Sign of spring

Limiting occupancy law to be enforced

Owners of all indoor public assembly buildings in Carbondale are being told by the Code Enforcement Department to display prominently the sign pictured on the right and adhere to the occupancy number which will be placed in the circle of the sign.

The enforcement was prompted by problems arising from overcrowded "night spots." The limiting occupancy law was adopted in 1966 into City Ordinance 1264 from the Illinois Rules and Regulations for Fire Prevention and Safety.

'Night spots' must limit number of occupants

By John Durbin
Staff Writer

Problems arising from overcrowded "night spots" in Carbondale have prompted city officials to begin strict enforcement of a state law limiting the number of occupants allowed in an indoor public assembly building.

The initial step in alleviating the overcrowded conditions is presently being undertaken by the Code Enforcement Department. Cardboard signs 6" by 8 1/2", stipulating the maximum number of persons permitted by law to assemble simultaneously, are scheduled to be mailed to the owners of all public assembly establishments this week.

Although the law will be enforced for all public assembly buildings, the crackdown is aimed primarily at four night spots, each of which cater to a large student clientele. These four establishments—Pizza King, The Club, Rathskeller and Leo's Bar—reportedly have been exceeding the maximum number of persons permitted by law for the past three or four months.

One city official, who has been observing the four places closely, said the owner of The Club admitted there has been approximately 200 persons in his establishment at one time. According to City Ordinance 1264 passed in 1966 which adopted the Illinois Rules and Regulations for Fire Prevention and Safety, The Club may have a maximum of only 55 persons at any given time.

State law defines a public assembly building as a "building used for the congregating or assembling of more than fifty persons for any purpose."

The police department became aware of the overcrowded situation several months ago. Police Chief Jack Hazel said beginning at that time, and continuing up until now, his officers have had difficulty making their way through the crowds of people in several of these places in order to answer a routine call or complaint.

"We've had this problem for some time in several places," Hazel said.

When the police officers first experienced difficulty in wading through the crowds in these establishments, Hazel promptly explained the situation to City Manager C. William Norman. A short time later, Hazel, Norman and George Everingham, code enforcement director, met to discuss what could be done to eradicate the situation and the problems it carries with it.

Following the meeting, Everingham was directed by Norman to begin strict enforcement of the state law limiting occupancy in such establishments. Burdened with his routine work and other special projects, Everingham was unable to attack the problem as quickly as he would have liked.

The director has completed the designing of the sign, which the code enforcement department will require to be displayed in a prominent place in each public assembly building.

Everingham explained that the law governing the occupancy limit is stated on the back of the sign, with an explanation of how the specified maximum numbers for each place are derived.

The occupancy limits for the four establishments are: Pizza King—95 persons; The Rathskeller barroom—48 and lounge—23; The Club—55; and Leo's Bar—123, Everingham said.

"The need arose and we are enforcing a law already on the books," Everingham said. "We didn't just dream this up."

Everingham, Hazel and Mayor David Keene, liquor commissioner, have each expressed their concern with the situation because such buildings could become fire traps when overcrowded.

'More going on than just noise'

To the Daily Egyptian:

In yesterday's Egyptian article "Dr. Brown tells of role as SNU trustee," there was mention made of San Francisco State College and a "radical group" that "got into" student government and withdrew all funds from the support of intercollegiate athletics. I taught there for six years, and can tell you several things about this matter.

First, the radical students "got into student government" by the legally constituted election process. Second, the funds that were removed from the athletic program were largely employed to buy supplies for a large and quite wonderful program of tutors for ghetto kids. This program, which had been in operation for several years with very little funding, had been staffed by an enthusiastic group of volunteers from the student body of the college. That it was not funded by the college or the city is very sad.

That the city schools are so bad that it is necessary for such a program is appalling. That the students saw fit to eliminate athletics in favor of expanding and augmenting the tutorial thing is one of the most morally responsible actions I have witnessed among students.

The SF State administration has since then tried to discredit the program and the students in it, and this has been rightly viewed by many as an essentially racist opposition. There is a lot more going on there than noise from a few radical non-student disrupters, and it is high time that administrators and the press faced the real issues honestly, especially in public statements.

Teens aid community

A group of Port Huron teenagers, calling themselves "Guerrillas for Good," regularly perform civic duties in their community, including cleaning vandal's obscenities off public monuments. However, for the most part, this good deed goes unpublicized. Perhaps these people should "preach" what they "practice."

