them and others who asked if he wrote for "Miami Vice." This followed a period when "help wanted" ads were left conspicuously around the house.

BOB MUELLER and Cleveland stressed that their message to young playwrights would be "get another job that you can fall back on and make sure it's something that you can live with."

Cleveland, who has held jobs ranging from factory worker to furniture delivery man, agrees, "the theater can bring the writer in contact with and help them learn about "real people," something vital to the playwright.

The network's stalling tactics were an attempt to avoid good-faith bargaining.

Ring Lardner Jr., who wrote the screenplay for the movie "M.A.S.H.," said the "television networks are trying to achieve the same thing that the movies once tried to do... to smash the union.

Mueller, on the other hand, said that she is "issues oriented," usually starting out with an idea that she wants to work with. "What I try to do is personalize those issues so that people can identify with them," Mueller said.

ORIGINALLY WANTING to be an "academic," Mueller moved to New York from her hometown of DeKalb in 1979 to pursue a career in theater. Chuckling, she said, "If anything will make you want to go into theater in New York, it's living in DeKalb." Her first play, "Breaking the Prairie Wolf Code," about a pioneer woman and her daughter on a trek across the country, was produced in New York in 1980.

Mueller supports herself with playwriting grants and a teaching job at New York University, working on her latest plays and other creative writing. She is completing a trilogy of plays about the Korean War.

PLAYWRITING HAS had its obstacles, Mueller said. She cited America's attitudes toward artists as a major obstacle for the writer or playwright, adding, "on the one hand we're considered to be bums, while on the other, there's an air of mystique that surrounds us."

"It's a dualism that you have to fight in society, being laughed at and respected at the same time," Mueller said.

"Especially in your family."

Cleveland added, telling stories of uncles who told him bad jokes in the hope that he would use them and others who asked if he wrote for "Miami Vice." This followed a period when "help wanted" ads were left conspicuously around the house.

BOB MUELLER and Cleveland stressed that their message to young playwrights would be "get another job that you can fall back on and make sure it's something that you can live with."

Cleveland, who has held jobs ranging from factory worker to furniture delivery man, agrees, "the theater can bring the writer in contact with and help them learn about "real people," something vital to the playwright.

The network's stalling tactics were an attempt to avoid good-faith bargaining.

Ring Lardner Jr., who wrote the screenplay for the movie "M.A.S.H.," said the "television networks are trying to achieve the same thing that the movies once tried to do... to smash the union.

Mueller, on the other hand, said that she is "issues oriented," usually starting out with an idea that she wants to work with. "What I try to do is personalize those issues so that people can identify with them," Mueller said.
Nicklaus analyzes Augusta

Golden one says trees bear harvest of trouble

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) — Jack Nicklaus, who has had more success on the Augusta National than any other golfer, says the Masters has changed "dramatically" since he first played it back in 1959.

"This course has gone, in the time I've been playing here, from a wide open golf course to a very tight course because of the trees," said Nicklaus, who won his sixth Masters championship last year at age 46.

"The biggest problem is the trees are growing so much.

"Someday, they're going to have to address this problem. I can't see them ever cutting down those beautiful trees. But they probably will move the tees to give the golfers the same sort of path they used to have."

"Hole after hole, you run into this problem," Nicklaus said. "In many places the trees have grown out so far over the fairways that an entirely different type of drive is required.

"But nowhere is the change more noticeable than at No. 7 (par-4, 360 yards). The first couple of years I played in the Masters there were no trees down the right side. You could really let it out because if you strayed, you'd still be in the fairway.

"But they got around to planting trees in the early '60s and now they are very noticeable."

"And the greens are fast, firmer than they have been for years. What they do with them regarding speed and pin placements remain to be seen."

"As for himself, Nicklaus says he came to Augusta with a different attitude than a year ago.

"Last year, it had been six years since I won a major championship and I came in frustrated," Nicklaus said. "I didn't want to have my golf career wind down on that sort of note."

"Winning the Masters again changed that. This year, I'm relaxed, not concerned about how I play. I do well this week, great. If I don't, I'll be disappointed, but it won't be the end of the world."

"Last year's win put a lot of things at rest," he said.

