Coronation of Queen Slated for Saturday

One of five Angel Flight candidates will be crowned queen at the Aerospace Military Ball, which will begin at 9 p.m. Saturday in the University Center Ballroom. The formal affair is open to all students. Tickets are $3 per couple and may be purchased at the Information Desk in the University Center, from any Angel Flight member, Arnold Air Society member, or at the door the night of the ball.

The theme of this year's ball is "Up, Up and Away." The Military Airlift Command Band of Scott Air Force Base, Belleville, will provide music for the affair.

Last year's queen, Karen Bedwell, will be present to crown the new queen at 11 p.m. The Cadets of AFROTC voted on the candidates Jan. 30.

The candidates are Robyn Benton, a sophomore from West Frankfort, majoring in elementary education; Marilyn Chamness, a junior from Herrin, majoring in retail merchandising; Patricia Ward, a junior from Murphysboro, majoring in elementary education; Linda Whiteside, a sophomore from Fairborn, Ohio, majoring in business education, and Janice Siebert, a junior from Mount Carmel, majoring in anthropology.

Members of Angel Flight also sponsored a fashion show last Sunday afternoon in the University Center Ballroom, at which the five candidates were presented in their gowns.

Awaiting FCC Ok

Broadcasting Tried In U Park Dorm

University Park had its own radio station for some 4 1/2 hours early this week when seven Allen residents took to the airways with a popular music show.

According to Al Weibel, some 75 students living in the U-Park complex called the station either to request a song or say hello.

Ira Fertel, a member of the staff, said their 10-foot antenna enabled the signal on 690 kc to reach only the University Park area. He added a small transmitter used meets the legal specifications of the Federal Communications Commission.

However, U-Park officials were not sure that the station did meet FCC requirements. They ordered the station shut down and suggested that it not go back on the air until it could be determined that the station was not violating federal law. The broadcast was Monday night.

Although the FCC rules do permit some stations to operate without a license, the Commission requires that the equipment used meets its specifications.

FCC rules would limit the range of the U-Park station to approximately 227 feet, and state that the station must guard against interference with any other broadcast station.

According to Resident Counselor John Phillips, the response of students at U-Park has been enthusiastic.

Phillips said that the initiative being taken by the students is the "kind of thing we like to see."

However, Phillips stressed that he wanted to "make sure first" that the student-operated station was not violating the law.

Vietnam Film Rescheduled For Viewing Next Week

By John Epperheimer
University officials have decided to reschedule the showing of "Inside North Vietnam" for next Monday and Wednesday over WSIU-TV.

The program will be aired at 8:30 p.m. Monday and at 6 p.m. Wednesday.

The announcement was made after Buren C. Robbins, director of broadcasting, and Ralph W. Ruffner, vice president for student and area services, viewed the film Thursday morning.

The film originally was scheduled for Monday and Wednesday of this week but was postponed by Robbins after he received several phone calls opposing the airing of the show. The St. Louis Globe-Democrat also published an editorial opposing telecasting the film.

The Student Senate and the SIU chapter of the American Association of University Professors also expressed concern over cancellation of the film. The Senate had planned to hold a demonstration if the film was not rescheduled.

The AAUP executive committee issued a statement Thursday in the form of a letter to Ruffner. It read in part: "Withdrawal of any program, even temporarily, because of complaints by persons outside the University sets a precedent that could easily lead to scheduling only innocuous and neutral material."

Ray Lenzi, student body president, refused to attend the special showing of the film for Ruffner and other University officials, charging that it was an attempt at censorship.

Ruffner said that the Felix Greene film part of the program was clearly and obviously propaganda, although it had some information value. However, he said, the program also included a 70 minute analysis of the propaganda of the film and a discussion of the Vietnam situation as a whole.

"We concluded that the total film program had educational value and accordingly was appropriate for the University to show," Ruffner said.

At the screening, Ruffner related the series of events leading to the decision not

Rosalyn Ellis Convicted of Manslaughter

A 21-year-old former SIU coed was found guilty in Jackson County Circuit Court Thursday of involuntary manslaughter in connection with the paring knife death of her husband last May 25.

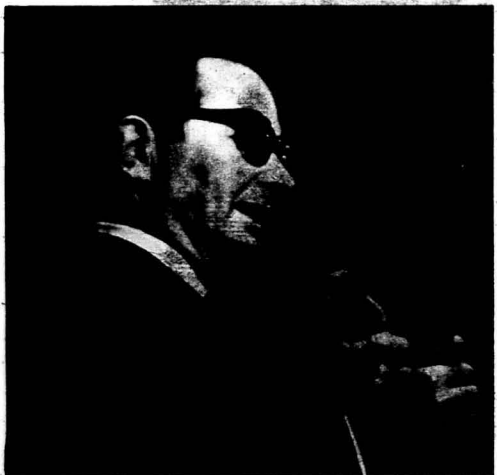

Mrs. Rosalyn Ellis, 304 1/2 E. Hester St., was charged with stabbing her husband, Clarence Ellis Jr., 22, formerly of Alton.

Both were SIU students at the time of the incident, Mrs. Ellis is from Mounds.

A jury of four men and eight women delivered the verdict at 4:40 p.m. Thursday. The trial opened Wednesday.

