Concert To Feature 'Messiah'

The "Messiah" returns to SIU's traditional Christmas music program Saturday after an absence of five years.

Handel's classic oratorio will be presented with a chorus of 200 voices, under the direction of Robert Kingsbury, director of choirs.

To be presented in SIU's Shryock Auditorium Saturday at 7:30 p.m. and Sunday at 3 p.m., the annual program will feature three professional soloists and baritone William Taylor of the SIU music department with the Southern Illinois Oratorio Society and University Choir.

Kingsbury said the "Messiah" will be performed at Christmastime every five years from now on. A group of eight other standard oratorios will be rotated among intervening Christmas programs and other concerts. "We never intended to abandon the 'Messiah,'" said Kingsbury, "but want to introduce our voice students to as much of the classic oratorio literature as possible during their studies."

A program of "Messiah" excerpts will be performed with student soloists for the Dec. 6 freshman convocation at SIU.

Chicago Plans Day To Laud Southern Illinois

Fifty exhibitors from southern Illinois including SIU, will head north Nov. 30 for the third biennial Southern Illinois Day in Chicago.

Geoffrey Hughes, executive director of Southern Illinois Inc., said students could help out with the boosting by urging their parents to attend the one-day show. It will be held in the Prudential building in downtown Chicago.

Some of the prizes to be given away, Hughes said, are free weekends at Southern Illinois vacation spots.

Among special guests will be Pam Gilbert of Carbondale, a student at SIU and the 1962 "Miss Illinois."

Southern Illinois Inc. is an areawide group organized to promote industrial progress and recreational potential in southern Illinois.

Committee Plans

Holiday Bus Service

Arrangements are being made to provide students with chartered bus service to and from Chicago and St. Louis for the Christmas holidays.

John Rabe, chairman of the student government travel committee said students interested in the plan are asked to contact the Student Government Office to let officials know when the most convenient time would be for bus departures.

Pre-Final Fun:

Singing And Santa Set For 'Frosted Fantasy'

Christmas Week at Southern this year will be a "Frosted Fantasy."

Enthusiastic students planning the affairs wrapped them up in a poem and tied the package with 'ecstasy.' All of which means dancing, the "Messiah" and Santa Claus.

The "week" starts Saturday night, Dec. 1, with a dance in the Ballroom. The "Messiah" will be performed in Shryock at 8:15 the same evening and again Sunday afternoon at 3.

A Christmas Sing is planned for the students on the patio of the University Center at 7:30 Sunday evening.

The following Monday evening, President Delyte W. Morris will preside at his annual Donut Hour. This will be held

SOVIET EDUCATION AUTHORITY, GEORGE COUNTS

Counts To Discuss Soviet Education

George S. Counts, considered America's leading authority on Soviet education, will be Thursday's convocation speaker.

He will discuss "The Challenge of Soviet Education" at 10 a. m. and 1 p. m. in Shryock Auditorium.

Counts, visiting professor at SIU, is the author of 29 books on education and social affairs. In 1931 his "New Russia's Primer" was a Book-of-the-Month Club selection. In 1948 "The Challenge of Soviet Education" by Counts received the American Library Association "Liberty and Justice Award," "The Horace Mann Lecture," his most recent work, is now being published by the University of Pittsburgh Press.

While he was associate director of the International Institute of Columbia's Teachers College, Counts made three long visits inside Russia in 1927, 1929 and 1936 to study schools and to write about them.

Counts, who holds a Ph.D. from the University of Chicago, has served as a professor at the Universities of Washington, Chicago, Michigan State and Yale. He keeps up-to-date on education in Russia by subscribing to Pravda, the daily Russian newspaper, and "Teacher Gazette," a tri-weekly educators' journal.

He is a member of various professional societies including the Poetry, Essay, and Novel Club, founded by John Galsworthy.

Counts' various experiences include running for the U.S. Senate on the ticket of the Liberal Party in 1952, receiving 500,000 votes.

He has accepted an invitation from the University of Puerto Rico to teach there the second quarter of next year.

