Picnic Opens Monday Night For 6-Day Run

"Picnic," the popular play by William Inge, will open at the SIU Playhouse Monday evening in a gala atmosphere resembling Hollywood and Broadway premises.

The play, directed by Dr. Sherwin Abrams, assistant director of theater, will run from Monday, Feb. 24 to Saturday, March 1. The curtain will go up each night at 8 p. m.

Members of the radio-TV department will aid in giving the audience a gay, exciting evening by interviewing many of the players.

The drama-viewers will see the enactment of a plot revolving around a mother's attempt to build an imaginary world around her two daughters to keep the outside world from intruding.

The plans of Flo Owens, the mother, are upset when a young vagabond ventures into their carefully planned environment. The results of this incident will be told to people attending the dramatic production.

Because of the amount of talent which appeared at the tryouts for the play, Abrams decided to double-cast five of the feminine roles in several performances.

Each of these groups of five will operate on a unit basis in the performances-and will alternate their appearances so each group will give three performances.

Joan House and Jo Ann Henson will alternate in the role of Flo Owens, the scheming mother who gets her plans disrupted.

In the role of the beautiful daughter, Margie Owens, will be Linda Johnson and Jean Myers.

The other daughter, Millie, will be a 16-year-old, immature model girl, will be played by Jane Hertz and Becky Burroughs.

Marilyn Gelousky and Joyce Freed will alternate in the role of Mrs. Potts, a very interesting neighbor with an even more interesting past.

Alternating in the role of Rosemary Sydney, the schoolteacher, will be Suzanne Knox and Marcia Swinney.

Dorothy Winkelman will appear as a friend of the schoolteacher, who has some exciting adventures.

In the role of Christine, another friend of Rosemary, will be Mary Ann Thies.

Ken Swofford will portray Hal, the friend, swaggering, but likeable vagabond.

James Ray will play Alan Seymour, Madge's boyfriend and an old college chum to Hal.

Howard Bevans, Rosemary's boyfriend, will be played by Jerry Henson.

In the comic role of Bomber, a newspaper boy, will be Jerry Fezel.

James Lash is the stage manager for the production.

Tickets for "Picnic" will be on sale every afternoon from 3-5 p. m. at the Playhouse.

Reservations for seats may be made by mail for those persons having a season coupon for plays presented by the theater department.

The testimonial dinner for the internationally known composer and teacher will be held in the Woody Hall Dining Hall at 6:30 p. m. on May 17.

Museum Features Indians

A special exhibit, featuring the culture of the Seminole Indians of the Florida Everglades, opened in the Southern Illinois University Museum Sunday for one month.

Included are authentic Seminole canoes, two scale models of dugout boats used by the Indians and a large collection of photographs by Irvin M. Peithman, research assistant in outdoor education and recreation, who recently returned from his third visit among the Seminoles to gather cultural data and material for books.

The museum is open daily to visitors from 8 a. m. until 5 p. m., Monday through Friday; from 8 a. m. until noon on Saturdays, and from 10:30 until 5 p. m. on Sundays. Other hours may be arranged for special groups upon advance request.

Students Report On Solicitors

Several students have recently registered complaints concerning solicitors, according to Miss Elizabeth Mullins, co-ordinator of student activities.

Solicitors are not allowed to operate unless they have a permit from the University. Such permits are issued by Miss Mullins, whose office is located in the Office of Student Affairs.

The permits issued solicitors are not an endorsement by the University of articles to be sold. Nor do the permits give the holder the right to enter any living center of the campus.

Permits issued solicitors state they must acquire permission from the person in charge of each individual living center before entering a house for sales.

Another stipulation of the permit is that all sales are to be cash on delivery of merchandise, unless otherwise stated and approved.

"All a student has to do to find out if a solicitor has a permit is to ask for it," said Miss Mullins. "When you see a solicitor, you can ask to see his permit. If a salesman does not have a permit, the students should call Miss Mullins' office."

The Editors' Opinions

Shyrock Curtain And Stage Really Stands Out

Many people squirmed in their seats in Shyrock Auditorium Wednesday night as the nationally known St. Louis Symphony Orchestra played to a nearly packed house.

The squirming had nothing to do with the Orchestra itself, which did a splendid job. The renowned group, used to big auditoriums and sellouts, was pleased with its audience, as the music showed.

The squirming had to do with the embarrassment registered by those who could not help but look beyond the orchestra to an appalling vivid picture of the backstage. The backstage, usually shut off by the rigged and time-worn curtain, was in complete view. The side of the orchestra necessitated drawing back the curtain. There in clear view for everyone to see, was the dilapidated hodge-podge of material thrown hither and yon.

Even if everything loose had been removed—and it certainly should have been—the appearance would not have been improved any noticeable extent.