States Attorney Richard Richman said that Judge Everett Prosser is expected to hand down a sentence within two weeks but the exact date was not immediately available.

The couple had a child born in November 1967.

TELLS "SECRETS"--Henry Morgan, popular TV personality and humorist, answered questions and gave his opinion on a wide range of subjects from the shortcomings of air travel to the shortcomings of the Vietnam War on the University Convocations program Thursday. See related story, Page 10.

to show the film at the announced time. He said Robert W. MacVicar, vice president for academic affairs, received a telephoned complaint over the weekend, and referred the matter to Ruffner. Ruffner said he then called Robbins and discussed the matter.

Ruffner stressed at the screening that at no time was Robbins under orders or pressure from the University administration. Robbins then met with members of the WSU-TV staff and decided to postpone the telecast until Ruffner could view it. Ruffner said Thursday morning was the first possible time he was free to see the movie.

The film is labeled a "personal account" of the state of affairs inside North Vietnam, as filmed and narrated by Felix Greene, British citizen who lives in the United States.

Greene's film and narration consumes the first half of the one hour and 52 minutes National Educational Television program. The second half is devoted to a discussion of the film and the war by scholars David Schoenbrum and Sam Scalapino, narrated by an NET commentator.

The Globe and some other publications have labeled Greene's film "communist propaganda." The NET program makes it clear that the film is not intended to be an objective presentation.

An 89-minute version of the Greene film is currently being shown commercially in the United States.

Reitman claimed to have eaten 50 eggs in 60 minutes on Jan. 22. Newman ate his 50 to win a bet in the movie "Cool Hand Luke."

Miss Amato, from Niles,

Her main reason for eating the eggs was "to beat the Tekes. I can't stand the Tekes and I know that guy didn't eat 50 eggs," she said.

She was not without an audience as the 10th floor lounge where she performed the ordeal was constantly filled with girls from all 17 floors of Neely.

Miss Amato prepared herself for the egg eating test by not eating anything more than a piece of toast since Sunday afternoon.

When she reached the 22nd egg mark, Miss Amato exclaimed, "I beat the Tekes because he only ate 21."

After she had eaten the 50 eggs and the applause from her floor mates had subsided, Miss Amato shouted, "I'm going to gift wrap those empty cartons and take them over to the Teke house."

Pay Raise Creates Problems

The student workers' pay raise, which goes into effect this month, is creating problems which may or may not have been anticipated by the University's Work Office.

It would appear only proper and fitting that the University observe the minimum pay wage, and the 10 cent raise, in most cases, is well deserved by its beneficiaries.

The University, then, should try in some way to absorb the unexpected costs of the new wage program, which at this point seems to be a burden the students will bear.

As a result of the raise, which will become effective Feb. 18, the number of hours students have been working already are being cut, while some students are being laid off. This action must be taken so employers may meet the new wage rate with the funds available to their departments. Because of insufficient funds in some departments, they have resorted to paying fewer students or paying for fewer hours worked as an alternative.

Although it may be possible to obtain new jobs for students displaced under the new wage program, it may not be fair.

It seems unfair, also, that students, who have adjusted their schedule to working a certain number of hours per week, be subjects of a work-hour cut. Whereas these students were looking forward to receiving more money for their services, in many cases they will receive less or will be forced to accept jobs in which they are not interested or perhaps not qualified.

If the University is not able to qualify some of its student workers, most of whom perform vital services, under the Federal Work Program, then maybe it should look to the state for financial assistance. At any rate, these work benefits due the students should not be allowed to become their hardships.

Inez Rencher

Conservative Campus

If you have been disturbed by the regular appearance of students in the news as fomenters of discord, propagators of radical views and heralds of a coming chaos in our politics, rest easy. It just isn't so.

The winter issue of Daedalus, the quarterly journal of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, contains a penetrating study of the current state of the student mind on politics. That state, established in repeated surveys and enlighteningly examined by Seymour Martin Lipset, professor of government at Harvard, is quite different from what you may have thought.

For example: In surveys taken in 1965 and 1966, two-thirds to three-quarters of American students supported the war in Vietnam.

The great links between the campus and national politics remain the two basic parties, The Young Republicans and the Young Democrats have a combined membership of 250,000, as compared to a total of 7,000 in the Students for a Democratic Society, a "New Left" organization. Moreover, a plurality of students favor a Republican candidate in 1968.

But even more fundamental than the conservative tendencies of a majority of students interested in politics at all is the fact that most are not. As far as the national political scene is concerned, the American campus is aflame with apathy.

Considering that college is basically a place to pursue one's own education, this apathy is not necessarily a bad thing. It is certainly preferable to the "student image" projected by the violent demonstrations of a tiny minority.

Defining Obscenity

To the Daily Egyptian:

To judge that obscene material is "common" in Carbondale, as your paper suggests, is easy if you don't provide a definition of standard. The U.S. Supreme Court has provided basic elements of a definition of obscenity, and something is not legally obscene (and cannot be restricted) unless it fits that definition. The application of that definition is made by judges after serious consideration of the matter, not on the basis of horseback judgments by journalists.

To suggest that Carbondale is "wide open" for pornographic literature displays an appalling ignorance of the meaning of pornography and its control.

Pornography, that is, pictorial representation of the sexual act, is usually distributed "under the table." When it is discovered, convictions of those distributing it are easily obtained.

