Library to Be Open Sundays

Morris Library will be open on Sundays this summer for the first time, according to Elizabeth O. Stone, associate librarian.

Miss Stone said the Sunday hours will begin this week with full services available from 2 to 10 p.m.

"As the University grows larger, naturally there is a demand to remain open longer which is one of the reasons for adding Sunday hours," Miss Stone said.

In addition, more students are remaining on campus now than commuting, and they need the additional services. Another factor, she said, was that now that the library is completely air-conditioned it provides students a more comfortable place to study than the quarters where many of them live.

"We are keeping about as long hours as any major library in the nation now," Miss Stone added.

Summer hours begin at the library today. It will be open from 7:15 a.m. to 10 p.m. Mondays through Fridays, Miss Stone said. And from 8 to 5 p.m. on Saturdays in addition to the Sunday hours.

Summer hours will be in effect through the end of the 12-week term. Hours for the period between summer and fall terms will be announced later.

Miss Stone said the only days the library will be closed completely this summer will be on July 3 and 4.

Delivery of Obelisk Expected This Week

Delivery of the 1964 edition of the Obelisk is expected this week.

Steve Wilson, editor, expressed regret that delivery was delayed this year. He said one reason was the additional size of the 50th anniversary edition. It totals some 460 pages in a printing of 6,700 copies.

Arrangements have been made for mailing the books to the graduates.

Persons who graduated last Friday have been invited to furnish the Obelisk office with the address to which they would like their copy mailed, free of charge.

All other students who ordered 1964 editions may pick them up at the Obelisk office, Building H-2, Apartment A. Or they may leave 50 cents to cover costs of handling and mailing to their summer address.

Walt Waschick Named Editor

The appointment of Walter J. Waschick as student editor of the Daily Egyptian was announced today.

Waschick is a senior majoring in journalism, in the news-editorial sequence.

His appointment was announced by Howard R. Long, chairman of the Department of Journalism.

"He is an outstanding journalism student who has been on the dean's list consistently since he has been on campus," Long said.

Waschick was president of the Journalism Students Association during the last school year.

He succeeds Nick Pasqual as student editor of the Daily Egyptian. Pasqual graduated last week.

The Egyptian will publish five times a week during the 12-week summer session.

SIU Students Face Growing Financial Crisis: How to Spend $1,540 Without Even Trying

John Hubble will attend his first college class today.

Before he will be eligible to join the graduation procession some four years from now he will have spent 2,314 hours in class accumulating the 192 hours of credit needed for a degree from SIU.

And he will have had to maintain a three-point average.

Just what will it take for Hubble, a former Carbondale Community High School football star, and the other new freshmen starting this summer to stay in school at SIU?

Jack Graham, coordinator of Academic Advisement, answered that question this way:

Beginning next fall, taking into account the rising tuition costs, it is tentatively estimated that the average student will need $1,540 a year to go to school.

In Hubble's case, it might be slightly different, since he will be living at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Hubble, Route 2, Carbondale.

Here is a breakdown of the figures: tuition and fees, $200; room and board, $800; clothes, $150; personal, $270; instructional materials, $60; and travel, $60. These figures are based on campus housing.

Some students, and it's not uncommon, will get along on tuition between $1,300 and $1,400 per year, Graham said.

Out-of-state students will pay about $80 per quarter for tuition, plus increased travel expenses.

It's a little tough going for some students.

"One student claimed he had to eat peanut butter for a couple days," Graham said.

"But anyone really in need of funds can apply for a loan from our netw loan funds,"

Most students do have the

New System Puts Southern On a Four-Quarter Basis

SIU's first year with a full summer quarter opened Monday.

Although the quarter formally opened Monday with the first classes at night, the first full day of classes was scheduled for today.

'Fair Lady' Cast Has 10 Openings

Ten openings remain in the cast for the summer production of "My Fair Lady" on the SIU campus.

The openings are for five women singers, and five men singers and dancers, according to William K. Taylor, assistant professor of music. He is directing the production.

"My Fair Lady" will be presented July 31 and Aug. 1 and 2, Taylor said. Rehearsals started Monday night.