Qualified Students Apply At Registrar's Office

Proficiency examinations in the General Studies program will be given to qualified students Thursday.

Applications of students wishing to take these exams are now being received in the office of the Registrar.

Students who qualify include those who have taken extra work in high school, have American College Testing scores placing them in the top ten per cent, or have completed a program of self study.

Tom Oliver of the Testing Service said these students are encouraged to apply.

A fee of $5 will be charged for each exam except for those students with a composite ACT score placing them in the top ten per cent. There will be no fee for these students.

Testing will be held in Muckelroy Auditorium of the Agriculture building beginning at 8 a.m. Full details may be found on page 12 of the General Studies Handbook or by inquiring at the office of the Registrar or the Testing Center of the General Studies Office.

The following General Studies courses are available for proficiency testing:

- GSA, 101 and 102.
- GSB, 101, 102, 201, 202, 203, and 211.
- GSC, 102, 103, 208, and 209.
- GSD, 101, 110B, 114, 115, and 116.

Oliver said students desiring to take proficiency examinations in courses other than General Studies should apply in the office of the Registrar.

These exams will be given on an individual basis by the various departments and there will be a $5 fee charged for each exam.

Exam Schedule

The Fall quarter final examination schedule is reprinted on page eight of today's Egyptian for the benefit of students who may have missed the previous publication.

This schedule should not be confused with the General Studies proficiency test schedule printed above, which is strictly for students in the General Studies program who seek to be exempt from specific General Studies courses.

The season of the sniffles is upon us.

Despite the infinite variety of pills, tablets, capsules and syrups available to the cold sufferer, exposure is almost inevitable.

Dr. Joseph P. Miranti, acting director of the University Health Service, offers some helpful advice to those affected by the frequently occurring virus.

"General measures, such as adequate nutrition, good personal hygiene, adequate rest and use of a specific vaccine called 'Adenovirus Vaccine,' help to control infections in populations such as that found in a university setting," he points out.

The use of a combined flu-cold vaccine is of special value in lessening respiratory infections, Miranti explains. "One could refer to the combined vaccine as the ideal vaccine for prevention of colds and upper respiratory infections," he says.

Although the combined vaccine--Polyvalent Flu and Adenovirus vaccine--is not presently available for the present cold-flu season, Miranti points out that this should not decrease the requests for flu immunizations at the present time.

"When, in the near future, the combined vaccine is obtainable it is anticipated that it will be given to all those who come in seeking the 'flu shots,'" he says.

Miranti points out that even though colds are a nuisance type of minor disorder, "influenza is a more serious disease capable of producing incapacitating disease, and even carrying a mortality rate among all segments of the population."

The vaccines now available to cold sufferers are a far cry from remedies used a few years ago. For instance, blackstrap molasses -- chock full of good things--was one of the remedies used in grandpa's day for colds and a number of other ills.

A healthy dose of kerosene and sugar was another remedy used not long ago to combat the common cold.

What do SIU students do to fight the cold in this day and age? Carol Mobus, a kindergarten-primary education major from Mt. Prospect, Ill., seems to rely on mother nature. "I don't usually do anything," she says. "There's not much you can do unless they're real bad."

Mary Hausman, an art education major from Metropolis, uses the old 'cure-all' as a remedy. "I usually take the old cure-all. You know, aspirin."

Several SIU males offered a liquid form of remedy. As one of them said: "It doesn't do much for the cold, but it makes me feel a lot better."

AAUW Unit Plans Kids Book Fair

The American Association of University Women will present a "Children's Book Fair" from Nov. 28 to December 1 to be held in the Unitarian Meeting House at Elm and University.

The fair will be open from 10:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. daily and Saturday from 9:00 a.m. to noon.

There also will be a story hour every day until 4:00 p.m.

The books are from the Illinois Reading Circle and are for children of all ages from pre-school to junior high school level.

California Printer's Works Received Here

Almost 300 bound volumes and bundles of leaflets, brochures, and programs—examples of the work of one of America's "fine printers"—have been acquired by the Morris Library.