Conspiracy?

The Daily Egyptian has often—unintentionally—provided its readers with classic examples of irony and humor—usually due to editorial incompetence or journalistic bias techniques. The paper for April 2 gives an excellent example.

The photograph on page 1 showing AFROTC cadets performing a memorial service for General Eisenhower includes the huge graffiti directly foreground of the half-masted American flag: "Down With the Jewish Big Brother."

The Johnson and Gilpin cartoon on page 4 shows the gradual deterioration of an AFROTC cadet into a Nazi officer. Any connection with the photograph on page 1?

Finally, on page 7, a photo-story shows the "defacement" of the library with the words "Lenny Bruce Memorial Library." In the photograph and the Egyptian's own factual, yet biased placed headline: "With red paint." The Egyptian also misquoted Humanities librarian Alan Cohen, supplying "underworld" for "underground" and "Administration" for "Establishment."

Are we to assume a connection between the "Jewish Big Brother" and the "Red" conspirators who "defaced" our million volume library? And are we also to assume that it is the AFROTC cadets who are defending us against the red menace by celebrating and supporting the anti-communist principles and ideals of Fascism? I'm sure Lenny Bruce would have appreciated the irony and "sick" humor of this situation.

No praise

To the Daily Egyptian:

The Egyptian's front-page photograph of the AFROTC memorial ceremony for Dwight Eisenhower is a remarkable study. The undersigned must confess he missed the full impact of the picture until it was turned upside down, bringing into focus some handwriting in the gutter.

If experience showed that mere words against peoples never led to sticks and stones, we might safely ignore them. But that would be denying words the power for good as well.

Some of the arsenal of anti-Semitism seems to have fallen into new hands. So long as the weaponry is strictly verbal, our commitment to freedom of expression pretty much ties our hands, but it most certainly need not leave us tongue-tied.

No expression of anti-Semitism should be left unchallenged, whether the source is known or concealed in anonymity. While it is sometimes satisfying and effective to counter such expressions by discrediting the known source for perversity, illogic, or scape-goating, the main target remains the content, no matter how threadbare and stereotyped.

We will hardly have racism any gain in the battle against racism if rationalism is the chief casualty.

What kind of world?

European Court deserves attention

By Robert M. Hutchins

Since the survival of the human race depends on its ability to build some substitute for the nation state, all experiments in the formation for transnational communities are of first importance.

Hence the tenth anniversary of the European Court of Justice deserves more than passing attention.

The court has handed down 529 decisions. All of them have been obeyed by the government and the citizens of the six "sovereign" states that form the European community.

Belgium, Luxembourg, Holland, West Germany and Italy have modified their constitutions to assure the supremacy of the law of the community. France did not have to change its constitution because it already gave treaties an authority superior to that of the laws.

The treaties establishing the community have therefore laid the foundations of a new "sovereignty" and have led to the formulation of a new common law. In addition to the treaties there are almost 4,000 rules and regulations adopted by the community and enforced by its courts.

Robert Lecourt, president of the court, reports that the obligatory character of the treaties, the regulations and the judicial decisions have never been doubted by the governments or individuals affected by them. The court is constantly being asked for interpretations by the legislative and administrative organs of the community, by member states and by citizens of member states. These interpretations are accepted as binding.

Under the guidance of the European Court, the national courts also enforce the law of the community. A remarkable degree of co-operation has developed between the European Court and the highest courts of the member states. It is through this co-operative system, rather than through appeals, that the European Court achieves uniformity of the law of the community.

This law is not something remote from the existence of the citizens of member states. It deals, among other things, with such matters as commercial competition, agricultural production and social security.

It is highly significant that the French are willing to entrust matters important in their daily lives to a court located in Luxembourg that is composed of a majority of "foreigners."

