Red Cross blood drive nets half of two-day goal

By Sharon Waldo
Staff Writer

The Red Cross campus blood drive collected 428 pints Wednesday, slightly less than half of its two-day goal of 900.

Vivian Ugent, blood drive coordinator, said 466 people showed to donate, but 38 were deferred for such things as iron-poor blood.

The drive will be held from 10:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. today in Student Center Ballroom D. St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church, 303 S. Poplar, will hold a drive from 1:30 to 6:30 p.m. Friday.

A registration table will be in the Student Center from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. today to make appointments for both days. People also may call Ugent at 457-5258 or the Red Cross at 529-2151 to make appointments.

The goal of the four-day drive is 1,095 pints.

Donors must be at least 17 years old, weigh at least 105 pounds and be in good health. They will receive sandwiches, fruit and beverages.

Walk-ins are welcome and no one should have to wait very long, Ugent said. It takes about a half hour.

Daniel Vignieri, senior in aviation management, was the 428th donor Wednesday.

Vignieri, who has donated at every campus drive since April 1986, received a "1-gallon" pin Wednesday for his donation of eight pints.

Board of Trustees to discuss spring tuition increase

By Toby Eckert
Staff Writer

Students may soon feel the pain of the state's cut in the University budget — in the form of a tuition increase.

The SIU Board of Trustees will consider a mid-year tuition increase at its meeting today in Ballroom B of the Student Center. University officials say the boost is necessary to recoup a $5 million cut in state funding for SIU.

Chancellor Lawrence Pettit has remained silent on the size of the increase he will recommend to the board. However, President John Guyon told the Civil Service Employees Council last week that a $100 per semester increase would be necessary to restore the $4.3 million lost by SIU-C as a result of the state funding cut.

The board is expected to make a final decision on a tuition increase in October. The increase would take effect in January.

Full-time undergraduate students at SIU-C pay $556 tuition per semester. The University collects another $273 per semester in fees. Those figures reflect a four percent tuition increase — passed by the board last spring — that went into effect this fall.

About 14.2 percent of the University's operating budget comes from tuition and fees. State tax dollars account for 46.3 percent of the budget. Housing fees, research grants, Student Center earnings and other activities account for the remaining 39.5 percent of University funds.

SIU initially requested $226.5 million from the state for fiscal year 1988, which began July 1. The Illinois Board of Higher Education trimmed the request to $214.6 million. Gov. James R. Thompson recommended that the University receive $212.8 million, but made that figure contingent on the Legislature's approval of his tax increase proposals.

Aquino to reorganize; entire cabinet resigns

MANILA, Philippines (UPI) — The entire Cabinet submitted its resignation Wednesday in a "spontaneous combustion" move giving President Corazon Aquino a chance to reorganize her executive branch in the bitter aftermath of a bloody coup attempt.

The first resignations were tendered without warning at a morning meeting involving 11 Cabinet secretaries. The rest of the 24 secretaries and four commissioners were summoned to an emergency afternoon session where they fell in line with their colleagues.

In Washington, White House spokesman Marlin Fitzwater said, "We in the U.S. government support the Aquino government and her attempts to strengthen her government and establish the rule of law. This move should be helpful in providing her the flexibility to establish her leadership."

Vice President Salvador Laurel, who was visiting military bases in the south of the country, pledged his resignation as foreign affairs secretary by telephone.

Press Secretary Teodoro Benigno, one of the first to quit, said Aquino remained "poised and synchronized" as the executive officers turned in the resignations on handwritten slips of paper, but did not say how she will proceed. "She has not told us I have accepted your resignations," he said. "We continue to

USO sets aside $300 for voter rally

By Dena Schulte
Staff Writer

The Undergraduate Student Organization will get $300 to spend on its voter registration rally.

The money will come from the student activity fees. About $2,500 was spent on last year's drive, John Grigas, chief of staff, said at the USO meeting Wednesday night.

"No one is profiting or having a good time," he said.

"We are merely providing a service to the community, a reach out for voter registration."

Damon Mathis, executive assistant, said, "We're talking about a mere 15-cent to 20-cent cost per student. In the past we have given $300 to organizations for weekend functions."

SIU-C is in competition with the University of Illinois for the most registered voters.

"At this time, U of I is reaching a 1,000 voter mark while we have only 135," Grigas said. "That's 10 times more voters than us."