John Henry Nash of San Francisco began his career as an independent printer in 1916 and had a tremendous and distinguished output until his death in 1941, according to Ralph W. Bushee, rare books librarian.

Nash printed two exceptionally fine books on commission from William Randolph Hearst—"The Life of Phoebe Apperson Hearst," his mother, and an autobiography of his father, "The Life of George Hearst, California Pioneer."

Nash's masterpiece, a four-volume edition of Dante's "Inferno," required six years of his time. Only 250 copies were published.

Before his death he was planning his greatest achievement and had prepared the elaborate prospectus for it—a folio edition of the St. Jerome or Vulgate Bible. He proposed a price of $1,000 per copy for the extremely limited four-volume edition.

Nash spoke often on fine printing and was a regular lecturer at the University of Oregon, where the John Henry Nash Fine Arts Press was established in his name.

The Nash collection at SIU belonged to Nell U. O'Day, Nash's personal librarian. Only one other of this magnitude exists, according to Bushee. It is Nash's own complete file of his publications, now in the library of the University of California at Berkeley.

One-Day Conference:

Free Lance, Faculty Writers Meet

A one-day writers conference will be held at SIU Dec. 8 with two professional free-lance writers as speakers. Three spare-time writers on the SIU faculty will join them.

Two panel discussions are planned to cover problems on free lance markets, research for articles and other angles, according to James L. C. Ford, professor of journalism and conference director.

The free-lance writers are Anne West of Marion and Ethel Reed Strainchamps of St. Louis. They will tell of their experiences in the writing field.

Other faculty members on the panels will be Charles D. Neal, director of student teaching and Howard R. Long, chairman of the Journalism Department.

VTI Wants Teeth For Tooth Tests

There is a shortage of patients for the students of VTI's Dental Hygiene program.

Second year students in the two-year program of dental hygiene offer to the students of SIU the services of prophylaxis and scaling as well as bite wing or full-mouth X-rays, a Dental Hygiene department spokesman said.

Any student wishing these services is required to pay a token registration fee of $2 for the services. If any disorder is found, the student will be informed of it and advised to see his dentist.

Students wishing to make appointments may call university extension 18-20 for an appointment between 9 to 12 a.m. on any week-day or from 1 to 4 p.m. on Tuesday.

Sophomore Bags First Buck Hits Mark With Mercury

Keith Runge, a sophomore from Chester, got his first deer -- the hard way.

The 80-pound buck tried to beat Runge's 1962 Mercury across the highway near the junction of Routes 3 and 144, about 10 miles from Murphysboro, Sunday night. He didn't make it.

Runge who was returning from Thanksgiving vacation with a fellow student, Jack Holcomb, said the deer jumped into the path of his car and he was unable to stop or avoid hitting it.

He estimated that the deer did some $300 damage to his car. And to make matters worse, he couldn't even drive it even into Murphysboro.

"I hitched a ride to a gas station and called the sheriff," Runge said. "The sheriff called the game warden who came and hauled the deer away."

Runge said he called his aunt in Chester and she drove violent Coordinating Committee.

Graham had attended the SNCC conference with seven other SIU students this past weekend. Spokesmen for the conference announced sit-ins would be held following the meeting. Graham had planned to attend as an observer.

When Negroes appeared at the front of the drugstore, the manager blocked the entrance. Graham said tension was high among the customers.

A Negro youth managed to slip in through a side door. He was hustled out, but not before he had a chance to seat himself next to Graham at the lunch counter.

Graham said two white men approached him, accused him of being with the demonstrators, and hit him, knocking off his glasses and tearing his shirt.

"Now I know what fear tastes like," Graham said.

The next SNCC conference will be held in Little Rock.

RAY PADOVAN

Ray Padovan Big Splash In Okie Pool Meet

Ray Padovan paced SIU to a 59-36 swimming victory over Oklahoma Friday with two first place finishes. It was the first meet of the season for Ralph Casey's swimmers who are out to improve on last year's 2-4 dual meet record.

Padovan won the 50 and 100-yard freestyle events. His time of 22 seconds in the shorter event established a new pool record at Oklahoma.