Carbondale's Public Safety Director is quoted as assuring us he is not going to act as a censor, yet he in effect invites the rest of the community to do the job for him. Having people running around snooping for "dirt" is no better than having the Public Safety Director doing it.

He also informs us how horrible some of the available printed matter is. We were not aware that Mr. Wilhelmly had been hired because of his qualifications as a reviewer of literature, and he ought to limit his pronouncements to his areas of competence. He needs to be reminded that the First Amendment prevents the suppression of material even if a majority of people in the community find it distasteful, and that the Supreme Court requires judges to weigh allegedly obscene material in terms of a national, not a local, community standard.

Senate: Job Half Done

To the Daily Egyptian:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the Student Senate for the industrious raise which they acquired for the student workers on the SIU campus.

The Senate succeeded in raising the starting salary to a $1.15 rather than the original dollar. For the student already making $1.05, the Senate got a dime raise: This means that the average student gets anywhere from $1.50 to $2.50 more a week.

This isn't the first helpful gesture that the Senate has done. In reference to the library, they succeeded in having the library stay open until midnight rather than 10:30 p.m.

This was great also. It gave the workers more hours which means more money and it also allows all the students to stay and study longer. It seems that not very many students know about the new hours, even though they have been in effect for over 15 weeks.

Within the humanities division (where I work), we only have about 15-30 students studying after 11 p.m. The new hours and more money are great, but the Senate forgot something.

The longer hours and increase in pay is draining the budget. In fact, it is being drained so fast that the library staff is becoming worried. No one likes to worry, so they have done the next best thing—cut our working hours.

Everyone had from three to five hours stolen from him. For me this means that I gain $2 with the raise, but I lose $6 because I work fewer hours.

It doesn't take a math major to figure out that that is a loss of $4 a week. I cannot pay for my room and board and tuition on that basis, and neither can my fellow workers.

Censorship

To the Daily Egyptian:

I was stunned to read in the lead article of the Feb. 6 issue that Carbondale is without a censorship law or a censorship committee.

The burning question is: how long have we citizens of Carbondale been so unprotected? How long have we stood naked with only our consciences to guide us?

For some reason this startling information has been withheld until now. An investigation should be held immediately to determine who the vile censors are who are responsible for concealing this amazing news.

To think, in our city one can freely purchase material banned in Russia and South Africa.

It appears that the mayor and Public Safety Director strangely feel that they have more important business than censoring our movies and books.

It remains for the citizens of Carbondale to take up the burden of censorship. Toward this end I propose a two stage program. First, no merchant will make available for sale or viewing any material that he personally feels immoral.

Second, no citizen should purchase material that he personally feels will be morally harmful to him. I firmly believe that if the above program is carried out Carbondale will be well ahead of Russia and South Africa in the efficient application of censorship.

SIU Protests Film's Cancellation

To the Daily Egyptian:

It certainly was gratifying to learn that SIU's Broadcasting Director, Buren Robbins, has assumed responsibility for the cancellation of "Inside North Vietnam." It was even more reassuring to learn that Vice-President Ruffner has graciously consented to act as SIU's official censor and that he will view the film on Thursday.

One can only hope that the next step will be a thorough investigation of the Chinese restaurant that has suddenly appeared in downtown Carbondale. The "Yellow Peril" has established a beachhead inside the very bastion of democracy. And so blatant about it; using a red sign and all.

Of course, one must respect and even praise Mr. Robbins' action in the face of such devastating criticism: four telephone calls and a telegram. One can only wonder at the nature of the proposed action against the University: a storming of the citadel of Altgeld Hall, burning a cross in front of Old Main, a blockade of the downtown shopping area? These five militant voices far outweighed the 100-plus calls protesting the removal of the film. But then we 100-plus were not thinking; we should have threatened action against the University if the film was not shown. And what would you have done then Mr. Robbins?

The film's producer, Felix Greene, is supposedly a pro-Communist sympathizer. So what? Mr. Robbins has assured us that the film "was not damaging to the war effort because the commentary which follows the discussion explains the meaning of the film and how it should be taken." Why worry? We will be told the right way to think.

There is no need to wait until the University reassesses the situation to determine its position; its position is already clear. It is to further education by acting as an open forum for the expression and exchange of ideas; whether or not those ideas are in accord with the administration's. And the maintenance of this position must not hinge on the decision of a self-appointed, two-man censorship board.

THIS PAGE is devoted today to the presentation of letters received by the Daily Egyptian on the recent postponement of the film, "Inside North Vietnam." Since the film has been rescheduled by WSU-TV additional letters on the same topic will not be printed after today.

Antero Pietila's weekly comment on world affairs, which usually appears in today's paper, will be presented next Tuesday.

Perhaps a Wise Move ?

To the Daily Egyptian:

Monday night, Felix Greene's production "Inside North Vietnam" was to be shown over WSU-TV.

Lack of Courage

To the Daily Egyptian:

The cancellation of the scheduled showing of the film "Inside North Vietnam" on WSU-TV not only proves the intangibility and tenuousness of our involvement in Vietnam, but also reflects how paranoid a great many of us are.

If those who made phone calls and sent telegrams "threatening" the University believed our involvement is morally right and justifiable, then why should they fear the other side's viewpoint?