The winning school will receive a trophy and the losing school will be required to hang the opponent's flag on campus. "I for one would like to see our pennants all over U of I," Grigas said.

The USO hopes the rally will draw 1,000 registrations a day, he said. Registration tables will be set up in the Student Center from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Plans for the rally include the band "Art Splatter," balloons, posters, banners and flyers. "We want to make the rally a kind of voter appreciation day, to give thanks for voting," Grigas said.

Voter registration deadline is Sept. 28.

U.N. cease-fire hopes dim as gulf war intensifies

MANAMA, Bahrain (UPI) — Iraq's dramatic escalation of the Persian Gulf war with its air offensive on Iranian tankers and oil export installations dampened hopes Wednesday for a U.N.-instigated cease-fire in the area. Iran promptly claimed its anti-aircraft defenses shot down three of the raiding Iraqi jet fighters and the 7-year-old war was raging again after a three-day lull.

Japanese company to monitor sale of goods

TOKYO (UPI) — Toshiba Corp. Wednesday announced tighter controls on sales of strategic goods to communist countries, saying it was determined to prevent future violations of export laws for the security of Japan and the West. Officers of the electronics giant and a team of independent American investigators announced Toshiba will form a new division to monitor sales of strategic goods as part of a broad compliance program.

Mudslides kill 62, injure 100 in Venezuela

MARACAY, Venezuela (UPI) — Troops and civilians Wednesday dug out bodies and homes covered by mud in floods and landslides that killed up to 62 people, injured more than 100 and left 1,500 homeless in north-central Venezuela. Authorities feared the death toll could rise. Civil defense officials said about 5,000 troops and volunteers were working in the disaster area, which includes Maracay, a city of 300,000 people 60 miles west of Caracas, and a 25-mile strip of broken mountain highway, where up to 3,000 cars were abandoned in mudslides that accompanied Sunday's flooding.

Danish prime minister's resignation rebuffed

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (UPI) — Conservative Prime Minister Poul Schluter, who resigned after suffering a setback in Tuesday's general election, was asked by Queen Margrethe Wednesday to form a new government. The queen met with leaders of the nine political parties Wednesday, then named Schluter premier-designate. Tuesday's voting left conservatives and socialists deadlocked and make it likely another election would be held early next year.

U.S. to aid Honduran, Salvadoran police force

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department said Wednesday the administration plans to provide $9.1 million in aid to El Salvador's police, citing an improved human rights performance by the security forces. The department also said it plans to provide Honduran police forces with $2.8 million in aid. Spokesman Charles Redman said the department notified Congress Aug. 31 that it is acting under a 1965 law allowing waivers for those two Central American countries of a 26-year-old prohibition against the use of foreign assistance to train and equip police forces.

White House aides seek delay on pollution tax

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Administration officials urged Congress Wednesday to reject, pending further study, a multibillion-dollar plan to tax companies that pollute the air with acid rain. The proposed Sulfur and Nitrogen Emissions Tax Act calls for the taxation of electric power plants and companies with industrial boilers that produce sulfur dioxide and nitrogen oxide — two emissions that cause acid rain.

Bank bailout costs government $12 billion

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government Wednesday engineered its second costliest bank bailout ever, rescuing the $12 billion First City Bancorporation of Houston. Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. Chairman William Seidman said his agency probably will end up spending $800 to $900 million to save First City and hand it to a group of investors led by A. Robert Abboud, former president of Occidental Petroleum.

Study says 'Star Wars' development justified

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department released Wednesday the final section of a legal study that concludes the superpowers' actions and words since signing the 1972 ABM Treaty justifies further "Star Wars" development. But the study on "subsequent practice," a legal term referring to the words and actions since the signing of an agreement, did not suggest that the legal interpretation of the treaty's record would permit actual deployment of "Star Wars," the popular name for the Strategic Defense Initiative.

Faculty, IEA OK 2 percent plan's end

By Susan Curtis
Staff Writer

Faculty and Illinois Education Association members reacted positively to the faculty senate passing a motion to terminate the 2 percent plan, despite disagreements over who is responsible.

"It's a wonderful decision," Gary Kolb, chairman of the IEA faculty organizing committee, said. "I hope Guyon fulfills his promise to end the plan."

"We've been working against the 2 percent plan for two years and applaud the faculty senate," Charles Zucker, of the IEA, said.

