Salukis Fall To Wichita 94 to 81

Southern's surprising Salukis battled powerful Wichita all the way Monday night in dropping a close one to the Shockers 94-81.

The line-up Wichita crew, ranked third in the nation this week among the major colleges, couldn't shake loose from the pesky Salukis as Southern mounted a late, striking distance throughout the contest. The visiting Salukis gave the 10,200 fans at the Wichita Fieldhouse an exciting night as they never trailed the highly favored home team by a very wide margin.

The game got off on the wrong foot for Southern as the Shockers led 9-0 before the Salukis caught fire. With 12:40 left in the first half the game got off on the wrong foot for Southern as the Shockers led 9-0 before the Salukis caught fire. With 12:40 left in the first half the Shockers had their biggest lead in the game at 84-69 with about five minutes remaining, but the Salukis would make a comeback.

The nip-and-tuck first half remained, to 46-43, with the highest scored up by a player in the game with Indiana State at 47-43. Both teams did some fouls with two minutes left to play in the half.

The nip-and-tuck first half ended with Wichita ahead 47-43. Both teams did some fisheries shooting in the halftime with the Shockers hitting at a .556 clip on Southern's .566. The first 11 minutes of the second half were like a repeat of the first as Southern continued to stay close to its opponent. Ramsey led the charge for the Salukis in the first seven minutes of the half as he scored 10 of his first 14 points.

Wichita began to stretch its lead in the final nine minutes but the Salukis were never far away. Southern pulled their biggest lead in the game at 84-69 with about five minutes remaining, but they couldn't break Southern's defense to pull away. Ramsey was the high man for Southern in the game with 27 points, and he was the scoring leader with 17 points for the Shockers. Ramsey's total was the second highest scored in the Salukis this season, and his 12 field goals were also a season high. The senior forward was followed by guard George McElroy.

Moslem Students Observing Month of Fasting in January

Moslem students at SIU are observing the month of Ramadan or the month of fasting during January, in the Moslem year it is the ninth month, which started with the arrival of the new moon Jan. 23, and will end at the emergence of another new moon Feb. 17. "During the month Moslems cannot eat, drink, go to sleep between sunrise and sunset," said Linda Clark, student majoring in English from Champaign, president of the SIU Moslem Student Association. "According to her in this way, Moslems are made mindful of Allah's blessings and the hardships that many people endure."

At the end of Ramadan a celebration is held by bidding on prayers of thanksgiving and fasting," Miss Clark said.

The SIU Moslem Student Association is made up of about 100 students from 16 countries: Iran, Iraq, Pakistan, India, Turkey, Afghanistan, Jordan, Lebanon, Sudan, Ethiopia, United Arab Republic, Saudi Arabia, Algeria, Nigeria, Republic of China and the United States.

"The group is open to Moslems and non-Moslems alike, the requirements being that the person be interested in the group and its goals and pay the nominal dues," said Miss Clark, who became a Moslem last spring.

The Moslem students meet every Friday afternoon, as prescribed in the "El-Mulatham," the Moslem's holy book. The Friday meeting might be compared with the Christian church service on Sunday. Much of the time is spent in saying the prescribed prayers, but often a sermon or biblical exhortation is also presented, according to Miss Clark.

The SIU Moslem Student Association sponsors discussion meetings, cultural exhibits and social gatherings to promote the understanding of the Moslem students, the students publish a newsletter entitled Bilal, reporting their activities and interests general and local interest.

During Holidays Justifies Opening

During the Christmas season this year, with the exception of Christmas Day, Morris library was open during its regular hours all through the break.

Ferris S. Randall, acting librarian, said 471 persons used the library during this experimental period and indicated it may be opened during other holidays.

Randall noted that between 9 and 11 p.m. there was usually a big drop-off in the number of persons in the library and said it may not be open as late for future holidays.

The use of the library during the break did not support or disappoint Randall, since he was "just interested to see what would happen."

The big problem, Randall indicated, was to find persons to man the library during the 13-day holiday.

Workshop Trains Teachers
In Recreation for Retarded

A regional workshop for training personnel in recreation for the retarded is being held at Little Grassy Lake this week.

Southern is among 13 universities and colleges which have teamed with the Joseph P. Kennedy, Jr. Foundation to sponsor these institutes during the year.

