He said the agreement to start high-level talks had been reached by British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, Soviet Premier Khrushchev and himself

In the meantime, the President announced, the United States will not conduct any nuclear tests in the atmos-phere--so long as the Soviet Union and other nations hold back on their tests, too.

Moscow announced only that the meetings will start in mid-July and did not name the Soviet representative.

which lowered the American flag and raised the Union Jack on the Old Main flagpole, Taking part in the ceremony were Col. George S. Blase, AFROTC commandant, How-ard R. Long, chairman of the Department of Journalism, and other SIO officials and faculty members and news-paper publishers from Illinois, Missouri and Ohio. Following the ceremony, Boorman spoke at a luncheon in the University Center. He was honored at a dinner Monday at 7 p.m. in the Renaissance Room of the Center which was given by the Department of Journalism.

The ceremony, technically arking Queen Elizabeth's marking Queen Elizabeth's birthday, was a gesture of good will to Boorman who flew an American flag in Maidstone on July 4th.

He had received the American flag when he came to SIU several years ago to attend the international Conference of Weekly Newspaper Editors annual meeting.

Last summer when Longs visited England, he received a Union Jack as a gift, with a suggestion that it be of the Queen's birthday. Saturday's ceremony was an outgrowth of that suggestion.

Does a man really take unfair advantage of women when he uses Mennen Skin Bracer?

All depends on why he uses it.

Most men simply think Menthol-Iced Skin Bracer is the best after-shave lotion around. Because it cools rather than burns. Because it thelps heal shaving nicks and scrapes; Because it helps prevent blemishes.

So who can blame them if Bracer's crisp, long-lasting aroma just happens to affect women so remarkably?

Of course, some men may use Mennen Skin Bracer because of this effect.

How intelligent!

Student Government In Cairo =

Fate Of A Charter

I. Clark Davis, student affairs director, said last week that the university has asked the national secretary of Sig-Tau Gamma social fraternity to come to the cam-pus. Davis said a hearing of university officials, student fraternity members and the national secretary would be held to determine in as fair a way as possible, the future of the fraternity on the SIU campus.

The action is the result of a fight at Crab Orchard Lake between members of Sigma Tau Gamma and several non-students.

Members of the fraternity have been involved in a number of incidents throughout the year. A fight between fraternity members and non-students in a West City tavern last fall led university of-ficials to ask Sigma Tau Gamma to show cause why their charter should not be discontinued on the campus. Since then, the fraternity has been involved in other incidents. Drapes caught fire in the fraternity house this However, Sigma Tau Gamma is not the only Greek organization at SIU to conduct themselves improperly. Other fraternities have been involved in fights, caught show-ing pornographic films and just last week two fraternity members damaged 15 cars in the parking lot at Small Group Housing.

Fraternity members are not the only students to get into trouble. Students from other living areas are often guilty of misconduct and when caught are punished.

The crux of the matter is that the university cannot have on its campus an organization whose actions are incompatible with the policies and goals of the university. The disadvantages to fraternity members is that whenever a group of them get involved in an incident, the name of the fraternity is blackened.

The purpose of a fraternity is fellowship, but a greater purpose, the purpose of the student in the university is education. For both the fraternity and the university to exist together, something more is required of the fra-ternity member than of the independent student. It is a certain amount of restraint and respect for the purposes of the university while at the same time enjoying the bene-fits of a fraternal organization.

If the charter of the SIU chapter of Sigma Tau Gamma is discontinued, the members of the fraternity will have deserved it. The university is attempting to assess the case fairly.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR:

Many students have been ing just mentioned. They deeply concerned with Student Government's involvement in Cairo. Some are violently opposed to this type of activity.

The Student Government on exert themselves out in THAT exert themselves out in 1HA1 World. But are we exempted from citizenship during our stay in college? Are we not being presumptuous to assume that a democracy will work when only some members of the society become active? We must realize that dewe must realize that developments taking place now are not going to be isolated from the society in which we will be the main participants. The question of whether we should be involved in Cairo now becomes more obvious. Discrimination of the type that prevailed in Cairo was in vio-lation of the laws of Illinois. It was in violation of human dignity and contrary to our democratic ideas.