Elaine Alden, faculty senate president, said the rationale behind the recommendation to terminate the plan was that projected decreases in enrollment have not materialized.

However, Zucker said the IEA played an important role in raising the consciousness of the faculty.

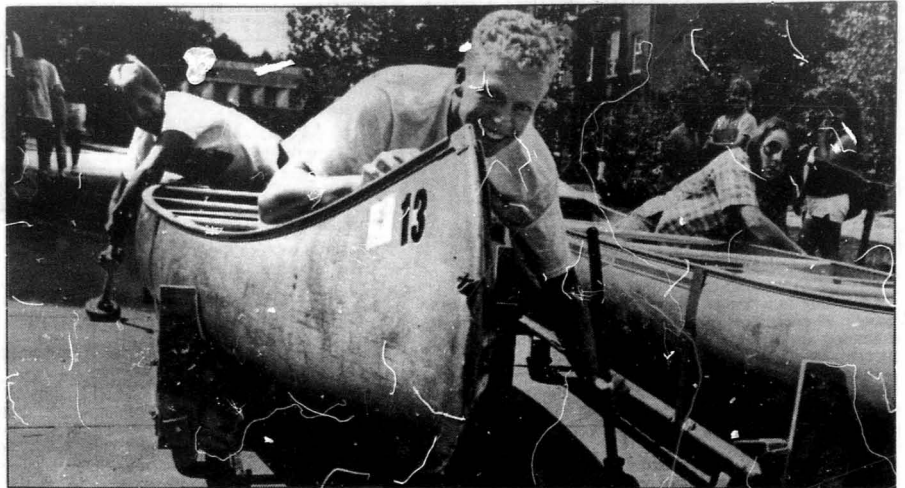

"The IEA is not trying to take all the credit, but it got the faculty to rethink the 2 percent decision and come together collectively," he said.

"For the faculty senate to state that the IEA had nothing to do with the vote is a misrepresentation of how the democratic system works," Zucker added.

Kolb said he testified before a faculty senate committee in April representing the IEA and the faculty.

Alden said the committee heard opinions, both positive and negative, from the deans of all the colleges and the unions.

The senate as a whole decided that at this point in time the plan should be discontinued, she said.

Death penalty an uncivilized solution

THE DEATH PENALTY is becoming trendy.

According to a recent Media General-Associated Press survey, 86 percent of the Americans interviewed favored execution in at least some murder cases, the highest percentage since 1936.

There has been a corresponding upswing in executions in the United States. After an almost 10-year hiatus from executions, followed by several years with only a few, executions are beginning to increase every year.

IN 1986, 18 people were executed. So far in 1987, 22 people have been executed, with five people executed since Aug. 1. The death penalty has become a common occurrence — but that doesn't make it any more logical.

Just like the mother who spansks her children for fighting, the use of capital punishment shows that we know of no other way to treat the convicted offender than in the way the victim was treated. Which does nothing more than mutely affirm the use of violence as a way to solve problems.

Those who support capital punishment say that it serves as a deterrent for would-be offenders. But there is no evidence to support this theory. There are, however, studies that show that violence merely breeds violence. The violence of killing a convicted murderer cannot be excluded — no matter how "civilized" or sanitized it might be.

THE MATTER BOILS down to the fact that murder by society is no different than murder by an individual, except that execution is legal. Does that make it a "good" murder? We think not.

It's interesting to note that the death penalty has gained popularity as our society has become more technically advanced. Interesting because the death penalty harkens back to the days of public hangings, when an emotional rather than logical sense of justice was the rule.

Perhaps the caveman justice ethic still is at work. The sheer popularity of the death penalty is so strong that we can't ignore its implications. It indicates our society's advocacy of violence and brutality as a way to solve problems, amazingly even as a way to end violence.

IN LIGHT OF the number of recent executions and the 1,911 people currently serving on death row in our country, we need to take a good hard look at our "civilized" system of justice. We may find that our correctional system isn't as civil as we think.