Directed by William Price, facilities director, and Loren S. Anderson, instructor in recreation at SIU, the program offers 12 instructors in the use of therapeutic diets and recreation for physically handicapped persons.

Price said the purpose is to show how recreation programs can improve the health, appearance, intelligence and general capabilities of the retarded. The staff will include the University's speech correction, community development, special education, rehabilitation, physical education and recreation.

Eugene Keitner of the Macoupin County chapter of the American National Red Cross at Decatur will direct swimming workshop activities.

In announcing the institutes from Washington, Sargent Shriver, executive director of the Kennedy Foundation, said they had been developed to prove that good community recreation programs for the retarded can make a significant contribution to the individual and in turn to society.

"Unfortunately," Shriver said, "recreation programs for the retarded are looked on as badly as educational opportunities for them once did. It is to correct a situation in which most physical education teachers and most communities are not prepared to conduct programs for the retarded that the Foundation and the universities have gotten together."

Sappenfield, vice president, and Sina K. Spiker, secretary. McIntosh is a charter member of the union, which was organized in 1938.

Christina Richart
Food Supervisor
To Serve in India

After a 3-and-a-half-month delay because of "roadblocks" at her destination, Christina Richart of Carterville, food service supervisor at the Southern Illinois University Hospital, which has previously served without salary to Indians, will serve in India this week.

Miss Richart obtained a 9-month sabbatical leave from the University to offer her services without salary to the Frances Newton Presbyterian Hospital at Peshawar, 220 miles north of New Delhi.

She was prepared to leave Sept. 15, but unexpected complications blocked her admittance by the Indian government until late December.

She will inaugurate a dietary program at the 200-bed hospital, which has previously depended on meals purchased on a contract basis by local restaurants. She will also work with the medical staff in the use of therapeutic diets as part of the treatment for some patients.

Taylor of the SIU Department of Recreation and Outdoor Education will coordinate the program, which includes instruction in developing volunteer training programs, arts and crafts, swimming, games and songs.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL. (AP) - Ethel More Kerner, plagued by reapportionment problems in his first four years in office, launched his second term Monday with a call for speedy action on the state constitution but voiced opposition to a proposal by Senate Republican leaders that a constitutional convention be called.

The governor reiterated his plea for a new revenue article to the state constitution but voiced opposition to a proposal by Senate Republican leaders that a constitutional convention be called.

But the bulk of his address was taken up by a re-apportionment proposal that did not follow population standards, was placed on early enactment legislation, and would elude various elements in the state government.

In his prepared inaugural address, Kerner warned the legislature that any reapportionment measure based on the U.S. Supreme Court's decision in the Viola decision would be headed by redrawing house and senate districts within the next 60 days.

The governor called for a "bold stride" in moving the state forward inexpedient opportunities in education, employment and social equality.

WASHINGTON (AP) - Rep. Barry Goldwater, Arizona Republican, is being kept fully concerned with the strike at this point by the AFL-CIO, starting the strike at this point.

Goldwater has more than $20 million in a strike against the Vietnam war.

The AFL-CIO, which is a more pliable hand, has not imposed my disposition, by word or deed, or action or whisper," he said.

Walkout at Ports Tie Up 100 Ships Main to Texas

NEW YORK (AP) - More than 100 ships lay idle Monday in ports from Maine to Texas, marooned by a $20 million, a-day strike of 60,000 longshoremen.

In a rare display of unity, the AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association joined with shippers and the federal government in an effort to get the dockers back to work.

The walkout, second in three months, began Sunday midnight, after rebellious New York longshoremen rejected a contract which one of their leaders called "the best contract in the 72 year history of the union.

The chief issue apparently, as it has been more than five years, was automation on the docks. The proposed contract, agreed to by I.A. leaders but repudiated by the rank and file, would have allowed a reduction in union work gangs over a three-year period from their present size of 20 men to 17.

Asst. Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds, warned the strikers they can expect no further contract concessions from shipping firms.

"The bargaining process is over," he said.

In Washington, White House press secretary George E. Reedy, told reporters the President is being kept fully informed but would not give further details regarding the strike at this point as being essentially a Labor Department matter, insofar as the federal government is concerned.
WASHINGTON (AP) - President Johnson begins a series of requests to Congress with a message today expected to chart "education" goals in the "war" he has declared on poverty.

This legislative outline will be followed by messages on immigration, foreign aid and the space program.