And framing this picture was the side curtains—themselves in worse shape than the main curtain.

Our University is in critical need of a lot of things. It has been in this position for some

We Don't Need Salesmen On Campus

One thing that most students have found—from the time they were toddlers—is that door-knocking salesmen are a plague on mankind.

One other thing most students have found—they do not escape the door-knocking salesmen in college.

Door-to-door salesmen, solicitors or peddlers have long found college campuses a lucrative market for peddling their wares. Most of these people are honest, and most of them have good products at reasonable prices. But a few are not honest, do not have good products, and, as a result, their price is unreasonable.

Often the dishonest salesmen succeed most in door-to-door selling. The high-or-low-pressure suave mark of these individuals solely tells you they have the knack—or ability—to get a permit to sell where an honest man would not.

Good products or not, a college campus does not seem the place for the operation of peddlers. Especially the door-to-door variety.

The University could, perhaps, abolish granting permits. Many other Universities have taken this course. But that alone would not solve the problem.

The solution lies in the hands of the students. The only one sure way to stop the door-to-door salesman is to politely and in decisive tones turn him away from the door.

An administration is typically concerned about quality of curriculum and, perhaps, expansion. Students are typically concerned about passing courses.

Students are still concerned about passing courses. But many of them have probably spent as much time in keeping up with where each department is, where classes are taught and where various services may be obtained as they have in trying to pass courses.

The freshmen of '37 probably feel they have their troubles. And if building goes on for the next four years as it has for the last four, their troubles will continue. But the groundwork for this new type of student problem was laid long before their time.

Today's Teachers Prepared

Professor Discusses Educational Changes

Today's college teacher is much better prepared than yesterday's says Dr. James G. Umstead, a visiting professor of higher education at Southern Illinois University.

In fact, many present-day college seniors know more than the average college professor of grandfather's time, he claims.

"Fifty years ago there was a less to learn in all fields, particularly in the physical sciences. Also, requirements for teaching were not so high then," according to Dr. Umstead, who doesn't agree with those who criticize today's teacher for being too specialized.

He says the present trend is to broaden the base of the doctorate so that a person won't become a super-specialist in one field and an ignoramus in everything else.

Chairman of the Department of Curriculum and Instruction at the University of Texas, Dr. Umstead has spent many years studying instructional procedures in colleges and universities. At present, he is surveying methods of teaching at Southern. Similar studies have been conducted at 29 other colleges and universities.

"These surveys indicate that formal lectures are decreasing while methods involving student participation are increasing," he observes. "Also, more audiovisual aids are being used in the classroom. College professors are learning other ways to teach a large class besides the lecture method."

Major problems faced by college teachers are the motivating

CUTTING UP

the GOOD and the BAD

By DON HECKE

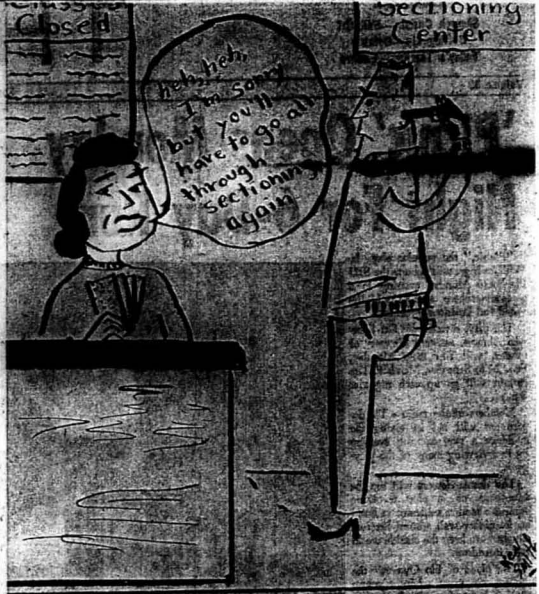

Most of those who are now seniors are the remnants of the 1,716 freshmen who walked through the gates of Old Main in the fall of '34. Old Main still looks the same, but just about everything else on campus has changed.

The new buildings afforded problems to students—but they were mostly in the form of adjustment—look to the students' legs and the buildings. The real problem was in keeping up with moves and counter-moves of various departments and services—and classrooms. And trees '55-'56 was the time of disappearing and moving trees.

The Health Service moved to new quarters. The University Store moved into a portion of the abandoned library, Wheeler Hall—which did not stay empty long.

The Information Service has, in several jumps, moved from one side of campus to the other. Alumni Service moved next door to its old quarters—and then moved back to the old quarters.

Many buildings were torn down and re-negotiated whole departments to change quarters—such as Geography and Geology.

March 7th is the deadline!

Gus has officially denied that there will be a steamboat on the pond in front of the library.

