Frank's Forecast

Southern Seer Scans Scene for '65

Predicts Plenty Perennial Problems

By Frank Messersmith

Everyone likes to win, and everyone likes to bet on a sure thing, so how come there aren't more at least one or two millionaires at SIU?

For those with a little capital and some sporting blood, here are a few things that are sure to happen at Southern in 1965.

- Claima of malpractice, quackery and witchcraft will be leveled at the Health Service by some students who manage to drag himself to the medical facility only to find member it has been moved to the opposite side of campus.
- At least one tree will be moved.
- Someone will get waited on at the library circulation desk in less than 10 minutes.
- The day the coffee in the University Center tastes good, it's bound to be some that was reheated by mistake from the day before.
- At least one student senator will be elected to the Student Senate by a single vote, his own.
- Alas, the old blunderbuss in front of Old Main will get at least 4,563 1/2 coats of paint.
- Construction workers will declare one free day not to block traffic endlessly, grab all the choice parking places, or dump tons of dirt and mud on campus sidewalks.
- A student will have a get-together with a few friends and will end up at the police station complaining that local authorities are infringing on his rights to rampage in his off-campus cove.
- A student caught with an illegal car will protest that he didn't intentionally park it on an isolated street five blocks from his house, but when he ran out of gas and just forgot where he left the car, he ran out of gas and just forgot where he left the car, he ran out of gas and just forgot where he left the car.
- The bath and shave are sure to be leveled at the Health Center.
- A student will be reported to the Student Senate.
- The Student Senate will become independent because the University administration did (Continued on Page 2)

Crime Correction Students Graduate

SEIU will "graduate" six international students Friday in a ceremony marking completion of a six months' training program in crime corrections.

Benjamin Frank, acting director of the SIU Center for the Study of Crime, Delinquency and Corrections, said the six are professional corrections personnel who have completed a concentrated program of study in such areas as correctional institution management and design, juvenile and criminal courts and the probation and parole system.

The SIU crime center has provided such training for personnel from other countries since 1962, when it established such a program in agreement with the State Department's Agency for International Development.

Three of those currently completing study at the center are from the Cairo, Egypt, prison administration. They are Col. Ibrahim Moharim Mustafa, director of financial affairs; Lt. Col. Hussein Salih Tabo Salah, director of organization and methods and advisor, and Lt. Col. Mohamed Salah Tabo Salah, director of public relations.

The others are Lt. Col. Mohammed Sidik Mahomed Siddik, director of Miya, Tu; and Lt. Col. Mohammad Alzega Nathar, assistant director, Office of Chief of Honors, Tehran, Iran.

Health, Tensions of Position Influence Decision, He Says

By Frank Messersmith

Henry J. Rehn, dean of the School of Business, has announced he is planning to step down from the deanship.

Rehn made the announcement to the members of the department Monday. His release will be effective when the administration finds someone to succeed him.

Rehn said he didn't think the administration had anyone in mind when he said that he and the school would have to wait until the board action at the next meeting of the board.

The fact influencing the step-down is one of health.

"I suffered a coronary about a year ago," Rehn said, "and now I'm back up to a 60-hour week. I just can't stay at this routine."

Rehn said the tensions that mounting up in the deanship are too great for his health condition.

"I feel good now, but I want to get out before the strain while I still do," he said.

Students with scholastic troubles seek his signature to get back on committees and even though, in his heart, he wants to accept all of them, his brain tells him not to.

"I don't think I can," he added.

At some time, Rehn said he starts to feel restless, wondering if he made the right decision.

"I'm tired of playing God with other people's lives," he said.

Rehn does not know what he will do next. He said he may go back to teaching, or he may go back to teaching, or the University may have another position for him.

When he came to SIU in October, 1944, he was named as professor and dean of the School of Business at the University of Great Britain.

Rehn moved to the mid-west to his Ph.D. from the University of Chicago, and societies and associations of which he is a member include the American Association University, American Accounting Association, American Economic Association, Society for Advancement of Management, Academy of Management, and the American Institute of Certified Accountants.