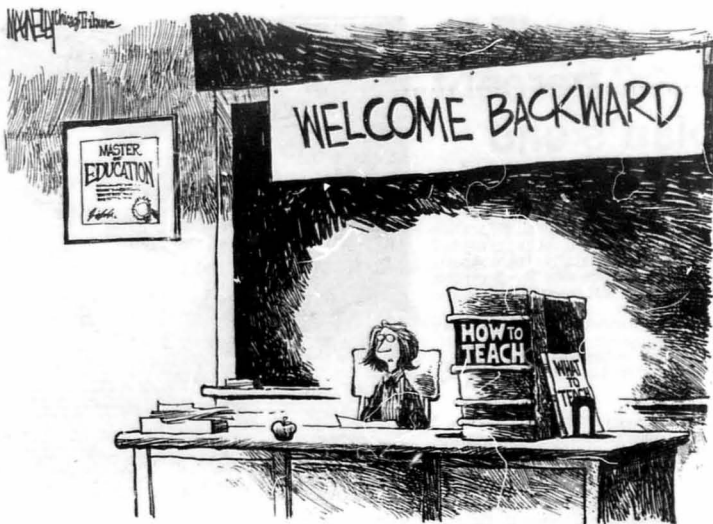

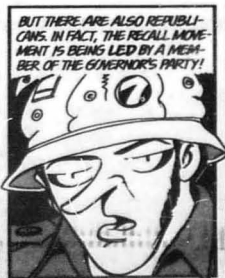

Quotable Quotes

"Currently, we just react. Then we try to figure out the implications of what we've done." — U.S. Rep. Les Aspin (D. Wis.), on his charge that the Reagan administration still doesn't have a clear policy in the Persian Gulf.

"Seeing a woman candidate go from one end of this country to the other discussing issues and not fainting proved a lot." — Potential presidential candidate Rep. Patricia Schroeder (D. Colo.), on the doors opened by Geraldine Ferraro in her 1984 race for vice president.

"There are very few things left in the world today that are worth going out and doing a television special on." — John Joslyn, founder of Westgate Productions, defending the firm's plans to produce a 2-hour TV extravaganza centering on the opening of a safe from the Titanic.

Smoking ban could be expanded

The proposal of a campus smoking ban seems like a nice idea. We sincerely recommend that the spirit of reform be extended to other areas of campus life. Far too many nasty activities are permitted here to allow the zeal of prohibition to stop with smoking.

Let's remove all cigarettes from vending machines on campus and replace them with a full line of latex accessories for safety purposes. Suggestive clothing should be changed to veils (for women) and unisex jeans and coveralls or possibly suits of armor or at least to chastity belts — the keys to which can be left in the hands of our administrators.

We believe that squirrels and pigeons should be eradicated: they are busily producing excrement all over our beautiful campus. Organized sports should be disbanded — a source of injuries as well as noise pollution. Anyone suspected of not following a low-fat, high-fiber diet, obesity, or anyone with the suspicious smell of Big Macs on their breath will be turned away. Heinous offenses, such as burping or breaking wind or using University lavatories (students must learn to hold it), are subject to the Draconian code, as worked out by the Parking Division.

Faner, of course, will be razed, since there hasn't been a trace of oxygen in it for years and it houses the most expandable departments. The Library and Pulliam must go, since both are filled with asbestos. Since this problem applies to all buildings on campus (except Stone House and Shryock) they all should be leveled. Even better would be a ban on all concrete structures — sidewalks, streets as well as buildings — since these are blots on our lovely natural landscape. After the demolition, the University community can gather at Stone House, which has recently proven its ability to take in everybody.

Some quibblers may think these measures are negative. So we will conclude with three uplifting proposals. For physical enhancement, each morning should be devoted to obligatory jogging along the rubble of Lincoln Drive — a boost to school spirit to see everyone in a single herd, like the great bison of long ago. Second, afternoons will be spent by all at a mass lecture or rally.

Finally, in keeping with the purifying spirit of the smoking ban, evenings will be devoted to compulsory chapel. Curfew will begin at 9 p.m. — Maria Bryant, professor of chemistry; Richard Bryant, graduate assistant, English; Harold Russell, graduate assistant, English.

Faner vandals were chalking up wrong tree

"What do you think — Do you think at all?"

I saw that today, scribbled in chalk on the walls of Faner, along with a myriad of other '60s anti-war clichés, as well as some lines stolen from the Grateful Dead.

And it made me very angry. Not because I support the arms race; I don't. Not because I'm against freedom of speech; I'm not. Not even because defacing property is illegal as well as pollution, although vandalism really isn't too cool. No, there's more to it than that.

