Dr. Winn Addresses Grads Will Hear Honor Students at Hutchins Speak Special Assembly At Commencement

"Take stock of what you are building . . . as you think, and say, and do, so will America," Dr. Georgia Winn, associate professor of English, told honor students at the Honors Day assembly at 10 a.m. yesterday.

Dr. Winn, who gave the Honors Day address, spoke on the topic, "Our Seed Corn," making an analogy of college students to grains of seed corn on such qualities as adaptability, vitality and strength, and standability.

AWARDS WERE presented to the following organizations and individuals: American Association of Teachers of Spanish award, Patricia Crader and Ted Beardsley; Independent Student Association scholarship plaque, Mastaba girls' house; Betty Rhodes Memorial (Delta Sigma Epsilon), Ann Van Lente;

Janice Neckers Memorial (Sigma Sigma Alpha), Emma Lou Sellers; Phi Beta Kappa, Darwin Davis; AAUW Graduate scholarship, Joyce Taborn; Pan-Hellenic scholarship plaque, Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority; Inter-Fraternity scholarship plaque, Kappa Delta Alpha fraternity; Mallarme Prize in French studies, Richard Vogler.

Approximately 112 honor students from the four undergraduate classes were presented at the assembly. Processional and recessional music was furnished by the SIU

June graduates here at Southern will hear a commencement address delivered by Robert Maynard Hutchins, one of the most widely discussed men in American education, during the annual SIU graduation ceremonies, June 10.

Dr. Hutchins, now associate director of the Ford Foundation, served for 21 years as president of the University of Chicago. While there, he was both applauded and denounced for the advanced methods in education which he instituted. At the age of 30 he was the youngest major college president in the nation.

DURING GRADUATION exercises in McAndrew Stadium, 327 students will receive bachelor's degrees and 75 graduates will receive master's degrees.

Preceding commencement, a series of events will be held during senior week, honoring graduating seniors. On May 25 the senior banquet will be held in the University cafeteria; June 6, a tea for senior women; and on June 7, a reception at the president's home for members of the graduating classes and their parents.

A senior picnic is scheduled for June 8, and on June 9, an alumni banquet. Graduation ceremonies will begin at 7 p.m. June 10.

HAVING LITTLE FAITH in the report that women will not be drafted, Annette Clary, Chester, left, Southern Illinois University coed, decided Monday to make a last-minute application for taking the college qualification test in order to be draft-deferred until her education is completed. Helen Gene Baker, clerk for Jackson County Selection Service Local Board Number 139, Murphysboro, explains that no provision has been made, as yet, for women to take the tests.

Selective Service College Qualifications tests will begin at 8:30 a.m. Central Standard at Southern Illinois University on May 26, June 16, and June 30 according to Clark Davis, dean of men and director of testing.

by Miss Gilkeson. Howey played the Concerto in B minor for viola, Andante by Handel, and Hughes performed with Beethoven's Sonata for horn and piano, allegro moderato.

All university seniors majoring in music are required to present recitals to receive either bachelor of music education degrees or bachelor of science degrees in education with majors in music.

Our Opinions . . .

Prom Problems . . .

At some colleges and universities, an annual event comparable to the Junior-Senior prom is one of the real highlights of the school year.

It is viewed as a courtesy dance given by the junior class for the departing seniors and both classes go all out to make it a success. Sometimes a big-name band is procured for the evening, or a local band may be signed up.

At Southern last Friday night, a handful of juniors and seniors rattled around in the Women's gym for two or three hours to the music of Austin Little. The prom picture in this issue of the Egyptian is really very deceptive in that, while the picture looks comfortably filled with students, in reality, there were not many more than that present at the dance.

PERHAPS MORE WOULD have attended if the dance had not been formal. Or perhaps there are just too many other activities during spring term that detract from the junior-senior prom. Or maybe expenses of Spring Festival are still having their after effects. We don't know.

But we do know that a prom of the size that SIU had last Saturday night could not be considered a roaring success by any means. We're sure that the committees that worked on the affair tried their best to put it over, but if there aren't more than 20 or 30 couples at a dance, what can be done about it?

We are not saying that it is the patriotic duty of all juniors and seniors to attend the prom, or that a $5 fine should be placed on all non-attenders. We are saying, however, that if the SIU students concerned are not interested enough to attend, it might be a good idea to drop the Junior-Senior prom from the list of spring activities. V. M.

Spry, Low Ceiling

A note to Southern's commuters. A student at the American Institute for Foreign Trade at Phoenix, Ariz., flies to school each day.

He simply hops into an airplane at Paradise Airport—15 miles away—and flies to Thunderbird field just outside Phoenix.

He works for a crop-dusting firm beginning at dawn and the firm lets him use the plane to fly to school. He returns in mid-afternoon to Paradise to drop more insecticides.