While Americans take pride in the Smithsonian Institution, which most of us incorrectly call the "Smithsonian Institution," few are aware of its origin, or of the scope of its activities. In pictures and words, this book sets out one of the "world's greatest museums" and presents a fascinating glimpse of the collections it houses.

The founder, who gave the museum its soul, was an Englishman who never visited America. The story of Northumberland, James Smithson, left his money to "a museum with a usual provision that if the museum died without a child the money was to go to the United States government to found, at Washington, "an establishment for the increase and diffusion of knowledge." The museum died childless in 1835 and the estate, valued at roughly $500,000, came to this country. In 1846 Congress passed a bill creating the Smithsonian Institution.

Today the Smithsonian's collections are housed in seven buildings, plus its buildings in the National Zoological Park, and lists a collection of more than 57 million specimens. Numerous products have been published in the form of monographs and reports.

For Smithsonians, this pictorial story of the Smithsonian Institution will hold the greatest of interest. For others, it is a fitting introduction to the work of this most excellent photographic endeavors depicting outstanding items from the various collections, including a section of pictures from the National Gallery of Art.

COMEDY, PATHOS, UNRELIABILITY ARE ONE-ACT PLAY THEMES

A trio of one-act plays will go on stage at 8 p.m., Friday in the Southern Playhouse. The plays include "A Little Matter of Love," "We're All Going Home," by Leni James; and "Love and a Little" by Robert Fohrman.

"A Little Matter of Love" is a stylized comedy of manners and ideas. The action shows that a real marriage in the 1950's was not unlike what a real marriage is now, said Wallace Sterling, graduate assistant and director of the play.

The cast includes Lynn Leon, Mary Cramer, Eddie Conwell, Elene Binomo, John Knap as Jones, and Pamela Worley as Gorerich. Robert Pevitas will handle the set design, David Kelly will serve as stage manager, and John Hock as stage assistant in theater, will direct "We're All Going Home." The play takes place in a psychiatric hospital. It deals with the idea that people who deal with "afflicted" people long enough will become afflicted themselves.

Characters include John Hock as Watson, Karen Flea Viga as Bosco; Charlene Crow as Jenkins; Clifford Shaw as Jones; Keith. Bea as Lee; Donna McBride at Kaplun. Acting the parts of patients is Marlin Cole and Roberta Monives, Larry Wild will design the set; properties will be handled by Miss Koch and Miss Hugan will be stage manager.

It features Con Monies as Littina, Berry Frohman as Jason and Dick Barton as the young man who makes the cast for the production.

The cast will be as assistant director and will be in charge of costumes. Rita Verdin will handle properties, and Mike Nielsen has charge of lighting.

Coordinator of lighting for all three plays will be Macy and Nancy Demerson will serve as coordinator of properties for the plays. Admission is free for the evening's entertainment.

SCIENCE GRANT AWARD TO SIU

A $59,900 grant has been awarded by the National Science Foundation to SIU to support archaeological research on the Chalchihuites Culture of Mexico, according to J. Charles Kelley, director of the Latin American Institute, until recent carbon 14 tests dated the leather and rock of the fragments about 400 years, many anthropologists had considered them a hoax, and no extensive effort had been made to subject them to the most modern dating techniques.

Length of the grant will allow the parts of patients to be acquired and published in a limited edition of 500 by Ronald Porrua in Mexico City in 1957, the volume is a study of a Mayan manuscript written on 102 strips of leather. Youngest University 'Scholar' Majors in sandbox, Has 5.0

Nursery Scholars 'Model' For Child Development Study

By Dianne Anderson

UL's youngest "student" is only 3 1/2 years old and has a 5.0 average in his major-subjects. He is enrolled in the Home and Family Department's nursery school, one of three on the SIU campus. (Along with the home and family department, the school has a kindergarten class and the Psychology Department's nursery school.)