The cast openings will be filled by Wednesday, Taylor said, and interested persons may apply at the Department of Music or at Shryock Auditorium at 7:30 p.m. today or Wednesday.

This year, the quarter will be extended to Aug. 29. The system is designed to place SIU on a full four-quarter-per-year basis. Previously, the summer session had been eight weeks.

Some classes will be offered on an eight-week basis to meet special needs, but most will be 12 weeks long.

Some of the highlight dates of the session:

June 15: Session begins.

July 3: Independence Day holiday. (Friday before a Saturday.)

Aug. 5-6: Final exams for the eight-week session.

Aug. 7: Summer commencement.

Aug. 24-29: Final examinations.

Monday was the last day of regular registration, but today through Saturday has been designated as the late registration period.

The Textbook Service announced its hours for the opening of the new quarter, from 7:20 to 11:50 a.m. and from 12:50 to 4:20 p.m., in Morris Library.

Loren H. Young, assistant supervisor in the registrar's office, said enrollment this quarter should exceed that of last summer. It totaled 5,636 on the Carbondale campus last summer.

Enrollment figures are not available until registration is completed, Young said. He expected they will be compiled by June 24 or 25.

Physician to Speak On Smoking, Health

Dr. Emmanuel Farber, head of the Pathology Department in the University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine, will discuss "Smoking and Health" in a public lecture at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in Morris Library Auditorium.

Faner Gets Great-Teacher Award

Robert D. Faner, professor of English, was honored with the 1964 Great Teacher award at the Southern Illinois University Alumni Banquet.

Faner was presented with a check for $1,000 from the Alumni Association in recognition of his outstanding work at the University.

Associated with SIU since 1930, Faner is the third consecutive person from the English Department to win the award. The former winners were Thomas Cassidy and Georgia Grant Winn.

Faner said, "It reminds me that the English Department has long been noted for emphasis on teaching even in the days of Shryock and later when he was the president of the school."

Henry W. Shryock was the president of SIU under its old name of Southern Illinois Normal University from 1913-1935. Shryock Auditorium is named in his honor.

"I'm tremendously pleased, though I am aware of many people who deserve it more than I do," Faner said of the award.

President Delyte W. Morris, speaker at the alumni dinner attended by about 380, gave an address on the "State of the University, 1964."

Seniors and Alumni of SIU select the person to receive the Great Teacher award.

University Press Set to Publish 23 Books; French Novel, Poetry and History on List

The University Press will publish 23 titles, including four paperback editions during the fall and winter terms, according to Vernon Sternberg, Press director.

"The God We Seek" by Paul Weiss is scheduled for publication in September. Weiss is Sterling professor of philosophy at Yale University and is the author of a philosophical diary being published by the University Press in fascicle form.

George Kimball Plochmann, professor of philosophy at SIU wrote the forward.

October will see the publication of nine books, including four paperbacks, under the trade name of "Arcturus Books."

The paperbacks include "Education Automation: Freeing the Scholar to Return to His Studies," by R. Buckminster Fuller, professor of design at Southern, "Images of Eternity: Studies in the Poetry of Religious Vision" by James Benziger, professor of English at SIU, "Selected Works of La Fontaine" edited by Philip Wadsworth and "French Poetry of the Renaissance" edited by Bernard Weinberg.

Of the hardback editions during October, four are a continuation of the "Cross-current" series which is edited by Harry T. Moore, professor of English at SIU. They include "Contemporary American Novelists" edited by Moore, "Dylan Thomas and Poetic Dissociation" by David Hobbrook, "Georg Buchner" by Herbert Lindenberger, and "From Symbolisme to Baudelaire" by Angelo Bertocci. The ninth book in October will be fascicle five of "Philosophy in Process" by Weiss. (A fascicle is a book that is printed in several parts or series, Sternberg explained.)

Among four books to be published in November, two are written by members of Southern's staff. They include "The Franco Codex of the Cathedral of Mexico: Transcription and Commentary" by Steven Barwick, professor of music at SIU, and "Schofield Thayer and the Dial: An Illustrated History" by Nicholas Joost, professor of humanities at Edwardsville.