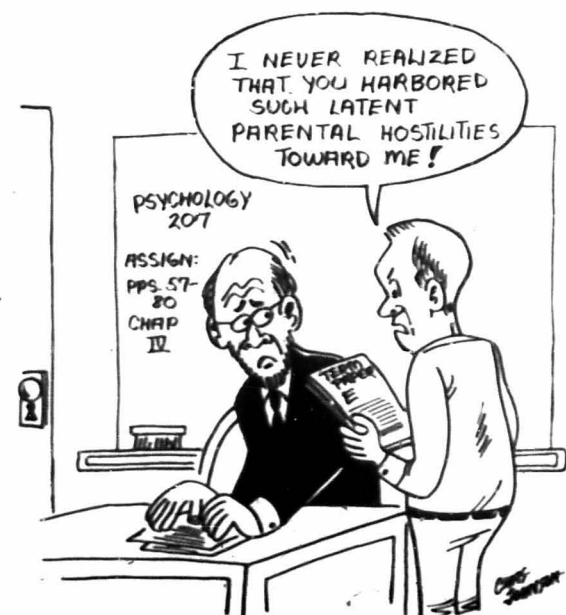

Eventually it must turn out that they will be foreigners no longer, or at least no more foreign than the people of Texas seem to those of New York.

The contrast between the success of the European Court and the failure of the Court of International Justice at the Hague is depressing. The latter is the judicial organ of the United Nations. It has been emasculated by the reservations attached to the adherence of the members. The United States, like most of the other big powers, acknowledges no obligation to appear before the court; it does not accept the court's jurisdiction except when it feels like it.

Therefore, the court has no cases. Though many of the disorders in the world could be settled by judicial means, it never occurs to anybody to take a burning issue, like the Arab-Israeli dispute, before the International Court of Justice.

In the United States everybody talks about the rule of law as the means to peace. The platitudes uttered by Americans on this subject would fill a volume at least as big as Webster's Third International Dictionary. But this country must bear a large part of the responsibility for the failure to make any progress toward the rule of law on a world scale.

The history of the European Court should encourage us to greater efforts.

Religion dead? Not at SIU - it's expanding

By Terry Peters
Staff Writer

In the midst of a culture which often proclaims that God is dead and religion is irrelevant, SIU is expanding its Religious Studies Program.

Opposing current cultural and intellectual directions may not be typical of American universities, but then John Hayward, professor and director of the Religious Studies Program, is not a typical man.

Hayward, an articulate and urbane Unitarian minister who holds a Ph.D. in theology from the University of Chicago, has such a broad perspective on the concept of religion that the program should have something to offer even the alienated and the non-believer.

The program was instituted in 1967 by Milton D. McLean, who came to SIU as visiting professor of religious studies in 1966. He continues to work with the program, while Hayward, who came to SIU last fall, has taken over as director of the program.

Currently the program offers an authorized minor of 30 hours in religious studies. These hours can be drawn from a number of sources other than the program itself. Hayward cited sociology, history, philosophy, psychology, fine arts and English as areas in which courses relating in some way to religion are offered.

"Religion has been around for a long time. It has had a dramatic impact. Anyone with a liberal education deserves to know something about that history," Hayward said.

"The idea at the present time is simply to provide a way in which students can study religion from several perspectives."

Hayward said he is interested in both an anthropological-historical approach to religion and a contemporary sociological approach.

"We should also look at the rebellions from religion," Hayward said. "What sort of secular, unofficial religions have taken its place?"

"There may be forms of social organization that are not called religions but which have a kind of religious function—the sociologists call them 'functional alternatives.'"

"Does patriotism serve as a functional alternative to religion? or the New Left? or pacifism? the arts?"

"This last consideration points to a major concern that I have—the interaction of religion with culture. How do cultures affect religions and cause them to change?" Hayward said.

Hayward's emphasis is on concepts of value rather than theology in the usual sense.

"Part of the genius of religion is to tie ethics and morality to a world view and into a worship," he said. "Instead of asking ethics and morality to stand on their own, unsupported, religions have always tried to connect ethics and morality to what you might call a 'reality picture,' including, especially, the human condition."

"If you can show a man that a given ethical principle is healthy for the human condition, or what it is to be a man or a woman, this is a much better way to persuade him than simply to tell him he's got to do it, without any reasons."

Questioned about the meaning of "reality picture," Hayward explained: "It might include metaphysics, or it might be much more pictorial. It might be a reality picture derived from the arts, or a political structure."

"For instance, you have a 'reality picture' implied in the Declaration of Independence—'all men are created equal.' That's kind of a religious principle right there."

Although there is no immediate prospect of the program becoming a full-fledged department, Hayward did not discount the possibility.

He said the Religious Studies Program, in conjunction with the Department of Philosophy, will bring Mircea Eliade, the Avery Distinguished Service Professor of History of Religions at the University of Chicago, to SIU May 8 and 9.