Angela Summers (foreground) is eager to dance...

The home and family morning session, from 9 to 12 a.m., has children ranging from 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 years, and the afternoon session, from 1 to 4 p.m., has children from 3 1/2 to 5 years. Each session has about 10 pupils. The University time money the parent must pay for the morning group is $90 per person and for the afternoon group, $30.

The program is staffed by a full instructor, a graduate student, and some participant workers, along with the child development student, the home and family nursery assistant, and the child in the nursery, Dianne Anderson.

"The purpose of our program is research and education," said Mrs. Elizabeth K. Anderson, director of the Home and Family Department, in an interview with the Daily Egyptian. "Youngsters enrolled in child development courses are involved in a nursery project for the purpose of observing and working with these younger children as a supplement to their classroom work."

The nursery is located on the lower level of the campus center, and the child can be enrolled in the program from the beginning of the term and remain until the 20th week of the University term. Children are required to wear the University name badges.

The classes continue through the three nursery terms and include free playtime, story, and music time, snack time, creative activity time, and free time, which are planned on a rotating basis.

"The nursery's primary objective is to provide a learning environment in a nursery setting," said Mrs. Anderson.

"The advantage in our school is that the nursery program can be linked with the psychology department, and the psychology department can work with the nursery program, and the psychology department can work with the nursery program."

The nursery is open to children ranging from 2 1/2 to 5 years, and it is located in the Psychology department.

Burch to Quit GOP Post; Bliss Likely Replacement

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) - Barry Goldwater and three other top Republican leaders, trying to avoid a party-splitting showdown later, announced Tuesday that they have agreed to submit to direct elections by the convention in August. They have been leading candidates for the nomination, although some of the other candidates are now more likely to run as independents.

Stevenson Terms Withdrawal Of Indonesia Good for UN

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. (AP) - Adlai Stevenson, United States ambassador to the United Nations, said Tuesday that the withdrawal of Indonesia will help rather than hurt the U.N.

"The withdrawal of Indonesia will increase the loyalty and solidarity of the balance of the membership," Stevenson said. "I do not believe that Indonesia has been any good for us."

Shoemaker said newsweek during a visit to Bloomington, home city of his family.

He was in Illinois for inauguration ceremonies in Springfield. Stevenson also predicted that the United States would win in a U.N. showdown with Russia over the Soviets' refusal to pay dues for the U.N. peace-keeping operations in the Congo. But he said he is hopeful that some kind of satisfactory repayment agreement can be worked out.

"If it can't be worked out then we'll have a confrontation and a showdown and win or lose, I suspect we will win," the ambassador said.

"I suspect the greatest portion of the membership will recognize it in imperative to preserve the U.N. Constitution and Charter on one hand and the financial stability on the other."

Goldwater termed Burch one of the most effective men holding that office in many years "but I know through having worked with many national chairmen that without his full support of the committee he could not do his job nor himself justice."

Goldwater urged the selection of Bliss to replace Burch and pledged his support to him.

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Johnson sent Congress a record $2.66 billion for 1966: "The new program would provide assistance to pre-school youngsters, elementary and secondary school pupils in the nation's pockets of poverty, and college scholarships and other help for worthy needy high school graduates."

Johnson said the one-year cost in excess of $1.5 billion is "too small a price to pay for developing our nation's most priceless resource."

"Poverty is man's worst enemy," the President said, "but the top root is ignorance."

The presidential program would provide for fiscal 1966:

- Public schools: $1 billion for elementary and secondary schools serving children from families with less than $2,000 annual income. There are an estimated 5 million such children and 85 to 90 per cent of the nation's school districts will qualify for assistance.
- Higher Education: $260 million to provide 160,000 scholarships, partial payment of interest on guaranteed private loans to college students - perhaps 1 per cent of the usual 6 per cent, assistance to as many as 500,000 non-traditional teacher training programs, and university-community extension programs, similar to the traditional agricultural extension programs.
- The total price tag of $1.655 billion for 1966 is for one year only, although some programs are scheduled for three years and others five. Administration sources declined to forecast what will be asked for in the years ahead, but many Washington sources believe the annual cost will be in the $3 billion to $4 billion range.