We doubt if any Southern commuter has ever given "low ceiling" as an excuse for missing school.

Well-dressed Cops

We are happy to note that after many years of wearing a miscellany of clothes, from jeans on, the campus cops blossomed out this spring term with brand new navy blue police suits. Not only do they present an overall neat appearance, but they make the cops look more like cops than ever.

SIU Exposure

Recent Events Point To Area Development

By Harry Reinert

Two recent events seem to us to have answered conclusively the question often proposed in one form or another—"Can anything good come out of Southern Illinois?" The answer is yes!

The first of these proofs is the music festival held in McAndrew stadium last weekend. The quality of musicianship was remarkably good. Riding herd on 2,000 or more performers is no easy matter, and a good deal of credit goes to those who did—and did it successfully.

The second proof was exhibited yesterday morning in the Honors day assembly, when a large group of students were recognized for high scholarship. Also, within the past two or three weeks, three departments of the university alone have announced that eight students have been awarded assistantships, scholarships, or fellowships to other universities next year. Each of these is an indication of the further development of Southern's intellectual standing.

Still other students will soon have an opportunity to display their mental wares when they take the draft deferment exams on campus soon. Those who didn't get their applications in on time should note that the deadline has been extended ten days—until midnight May 25, a week from today.

It is with interest that we have noticed the broken pane in the bulletin board near the main gate to the campus. The pane was broken around a month ago, and the shattered pieces of glass are still lying on the sidewalk. Needless to say, the pane has not yet been replaced.

Notable quote: Experience teaches that there is nothing which men govern with more difficulty than their tongues.

MUSIC STUDENTS GIVE INDIVIDUAL RECITALS

Monday night, Jocyelyn Probst Work, pianist, presented her individual recital. Next Monday night, May 21, Alma Dean Smith, vocalist, will present her senior recital. Alma Deane has also been selected to sing at the commencement exercises in June.

The month's musical calendar will be closed with a general recital by music department students scheduled for presentation on May 28.

All recitals are held in the Little Theatre and are open to the public.

NEAL CHOSEN EDITOR OF EDUCATION MAGAZINE

Dr. Charles D. Neal, director of teacher training at Southern Illinois University, has been selected by the Palmer Publishing House to be associate editor of the January, 1952 issue of Education magazine.

Education is a national, professional magazine which features a new field of education each month. Dr. Neal's issue will be devoted entirely to articles on teacher training.

SIU Housing for Summer Term Will Be Adequate

Sufficient housing will be available for the summer term here at Southern for men and women students and veterans with families, according to Mrs. Mabel Pulliam, director of student housing, and Ernest R. Wolfe, superintendent of Veterans Housing.

A listing of apartments available for occupancy by students has been prepared by the student housing office and is available upon request. The number of student rooms available is adequate to accommodate the summer enrollment. Rent on a double room is from $2.50 to $4.50 per week; single rooms rent from $5 to $8 per week, according to Mrs. Pulliam.

Veteran students with families will have a choice of two-bedroom (4 room) apartments, renting for $37.50 per month or a three-bedroom (5 room) apartment, renting for $42.50 per month at the Ordnance Plant Veterans Housing Project located 10 miles from the campus. This project, known as the Southern Acres Association and consisting of 95 apartments, maintains its own governmental organization, fire department, recreation hall, and playgrounds.

Student Center

Will Open Soon

Southern Illinois University students are looking forward to the opening within the next few days of a new Student Union Center to be located in a converted barracks building just east of 313 W. Harwood Avenue. The center has been located temporarily at 910 S. University Avenue.

The new student center will provide offices for student organizations, a meeting room with adjoining kitchen to be used for teas, a card room, a large lounge, a classical music room, a women's lounge, rest rooms, and storage space. An adjoining barracks will be used for personnel offices.

Official opening of the center will be observed with an open house.

The student center is under the general supervision of Miss Leah Farr, acting dean of women, and Robert Etheridge, assistant dean of men.

Free Movies To Be Shown at Southern

Free movies sponsored by the Lectures and Entertainment committee and Audio-Visual Aids service will be shown weekly during the summer term in McAndrew stadium, according to Donald A. Ingli, director of the Audio-Visual Aids service.

The program will consist of a series of feature foreign films with an occasional American production. An educational short, newsreel or March of Time film will be shown along with each feature.

PRESENT PLANS are to show the movies on each Wednesday night except on July 4 and the last week of the summer term.

July 5 will be submitted for the Independence day holiday and the last week will be omitted because of final exams.

In case of rain the movies will be shown in Shryock auditorium.

Dr. Ingli said that prospects are to continue this program during the 1951-52 regular school year with the movies scheduled for a week night every two weeks instead of every Wednesday night.

