have a wonderful THANKSGIVING

Pilgrims' Decision Gives Students Short Vacation

When the pilgrims landed in a national holiday and called it Thanksgiving. When the holiday was scheduled (through the Office of Pilgrim Affairs) for the first time, the Pilgrims played host to the Indians. Although there was a little confusion about seating arrangements, a wonderful time was had by all and it was decided to make the feast an annual affair. Thanks, Indians and Pilgrims. SIU's Thanksgiving break begins tomorrow at noon.

'Met' Star Headlines Christmas Oratorio

Leslie Chabay, former Metropolitan and San Francisco opera star, will headline the annual Christmas Oratorio December 4 in Shroyok Auditorium. Chabay, a tenor, has appeared with the Boston, Chicago, Minneapolis, Montreal, National, NBC, Pittsburgh and Rochester orchestras. For seven years he has been in residence at the Aspen, Colorado Music Camp. He is currently at Washington University in St. Louis. Features Bach

The Christmas program will consist of the "Christmas Oratorio" by Bach, and "Fantasia on Christmas Carols" by Ralph Vaughan Williams. Other featured soloists include Carolyn Hackman, St. Louis Contralto, and Carol Cook MacIntosh and Charles Kelley, both of the SIU music department. Also performing at the Sunday afternoon concert will be more than 200 voices of the Southern Illinois Oratorio Society and the SIU choir under the direction of Robert Hines. Student Program Excerpts from Bach's "Christmas Oratorio" will be presented at the student Christmas program on Monday, December 5. Solo parts will be sung by Jane Crutcher soprano, Marilyn Bagwell, contralto, Robert Wheeler, tenor, and Robert Walker, baritone. All are SIU voice students.

Three Dismissed For Buying, Selling ID's

Three students were last week dismissed on charges of buying and selling another student's identification cards. The students, whose names were withheld by University officials, will be separated from the University through the winter quarter.

Asst. Dean of Men Joseph F. Zaleski said one student admitted finding a billfold, taking all the ID cards and selling them to two other students for $5 and $10. The cards consisted of a Selective Service card, two driver's licenses (one expired), a voter's registration card, vaccination card, library card and student activities card.

One of the student "buyers" was already on disciplinary probation for earlier this quarter falsifying his student identification card.

Library Buys Micro Edition

A microprint edition of early American imprints, containing the complete text of every known book, pamphlet, and broadside from 1639 through 1800 is being purchased for Morris Library, according to Dr. Ralph E. McCoy, director of libraries.

The edition represents the works listed in Evans' "American Bibliography" and, when complete, will contain some 30,000 titles.

The work, now about 60 percent complete, is being edited by the director of the American Antiquarian Society, under sponsorship of the American Historical Society.

The microprint collection is arranged in boxes and filed on bookshelves in the social studies library.

Aided by the resources of 76 libraries, 91 American periodicals of the 18th Century — many rare and unavailable in the original — have been put on microfilm. The file begins with the American Magazine (Philadelphia, 1741) and American periodicals between 1800 and 1850 are still being filmed, with some 100,000 additional pages supplied each year until the project has been completed, "explained McCoy.

Turning from sex to religion, McCoy said more people today are attending church and for good reason: "They have a definite yearning for answers," he said.

"We were at one time identified by nationality," he noted, "but now that different nationalities have intermarried, we identify by religious groups.

"Religious groups have become more self-conscious and as a result people now discuss religions instead of nationalities."

McCormick said our main focus should be on our aims in life. "We should see and recognize the challenge," he said. "We need the positive approach to morals instead of the negative approach which Americans have used for so long."

Two Senior Interviews Slated Today

Due to the long-awaited Thanksgiving vacation which begins tomorrow at noon, the senior interview schedule is light this week. However, two interviews appear on today's schedule. Representatives from IBM are on campus interviewing seniors and graduate students in business, liberal arts, and applied science for sales, engineering, business administration and manufacturing assignments.

Also on campus today are representatives from the Upjohn Company. They are here to talk with seniors interested in pharmaceutical sales work. Interested students should have some chemistry and biological science in their academic backgrounds.

GI Bill Applications Due Nov. 30

Veterans attending school under Public Law 550 are reminded that applications for October's pay are due Wednesday, Nov. 30. Veterans can sign for the monthly subsistence at the Registrar's Office. Students returning winter quarter will sign for the December allotment Jan. 3. Veterans not returning will sign on the day of their last final exam.

