Winter Play Continues Performances

An appreciative audience saw the first SIU performance of "Skin of Our Teeth" last night. Other performances of the play will be given today (Friday) and tomorrow (Saturday).

The play is given with central staging so only a limited number of tickets are sold each night. Advance tickets are being sold at the cross-halls of Old Main today.

Written by Thornton Wilder.

"Skin of Our Teeth" received the Pulitzer prize in 1935. It is the expressionistic story of man's history and struggle for existence shown through the assistance of the Antrobous family.

The first act of the play opens in the Antrobous home in Excelsior, N. J. During Act II the Antrobous encounter the Biblical Flood on the Boardwalk of Atlantic City. The family is at home in Excelsior for Act III.

In way of explanation of the weird lighting effect, the furniture, and the costumes, Dr. McLeod, director, said, "Wilder's staging is always radically different. He believes that since the theatre is a place of make-believe, plays ought to carry out the make-believe theme."

One of the highlights of the play is the extraordinary lighting used. Lawrence Voss, technical director, stated that the abstract color and beautiful changing patterns make this play one of the most spectacular to ever be presented here.

Payne, a cast member, designed costumes for the two prehistoric animals, in the play from flesh-like plastic fabric. The characters are dressed in semi-symbolic costumes throughout the play. Members of the production committee created a replica of the original wheel, gathered red silk stockings, a racoon coat, a dinosaur bone, and a 1905 bathing suit for the play.

Furniture for the Antrobous home consists of geometric squares and circles. Walls and other scenery will be included in the action.

HERE ARE the Antrobous with their two children, Henry and Gladys, and friend Lily Sabina, her maid, at left rear. How this family has survived floods, wars, and the ice age is the subject of the Little Theatre's production being presented tonight and tomorrow night in hopyack auditorium at 8 p. m.

Polio Drive Nets $310 By Jan. 28

Contributions to the Alpha Phi Omega "Line of Dimes" had mounted to $310 by late Wednesday afternoon. The drive started Tuesday with an aerial bomb explosion, after which President Morris laid the first dimes on the line.

The goal was to reach the steps of Old Main by Thursday afternoon.

Contributions boxes were placed in all organized houses by the APO so that additional money could be obtained to eventually put on the line. Collections at Southern basketball games during the last two weeks have added a large measure to the line.

Last week the contributions were quite generous, and the APO went over its quota by collecting more than enough dimes to reach from the main gate to Old Main.

Chairman of the drive was Joe Walter, sophomore from Salem. Other organizers were Les Barnes, Bill MacDonald, Paul Morris, Loren Clark, Charles Wildy, and Richard Coleman.

Tuesday's Egyptian will contain the complete results from the drive. The final figures were not available at the time this edition went to press.

Student Theatre Group To Go On Tour This Spring

Eighteen Southern students will make up a theatre group that will tour 28 cities in Southern Illinois presenting two one night stand plays. The actors will be on the road for six weeks during the spring quarter and will be under the supervision of Dr. Archibald McLeod, associate professor of speech and Lawrence Voss, lecturer in speech.

This is the first time in the history of Southern that a group of students have ever attempted such a project. The students will receive 12 quarter hours of college credit plus the practical experience that will go along with such an undertaking.

IN EACH of the cities, there is scheduled an afternoon performance of the children's play, "Simple Simon," and an evening showing of Sidney Howard's "The Late Christopher Bean." Dr. McLeod will direct both of the plays and Voss is the technical director.

During the first three weeks of the spring term, there are to be rehearsals, scenery construction, costume designing, and a general preparation for the tour. The first of the presentations will be on stage April 6 in Murphysboro. After six weeks of the performances, the cast will return to the campus for close examination and discussion of the tour.

BESIDES presenting the "one nighters," the class will conduct clinics for high school students of Southern Illinois that are interested in dramatics.

Doris Schwinn, assistant supervisor in the Division of University Extension, is in charge of the business arrangements and bookings for the group.

The plays are being sponsored by the speech department and the extension division.

Service to Southern Applications Due Today

With the Theta Xi Variety Show only six days off, the steering committee is rapidly tying loose ends together in preparation for the show, Feb. 5. Today is the deadline for the Service to Southern applications. They must either be turned in at the display table in Old Main or at the Theta Xi chapter house at 311 West Main.

At Wednesday's revues, three new acts were accepted for the show, bringing the number of entries to the traditional 20. Group acts in the show will be competing for a $100 traveling trophy, and individuals for gold medals. Last year's organization winner was Sigma Tau Gamma, and the individual medals were won by Tom Sloan, Delores Biondi, and Leah Bradley Sims.