"On the Penitentiary system in the United States and its Application in France," edited with a critical introduction by Thorsten Sellin, will include a preface by Herman Lantz, professor of sociology at Southern.

The other book in November is "The Half-World of American Culture: A Miscellany" by Carl Bode.

Four more books will be published in December. "On Act and Scene Division in the Shakespeare First Folio" is by T.W. Baldwin, professor of English at SIU. "A Course of Lectures on Oratory and Criticism" by Joseph Priestley is edited with a critical introduction by Vincent Bevilacqua and Richard Murphy. A forward is supplied by David Potter, professor of speech at Southern.

The other books in December are "Collected Poems: 1935-65" by Kenneth Hopkins and "The London Stage, 1660-1800" edited by William Van Lennep.

January will see the publication of five books.

"The Virtuous Orphan" by Carlet de Chamberlain is an 18th Century French novel which has not been reprinted since the 18th century. It has never been printed in English. The translation is by Mary Collyer and is edited with a critical introduction by W.H. McBurney and Michael Shugrue.

"The History of Battery I, Second Light Artillery, Illinois Volunteers" by W.C. Purney has never been published. It is about the Civil War and has an introduction by Clyde C. Walton, Illinois state historian.

The remaining three books to be published in January are "A Year's Residence in the United States of America" by William Cobbett, "An Historical Account of the Heathen Gods and Heros" by William King and "The Discoverie of Witchcraft" by Reginald Scot.

20 SIU Students Take to Air On Caribbean 'Swingin' Safari'

Off on a "Swingin' Safari" to entertain U.S. troops in the Caribbean Defense Command, 20 SIU students took to the air Monday for a five-week tour under Defense Department auspices.

The group will give performances at bases in the Panama Canal Zone, Puerto Rico, Guantanamo Bay, the Bahama Islands and West Indies and will conclude their tour with a one-day stop at Fort Patrick, Fla.

Headed by Dennis Immel of Evansville, Ind., as manager-director, the company has prepared a 2 1/2-hour variety show which they can cut to fit any time slot of stage requirements they find at the various military installations.

Costumes and stage props have been designed to fit into footlockers, to accommodate the restrictions of air travel. Most of the students in the "Swingin' Safari" troupe were members of the cast for a Southern Players production in the Spring of "Ernest in Love," a play based on Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Ernest." The play, directed by Immel, was so successful in its campus performances that Immel conceived the idea of offering it to the armed forces.

He sent letters to the Illinois congressional delegation and to the Defense Department and got an immediate favorable response. Due, however, to transportation problems, the Defense Department suggested that a variety show would be easier to handle. Undaunted, Immel and the cast got busy and put one together in a matter of weeks.

Many of the students--most of them theater or music majors--will double or triple in the singing, dancing and dramatic skits, and even take a turn in the small band that will accompany the performers.

Members of the "Swingin' Safari" company, besides Immel, who will also perform, are:

Low Stricklen, Richie Bennett, Toni Antoine, Roxanne Christensen, Frank Kreft, Earl Walters, Jeffrey Gillam, John Rubin, Larry Franklin and Beverly Todd. Also, Bill Weyerstrahs, Mickey Carroll, Patti Walsh, Judy Sink, Marilyn Mertz, Joan Yale, Nate Garner, Helen Seitz and Marian Honnett.

SIU Switches To Early Hours

SIU's faculty, staff and students changed their alarm clocks Monday when the campus went on its summertime schedule.

Offices will open and first-hour classes will start at 7:30 a.m. during the summer session, instead of the 8 a.m. hour in effect the rest of the year. The work day will end at 4:30 p.m. instead of 5, except for some classes which may run into the evening hours.

Although most of the University's new buildings are air-conditioned, the older classrooms and offices on the expanding campus are not.

Scranton Gets Honorary Degree As He Starts Campaign Trip

MEADVILLE, Pa. -- Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton said Monday that the nation and the individual are facing their "final challenge" to principle in today's world.

