Cage Season
Reserved Seat Sale to Start

Students who bought $5 fall and winter athletic event area tickets may purchase reserved season basketball tickets for $2 today through Monday.

If a student has purchased an athletic event card and does not wish to buy a reserved seat ticket, he may present his card at the door of the arena and sit in a non-reserved section.

Reserved season basketball tickets will be available for $2 after Nov. 15. Students must present both their fall and winter activity cards. To obtain a winter activity card, students must present their winter athletic event card to the Student Activities Office in the University Center.

At the beginning of winter term, students possessing winter athletic event cards will have priority on the remaining reserved season tickets.

If a student uses either his athletic event card or his activity card to purchase the reserved tickets, he can no longer use these cards' entrance to the basketball games.

The athletic ticket office will be open from 1 until 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday for the purchase of tickets.

Poet Will Speak
About His Work

Thomas Kinsella, prize-winning Irish poet and the new poet on the SIU faculty, will read selections from his own poetry, a program at 8 p.m. today in the Family Living Laboratory of the Home Economics Building.

The program, sponsored by the Department of English, is free.

Kinsella was awarded the highly regarded Guinness Poetry Award in 1958 for a selection from his book, "Another September." Both that book and a 1962 publication, "Downstream," were selections of the London Poetry Book Society.

In addition to his writings, Kinsella has recorded four of his poetry throughout Ireland on the New York Poetry Center, Harvard University, Amherst College, Amherst College, the University of Chicago, the University of California and the University of Washington.

Kinsella currently is artist-in-residence for the Department of English.

President Eulogizes Swartz
For His Contribution to SIU

President Delaye W. Morris issued a statement Monday in connection with the death of Willis G. Swartz, former president of the SIU Graduate School:

"Dean Willis G. Swartz will be long remembered at University through its difficult years. During his administration, the University distinguished itself among the nation's "schools of excellence." He brought a reputation as a teacher whose courses should be taken even by those whose special interest did not require them.

"His hospitality, sympathy and concern for students from other countries is already a legend on our campus.

"As a scholar he was equally at home writing a textbook, an educational report or papers for the learned journals. As an administrator he guided the graduate program at Southern Illinois University through its difficult formative years.

"Hundreds of colleagues and thousands of students will continue to honor him for his mastery of the field of government, his keen wit, his high standards and his broad understanding.

"Stories covering Dean Swartz's 30-year association with SIU and tributes from a number of his colleagues appear on Page 5 in today's Daily Egyptian.

Bond was the third fatality in the mounting number of traffic accidents involving SIU students this year. Three students have been killed in less than four weeks.

Three other students were in the car Saturday morning when, according to State Police, another car passed their car too closely and forced them off the road.

One passenger, Charles E. Varley, 18, of Glen Ellyn, is in St. Luke's Hospital in St. Louis, where he is reported to be in satisfactory condition. Gerald G. Gross, 19, of Oak Lawn, and Bruce W. Reid, 19, of Decatur, the driver, were listed in satisfactory condition in Doctors Hospital.

Another car - motorcycle accident Friday sent Douglas Becker, 18, of New Lenox, to Doctors Hospital, where he is reported in satisfactory condition.

Becker was charged with driving too fast for conditions after his cycle, traveling east on Main Street, collided with a car driven by Pauline Fulmer, Marion, who was traveling west on Main Street.

First Gift - President Delaye W. Morris made one of the first gifts to the Spirit of Christmas fund drive which opened on campus in Carbondale this week. Accepting the gift was Mike Peck.

Benefit Show
Set for Sunday

A drive to raise $5,000 to purchase Christmas gifts for soldiers in Vietnam got under way on campus and in the community.

Before the campaign, called the "Spirit of Christmas," officially began, about $670 had been contributed from persons in Illinois and Missouri who heard of the students' efforts to raise the money.

It will be used to send gifts to the men of the 1st Brigade of the 101st Airborne Division, formerly stationed at Ft. Campbell, Ky. The brigade has been in the thick of fighting in Vietnam.

Carbondale's merchants have been solicited for individual gifts and most of them have permitted the students of Thompson Point, sponsors of the drive, to place donation containers in their establishments.

In addition to the Downtown Carbondale Merchants Association, which began the project with an ad in the Southern Illinoisan urging all Carbondale residents to donate to the drive.