New acts in the show include vocal numbers by Barbara Buford and Roberta Phillips, and an organization skit by Tau Kappa Ipsilon. The fraternity is presently in search of a small electric organ to be used for interlude music. Anyone having information concerning such an organ is asked to notify the fraternity as soon as possible, phone 707.

Stock in the show is rising rapidly due to the caliber of the acts and the accepted invitation of Curt Flay, popular St. Louis disc jockey and M.C. to act as master of ceremonies at the show. However Chairman Jim Kahmann urged all the acts to be presented at all rehearsals next week.

Rehearsals will be held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evening at 6:30. Acts will be contacted at the time they are to be at the auditorium. In regard to rehearsals Kahmann said, "We've got a good show lined up, but plenty of practice will be necessary to insure proper stage handling. A good show can suffer from lack of timing in regard to stage presentation."

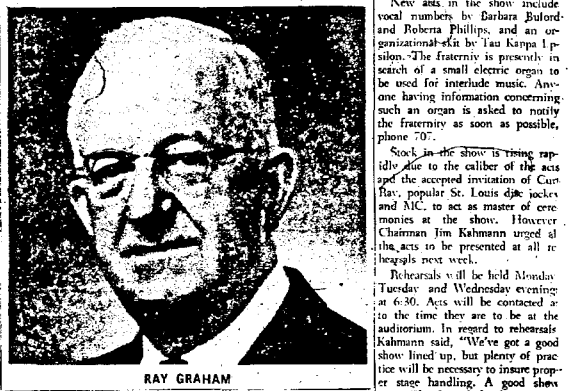

An all-school assembly previewing the Variety Show is scheduled for Monday, Feb. 2 at 10 a. m. in the auditorium. All classes will be dismissed for the assembly.

In regard to the Service to Southern presentation, each of the 10 finalists for the award is asked to provide a speaker in his behalf on the Wednesday meeting of the committee. These finalists will be notified by phone Monday.

The Wednesday meeting of the Service to Southern committee will take place in the Student Center at 3 p. m. It is not necessary for the finalist to be present, just the speaker in his behalf.

Members of the committee are Fletcher F. Eberly, chairman, Bruce Greenleaf, Norm White, Jean Stehr, and Dr. L. J. Bischof.

Tickets are on sale at the entrance to the University from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m. Anyone wishing to purchase advance tickets should see Theta Xi members at the ticket stand. Advance sale is 50 cents, and tickets at the door are 60 cents, and tickets at the door are 60 cents, and tickets at the door are 60 cents.

Our Opinions

A Marquee for SIU

Right now we have a large banner stretched across the campus drive at the main gate which was put up to serve a just purpose...

Several sponsors of these various activities have had the initiative and energy such as the Theta Xi's have demonstrated and have made these large banners in order to advertise their respective events.

The suggested project was nothing less than a university "marquee." Such a "marquee" could be erected in a prominent position at the entrance to our campus...

This would be a sure-fire way of bringing subjects before the students in a way which they can't help but notice and the groups sponsoring the various events would jump at the chance to publicize their event...

At present, such groups spend money right and left buying materials to make posters and banners and then after hours spent working on them, the results still look rather amateurish.

Before this "marquee" can become a reality there has to be someone behind it — and what better someone it could have than the student organization on campus.

Wheeler Library Suffers Loss

Approximately $234 in Articles Stolen During '52

The State of Illinois lost $234.72 in the calendar year 1952 in the Wheeler Library building here on our campus according to an announcement from Robert H. Muller, director of libraries. An amount of $234.72 had to be spent to replace issues that had been stolen from the open shelves in the Periodicals Reading Room on the second floor of the library.

Students may not realize that the issues discarded for their benefit on open shelves are subsequently used to make up bound volumes for the permanent reference files of the library, said Muller. An issue that is stolen must be replaced; and the cost of such replacement issues is usually considerably higher than the issue originally purchased on the basis of a subscription.

IN MANY instances, it has not been possible to locate a replacement issue. In such cases the stolen issue will never again be available to any future student in Southern Illinois University.

Muller has reported that several possible solutions of this problem have been discussed with members of his staff. It was decided that it would cost too much to employ a guard at the exit of the Periodicals room.

IT SEEMED in the library staff that some one has to be taken to curtail losses attributable to irresponsible students. Many libraries solve the problem completely by placing all magazines be-

Matmen Face Western, Look for 2nd Win Tonight

By Don Duffy

Western Illinois' wrestlers will invade the men's gym tonight as the Saluki grapplers will go out in search of their second win of the season.

After losses to Illinois Normal, Arkansas State, and Memphis Normal at St. Louis, the Southern team won Eastern Illinois 23-3 last Friday for their first victory. Then Saturday afternoon, they dropped another match to Memphis, 14-12.