"The final challenge, you know, is to us," he said in an Allegheny College commencement address. Scranton was awarded an honorary degree of doctor of laws.

Scranton, who made an 11th hour decision to seek the Republican presidential nomination, spoke as a prelude to a tour that will take him to at least five Western states in an area generally credited to his No. 1 opponent, Sen. Barry Goldwater.

"We are going to solve the problem of racial discrimination," Scranton said. "But this problem will not be finally solved--and we must face this--until there is a fundamental change in the hearts and minds of men. Such a change is now under way."

Associated Press News Roundup

Supreme Court Says Legislatures Must Apportion by Population

WASHINGTON - A wholesale and historic revamping of state legislatures was decreed Monday by the Supreme Court.

The tribunal ruled that the seats in both houses of state legislatures "must be apportioned on a population basis."

This spells turmoil in most of the states because a majority of state legislatures are not so apportioned.

It also means vastly increased powers for city and suburban residents--especially suburbanites--as against their country cousins, who have been in control of legislatures across the country.

Court tests involving the representation balance of one of both houses of legislatures are under way in a number of states. In one of them, New Jersey, attorney David Friedland, whose suit is pending before the State Supreme Court, commented Monday that the Supreme Court decision could produce "the most dramatic change in state government in a hundred years."

The court ruled initially in three appeals from Alabama, and then went to:

Pronounce unconstitutional the present legislative apportionment system of New York State.

Declare that neither house of the Maryland Legislature "even after the 1962 legisla-

Gov. Rockefeller Backing Scranton

NEW YORK - Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said Monday he is giving his full support to Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania for the Republican presidential nomination.

"I shall work with him to achieve a moderate, forward-looking platform," Rockefeller said in a statement issued at his office.

The New York governor said he would meet his campaign leaders from throughout the country in New York today.

While the statement did not use the word "withdrawal," Rockefeller appeared to be removing himself from any further consideration as a candidate.

tion reapportioning the House of Delegates, is apportioned sufficiently on a population basis to be constitutionally sustainable."

Ruled that neither of the houses of the Virginal General Assembly is apportioned sufficiently on a population basis to be constitutional.

Upheld a lower court decision that both houses of the Delaware Legislature must be reapportioned along population lines.

Declared invalid a federal-type plan of apportionment of the Colorado Legislature.

The basic ruling, which will have incalculable effects on American politics, was read by Chief Justice Earl Warren.

"We mean that the equal protection clause of the 14th Amendment to the Constitution requires that a state make an honest and good-faith effort to construct districts in both houses of its legislature, as nearly of equal population as is practicable," Warren said.

Dr. King Leaves Jail for Yale, Gets Degree, Standing Ovation

NEW HAVEN, Conn. - Yale University, predicting that generations of Americans yet unborn will echo its admiration, conferred an honorary degree Monday upon Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

King, who was released on bond from the St. Augustine, Fla., jail Saturday, was one of 13 persons who received honorary degrees at the university's 263rd commencement.

The others included Peace Corps Director R. Sargent Shriver, Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman, Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., and actor Alfred Lunt and his actress wife, Lynn Fontanne.

King received a doctor of laws degree.

King received a standing ovation from the more than 10,000 persons--graduates and guests--at the commencement exercises. He was the only one of the honorary degree recipients to get such an ovation.

The honorary degree was the second awarded King, Negro civil rights leader, in two

The court struck down, in no uncertain terms, the doctrine that states may adopt the "little federal system." Rural interests, trying to preserve at least a veto power in state legislatures, had pointed to the federal system in operation in the U. S. Congress.

Under this plan, adopted as a result of the "great compromise" in the constitutional convention of the Founding Fathers, the House of Representatives is based on population, but every state, no matter how sparsely populated, has two senators.

But this argument was rejected by the Supreme Court Monday.

Warren added that, "Simply stated, an individual's right to vote for state legislators is unconstitutionally impaired when its (the vote's) weight is in a substantial fashion diluted when compared with votes of citizens living in other parts of the state."

days, Springfield College at Springfield, Mass., honored him Sunday.