POEMS BY STUDENTS SELECTED FOR ANTHOLOGY

Poems by two Southern students have been accepted for publication in the "Annual Anthology of College Poetry," it was announced by the National Poetry Association. George Simpson's "Value of Love" and Charles Weiser's "Reflections on the Age of Anxiety" will appear shortly in a compilation of poems from every section of the country.

New Sphinx Club Members Tapped Soon

New Sphinx Club members will be tapped Dec. 1 at their living areas between 5-8 p. m., it was announced. Membership in the honorary fraternity is limited to seniors and is based on activities during the student's college career. Bob Hardwick is president this year. New members will be presented Dec. 3 at the Lentz Hall Christmas Dance.

Childers Heads UN Meeting

Dick Childers has been chosen to head the Model United Nations Steering Committee, scheduled for February.

Bob Donahue will be in charge of delegations, Linda Hydron will head physical properties, Bridgette Marschall and Bob Winsted are in charge of accommodations and Georgia Meagher will take care of receptions. The Model UN, an annual event at Southern, is a mock session of the United Nations in New York. Student delegations, normally filled by students from the country they represent, tackle world problems in the two-day program.

Eleanor Roosevelt, widow of former president Franklin D. Roosevelt, will be guest speaker.

Fellowship Deadline Dec. 19

Closing date for consideration by the National Science Foundation for its Postdoctoral Fellowships for next Spring is Dec. 19. Offered to those holding the equivalent of a Ph.D. degree, the awards are in the natural sciences, the social sciences and interdisciplinary fields for full-time study or research. Basic stipend for unmarried fellows is $4,500 per annum. Shorter or longer terms of endeavor offer prorated stipends.

There are increments for married fellows with dependents, for travel and some allowance for costs of research and special travel.

Applications may be obtained from the Fellowship Office, National Academy of Sciences — National Research Council, 2101 Constitution Avenue, N. W., Washington 25, D. C. Fellowships will be awarded March 15.

Weekend Promises Food, Sleep For Some -- Study For Others

By Gudron Graw
Staff Reporter
Thanksgiving weekend, which begins tomorrow at noon, promises food, fun, sleep and maybe even a little study for the majority of Southern's students. Most will spend time tomorrow for the annual turkey dinner. Several students were asked to reveal their holiday plans — and this is what they said:

"We're going to enjoy a delicious Maitland dinner," said Connie Tuscan, Joyce Simon and Dona MacKinlay, sophomores from Staunton, Pekin and Springfield, respectively. George Graham, Wauegan junior, is going home to eat a Cornish game hen.

Sandy Budischak, Pekin sophomore, represents, "I'm going home I'm going to drive, drive and drive for four complete days!"

Baby Sitting On Tap
Baby-sitting with the 150 teenagers at the local teen-town will be the pleasant duty of Fred Burkett, senior from West Frankfort.

"I'll go home and write a book titled 'I Led Three Lives For the Saluti Patrol,'" contended Rick LaSusa, Chicago freshman. In the same line of thought Jo Kay Kraft, from Macedonia, said, "I'm going home, taking off my trench coat and shades, then relax from the spies."

Terry Cronis, Chicago senior, will attend the National Inter-Fraternity Council Convention in Los Angeles with Fred Ray, graduate student from Springfield, Mo., and advisor to the IFC.

"I'll disguise myself as a turkey and check license numbers at the tape."

Entrants will record Edna St. Vincent Millay's poem, "Renascence," and send the tapes to Southern for judging.

Michigan said all tapes will become SIU property, with the 100 best to be kept on file for later analysis by any school participating in the contest. Contest director is Lou Silvio, instructor of speech at SIU.

Marine Officer On Campus
Capt. Charles H. Black, Marine Corps selection officer, will be on campus next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday to interview students interested in getting commissions in the Marine Corps upon graduation.

The Marine Corps also offers a platoon leaders class and aviation platoon leaders class for underclassmen who have a 3.0

Drive Safely! Live To Eat Turkey

Junior's, was the diabolical plan of Ruth Strand, a transfer student. David Olson, Marion sophomore is going to study Morse code, work on his short wave transmitter and just relax.

Phasant hunting is planned by Robert Rea, West Frankfort senior. But George Henderson, sophomore from Aliquippa, Pa., has work to do — "Washing and ironing, yes indeed!"