Judge not that you be not judged

By Dick Gregory

Chicago has an uncanny political relationship to Richard Nixon. The events surrounding the August Democratic Convention in Chicago undeniably helped to give Richard Nixon the access to the White House he had been seeking so long. It now appears Chicago could provide the new President with the key to attacking organized crime—a professed intention of the Nixon administration.

The Democratic Convention aftermath should figure prominently in an all-out crime syndicate probe; that is, if President Nixon is willing to recognize and make public existing governmental information.

Chicago federal judges are now making ready to hear the cases of convention protesters charged with "inciting to riot." Government files already contain highly suppressed information indicating that some of these Chicago judges are Mafia, or Cosa Nostra, controlled and are deeply involved in the successful workings of organized crime.

On July 23, 1965, by executive order, former President Johnson established the President's Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice. To prepare a special report on syndicated crime, especially the relationship between crime, politics and the judiciary, the Commission engaged the services of Prof. G. Robert Blakey, a leading criminologist from Notre Dame University. Blakey now teaches criminal and real property law at Notre Dame and conducts seminars in criminal law.

Blakey submitted a 63-page report to the Commission, using Chicago as an example, which dealt specifically with links between public officials and the crime syndicate (see Life, Sept. 8, 1967, page 103). When the official Commission report was issued in February, 1967, the Blakey findings had been relegated to four very watered down footnotes. Extreme pressure from Chicago public officials has kept the Blakey report suppressed ever since.

On March 4, 1968, Sen. Arthur R. Gottsalk (R-Flossmoor) introduced a resolution before the Illinois State Senate urging President Johnson to make public the findings of the Blakey report. The resolution was passed by a unanimous voice vote, though the Democratic bloc remained conspicuously silent. In introducing the resolution, Gottsalk, then a Republican candidate for Governor, said the suppressed report is alleged to be "the low-down on mob influence in politics and the judiciary in Illinois, particularly in Cook County." Yet the Blakey report remains securely entombed in governmental archives.

A quick glance at sample pages of the Blakey report gives clear indication why Chicago public officials would go to any length to keep the information suppressed.

For example, "The ambivalent procedures of certain key sheriff's personnel in Cook County, having been the custom for several generations, not only hobble effective law enforcement but assist the Chicago group (the Cosa Nostra) to operate free of significant punishment."

"A program involving the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Chicago police, initiated in 1963, to intensify gambling arrests in Cook County, has netted in the courts few if any convictions. Analyzing the 11,158 gambling arrests made in 1963, for example, shows the pattern:

8,607 or approximately 76 per cent dismissed or nolle prossed.

1,860 received fines, of these 983 fined less than $100.

Only 17 jail terms were imposed, of these only four were for more than 30 days, and of the four, two received suspended sentences."

President Nixon's concern with crime in the streets, as well as demonstrations on campuses and elsewhere, must be matched with at least equal obsession with crime in the courts. The Blakey report gives much-needed specific documented evidence of the deplorable collaboration between the crime syndicate and the Chicago bench. President Nixon has only to release the information for public reaction.

I have been convicted of a 1965 Chicago arrest, and given a five-month sentence, for allegedly kicking and biting a cop—a curious allegation to be imposed on a vegetarian like myself. I am not only a vegetarian but also a veteran of extended fasts. Therefore, I am serving notice now to both my jailers and my president that during my incarceration I will fast—taking only distilled water—until the Blakey report in its original form is made public.

They say that justice is blind. That does not mean that judges should be blind to certain criminal acts. It means rather than even a federal judge has no special priority which exempts him from equality before the law.

'Mr. Highpockets'

'Mr. Highpockets' to be staged again

By Dean Rebuffoni
Staff Writer

The second SIU production of "Mr. Highpockets," the prizewinning "modern morality" play about Abraham Lincoln, will be staged by the Southern Players, at 8 p.m. Friday through Sunday in the University Theater of the Communications Building.

The play, which had its world premier here last July, will also be performed April 18-20 for a total of six performances—and anyone who loves (or just "likes") the university theater might make plans to attend.

Why? Because "Mr. Highpockets" is a unique play: one which its audiences have greatly enjoyed, and one which its SIU director, Christian Moe, associate professor of theater, says "has very good commercial possibilities."

