Policy Told On Insurance For Summer

Students who will not be in school during the summer term may have their student health insurance policies continued from the end of this term to the beginning of fall term, by picking up applications from the Health Service, according to Robert C. Waldron, administrative assistant at the Health service. Regular student insurance is bought out of activity fees, and only those students who are taking classes while in school.

Cost for the summer insurance is $2.50, and $3.50 for a student and his wife, and $8 for a student, his wife and his children.

Students attending summer school and paying the activity fee will have insurance coverage during summer term. However, if they wish coverage during the time between the end of summer term and the beginning of fall term, they must make special application. Cost of the insurance for this period is $1.

Long Day Starts With Stolen Car;
It Ends With
A stolen car, an accident and some peculiar coincidences made Monday a long day for Robert W. Stokes, director of the Photographic Services.

Stokes' car was stolen Friday and abandoned just south of Carbondale. When he got up early Monday to make the trip to retrieve the vehicle, however, as he arrived at the garage where his car was locked up for safekeeping, the garage attendant was being called to clean up the wreckage of a one-car accident on the highway.

Stokes went with the attendant rather than wait for him to come back.

The driver of the wrecked foreign car was a student teacher from SIU, AnnChaney. After the accident was cleared up and he had obtained his car, Stokes returned to his office.

As he was telling his secretary what he had seen, and who the girl was who was injured in the accident, he heard a woman exclam.

"That's my daughter." Stokes had just heard about the accident at St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Belleville where her daughter had been taken. The girl had received only minor injuries and was confined to a hospital where she was waiting for someone to pick her up.

Playful Boxer Bums Beach;
Cavorts, Dunks Shoe, Watch

About that wristwatch in Littleton, Colorado on early Sunday afternoon ...

Or, this is really a dog story.

The dog, a boxer, was cavorting in the water, and sunbathers. A strong, lusty boxer he was; playful, but was puzzled people in the water. Playfully just tossed to the wrists of assorted sunbathers. Defined lifeguards. Ran joyously about, probably scattered sand to and fro.

The One who chased en--

Lifeguards and volunteers collared the beast at intervals. Attached a collar tag and notified the owner.

Meanwhile, he broke house and resumed the game. He chased toward the bathhouse to a stop in a shower of sand, shoved his wet snout into the abdomen of a male sunbather, and picked up a shoe.

The boxy made for the water like a spaniel. The shoe failed to float, but a lifeguard retrieved it. Also retrieved the wrist watch that had been placed in the shoe for safekeeping.

The security police produced a split leash, and were in process of securing Phideaux when a man appeared to pick up the runaway.

The score: One wet watch, one wet shoe, some sand moved around, and one wet Phideaux.

Study Time—Sunny skies and soaring temperatures over the weekend made it difficult to concentrate on studying. So many students, like the coed above, took their books and headed for a quiet spot on campus to prepare for finals which began Monday. (Photo by Ling Wong)

Facilities to Be Free

Busy University Center Will Celebrate Anniversary With Open House June 10

During the first five years of operation, the University Center cafeteria and snack bar sold enough milk to float a Navy destroyer, or perhaps, a harbor tug.

Whatever the gallonage would support, about 2 million glasses was consumed by SU students in five years.

June 10 marks the fifth anniversary of the opening of the $4.6 million center and the Student Activities Board has planned an open house to celebrate the birthday.

Throughout the day, all of the center's facilities will be offered free to guests and refreshments will be served.

Since its opening, students have consumed enough hot dogs, if laid end to end, to stretch from Carbondale to East St. Louis.

Students also eat about 172,000 eggs annually, or roughly about double the amount produced in the entire state of Rhode Island (noted for its Rhode Island Reds) in one year.

During the first five years, SU students wobbled down almost a million hamburgers and 4,570 gallons of pickle.

The hamburgers and pickles were accompanied by 460,000 bags of potato chips and washed down with 2.3 million soft drinks. The preceding was topped off with 41,000 gallons of ice cream... holy garlic, distress.

During the same period of time, the center had 465,000 billboard and table tennis customers, and almost a half million in the bowling lanes.