Both the TP Executive Council and the Carbondale Campus Senate have made sizable contributions to the drive. And a number of individual students, faculty and staff have also joined.

President Delaye W. Morris has made personal contributions.

But the biggest student push will come with the "Spirit of Christmas" show at 8 p.m. Sunday in Shryock Auditorium.

The show, which will include a wide range of talent including singers, dancers and comedians, is now on sale at the Student Activity Center.

TP officials are negotiating with Radio One KOLK for coverage.

In connection with the Antrim death the Action Party is presenting a petition to be signed in the Activities area of the University Center. A table is set up there as part of a membership drive by the group.

According to Robert J. Wenc, Action Party chairman, the petition "delves into procedures used in the Antrim case. We further believe this case typifies the attitude of Carbondale officials toward students.

The group is protesting the fine assessed Floyd Crawford, former Jacksonville County coroner, who admitted arresting Antrim's motorbike and then leaving the scene of the accident. Crawford was fined $100 and $5 costs by Magistrate Robert W. Schwartz.

The children are selected according to age and sex and are placed into one of two groups. One group consists of 16 children ranging in age from 2 years, 9 months to 3 years, 9 months. This group meets daily from 9 a.m. to noon. Four days a week they eat lunch at the school.

In the group which meets from 1 to 3:30 p.m. are 18 children, ranging in age from 3 years, 9 months to 4 years, 9 months. An effort is made to equalize the number of boys and girls, but this is not always possible, said Mrs. Majernik.

Much thought is given to the activities program which consists of both indoor and outdoor recreation.

Part of the outdoor recreation time is devoted to science excursions. The findings of the children are brought back to the center and made into a display.

At other times, the children plant seeds and observe the growing plants.

The indoor activities consist of stories, finger plays, nature and science experiments, and physical education. Musical games are a favorite of all the children.

In addition to Mrs. Majernik, 23 student assistants help in the laboratory. The students are enrolled in advanced classes in child development.

An observation area is provided for 10 students in particular classes.

Once each term, Mrs. Majernik meets with the parents of the children attending the nursery school. The center is designed to benefit teachers, students, parents, children and the community.

The children at the home and family center are in full swing. The center, located in the Department of Economics Building, provides nursery day care for a group of area children. Madame Majernik, instructor in the Department of Home and Family, is director of the center.

Missed Mars Meeting

The unexplained absence of Mars has complicated the problem, and may mar another otherwise excellent press conference held by Sigma Xi, the Scientific and Professional Society of Journalismists, last Thursday night.

Miller never called to explain why he couldn't make it. A report that a car ran up to the town was verified when SDX confirmed the mayor's office on Thursday.

Also absent was Councilman William McGuiness who called, on a week's advance that he wouldn't be able to attend. Perhaps it was his fear that it is not sure, or something else.

The conference ran over the schedule deadline of 5 p.m., and it appeared that Mr. McGuiness and the councilmen wanted to stay longer. At the cutoff point, students still held waving their hands, each trying to continue what had been a mostly impressive press conference regarding such issues as the motorcycle wheel axle, town-gown property disputes, and the use of fire hazard in local taverns. Inadequate street lighting in some parts of town, and the increasing number of student residential areas.

As the clock ran out, it was evident that, as Public Property Commissioner Joseph R. Ragdale said, future meetings should be planned.

If Miller isn't out of town, were many demands will get a chance to ask personally such questions as are directly to his office.

Letters to the Editor

'Erosion of Democratic Process' Is a Myth

The committee which organized the Vietnam question held in Shryock Auditorium Nov. 1, is the latest of a long list of American institutions in the world to be contributing to the problem. It is my belief and that of the United States Congress, that the peace movement is impossible. Mr. finished his last song By the revolution caused through the coming. The section in which assumption we must close our eyes to the fact that the system is not taken place except for Communist leadership, and that everybody who is taking part in them is either a Communist or a Communist dupe.

This is all too familiar. The were the tactics of the late, unallied, Sen. Joseph McCarthy. If you don't agree with me, you are a Red.

The latest Gallup Poll shows that 27 percent of those interviewed disagreed of the way the Johnson administration is handling the situation in Vietnam. Is Katzenbach now going to set out to prove that 27 percent of the Ameri can people are Communists or the victims of Communist propaganda?