While a commercial success certainly doesn't indicate anything good or enduring in a play, "Mr. Highpockets"—if judging from its performances here last summer—would seem to have both qualities. It's centered around an old favorite of playwrights, but the Lincoln of "Mr. Highpockets" isn't the Lincoln of legend.

"The Abraham Lincoln in this play is a very human individual," Moe said. "And the play itself is one with many affirmative comments about the human conditions—for those who like such things. Actually, there are few of these in today's plays."

The play was awarded the $4500 first prize in a competition sponsored by the De-

A report on a chemical research project at SIU sponsored by the American Chemical Society's Petroleum Research Fund will be presented at the ACS Division of Physical Chemistry meeting in Minneapolis, Minnesota, April 13-19.

The report describes spectroscopic studies of the nature of molecular species and was prepared by Boris Musulin, associate professor of chemistry, and two of his former students, Gordon Hug and Jared Picantone.

Hug, from Edwardsville, is completing doctoral studies at the University of Chicago. Picantone, of West City, studied graduate meteorology at the University of Wisconsin and is now an Air Force officer.

In recognition of his research in quantum mechanics and spectroscopy, Musulin will chair one of the sessions at the ACS meeting.

Czechs' political situation serious as tension mounts

PRAGUE (AP)—Czechoslovakia's Communist party leadership declared Tuesday that "the political situation in the country continues to be very serious."

The wording of the communique from the 21-member Presidium suggested the Soviet Union was dissatisfied with measures so far announced by the party to atone for anti-Russian riots March 28-29.

"The basic sources of tension, continuation of anti-Socialist and anti-Soviet tendencies, have not been removed," the communique said.

A meeting of the party's 190-member Central Committee will be convened April 17 "to discuss the present political situation," the Presidium announced.

With First Secretary Alexander Dubcek presiding, the Presidium approved "some political organization measures to strengthen the leading role of the party in the mass means of communication and to increase discipline in the party."

Prague television said the party's ruling body also decided to "call to task Communist journalists who in recent days have published matter at variance with party policy or permitted publication of such material."

The Presidium clamped down with censorship of the press and radio last Wednesday and announced the army would strengthen security forces where necessary.

The Presidium statement, as reported over television, "again emphasized the need to consistently implement all decisions of April 2 at all levels of party management."

In its statement last week, the party had condemned vandalism of the March demonstrations and blamed it on anti-Socialist, anti-Soviet feelings that it said were aggravated by the press, radio and television.

The Czechoslovak journalists union has questioned the need for full restoration of censorship and numerous groups have suggested blame for the riots should be charged to pro-Soviets who wanted to stir up trouble for the liberal-minded regime.

It was learned that several Communist party district committees endorsed the Presidium action condemning vandalism but withheld support for the rest of the statement blaming the violence on anti-Soviet elements pending further discussion.

Council candidates to speak

Candidates in the upcoming city council elections will appear at 7 p.m. today in the University Center Ballrooms prior to the regularly scheduled Student Senate meeting.

The candidates are Frank Kirk, Randall Nelson, Hans Fischer and Archie Jones. Sam Panayotovich, student body president, arranged the meeting after last week's open forum with them had no attendance.

The Senate will be in closed session until that time, discussing activities fee allocation.

According to Rick Moore, finance committee chairman, the session will be used to take an overall look at the budget.

Other items appearing on the Senate agenda, which is open to the public, is a committee report on the renaming of University Park to Dr.

Martin Luther King Jr. Residence Halls, the allegedly illegal parking restrictions placed on SIU students and women's hours.

The regular meeting will start at 8:30 p.m. in the University Center Ballrooms.

Riot-damaged cities get aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon, expressing dismay that riot-damaged cities have not yet been repaired, ordered Tuesday the use of $9 million to aid 20 cities start cleanup and repair efforts.

Nixon said the recent survey of the riot-scarred cities still bearing the marks of violence and destruction pointed to the "impotence" of modern government.

"There could be no more searing symbol of governmental inability to act than those rubble-strewn lots and desolate, decaying buildings, once a vital part of a community's life and now left to rot," the President said in a White House statement.

He also called on the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) to accelerate more than $200 million in approved or pending programs aimed at restoring facilities and services in the riot-troubled cities.

HUD Secretary George Romney simultaneously announced that he will send survey teams to 20 cities to see what can be done to help clear away rubble and assist in projects to revitalize the riot-damaged areas.