There are no estimates on how many eye-hours of service the television set has rendered.

Police charged the motorist with failure to yield the right of way.

Another car-motorcycle accident, at the intersection of Main Street and Illinois Avenue, resulted in minor injuries for two students.

Wesley Bussey, 22, a passenger on the motorcycle, was admitted to Doctors Hospital for observation. He received a cut on the head and complained of shoulder and leg pains, Carbondale police said.

Driver of the motorcycle, John R. Kern, 20, of Urbana, received scratches on the arm and was treated and released. According to police, Kern was driving west on Main Street when Inadore G. Garrison, 403 E. Willow St., turned his car left in front of them onto Illinois Avenue.

The cycle hit the side of the car. The driver of the car was ticketed for failure to yield the right of way, according to police.

Motorcyclists Need Stiffer Restrictions

Copley News Service

NEW YORK—Military leaders are attending the annual Aviation and Space Writers Association convention here complaining that the United States lacks sufficient planes to accomplish its missions over the jungles of Viet Nam.

Not all of them are talking publicly but Lt. Gen. Thomas P. Gerrity, Air Force deputy chief of staff for systems and logistics, put in the open the Air Force's latest brush with the Pentagon high command, principally Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara.

"The lessons we have learned in Viet Nam," Gerrity said, "convince many of us that we need, even in peace-time, what we call warm production lines. The production of combat aircraft shouldn't shut down just because we are not at war."

His opinion is counter to that of McNamara and he has the support of other Air Force and Navy officials.

"We have lost 306 planes over Viet Nam in 14 months," he said. "That's Air Force, Navy and Marine aircraft. We need not only to keep aircraft production lines open all the time but also to shorten the period between D and P day (the development of new combat aircraft and the production of them). The time stretch is getting far too long. And we need a new and improved combat aircraft as well."

The third point Gerrity made is that the Tactical Air Command needs more pilots and navigators in Viet Nam. The loss of so many planes and men has made this mandatory, he said.

"We need to expand TAC in Viet Nam. We just don't have enough Tactical Air Command manpower if we are to continue indefinitely that jungle war, and it looks like we are going to be there a long time."

Military Leaders Cite Need Of More Planes in Viet Nam

The second ruling that should be adopted is on which it would be compulsory for all persons, qualified to have a motorcycle, should first show evidence of knowledge of safe driving rules and Illinois road regulations.

This could be determined through a written test administered by the parking section.

The third and final regulation should be one to require all cyclists to wear helmets and use other safety devices as determined by a committee established through the office of the safety coordinator.

These steps, if taken, would help provide an answer to the growing problem of the motorcycle mania that has descended upon Carbondale.

Off-Campus Council Seeks Approval of Fee Proposal

To the editor:

We of the Off-Campus Executive Council would like to take this opportunity to again ask, request, or urge administrative action on our request for an off-campus fee.

This fee would be used for the social, and academic programming.

This would include the "Meet Your Professor" nights, the "Meet Your Administrator program", printing of The Informer, the off-campus newspaper, and social events.

Early in April we initiated action for an off-campus fee by sending requests to Vernon Broertjes, housing coordinator, and carbon copies to vice president Rendleman and Ruffner. Broertjes, after gathering additional information, forwarded copies to Jack W. Graham, dean of students, and Paul W. Isbell, director of business affairs.

At this point Broertjes received oral approval from Rendleman. From here things came to a complete standstill. It is now June and still no action has been taken.

We represent the off-campus students who make up more than half of the students enrolled here. We have asked for simple approval on a proposed fee and have received no answer.

We are handicapped now by someone's lack of interest in off-campus organizations. We feel that this is unfair to someone who is willing to kill any action toward fulfillment of our goals.

We have made every possible attempt to make these goals and accomplishments known, but there are those who would rather be blind or deaf. Why? Another good question.

COMMENCEMENT '66

It's Patriotic

British girls who wear short, short skirts have worn not only the attention of English men but the official approval of the government, according to the Insider's Newsletter.

"Mrs. Shirley Williams, parliamentary secretary to the labor ministry, told clothing manufacturers recently, 'Your industry has been consuming substantially to save imports of materials and helped the nation's balance of payments. Clearly there is a patriotic reason why skirts have never been shorter.'"