TO HOLD ANNUAL SENIOR BANQUET NEXT WEEK

Graduating seniors will be guests at the annual senior banquet to be held Friday, May 25, in the university cafeteria. The cafeteria will be closed at that time to everyone except the seniors.

Music Festival Was Well Titled

By Harry Reinert

Southern's musical extravaganza, "Music Under the Stars," held in McAndrew stadium last week was well-titled—the night was clear and cool, and music was plentiful.

The packed stadium was decorated with various musical symbols, and a variety of lighting effects made possible a smoothly run show, which was no small matter considering the number of participants.

Violin soloist Mrs. Harold Taylor gave a very creditable performance, drawing full rich tones from her instrument. The honored soloist, Miss Helen Spann, sang the selection from "Madame Butterfly" beautifully, but was not as equally effective on her other numbers—folk songs.

ORGANIZATIONS participating in the program were all good—surprisingly so. The elementary chorus sang with good balance and intonation, and the elementary band performed with skill which would do credit to a much older group. The high school chorus and band were even better. The folk dances presented by the university women's physical education department were very colorful and well executed.

The featured soloist, Burl Ives, was undoubtedly the most popular performer of the evening. Interspersing his songs with humorous comments, Ives presented an entertaining show by himself, and left no doubt of his supremacy in his field of music.

Home Economics Class

Sponsors Demonstration

The food demonstration class is sponsoring several food demonstrations to be held next week. Monday at 10 a.m., Gerry Hernden is giving a demonstration entitled "Rice and Rice Cookery." The demonstration will be held in Main 111.

Madeline Smith Starts Annual French Prize

An endowment to provide an annual prize for proficiency in the French language and literature has been given to Southern by Miss Madeline Smith, assistant professor of foreign languages.

This award, which is to be called the Mallarme Prize in French Studies, in honor of the great poet, was given for the first time this year on Honors Day yesterday. The recipient must be a French major of great ability and achievement, and a graduating senior.

At the present time Miss Smith is engaged on a thesis on Stephane Mallarme, who lived in the latter half of the 19th century and died in 1898. Reminded of the music societies who name their awards after composers, and an admirer of Mallarme, she decided to let this prize stand as a memorial to him.

All Freshmen Students May Enroll in AFROTC

Sufficient Air Force teaching staff will be available to permit all freshman students to participate in the Southern Illinois University Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps program, Colonel C. V. Burke, Tenth Air Force Headquarters, Selfridge (Mich.) Air Force base, has advised university officials.

The two-year basic program will be required of all male freshman students who are physically fit and will be a part of their regular academic program. Trainees who meet minimum standards will be eligible for military deferment. Advanced training options at Southern will include armament, administration and logistics, flight operations, and general technical careers.

STUDENTS WHO complete four years in the AFROTC, two years of basic and two years of advanced training, will be commissioned as second lieutenants in the United States Air Force Reserve.

It is doubtful that SIU seniors for the next academic year will be enrolled in the AFROTC program. However, the AFROTC advanced program may be opened to juniors with previous military training.

The SIU unit will be one of the first to be issued the new blue Air Force uniforms for basic as well as advanced trainees. Uniforms and teaching staff are being supplied by the Air Force. The university will have custody of supplies and will provide classroom facilities.

Strong Northern Club Here This Weekend

Northern's Huskies, defending champs in the I.I.A.C., will be guests of Glenn (Abe) Martin's baseball squad in a two game series this week-end. The Southern Maroons will be trying for their sixth and seventh conference victories as compared to three losses. A double win by the Martinmen will put them back in strong contention for the 1951 title.

Although finishing second to the Huskies last season, the Maroons made a clean sweep of their two game series with them.

Darrell Thompson will probably be the starting pitcher for Southern in Friday's game, with either Reid Martin or Tom Millikin, the hero of the 3-2 victory over Millikin U., drawing the assignment for Saturday.

Frank Marino, currently the Huskies' top hurler, will probably go today for Northern. The starting time for today's game will be 3:00 p.m. Saturday's contest will get under way at 1:30 p.m.

COACH GLENN (ABE) MARTIN of the Southern baseball team, will have two victories as his goal this weekend when his diamond crew takes the field against the powerful Northern State Huskies. Last year, the Southern nine defeated the Huskies at DeKalb two games in a row. If this year's team can duplicate that feat, Southern will be in strong contention for the conference crown.

St. Louis U. Nips SIU Baseballers In Close Contest

Six Southern errors handed St. Louis U. six unearned runs and a 7-6 victory in a game played at St. Louis last Tuesday. Starter Darrell Thompson allowed two hits, walked six, struck out three, and gave up four runs, three of which were unearned, in the five innings that he worked. Thompson was lifted for a pinch hitter in the sixth. Wayne Grandcolas finished the pitching chores for the Maroons, giving up three hits, striking out three, walking none, and allowing three runs, all unearned.