Our democratic principles of which we are boastful are crumbling down by our own doing. The whole episode reflects total bankruptcy of morals and courage.

As an institution of higher learning, SIU should not heed to such threats.

We do hope the officials here would decide to show the film soon.

John Elmeron

TV. Instead it was postponed.

It could be that this is a wise move. The postponement gives the University time to formulate an official policy on the matter. The postponement came after University officials had been warned by various individuals and interests not to show the film.

These threats of unfavorable action against the University cannot be taken lightly. But there is another question involved here. Just what is the function of a University? To instruct? To instill a constructive, inquiring attitude?

The SIU administration is facing a dilemma. If it decides to go ahead and show the film against the wishes, or should I say the threats, of certain interests and individuals, the administration subjects the University to possible retaliatory action. Or the film might not be shown.

This is the decision the administration must make. Again, I ask the SIU administration, what is the function of this University? To instruct? To instill a constructive, inquiring attitude? Or is it something else.

Jay Doegey

To the Daily Egyptian:

Student body president Ray Lenzi is at it again!

On Monday Lenzi said that he questioned whether anyone in the University has the right not to show a film on WSU-TV, in this case the controversial program "Inside North Vietnam."

The person who bears legal responsibility for what is broadcast on any station is the licensee. WSU-TV is licensed to the Board of Trustees of SIU. Since they will bear the responsibility for whatever is aired on the station they certainly have the right, and in fact have the legal responsibility to decide what is aired.

I am in no way defending or criticizing the decision not to run the program. I would simply like to point out that once again the student body president is making public statements on something he apparently knows nothing about.

The student government of SIU is already suffering under a horrendous credibility gap. If Mr. Lenzi continues to make comments such as the one he made Monday, that gap will only be widened and what little credibility the student government has left will be lost.

David Margulies

Deep Concern

To the Daily Egyptian:

I wish to express my deep concern that the film "Inside North Vietnam" was not shown on WSU-TV on Feb. 5 as scheduled. This film has been shown on other NET networks and has received reviews in our national newspapers.

It is shocking that WSU-TV felt it necessary to withdraw a film from a public showing which, although pro-Communist, has been declared to be an interesting and worthwhile venture in TV journalism for American audiences. Surely, the viewers of WSU-TV are capable of making a judgment of what is propaganda and what is not, particularly in light of the fact that the film includes commentary by David Schoenbrun.

Irreparable Damage

To the Daily Egyptian:

The cancellation of the NET special program on North Vietnam shown by university stations all over the country is an insult to the students and faculty of SIU as well as to the surrounding community.

It also is a strange commentary on the education being given to the students.

Has SIU done such a poor job of educating that it does not trust the students to evaluate for themselves any points of view presented on its so-called educational station?

Even if the program is finally shown, irreparable damage has been done to the integrity and reputation of SIU and its intellectual community.

Ghost of McCarthyism

To the Daily Egyptian:

I do hope that Dean Ruffner enjoys Felix Greene's film on North Vietnam, because I would like to see it, too. By what right Dean Ruffner's sensibilities (and politics) should determine what is seen on educational television, I am at the moment unable to discern.

Already with regard to this incident we see the ghost of McCarthyism and more mindless red-baiting, e.g. "Greene is considered to be a pro-Communist sympathizer." By whom is Greene considered to be a "pro-Communist sympathizer?" The State Department? The House Un-American Activities Committee? The John Birch Society? I have read three of Greene's books and have seen his film on China. He is considered by me to be an excellent journalist.

I would sincerely recommend Greene's book, "A Curtain of Ignorance" to the Powers that decided, that we should not see his film on Vietnam; or at least not until Dean Ruffner approves of it.

Dr. Bernard Flynn

Prior Restraint

To the Daily Egyptian:

Since when has the University condoned prior restraint as a form of censorship?

Since when can four "threatening" telephone calls from individuals of whatever position bring a University of more than 20,000 to heel?

Since when does the job descriptions for SIU Broadcasting Director and the Vice-President for Area and Student Services include "censor"?

Since when does the prerequisite job training for SIU Broadcasting Director and the Vice-President for Area and Student Services include propaganda analysis?

Since when do I need a commentary at the end of a film to tell me what to think and conclude.

Reconsider Film Drop

To the Daily Egyptian:

When I recently received the February issue of the "TV Program Guide," I was happy to see that WSU-TV planned to run Felix Greene's "Inside North Vietnam" on NET Journal. I was thus both surprised and disappointed to find on Monday night that, a last minute substitution had been made.

The New Republic, in a review of the film, noted that 33 congressmen, none of whom had seen the film, labelled it as pro-Hanoi and scored NET for "acting as a conduit for enemy propaganda." The same article goes on to say that NET Journal "has often shown itself willing to offend in order to bring an important story to the public." This is a tradition I have come to respect and I therefore rarely miss the program, I would be distressed to see this strength eroded, for whatever reason.

I wish to protest what I can only consider the suppression of this film. I hope that we have not grown so defensive that we cannot be permitted to see and hear what the other side has to say. NET originally ran the film on Jan. 22, so the decision to squelch it here was clearly a local one. The decision not to show the film discredits not only the management of WSU-TV but the tradition of academic freedom in the University. I trust that the responsible officials will reconsider and run the film at the earliest opportunity.