DAILY EGYPTIAN
Indonesia Criticizes Troop Move

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) - A Foreign Office spokesman charged Tuesday that Britain is preparing to attack Indonesia by creating "another Suez incident" in this part of the world.

In a statement, spokesman Gamis Harsono said the British military buildup in neighboring Malaysia "is unprecedented." He said Britain used Egypt's seizure of the Suez Canal as a pretext to attack the Egyptians in 1956 and such an action could be repeated by Britain by using the Malaysia dispute as an excuse.

"In this respect Indonesia is a 'survivor,'" Harsono declared, "and Indonesia will not stand alone if attacked by Britain.

Harsono charged that Britain had deliberately spread rumors over Indonesia's main reason for withdrawing from the United Nations. He said free from all ties so as to begin a general attack on Malaysia. Indonesia has said it will crush Malaysia this year, calling the federation of Malaya, Singapore, Sarawak and Sabah a "null" to continue British rule.

In Malaysia, Prime Minister Nehru said Indonesia "will come to its senses" during his visit, the current Mosea month of fasting, and call of its hostile attitude toward neighboring Islamic nation.

Rahman said on arrival in Oakland, his home town, for a vacation. That President Ford, Indonesia should realize the "dangerous game he is playing" by sending arms to rebels against Malaysia.

Beards Bring Campus Dispute

ROCHESTER, Mich. (AP) - There's something of a fight at the University of Rochester over whether student beards are unsightly and unsanitary or a reflection of a sense of freedom. Dean Herbert Stoutenburg said last fall he got complaints from students about beards worn by student workers in the campus' cafeteria. Stoutenburg said, "We didn't look at the beards while they were eating." Stoutenburg said, "We also noticed that beards and unclesiness in dress sometimes go together."

So in December he said all student employees under his direction had to shave their beards.

However, some faculty members, including the chairmen of the psychology department, protested and the ban was rescinded. James C. Haden, philosophy department chairman and a man with a beard himself, said, "Students feel a sense of freedom when they come to college and we endanger this when we proscribe things too narrowly. Sometimes growing a beard is a reflection of this sense of freedom."

However, Stoutenburg said he still felt that beards were out of place in the Student Union building.

He then ordered that only students working in the Oak- land center's two cafeterias, grill, information center and bookstore had to shave.

Wisconsin Quads Fine But Father in Shock

KENOSHA, Wis. (AP) - "They called me up and told me to come to the hospital," said Robin Graf, 24, "but to drive carefully." And well they might. Shortly afterward Graf's young wife, Joyce, gave birth to quadruplets - the first in Wisconsin in more than 100 years and only the second set in the state's history.

The babies and their mother, Dr. Edwin Barnes reported Tuesday, "are fine."

The father, according to his mother, Anna Graf of Superior, Wis., "is in shock" even though the quad arrival was expected.

"He was in shock," commented the elder Mrs. Graf in the house trailer where the young family - up to now has lived, "He kept saying he was cold, but it was really because I felt like a grandmother. I knew then he was in shock."

Births of the two boys and two girls, each weighing 3 1/2 pounds or more despite an arrival some six weeks early, gave the Grafes six new babies in less than a year.
3 Students Accused of Theft Put on Disciplinary Probation

Three students accused by a Carbondale store owner of trying to steal Christmas tree lights from his store early last month have been put on disciplinary probation through the winter quarter.

Two of the students, Franklin Simpson, 22, a senior from White Plains, N.Y., and David L. Miller, Chicago, were fined $50 and $15 court costs by Judge Robert Schwartz. Simpson was arrested at the time of the incident, Miller turned himself in later.

