Royal Mountie To Speak In Assembly Thursday

The Land of the Midnight Sun in all its glorious adventure and with its unlimited opportunity will be presented to the students of Sidney R. Montague, an Mountie, adventurer and philosopher, in a talk entitled "North To Adventure," an assembly Thursday, Feb. 26, 11 a. m., Shrook Auditorium, according to the Student Council.

"Sid" as he is generally known, spent most of his six years as a Royal Canadian Mountie Police in the Arctic Park. It was while he was serving as a Mountie that he showed a tendency toward adventure which he had inherited from a long line of swashbuckling ancestors, most of whom were seafarers.

MONTAGUE was destined for a commonplace engineering career and was educated with that end in view in Montreal, Canada. But he brushed aside further formal education when a chance came to him to serve with the Royal Mounties. He is not an illustrated lecturer. His talk is merely packed with facts. He has no moving pictures in order to round out a survey of strange places.

HE MAKES it apparent through his speeches that the life of the Pioneer has not passed. He believes, and he makes his hearers believe with him, that the youth of today has new worlds to conquer and vast, still-unexplored resources to discover, and he declares that the natives of the north can show the way to these things.

He is the author of "North To Adventure," his newest book not yet off the press. "I lived with the Eskimos," and "Riders in Search."

Neal Schedules 105 For Practice Teaching

One hundred and five practice teachers are slated to enter the age-old battle of education vs. ignorance during the spring quarter. Dr. Charles Neal, supervisor of practice teaching, announced recently that the majority will teach at University school and the rest at schools in the Carbondale area. Twenty-one of the teachers are under a new part of the program which will enable them to earn their teaching hours credit instead of the usual 12.

Summer Openings Available Now

Want to spend the summer at Yellowstone? Don't pay too expensive! No at all! In fact, you can get paid for spending the summer there, if you want to work while you have a vacation.

This and many other vacation and resort regions offer opportunities for seasonal employment which is available to students who act now. Mrs. Alice Rector, director of student employment, still has many offers of summer jobs which are available to students who are interested.

The jobs at Yellowstone consist of work in lodges, tourist cabins, and cafeterias. Further information may be secured by seeing Mrs. Rector in the Office of Student Affairs.

Other current offerings include requests for women students who want to work in food service, a riding instructor who has had experience in teaching children, a farm counselor who has farm background, and cabin counselors who can teach handicrafts to children and lead them in recreational activities.

Not all positions require much experience. There are many jobs open for the beginner. But the time to apply for these jobs is now. Mrs. Rector emphasized. The requests for student employees for the summer months are already beginning to taper off. Students must apply with our delay if they wish to be placed on a summer camp staff, or in other seasonal summer work.

SIU Band to Give Concert Thursday

Thursday, Feb. 26, will mark the annual presentation of Southern's winter concert by the SIU Concert Band. Phillip Olson, conductor, and Robert Henck, assistant conductor, will direct the compositions of contemporary and classical composers at 8 p. m. in Shrook auditorium. There will be no admission charge.

One of the features of the program will be the presentation of "Chorale and Fugue," an experiment in brass writing, by Robert Kelly. Kelly is a member of the theory and composition faculty in the School of Music at the University of Illinois. This work is scored for a double brass choir. One choir consists of cornets, french horns, and baritones. The second choir consists of trumpets and trombones, and the tubas as a bass.

Other selections on the repertoire include: Jovous Interlude by Dai-Seong Lee; Hymn and Fugue for Trumpet, by Henry Conell, conducted by Benick; First Suite in E flat, Gustav Holst; Serenade, K-

388 in C minor, Mozart; The Blue-Tailed Fly, Glenn E. Grundman; and Headlines, Carleton Colby. "First Suite in E flat" by Holst is founded on old English country tunes and is one of a number of works written especially for band by Gustav Holst.

"Serenade in C minor" by Mozart contains the four movements usually found only in the more serious quartets and symphonies of Mozart. Written about 1782, the concert is considered to be one of the composer's finest work in this idiom. "Headlines" by Colby is an impressionistic reflection of the violent pace of modern life. The music does not seek to imitate, but rather to suggest in modern musical idiom, a cross section of life from the standpoint of a press room responding to the rhythm of daily human struggle.