Southern won nine of the 11 events and set two pool records in the process. The Saluki medley relay team of Bill Murphy, Dale Cunningham, Ten Petras and Andy Stoodly swam the distance in 3:49.7 for the record.

SIU's other first-place winners were Darrell Green 200-yard freestyle; Stoodly 200-yard backstroke; Murphy 200-yard butterfly; Jack Schiltz 200-yard individual medley; Petras 200-yard breaststroke and the medley relay team.

SIU Gymnastic Show Tonight

Bill Meade's gymnasts will put on an exhibition at 7:30 tonight in Men's Gymnasium. It will precede the freshman- varsity basketball game.

It will be the second time this season that the gymnasts have performed.

Last week the juniors-seniors handed the freshmen-sophomores a 66 1/2 to 431/2 setback.

Rusty Mitchell won two events for the upperclassmen. He took first place in the free exercise and tumbling events.

Upperclassmen won five of the seven events. Only freshman Dick Nicholas' victory on the parallel bars and sophomore Steve Pasternak's blue ribbon on the side horse prevented a clean sweep by the varsity.

Highlighting the meet was the still rings event which Tom Geocaris won for the upperclassmen with a 95 point average. But behind him there was a four-way tie between Fred Orlofsky, Charles Ehrlich, Dennis Wolf and Nicholas each with 94 point averages.

Leadership From Action

Not long ago the Student Council Senator from Southern Acres resigned. An election was subsequently held but ruled invalid by the acting Election Commissioner after protests had been filed.

The faulty regulation of the election is an indication of greater faults existing in the Student Government Constitution and in its administration.

The Constitution directs the Student Body President to appoint a seven-member Elections Commission. The commission "shall regulate, conduct, and supervise campus elections."

This is the ninth week of fall quarter, an election has already been held, but an Elections Commission has not been appointed. Is there any wonder why elections get fouled up?

Members of two other student organizations have not been appointed as yet by the President: The Student Judicial Board and the Appropriations Committee.

One of the problems, of course, is finding students with enough responsibility to serve in Student Government. Another problem is the constitution. It has loopholes. It is vague. It could be improved. But until the Constitutional Revision Committee gets around to doing its job, the existing document should be followed.

Students are often heard complaining about weak student government. The complaints many times are justified, for how can any organization be strong if its own constitution is not followed? How can students receive the benefit of a campus judicial board if constitutional directives for appointing that board are not carried out?

Student Government will not be strong, will not fulfill its duties and will not be of any help to the Student Body until the Student Government and its officers do their job.

Special Elections

The Student Council is considering an amendment to the Constitution which could increase student representation on the council.

A number of living areas have had an increase in students with the beginning of fall quarter. These areas would have to wait until the regular senatorial elections in the spring to elect additional senators.

The proposed amendment would make it possible for a living area to obtain more senators now. A petition would be presented to Student Council, signed by 20 per cent of the votes needed for additional representation. For instance, off-campus men presently send one senator to the council. This area would present a petition signed by 20 per cent of the 500 votes needed to elect another senator, or 100 names.

After approval of the petition by the council, an election would be held within two weeks.

The present set-up fails to represent the students adequately. Every living area sending senators to council could increase its representation, some drastically.

The small size of the council is responsible for the backlog of bills which is presently building up in committees. In most cases, a senator must serve on three committees.

The idea behind the amendment is fine indeed, but there is one drawback: The problem of student voice in their own government is still up to the students. The amendment does not hand anything to anyone on a silver platter.

Tougher Standards

Editor,

You are to be commended on your recent editorial suggesting that the entrance requirements at Southern be raised. I for one am all for destroying the common myth circulating within the American public to the tune of "everybody should be able to go to college if he wants to."

College isn't for everyone. College should be only for the person with proven superior ability in the academic world. Sending a poor student on to college harms better students more than college helps the poor student.

Too many students attend college for the sole purpose of avoiding work or the local draft board for another four years. Too many parents send their offspring to college merely to add another rung in their ladder of status.

English Press Expert To Be Spring Lecturer

The former director of the Newspaper Society of Great Britain will serve as a visiting professor of journalism at SIU in the spring term.