A spokesman for the Office of the Dean of Students said the three were trying to take the articles from the store when the owner noticed them. He said Simpson and another companion tried to protect Miller, who fled, but they were warned that they could face expulsion if he was not named. He turned himself in.

The two are Michael Drum, 21, senior from Peotum and John Benziger, 22, a junior from Glen View. A spokesman for the Office of the Dean of Students said they took the oil while getting gas for their car. He said they drove to Murphysboro, then returned to Carbondale with the intention of returning the oil. However, they were arrested before they reached the service station.

The Office of the Dean of Students has not yet taken any action, rather than put his friends on the spot.

In addition to being placed on probation, the three were to make a personal apology to the store owner, make restitution, and split the fines paid by Simpson and Miller.

Slick Theft Nets 2 Students Fines

Two students were fined $50 and $15 in court costs by Judge Robert Schwartz Jan. 11 after he found them guilty of stealing three cans of oil from a service station Jan. 9.

The Office of the Dean of Students has not yet taken action, with the opening meeting of the 1965 indoor track season just a little more than two weeks away, Saluki track coach Lew Hartzog is beginning to get excited.

"It looks like we're going to have a great year," the veteran mentor said, relaxing in his office late one day. "We should be considerably stronger than last year. We'll have our toughest indoor schedule but everybody on the team is shooting for the team's record on last year's pace."

The trackmen will get their first test Saturday, Jan. 30, when they travel to Madison, Wis., for a dual meet with the University of Wisconsin's Badgers.

First there the going will get fast and furious as the Salukis will enter four big relay and open meets during February in addition to a dual engagement with the always powerful University of Kansas Jayhawks.

There will be no letup when March rolls around as the trackmen will conclude their indoor campaign with four more big ones including the first annual Illinois indoor track championships to be held in December.

Despite the impressive schedule, Hartzog warns that the team may get off to a rather slow start because of the lack of time for him to recuperate between meets.

"We're really just getting started," he said. "We're working out outdoors but we haven't been able to get on the track because it gets muddy and then freezes over. All we can do is work out on the grass."

Thus Hartzog isn't looking for any miracles in the opener against defending Big Ten Indoor Track Champ Wisconsin. "It's not expecting too much even from the boys who'll be scoring in the big meets later," said the Saluki veteran, "but we just haven't had the chance to work."

But the Salukis may have some surprises in store for the Texas native if some of their performances in the Sugar Bowl Holiday Track Classic Dec. 29 are a good indicator.

In the meet the four Salukis who competed showed almost unbelievably good early-season form. Quartermiler Gary Carr led the way with a blazing 47.6 clocking in this specialty.

The time is two-tenths of a second under his own school record of 47.9. The feat took on even more significance when one realizes the school standard was set last in the outdoor season while the junior's time in December was his first competitive race of the year.

But Carr wasn't the only Saluki who was impressive in the big meet at New Orleans, La. Injury-prone British distance ace Bill Cornell topped the field in the 1,500-meter with a fine time of 3:53.4, to finish second in the always powerful University of Kansas Jayhawks.

Southern's loss to Wichita was certainly not a disappointment one as the Shockers played one of their finest games against the heavily favored Cougars.

A 13-point loss to the third-rated college basketball team in the country is likewise not a very good performance. Wichita, now sporting an 11-2 record, has beaten some of the toughest teams in the country, including Bradley, Villanova and Cincinnati.

The Shockers' only setbacks came to Michigan, the Big Ten leader, and Joseph's College in Philadelphia, one of the powerhouse clubs in the East. The Shockers' 11 points were also the third highest total scored against the Shockers this year, and nine points above the average scored against Wichita this year.

Southern fought the taller Shockers neck-and-neck in the contest, and were second in the scoring battle 14 times in the first half, and midway through the second half the Salukis were only four points down, 70-66.

Both teams were as close on the statistician's sheet as they were on the hardwood. Both teams did some fantastic shooting in the contest, and both teams were far from their seasonal average from the field.