King, jilted last week after a sit-in demonstration, was hailed by the nation's third oldest university in a citation which read:

"As your eloquence has kindled the nation's sense of outrage, so your steadfast refusal to countenance violence in resistance to injustice has heightened our sense of national shame.

"When outrage and shame together shall one day have vindicated the promise of legal, social and economic opportunity for all citizens, the gratitude of peoples everywhere and of generations of Americans yet unborn will echo our admiration."

Rights Bill Passage Expected This Week

WASHINGTON--The Senate voted Monday to retain in the civil rights bill the key title barring discrimination in motels and hotels, restaurants, amusement centers and gasoline stations.

It beat down 63-23 an amendment by Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W. Va., to eliminate the entire public accommodations titles.

With this test, the Senate now is on record by strong margins in favor of retaining all three titles which break new ground in federal civil rights legislation.

Meanwhile, Democratic leaders are so confident that the bill will pass this week that they already are turning their attention to other major administration legislation.

110 Peace Corps Recruits To Start Training June 19

First Peace Corps training program established in southern Illinois will start June 19 at SIU, when 110 trainees arrive here for 12 weeks of rigorous instruction to prepare for work in Africa.

The young people, from many parts of the nation and mostly college graduates, will be put through a program lasting 12 hours daily, six days a week, until graduation exercises are held the night of Sept. 11 for those who successfully complete the work.

The graduates who will be sworn in as Peace Corps volunteers, will be on homeleave from Sept. 12 to 18. They will embark from New York City Sept. 20 for the independent, French speaking African countries of Niger and Senegal where they will serve for 21 months, returning to the United States in June, 1966.

Their preparation here will be specifically for the work they will do in these two countries. They will receive typhoid, tetanus, diphtheria, polio and influenza inoculations. Later, while still on campus, they will be immunized against yellow fever, hepatitis and cholera.

The trainees will be taught to speak French, Hausa and Wolof, the native languages spoken in Niger and Senegal, respectively. English Language Services, Inc., will supply 16 native French speakers and a native speaker of Hausa and Wolof as language instructors.

At a dinner to be held at 5:30 Sunday in the University Center, the trainees will be welcomed by Charles D. Tenney, vice president for instruction at Southern.

Richard W. Poston, director of the SIU Peace Corps project, said the graduates will go into the two countries to serve in agriculture, social work, rural construction, literacy training and physical education. These phases of instruction will be handled by SIU faculty members drawn from a large number of instructional units.

"One of the really exciting things about the program is that it will represent a truly University-wide effort that will bring together in one operation many University staff members," Poston said.

The program has been brought here under a $252,496 contract with Peace Corps headquarters in Washington. Formal contract negotiations were conducted for Southern through the Office of Research and Projects, of which John O. Anderson is coordinator.

The training program will occupy six buildings in the Small Group Housing area. Headquarters for the staff will be in one building, two will be used for housing and the remainder for classrooms. There also will be instruction in the Agriculture building and other campus buildings.

Poston estimated that about half the trainees will be women.

The Peace Corps administrative staff will be composed of Poston, project director; George Criminger, deputy project director; and Mrs. Barbara Carnal, administrative secretary. Others who will take part are five returned Peace Corps volunteers, three from Senegal and Niger and two from South America, who will be training advisers. Allan Kulakow, Peace Corps training officer from Washington, will be on hand for parts of the program. William C. Westberg, professor of psychology at Southern, will be the assessment officer.

Nine From SIU Study in Mexico

Nine SIU students, accompanied by an instructor and his wife, are spending nine weeks this summer traveling and studying in Mexico.

Following six weeks of classes in residence at the University of the Americas in Mexico City, the SIU group will spend the remaining time touring the country. The travel-study program will carry college credit.

J.A. LaFontaine, a member of the Foreign Languages Department faculty, is director of the tour, which is sponsored by the SIU Latin American Institute. He and Mrs. LaFontaine will accompany the students.

Dark, Maring Plan New Guinea Visit

Two SIU anthropologists have left to spend the summer in a preliminary survey of the art, language and culture of New Guinea and Papua.