Two Saluki Dogs Given to Morris By Veterinarian

Two more young Saluki dogs will be added to SIU's mascot kennels Feb. 24 as a gift from Carbondale veterinarian Leon Striegel.

The nine-month-old females have been purchased by Striegel from breeder Norman Hagan of St. Louis. The presentation will be made by Striegel to SIU President Delyte W. Morris at the halftime of the SIU-Evansville basketball game Saturday, Feb. 24 in the Arena.

Striegel said Hagan has agreed to provide stud service from his kennels for the University's mascots. Amira of Greenbough, an 18-month-old female, was presented to SIU in January by Dr. Bert Hanicke of St. Louis.

evening short course series on farm crops. The program was arranged by William Bradley, Ridge Farm high school vocational agriculture instructor, and will start at 6:30 p.m. in the school's agriculture rooms.

Wills, an agricultural economist, has conducted a series of studies on grain marketing and transportation problems in Illinois during recent years.

A native of Beecher City, he came to the SIU faculty in 1956 as chairman of the agricultural industries department in the School of Agriculture. Previously he was an extension marketing specialist at Washington State College. Earlier he was on the University of Illinois faculty and worked with the U.S. Department of Agriculture as a livestock marketing analyst.

Socioeconomist-Critic To Present Address

The SIU Department of Design, in cooperation with the student government during the International Festival, is sponsoring an address by Robert Theobald, a British socioeconomist and outspoken critic of the American effort in Vietnam.

The address will be given at 8 p.m. Tuesday in Furr Auditorium in University School. For interested persons there will be seminars in the River Rooms in the University Center from 1 to 4 p.m. on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Theobald is a socioeconomist exploring the implications of new technologies.

He is presently coordinating the efforts of many organizations enabling all interested people to participate in an effort to create a better world.

Theobald was born and raised in India and holds an M.A. degree from Cambridge, England. He did post-graduate work at Harvard and has been a consultant to a wide range of local, national and international organizations.

He has written several books and has appeared in films and television programs that will be aired by CBS in the "Look Up and Live" series on the mornings of Feb. 11 and 16.

Salesman Refunds Money; Magazine Selling Curtailed

A magazine salesman taken into custody Wednesday for selling magazines on the SIU campus was ordered to collect the contracts for his four sales and to refund his customers' money.

Security Police said Leisure to Discuss Herbicide Findings

Keith Leasure, chairman of SIU's department of plant industries and a specialist on agricultural chemicals, will discuss the latest findings on herbicides for weed control in farm crops, especially corn and soybeans, at the Jackson County agronomy day program at 1 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 15.

Leasure joined the department of plant industries faculty nearly two years ago as a specialist in agricultural chemicals. Before coming to SIU, Leasure spent 11 years with Dow Chemical Co. at Midland, Mich. Previously he was on the University of Tennessee faculty for eight years.

Charles Coley, Huntsville, Ala., called his home office and was instructed by his superiors to follow police instructions to cancel the contracts.

Coley left the police station after telling officials he would come right back; but he did not return, police said. He was picked up again near Neely Hall and taken to Murphyboro by a security officer. States Attorney Richard Richman said Coley was talked to but was released without charge.

Johnson Submits Foreign Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson asked a reluctant Congress Thursday for $3 billion in new foreign aid funds, including $100 million immediately to strengthen South Korea's defense against the Communist North.

Johnson's special Korean arms plea was about the only surprise in a foreign aid message which sought $2.9 billion for the global program next fiscal year—$2.5 billion in economic assistance and $420 million in military.

The President declared the worldwide aid effort is "as important and as essential to the security of this nation as our military defenses." He contended that fighting illiteracy among the masses in underdeveloped lands curbs the causes of wars.

But administration officials freely acknowledged omens of trouble again in Congress, which last year whacked nearly $1 billion from Johnson's $3.2-billion request. His new program is about $750 million more than was voted for the current fiscal year ending June 30.

In his new package Johnson earmarked $480 million in economic assistance to fight "the other war" in South Vietnam. However, there was a hint amid concern over the recent Communist assaults on Vietnamese cities and the Korean crisis that the President may seek more foreign aid later.

"Developments around the world are changing rapidly from day to day," White House assistant Joseph A. Califano Jr. told newsmen. "In light of this it may be necessary to request additional funds for Vietnam, Korea and other places."

South Korean anxiety about U.S. policy has mounted near fever pitch in recent days. Officials have complained that Washington seems more interested in recovering the captured U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo and its crew from North Korea than in mounting North Korean intrusions into the South.

Stating that "the internal peace and order of this steadfast ally is once again threatened from the North," Johnson proposed that Congress appropriate immediately an additional $100 million for military assistance to the Republic of Korea."

Hanoi Makes Peace Overture

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Department officials are studying a new statement by the foreign minister of North Vietnam indicating his government may wish to keep peace exchanges going with the United States alongside with the Communist military offensive.

The statement, in the form of an interview broadcast from Hanoi Thursday, moves the North Vietnamese bargaining position slightly beyond where the foreign minister left it six weeks ago.

The United States has taken the position since last Sunday that peace probes have been rendered meaningless by the Communist offensive against key cities in South Vietnam and by the massive North Vietnamese challenge to the U.S. outpost at Khe Sanh.

