Symphonette Plays Homecoming Play Both Classical And Modern Music

Mishel Piastro and his world famous Longines Symphonette made their first appearance in the Southern Illinois area Thursday, Oct. 18, at 7:30 p.m. in Shryock auditorium.

The Longines Symphonette, with Mishel Piastro conducting, had its premiere broadcast over Radio Station WEAF in New York in 1941 and has been continuously on the air since that time.

The August, 1951 issue of Musical America announced the vote of 800 music critics of the United States, Canada, and Mexico giving the "Top Award" to the Longines Symphonette for the fifth consecutive year as the finest orchestra concert in radio.

THIS CONCERT ensemble includes every instrument of a "symphony" orchestra, but with some of them, notably the strings, in smaller number. The Longines' specialty is the playing of shorter selections, or "movements," by the greatest composers, as well as many lighter pieces.

INCLUDED IN Thursday's concert were selections from Hayden, Bach, Brunelli, Ansell and the brilliant young composer, Hilding Rosenberg. Lighter arrangements featured the Symphonette and soloists in performances of "Claire de Lune," "Variations on a Theme by Tchaikowski," "The March of Siamese Children," from "The King and I," and selections from Strauss' "Die Fledermaus."

Nominate Freshmen To Exhibit Ripley To Lead Ceremony At Annual Bonfire

Five freshman boys and girls were nominated Thursday for the typical boy and girl of the freshman class. They are: Tim Bowers, Harry Evers, Ron Koler, Gib Kurtz, Barney Ross, Carolyn Bernhard, Shirley McConaughay, Anita Early, Ann Gilbert, and Pat Madden.

Elections to choose one girl and boy as the most typical will be held in a freshman assembly at 4 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 24, in the Little Theatre. The boy and girl elected will lead the freshmen in an annual freshman bonfire and pep rally where official homecoming festivities begin at Southern each year.

The pep rally will begin in the Kroger Parking lot at 6 p.m. Friday, Oct. 26. The traditional Phobic Oath, a pledge to Southern, will be taken by the freshmen following a snake dance to the football field.

1951 SIU Obelisk Given Top Rating

The 1951 "Obelisk," yearbook of Southern Illinois University, received a first place rating in a national competition for college yearbooks sponsored by the Columbia Scholastic Press association.

This is the second time that SIU has received a first place award. The 1950 Obelisk was also judged outstanding.

To Exhibit Ripley Collection Here

Robert Ripley's personal collection of "Believe It or Not" oddities, being exhibited on national tour under auspices of Disabled American Veterans, will be presented in Carbondale on Thursday and Friday, Oct. 25-26 by Jackson County chapter 69 of the Disabled American Veterans.

The mobile exhibit is mounted on a special custom-built trailer, featuring mysterious oddities and wonders from the Far East. Included are such rare items as a Tibetan Rosary of human bones, poison rings, holy amulets, and the amazing Brahma Pyramid disc puzzle which requires billions of years to solve completely.

Location of the showing will be on the corner of Illinois and Main street. Admission is free, and the exhibit will be open to the public from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Any funds raised through voluntary contributions will be used by the State Department and the Chapters of the Disabled American Veterans in the state where the contributions are made.

STUDENT CENTER WILL NOT BE OPEN ON SUNDAYS

Student Center personnel have announced that the Center will discontinue being open on Sundays until further notice.

Class Officers, Queen's Court Elected Thursday

Upperclassmen girls who were elected in last Thursday's election to serve in the Homecoming Queen's Court were Lavern Williams, Jane Barco, Pat Taylor, Pat Marlow and Guin Neely. Attendants to the Queen and her court will be Nancy Rains and Rosemarie Gendron.

The girl receiving the highest number of votes in the Queen's Court will be crowned Queen of Homecoming at the annual Homecoming Dance to be held Saturday night, Oct. 27.

The balloting for the court was preferential.