FREE AGAIN, he becomes a popular figure among the people. Finally, through his efforts, the queen's personality is completely changed and she becomes a kinder and more thoughtful individual. Simon, on the other hand, falls in love with the princess, and the two live happily ever after.

Speech Students Go On Tour This Spring For Credit

Approximately 16 SIU students and faculty members will go on the road spring term to present two plays to audiences throughout Southern Illinois. The Thespians, whose tour is being jointly sponsored by the extension department and the speech department, will appear in the prize winning children's play "Simple Simon," and in Sidney Howard's comedy "The Late Christopher Bean."

The first of these is an imaginary drama based upon the nursery rhyme of the same name. Simple Simon, traveling in a foreign land, finds that his money is of no value and is arrested on the orders of a tyrant queen. He is eventually released, however, through the efforts of the sympathetic but hopelessly kind.

concerns the Haggart Family, who once, 15 or 20 years before, had an artist boarder who left many of his canvases at their house when he departed. Over the years many of the paintings were lost or destroyed. Suddenly, the artist, Christopher Bean, dead at the time of the play, is hailed as a great American painter. The Haggart's household is horrified for the only picture that they can find belongs to the servant girl, Abby.

THEN, as the story develops, they learn that she has had a number of canvases, in addition to her own, which the Haggarts thought had been burned. The remainder of the play concerns the family's attempts to persuade her to return them.

Members of the cast will include: Dave Alverson, Darwin Payne, Carolyn Reed, Pat Bahn, Jan Petree, Jo Reich, Nancy Vost, Lorena Mondorff, Carol Krugan, Phyllis Owen, Jack Stevens, Bob Mosher, and Jim Milligan. Dr. Archibald McCaskey is director and Lawrence Voss is technical director. Bookings in 28 different towns in Southern Illinois have been secured by Doris Schweinin of the extension department.

THE GROUP will spend the first three weeks of spring term in preparation for the tour, rehearsing and painting scenery. On April 6 they give their first performance at Murphysboro and will not return to campus for six weeks.

"Simple Simon," the children's play, will be presented in the afternoon and "The Late Christopher Bean" in the evening. Between the two plays the group will run a drama clinic, showing makeup methods, rehearsal procedures, and lighting effects. Several of the stu-

Thirteen To Tour Alaska, And Canada This Summer

Alaska and Canada will be included this summer by a bus load of SIU geography students who will earn credit hours while touring.

Persons enrolled are: Mrs. Virginia Stegala, Marie Fields, Anastasia Cloud, Mrs. Edna Hammond, Betty Burkhardt, Mary Patton, Roberta Atkins, Lina Winter, Lena Melvin, Ina Brown, Maude Hodson, Mrs. Edna K. Sliwa, and Martina Ernsing.

Following two weeks of intensive preparatory study on campus, the group will leave Carbondale for Alaska June 29 and spend seven weeks afield. The agricultural, commercial, economic, industrial, marketing, and social geography of many different geographic regions will be observed as the class visits Saskatchewan, Alberta, British Columbia, the Yukon region, Alaska, and nine states in northwestern United States.

Cunningham now is busy assembling maps, air photos, and other materials for the course. Students successfully completing the course will receive 12 hours graduate or undergraduate credit. The class is open to junior, senior, and graduate college students.

Persons desiring to make the tour as a vacation trip may enroll as non-credit students by making early application to Dr. Cunningham at the SIU geography and geology department. A similar field course was given last year.

Persons making the tour will receive between eight and twelve hours credit.

Winnie Bollinger received the ISA Sweetheart loving cup presented by Dallas Talley, ISA President, at the Sweetheart Dance in the women's gym Friday night at 10 o'clock. She will reign as ISA Sweetheart until next year's dance.

Winnie is an elementary education major in the College of Education. Her home town is Granite City, Ill. This fall she was a candidate for secretary-treasurer of the junior class.