SRC board approves honorary changes

By Greg Huber
Staff Writer

The SIU-C intramural-recreational sports advisory board decided to rename the Grand Avenue Playfields, the Student Recreation Center's TV studio and the climbing wall.

Acting on a proposal by student Scott McGary, the board unanimously voted in favor of the changes. The Grand Avenue Playfields were named in honor of the late Samuel L. Rinella and the SRC TV studio was named after the late Harold Grazowski, a popular climbing instructor at the SRC.

Although the changes have been approved at the SRC level, they must now be approved by the University Committee on naming facilities, Dunn said. Dunn also said Virginia Rinella, wife of the late Sam Rinella, would be consulted.

Pending approval of the advisory committee, the renaming of these names is expected to occur during formal ceremonies as yet to be announced.
By Greg Huber
Staff Writer

The 3-2 women's rugby team played in a six-team meet in windy conditions on the hard Forest Park Field turf against St. Louis that resulted in two wins, one loss and two injuries this weekend.

Star senior player Anita Coleman received a severe bruise on her thigh in the Mizzou match Saturday but continued to play. During Sunday's match with the Lady Ozarks, she was kicked in the same spot causing a severe contusion. Coleman will miss at least one game, club president Laura Michalek said.

Sophomore Amy Bishel, in her first season with the ruggers, also received an injury to her right arm during the Mizzou game. Initial x-rays indicated possible bone chips and she is scheduled to meet with SIU-C orthopedist Dr. William Thorpe for further treatment.

Teams at the meet included: Chicago City Club, the number one-ranked team in the Midwest; St. Louis, the Oklahoma City Club; Mizzou from the University of Missouri, the Saluki Invitational, and Illinois State University.

The Salukis went into the match with the ruggers in a six-team meet in windy conditions on the hard Forest Park Field turf against St. Louis that resulted in two wins, one loss and two injuries this weekend.

The Ruggers started strong scoring four runs to go on top 5-1 and the Panthers could only add one run. Shelly Gibbs, Jenny Shupryt and Dana Riedel all went west for 5 and Susan Wissmiller was 2-for-4 for the Salukis. Lisa Peterson was the winning pitcher.

The Salukis were not as lucky in the second game against the Panthers. The Panthers jumped out to an early lead scoring four runs off Stacy Coay in the first two innings. Beth Schmitt came in to pitch and allowed two more runs. The Salukis scored only one run off eight hits and made two errors.

"We haven't played sharp behind Stacy," coach Kay Brechtelbauer said about the bottom of the eighth to tie the game.

In the top of the tenth inning the Salukis pounded four runs to go on top 5-1 and the Panthers could only add one run. Shelly Gibbs, Jenny Shupryt and Dana Riedel all went west for 5 and Susan Wissmiller was 2-for-4 for the Salukis. Lisa Peterson was the winning pitcher.

The Salukis defense when Coan pitched. On Saturday the Salukis swept a doubleheader against Drake 2-1, 3-0 in Dec Moines. The Salukis had four hits and made three errors in the first game and the Bulldogs got two hits. The Salukis scored three hits and made three errors.

Gibbs, who was 2-for-3, drove in the first two runs for the Salukis and that was all they needed.

For the weekend Shupryt was 7-for-14 with two doubles and an RBI. Gibbs was 6-for-14 with 3 RBI and Espen knocked in 3 RBI.

Rugby women mauled Mizzou, overcome Ozarks for third

Saluki softball Shelly Gibbs slides into base in a game against Western Michigan during the Saluki Invitational. Gibbs batting sparked SIU-C to a 3-1 record in this weekend's opening Gateway conference play against Drake and Northern Iowa.

Softball team strikes Iowa

Gateway teams fall to 3-1 SIU-C effort in league openers

By Wally Foreman
Staff Writer

The women's softball team started conference play with a pair of doubleheaders in Iowa this past weekend and came away with a 3-1 record.

The Salukis, 12-9 overall, played Northern Iowa Friday in Cedar Falls, Iowa, and split the doubleheader by beating the Panthers 5-2 in the opener but dropping the nightcap 6-1.

In the first game the Salukis and Panthers played to a scoreless tie after seven innings. In the top of the eighth inning the Salukis scored one run to take the lead, but the Panthers also scored in the bottom of the eighth to tie the game.