CLASS OFFICERS were also elected Thursday. The final tally of votes was: Freshman class—president, Harry Evers, 293, Gib Kurtz, 177; vice-presidents, Carolyn Bernhard, 325, J. B. Williams, 145; secretary-treasurer, Pat Madden, 334, Ron Kohler, 137.

Sophomore class—president, Dallas Tally, 167, Jerry Engle, 110; vice-president, Jane Ross, 140, Mary Ann Narusis, 54; secretary-treasurer, Betty Hannegan, 183, Elaine Allen, 96.

Junior class—president, Doug Shepherd, 119, Freda Gower, 107; vice-president, Jane Barco, 127, Loretta Bolen, 99; secretary-treasurer, Connie Meyers, 41, Don Bean, 26.

SENIOR CLASS—president, George Gabor, 85, Art Menendez, 79; vice-president, Jane Hall, 103; Delores Hamp 60; secretary-treasurer, Wilma Dummeier, 85, Virginia Miller, 76.

The balloting of class officers is to be contested, however. The returns of the write-in candidates for class officers were not checked, so those ballots were declared invalid until further checking can be made.

Homecoming Parade To Feature More Than 40 Floats

A one-and-a-half mile parade of 40 floats and more than 10 bands is scheduled for 11 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 27, in celebration of the Southern Illinois University homecoming, according to Paul Morris, Venice, and Mary Jo Zumer, E. St. Louis, co-chairmen of the parade committee.

The SIU band will lead the parade of floats representing sororities, fraternities, organized houses, and local merchants. Candidates for homecoming queen, court, and attendants will ride in convertibles.

BANDS WHICH HAVE thus far accepted the invitation of the parade committee to march are: Metropolis high school, Zeigler high school, Carbondale Attucks, Christopher high school, Murphysboro grade and high school, Pinckneyville high school, Du Quoin high school and the Air Force band from Scott Air Force Base.

The parade will begin at 11 a.m. from the Kroger warehouse on Illinois avenue in downtown Carbondale. It will proceed down Illinois avenue and disperse at West Grand avenue. No parking will be permitted on Illinois avenue during the parade.

All participants are to report to one of the parade chairmen when they arrive at the starting point, so that they may be given their place in the parade lineup.

Adolescent Antics

A situation which almost always "rears its ugly head" during the week or two preceding a major student election here, and especially Homecoming and class officer elections, is the age-old practice of unethical campaign tactics by both the Greeks and the ISA.

One of the more spiteful and unnecessary tricks of the recent election campaign was the tearing down by certain unknown (?) persons of several ISA candidate posters from various vantage points around campus.

These posters had been approved by the student affairs office, and their removal was considered as a personal affront by the student who made the signs—a student with a physical handicap which made his making the signs a difficult task.

It is very disheartening, though not unprecedented, to find such petty actions being conducted by individuals on a college level. We do not think that the persons tearing down the signs realized the circumstances under which the signs were made or meant any personal insult to the craftsmanship of the person who made them.

HOWEVER, SUCH ACTION is inexcusable and pointless. Every candidate, ISA, Greek, or independent, has the right of campaigning by the use of approved posters. Those who violate this right are doing so more to their own detriment than to that of the nominee.

Another evidence of the childishness of some collegiate minds was the defacing of public and personal property by the painting of ISA and other choice phrases on city sidewalks and the steps of residences by a group of prowlers Wednesday night. The stupidity of this action brings to mind the old adage, "Fools' names, like fools' faces, are often seen in public places."

Maybe they were just pranksters rushing the season, but it's still a little early for Halloween, don't you think, boys?

This malicious marring of property shows evidence of immature minds. It certainly does not serve to better relations between SIU students and Carbondale townspeople—both the householders whose property was painted, and those citizens who do not appreciate seeing their city's sidewalks smeared with paint.

Although these subtle little tricks may seem cute and clever at the time, those responsible for them should stop to realize that they are not only placing themselves in an unfavorable position, but they are also presenting unfavorably to the rest of the students the entire group they represent and reflecting discredit upon the university. V. M.