ATTENDANTS to the Sweetheart were Bernice Wepiewski, Odin, a sophomore in the College of Education; Kathy Brooks, Macedonia, a junior in the College of Education; Jo Ann Harris, Odin, a junior major in Business; and Mirzi Cagle, Eldorado, a speech major in Education. Winnie and her court, all dressed in white formal, promenade at the raised platform with their escorts to the strains of Floyd Moreland's orchestra. The backdrop to the white throne was a huge red heart with sparkling silver trimmings. Besides the loving cup, Winnie was presented with a bouquet of roses. Harry Evers was master of ceremonies for the event.

THE ISA Sweetheart Dance climaxed Independent Week, although it didn't end until a party at the Sportsman's Club Saturday night. Besides the loving cup, Winnie was presented with a concert by Mildred Dilling, harpist in Shrook Auditorium. Tuesday night the ISA held a "Student of the Border" party in the South Court. A singing party at the city rink was scheduled for Wednesday activity. The following night, Thursday, all independent houses held open house.

ISA Week is a co-ordinate project with member associations from all over the nation. Winnie will attend the convention in Lafayette, Indiana, the home of Purdue University. Here the national Independent Sweetheart will be selected. Two years ago Pat Marlow, now senior, represented Southern and this year, Lena Melvin, Ina Brown, Maude Hodson, Mrs. Edna K. Sliwa, and Martina Ernsing.

Results will be reported to the student's Selective Service local board of jurisdiction for use in considering his deferment as a student, according to Educational Testing Service, which sponsors and administers the College Qualification Test.

Donald Grubb To Serve As Convention Judge

A Visit Back

Spring vacation is a time for great migration. Just about the entire enrollment of Southern takes this opportunity to go home for a week or more.

Students go home to rest their jangled nerves and to bring themselves for the last quarter of the school year. They renew old acquaintances and visit familiar spots. Many students will take this opportunity to revisit their high schools.

Many have established the habit of visiting their former high school, while Southern vacations and the home school is still in session. Others who visit their schools infrequently may be surprised in the changes which have been made in the old school. Many will be a bit surprised, perhaps pleased, to find that the high school students seem very adolescent to them. They may feel that they have aged since their last visit to the school. They may even wonder "Was I ever this young?"

Aside from these superficial observations by the visitor, there are other things to be gained. The contact of the college student has more impact than is apparent upon the students whom he visits. To them, he is someone who has accomplished more than they have, someone who is more experienced, better-informed. They may look to their visitor for advice and information.

Whether one merely talks informally to a few students he knows, or speaks to a class or an assembly, he can possibly give the high school students some of the information which they want about their choice of a vocation, their preparation, or even the choice of which college to attend.

It would take only a few minutes out of the entire week to talk to the students of your former high school. In addition to the satisfaction gained from having helped them some in making their decisions, there is the long-range benefit to the University in the contacts by students. A brief visit by someone who is sincerely interested in what his University is doing, and who is interested in what the students of his home community will do after they finish high school, will sometimes do more in the way of public relations than any number of prepared brochures.

It can be seen that good public relations can mean more students for a University. More students mean more income. Added income and increased enrollment mean an increase in our reason for being. We can gain from the standpoint of meritury a better faculty. Also, there can be a more varied student life as a result of increased enrollments.

Whether "public relations" or visits for personal reasons, many Southern students will go back to their old high schools during spring vacation. Have you planned to?

AT NORTHERN ILLINOIS (DeKalb, Ill.)—Northern Illinois College recently added a $20,000 console stage lighting system to its auditorium facilities for dramatic presentations. The units are installed by George Lenzour of Yale University, who is the designer and holder of patents on the equipment.

Northern is the second state school in the U. S. to receive such a unit. Lenzour installed the first unit in a state school at the University of Delaware. There are only two other lighting units of this kind in Illinois. One is installed at the Goodman Theater in Chicago; the other, Rosary College in River Forest, Ill.

AT NEW YORK U.—NYU has taken the lead in the drive to establish an educational Television station for New York City, according to Vice-Chancellor Dr. David Dodds Henry. Dr. Henry explained that the NYU had played a major role in organizing the committee which presented the case for educational institutions to Governor Thomas E. Dewey. A State commission is investigating the feasibility of a plan of operation of the station proposed by the Board of Regents, which Dr. Henry's committee is backing. Henry has been appointed temporary chairman of the Federal Communications Commission ruled that a workable plan must be submitted by the educational institutions for use of high-frequency channels by June of this year. Dr. Henry estimated that if the plan is accepted, the first educational TV program probably would be pictured in less than two years.