In his State of the Union message, the President said he would propose new programs of aid to education costing $1.5 billion the first year, and reaching from pre-school to college.

Many Washington observers believe the $1.5-billion figure is just a starter, with annual costs eventually reaching $3 billion to $4 billion.

All this would be in addition to current federal programs costing about $3.5 billion a year.

Details of the education message will not be disclosed until noon today.

Another proposal reported will propose direct grants to school districts "impacted" by poverty, just as the government now helps districts of servicemen of defense industry employees.

One public statement reported said the poverty-impacted program would cost Congress in the first year its $1.5 billion, with about $400 million going to New York City.

Another proposal reportedly would fund more learning centers, particularly in the big city slums.

Humphrey Predicts Program's Passage

WASHINGTON (AP) - Vice President-elect Hubert H. Humphrey predicted today that Congress will enact President Johnson's health program "before the first flower of spring."

He told a legislative conference of leaders that the nation can bear the cost of his health program, to education and other administrative proposals without weakening the economy in any way.

"We have no choice but to continue our economic expansion," he said, and added that many of Johnson's programs are designed to accomplish this.

Humphrey told approximately 800 national, state and city AFL-CIO officials that the nation is in the midst of the longest period of sustained economic growth in 100 years.

"We know now that we can do it," he said. "We know now that depressions and recessions are not God-made, they are man-made."

U.S. Presents New Evidence In Mississippi Slaying Case

 JACKSON, Miss. (AP) - The Justice Department unsealed witnesses in secrecy Monday in a federal grand jury evidence in the slaying of three civil rights workers last June.

John Doar, head of the department's civil rights division, issued a terse "no comment" during a break in the proceedings.

U.S. marshals kept spectators from seeing who entered and left the grand jury room.

The witness room likewise was out of sight. Witnesses were escorted into the federal courthouse by a back door early in the morning.

U.S. Dist. Judge Harold Cox told the jurors when they convened Monday they should be able to wind up work by Friday.

This marked the government's second attempt to get the grand jury to return in- dicements in the deaths of Michael Schwerner, 24, and Andrew Goodman, 20, both white New Yorkers; and James Chaney, 21, Negro from Meridian, Miss.

Barrette was one of 21 white men arrested last month in the killing. Sheriff Lawrence Rainey and Deputy Sheriff Cecil Price also were among those arrested on conspiracy charges.

The charges later were dropped after a U.S. commis- sioner refused to allow Barret- te's statement to be read by an FBI agent at a preliminary hearing. Barrette was not present and the statement would not sway, the commissioner held.
New ROTC Program Includes Six Weeks of Field Training

The AFROTC is processing applications for a new two-year ROTC program which will include a six-week field training.

The new program will be in addition to the traditional four-year program and is expected to attract a number of transfer students from junior colleges and other institutions which do not offer ROTC programs.

The program was authorized under the ROTC Vitalization Act of 1964 and over 50 per cent of the institutions offering AFROTC have indicated they will initiate the two-year program.

Selection into the program will be determined through scores on the Air Force Office: Qualifying Test, results of a medical exam, recommendations of an interview board, and satisfactory completion of the six-week field training course.

Hot Debate Fails to Resolve Hassle on Commissioner Role

Student Council members who attended the first meeting of the term expecting smooth sailing through the business agenda, were caught by surprise in a turbulent sea of controversy.

After a long-drawn-out battle which saw several student senators question the constitutional power of the president, in granting leaves of absence, an argument concerning Council commissioners broke out.

James R. Standard, senator from the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, demanded that it be made mandatory for Council commissioners to be present at all the meetings, and that Howard F. Benson, elections commissioner, be his duties properly.

Pat Micken, president of the student body, was quick to assure that commissioners are appointments of the executive branch, and as such could not be made demands upon by council members.

Don Grant, president of the Council, moved that the bill be sent to the Rules and Coordination Committee for a two-week study. However, a Council member moved that the bill be considered immediately by the group.

Several student senators argued that commissioners not be demanded to attend all meetings, but instead, be informed when there will be actions which involves them. Then, they should be asked, not demanded, to attend the meetings to help the Council with its business.

Rusty Mitchell, now a graduate assistant and a two-time NCAA tumbling champion, and Frank Ulmer, a leading point scorer for Bill Meade's gymnasts this year and a past AAI collegiate champion, represented the men gymnastics team.