Philip J. C. Dark, chairman of the Department of Anthropology, and Joel M. Maring, lecturer and linguistics specialist, will visit in the Sepik River district, New Ireland and the Gazelle Peninsula area of New Britain, surveying for a future research project.

Maring will first attend a linguistic conference at the University of Ibadan, Nigeria.

Football Star Bobbitt Dies; Paid High Tribute by Coach

FUNERAL TODAY — For the past three seasons, the backfield man in this photograph was a standout for SIU. Death, sudden and unexpected, Saturday ended the career of Harry Bobbitt. He shared the captaincy of the Salukis in the 1963 season, his third for Carmen Piccone, former coach. Piccone said he was at a loss to express his feelings toward Bobbitt. He said the Carbondale athlete exemplified all the best in athletics; Piccone summed up his qualities as "all heart."

"He exemplifies everything athletics stands for."

This was the tribute paid to the late Harry Bobbitt Monday by Carmen Piccone, who coached Bobbitt during his three seasons at SIU.

That career was ended Saturday by the sudden death of the 25-year-old athlete who was cocaptain of the gridiron Salukis.

Bobbitt died suddenly at 8 p.m. Saturday at the Southern Illinois Airport; death was attributed to a blood clot on the lung. He had entered a Carbondale hospital earlier in the week because of abdominal pains; the clot developed Saturday and arrangements were made to fly him to Chicago for treatment. He died at the airport before the trip could be started.

Funeral services are scheduled for 2 p.m. today at the Huffman Funeral Home. The Rev. Willard G. Foote of the First Baptist Church will officiate and burial will be in Oakland Cemetery in Carbondale.

Piccone and friends and teammates will serve as pallbearers; they include Larry Drake, Frank Bonham, Jim Minton, Ken Houston and Bobbie Hight.

Piccone had high praise for Bobbitt. He called him an "extremely valuable" member of the Saluki teams from the time he broke in in 1961. Bobbitt, Piccone said, possessed intangible qualities which Piccone summed up as "determination" or "all heart."

"The harder they came, the better he liked it," Piccone said, in discussing Bobbitt's attitude toward good opposition.

He said Bobbitt exemplified the best in athletics, as a good citizen, a good student, and a good player.

He was a member of the record-establishing defensive backfield of 1962, and a regular back last season. He caught 38 passes good for 506 yards and this set two new school records. He tied last year for scoring honors with Tom Massey and Bonnie Shelton.

HARRY BOBBITT

He was the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bobbitt of Carbondale.

PHIL WOLF

Collins, Vincent Most Valuable

Reserve Catcher Phil Wolf Elected Baseball Captain

Kent Collins and Gene Vincent, statistical leaders on SIU's championship baseball team, shared most valuable player honors for the 1964 season. But Phil Wolf, reserve catcher who had just one hit in 16 plate appearances, was elected 1965 captain.

Collins, an Albion junior playing his first season at SIU, was the Saluki batting leader with a nifty .381 mark and Vincent had an outstanding season on the mound. The Rockport, Ind., pitcher won 11 straight games in regular-season play and averaged 1.12 earned runs.

In announcing Wolf's selection as team captain, Coach Glenn (Abe) Martin complimented his squad by saying, "We have several boys capable of serving well as team captain, but they chose an exceptional leader in Wolf."

The 23-year-old Forest Park senior, rated a fine defensive catcher, has played behind this year's team captain, senior Mike Pratte, in his three previous seasons at SIU, but is expected to inherit the number one spot next spring.

Collins, in addition to compiling the top batting average, led the Salukis in hits with 43, in doubles with 9, tied for top honors in triples with 4, was second in runs-batted-in with 23 and tied for second in runs scored with 23.

Vincent allowed just 10 earned runs in 79 innings during the regular season while permitting 40 base hits, walking 43 and striking out 91.

John Hotz, the other half of Southern's standout pitching tandem, also had superb season marks. On the mound when the Salukis wound up their 21-1 campaign by winning the NCAA college-division Mid-East regional tournament title over Union University, Hotz had 10 consecutive victories and allowed just 15 earned runs in 77 innings. The Webster Groves, Mo., righthander walked 30 and fanned 93.