We are rather interested in the story of "The American Boy" because we've never seen one — we can't help wondering where the author found his perfect specimen.

"The American Boy" is a popular myth — illustrators and authors of old legends and fairy tales are credited with American youth to create a composite picture of an American stereotype. It has resulted in a cult of sameness.

We'd like to see stories and plays of this nature written by someone concerned with Joe Blow, who doesn't want to be a big-league baseball player, but likes to play the bassoon. Maybe then all men could feel that they had a hobby which was some what unusual.

Travel, Study Offers Varied Tour Program

Travel and Study, Inc., of 110 East Fifth Street, New York City, which every year organizes a series of tours for students and professional people to bring them into touch with their opposite numbers abroad, has just announced its program for 1953.

Foreign assignment for Students of Journalism and current affairs will be directed in 1953 by Dr. Ralph O. Nafziger, Director of the School of Journalism, University of Wisconsin. The experience of the past few years shows a growing awareness on the part of the free governments of Europe of the importance of such direct contacts.

SEMINARS for the students are conducted by prominent European statesmen and personalities such as Spaak and Monnet, representing the unified Europe of tomorrow, are emphasizing the current of private and intellectual exchange. National and international institutions open their doors wide to the participants of the tour, who through their studies to the Sorbonne and visits such as those to SIU at the United Nations European Headquarters, and the International Press Institute, have occasion to gather a wealth of direct background knowledge on current European affairs.

In an entirely different field — Fashion — Travel & Study's tours have for the past four years been hailed as an invaluable behind the scenes introduction to the European field of inspiration and fashion creation. This year's workshop center on Italy, Finland and France.

THIS YEAR'S innovation is the University's specially designed first-year travel for girls, between the ages of 16 and 18. The program concentrates on French language and civilization.

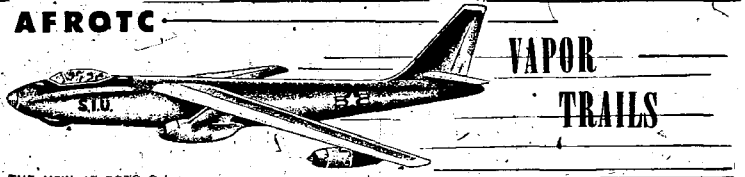

Other tours include: Art, Theater, Music, with trips to the major Arts Festivals in Europe; East & West Studies in an in-depth behind the scenes introduction to the European field of inspiration and fashion creation. This year's workshop center on Italy, Finland and France.

Salukis Drop IIAC Tilts To Normal and Western

Sarver Gets 37 To Lead Redbirds In 101-87 Win

A hot-shooting Illinois Normal five blasted Southern's best hopes of claiming a share of the IIAC championship Friday night by tripping the Salukis 101-87.

The Redbirds hit 38 baskets in 73 shots for a scorching .520 shooting percentage. Southern made 37 baskets in 98 attempts for a .377 percentage.

Normal took advantage of Southern fouls to fatten its margin with 25 free throws. Southern, the heavier fouling team in the league, committed 24 personal fouls in the usual, but Normal was charged with only 16.

THE LOSS GAVE the Salukis an IIAC record of five wins and six losses, thereby eliminating hopes for improving on last year's record. The tilts finished third in 1932 with a 6-5 mark.

Normal moved into a tie for second with Michigan Normal with a 7-4 record, after the Huskies were beaten 71-66 by Central Michigan Friday.

It was the second time that Normal collected 26 points on 13 baskets in a season. Earlier at Carbondale the Redbirds rallied to eke out an 81-80 decision.

But Sahki fans could gain some consolation in the fact that Friday's 14-point loss came while Southern was missing two of its top players. Bob Nickolaus and Gib Kurtz were laid up with the flu and unable to make the journey to Normal, Western and Illinois Wesleyan.