"Going home to eat turkey, then relax!" are the sensible plans of Maureen McGuire, sophomore from Lombard.

Dave Leckrone, Salem junior, is taking a foreign student home with him for the holiday.

And Ray Tschmiedt, Alton junior, is looking forward to whole days of good home cooking.

Speech Dept. Sponsors Oral Contest

A $500 award in oral interpretation of literature, open to all colleges and university students in the United States, has been announced by Southern's speech department.

Dr. Ralph Micklen, chairman of the department, said the cash prize contest has been set up through a sponsoring grant from Webster, Inc., manufacturers of tape recorders and recording tape.

Entrants will record Edna St. Vincent Millay's poem, "Renascence," and send the tapes to Southern for judging.

Guess What? We Can Drive Over Holidays

University officials have given permission for students to possess automobiles during the Thanksgiving vacation from noon tomorrow through Sunday.

Asst. Dean of Men Joseph F. Zaleski said auto regulations would be lifted for the holiday period.

ENGINEERING CLUB ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

Donald Richardson, Metropolis, is the newly-elected president of Southern's student Engineering Club. The organization is an interest group to keep applied science students abreast of new engineering developments by having specialists as speakers or by showing educational films at regular meetings. It succeeds the Applied Science Club.

Club officers elected recently are: Stanley Chesnek, Centerville, president; Edward Tupper, Metropolis, secretary; and Larry Pritchett, McLeansboro, treasurer. Peter Anderson, assistant professor of applied science, is faculty adviser.

'We Value Materially'

Speaker Talks On Sex, Religious Values

Values are formed during a child's first 10 years, but they fluctuate throughout life. This is the opinion of Roy McCormick of American Friends Service Committee, speaker at the Thursday night session of Student Values Week.

"College tends only to substantiate the person's values," said the graying Philadelphiaan said. "After the character is formed during the youthful years, it is rarely changed."

McCormick said possibly a person finds a different channel of expression during college, but generally the change is slight.

"It's good for students to show a real mark of maturity by being concerned with things about them. I understand the students here are somewhat upset because they feel the administration is stepping on them."

"It is commendable that they are apparently taking steps to let the University know this, but it's imperative that they keep a clear perspective of what they're doing."

Turning to other forms of values, McCormick said people today give more attention to material possessions than ever before.

"One reason is because we have more today than ever before," he said. "Life becomes too cluttered with trivia under this system."

Like Maybe A Paycheck Forget Something?

By Robert Simpson
Staff Reporter
Some students are working for experience instead of money. The 52 unpaid checks at the Personnel Office are a reliable guide.

The checks total $729.59 and have been accumulating since June, according to Director Max Sappenfield. They range from $1.40 to $34. All are student work checks.

A few have been mailed but were returned because of "insufficient address." At one time, the Personnel Office had three times as many unclaimed checks as now, Sappenfield said.

If the checks are not claimed after six months of issuance, the State Treasury starts looking for the owners.

During October, 1,883 student checks were issued. The monthly average is about 1,800.

Okay, here's an alphabetical list of students who have a Thanksgiving bonus waiting to be collected:

ODANIELL MEETS WITH HOUSTON (TEX.) ALUMNI

Robert Odaniel, executive director of the Alumni Assn., was in Houston Tex., yesterday attending a meeting of alumni in that area.

Having more than one wife prohibits illicit affairs.

"Acceptable values are the same the world over. There is a shocking increase in sex literature, however, and this has tended to be suggestive. This is one reason sex has become almost a household word."

McCormick said that though college students are confronted with sexual frustration because of the modern straight-forward approach, they are more fortunate than persons not in college who have no opportunity to justify their frustrations through knowledge."

Turning from sex to religion, McCormick said more people today are attending church and for good reason: "They have a definite yearning for answers," he said.

Egyptian Rated 'First Class'

The Egyptian has been awarded a First Class Honor Rating by the Associated Collegiate Press for the third straight time.

The award was based on an analytic study and comparison with other college papers of the same classification.

Gareth H. Hiebert, columnist and former assistant editor of the St. Paul (Minn.) Dispatch, judged the newspaper. The Egyptian was compared to other college papers in the "Two-three times weekly, all enrollments" class.