Perhaps our own people will take a lesson from the British about our own balance of payments.

Senior Gift

To the editor:

Following the perfunctory introductions at the Senior Class banquet, the first speaker discussed the changing values of our society and the undying need for a virtuous, and complete social revolution.

He qualified this statement by adding that this by no means a necessarily negative or bad change.

This business of the latter part of the evening—that of the selection of a class gift—while with which to identify with in the future with "Hlamingboye" pride—appeared to me to contradict the statement made concerning the evaluation of our social change.

One feels not so disheartened by the fact that a nomination was "suggested" by the steering committee to contribute $300 to the construction of a bronze Saluki dog, for one believes what we are able to expect inanity and robust foolishness.

The really shattering revelation is in the fact that this absurdity received the major- ity of the votes. It won out over the nominations to donate the money to a loan fund or to the Pitkin Memorial Fund.

Must we always have something offensive to identify with? Is not the knowledge of constructive aid to others, the belief that we aided one or many, much more valuable and meaningful?

Which is the more honorable gift, a bronze dog or a constructive contribution? These will say the statue is in keeping with tradition.

However, is not the tradition in the gift? Is the pride not the utility of the gift?

Are Poor Resigned to Fate? Research to Seek Its Effects

Herman R. Lantz, professor of sociology, has received a $10,000 grant for a research project which could have important consequences for the nation's war on poverty.

Lantz will seek to find how resignation to an economically depressed way of life affects such things as participation in job retraining.

"One of the ideas we have," he explained, "is that once a person becomes resigned to his way of life, this is not easily reversed. The basic approach has been one of pouring money into poverty programs. The resolution of poverty will take much more." He said there is a "culture of poverty" surrounding those who grow up in chronically depressed areas, resignation to poverty as a way of life being part of it.

\[U+201C\] We feel that an understanding of this poverty culture is essential if poverty is to be successfully combatted," he said.

"Resignation seems to present special obstacles to change, and we hope to find whether there is a possibility of providing these kinds of people with special help, such as vocational and personal counseling," opportunity.

Co-investigator in the study will be Ernest Alls, Lockport, N.Y., doctoral student in sociology who has accepted a faculty post at the University of Buffalo upon completion of his study at Southern.

The grant is from the U.S. Labor Department's Office of Manpower Automation and Training.
Perfect Touchdown Ends Space Flight

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—Riding a lucky east wind, the hot and happy Gemini 9 pilots breezed home Monday with startling accuracy—the last and best rendezvous of all—in three troubled days of space flying and a world record walk in the sky.

Command pilot Thomas P. Stafford and space walker Eugene A. Cernan splashed down at 10 a.m. EDT just half a mile short of their target and 3 1/2 miles off the bow of the aircraft carrier U.S.S. Wasp—the most accurate landing yet.

"This is so fantastic that I can hardly believe it," Cernan said when he was told how sharp the landing was. "We did much better than we thought."

The big orange parachute of the spacecraft was in sight of the Wasp and a national television audience as it broke through the thin overcast—and Navy flyers were on it so fast it had not cooled off from its blazing re-entry.

"It was very hot to the touch," said one of the first astronauts to reach the space ship in the water. It was a tribute to the flying skill of space veteran Stafford and the rapid-fire calculations of his copilot as Atom Smasher Award Reported SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (State Sen. George Drach of Springfield said Monday Illinois will be awarded the $375 million atom smashers to be constructed at Weston, west of Chicago.

Drach, chairman of the Illinois Commission on Atomic Energy, said the official announcement will be made later in Washington by the Atomic Energy Commission.

He said his information came from "reliable sources which must remain undisclosed at this time."

Dr. Sam Sheppard Trial Ruled Unfair by Supreme Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled Monday that prejudicial publicity and "bedlam" in the courthouse denied Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard a fair trial in the bludgeon slaying of his first wife.

"The carnival atmosphere at the trial could easily have been avoided," the court said in ordering the former Cleveland, Ohio, medical school professor freed unless the state gives him a new trial within a reasonable time."