President Johnson was reported Thursday to have ended a ban on bombing military targets at Hanoi and Haiphong. The ban was imposed about a month ago with word to the North Vietnamese that they were signals of U.S. interest in damping down the war and opening talks.

Due to bad weather, military sources said, the lifting of the ban would not necessarily mean an immediate return to attacks in or near the two cities.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk said Sunday the evidence of Hanoi's offensive operations is "that they are not seriously interested at the present time in talking about peaceful settlement."

The initial reaction is that there has been no fundamental shift in the North Vietnamese position. Trinh accused the United States of using an apparent investigation of Hanoi's position on peace talks as "a maneuver aimed at appeasing world opinion and at camouflaging its attempts to continue and escalate its aggressive war in Vietnam."

In a statement at the end of December Trinh had said that after unconditional cessation of U.S. bombing of North Vietnam and other acts of war there will be talks on problems concerned. The nature of the problems was not made clear.

No Victory in Vietnam Says Robert Kennedy

CHICAGO (AP)—Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., said Thursday that the American military effort to resolve the Vietnam war is "like sending a lion to halt an epidemic of jungle rot."

Kennedy said that "a total military victory is not within sight or around the corner. . . it is probably beyond our grasp."

Speaking at a book and author luncheon sponsored by the Chicago Sun-Times, Kennedy challenged observations that the recent savage fighting in South Vietnam constituted any sort of American victory.

He said that the reported enemy losses "cannot be as devastating as the figures appear."

"Our intelligence chief," he said, "tells us that of 60,000 men thrown into attacks on the cities, 20,000 have been killed. If only two men have been seriously wounded for every one dead, a very conservative estimate, the entire enemy force has been put out of action."

"Who, then," he said, "is doing the fighting?"

"How ironic it is," he continued, "that our public officials at the highest levels, should claim a victory because a people whom we have given 16,000 lives, billions of dollars and almost a decade to defend, did not rise in arms against us."

"More disillusioning," he said, "and painful is the fact the population did not rise to defend its freedom against the Viet Cong. Few, if any, citizens rushed to inform their protectors of this massive infiltration."

He added that the events of the last two weeks showed that "none of the population is secure and no area is under sure control."

"This has not happened because our men are not brave or effective. . . It is," he added, "because we have sought to resolve any military might a conflict whose issue depends upon the will and conviction of the South Vietnamese people."

'Of Course, I'm Not Going'

War Opposed by Morgan

Satirist, author and TV personality Henry Morgan said Thursday he is against the war in Vietnam and college draft deferments in one of a series of impromptu speeches on topics selected by the University Convocation audience.

Morgan, a native of New York who began his career in show business at 17 as a radio page boy, said the "dubious privilege of freedom" is the United States' major shortcoming in Vietnam.

"We don't belong there," he said. The United States has rationalized its position in Vietnam on the grounds that it is fighting Communism, Morgan said. He began his discussion to a question about Vietnam by saying, "Of course, I'm not going!"

According to Morgan, most Americans, who are unable to understand simple, everyday things, are not ready or capable of comprehending the Vietnamese people. Morgan said most Vietnamese are starving and want to know where their next meal is coming from. It is difficult for a person in this position to understand that Americans are fighting in Vietnam so that the Vietnamese people can have the privilege of voting, he said.

Morgan said he believes one

Heads Seminars

John K. Zimmerman, chairman of the Department of Physics at SIU, has presented seminars in Kansas and Texas.

Zimmerman spoke in Texas before the joint meeting of the chemistry and physics faculties of Texas Christian University. His topic was "Relaxation Phenomena of Molecules on High Surface Solids."

At Kansas State Teachers College, he reviewed new procedures in the conduct of general studies programs in physical sciences.

Before coming to SIU in 1966, Zimmerman headed geochemical and chemical physics research for the Mobile Oil Co. for 12 years.

of the major problems about Vietnam is America's belief in the strength of the Domino Theory. "It is an inaccurate theory," he said. If China decides to put Communism in Vietnam and the countries surrounding Vietnam, Morgan said, nothing the United States does will stop this.

Morgan explained he is against college draft deferments because they are selective. The concept that college men should be deferred from the draft because the future of the United States is in their hands is inaccurate, Morgan said. A physicist is no better than a street sweeper when it comes to fighting a war, he said.

According to Morgan, college deferments make the teacher a draft board, since the grade he gives the student may affect the student's draft status. The grade the teacher issues may allow the student to continue his education or send him to fight in Vietnam, and this is basically unfair, Morgan said.

Although he is against college draft deferments, Morgan said he recommends college students to continue and complete their education. He said the reason he is traveling around the country talking to "school children" right now is because he was a dropout.

Other subjects that Morgan touched on were the inaccessibility of cream on airlines, and the mind expansion of hippies. Concerning hippies, he said, "To hop outside of society entirely, and intend to fix it is absurd." For mind expansion he thought that they should try to think Flight physical examinations are given each Tuesday at Scott AFB and are scheduled through the local Air Force recruiting office.

Male seniors or graduate students who plan to apply for the pilot or navigator program during the next three months should contact Sgt. Macy as soon as possible, preferably in February.

Interested applicants for the pilot or navigator program should contact Sgt. Macy at 512 W. Main St. in Carbondale or by calling 457-2231.