In the top of the tenth inning the Salukis pounded four runs to go on top 5-1 and the Panthers could only add one run. Shelly Gibbs, Jenny Shupryt and Dana Riedel all went west for 5 and Susan Wissmiller was 2-for-4 for the Salukis. Lisa Peterson was the winning pitcher.

The Salukis were not as lucky in the second game against the Panthers. The Panthers jumped out to an early lead scoring four runs off Stacy Coay in the first two innings. Beth Schmitt came in to pitch and allowed two more runs. The Salukis scored only one run off eight hits and made two errors.

"We haven't played sharp behind Stacy," coach Kay Brechtelbauer said about the bottom of the eighth to tie the game.

In the top of the tenth inning the Salukis pounded four runs to go on top 5-1 and the Panthers could only add one run. Shelly Gibbs, Jenny Shupryt and Dana Riedel all went west for 5 and Susan Wissmiller was 2-for-4 for the Salukis. Lisa Peterson was the winning pitcher.

The Salukis defense when Coan pitched. On Saturday the Salukis swept a doubleheader against Drake 2-1, 3-0 in Dec Moines. The Salukis had four hits and made three errors in the first game and the Bulldogs got two hits. The Salukis scored three hits and made three errors.

Gibbs, who was 2-for-3, drove in the first two runs for the Salukis and that was all they needed.

For the weekend Shupryt was 7-for-14 with two doubles and an RBI. Gibbs was 6-for-14 with 3 RBI and Espen knocked in 3 RBI.

By Greg Huber
Staff Writer

The 3-2 women's rugby team played in a six-team meet in windy conditions on the hard Forest Park Field turf against St. Louis that resulted in two wins, one loss and two injuries this weekend.

Star senior player Anita Coleman received a severe bruise on her thigh in the Mizzou match Saturday but continued to play. During Sunday's match with the Lady Ozarks, she was kicked in the same spot causing a severe contusion. Coleman will miss at least one game, club president Laura Michalek said.

Sophomore Amy Bishel, in her first season with the ruggers, also received an injury to her right arm during the Mizzou game. Initial x-rays indicated possible bone chips and she is scheduled to meet with SIU-C orthopedist Dr. William Thorpe for further treatment.

Teams at the meet included: Chicago City Club, the number one-ranked team in the Midwest; St. Louis, the Oklahoma City Club; Mizzou from the University of Missouri, the Saluki Invitational, and Illinois State University.

The Salukis went into the match with the ruggers in a six-team meet in windy conditions on the hard Forest Park Field turf against St. Louis that resulted in two wins, one loss and two injuries this weekend.

The Ruggers started strong scoring four runs to go on top 5-1 and the Panthers could only add one run. Shelly Gibbs, Jenny Shupryt and Dana Riedel all went west for 5 and Susan Wissmiller was 2-for-4 for the Salukis. Lisa Peterson was the winning pitcher.

The Salukis were not as lucky in the second game against the Panthers. The Panthers jumped out to an early lead scoring four runs off Stacy Coay in the first two innings. Beth Schmitt came in to pitch and allowed two more runs. The Salukis scored only one run off eight hits and made two errors.

"We haven't played sharp behind Stacy," coach Kay Brechtelbauer said about the bottom of the eighth to tie the game.

In the top of the tenth inning the Salukis pounded four runs to go on top 5-1 and the Panthers could only add one run. Shelly Gibbs, Jenny Shupryt and Dana Riedel all went west for 5 and Susan Wissmiller was 2-for-4 for the Salukis. Lisa Peterson was the winning pitcher.

The Salukis defense when Coan pitched. On Saturday the Salukis swept a doubleheader against Drake 2-1, 3-0 in Dec Moines. The Salukis had four hits and made three errors in the first game and the Bulldogs got two hits. The Salukis scored three hits and made three errors.

Gibbs, who was 2-for-3, drove in the first two runs for the Salukis and that was all they needed.

For the weekend Shupryt was 7-for-14 with two doubles and an RBI. Gibbs was 6-for-14 with 3 RBI and Espen knocked in 3 RBI.

Rugby women mauled Mizzou, overcome Ozarks for third

By Greg Huber
Staff Writer

The 3-2 women's rugby team played in a six-team meet in windy conditions on the hard Forest Park Field turf against St. Louis that resulted in two wins, one loss and two injuries this weekend.