Stafford rolled the spacecraft right and left during the fiery re-entry to adjust the gravity roll of the ship.

Then the spacecraft hit the easiest wind that blew the 84-foot main parachute into the lap of the recovery fleet, a happy ending to a flight that had been plagued with troubles since last February.

The nation could see the recovery live on television, via EarlyBird satellite, on President John F. Kennedy's Dallas ranch. He telephoned the two astronauts and told them, "We're very proud of both of you."

"You have made all of us more aware of what performance under pressure is all about and that includes courage," he said during a five-minute conversation.

Southern took three firsts and a second in the nine other events Saturday to tie for second place in the Central Collegiate Conference track meet at South Bend, Ind.

Two of the nine events went with performances by Oscar Moore and John Vernon, and the third was by Gary Carr in the 440 yard dash.

The meet was won by Michigan State, which tallied 92 points to 55 for the Blue Devils.

Moore breezed home more than 100 yards ahead of his nearest opponent in the two-mile run with a record clocking of 8:50.9.

The former Olympian finished 10 seconds plus ahead of John Petersen of Northern Illinois and about 14 seconds in front of Kansas' John Lawson. Vernon's first came in his specialty, the triple jump, with a leap of 59-21/2. His jump was more than nine inches farther than the record that had stood for four years. Carr picked up the other first in the 440 with a time of 48.2, he was three-tenths of a second behind Bowling Green's Henry Williams, who came in second.

The Salukis nearly added another first in the mile relay as they were beaten out by behind champion Michigan State. The Spaniards' star performer, Carr staged a dramatic duel in the final turn of the mile scene, but the wire. Michigan State finished at 3:31.4. Southern's George Woods, who had been expected to take the shot in the first, was knocked out in that event by Eugene Crews of Missouri, whose toss of 59-8 1/2 was inches better than Woods', the Saluki senior turned in his best effort of the season in the discussion in a toss of 106-13/4, but it was only good enough to secure second place.

Other high finishers for the Salukis included Rosoe Mackenzie, who turned in a big jump with a leap of 6-7. The event was won by Minnesota's Steve Herndon with a jump of 7-111/4 for a new meet record. Herndon was voted the meet's outstanding performer.

Joe Beachell added a second for the Salukis with a 200-2 toss in the javelin, while Jack Leyden's third place in the hammer throw enabled Saluki to score as he finished third in the 3,000-meter steeplechase with a time of 9:36.4.

More Action Awaits Saluki Nine in Summer

By Mike Schwebel

While regular-season baseball may be over for the Saluki s, there should be a lot of action in store for them during the summer.

Many of the personnel who acted in a 27-season softball run by Coach Joe Lutz con­tinues his expansion program, and skidivers brightened the scene at the diamonds on several occasions.

Even though Lutz will have plenty to work with next season, his recruiting has already begun.

The first-year coach in Santa Fe last year, the junior college championships and hoping to land some top talent.

He also has big hopes for added facilities at the SBU diamond.

"I hope that sometime in the near future, we can have lights installed at the diamond," he said. "Also, I hope to have bleachers added and have press and radio facilities."

This year's fine young pitching staff was the backbone for the Saluki victos this year, Sophomore ace Don Kirkland emerged as the No. 1 pitcher, Jim Panther and Bill Liskay both came on strong in the latter part of the season, and lefty Wayne Sramek failed off somewhat from his torrid opening pace. Howard Nickason also did an admirable job.

Another bright spot of the year came near the end of the season, as the Saluki bats perked up during the last few contests.

Rich Collins, Paul Pave­ sich, Russ Keene, Butch Evans and Tex Sandstead should all be back swinging a stronger stick.\n
Defensively, the Salukis hurt themselves on quite a few occasions this year. Their lack of speed has also been a factor which undoubtedly hurt their chances for a better record. Stolen bases were few and far between this year, and the extra base which they couldn't attempt to reach hurt them.

On the plus side, of course, is youth. Many observers figured the inexperienced squad would do well to finish above the .500 mark.

They ended up going far and above that mark, and next year may move Lutz's timetable quite a bit ahead of what the optimistic coach is seeking.