The book covers three main facets of film making: silent cinematography, producing sound film and the film in television. Subjects coming under 54 subheads include light and lenses, film stocks, light measurement, exposure and film editing.

The 198-page text contains 130 illustrations prepared by Richard L. Holladay, an artist with the SIU Printing Service.

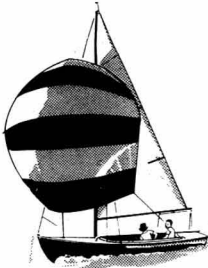

Mercer says that he first wrote the material in syllabus form in 1956 and has used it in his photography classes since that time, revising and updating it periodically. He began assembling the material in book form three years ago.

According to word just received from his publisher, Mercer reports that "An Introduction to Cinematography" has been adopted for use as a text at the universities of Michigan and Houston, Howard University, Western Illinois University, Drake University, the Rhode Island School of Design and American University of Washington D.C.

Woman Gymnasts Renew Rivalry in Meet Tonight

One of the most heated rivalries in U.S. women's gymnastics competition will be renewed in a split dual meet tonight at 7:30 in the Arena.

The meet will pit a group of SIU gymnasts led by Donna Schaezner against a team led by Joyce Tanac of the University of Washington-Seattle Gymnastics Club.

In a simultaneous meet, another team of SIU women gymnasts will battle Michigan State. The women, currently 2-0, have a 45-meet winning streak on the line.

The Schaezner-Tanac rivalry started during the 1966 World Games tryouts. Both girls were vying for the seventh spot on the U.S. team.

Through the four-day competition, Miss Schaezner and Miss Tanac were never more than three-tenths of a point apart. After the 16 events, Miss Schaezner was the winner over Miss Tanac by the slender margin of one-tenth of a point.

Since then, both have become good friends, Miss Schaezner admits, but when the competition gets underway each will try to outdo the other.

Miss Tanac hasn't been below 3rd in the national championships, and has outscored Miss Schaezner in the last three times they've met, the Pan Am Trials, the National A.A.U. Meet, and the recent Olympic Training meet.

But Miss Tanac isn't all that the Washington team has, as evidenced by its 5-0 record.

Washington also has Sandra Haerth, the leading Canadian gymnast; Cleo Carver, the junior national vaulting champion; Lorna Woodward, 12th in the Olympic training meet; and Carol Pinitoro, whom Vogel calls one of the "outstanding young uneven bar workers in the U.S." She also finished 7th in the Olympic training meet.

"They (Washington) all practice in the Seattle Y.M.C.A., and they range in age from 16 to 20 years old," Vogel says. "Washington has three good coaches," including Dale McClement, a former SIU woman gymnast.

Vogel will use Miss Schaezner, Joanne Hashimoto, Linda Scott and Gail Daley in the Washington meet. Against MSU, he will use Sue Rogers and freshmen Karen Smith, Donna Bascomb and Eva Domolki.

"Michigan State lost practically all its personnel from last year's team, and I'm confident our three frosh and Susie can beat them," Vogel said. "I'm letting Susie compete against MSU so she can help set the pace for our frosh."

The meet will also be an Olympic pre-test for Miss Scott, Miss Hashimoto and Miss Rogers.

"Our girls are getting pretty ready to compete for Olympic berths," Vogel said. "We're in better shape with the compulsories and optional exercises than we were last year. But so is everybody else."

Jazz Concert Set To Precede Meet

Members of SIU's Angel Flight will give a performance preceding the split dual meet tonight between the Saluki gymnasts and teams from Seattle, Washington and Michigan State.

They will do a modern jazz performance beginning at 7:20 p.m., according to SIU Coach Herb Vogel.

JUMPING JOHNNY—One of SIU's hopefuls for a finish in this year's NCAA finals is triple-jumper John Vernon. The New Englander will be participating in the Michigan State Relays Saturday.

Trackmen to Split For Two Meets

SIU's indoor track team will be split into two squads Saturday when one half travels to Michigan to participate in the Michigan State relays while the other enters the University of Chicago Track Club meet.

"Our reason for sending boys to both events is to try to get everyone ready for the Central Collegiates later this month," said Coach Lew Hartzog.

Of the nine men making the trip to East Lansing, only two have been there before.

Ross MacKenzie won a championship in the 300-yard dash in 1966 with a time of :31.4. Mitch Livingston also captured a first the same year in the high jump with a 6-8 leap.

The lineup for the Chicago meet includes: Fil Blackinton, shot put; Rich Ellison and Larry Cascio, pole vault; John Vernon and Ivory Lewis, long jump; Jeff Duxbury and Mel Ryan, 1,000 yards.

Also participating in the relays will be Bill Jeffries and Sylvester West, 60-dash; Jimmy Thomas, 70-yard high and low hurdles and Bill Gardiner, Jeffries and MacKenzie, mile relay.

Grapplers Shuffle Lineup for Strength

A revamped and improved wrestling lineup instigated by Coach Jim Wilkinson will host a strong undefeated Moorhead State team Monday at 8 p.m. in the Arena.

The Salukis' weak spot all year has been in the lower weights. In dual meet competition, the squad is usually many points behind before the more talented heavier wrestlers can perform.