Gus Bode says... after finals, "Have books, will travel."

But are the seniors concerned about the freshmen? By and large, seniors will tell you they have one major concern—to be sure that—through all the changes they have trudged and fought through—they have enough credits—which are still legitimate—to graduate.

THE PLEDGE YOU SAVE MAY BE YOUR OWN

Today's column is directed at those young female undergraduates who have recently pledged sororities and are worried, poor lambs, that they won't make good. Following is a list of simple instructions which, if faithfully observed, will positively guarantee that you will be a mad success as a sorority girl.

First, let us take up the matter of housemother. The housemother is your friend, your guide, your mentor. You must treat her with respect. When you wish to speak to her, address her as "Mother Sigfsson" or "Ma'am." In no circumstances must you say, "Hey, fat lady!"

Second, let us discuss laundry. Never hang your wash on the front porch of the sorority house. This is unightly and shows a want of breeding. Use the Chapter Room.

Third, meals. Always remember that planning and preparing meals for a houseful of healthy girls is no simple task. Your cook goes to a great deal of trouble to make your menu varied and nourishing. The least you can do is show your appreciation. Don't just devour your food; praise it. Exclaim with delight, "What delicious pork jowls!" or "What a yummy soupbone!" or "What scrumptious fish heads!" or "What clear water!"

Fourth, clothing. Never forget that your appearance reflects not just on yourself but on the whole house. It was well enough before you joined a sorority to lounge around campus in your old middy blouse and gym bloomers, but now you must take great pains to dress in a manner which excites admiring comments from all who observe you. A few years ago, for example, there was a Chi Omega named Camille Ataturk at the University of Iowa who brought gobs of glory to all her sorors.

The freshmen of '37 probably feel they have their troubles. And if building goes on for the next four years as it has for the last four, their troubles will continue. But the groundwork for this new type of student problem was laid long before their time.

In '54 most classes and offices were located in easy walking distance of the circle drive around Old Main. New buildings had already been started, and there were rumors—called dreams—about buildings to come.

It wasn't long until the brick and mortar settled in a few new masterpieces, and students received an education—some of them—on how to use a modern library and science building.

The Animal Building—on the southwest corner of Thompson Woods—was completed. I'll bet there are a lot of students trudging by there now who didn't know what it was.

And while students were trudging through mud—'54-'55 was the time of mud—in the newly uprooted sections of a once uninhabited area, new plans were in the making. Soon excavation was going on on what is now known as Thompson Point.

The recent results of those land-clearings under-takings have been six residence halls and a dining hall on Thompson Point proper and the Agriculture Building taking up most of the space immediately west of Thompson Woods.

The new buildings afforded problems to students—but they were mostly in the form of adjustment—look to the students' legs and the buildings. The real problem was in keeping up with moves and counter-moves of various departments and services—and classrooms. And trees '55-'56 was the time of disappearing and moving trees.

Many buildings were torn down and re-negotiated whole departments to change quarters—such as Geography and Geology.

The freshmen of '54 came in on a wave of expansion and—those who are left—will ride out on it.

They will miss many of the facilities the freshmen of '58 will have before they graduate. New family housing units—five more dorms at TP—15 houses at TP to be used as organized houses with 45 students in each—a Home Economics building—and more.

Camille hit on the ingenious notion of suiting her garb to the class she was attending. For instance, to English Lit she wore a bushin and jerkin. To German she wore leathers and carried a stein of pilsener. To Econ she wore 120 yards of ticker tape. Her shiningest hour came one day when she dressed as a white mouse for Psych Lab. Not only her Chi Omega sisters, but the entire student body went into deep mourning when she was killed by the janitor's cat.

Finally, let us take up the most important topic of all. I refer, of course, to dating.

As we have seen, the way you dress reflects on your sorority, but the men you date reflect even more. Be absolutely certain that your date is an acceptable fellow. Don't best out the bush; ask him point-blank, "Are you an acceptable fellow?" Unless he replies, "Yeah, hey," send him packing.

But don't just take his word that he is acceptable. Inspect him closely. Are his fingernails clean? Is his black leather jacket freshly oiled? Is his ukulele in tune? Does he carry public liability insurance? And, most significant of all, does he smoke Marlboro?

If he's a Marlboro man, you know Joe's a lot of man. You know he has taste and discernment, a well-worn character and wisdom, decency and warmth, presence and power, talent and grit, filter and favor. You will be proud of him, your sorority will be proud of him, the makers of Marlboro will be proud of him, and I will be paid for this column.

Final Exams Start March 13; Schedule Released

Final examinations for students at Southern Illinois University will begin at 8 o'clock on Monday, March 13, and will continue through the afternoon of the following day.