Nixon listed 10 cities with the worst remaining damage as Newark, Baltimore, Washington, Boston, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago, Kansas City and Los Angeles. These and 10 other cities are areas HUD plans to start working with and it invites other cities to join in the effort.

The $9 million in interim assistance—for a short range, immediate effort—will be made available to cities that can undertake to provide one-third matching funds, Nixon's statement said.

GENEVA (AP)—The United States proposed a new policing move Tuesday aimed at removing Soviet fears of American espionage in a plan to stop the nuclear arms race.

The 17-nation disarmament conference is discussing a proposed accord to halt production of enriched uranium and plutonium for use in nuclear weapons. U.S. Delegate Adrian S. Fisher told the conference the United States is willing to let the International Atomic Energy Agency police the agreement.

'Li'l Abner' creator

Cartoonist Al Capp to speak at Convo

Al Capp, creator of the "Li'l Abner" comic strip will speak at University Convocations at 1 p.m. Thursday at the SIU Arena.

Capp, a widely celebrated humorist and frequent lecturer to college audiences across the country provides satirical comment on politics, sex, law enforcement and human rapacity in general.

Born in New Haven, Connecticut, Capp grew up in poverty, and was thrown out of three art schools for non-payment of tuition. Later, while living in Greenwich Village in New York City, he turned out advertising strips at two dollars apiece.

Capp was later hired by the Associated Press as a stock cartoonist at $50 per week. He became an assistant to Ham Fisher, creator of "Joe Palooka" cartoons. As Capp later recalled, "I wasn't the assistant-type kid." Consequently he left Fisher, sold his first "Li'l Abner" comic strip and became almost an overnight success. By 1941 "Li'l Abner" was running in 400 newspapers and Capp no longer had financial worries.

Capp's critics and admirers believe that he has creat-

Engineering evaluation set

The progress of SIU's seven-year-old engineering degree program will be reviewed and evaluated Thursday and Friday by three leading engineering educators.

The consulting team will include William Everett, dean emeritus of engineering at the University of Illinois; Ray Bolz, dean of the School of Engineering at Case-Western Reserve University, Cleveland, Ohio; and Richard Grosh, dean of the College of Engineering at Purdue University.

Marvin Johnson, acting dean of the SIU School of Technology, said the men will review the school's facilities, curriculum and faculty in engineering. Joining the group will be Thomas Jefferson, newly appointed Technology dean. Now at the University of Arkansas, he will assume his duties at SIU in July.

Since the engineering degree was approved at SIU, four classes have been graduated. Johnson said current enrollment in engineering includes 200 majors at the junior and senior level and 300 pre-engineering students.

A survey by the SIU Admissions Office showed that 154 of last fall's entering freshmen gave engineering as their "declared major," making it tops on the list. A total of 1,580 freshmen were listed as "undecided" in the survey.

Have 10 prospects

Wrestling recruiting begins

Scouting state wrestling championships, contacting potential college material, and finally selling and enticing the individual to come to SIU are all part of spring recruiting for Linn Long, Southern's wrestling coach.

"We've been turned down by two good prospects," Coach Long said. "Outside of that we are just getting down to recruiting. Right now we are finding out who's interested and who is not."

Coach Long has his eyes on 10 men he feels could fill the gaps presently in the SIU wrestling program.

"There's 10 men that we're dancing with and until they turn us down for the final dance, we keep on dancing," Long added. "Hopefully, we'll get to have the last dance."

Asked if any Illinois boys were included in the 10, Long replied, "We felt that there were only five youngsters that we could consider 'cream' in the state of Illinois. Out of those five, one has indicated that he wasn't interested in Southern. I think that we have a fair opportunity to land the other four."

"When the boys are signed, sealed and delivered, we'll let everyone know."

In all recruiting there are certain problems that every coach runs up against. Long has noticed that the majority of the men he has contacted seem to be unaware of the excellence of the SIU wrestling and academic program.

"We've run across a few obstacles as for some reason the word of the excellence in the SIU wrestling program has not been spread around," Coach Long commented. "In other words, all the good wrestlers aren't beating down the doors to come here. We have to go out and sell them."

"If you take any dual meet record of any college or university in the state of Illinois, you'll find that we have one of the best," Long added. "But when it comes to attracting the state wrestler we just don't get them and it's because they don't know how good our entire program is."