BILL SARVER, who scored 26 points to lead Normal in its first championship game, came through with 37 last Friday. Sarver is the leading scorer in the conference with an average of 25.4 points in 11 games.

Rip Rippelmeyer retained his scoring stride for the Salukis. He collected 28 points on 13 baskets and two free throws. "Ripp" made his baskets in 30 shots for a .433 percentage.

The two teams scored evenly in the first and third quarter. At the end of the first period the score was 20-20. In the second period, Normal moved ahead to take a 50-41 half-time margin.

THE SALUKIS rallied in the third quarter to pull within two points of their hosts, but by the end of the period both teams had scored 21 points and Normal still held a nine-point advantage, 71-62.

Southern put on another drive in the fourth quarter. Midway through the period Normal held an 81-79 lead. At that point John Cherry, who had been guarding Sarver, fouled out and the Redbirds surged ahead. Sarver finished the game with 16 baskets in 27 shots for a phenomenal .593 shooting percentage.

WITH NICKOLAUS missing, Coach Lynn Holder moved Harvey Welch up to forward and started Jacques Theriot at guard. Welch was second high man for the Salukis with 14 points, followed by Cherry with 13.

Replacing Nickolaus and Kurtz on the trailing squad were Warren Talley and Gene Baggert, both freshmen. Talley scored three baskets and Baggert got one free throw.

Jack Morgan, freshman center, played a good portion of the game. Chuck Thage made all of his five shots in the first quarter and was held scoreless in the second period. Morgan started the next half and scored eight points before being replaced by Thage in the fourth.

Kurowski to Manage 3-4 League Baseball Club

George Whitey Kurowski, former star third sacker for the St. Louis Cardinals, today was appointed manager of the new Peoria team in the Class B Three J League. Kurowski piloted Allentown, Pa., of the Class B Interstate League into the runner-up spot the past two seasons.

His appointment came after it was announced that Peoria had signed a working agreement, with the Cleveland Indians in its try to resume organized baseball after a 15-year lapse.

The first Labor Day holiday was proclaimed on Dec. 28, 1869 by the Knights of Labor in Philadelphia, Pa.

Millikin Seeks Repeat Victory Over Salukis

Bob Kova, and company from Millikin will invade Southern's floor tomorrow night weeking their second victory over the Salukis.

The clash with Millikin will be the first of two home games this week that will close out the 1932-33 campaign for Coach Lynn Holder's squad. A strong Indiana State five from Terre Haute visits here Friday.

Kova, a 6' 2" senior center who has been guarding Sarver, fouled out and the Redbirds surged ahead. Sarver finished the game with 16 baskets in 27 shots for a phenomenal .593 shooting percentage.

WITH NICKOLAUS missing, Coach Lynn Holder moved Harvey Welch up to forward and started Jacques Theriot at guard. Welch was second high man for the Salukis with 14 points, followed by Cherry with 13.

Eastern Illinois Still Tops IIAC, In Cage Standing By SIU Defeat

Eastern Illinois still tops the IIAC standings but Michigan Normal and Illinois Normal have a chance of sharing the championship.

Eastern split two conference games over the weekend. The defending champs were downed by Western Illinois 87-81 Friday but came back the next night to beat Northern Illinois 77-72.

THE LEAGUE RACE will be decided Saturday when Michigan Normal plays at Northern and Eastern is host to Illinois Normal.

Normal's Redbirds, who dented the Panthers 91-89 on their home floor, can tie for first place with a repeat victory next Saturday, while an eastern win would clinch a third straight title for the Panthers. Southern's Salukis wound up their conference schedule last week with a record of five wins and seven losses, putting them in fourth place for the time being. Last season the Salukis finished second behind Illinois Normal with a 6-5

Western Inflicts 82-74 Defeat in League Windup

Western Illinois overcame a first quarter defeat to whip Southern 82-74 at Macomb Saturday night.

The game ended the IIAC campaign for both teams. Southern is temporarily in fourth place with a 5-7 record and Western wound up in the cellar with four wins and eight losses.

The absence of Bob Nickolaus and Gib Kurtz because of the flu was regarded by Coach Lynn Holder as a heavy factor in Saturday's loss.