Meade's Gymnasts

Conduct Weekend Clinic at Memphis

Gymnasts coach Bill Meade and eleven of his gymnasts returned to Carbondale early Sunday morning after spending a weekend in Memphis, Tenn., where they competed in the third annual Memphis Gymnastics Clinic.

Friday night the Saluki gymnasts put on an exhibition in the Southern Illinois University gymnasium before the largest crowd in the three year history of the clinic. The proceeds of the exhibition were turned over to the various churches and YMCAs in the Memphis area, which are interested in the promotion of gymnastics.

This exhibition was the third that day for the gymnasts. Earlier in the day Meade's boys performed before 750 elementary school children at a parochial and a public school. On Saturday the gymnasts spent the entire day conducting clinics for the public. The purpose of the clinic was to instruct the youngsters who ranged in years from 7 to 14, how to perform on the various gymnastic apparatuses.

Meade pronounced the trip as being worthwhile and was pleased with the performances of the boys at the exhibitions.

Salukis Swim to Fourth Place In 9th Annual Big Ten Relays

By Roy Franke

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—SIU swimmers were lost among a deluge of the nation’s top swimmers here Saturday in the power-packed 9th annual Big Ten Relays.

The Salukis, who compiled 36 1/2 points, finished fourth in the five-team field behind national swimming powers Michigan (104 points), Indiana (76) and Michigan State (57 1/2). Wisconsin was a distant fifth with 22 points while pre-meet Ohio State didn’t compete.

A fourth-place finish in the Big Ten relays is nothing to be ashamed of, since the meet featured some of the nation’s top swimmers. And when it was over only three of the 10 previous records were left unchanged.

The Salukis weren’t in on any of the record breaking, although they saw one Southern record fall by the way—Indiana’s 3:17.4 set in 1963 by the Spartans who cut five seconds off their old mark.

The Salukis ran into the same record-breaking crews in the 300-backstroke heat held off Michigan State to take third place with a time of 2:43.1. Individually for the Salukis’ Bob O’Callaghan, a sophomore from Niagara Falls, N.Y., am. Don Shaffer, a sophomore from St. Louis turned in identical 7:8 times on their legs of the relay. Andy Stroody of Mount Lebanon, Pa., was timed at 5:22.

McAney, the tail junior from Miami, Fla., turned in the top Saluki performance of the day and one of the best of the meet when he swam his 500-yard leg in 4:57.4.

The time was the second best of his career for the event but still had to take a backseat to Ken Walsh of Michigan State, who anchored the Spartans with 4:55.

The meet was costly to the Salukis in one respect. They lost sprinter Tom Hutton, a sophomore from Valparaiso, Ind., for six weeks as he received a broken hand in a freak accident.

The sophomore jammed his hand against the pool ledge as he made his backstroke in finishing his leg of the 200-yard freestyle relay.

SIU Shares Sports Spotlight

At Event-Packed Michigan

By Roy Franke

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—Basketball and swimming seldom mix, but both were in the air here Saturday.

Within a block on the sprawling University of Michigan campus, Toledo’s number three rated basketball team played host to rival Big Ten Kingpin Illinois, while Michigan’s equally prestigious swimming squad was lost to some of the nation’s top swimmers.

The attempt was of no avail, although traditionalists were interested, although traditionalists were interested, although traditionalists were interested, although traditionalists were interested, although traditionalists were interested.

The ninth annual Big Ten Relays, which grew up to its pre-meet billing as the best event of the meet, was costlier to the Salukis than any of the record breaking.

DOUBLE—if you lose your life in an accident;

TRIPLE—if your death results from an auto accident as a passenger in a plane or other common carrier.

But the Real Pay-Off is that THE BENEFAC tor doesn’t have a lot of strings attached to it which prevent payment of the extra money.

These Typical Exceptions are Not Found in THE BENEFAC tor

• The taking of poison or inhaling gases—voluntarily or otherwise.

• Committing an assault or felony.

• Operating or riding in any kind of aircraft other than as a fare-paying passenger of a commercial airline on a regularly scheduled route.

THE BENEFAC tor’s honest-to goodness accidental death benefit is typical of all its nine big benefits. You get so much more for your money because College Life insures only college men and college men are preferred risks. Get the full BENEFAC tor story from your local College Life representative.