Amassing 3,210 points, the SIU paper was 190 points short of the coveted All-American award. Papers judged were those of the second semester of last year.

Coverage was named the Egyptian's top feature. Ratings of excellent were also received in creativeness, features and layout. Other facts lauded were balance, printing, sports display, spring headlines and treatment of copy. Last year, the Egyptian was 300 points below the All-American level.

The present editorial staff of Joe Dill, editor; Ron Jacober, managing editor; Roger Maserang, city editor; Jo Gagle, sports editor; and Mickey Sparks, society editor, was also the staff during the period of rating. Val Biggers served as kinsman last

Southern Bows To Ohio's Top Ranked Bobcats, 48-6

Salukis Lose Season Finale; Finish Year With 8-2 Record

Athens, Ohio — Ohio University's Bobcats, the nation's No. 1 small college grid power, exploded for seven touchdowns here Saturday afternoon to roll over Southern's Salukis, 48-6, in the season finale for both clubs.

Victims of two last-minute touchdowns in the first half, Southern's determined bid to upend the Mid-American Conference champs was jarred when the Bobcats extended their lead to 28-0 at the intermission.

Displaying defense that had held its nine previous opponents to a mere 26 points, Ohio stopped two Saluki scoring drives within the five yard line. SIU's lone touchdown was the fifth score against the Bobcats this season.

Final 14-0 for Season
The victory gave OU its first unbeaten — untied season in 65 years, as they finished the campaign with a 10-0 mark. The loss left the IAC conference champs with an 8-2 slate. Southern's other loss was to the No. 2 small college power, Bowling Green, 27-6.

Ohio scored twice before Southern tallied its lone TD in the second quarter when quarterback Ron Winter crashed over center from the two yard line. Bobcat Ted Sute blocked Paul Brostrom's try for the extra point.

The Mid-American Conference champs had scored with nine seconds remaining in the first period when second-string quarterback Roger Mersh raced five yards for the score. The second TD try for the Bobcats came minutes later after a Southern series of plays was called by a Tom Bruna fumble. The score that followed the fumble recovery was executed on a favorite OU play; quarterback Dave Wagner pitched out to his left half, John Dickason, who tossed 11 yards to right half Bob Harrison for the score.

Bobcats Intercept
OU scored again with 1:16 remaining in the first half on a one-yard plunge by Wagner. A minute later the Salukis took to the air behind Vern Pollock, Vern's aerial was intercepted by Bobcat Tom Keating.

Ohio's field general, Wagner, quickly engineered a last second scoring drive, climaxed by a 33-yard pass to John Balough with one second remaining in the half. Bob McKee's kick increased the margin to 26-0.

Third quarter action produced one OU score when Mersh punted 17 yards to Jim Masarelli, upping the Bobcat advantage to 34-0.

The Bobcats tallied twice more in the last period when Otis Wagner scored on a three-yard scamper and OU's candidate for Little All-American honor, full-back Bob Brooks, hit paydirt from the four.

Standout performances for the Salukis were turned in by Winter and end Joe McCormick, Joe, victim of an IAC ruling which excludes him from conference play, caught seven of the eight passes completed by SIU for 117 yards. The second TD try for the SIU's Joe McCormick snares a Ron Winter pass at Ohio U.

Winter-McCormick Combo Wins

Saluki quarterback Ron Winter, junior also passed for seven touchdowns, a one season record.

McCormick, who is eligible only for non-conference encounters, snagged seven airdrops for 117 yards. Joe is the victim of an IAC rule which states no Ohio University's Bobcats, 48-6.

Winter, displaying signs of a break-away runner, also passed for 103 yards. Southern's field general completed six of 12 attempts. Ron upped his season mark of 837 yards via the air.

Intrasquad Gym Meet Tonight

Gymnastic fans will be given a preview of what to expect this season from the SIU gymnasts tonight in the Men's Gymnasium at 7:30. There is no charge and the public is invited.

Coch Bill Meade has lined up a intrasquad meet in order to determine the lineup for the Midwest Open Dec. 2 in Chicago.

The squads will be divided into a freshmen — sophomores against juniors — seniors.

Competing for the frosh — soph will be Fred Orlosky, 1960 Olympic contestant; Bruno Klaus, Rusty Mitchell, Tom Gecaris, Chuck Weers, Bob Schoepke and Tom Phillips.