Examinations for one and two-credit hours will begin two hours and ten minutes later and will run for one hour. For example a 12 o'clock class carrying four hours of credit will have its examination from 7:50 to 9:00 a. m. on Thursday, March 13. A 12 o'clock class carrying two hours of credit will have its examinations from 10:00 to 11:00 a. m.

Provision for such a make-up period. This period is to be used only for a student whose petition has been approved by his dean.

(4) A student who must miss a final examination may not take an examination before the time scheduled for the class examination. In the event a student misses a final examination and is not involved in a situation covered in (3) above a "W", followed by the tentative grade with a "12" indicating the number of weeks attended, should be recorded on the report by the instructor. A "W" grade must be completed within one year of the end of the quarter involved; otherwise, it must remain as an incomplete grade.

which have been granted a special time for examining all sections. As these students attending an night may not be able to attend the special examination period scheduled for the daytime, each department involved will have to arrange special examination periods for such students. This problem involves those night students who are fully employed during the day and who are taking night courses because it is the only time they are able to do so.

(2) Examinations for three, four, and five-credit hour classes will begin at the hours scheduled and will run for two hours. Examinations for one and two-credit hour classes will begin two hours and ten minutes later and will run for one hour. Women's Choir Performs The "Stabat Mater"

An almost empty Shryock Auditorium echoed with the solo voices of the University Women's Choir as it performed Pergolesi's sacred choral work "The Stabat Mater" last Friday evening.

The choir was given a deserving applause as the small gathering of listeners could muster. The side rows of the auditorium were completely free of people, as were the first 10 rows of the center aisle seats.

Appearing on the same evening program with the Women's Choir was the University Chamber Choir which sang the choral works of Pesti, Schuetz and Poulenc.

The Pergolesi work of 13 varied voice movements was the second of a series of programs by University choral groups presenting the great masterpieces of church music.

Traditionally sung on Good Friday, last week's performance was a bonus concert arranged by Robert S. Hines, director of choirs at SIU.

Appearing in several duets and soprano solos were Carolyn Strohl, Patricia Gagnepain, Niala B. Binion, Ruth Batis, Jo Ann Henson, Geraldine Weber and Mary Dycus.

GI HOME LOANS Increase Over December, But Off From A Year Ago

The GI home loan program showed some increased activity in January as compared with December but was less than a third as active as a year ago, the Veterans Administration reported today.

Requests for appraisals showed good increases in January. Those covering proposed structures numbered 5,252, up 50 per cent from the 3,501 in December. Appraisal requests for existing structures totaled 2,052 in January, up 33.6 per cent from 1,536 in December.

However, a year ago in January there were 18,924 appraisal requests for proposed units and 10,720 for existing units.

The program has been drying up since 1956 due to tight money. Relaxation in administration policy which started last fall thus far has had little apparent effect.

New Service For Area Library Sends Bookmobile On Road

Thirty-four counties in all will be affected by the supplementary service, worked out by the Illinois State Library, Illinois Library Association, and the SIU Library. Besides the 15 counties which will be serviced by the bookmobile, an additional 19 will be entitled to the consultant service. Any tax-supported public library in these southern-most counties is eligible to receive help.

"The Regional Library is a consultant to the Community Development project here at SIU," Board said. "We work with them and go into communities they do."

"The reason for the bookmobile and consultant service is that many small libraries in 1111 n. s. haven't been able to get professional service. We feel that we can fill that need."

The bookmobile being used at present is one loaned to the library by the Illinois State Library. A specially designed one built to hold 4500 books, has been ordered and is expected in June or July, Board stated.

Local Southern Illinois librarians may also check out books directly from the Regional Library, located on the second floor of the main library. A limit of 200 books may be checked out at one time, and local libraries will assume the usual responsibility for lost or damaged material.

The bookmobile will also be available to those libraries which wish to use it in connection with National Library Week, March 16-22, Board said.

"We are planning to make it available for one-day exhibits in any way the individual libraries would like to use it," he said. "The truck will have banners advertising the week and will be used for promotional effects."

Navy Sails Again 'Frogmen' At U. School

The United States Navy returns to the University School Auditorium tonight. Hoping to repeat the success of "Mister Roberts" two weeks ago, the Movie Hour will present "The Frogmen" at 6:30 and 8:30 p. m.

The film stars Richard Widmark, Dana Andrews, and Gary Merrill, and tells the story of an underwater demolition team in World War II. Members of this team were unharmed to blow up underwater obstacles.

One of the most exciting scenes is the one in which the divers slip through Japanese harbor defenses to mine a Japanese submarine fleet. Another time they are called upon to disarm a live torpedo which has lodged itself in a bulkhead and is likely to go off in a minute.

Admission for "The Frogmen" will be 40 cents for adults and 25 cents for students.