THE SALUKIS broke in a 23-18 lead by the end of the first quarter but were outscored 22-12 in the second period to put them down at the halfway mark, 40-35.

Western was again outscored 19-17 in the third quarter, cutting their lead to 57-54 by the end of the period. Fourth-quarter scoring was 15-20 in favor of the Leathernecks.

Western's Bill Rogers was high for the game with 11 baskets and four free throws for 26 points.

HARVEY WELCH paced Southern's scoring with 17 points, followed by John Cherry with 15 and Chuck Thage with 14.

Fouls were almost even with Western committing 21 personals and Southern 20.

Western's victory avenged an earlier 65-63 loss to the Salukis.

SOUTHERN, viewed as a hot prospect for the IIAC championship before the season got underway, saved in the running for the first half of the season. The Salukis had a 5-2 record before losing five straight conference games to Michigan Normal, Central Michigan, Eastern Illinois Normal and Western.

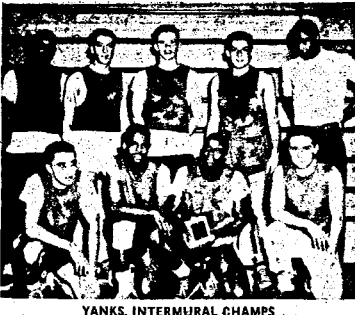

Saturday's defeat gave the Salukis a season's record of 11 wins and 10 losses. They played last night at Illinois Wesleyan but the Egyptian went to press too early for news of the game to appear in this issue.

Coach Ralph Allan's outfit is no man squad, however. His starting lineup includes five lettermen back from last year's team that won 21 and lost six and was the winner of the NAIB Illinois playoff.

STARTING AT forwards for the Big Blue will be Harry Budinick, 6' 2" senior from Virden, and Mel Sheets, 6' 2" sophomore from John Lott. At the guards will be Al Luttrell, 6' senior from Clinton, an Charlie Mueller, 5' 9" junior from Madison.

Coach Lynn Holder hopes to have Bob Nickolaus and Gib Kurtz ready for action against Millikin tomorrow. Both men missed Southwestern's first game with Millikin played at Flora Dec. 27. Kova tossed in 39 points. He took 22 shots during the evening and hit the basket 17 times.

In previous games between the two schools Millikin has won 10 and Southern six.

MEN'S DORM TEAM

Yanks Whip Men's Dormitory In Intramural Final

The Yanks successfully defended their intramural cage championship last Thursday by noosing out the Men's Dorm five, 38-36.

Sports Editor Duffy Falls Ill

Due to the illness of sports editor Don Duffy, the sports page of this issue is being put out by Sherman Doolen, assisted by Bob Poos.

Duffy was taken sick Friday night. He has since been removed to his home in Chicago. It has been said that he may undergo surgery for kidney stones soon.

The Egyptian staff regrets to inform the friends and fellow students of this. We all wish him a speedy recovery. Duffy's departure left the sports department in somewhat of a lurch. It is hoped that we can keep up his good work while he is gone.

The wrestling team as well as the Egyptian will miss Duffy, as he has been a member of the team for some time.

Matmen Take Second Match From Panthers

Southern grapplers trimmed the Eastern Panthers in a meet there Saturday. The boys from SIU won handily in a 27 to 5 runaway.

Nick Veremis avenged an earlier defeat by Lytle Loyd. Veremis defeated Loyd by an eight to one count. The only defeat for SIU fell to Ericson, who got into a figure four scissors and couldn't get out of it.

The winners for Southern were Robert Whalen, who pinned Jim Robinson in 1:22 minutes; Marshall Riggan in the 130 pound class who defeated Dick Galbreath 6 to 1; 137 pound Bill Wayne, who scored a victory over Eastern's Paul Maxson; Joe Fedora, Southern's representative in the 147 pound class, who beat Howard Carren 10 to 4; last but not least was heavyweight Kent Wenger, who pinned Gail Borton in 6:20.

Coach Wilkinson's strongmen have a home-meet with Great Lakes Saturday, Feb. 28. We hope there will be a repeat performance of the Eastern triumph. Like fine wine, the wrestlers may be improving with age.