COACH JIM Wilkinson will have the same varsity group wrestling tonight as last week-end. Topping Southern's line-up is 123 pounder Bob Whelan. The Chicago sophomore, with five straight victories, is the only grappler who is still undefeated.

A doubtful spot in the line-up is the 147 pound division. Joe Fedora, junior letterman and captain of the team, has been troubled this week with a shoulder injury. In all probability Fedora will be ready to go tonight. If not, Wilkinson will probably use Bill Mayr, a Belleville freshman, but not wrestling in varsity competition as yet. However, he posed victories over Illinois Normal and Memphis Bluejackets' wrestlers in two exhibition matches.

DISAPPOINTED with the fact that Jack Stoudt has been the only wrestler to post a victory by fall—Wilkinson and Assistant Coach Russ Bush have been drilling the team on pinning combinations in practice sessions this week. Although Southern and Memphis each won four matches last Saturday, Memphis won the meet because one of its victories came via a fall. Several of Southern's wrestlers won by large point margins, but were unable to apply a pinning hold.

The line-up for tonight:

123 lbs. — Bob Whelan, Chicago sophomore.

130 lbs. — Marshall Riggan, Belleville freshman.

137 lbs. — Captain Jack Stoudt, Chicago senior.

147 lbs. — Joe Fedora, Granite division, but has been troubled this week with a shoulder injury. In all probability Fedora will be ready to go tonight. If not, Wilkinson will probably use Bill Mayr, a Belleville freshman, but not wrestling in varsity competition as yet. However, he posed victories over Illinois Normal

Louis freshman Hwyat. Kent Werner, Belleville freshman.

Starting time of the meet is 7:30 p. m. Admission is free to all.

Salute Salukis

Although Center and Captain Chuck Thate has had occasional trouble finding the basket this season (8.7 points average per game), he currently is third among the rebounders in the Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference.

Shortly after the season began, the 67 Chicago senior was sidelined with a sprained ankle and foot infection. Because these injuries kept him from reaching top playing condition, Coach Lynn Holder switched Welch to the starting center assignment for several games. But Thate's rebounding ability soon regained his starting berth for him.

CHUCK, a graduate of Hirsch high school in Chicago came to Southern in Sept., 1929, with only half of his senior high school year to show that he played basketball before that time which limited an due to an eligibility rule in effect. Due to participation in one varsity sport only, he had to put off this case career until the rule was changed in Nov., 1948. Up until that time, he played first string end on the Hirsch football team.

Because of his size, Thate came to Southern as a basketball player rather than a grinder. Since football demands different muscular action than does basketball, Chuck had to work long and hard to develop his co-ordination.

BECAUSE of his height and rebounding ability, Thate was elevated to the varsity squad mid-way in his freshman season. He saw enough action to win his letter on a team of such Southern case greats as Jack Long, Bob Colborn, Charlie Gos. Frank Gladson and Joe Hughes. Since then, he has won more varsity letters to his credit.

The 22 year old, 210 pounder's most thrilling experience came during his freshman year when Southern tangled with Evanstonville College. According to Chuck and the record book, the Southerners soundly routed the Hoosiers, 60-34. Thate scored 12 points and pulled down more rebounds than any other man on the court.

High Schools taking part in the clinic were Mt. Vernon, Marion, Anna-Lonsboro, Mablewood, Benton, Nashville, Mt. Pulaski, Granite City, Vienna, E. St. Louis, University High, Sandoual, Carbonale Community, Murphysboro, and Blufford. Missouri State Teachers College was also represented.

Kahmann Korner

By JIM KAHMANN

It's getting so these days that a guy can't open his mouth anymore without someone quoting what he said. Especially if that guy is in the field of sports here at Southern. In this case whenever a sports article is written, the writer, hears something out of the ordinary, it's copy.

The topic was football, and this guy could talk football a night. He's even got his wife talking football and girls, here's one for you who know a niggin from white bucks. "Bill O'Brien knows as much football as any man I've ever played for or coached with. He's a good man, and he's the most sincere individual I've ever met."

And so, since we never did write that epiphany to the 1932 football season, who thought, "This is a good quote to write about."

Perhaps that's why Southern had a scrappy, a plugging, a different team this year. Because their coaches knew their beans, because they had a deep respect for one another's knowledge, and because the boys really liked them.

When you add those things together, they spell out... GOOD TEAM. And, but some unforeseen happening, Southern will better their record next year.

Bill O'Brien and Bob Franz both have deep respect for each other's ability. They can sit and talk football for a week or two at a time. If you locked them in a room together, they'd be writing plays on the walls, and wouldn't O'Brien and Franz wouldn't like that. But they'd understand it.

Don't get the wrong impression. Although when you talk to one or the other, they'll commend each other, they don't do it for the sake of publicity. It's not that, "Good ol' Bill!" or "Good ol' Bob!" stuff that you hear from lesser men. Nothing they're saying about these fellows.