Star senior player Anita Coleman received a severe bruise on her thigh in the Mizzou match Saturday but continued to play. During Sunday's match with the Lady Ozarks, she was kicked in the same spot causing a severe contusion. Coleman will miss at least one game, club president Laura Michalek said.

Sophomore Amy Bishel, in her first season with the ruggers, also received an injury to her right arm during the Mizzou game. Initial x-rays indicated possible bone chips and she is scheduled to meet with SIU-C orthopedist Dr. William Thorpe for further treatment.

Teams at the meet included: Chicago City Club, the number one-ranked team in the Midwest; St. Louis, the Oklahoma City Club; Mizzou from the University of Missouri, the Saluki Invitational, and Illinois State University.

The Salukis went into the match with the ruggers in a six-team meet in windy conditions on the hard Forest Park Field turf against St. Louis that resulted in two wins, one loss and two injuries this weekend.

The Ruggers started strong scoring four runs to go on top 5-1 and the Panthers could only add one run. Shelly Gibbs, Jenny Shupryt and Dana Riedel all went west for 5 and Susan Wissmiller was 2-for-4 for the Salukis. Lisa Peterson was the winning pitcher.

The Salukis were not as lucky in the second game against the Panthers. The Panthers jumped out to an early lead scoring four runs off Stacy Coay in the first two innings. Beth Schmitt came in to pitch and allowed two more runs. The Salukis scored only one run off eight hits and made two errors.

"We haven't played sharp behind Stacy," coach Kay Brechtelbauer said about the bottom of the eighth to tie the game.

In the top of the tenth inning the Salukis pounded four runs to go on top 5-1 and the Panthers could only add one run. Shelly Gibbs, Jenny Shupryt and Dana Riedel all went west for 5 and Susan Wissmiller was 2-for-4 for the Salukis. Lisa Peterson was the winning pitcher.

The Salukis defense when Coan pitched. On Saturday the Salukis swept a doubleheader against Drake 2-1, 3-0 in Dec Moines. The Salukis had four hits and made three errors in the first game and the Bulldogs got two hits. The Salukis scored three hits and made three errors.

Gibbs, who was 2-for-3, drove in the first two runs for the Salukis and that was all they needed.

For the weekend Shupryt was 7-for-14 with two doubles and an RBI. Gibbs was 6-for-14 with 3 RBI and Espen knocked in 3 RBI.
CHICAGO (UPI) — Rookie Jim Lindeman and pitcher John Tomlin each had two-run singles in a five-run third inning Tuesday to lead the St. Louis Cardinals to a 9-3 opening day victory over the Chicago Cubs.

Ozzie Smith added a two-run double in a four-run seventh for St. Louis, which took advantage of 11 walks by Cubs' pitchers, seven by losing Rick Sutcliffe. The Cardinals went three for three with two RBI and reached base five times.

Tudor survived a shaky start and went the first five innings for the victory. Bill Dawley pitched the final four innings.

Playing before a sellout crowd of 38,240, St. Louis posted its first victory in nine opening day games at Chicago.

The Cardinals sent 11 men to the plate in the third, knocking out Sutcliffe. St. Louis' lead was a walk to Smith, a single by Tommy Herr and a walk to Jack Clark.

So far this spring, Saluki grid coach Ray Dorr has voiced concern over his kicking game — or more accurately, the departure of his kicking game.

Finding a starting punter and kicker will stay high on Dorr's list of preseason priorities because gone are one of Morrison's 236 career holders and household names Wedemeir and Drew Morrison.

Miller departs as SIU-C's all-time scoring leader with 264 points, with 110 of those points coming during the 1983 championship season, when he established an SIU-C freshman scoring mark. His 47 consecutive extra points kicked during the championship season, still stand as an NCAA I-AA regular-season record, equaling a record for highest percentage of extra points made during a season (100 percent).

Morrison holds SIU-C records for longest punt with 83 yards, and has a career highlight of a 64-yarder in the 1983 finale against Missouri. Only one of Morrison's 236 career attempts was blocked.

Finding a punter and kicker was part of the reason Dorr could not rule out the possibility of using a kicker to punt or using a "long kicker" for kick-offs and a "short kicker" for close field goals.