To remedy the situation Wilkinson has shuffled his lineup and as a result many of the grapplers will be wrestling one weight class lower against Moorhead.

Wilkinson contends that this will put added muscle in the lower and middle weights and take pressure off the higher weightmen.

Steve Sarossy will remain in the 115-pound division but Rich Allan, who has been wrestling at 130 pounds all year, will move down to the 123 class. Tom Stengren, the normal 123-pounder, is suffering from a damaged cartilage in his chest and will not compete.

Tim Topping will wrestle in the 130-pound class with freshmen standouts Rich Casey and Dan Chapman wrestling 145 and 137 respectively.

Tom Duke has dropped his weight and will wrestle in the 152-pound class and Al

Lipper will man the 160 division.

Ben Cooper (177), Allen Bulow (191) and Rich Selover at the heavyweight spot are standouts on the team and will not be shifted in the lineup.

Aaron Bulow, a two-letter man who has not been able to break into the lineup since Cooper took over the 177-pound division, has lost weight and will be wrestling 167 in the meet Monday.

Moorhead has been victorious in five previous meets and the team's main strength is where SIU is weakest, in the light weights.

"Moorhead will be tough," said Coach Wilkinson. "But if we can stay even before our bigger weights perform we can beat them."

"The featured bout will be in the 145-pound class where Casey will wrestle Moorhead's Rick Stuyvesant," added the Saluki coach. "Stuyvesant was an NCAA finalist last year and should be real tough."

Casey, a freshman, goes into the match with a 4-1 record since latching on to the varsity squad.

The Salukis will be wrestling this weekend in the Detroit Invitational.

According to Wilkinson, most of the wrestlers making the trip to Detroit are freshmen and transfer students, and most of the regulars will not compete.

Blue Devils Overwhelm SIU, 78-54

NEW YORK—Madison Square Garden will officially close down Sunday and no one could be happier than Coach Jack Hartman's Salukis.

Duke's Blue Devils, hungry for a return to a top ten position among the major colleges from which they fell last week, trounced SIU there 78-54 Thursday.

They led all the way after a brief 2-0 SIU lead and, with a little over eight minutes to play, pulled out to a commanding 21 point lead in coasting to their 13th victory in 16 outings.

The victory evened the Salukis slate at 9-9, their worst record at this time in a season since the 1954-55 team was 7-11 after 18 games.

Duke's All-American candidate, Mike Lewis, continued his superlative play scoring 28 points. Of Lewis's points, 18 came in the first half as he practically single-handedly put the Blue Devils out in front at the intermission, 41-32.

Junior Steve Vandenberg took over in the second half where Lewis left off, as Vandenberg netted 11 of his 15 points after the half began and led the Duke barrage.

Forward Chuck Benson was high man for Southern with 17 points followed by Garrett with 13.

Both Southern and Duke played man-to-man defenses for the entire first half but, when the players began accumulating personal fouls, they dropped into zone defenses; SIU in a 1-3-1 and Duke in a 2-1-2.

Benson opened the first half scoring when a Blue Devil player was called for goal tending. As it turned out, it was the only Saluki lead all night.

Duke's Dave Golden, a native of Pekin, canned a 20-footer and Lewis put in a lay-up to send the Blue Devils out in front, 4-2.

Then, after a bucket from the top of the key by Howard Keene, Duke scored six straight points to pull out in front 10-4.

The Blue Devils continued to pour it on in the half and, with six minutes to go, the score was 31-18.

The Salukis hammered away at the Duke lead and at the intermission it was 41-32.

In the second half it was all Duke and, with 6:08 to go, the Blue Devils found themselves out in front by 72-48.

It was that margin that the Blue Devils led by at the final buzzer, 78-54.

Hartman started Keene at the pivot for the first time this season. The 6-5 senior couldn't match his 22-point performance against Kansas State Saturday and fouled out in the second half with six points.

Craig Taylor started at the guard spot along with Willie Griffin and also finished with six.

Sophomore Rex Barker, who, according to Hartman, has looked impressive in practice lately, replaced Taylor in the second period and finished with four points.

Bruce Butchko and Griffin finished with four each to round out Saluki scoring.

Golden, Ron Wendelin and Tim Kolodziej all had six for the victorious Blue Devils while Teer had four.

Netmen Will Face Top Rated Miami

Miami University, third place finalist in last year's NCAA championships, highlights the 1968 tennis schedule released Friday by Coach Dick LeFevre.

SIU will meet Miami twice during the team's annual spring trip from March 15 to 23. Other competition during the trip will be the University of Georgia, South Carolina, the Rice Invitational Tournament and the University of Minnesota.

The Salukis will play a pre-season match Feb. 24 against the United States Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colo.

Mississippi State, which tied Miami for the third spot in the NCAA tourney, will be the chief competition for the remainder of the season.

The team will open its home slate April 2 against Indiana University.

The remainder of the schedule is as follows: March 30, Murray State University at Murray, Ky.; April 4-6, Oklahoma City University Invitational; 12, Indiana, home; 13, Oklahoma City University, home; 20, Principia College, home; 27, Intr Squad meet.

May 3-4, Tennessee's Classic; 11, University of Missouri at Missouri; 13, University of Illinois at Champaign; 18, Mississippi State at Mississippi.

June 17-22, NCAA Tournament at San Antonio, Tex.