I submit that we can only begin to receive the respect begin to receive the respect of society when we bear part of its burden. At that time we will have a positive in-fluence; and for those who wonder about the power of Student Government I pose this question: What is power but influence?

How We Pick School Chiefs

These are times when international questions of war and peace and even survival are so grave and internal troubles over racial discrimination so devisive that many domestic issues hardly get attention at all.

Take, for example, the structure of state government with respect to the official concerned with the state's public school sysstem. How efficiently is it operated and what does experience over the country show with respect to possible improvement and hence a saving in taxpayers' dollars? Some states elect the state superintendent of schools. Of those which elect, some do it on a party basis along with other officials elected on party tickets. Some states elect on a nonpartisan basis.

But in many states the post is appointive. In those which appoint the school head, some provide for appointment by the governor and some that appointment shall be by a state board of education.

Which Is Preferable?

Experience must show that one of these neans is more efficient, gives the people a better deal for their money, and does more to advance the cause of education.

A check of the 50 states shows that 26 appoint the school head and 24 elect. Here are those which elect:

Alabama, Arizona, California, Florida,
Georgia, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas,

Montana, North Carolina, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Carolina, South Dakota, Texas, Washington, Wisconsin, and

In six states the governor makes the appointment. These are Alaska, Hawaii, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, and Virginia.

What Can Be Learned

What can be learned from these lists? First, it is noteworthy that nearly half the states which elect are in the south, a region that hardly leads the nation in education. Second, the two newest states, Alaska and Hawaii, which could have chosen any means they preferred, provided for appointment by the governor. In recent years several states, including Missouri, have gone from the elec-tive to appointive school chief.

This indicates a trend to the appointed state school superintendent, doutbless in the hope of getting the office out of party politics and filling it on the whole with better-quali-fied professional educators. Several states ow have the change under consideration. In Illinois constitutional amendment resolutions are currently pending. State Sena-tors Simon, McGloon, Welch, Kinnally, Dixon, Neistein, O'Brien, Cronin, and Eberspacher are sponsoring a plan to change the school post from elective on party ticket to appointive. Adoption of their resolutions would do more than put the issue before the voters in the 1964 election.

A referendum on the pros and cons in a state with 10,000,000 people should be bene-ficial to the whole country. It is in the na-tional public interest to pass the public school

Is Close Regulation So Necessary?

Recently the Housing Office issued new off-campus hous-ing regulations. They are very broad, each with a correlative justification, giving the conforming students excellent boarding conditions. But they need to be questioned with respect to intent and future

It is true that many parents expect the school to provide adequate housing. It is true that many of the off-campus accommodations are poor. accommodations are poor. The City and the Housing office need to insure that these are acceptable under the existing health and fire codes, and that these codes are acceptable. But the conditions of contract, which include the study, eating, and other living facilities, are the responsibility and problem of the tenant and and problem of the tenant and landlord. When these are regulated there is a totali-tarian approach which does not belong in a public university. The present regulative action brings up several questions. Is such close re-college level? Should the accepted responsibility that the Freshman assumes in pursuing the preparation for a career give him the freedom to be responsible for picking to be responsible for picking his home? Does the adult stu-dent assume the responsibil-ities of a citizen, and still need to have his housing leg-islated? Are there any local or state political or economic aspects involved beyond that of approving housing?

I have two particular questions to voice. Does the University expect the citizens of Carbondaie to fulfill all of the requirements? It should be pointed out that there is a be pointed out that there is a bathroom rule in the regulations that the school has not observed in the permanent housing at Thompson Point. Most important, as I am sure anyone familiar with the School Objectives will agree, does this action proposes.

does this action promote "freedom with responsability" in the conforming student?