Do you think at all? Wake up, pseudo flower children!

This is the '80s, not the '60s. We are not at war. The state of foreign affairs and strategic defense does look frighteningly shaky at times, but writing on walls is not going to change the world or make the problems fade away.

Do you think at all? Try it. "Tune in" to what is really going on, rather than using the issue as a vehicle for blind rebellion.

Instead of writing on walls, try writing your government. Write your own songs rather than stealing Dead tunes and applying your own meanings. Read, learn, grow — have a pancake breakfast for the national debt if you want to help the world. If you really care about nuclear defense and the peace issue, do something positive instead of complaining with borrowed lines.

You preach peace and love; practice it. Do it with intelligence and respect. I think you'll find you'll get a lot further. And please — leave the Grateful Dead out of it. — Julianne Henson, special education.

The pro-Aquino majority in the House of Representatives promptly passed a resolution congratulating the Cabinet on its action. Senate President Jovito Salonga also welcomed the move, saying, "It shows the government is responding positively to public opinion."

The unsolicited offers, described by Benigno as the result of "spontaneous combustion" among the Cabinet members, followed 12 days of tension and backbiting which was climaxed Tuesday with Executive Secretary Joker Arroyo's dramatic appearance before Congress.

The outspoken adviser, who is leader of the Cabinet's liberal wing, has been accused by the military of meddling in the aftermath of the Aug. 28 coup attempt by renegade military officers. His ouster has also been demanded by the coup leaders, influential members of Congress and the business community.

Arroyo delivered an impassioned defense Tuesday in which, among other things, he questioned the loyalty of the military and leveled charges of treason against three prominent businessmen including the twin brother of fellow Cabinet secretary Jose Concepcion.

Emanuel Soriano, chairman of the president's Crisis Management Committee, denied the resignations were a response to demands from the band of mutinous soldiers led by Col. Gregorio "Gringo" Honasan, whose Aug. 28 coup bid left 53 people dead and more than 200 wounded.

"We just recounted the events of the last several weeks and we felt that things have come to a head," he said. "It's an accumulation of events which I suppose included what happened in the House of Representatives yesterday."

"There is a need to clear the air."

Benigno said the initial round of resignations came as "a sort of spontaneous combustion."

Suspect in Small's murder attempts suicide in jail cell

KANKAKEE, Ill. (UPI) — One of two suspects in the kidnapping and slaying of millionaire Stephen B. Small tried to take his own life by slashing his wrist with the jagged edge of an empty can, police said.

Daniel J. Edwards, 30, along with live-in companion Nancy D. Rish, 25, both of Bourbonnais, have been charged in the kidnap and bungled abduction that led to Small's death last week.

The can was found in the drawer of a desk in the corridor outside his cell at the Kankakee County Jail, Sheriff Bernie Thompson said Wednesday. Edwards was waiting to be put into his cell on the jail's third floor and seized the can while guards were putting other prisoners in their cells.

Edwards stashed the can in his trousers, Thompson said, "and crushed it and pulled on it until he had a sharp edge." The prisoner cut across his left wrist, leaving an inch-and-a-half gash.

He was discovered at 1:20 a.m. Wednesday during a routine check by guards. By noon Wednesday, he had been returned to his cell, Thompson said.

Corrections

While speaking about the University's 2 percent plan to the faculty senate, Donald Paine, faculty senate vice president, said: "The issue is now where it belongs — on the floor of the faculty senate."

An article in Wednesday's DE incorrectly attributed the source of this quote.

Students can register to vote until Sept. 28 for the general election. Last year about 2,500 people registered at a drive sponsored by the Undergraduate Student Organization.

The Legislature approved $201 million for SIU. However, when the Legislature failed to raise taxes, Thompson made an across-the-board slash of 4 percent in all state department budgets. That left SIU with a state appropriation of $194.7 million, about $5 million below the 1987 appropriation.

SIU-C's share of the state money is $137.9 million. SIU-E's share is $55.1 million and the Chancellor's Office received $1.7 million.

In addition to the proposed tuition increase, the University has been forced to take other austerity measures. There will be no salary increases this year for most University employees, a hiring freeze is in effect, no new programs will be implemented and family practice centers run by the School of Medicine in Decatur, Quincy and Belleville may be closed.

The budgets for utilities, contractual services and repair and equipment services also have been slashed.