Long feels that there are several schools such as Oklahoma, Oklahoma State, and Iowa State, that really don't have to go out and sell their school to the potential collegiate wrestlers. Because of their wrestling reputations, the schools naturally attract the outstanding grapplers.

"Until we are highly successful we won't attract, we'll have to go out and sell our program," Long said. "This isn't a resort like some schools are. And until wrestlers understand that they have to go where it's tough, they're not going to get anywhere."

Tenth shutout of season

Paetzhold gets fifth as Salukis win

By Mike DeDoncker
Staff Writer

Baseball Coach Joe Lutz has two problems right now that few, if any college coaches would ever want to solve. First, his team is having trouble scoring more than 11 runs or getting more than 13 hits per game. Second, large turnout crowds leave the ballpark fairly early in the game when they see that SIU has the game won.

"Yes, those are pretty good problems to have," said Lutz. "We're glad to see the crowds turn out, and a little sorry to see them leave, but we'd take the games like this the rest of the way out."

So it went Tuesday when Jerry Paetzhold got his fifth win of the season and completed a three-game sweep against Moorhead State with an 11-0 victory.

Bill Clark hit a triple to right center in the sixth for SIU's thirteenth hit of the game and scored the eleventh run when the outfielder's throw to third was wild.

Until that time SIU had scored nine other runs in the inning on six hits and three walks. After Clark crossed the plate with the eleventh run, three SIU batters went down in order.

The last time the Salukis managed 11 runs was Sunday against Moorhead. That time they had nine hits.

Lutz said, "Confident, steady hitting is the big factor in our play right now. That, plus the fact that we're getting consistently good pitching."

Since the Salukis came back from Florida State as the twelfth ranked team in the nation, they have unloaded 65 runs in seven games. Six of those games have been home-game shutout victories. The other game was a 9-1 victory at Memphis State.

SIU gave Paetzhold all the runs he needed in the first inning when Mike Rogodzinski hit a ball that Moorhead centerfielder Jim Ahlfors used for a juggling act before he dropped it and Rogodzinski pulled up at third, and then scored on a double by Bill Stein.

One run wasn't the only support that Rogodzinski gave Paetzhold in the first inning.

Paetzhold watched Rogodzinski ball him out of some trouble when Rogodzinski made a spectacular catch of a ball hit over his head by Jim Hurley and then threw to Terry Brumfield who relayed to Barry O'Sullivan at first base to double up Jerry Degerness.

Until the sixth inning it looked as if Rogodzinski's catch was going to be the difference in a closely played game, and then the roof fell in on Moorhead starter Mike Berg.

Clark led off the sixth with a walk and Bob Blakely followed him with a single. A walk to Randy Coker loaded the bases and a walk to Brumfield sent Clark across the plate.

At that point, Moorhead Coach Bill Thomas brought in reliever Duane Ramstad who gave up consecutive singles to Paetzhold, Jerry Bond, Rogodzinski, Stein and O'Sullivan.

When the inning was over, a once close ballgame was far out of Moorhead's reach.

Paetzhold struck out 14 batters on the way to the win and also had a fine day at the plate with three singles in four trips.

Stein, the team's leading hitter with a .377 average, also went three for four and Blakely went two for four.

Bond got his ninth stolen base of the season in the seventh inning.

Other SIU hitters with averages above .300 are Bond, .318; Clark, .308; and Blakely, .309.

SIU takes a 16-4-1 record against North Dakota at 3 p.m. today on the SIU diamond.

A lot of people have the idea that a vacation begins only when you get where you're going.

Obviously, they haven't vacationed in Camaro, the Hugger. You start relaxing the moment you come in contact with Camaro's contoured bucket seats. You feel snug without feeling stuffed in.

Now you're getting in the right frame of mind to consider some other attractions. Like Astro Ventilation in every model. And, road sense that gives you the feeling this is one car that knows its way around anything.

Start your vacation early this year. The minute you step into a Camaro. Your Chevrolet dealer will make all travel arrangements.

"Joan...this is kind of personal but do you use Tampax tampons?"

"I wouldn't use anything else... they're convenient, easier to use, comfortable, and they don't show..."

"I guess that's why you can wear all those fantastic clothes all the time. Wish I could."

"If that means you don't use Tampax Tampons, you ought to give them a try. But don't just take my word for it... ask Ann and Jane and well, millions of girls all over the U.S. would tell you the same thing."

"That many, huh?"

"Probably more."