He is Herbert R. Davies who was a leader in the English newspaper profession for more than 33 years.

At Southern he will conduct a graduate course dealing with the government and the press. He also will present a series of lectures on the campus and in other cities in the area.

During his long tenure with the British Newspaper Society, Davies played an active part in some of the most important developments in English and world journalism.

Davies first joined the staff of the Newspaper Society in 1929. This Society includes almost all the daily and weekly newspapers in England in its membership. It advises the membership on all phases of newspaper production and works with and for the government departments.

Eight years after joining the Society, the native of Cardiff, Wales, became its general secretary. He was appointed director in 1942 and since then until his retirement last July, all the work of the Newspaper Society has been under his personal direction and control.

Almost immediately after being appointed Director, Davies was asked by the then Prime Minister, the late Neville Chamberlain, to prepare the British newspaper industry for a "state of emergency." Davies cooperated with the government in regard to manpower problems and rationing of essential supplies and materials. Newsprint rationing continued until 1956.

He helped prepare every newspaper house in England for possible emergencies, particularly from enemy action. He was involved in six national negotiations for hours and wages. After the war the Newspaper Society was called on for advice and assistance by various authorities regarding reinstatement and rehabilitation problems.

During his tenure as Society Director, Davies has supervised work in the field of new techniques, legislative reform, labor negotiations and many other fields. He played a major part in establishing the Guild of British Newspaper Editors and has been an observer-member of the General Council of the Press since its inception.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

Here 'Dem Bells:

IBM Rings Blessings For Clock Watchers

Textbooks snap shut, cigarette lighters flare and an almost audible sigh of relief goes up. The reason? Southern's electronic "Quasimodo" is at work again.

Yes, unlike Victor Hugo's one-eyed ringer-general of Notre Dame, the bells of SIU are rung through an IBM electrical system located in the boiler house at the Physical Plant.

William A. Howe, director of the Physical Plant, says the system is really quite simple.

"An electrical impulse energizes a transmitter which sends out electrical currents to relay in the clocks," he explained.

These impulses then ring the bells, he added.

The clocks are scheduled on a master clock in the Boiler House, he said.

"The clocks are set every hour on the hour. If they're off a little, they reset themselves automatically," Howe explained.

Although the electronic clock system is fully automatic, there are times when it too fails.

"Mechanical failure or power failure may cause them not to ring," Howe said. However, he pointed out, the clocks reset themselves when the power is turned on again.

The bells ring up until about 10 o'clock every evening and through the weekend, Howe said. There is a very good reason for this, he explained.

"It would be more expensive to shut them off than to let them ring," he said. "The only time they don't ring is when they're shut off for some reason," Howe added.

Apparently, the bells are a welcome sound to a great many students. One was overheard to say, "Lord! I waited the whole hour for them to ring."

Resident Fellow Applications Being Accepted

Applications for resident fellows for University housing are available in the Housing Office and the office at each residence area, it was announced today.

There are some 40 openings for men and women resident fellows for the 1963-64 school year, a housing official said.

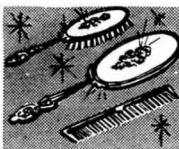

The positions offer free room, board and tuition in exchange for approximately 20 hours of work each week.

They are open to seniors and graduate students with a 3.5 grade average or above.

The Housing Office will sponsor three coffee hours at which present resident fellows will explain the jobs to students interested in applying. They will be held in Lentz and Woody Halls and at Southern Acres from 2 to 4 p.m. Dec. 1.

Application forms must be returned to the Housing Office by Jan. 5, 1963.

FULLBACK DRAW - North Texas State sophomore fullback, A.D. Whitfield is stopped for short yardage on a good tackle by Southern's Denny Harmon. Jim Minton and an unidentified Saluki assist on the play. The Eagles dropped the Salukis, 55-30.

North Texas State Swamps Salukis 55-30 In Final Game Of Season

If someone had told Carmen Piccone 13 weeks ago that an opponent would score 55 points against his Salukis in one game during the football season he would have shrugged it off as a joke.