After this year, when we start making those once-in-a-year journey to see the Homcoming football game, we've got one big wish, Hope to see the two men out there, when they've got gray hair, if they want it that way.

This is what happens when a coach voices his opinion. But we couldn't resist the temptation.

Rippelmeyer's Shooting Too Much for Indians

By Jim Kahmann

About the only thing exciting in Southern's 74-68 victory over Cape Girardeau last Tuesday was Ray Rippelmeyer's shooting. That, and the fact that Cape made a strong surge in the last minute of the first quarter to come from a 69-56 score with five minutes to go to 69-65 with two minutes on the clock. Rip clocked 26 points on his card, largely by virtue of fine, first half shooting.

OUTSIDE OF THAT, the game was pretty much of an average affair. Both teams started rather slowly, and said Rippelmeyer's tosses kept Southern ahead at the quarter, 18-14. Second quarter scoring duplicated the first, and Southern led at the eight-point lead at halftime, 36-28.

Rippelmeyer had 18 points the first half, and had continued the second half with similar efforts, he could have beaten Cape all his life, if it had not been for that, at least until the final quarter, when the Missouri boys began to move.

But Rip didn't get as many shots the second half, and passed off frequently. It was in the second half that the Indians gave their best performance. With Ted Henderson, Don Smith, and Ray Estes looking good at times, Cape scored 40 points after the break.

It may have been lucky for the Salukis that Henderson had an off night. He quickly led himself away with three fouls in his first quarter. He sat most of the second on the bench, and luckily too. For the big freshman center got three fouls and five free throws the third quarter for 11 points.

CHUCK THATE looks as good or better than he has offensive all season in the fourth quarter. Cape started to move up. Don Smith hit two in a row, and Copeland and Balzer one each at the five minute mark in the final period, and the score said 69-65. Southern.

Then Big Chuck came off the bench and hit three straight hook shots to give the Salukis a four-point lead in the scoring, as Balzer hit another. But after Thate's over-the-head hook had found their mark, Cape was almost on the winning. They tried valiantly, but fouled frequently in the waning moments to give Southern an edge over free throws. Bob Nickolaus got six free tosses in the last three minutes, connecting on four of them, giving Southern the real break of the night.

Nick would have had himself quite a night also, had he been hitting. But the Centralia jumping jack hit on only five of 16. He still managed to come up with 18 points, eight behind Rippelmeyer, which would have been fine in scoring with 11 apiece. However, he has a couple of his long kiss-shots again, and the fans are beginning to realize this is a pliant habit of Welch's.

For Cape, the scoring went 17 and 15 for Balzer and Henderson respectively, and Estes and Smith had 10 each.

But all the boys led to take seconds boys due to Ray Rippelmeyer's performance. This guy could become another one of those great Southern basketball players, right in the tradition of Bob Colborn, Charlie Gos, and Tom Milliken, to name a few more of the more recent stars. Lynn Holder has coached quite a few of them in his day, and it looks like he's got another one in the kid who's always mad at the basket.

He sticks his tongue out when he shoots.

JACK THERIOT dynamo guard from Florin, drives down under for a set-up in the Southern Missouri State game last Tuesday. Cape's Ted Henderson (35) has a big paw dropped over Theriot's shoulder, trying to block the shot. Theriot was awarded fifty free throws for the foul. Other key players in the picture are Southern's Chuck Thate (39) and Cape's Ray Estes (47). Southern won the game, 74-68.

Rippelmeyer Leads Loop 'n Rebounds

Ray Rippelmeyer, sophomore forward in the Saluki cage, currently tops the IAC in rebounding with an average of 12.9 rebounds per game.

The 6.3 Linnvale letterman is also fourth in the individual rate for the conference high scorer title. With an even 18 points, he trails third place Dick Partin of Central Michigan with 18.7. Webster Kirksey of Michigan Normal with 18.9, and current leader Bill Saver of Illinois Normal with 21.9.

Rippelmeyer's name appears among the top ten in two other departments. He ranks sixth in free throw percentage with 40 for 53, an average of .754. Saver of the Normal Redbirds leads in this department, also, with an average of .875. The Southern Saluki forward's record of 43 field goals in 122 tries gives him an average of .362 and ninth position in the field goal percentage listing. Bobby Lee of Eastern is the current shot shooter with a .456 average.

Two other Salukis place among the top ten. Gib Kurtz, sidelined with a sprained ankle, is ninth in free throw percentage with .706. Chuck Thate, senior captain, is third in rebounding with an average of 11.9 rebounds per contest.

As a team, Southern isn't faring too badly. The Salukis are first in rebounding with 49 per game; third