Both teams took 66 shots from the field, with Wichita hitting 39, 59.1 percent, and Southern's 36 for a percentage of .391 to .545 respectively. The Salukis also did a surprising job of rebounding against the Shockers' who average over 6 feet 5 per man. Wichita pulled down 41 in the game, compared to 33 for Southern.

Dave "The Rave" Stallworth nabbed 15 rebounds to pace the victors, and Boyd O'Neal led the Salukis with eight. O'Neal grabbed his total after coming off the bench to replace starter Ralph Johnson, who ran into foul trouble.

Stallworth also led the scorers for Wichita as he posted in 20 points, three below his seasonal average. The 6-7 All-American tallied his points by hitting all seven field goal attempts and six of 11 from the foul line. Stallworth was followed closely in the scoring by three teammates: Dave Leach with 19, Kellie Pete with 18 and Nate Bowman with 17.

Southern's Joe Ramsey nailed down the scoring honors for the night with 25 points, the highest this season by a Saluki. George McNeill was second in the scoring battle as he tied his previous high for the season with 23 points.

By Associated Press

The St. Louis Hawks, chasing Los Angeles in the National Basketball Association's Western Division race, got some help from an unexpected source Monday night.

The Hawks, playing the Philadelphia 76ers in Tulsa, Okla., as part of the NBA's road show, whipped the 76ers 95-90 and picked up a game on the Lakers, who lost to fourth-place Detroit 128-127 at Pittsburgh.

Indiana, which slipped three spots from last week's Associated Press college basketball poll to No. 5 after losing straight since losing their season opener to Pekin, vaulted from 11th to sixth.

The Hoosiers, leading Iowa by four points with three minutes left last week in the Hawkeyes to two points the rest of the way and won going away 85-70. A string of six points in the last 90 seconds wrapped it up for Indiana, now 11-1.

Three other members of this week's top five went straight into the top five Monday night and all won: St. Joseph's (3), Michigan (5) and Wisconsin (7). No. 7, whipped visiting Creighton 67-66, third ranked Wichita kicked Southern Illinois 94.91 and No. 8 Davidson took down the Citadel 100-81.

Which is to say if this poll is a real poll, there isn't any.

On a week when six teams are involved, the defending national champions, the two teams ranked first and third are the UCs.

Killebrew to Outswat Ruth's 60

In '65, Hank Greenberg Says

Baltimore (AP) — Harmon Killebrew, the muscle outfielder of the Minnesota Twins baseball team, has been tabbed by Hank Greenberg as a solid threat to baseball's single-season home-run record.

"I think Babe Ruth's record of 60 and Roger Maris' 61 will be broken in the near future," said Greenberg, a member of Baseball's Hall of Fame who hit 58 homers in 1938. "Killebrew could do it next season."

"My advice to Harmon is to do nothing different," Greenberg said Monday night after both he and Killebrew received jewel-embellished Sultan of Swat crowns at the 12th annual banquet of the Maryland Professional Baseball Players Association.

"Harmon is right in his prime now after very little major league experience," said Greenberg. "He has a great chance. He's the right kind of park with the Minnesota Twins."

Killebrew, only 28, has slammed 184 homers during the past four seasons including his personal high of 49 last year. But his improved physical condition could lead to even higher totals.

"I feel better now than I have in a long time," said Killebrew. "I had a knee operation in December, 1963 which took one month of my 1964 season to straighten out. Now, my knee is 100 per cent better than before."

Despite 33 lifetime home runs and his great run at Ruth's record in 1938, for which he received a retrospective award, Greenberg, said, "I never considered myself a challenge to Ruth's records."

Other awards Monday night included: Manager of the Year, Hank Bauer, Baltimore Orioles; Pitcher of the Year, Dan Chance, Los Angeles Angels; Most Valuable Player, Brooks Robinson, Orioles; Star of the Future, Dave Boswell, Minneapolis and Scout of the Year, John Ogles, Phillies.