The Martinmen outhit the Billikins, 11-5. Bubba Burns led the Southern offensive with three hits in four tries, including an eighth inning triple which drove in three runs. Grandcolas also paced the Maroons with two singles in as many tries.

Southern trailed by one run in the first of the ninth. Grandcolas singled after two were out. Left fielder Jim Schulbach then hit a long drive to deep left field on which Don Schmidt made a great catch to end the game.

Taliana Still Gunning For Half-Mile Record

By Jim Turpin

Time is running out for Larry Taliana.

The lean senior from Mt. Vernon, who is working on his fourth college letter in track after only one year of competitive running in high school, has very little time left to achieve his four year ambition.

Ever since he enrolled at Southern, Taliana has set his mind on one thing, which was the breaking of the school record in the half mile run. He actually did surpass the old record, running a fine 2:00 half, but in the same race teammate Joe McLafferty was one second faster and he set the record that still stands, 1:59.

At the beginning of this season McLafferty was still tops in the race, but Taliana was improving all along and getting smarter and smarter as each race was run. Finally one night, against Cape, Tally hung back all the way letting McLafferty set the pace and then on the final turn caught and passed his Maroon buddy in the fastest time of the season in that race, 2:01.

Tally seemed to think that the Western meet held last Monday was the time to break the record, but a smart pair of Leatherneck runners kept both he and McLafferty from getting the pole most of the way. "I had to run all over the track to get position and never did get the pole," Tally exclaimed after the race.

Tally said he felt good after the Western race and somebody remarked on the good condition he was in and Tally said, "I train the way Doc says and it keeps me in good shape." He referred to Doc Lingle, the master track coach at S.I.U.

So now the dual meets are over and the boys are preparing for the conference meet next week. It may be that bad situations will prevail and times will be off or it may be that Larry Taliana will get his long awaited chance, a good shot at the half mile record.

INTRAMURALS

Intramural sponsor John Corn announced yesterday that there will be an all-school intramural track meet held this coming Wednesday and Thursday in McAndrew stadium. The preliminaries will be taken care of Wednesday, and the regular meet will take place Thursday at 3 p.m.

INDIVIDUAL and team entries are both welcomed. However, anyone wishing to enter the meet as a team should see Corn prior to the tryouts. Preliminaries in the 100, 220, 440, and the high and low hurdles will be run off Wednesday at 4 p.m. Medals will be awarded to individual first-places, and a team trophy will be given for the highest-ranking team entry.

Intramural softball is winding up this week, with semi-finals getting under way. The Haan Yaaks are already in the finals, and will play the winner of the Faculty and Maroon Manor contest. In other quarter-final games, the TKEs and Wildcats will battle it out to see who will meet the winner of the Moonshiners and the Manor tilt.

A FIRST-PLACE trophy or medals for members of the winning team will be awarded in softball. Corn also stated that an intramural tennis tourney would be held if time permitted.

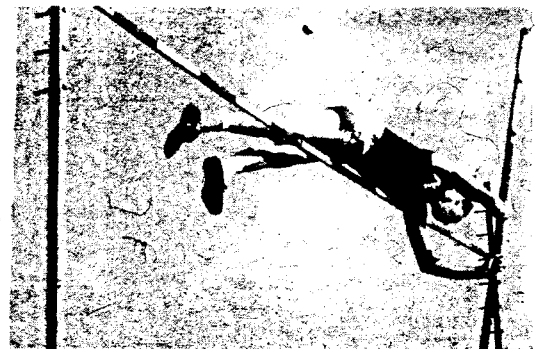

Four Chemistry Majors Receive Assistantships

Four senior chemistry majors here at Southern have been awarded assistantships for graduate study, it was announced today by Dr. J. W. Neckers, chairman of the chemistry department.

These students and their awards are: Daryle Busch, Cartersville, a research assistantship at the University of Illinois; Darwin Davis, Salem, a teaching assistantship at the University of Minnesota; Sherwood Minckler, Carbondale, a teaching assistantship at Northwestern University; and Eugene Brown, Carbondale, a teaching fellowship at the University of Texas.

RAY PALMER, left, and Joe McLafferty, two great distance runners on Southern's track team, will be running their last races for SIU in the conference meet this month. Both men are seniors, and each is a four-year letterman, not only in track, but also in cross country. McLafferty has won more first-places than any other runner on the track team.

SOUTHERN'S chances in the pole vault at the IAC meet this year will lie in the hands of Harry Clark, shown above, a Carbondale product. Clark will be attempting to reach the conference record set by his vaulting buddy of last year, Bob Neighbors.