Recruiter For College Students

Will Venerable is new to SIU but through his work of pre-college counselor he has established a raft of acquaintances throughout the state of Illinois. By the close of the spring term, he will have personally visited about 60 high schools. Basically, he tells the preps about SIU and why they should enroll here.

This is Venerable's first year at SIU. Previously, he was at Northwestern University, in a capacity similar to his pre-college counselor title here. It's a job that keeps him busy and smiling.

"A major part of my work is visiting high schools in all parts of Illinois. The only out-of-state work that I do is in St. Louis," Venerable said. "Usually, when high schools have their 'College and Career Days', they give me an invitation to speak to their seniors, who are keenly interested in SIU and what it has to offer them in the way of a college education.

"All told, SIU should have representatives at approximately 120 high schools within the year is over. I will visit about 50 per cent of them personally; for the others, I obtain faculty members and other university representatives to attend."

Venerable, who divides his time between the SIU Admissions Office and the Office of Student Affairs, is just back from Peoria, where he talked to students at Richwood Heights and Washington High Schools there. Also this month, he visited St. Louis for several days, and there he informed 19 schools of SIU's wares.

"Generally, and also depending on how much time I am allowed to speak," Venerable explained, "I give the students a brief run-down on SIU, and then throw open the discussion in the form of a question-and-answer period.

"Our primary purpose is to inform the high school student of what type of school SIU is, its costs and programs offered, the requirements for admission and honoraries and extra-curricular activities. We also distribute the available literature that the University has. A new brochure, giving general information about SIU, is expected to be ready for our use and distribution soon.

"When Venerable covered 35 high schools in Chicago, other representatives of SIU had an informal two-hour session with parents of Windy City seniors.

"It was just an experiment," Venerable added. "Willis Malone (director of admissions), Erwin Stack in charge of student fi-

Cagers Host Indiana State Saturday Night; Wrestlers Risk Streak Against Great Lakes

Play Tough Sycamore Squad

Southern's basketball squad will be host to a tough Indiana State squad tomorrow night in the men's gym. Game time will be 8:15 p.m.

The Saluki JV's will take Mt. Vernon in the preliminary contest. The JV's have defeated Mt. Vernon twice this season.

The Sycamores from Indiana State have been playing about 500 ball this season but have played some real competition. Among some of their opponents have been Cincinnati, DePaul, St. Joseph's, Evansville and Washington University in St. Louis. The Sycamores defeated the Bears from Washington U. two weeks ago by a score of 68-53.

Probable starters for Indiana State are Jim Gansloff, 6-5 junior from Plymouth Indiana at center, Bob Clark, 6-1 junior from Lafayette Indiana, at one forward and Jim Bates, 6-2 senior from Martinville Indiana at the other forward. Ted Dushoff, 6-1 senior from Riley Indiana will be at one guard and Ted Wosolek, 5-9 junior from North Liberty, Indiana will be at the other guard.

Even though the Indiana squad will lack height, they certainly have the experience for every one of the starters are lettermen returning from last year's squad.

The Sycamores defeated the Salukis at Terre Haute last year by a smashing score of 76-54.

Starters

Probable Saluki starters are Seymour Bryson, 6-5 junior from Quincy, at center. Bryson has been doing an excellent job in the rebounding department all season and is Southern's leading scorer. Bryson has been hitting better than 50 per cent from the field in his last few games.

Tom McGreal, 6-6 freshman from Bantou, will probably be at the other forward. Tom appears to be one of the best freshmen in a long time to come to Southern. In some games he has been a stand-out on offense and is constantly improving on defense.

Talley

Rick Talley, 6-3 senior from Pinckneyville, will probably be at the other forward spot.

Garrison Newsom, 5-10 junior from Shawneetown, will probably be at one guard. Newsom has boosted Southern offensive attack in the past few games with his jump shots from the key.

Gene Sams, 5-10 sophomore from Galena will be at the other guard spot. Duane getting his first real shot at varsity competition in the last few games, played a very fine game last Saturday night against Western. Sams has had a throat infection the past few weeks but should be ready to go this weekend.

Last night the Salukis played at Eastern Illinois in a game that could be considered a "showdown" for second place.

IT'S SNOW FUN

Homeplate had to be dug out from the snow as Southern Illinois University's baseball team opened drills last week. Two of SIU's returning lettermen, catcher J. W. Sanders, left, Mt. Vernon, and Roger Buyan, a third baseman from Dowell, get in some early "spring" training. Actually, the drills, which have attracted more than 30 candidates, are being held indoors at the Carbondale armory. SIU will open its schedule in mid-March.

More than 30 candidates turned out as Southern opened so called "spring" baseball practice last week. Opening drills were held in the Carbondale Armory.