Erosion through all the statements of those who contain the language against the war is a misconception of national strength. The assumption that a country can look strong only to those who are not being criticized. If, indeed, there were a country wherein we could not look strong, it was against the program of the government, we would guess at once, correctly, that the government was not being supported by any expressions of dissent. And we would conclude, correctly, that the government was doing so fear. In short, we would know that that government and that country were weak.

Suppose that in another country anybody could say anything he liked about the government and its policies. Suppose that the government not only tolerated, but even encouraged it. Suppose that it protected all non-violent opposition to its policies. We would say that such a government was intelligent. And we would also say that it was strong.

If that is the way these two hypothetical countries would look to us, why should they look any different to the Vietnamese or the Chinese? They are not so stupid as to judge a man's worth, or to manifest a sign of strength,

Former Dean Swartz's Death

Termed 'Tremendous Loss'

The death of the former dean of the SIU Graduate School, Willis G. Swartz, has brought many comments from his colleagues and those associated with him throughout his work at SIU.

Orrville Alexander, chairman of the Department of Government and long-time friend of Swartz, said that the department has suffered a tremendous loss.

"He established the department, and was associated with it all through the years. He was a very fine teacher and a very fine scholar," Alexander said.

The present chairman said it was a "Great personal loss because I was one of his first students. He was as big as influence as anyone who persuaded, me, the son of a Marion coal miner, to go on to graduate school and get my Ph.D."

Mary Routh Beem, administrative secretary in the Graduate School, who worked with Swartz for four years, said, "He was a very thoughtful and wonderful person to work with. We accomplished a lot as a result."

C. Addison Hickman, former dean of the Graduate School and now professor of economics, said, "Dean Swartz played a pathbreaking role in the development of the graduate program at SIU."

"The University owes him a great debt for his unflagging effort and his devotion to the institution, for his deep and abiding concern for students and for simply being the kind of man he was."

Jet Crashes Near Cincinnati; 56 Persons Believed Killed

CINCINNATI (AP) - A jetliner with 62 persons aboard crashed into a hillside near here during a rainstorm Monday night and exploded. Fifty-six were believed killed.

Police reported six survivors were known, including the captain of the Boeing 727 three-jet liner. The jet, American Airlines Flight 383, was en route to Cincinnati after a non-stop flight from New York City.

The head of the Greater Cincinnati Airport, Byron Dickey, said officials were assured no one in the plane was alive.

He said no attempt would be made to remove bodies Monday night because half a tank of jet fuel remained in the fallen craft and more explosions were feared.

Witnesses said the plane came in low for a landing at the airport in northern Kentucky. It suddenly crashed and exploded with a flash that lit the sky, witnesses said.

American Airlines said the plane had a crew of six and 56 passengers, one of them an American employee.

J. P. Dalwick, on whose farm the plane crashed, said he rushed to the scene and found a man and a woman, both in airlines uniforms on the ground in front of the plane. He said he asked the man what happened.

"We just didn't make it," he said the man replied. "We can't see the hill." Then, Dalwick said, he passed out.

"I knew it was going into that hill and I started screaming before it hit," said Mrs. Ralph P. Sprague, who watched with her husband near the Greater Cincinnati Airport. "It was real low," she said.

"We know where the end of that runway is on top of the hill and the plane banked like it was heading for it, but it was very low and dropping fast."

The wreckage still flamed high on the hillside six hours after the crash. A volunteer fireman said wreckage was scattered over 400 yards. Hospitals in nearby Covington, Ky., and other areas set up emergency procedures. A makeshift morgue was rigged in a high school.

It was only the second time the 727, a medium range transport, had crashed. On Monday night toward another minority government.

Johnson Calls Education Act 'New Adventure in Learning'

SAN MARCOS, Tex. (AP) - President Johnson came back Monday to the campus where he once worked as janitor and signed legislation he said will swing college doors open to a million more Americans every year.

In the gymnasium of South- west Texas State College, where he received a bachelor of science degree 35 years ago, Johnson signed a $2.5-billion higher education act he called a "new adventure in learning."

"He said:

"It means that a high school senior anywhere in this great land of ours can apply to any college or university in any of the 50 states and not be turned away, because his family is poor."