But that very thing happened Saturday when North Texas State handed SIU a 55-30 setback in the season finale for both teams.

Only 3,000 spectators were on hand for the game.

The Salukis had a 17-14 halftime lead at half-time. But the second half was a nightmare for them.

Three pass interceptions and two fumbles gave North Texas the ball five times inside Southern's 40-yard line. The Eagles were quick to capitalize on the breaks, scoring five touchdowns.

The quick touchdowns turned a close game into a runaway.

Pete Winton's running and the pass catching of Jim Battle gave the Saluki fans something to cheer about in the second half.

Winton scored two touchdowns and Battle set a new record for the most yards gained in a career for pass receiving.

Winton's first touchdown came on a 58-yard punt return which pulled Southern within three points of North Texas, 27-24, at the end of the third quarter.

That was as close as the Salukis came to victory after the 17-14 halftime lead.

Intramural Wrestling

Sigma Tau Gamma won the SIU intramural wrestling tournament with 66 points. Sigma Pi was second with 26 points followed by Phi Sigma Kappa and Newman Club with 13 each.

Winton's other touchdown came in the final period on a 20-yard run around right end. It was the final score of the game for the Salukis.

Battle closed out his collegiate career with 1,010 yards for his pass catching breaking the old mark of 1,007 formerly held by Wayne Williams.

Battle caught 26 passes for 364 yards this season enroute to his record-breaking year. He also started 39 straight games after arriving on the SIU campus in the fall of 1959.

Bob Hight, SIU's one-arm kicker from Centralia, put Southern ahead late in the first quarter 9-7 with a 39-yard field goal. It was his third field goal of the season.

Saturday's game was the last for 10 seniors--Charles

Lerch, Dennis Harmon, Jim Battle, Jim Thompson, Sam Silas, Dave Mullane, Gene Rodriguez, Charles O'Neill, Vern Pollock and Charles Hamilton.

Basketball Team Previews Tonight

SIU students will get a preview of the 1962-63 basketball team of the Salukis tonight at 7:30 in Men's Gymnasium when the freshmen meet the varsity.

Admission to the game is 75 cents per person. Proceeds will go to the Athletic scholarship fund.

The game will serve as a tune-up for the varsity. Jack Hartman's squad opens the season Friday night in Erie (Pa.) against Gannon College. The following night the Salukis tackle a highly-regarded St. Bonaventure quintet.

Probable starters for the varsity tonight will be Paul Henry and Harold Hood, guards, Lou Williams and Dave Henson, forwards and Ed Spila, center.

Faculty Bowling

Rehabilitation Institute still holds its first place standing in the latest faculty bowling standings. But Athletics have taken over second place with 19 points, three points behind the league leaders.

Norm Zwald, freshman football coach, rolled the individual high series with a 563 total. Athletics rolled the team high series with 3,043 pins.

Athletics also rolled the team high game with a 1,031 pins.

VTI To Train Nurses Aides

An Area Redevelopment Agency project to train 24 nurse's aids in the Carbondale area under supervision of VTI has been approved, according to William Nagel, VTI coordinator of ARA projects.

He is awaiting clearance of authorization papers to begin the training program.

Trainees will be referred by the Murphysboro office of the Illinois State Employment Service which serves Jackson, Union and Perry counties. Nagel says the training program will consist of two weeks of classroom instruction at the VTI campus and two weeks of on-the-job supervised training in the Jackson County Nursing Home at Murphysboro. Students will receive 30 hours of training per week.

The Institute has received an allocation of $3,000 for the program.

Fined For Hunting In Refuge

Three students who unknowingly went onto U.S. government property at the Crab Orchard Wildlife Refuge while goose hunting were fined $43 for trespassing.

They were Frank Imperiale, Paul Catalogne and Thomas Kidd. Authorities said they were shooting a short distance inside the restricted area when a game warden spotted them.

The students told authorities they were unaware that they had crossed over into the game reserve. Kidd was also fined $30 for not having a valid hunting license. The three had no game in their possession, authorities said.