David Peters, a redshirt freshman from Benton, also gets the chance to compete for the starting punter role and does well, according to Dorr.

The Salukis have three other kickers battling for time. Dorr named sophomores Jeff Cerre Gordo, Jim Mackie and Steve Leonard. The starting kicking role. Brda Transfered to SIU-C last season when Drake dropped its football program. Wedemeir walked on the team and impressed coaches with long kicks in practice.

Both Wedemeir and Brda are working out their punting form, too, and Dorr could not rule out the possibility of using a kicker to punt or using a "long kicker" for kick-offs and a "short kicker" for close field goals.

David Peters, a redshirt freshman from Benton, also gets the chance to compete for the starting punter role and does well, according to Dorr.

The Salukis have three other kickers battling for time. Dorr named sophomores Jeff Leonard, of Cerre Gordo, Jim Mackie and Steve Leonard. The starting kicking role.

Searching for kickers, punters to fill gridder gap

By Steve Merritt

Staff Writer

Ray challenged Hagler to hit him. When the champ charged, Leonard spread the red cape and disappeared.

The champ would back Sugar Ray into a corner, only to find nothing there to hit. Leonard's head almost seemed like a mirage as he evaded every Hagler barrage. Close observation showed the challenger slipping the impact of the blows, negating Hagler's punching power.

In the 11th round Leonard the showman emerged. Not content to cruise to victory, he at last made his move to knock out the champ. But the Mar- velon One proved too strong, and Leonard went to his corner to regroup.

The 12th round brought the Leonard plan full circle. He bobbed and flurried as the champ tried in vain to connect for the final knockout blow. The fight ended as it began, with Sugar Ray dancing around Hagler. Neither fighter was hurt, but only one succeeded. Before the decision was announced, each fighter paraded around the ring in a victory dance.

The crowd assembled at Caesar's Palace boozed when judge Lou Filippo awarded Hagler his card, 115-113. Then came Julio Guerras card — 110-110 for Leonard, splitting the decision. The crowd started to roar for the obvious favorite. Then Dave Moretti gave his card and the fight to Leonard, and history was complete.

But what is in the future for Sugar Ray? A rematch with Hagler? Or another battle with "Hit Man" Hearns? The new champ's smartest move should be back into retirement as a ring announcer, as he has nothing left to prove.

Sports writers and fans alike will debate the significance of this battle. Some will say the fight was rigged. Others will call it the greatest contest yet. Still others believe it solidifies Leonard's position as the best boxer.

But historians will remember Ray Leonard as a boxer who was just a little better than those he fought. Sugar Ray did whatever it took to win, no matter who the opponent.

Marvin Hagler certainly can't argue with that. He'll see the light after viewing the fight films.
Fabiano Ramos smashes a serve to Evansville's Rick Waterfall in a comeback win at the Arena tennis courts Tuesday.

Men netters serve Aces loss

By Wendell Young
Staff Writer

The Saluki men's tennis team moved one step closer to the 500 mark Tuesday as it swarmed all over the seemingly helpless Evansville Aces and slammed the visitors 8-1 on to improve to 6-13 this season.

Coach Dick LeFevre said playing at home was definitely an advantage for the Salukis as they won for the fourth consecutive time on the familiar Arena asphalt.

"We're on a roll," he added. "It's possible we could wind up winning all of our (remaining) home matches."

The Salukis swept all six singles matches. Jairo Aldana cruised by Brian Pouynt 7-6, 6-4 in No. 1 singles play. Fabiano Ramos, after being cut for two weeks with a back sprain, subdued Rick Waterfall in No. 2 singles action with a come-from-behind 6-5, 6-3, 6-1 showing.

Ramos, who enhanced his individual singles record to 9-4 with the win, said he thought his performance was "really bad," but he was nevertheless satisfied to gain the victory.

Mickey Maule aced Tom "Moto" Mitchell 6-3, 6-4 in No. 3 singles, and Juan Martinez squeaked by Barry Ruback 7-5, 7-5 in the No. 4 singles match-up.

Lars Nilsson outclassed Matt Fehn 6-3, 6-4 to win No. 5 singles, and George Hime beat Ben Battcock 6-7, 6-2, 6-2 in the No. 6 singles dual.

Ramos paired with Maule in No. 1 doubles action to dominate Fehn and Ruback 6-2, 6-2 with a flashy display of volleys.