President noted that 2.7 million boys and girls graduated from high school last spring, about half went on to college.

"This bill will provide scholarships and loan work opportunities for one million of the 1.3 million that did not get to go to college," he said.

"It was a splendid day for the President. He walked once more down a corridor he used to sweep to earn money."

For a while he was secretary to the college president, and Congress balked at providing money for that, Johnson said Monday that when Congress reconvenes in January, he intends to ask again for the funds.

Dorothy Kilgallen Is Dead at 52

NEW YORK (AP) - Dorothy Kilgallen, a syndicated newspaper columnist and nationally known radio and television personality, was found dead in her New York apartment Monday. She was 52.

A heart attack was believed to have caused her death, although there was no official medical pronouncement. A member of her family said she had not been ill. An autopsy was ordered, but police called it routine.
The enemy made every effort to strip all of the bodies of everything, including identification, and all usable equipment,” said Brig. Gen. Ellis Williamson, commander of the 173rd Airborne Brigade at Bien-Hoa.

The Viet Cong apparently abandoned the area under heavy fire. U.S. casualties were reported as moderate.

Williamson said his troops were on a search and sweep operation 15 miles north of Bien Hoa when they came upon a well-fortified jungle position.

“The enemy remained in position and kept firing,” Williamson said, “We have had a real close-in-hand jungle-type fight. There is no question but that this was a main force outfit.”

He said the Viet Cong wore gray fatigue-type uniforms and in addition to their steel helmets carried rucksack-type packs.

The traditional uniform for the Viet Cong is an outfit that looks like black pajamas. They also wear shoes made of old rubber tires, and they travel light.

Court to Review Ban on ‘Fanny Hill’

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court agreed Monday to review a ban on the book “Fanny Hill,” thereby opening the way for a re-examination of its obscenity standards.

“John Clellon Holmes’ memoirs of a woman of pleasure,” commonly known as “Fanny Hill,” is the story of an 18th-century London prostitute. The book is banned in Massachusetts and under attack in other states.

In agreeing to review the ban, the court grouped “Fanny Hill” with two other obscenity cases. One is that of the Eros magazine publisher Ralph Ginzburg, the other of Edward Minsk, a New York arrested when police found allegedly sadistic literature in his basement.

Gas Tax Controversy

Eruptions in State Senate

SPRINGFIELD, (AP)—Seemingly set at the 18th-century level of bickering, the Illinois Senate Monday fell into a passionate debate about the feasibility of a tax increase.

Arrington, Republican Senate leader, termed the claim “shocking” and asked the Illinois Highway Study Commission to make an investigation.

Arrington challenged a statement by Illinois Public Works Director Frederick J. McElrath, who said recently the state would “have to close the door on a lot of projects unless more funds were provided” by a gas tax boost.

Talent in Liberia

Project for Personal Fun Turns Out Literary First

Lester R. Parker, a senior majoring in journalism, has shown how a project done for personal enjoyment can have an effect on an entire country. Parker, who is from Monrovia, Liberia, wrote a play, "The Human Vacuum," while enrolled here last year.

"I wrote the play for my own enjoyment," Parker said, "not knowing that it would turn out to be the first play written by a Liberian to be produced on Liberian television."

Parker's one-act play was produced on station ELTV in the African country as part of a project by a literary club in Liberia of which the SIU student is a member.

The club, which Parker said is designed to promote literary talent among Liberians, was called on to present some local talent for the station. "This gave me a chance to use that play," he said humorously.

"We presented the play after a short period of rehearsal," he said. "And all members of the cast were students and members of the club."

"It was very well received and I got letters and comments from several persons saying how they had enjoyed it," he said.

Library Catalogue

Microfilming Job Now Under Way

Morris Library personnel are in the process of microfilming the cards in the author card catalogue.

The films will be made into 15 sets of books with 43 volumes in each set.

The sets, which should be finished by spring, will be distributed to the various libraries in Morris Library, Edwardsville and other branches of the University.

The system is being used by the University of California at its Berkeley and Los Angeles campuses.

The card catalogue will not be done away with entirely, but the sets will help to make the catalogue more movable.