Southern's basketball team is now tied for third place in the IAC conference with Illinois Normal.

Bryson Leads Cage Scoring

With 20 games gone and only five regularly scheduled games to go, Seymour Bryson, 6-5 center, is far out in the lead in the scoring race on Southern's basketball squad.

Bryson has totaled 299 points in the 20 games for a 14.9 average per game. Warren Talley is next highest in point production with 162 points in 20 games for an average of 8.1 per game. Talley and Bryson are the only two players on the squad that has played in all 20 games.

Tom McGreal, 6-6 freshman stand-out, has scored 156 points in 16 games for a 9.7 average. In Tom's last 10 games he has scored 138 of these points for a 13.8 average.

Garrison Newsom has tallied 141 points in 10 games for a respectable 14.1 average per game. Guard Gene Sams has gathered 146 points in 16 games for a 9.1 average.

Marvin Jones, 6-3 center who quit school after first ten games, hit the coeds for 144 points for a 14 point average. Larry Whitlock, 6-5 forward out for about a month and a half with a knee injury hit 130 points in nine games for a 14.4 average.

Two freshman forwards are leading the Saluki cagers in shooting percentage. Bill Roberts has hit 18 for 41 from the field for .439. Tom McGreal has pumped in 56 for 128 for .437. Guard Gene Sams is also over the 400 mark with 58 field goals in 142 attempts for a fine .408 mark. Before Jones quit school, he was hitting at a .455 clip.

The team as a whole has made a total of 1388 points in 20 games as compared to 1334 points for the opposition.

The per game average is 69.4 for Southern and 66.7 for the opposition.

SIU has ripped the nets for 541 field goals in 1415 attempts for a .382 average. The Saluki's opponents have hit for 506 field goals in 1348 attempts for .375.

"Double Dual"

Gymnasts Meet Wisconsin, Indiana U. This Weekend

Competing against two Big Ten squads, the Saluki gymnastic squad gets back into action this Saturday as they try to improve their 4-3 dualmeat.

The gymnasts will meet the University of Indiana and the University of Wisconsin in a "double dual" meet at Indiana.

Last weekend against Eastern and Western in a "double dual" meet, the Salukis mauled Eastern 82-49, but lost a "squeaker" to Western, 58 1/2-53 1/2.

"It is going to be a real tough meet," said Bill Meade, head coach. "But I'm hoping for at least a split. Indiana will probably be the toughest team in the meet, according to Meade, "because of their well-balanced squad."

Probably the most outstanding man in the meet will be Dale Karls who Meade said is capable of taking four firsts. He is strongest on the high bar, side horse, parallel bars and free exercise. Karls is one of the most outstanding gymnasts in the Big Ten.

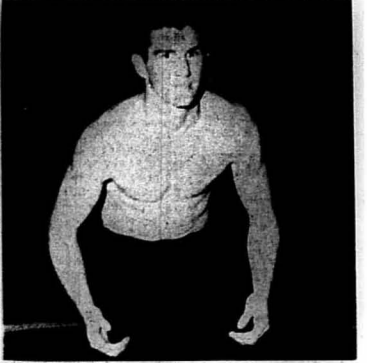

Again like last weekend, the gymnast will compete only once but their scores will be matched against the other two opponents separately.

According to the optimistic Meade, Wisconsin will probably be strongest on the trampoline, tumbling and free exercise.

Improving

The Saluki squad is constantly improving every meet. Three weeks ago they lost to Western Illinois 70-42. Last weekend the SIU gymnasts really had the Leathernecks counting their points as they lost by only 58 1/2-53 1/2, a mere five points. With a break here or there it could have been an upset victory for the boys from SIU.

Southern's hopes will be riding on everyone if they hope to win the meet, but such men as Roger Council, John Taylor, John Otterli, the only double winner in last weeks meet, Gene Salmon, Ed Foster, Bob Foster and Bob Hauser, will really have to come through and be at their best.

WHEATON CHAMP

Marion Rushing, senior from Pinckneyville, won the heavyweight title at Wheaton tournament last weekend. "Rush," in his first year of varsity wrestling, hadn't won a varsity match the season before he won three straight matches at Wheaton to win the title. Rushing will be trying his skill tomorrow against Great Lakes when the Salukis meet the Midlands.

Grapplers Host Great Lakes

Coach Bob Franz's wrestling team meets the Great Lakes matmen here Saturday to defend their undefeated record.

The two-team meet gets under way Saturday at 2 p.m. and the way SIU's matmen have been going anything could happen.

Top Team

Southern was the top team in the Wheaton tournament last week with 67 points. They met such teams as Noe Dame, University of Illinois, and Northern Illinois. They walked away with five championships at the meet.