Howards Will Act As State Liaison

Irving Howards, acting director of the Public Affairs Research Bureau at SIU, has been asked to serve as a liaison between the state County Problems Commission and Michael J. Howlett, auditor of public accounts.

Howards, associate professor of government at SIU, is consultant to the commission.

73 Acres of Forested Land Donated to SIU Foundation

A gift of 73 forested acres in Johnson County from a 1920 alumnus was acknowledged by the SIU Foundation Board of Trustees at its annual meeting here last week. The land will be used for forestry experimental purposes.

Donors of the plot are Dr. and Mrs. J. Lloyd Mathis of Salt Lake City, Utah. The land has been in the Mathis family since it was deeded to a pioneer member by President Franklin Pierce. The homestead is located near Vienna.

The 35-member board also heard the annual report of Kenneth Miller, executive director. The report was illustrated with color slides. The SIU Foundation was started in 1942 with $10 and now has assets totaling $1,389,955. It receives gifts from alumni and University patrons, administers trust funds setting up scholarships, distributes non-earmarked funds in the form of awards and prizes, helps finance research projects and follows through with aid in securing patents and royalties.

Creation of a new revolving loan fund also was announced by Miller, to be known as the "Tracy L. Bryant Memorial Fund." It was established with a $1,000 check from his widow, a Carbondale resident, and earmarked for help to undergraduate students in the School of Business. Her husband was a long-time member of the School's faculty.

Charles Mayfield of Bloomington presided at the meeting and conducted the election which brought three new members to the board. They are Donald C. Lence of Glen Ellyn to serve a three-year term, George T. Wilkins of Edwardsville to serve two years, and John W. Reed of Herrin to serve a one-year term. All are alumni of Southern.

The board reelected Mayfield as president and the entire slate of 1963-1964 officers. Vice president is Aubrey Holmes of Springfield.

As the concluding act of its business session, the board conferred its Service Recognition Award upon John Page Wham, chairman of the University Board of Trustees.

Saluki Tennis Team Captures Share of Top NCAA Laurels

GREENCASTLE, Ind.--SIU shares the NCAA college-division tennis tournament championship this year.

The Salukis, who entered with only three singles players and one doubles team, tied Los Angeles State, the defending team champion.

SIU's Pachito Castillo and Bob Sprenghelmeyer were chosen as members of the NCAA All-America squad selected by the coaches of the teams entered in the tournament. Sprenghelmeyer had defeated Castillo Friday afternoon to reach the singles finals by scores of 4-6, 6-1 and 6-1.

Saturday, Gary Johnson of Los Angeles State defeated Sprenghelmeyer in a hard-fought three-set match, 8-6, 4-6, and 7-5, to win the singles championship. Johnson's victory enabled Los Angeles State to tie SIU for the team title.

The doubles championship went to Don Gaynor and Lee Reid of Santa Barbara, Calif., State; they defeated Dick Johnson and George Smillie of Kalamazoo, Mich., College. Gaynor and Reid had advanced

Professor Taylor Plans Archaeology Survey in Mexico

Walter W. Taylor, professor of anthropology at SIU, left June 13 for a summer of archaeological reconnaissance in northern Mexico, to be followed by three months' writing in Santa Fe, N.M.

Taylor will interrupt his investigations to fly to Spain the first two weeks of September to attend the International Congress of Americanists, in Madrid, Barcelona and Seville. He plans to do site surveying in Zatecas, Mexico, to define the boundary between the northernmost extension of the Mesoamerican culture and the area occupied by the wild tribes of the desert during the era 500 to 1200 A.D.

His field work and subsequent reports are financed by a grant from the National Science Foundation. The field survey is being done under contract with the Mexican government.

Taylor will be accompanied to Mexico by two SIU graduate students in archaeology, Richard Pailles of Phoenix, Ariz., and Joseph Mountjoy of Atlanta, and by two other young men, his son Gordon of Santa Fe, N.M., and Michael Whiteford of Beloit, Wis. Carl Schmid of Maplewood, will assist him in library work in Santa Fe.

to the finals by an 8-6, 6-2 semifinal victory over Roy Sprenghelmeyer and Castillo.