Amen, Everybody

Slightly fed up with the famous journalistic adage that readers love to see their names in print, the Oklahoma Daily, University of Oklahoma, printed the following in a box at the top of the front page:

"It is the fervent wish of the Daily to make all its readers happy—therefore, in compliance with an age-old demand, the Daily is publishing today the name of every student in the university. Amen."

Music Department Plans

Chamber Music Recital

A recital of chamber music, sponsored by the music department, will be presented Thursday evening, Nov. 1, in the Little Theatre, at 8:15.

Featured on the program will be a performance of Mozart's Quintet K. 452, in Eb Major and Beethoven's Quintet, Opus 16, in Bb Major, both scored for four woodwind instruments and piano.

Robert Resnick, instructor in woodwinds, organized the chamber groups early this year. According to Resnick, a good comparison between Mozart's and Beethoven's style of writing for the same kind of performing ensemble will be afforded in the presentation of these works.

PERFORMING on the French horn will be Phillip Olsson, director of the university band. Two students, Donald Francois, bassoonist, and Philip Eigenmann, flutist, are members of the woodwind section of the ensemble.

Gilbert Fischer, instructor in piano, will play the piano part of the Beethoven quintet and Robert Mueller, instructor in theory and piano, will play the Mozart work. There will be no admission charge and the public is invited.

Child Guidance Clinic To Be Conducted At Southern By Staff From Chicago

A special clinic will be conducted on campus Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 24 and 25 under the joint sponsorship of the Illinois Institute for Juvenile Research and the Child Guidance Clinic at Southern Illinois University.

In addition to the staff members of the University's Child Guidance Clinic, one of the traveling teams coming from the Illinois Institute for Juvenile Research in Chicago will conduct this Clinic on the diagnosis and treatment of behavior maladjustments. The professional staff, coming from Chicago, include Miss Marion Spasser, psychiatric social worker, and Dr. Abraham Dansky, psychiatrist.

The Child Guidance Clinic was established in 1936, and its program involves the studying of individual children and adolescents both from the standpoint of diagnosis and in the working out of procedures for treatment. The clinic offers help to teachers in training and also to in-service teachers as well as to parents, social workers, school nurses, and school administrators.

THE QUARTERLY clinics are held once during each term of the calendar year, but its services are available throughout the entire year with the exception of the month of August. Regular clinics are conducted each week throughout the year at which time children are brought in from various school systems. During the academic year of 1950-51, children were brought from 47 different communities in the southern part of the state.

The types of cases that are seen both by the Child Guidance Clinic in its weekly clinical staffings and by the special clinic, which is held quarterly, range from very simply diagnosed problems of physical impairment to those having emotional difficulties. The majority of these cases are concerned directly with problems of adjustment in academic areas, the main problem being that of retardation in reading. Quite often, these problems are not solely due to a lack of fundamental skill but involve difficulties of an emotional nature that inhibit adequate response.

CASES ARE ALSO seen which involve behavior problems such as truancy, stealing, extreme aggressive behavior, day-dreaming, and extreme withdrawing behavior, as well as cases involving sensory difficulties, feeble-mindedness, and vocational adjustments. In general, problems of both normal and exceptional children, involving classroom and home adjustments, are seen.

Wednesday afternoon, at 1 p.m., there will be the staffing of a special case. This case will refer to a child who was seen here at the Clinic previously. Both students and faculty are invited to attend this staffing. At 2 o'clock on the same afternoon, there will be a seminar conducted by Dr. Dansky, psychiatrist from the Illinois Institute for Juvenile Research, and the topic for the discussion will be "Everyday Problems of Children." There will be no formal presentation, but the audience may sug-

To Organize UN In Southern Illinois

An area wide meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. Oct. 24, United Nations Day, at the University School auditorium in order to organize a Southern Illinois Association for the United Nations, and prepare for an area mass rally later this fall, according to Dr. Frank Klingberg, professor of government and a member of the United Nations committee.

The Southern Illinois Association for the United Nations will become a part of the national organization, the American Association for the United Nations.

A short program will be given, under the chairmanship of Dr. Henry J. Rehn, dean of the colleges of vocations and professions.