Southern has two men still undefeated at the matmen near the end of their season schedule. They are Captain Les Grubbs and "Duke" Edwards. Grubbs won the 147 pound championship at the Wheaton tourney while Edwards walked away with the 130 pound title.

When asked what king of team the Great Lakes men had, Coach Franz commented, "They have never been known to have a poor team."

"You run into all kinds of champs at the meet with the Great Lakes matmen," continued Franz. "We beat them earlier in the year, but they may have different men on their team now."

Franz

Coach Franz explained that the Naval Training Station at Great Lakes has a continuous turnover of men to represent their wrestling team.

The matmen received a boost at the Wheaton Tournament when Marion Rushing, who wrestled for the first time this season, captured the heavyweight title at the meet. This was the first match that Rushing had won this year.

The gymnastic squad is now 4 and 3 in dual meet competition. They meet University of Indiana and University of Wisconsin next weekend.

ROTC Defends State Title

Coach Porter Shannon's AF-ROTC basketball team journeys to the University of Illinois Saturday to defend its title in the second annual Interstate Invitational tournament.
The four-team, one-day meet gets under way Saturday morning, and the championship is set for Saturday afternoon. The first-round pairings have Bradley University's AF-ROTC visiting meeting the University of Illinois ROTC at 10 a.m., and SIU battling the Illinois Institute of Technology at 11 a.m. The winners meet for the championship at 4 o'clock that afternoon, preceded by a consolation final between the losers at 3.
The SIU AFROTC eagles don't have any exceptional height, but they've been holding their own in intramural and independent competition. They took an 8-1 overall all-wool record into a game last Wednesday night against the Dagoes in the Independent League of the SIU intramural program.
Lineup
Shannon named Jim Thomas and Clint Noren to start at guard for the club at the tourney. Carl Smith will open at center, and Roger Bush and Bill Spacy will round out the team at forwards.
The only defeat on the team's record came at the hands of Blueford American Legion contingent. Other than this, the eagles have rolled over all other opposition. Noren and Smith have been pacing the team in scoring.
Others
In addition to his five stragglers, Shannon also named his traveling squad consisting of John Berry, Bill Casey, Steve Clinton, Rom Hagler, Wayland Johnson, and Ken Knight.
Sunday afternoon, the club will appear in Indiana against a Lafayette Legion team. That game
The swimming team's next opponent is Missouri School of Mines on February 24.

SIU Women Participate In Sports Day

By Francis Hamp
Carthage College, Illinois Normal, and McKendree — these three schools sent 98 girls to SIU Saturday, Feb. 15, to participate in the Sectional Basketball Sports Day, an annual event sponsored by the women's physical education department.
Sports Day gives the highly skilled girl an opportunity to have competition on her own level and helps her to know the people within her state, according to Dr. Lura Lewis, of the physical education department.
Five games were played Saturday, with Illinois Normal opening Sports Day by defeating Carthage 51-25. Following this game SIU took the court to play a close game with Illinois Normal, but SIU lost, 36-33. Kay Burrus, WAA President, was high scorer with 21 points, with SIU guards Joyce Weber, Jan Dale, and Barbara Young supporting Kay.
SIU romped over McKendree 57-21, with two freshmen scoring high. Roslin Taborn made 18 points, while Susie Simms ran second with 14 points. The SIU guards were Myrna Stock, Mary Land, and Ricky Gower, with Gale Wolf as captain.
SIU defeated Illinois Normal 40-21 for its second victory. Joyce Carman and Mickey Sanders were high scorers, making 21 and 15 points, respectively. Cynthia Hinton, Betsy Anglin, Kay Bethel, and Pat McCre were the SIU guards.
Illinois Normal closed Sports Day by defeating Carthage, 47-22.
The officiating of the games was done by the students who hold National Basketball Ratings.
Seniors
Shirley Perry, Lois Chammess, Jan Dale, Ceila Hutton, and Lorraine Molla — all seniors — officiated.
Each college presented an entertaining skit at noon while the girls enjoyed their box lunches.
Snow and icy roads prevented McKendree, Eastern, Principia and the University of Illinois from participating in Sports Day.

FRESHMAN FLASH
Bill Roberts, 6-4 freshman forward from Monticello, has been doing a fine job on the Saluki basketball squad in the past few games both offensively and defensively.

On Campus Sports ... And You

By Jim Wigg
The intramural student board has power, but some students have doubted this power and continued a violent riot that is published in the Intramural Handbook.
Two intramural teams have entered protests stating that players on other teams were playing under assumed names. The intramural student board has acted on one case, and stated that the student playing under the assumed name cannot participate in intramural athletics for one year. The team on which he was playing had one game forfeited.
This particular student was on the roster of the Thompson Point Warriors according to an intra-the league championship.