"I think we played pretty good," Maule said of the combined effort. Ramos added that he thinks the Salukis are ready to begin MVC play, citing Wichita State as the only threatening force in the conference schedule.

SIU's only loss came in No. 2 doubles match with Aldana and Martinez falling to Waterfall and Pouynt 6-2, 6-2. SIU also captured a W in No. 3 doubles as Nilsson teamed with Hime to rout Battcock and Mitchell 6-1, 6-4.

Fabiano Ramos smashes a serve to Evansville's Rick Waterfall in a comeback win at the Arena tennis courts Tuesday.

Sugar Ray won no matter what Hagler claims

"I beat him," a bitter Marvelous Marvin Hagler said after losing his middleweight crown to Ray Leonard Monday night in Las Vegas. "I beat him and he knows it."

Sounds like the same old story to me. Thomas Hearns still claims Sugar Ray didn’t knock him out in their epic battle for the unified middleweight crown. Roberto Duran and Wilfredo Benitez had similar excuses after losing to Leonard.

Sugar Ray had the advantage on points in both fights, but lived longer and adhering to the rules that govern the sport of boxing. The key word here is sport, not brawling and not fights.

The game plan for Hagler’s demise arguably took Leonard five years to figure out. But the end result for those who viewed the fight was the same. Leonard made Hagler look bad, and did it for 12 rounds.

The former undisputed world middleweight champ and Olympic gold medalist came out of the fight with only nine stitches under his belt in two reasons to believe he could handle Ray Leonard. But the champs didn’t count on the fact that Leonard was the reigning Olympic champion in Olympic form. Leonard came out bopping and weaving, stopping only to bellow at Hagler’s continual pawing at air.

Make no mistake, though. Hagler looked as good as ever. The champ was in fabulous shape, and if he had slowed down over the years, it wasn’t noticeable. His only problem was that he was not able to regain the form that made him the best in the business.

By Wendell Young
Staff Writer

The 21-6 Saluki baseball team will return to Abe Martin Field at 3 p.m. today to meet the 15-5 Cougars of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The SIU-Cougars defeated its cross-state coons 11-3 last year.

The Div-11 Cougars, who returned 13 position from their Florida trip with a 5-4 record, recently defeated Southeast Missouri State 6-0 and lost to the Fighting Illini 14. SIU-E beat Missouri-St. Louis 14-1 Tuesday.

The Cougars’ probable starting pitcher for today’s game is senior floor leader Marjorie Jenkins.

Deanne Sanders is expected to sign a letter of intent with the SIU-C women’s basketball team today.

The John A. Logan Community College point guard guarded the ball diligently to sign at Southern, assailant coach Pat Foster said.

Sanders helped pace the Lady Vols to an eighth-place finish in the junior college nationals this season and was a teammate of Saluki for the last three years when the Vols took third in the nation two seasons ago.

A multi-dimensional athlete, Sanders will forgo playing on the Vols to enter the league when the Vols took third in the nation two seasons ago.

The addition of Sanders will help SIU-E soften the blow dealt by the graduation of senior floor leader Marjorie Jenkins.

Sugar Ray won no matter what Hagler claims

By Wendell Young
Staff Writer

The former undisputed world middleweight champ and Olympic gold medalist came out of the fight with only nine stitches under his belt in two reasons to believe he could handle Ray Leonard. But the champs didn’t count on the fact that Leonard was the reigning Olympic champion in Olympic form. Leonard came out bopping and weaving, stopping only to bellow at Hagler’s continual pawing at air.

Make no mistake, though. Hagler looked as good as ever. The champ was in fabulous shape, and if he had slowed down over the years, it wasn’t noticeable. His only problem was that he was not able to regain the form that made him the best in the business.

By Wendell Young
Staff Writer

The sports page is packed with stories on SIU sports, including baseball, tennis, and basketball. The Saluki men's tennis team defeated Evansville 8-1, improving to 6-13 for the season. The SIU-C women's basketball team signed Deanne Sanders. The SIU-Cougars defeated the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville 11-3 last year. The SIU-E baseball team is playing against the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The SIU-Cougars defeated the Fighting Illini 14. SIU-E beat Missouri-St. Louis 14-1 Tuesday.