Wildcat Quarterback Found Passing Claws

By Joe Cook

It's a shame that someone didn't slip the word to Southern's defensive secondary that the Northern Michigan quarterback wasn't a good passer.

Going into the Saturday's game Wildcat quarterback Bill Sauter had a pass completion record of 14.5 per cent, four completed passes in 27 attempts, but against the Salukis he looked like another Ference catches will establish week. learned that the sign made Against Southern Sauter hit on eight of 11 passes for 131 yards and two touchdowns, his first two touchdown passes of the season.

Northern's 24 points were the Wildcat's second highest for the season. Their season high is 20 against Stevens Point of Wisconsin.

The next pass and John Ference catches will establish a new Salukis passing record.

Ference caught two passes against Northern Michigan to run his season total to 34.

It's a long season here and on a few other college campuses, too. Jim Schubert, who was letting his hair grow until the Salukis won another game, has finally called it quits and will visit a barber's chair this week.

At the University of Oklahoma where winning football teams are a tradition, a group of fans, perturbed by their team's losing record, gathered in front of the president's home and burned their season football tickets.

At Kansas State University fans entering Memorial Stadium last Saturday noticed large block letters in white chalk at mid-field spelling out "Help Weaver." It didn't make much sense as a prank, but later it was learned that the sign made during the night first read "Out Weaver.

The prank had no effect on Doug Weaver's Wildcats who ran their unblemished record to 0-8 by dropping a 21-14 decision to the University of Cincinnati.

Meanwhile at Pittsburgh, those red faces belong to Pitt fans. Going into the Saturday's game Wildcat Quarterback Found Passing French Fries

Second Baseman Pulls Team To a Football Championship

By George Knaemyer

As far as second basemen go, Bernstein makes a pretty good quarterback.

He is good enough, that is, to quarterback his intramural football team, the Animals, to the intramural championship, defeating Sigma Pi 13-0 Saturday.

Bernstein, who plays second base for the baseball Salukis, threw two touchdown passes to Ron Rich.

The Animals, whose players also include Gene Vincent, former Saluki baseball pitcher, and Phil Wolf, another Saluki baseball player, earned their right to the championship by the hard way.

They were eliminated in the first round of the playoffs by the Springfield Caps. The Caps, however, were using an ineligible player, so all their games were forfeited.

With this new life, the Animals came back to defeat every team they played in the playoffs.

The Animals were the winner of Independent League #5 and compiled an 8-0 season record, including the playoffs.

Sigma Pi drew first blood in the game on a lateral to Tom Young who scored on a six-yard run. The conversion failed.

In the closing moments of the first half, the Animals scored on a pass from Bernstein to Rich. The pass to Jack Honegger for the extra point was good, and the Animals led 7-0. Good defense for both sides marked the second half. It wasn't until one minute left in the second half that the Animals racked up their second and final touchdown of the game.

Again it was Bernstein to Rich for the score. The conversion attempt failed and the final score was 13-6.

Sigma Pi had a chance on the last play of the game. A 45-yard pass play put the ball on the Animals' 20 yard line, but the clock ran out of time, so did Sigma Pi.

Gymnast Doubles As Golf Champ

Winning a golf tournament might seem out of place for a NCAA gymnastics champion, but Frank Schmitz did it anyway.

Schmitz won the hole-in-one golf tournament in a field of 40 competitors.

Jerry Rhomes was second, Richard Myers was third, and Richard Blake was fourth.

The tournament turned out to be the largest since it was started.

Ritter Scores Lone Saluki Touchdown in Saturday's Game

In two previous weeks, passing was the only thing that kept the Salukis on the football field. Against Northern Michigan, the running picked up, but the passing and defense failed.

Even with drastic changes in attack, the Salukis managed to lose.

opponents’ 40-yard line. In the next three plays, the Salukis moved to the Wildcats 27 before the opponents intercepted one of Mougey’s passes.

But that score didn’t last long. The Wildcats took over early in the second half and marched from their own 25 to Southern’s 20-yard line before Tony Richardson boot ed and goal made to make 0-0.

The remainder of the third quarter and the first half of the fourth were uneventful without a score for either team. Both teams were plagued with punting.