If the intramural student board acts on the name listing on this situation as they did on the other one, then the Fugitives will be given one forfeit dropping them from the division lead. The student who played under the assumed name will not be permitted to participate in intramurals for the remainder of the year.
The intramural student board should not be criticized for invoking the penalty. They were chosen by the students who participated in intramurals, and are following the rules published in the handbook which has been given to all organizations desiring it.
Name
Two weeks ago the intramural office announced plans for an All-Star basketball team. Due to a lack of interest on the part of students, there will be no All-Star team this year.
The intramural free throw-shooting contest will be held during the week of Mar. 3 through Mar. 7. Any students interested in participating should report to the intramural office for the first round of the contest. The first round will be held March 3 between 12 noon and 4 p.m.
Next event in intramurals will be the All-School playoff for intramural basketball.
Women
Ninety-eight girls from a variety of schools participated in a basketball Sports Day at SIU last Saturday. The events of the day showed SIU teams winning two games and losing one.
Bowling is still being held free of charge to all students at the Congress Bowling Lanes each Saturday morning from 10 to 12.
SPECIAL SERVICES FOR NEWMAN CLUB
A day of Recollection will be held Sunday afternoon, Feb. 23, at St. Francis Xavier church.
The event, sponsored by Newman club, will begin at 2 p.m. and will end about 5 p.m. A sermon will be given and there will be an opportunity for confession and meditation. This is an excellent opportunity for all Catholic students to enter into the spirit of Lent.

Newman No. 2 Leads Bowling League

By Bill Christine
Although their lead appears to be a slim one point, the Newman Club No. 2 bowlers actually are in a much better position to capture the second-half title in the Independent Students' Bowling League.
Only two weeks of action remain on the second-half schedule, with the Newman No. 2 legless commanding a one-point lead over the Chemistry Department. However, the chemists have played one more round than the pace-setting Newmans, and will have to sit out the last night of second-half firing because of a bye.
3 Points
So, in order to clinch at least tie for the championship this Monday night at the Congress Lanes in Carbondale, Newman No. 2 needs to win three points. Their foe is Chautauqua Co-op, and a four-point whitewash in that match by Newman No. 2 would assure it of an outright title and a complete sweep of overall season honors. The Newmans, defending champions from last season, also grabbed the first-half diadem.
Newman No. 2 edged closer to the throne last Monday night with a complete, four-point blanking of Newman Club No. 1. At the same time, Chautauqua Co-op was siding the leader's cause by tripping up the Chemistry Department, 3 to 1. In other matches, Doyle Dorn and the Scuttlebutt Hunt fought to a 2-2 draw, and Stearns Residence shot 2513 against a Brown Jug team that failed to field a single bowler on the alleys.

The previous week — Feb. 10 — saw Stearns score a 4-0 victory over the Egyptians by shooting a season's record high series of 2784.
The Stearns outfit put games of 926, 917 and 941 together, and then relied on a 456 total handicap to top the previous high of 2873, held by Newman Club No. 1.
Chautauqua Co-op and Doyle Dorn split four points, and so did Newman No. 1 and Scuttlebutt Hunt in other Feb. 10 results. The Chemistry Department was awarded a forfeit four points from the absent Brown Jug.
Pair
A pair of 900's — 904 and 934 — after a 790 team opener enabled Newman No. 2 to crush Newman No. 1 last Monday. Joe Ducey, boosting his league-leading average to 165 pins, fired a 576 series, and teammate Joe Cronin chipped in with 533 and Ben Coy was good for 474.
Other 500 series that were registered during the evening belonged to Dutch Schroeder, a 533 for Doyle Dorn, and Carl Prada, 529 for Chautauqua. Don Jamieson just missed the elite circle, posting a 496 for the Chemistry Department.

Schedule
In addition to Newman No. 2's key match with Chautauqua on alleys 3 and 4 this Monday, Doyle Dorn and the Brown Jug will square off on 1 and 2; Stearns confronts the Chemistry Department on 5 and 6; and Scuttlebutt Hunt draws the Egyptians on 7 and 8. All rolling gets under way at 9:15 o'clock, and Newman Club No. 1 has a bye.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"Did you notice that genuine imported cashmere sweater?"

Southern Styles

Despite the freezing temperatures and the fact that we've dreads most run around campus a lot these days, I am getting bored with the wool skirts and the bulky sweaters. The lovely flannel and velvet sheath dresses which held a great fascination for me only a few short months ago, do not have the same breath-taking effect on me now. The new chic sharp-pointed shoes now seem drab looking and not as chic as before. It must be that I have just developed an early case of that malady which is normally called "spring fever." And I don't doubt for one minute that this is not true. For I eagerly look forward to the new spring fashions which are now appearing in most of the current magazines.