The austerity measures are detailed in the University's operating budget, which also will be voted on today by the board. The board also will vote on a 1989 budget request of $232 million.

In other business, the board will:

— Vote on the 1989 budget request for capital projects at the University. SIU is requesting $45.7 million from the state for the projects, which include the building of a new art facility at the Edwardsville campus and the remodeling of Pulliam Hall.

— Decide whether to award a contract for the replacement of the Davies Gymnasium roof to a local architectural firm. University officials recommend that the University's Capital Development Board consider awarding the $87,000 contract to LPS Associates of Carbondale.

Speck's parole bid denied by unanimous vote of board

SPRINGFIELD (UPI) — Richard Speck, labeled the "evil destroyer" who murdered eight student nurses in 1966, was denied parole Wednesday for the sixth time by a unanimous vote of the Illinois Prisoner Review Board.

The decision was announced in a brief written statement by board chairman Paul Klinecar and came without explanation. Officials at the board refused to elaborate.

Speck, 45, who has served 21 years in prison, previously has been denied parole five times by the 10-member board.

"The members of the Prisoner Review Board have voted unanimously to deny parole to Richard Speck, who is incarcerated at Stateville Correctional Center," the board's statement said. "Speck's next parole hearing is set for September 1990."

Joe Matusek, whose daughter was one of Speck's victims, said he was pleased with the decision, but would continue to work to see that Speck is never released.

Gov. James Thompson, a former prosecutor, called the prospect of Speck's parole "unthinkable."

"We have to," he said. "You never know when some no-good-foer will get in there and start the drive against what we are doing because of his good behavior."

Law enforcement officials also hailed the verdict.

"It was the right decision today, it will be the right decision in 1990 and it's the only decision for the rest of Speck's life," Cook County State's Attorney Richard Daley said. "The victims and their families, who must relive their anguish every three years, deserve so much compassion that there can be none left for the evil destroyer of those precious young lives."

former prosecutor, called the prospect of Speck's parole "unthinkable."

The announcement came one week after 30 angry and weeping friends and relatives of his eight victims packed a hearing room at the Stateville Correctional Center in Joliet and castigated Speck as a butcher who might kill again.

Speck originally was sentenced to death but was resentence to 400 to 1,200 years in prison after the Illinois death penalty law was voided by the Supreme Court in 1971.

At the Stateville maximum-security prison, Speck has worked as a wall painter and lived among the general population.

The brutality of his crime shocked the nation and the possibility that Speck might be released from prison brought a storm of protest nationwide, with more than 9,000 people contacting the board in opposition to the move.

Speck reportedly had planned to attend the hearing.

Number of Carbondale kids boycotting school dwindles

By Jack Hampton
Staff Writer

The number of children boycotting Carbondale Elementary School classes had dwindled from 165 Tuesday to 69 Wednesday, a spokesman for the district said.

"The numbers given are all black students," Ralph Litherand, director of educational services, said. "The normal rate of absence hasn't been established because it is so early in the school year."

A group identified as "concerned citizens" has circulated a notice to news media, and apparently to parents of black elementary students, calling for a boycott of classes from Tuesday through Friday. The group listed 14 concerns in a prepared release.

Among those concerns are the absence of a black administrator in the district, the failure of the district to develop and implement an affirmative action-equal opportunity program and the failure of the board to recognize the black community as a viable part of the education of black students.

The notice was signed by Richard C. Hayes, coordinator of Student Life at SIU-C. Hayes says he is a spokesman for the citizens group.

He said Wednesday that "he wasn't aware" of the decline in the number of children boycotting the school.

Hayes said his grandchild is among the students boycotting.

"Although they miss a week early in the school year, it won't be detrimental to them," he said. "The students are being assisted with assignments."

Hayes said he will meet with the group at 7:30 p.m. Friday at the Eurma C. Hayes Center in Carbondale.

Acting superintendent Larry Jacober was attending a state meeting of school superintendents in Springfield.

Litherand said he could only release attendance figures and did not know if meetings had been set up between the board, administration and the parents.

The release from Hayes said it was signed by 26 other Carbondale district parents but no other names appeared on it. The group met last Thursday and voted to boycott, the release stated.