Team scores for the tournament were as follows: SIU and Los Angeles State, 15; Kalamazoo, eight; Redlands, Calif., and Santa Barbara, seven; Idaho State, six; San Fernando and Long Beach, Calif., State, five; Grove City, Pa., and Wheaton, three; Ball State and DePaul, two; and Williams, one.

Match Interrupted by Rain

Saluki Golfers Win National Title In Tourney at Springfield, Mo.

SIU's golf team won the national college division championship in a rain-shortened tournament at Springfield, Mo.

The match originally was scheduled for 72 holes, but heavy rains halted play midway through last Friday's rounds and continued Saturday.

The tournament officials decided to count only the first 54 holes to decide the title which went to SIU.

"We had a two-stroke team lead after 54 holes but had increased our lead five or six more strokes when we had to quit playing," Coach Lynn Holder said.

Holder praised the members of his team. He said Bill Muehleman was two under par, Gene Carello two over and Leon McNair, Jerry Kirby, Tom Muehleman and John Krueger were shooting par golf when the match was called.

"The boys were playing great golf and I feel sure nobody could have caught us," Holder said.

Carello and Bill Muehleman finished among the lowest 10 individuals in the meet and qualified for the 72-hole NCAA University division tournament.

47 From 25 States Enroll in Institute

Forty-seven high school biology teachers from 25 states have been accepted for the eight-week National Science Foundation Institute for Biology Teachers at SIU June 15-Aug. 7, according to Jac L. Shechmeister, professor of microbiology and institute director.

SIU is one of several universities selected by the foundation to offer the summer institutes, designed to improve the teaching of biology in high school and to foster better understanding, between college and high school teachers, of common teaching problems.

SIU Sophomore, 19, Drowns While Wading in Little Wabash

Richard A. Gidcumb, 19, a sophomore at SIU, drowned Sunday in the Little Wabash River near New Haven, north of Shawneetown.

A vocational agriculture major, he had attended SIU six quarters in the 1962-63 and 1963-64 school years, according to the records in the Office of the Registrar. He resided at 607 S. Marion St. Gidcumb, who was from Norris City, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Gidcumb. His father is a coach at the Norris City Grade School.

Nancy Colbert, an SIU student and a high school classmate of the deceased, said a brother, Jerry Gidcumb, accidentally shot himself to death within the last six months.

Richard Gidcumb was wading in the Little Wabash, and companions said he apparently stepped into a deep hole and was carried away by the current. The body was recovered about three hours later.

Surviving, in addition to his parents, are a brother, Larry of DuQuoin, and a step-sister, Mrs. Houston Hughes, who lives in the Carmi area.

Schroeder Will Present Study Report in Chicago

James Schroeder, forest technologist in the U.S. Forest Research Center at SIU, will present a report on "A Tree Grading and Valuation System for Yellow Poplar" at the annual meeting of the Forest Products Research Society in Chicago Sunday through Thursday.

Glenn Cooper and Robert Merz, project leaders at the center, also will attend the meeting.

GENE CARELLO

BILL MUEHLEMAN

ment in Colorado Springs, Colo. That tournament opened Monday.

According to Holder, Carello and Bill Muehleman tied for fifth place among the individuals with 54-hole totals of 218 strokes.

Tom Muehleman had a score of 223, Krueger, 227, McNair, 228, and Kirby 232, Holder said.

SIU received a championship trophy and four low scorers for the Salukies each received individual trophies. Although six players participated, only the four low scores counted toward the team title.

SIU entered the tournament with something of a handicap. Jim Place, who has been the No. 1 player for the last two years, didn't go to the tournament. He stayed in Carbondale to take part in commencement exercises Friday.

"This was a great squad because we had such a fine team balance," Holder said, "Our No. 6 players often shot as well as our No. 1 man and that gave us good scoring punch throughout the lineup in team competition."