Against the frosh — soph, the junior — seniors will be, Bob Kies, Bill Simms, Ed Foster, Ed Buffum, John Taylor, Hugh Blaney, Len Kalkian, Jon Shidler and Fred Tijerina.

Basketball Season Tickets Now On Sale

Season ticket books for the 1960-61 basketball campaign are now on sale to the general public for as long as they last. No season books will be sold after Dec. 1.

Faculty and staff members may buy choice season tickets for the nine home games through this advance sale. A faculty or staff member may buy a season ticket for only $10; they may also buy season tickets for their families at the same price per book.

After the season gets under way tickets will be $2 per game.

Home games this year: Dec. 6 — Kentucky Wesleyan; Dec. 10 — Wabash College; Jan. 5 — Eastern Illinois; Jan. 12 — Illinois Normal; Jan. 14 — Western Illinois; Jan. 31 — Tennessee A&I; Feb. 3 — Eastern Michigan; Feb. 4 — Central Michigan; Feb. 11 — Northern Illinois.

Harriers Run In NIAA At Omaha

Southern's unbeaten harriers will be running for their first NIAA title and first unbeaten cross-country season Saturday at Omaha, Neb. Last year the Salukis finished fifth in the meet.

Howard-Payne College of Texas, Northeast Louisiana University and SIU are figured to be in the top three with any one of them capable of winning the coveted title.

Since present Southern coach Lew Hartzog coached at Northeast before coming to SIU this summer, Emporia State of Kansas is a defending champion in the meet.

Howard-Payne easily defeated Northwest in the Howard-Payne Invitational meet two weeks ago. Howard-Payne scored 25 points and Northeast finished with 32 points. H-P runners finished third, fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh while "Buddy" Eiland finished second for Northeast.

Top runners for H-P are Park Santiago, Lyndon Gathright, Glenn Petty, Dick Iley and David Noble.

McNeese State will also be entered with its top boy, Fred Norris. Norris, import from the British Isles, took first in the Howard-Payne Invitational four-mile course in 19:37.

Hartog is hopeful that his team can win the national title. He has said previously, "If the boys will extend themselves in the meet I'm sure we can win."

Running for the unbeaten SIU harriers will be Joe Thomas, John Flamer, Alan Geiss, Don Heppner, Fred Arnold and either Gary Coffman or Don Drowbridge. It will be the last meet for Arnold, who will be graduated from Southern in June.

Post-Mortem For Football

The season is over — but what a season it was. More fans witnessed the Saluki football for the first time than in any other season.

What did these gridiron enthusiasts see? They watched Southern's greatest football team rewrite the record books as SIU posted a 8-2 season mark.

The Salukis won their first IAC football crown and added lustre to it by being the undisputed champions. SIU's two setbacks were to the top two teams in the country. Southern lost to the No. 2 small college power, Bowling Green's Falcons, 27-6; and the No. 1 small college powerhouse, Ohio University, 48-6.

Playing the toughest schedule of any team in the NIAA, the Salukis put their supremacy on the line by playing the toughest of non-conference foes. Southern's fans were behind the team all the way.

Coch Carmen Piccone, after the season finale, had praise for everyone. Southern's Marching Band, under the direction of Don Canedy, kept up with the trend of rising to greater heights in all SIU endeavors.

Sororities, fraternities, independents, townspeople and the benchwarmers all were instrumental in the Saluki fortunes. Piccone pointed out (as it would be wrong for me to do so) that the press and broadcasting media should be lauded for a job well done.

Carmen went on and on as he praised his assistants Harry Shay, Bob Franz, Don "Red" Cross and trainer Doc Spackman (as well as their wives) for valuable support.

Some fans had hopes that the Ohio U. game wouldn't be the last. They were looking to a bowl bid. Had Southern finished the season unbeaten and untied, or even 9-1, they probably would have seen post season action.

Why did the Salukis enter the big time and take on the Falcons and Bobcats? Because we want to be big time ourselves. Is it wrong that a school the size of Southern should want to move up with other schools its size?

Piccone, last but certainly not least, thanked his team for their unending effort.

"What it boils right down to, is that without all of them, I'm nothing," declared the Saluki mentor.

Southern's candidate for Little All-American honors, Amos Bullocks, failed to gain the necessary 40 yards to give him a season rushing total of 1,000 yards. The junior halfback netted 42 yards against the Bobcats defense.