Dr. Klingberg stated that every civic, service, and religious group in Carbondale has been requested to send representatives to the meeting and that all interested students and faculty are invited.

gest the problems and Dr. Dansky will direct the discussion. Both sessions are open to students and faculty, and these will be held in the Little Theatre.

Thursday afternoon at 1 p.m. there will be the staffing of a special case which had also been seen in the Clinic previously. At 2 o'clock there will be the showing of a film entitled "Feelings of Hostility." Miss Marion Spasser, psychiatric social worker, will serve as the consultant. These two sessions will be held in the Little Theatre, and both students and faculty are invited to attend.

ATTENTION IS CALLED to the fact that there will be no identification given in regard to the cases that are to be staffed. Fictitious names will be used throughout the staffing of the cases, and these refer to children who were seen in the Clinic about a year ago.

New cases which are brought in to the Clinic on Wednesday and Thursday mornings are those for which arrangements have been made previously. No additional cases can be added at this time. Students will not be permitted to be present for the interviews which are conducted in the morning, but they may attend the 1 and 2 o'clock sessions which have been scheduled in the Little Theatre.

Any additional information desired may be secured by contacting the director of the Child Guidance Clinic, Dr. W. A. Thalman.

Macomb Jolts Southern 54-12 for Fifth Defeat

Western walloped the Salukis 54-12 Friday night at Macomb for their fifth straight win and the fifth straight loss for Southern.

Macomb took an early lead, which they never relinquished, when they scored shortly after the kick-off on a 35 yard run by quarterback Vic Lesch. Southern tied the score in the first period when Bob Ems bowled over to climax a 65 yard drive downfield.

Fullback Art Hudson, one of Macomb's candidates for the Little All-American team, put the Westerners ahead again in the second quarter with a 59 yard touchdown run. Southern's other score came in the third quarter when Ems crossed over to climax an offensive drive.

Lesch of Western completed 9 of 12 passes, one for a touchdown. He now has completed a total of 29 out of his last 35 attempts in conference games. Lineups:

Salute the Salukis

When Don Ledbetter, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Ledbetter of 116 S. 15th St., Murphysboro, made his high school varsity squad in his freshman year it surprised few people. Football doesn't just run in the Ledbetter family—it gallops!

John was the first Ledbetter to join the ranks of the Murphysboro Township High School Red Devils. As a center, John made the all Southwest Egyptian Conference team and received honorable mention on the all-state team. Bill, the second brother, repeated his older brother's record—also at the center position.

SO IT WAS only natural for the two older Ledbetters to expect their kid brother to carry on the Ledbetter tradition. Don drilled like a Marine recruit until the fundamentals of football became a part of him. When he entered high school in the fall of 1945 his football career began. Although Don weighed only 150 pounds he won the position of third string center on the varsity squad. Most freshmen spend two years on the "B" squad before receiving a varsity uniform. But Ledbetter and varsity center had been synonymous with the Red Devils for nearly a decade.

After his freshman year, Don went on to equal the fame of his brothers, Bill and John. He climaxed his high school career in his senior year by being the third Ledbetter to be center in the all-conference team and receive honorable mention on the all-state mythical 11.

Don came to Southern in the fall of 1949 as the outstanding prospect of one of the greatest crops of freshman football talent ever to aspire to wear a maroon and white uniform. Again, he refused to be content with "B" squad play. The season's opener found Don in the role of starting center. He went on to win his "1" in a promising young football dynasty.

Don was one of the many outstanding 1949 players who failed to return for the 1950 season. Southern's squad was hit hard by calls to military service, transfers, and drop-outs. The six foot, 175-pound center was one of those who decided to stay out of school for a year.

After spending the 1950 season working in Peoria, Don is now back where his heart has always been—on the football field. But coach Waller has now found a new place for the last of the Ledbetter brothers. So far this season, Don has played every position except two in the line. One exception, believe it or not, is center. He started the season at defensive tackle, and now is creating admiration in the eyes of the coaching staff with his defensive play at end.