The Wildcats scored again two minutes later after recovering a fumble on Southern’s first play from scrimmage after the kickoff. Taking over at the SIU 15, Fleet carried twice for short gains before Sauter passed to Dennis Porter in the end zone to make 7-0. Taking over after the kick-

Motorcycle Club Is Formed;
Will Affiliate With National

The Southern Riders Association was formed Sunday at a meeting of over 300 motorcyclists, local law enforcement officials, and representatives of the American Motorcycle Association.

It was decided at the meeting to affiliate the campus organization with the American Motorcycle Association.

The decision to affiliate with the AMA came after John T. Betterman, district commissioner of the national organization, explained the purpose and interest in the problems of SIU cyclists.

The Star of Egypt Motorcycle Club volunteered to pay the Southern Riders Association's AMA charter fee.

Following speeches by student government officials and cyclists who needed the help to organize such a group, the meeting was opened to discussion.

During the discussion, Joseph P. Zaleski, coordinator for the Student General Affairs, said that he had recently recommended that motorcycles be banned at SIU but his recommendation was not upheld.

Bob Leffler of the Security Office has agreed to be fiscal officer of the group, Raymond Voight, resident counselor at Thompson Point and instructor in management, will be faculty advisor.

One of the first club activities proposed is a parade of all SIU cyclists in downtown Carbondale to acquaint motorcyclists with the fact that motorcyclists exist in Carbondale in great numbers.

This, however, is not definite and will be decided at an officers meeting Wednesday night.

The next club meeting will be on Nov. 21.

Salukis Win 10-Mile Relay;
Event Called Great Success

The first annual two-man 10-mile relay was held Saturday in McAndrew Stadium, and termed a great success by Coach Lew Hartong.

The event, which was 12 years ago, had students Colonial in which the University of Kentucky varsity and track club teams competed against the SIU varsity, freshman squad and the Saluki Track Club, is a greatest test in which two-man teams must run a total of 10 miles in alternate quarter-mile runs.

The freshman team of Jeff Rodgers and Oscar Moore jumped to an early lead of 10 yards which increased to about 60 yards at the halfway mark.

At that time, John Trowbridge and Al Ackman of the SIU varsity began to close the gap slowly, and with two miles remaining, they had only 20 yards left to catch the leaders.

With one mile remaining, the Trowbridge-Ackman team took the lead, and won over with an overall time of 44 minutes, 5 seconds.

Rodgers and Moore finished a close second, with an overall time of 44 minutes, 21 seconds.

The University of Kentucky placed third with its varsity team of Dan Dunn and Johnny Gallagher, clocking 45 minutes, 3 and 5/10 seconds.

Finishing fifth was the Kentucky team of Jerry White and Terry Gallagher, with a time of 45 minutes, 31 and 1/10 seconds.

Hartong said that the 400 spectators on hand were "amazed" because the event is usually not so competitive.

He said that "the times recorded between the first and last-place teams usually four or five minutes, and not so close as they were Saturday."

Because of the success of the event, Hartong plans to make it an annual affair open to other schools, and he added that the University of Kentucky has already accepted an invitation to return next year.

Weapons Must Be Registered
With Student Affairs Office

In 1955, an SIU student was accidentally killed with another student's gun which resulted in the regulation: "Students may not have firearms or lethal weapons in their possession while in attendance at the University."

However, in 1959, the following was added to the regulation: "...except as provided for by an authorized University representative in the Office of Student Affairs."

The change in regulations came about because in the words of Joseph Zaleski, assistant dean of men at that time: "We felt it was unrealistic to forbid students the right to hunt in the middle of a natural hunting paradise like Southern Illinois."

SIU's program of gun storage is one of few in the nation. Most other schools merely ignore the presence of firearms on their campuses or outlaw them outright.

Students with firearms must register their arms at the Office of Student General Affairs, indicating the type and serial number of their weapons.

Student must store their firearms in areas not in their immediate control, and regulated by the person in charge of their residences.

If no one is in charge of the residence or if the person in charge will not take the responsibility for control of the weapons, students must place their weapons at the Security Office.

A weapon may be checked out for cleaning, hunting or target shooting only, and the student must proceed directly to the area in which he intends to use the weapon. After use, it must be brought directly back to the storage area.

Failure to adhere to the firearms regulations, or violations of state or federal hunting regulations, will result in the loss of firearm privileges.