The group reportedly met again Tuesday and agreed to continue the boycott. Jacober told reporters that he was disappointed the group didn't try to talk to administrators before pursuing the boycott. School board president Jack McKillip talked to Hayes Friday and offered to meet with the parents, but hadn't received a response Wednesday.

"I talked with him and told him Friday was the first time I had heard of it," McKillip said. "I offered to meet with them any time, any place and he said he'd get back to me. So far, I haven't heard anything."

Teacher strikes cross 7 states

By United Press International

Teachers picketed Wednesday in Chicago, canceling the first day of classes for 430,000 public school students, while educators in a Massachusetts town walked off their jobs, raising to seven the number of states hit by strikes.

In Chicago, the nation's third largest public school system, the Illinois Education Labor Relations Board was considering a request by the Board of Education to force the 29,000 striking teachers back to work.

The school board has charged the Chicago Teachers Union and 20 other unions representing another 12,000 employees with conducting an illegal strike. School officials late Tuesday asked the labor relations board to request the back-to-work order in Cook County circuit court.

For Chicago public school teachers, it is their ninth strike in 18 years.

The CTU said 96 percent of the teachers honored picket lines Tuesday.

Consumer experts advocate greater safety in nurseries

WASHINGTON (UPI) — With about 88,000 youngsters injured by nursery equipment last year, consumer officials urged parents Wednesday to watch what they buy and avoid decorating baby nurseries with heirlooms and garage sale bargains.

The alert to parents was issued by the Consumer Product Safety Commission and the Juvenile Products Manufacturers' Association, which are sponsoring Baby Safety Week.

"Parents need to concentrate on safety from the day the baby is born, particularly when nursery products are used," Commission Chairman Terrence Scanlon said.

Scanlon said first-time parents in particular "may not be familiar with nursery equipment and the hazards it can pose — especially if the equipment has been around for a while."

In recent years, construction and design of nursery products have undergone significant safety improvements, officials said.

But parents should look for potential hazards, including improper spacing of crib slats, poor fit of crib mattresses, large V-shaped tops of baby gates, large mesh in sides of playpens and unstable baby walkers and strollers, officials said.

If older products are used or purchased at a yard or garage sale, officials said they should be checked thoroughly.

"Just because a piece of baby furniture is a family heirloom doesn't necessarily make it safe," Scanlon said. "Nor is the absence of prior problems with such furniture a guarantee that it will be accident free in the future."

More than 88,000 infants and children under age 5 were treated in hospital emergency rooms last year for injuries associated with nursery products, statistics show.

Health Service Corps program receives boost from House vote

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House passed a bill Wednesday to extend the National Health Service Corps program, which gives scholarships to medical, dental and nursing students and later sends them to communities that need health care workers.

The measure was approved 337-9. A similar bill won Senate passage in July. The two branches must agree on a final version before the measure can be sent to President Reagan for his signature.

The program awards scholarships and calls for the recipients, after graduation, to provide health care services in areas that lack doctors, dentists, nurses and other health workers.

The program then pays part of their salaries and requires the "health manpower shortage area" that receives their services to repay the government for its share of education and salary expenses.

This year, more than 3,000 of the program's health care professionals are at work serving 3.2 million people.

The bill would provide $65 million a year for the next three fiscal years to pay for the service aspect of the program.

Blues, food, billiards highlight annual E-Night entertainment

By Curtis Winston
Staff Writer

The Student Center and the Student Programming Council salute Illinois at their annual E-Night open house Friday evening with music, free bowling, billiards, video games, food specials and more.

Highlighting the entertainment will be the "Queen of the Blues," Koko Taylor and her Blues Machine. They will perform first at 8:30. She will be opening for Carbondale natives, Big Twist and the Mellow Fellows.

"Queen of the Blues" is a title Taylor wears well. She won the 1984 Grammy Award for the best blues recording for her live album "Blues Explosion."

Big Twist and the Mellow Fellows have received praise from critics around the world and never fail to please their We've given our brains to science.

The TI-60 functions include hexadecimal/octal conversions, integration using Simpson's rule, statistics (including linear regression), trend line analysis and metric to English conversions. You can program 84 steps.

The TI-65 has all the TI-60 functions, plus a stopwatch/timer for lab work, eight physical constants for use in thermodynamics and physics as well as Decision Programming capabilities. You can program 100 steps.

TI advanced scientifics have all the right engineering and science functions to help you function better in school.

When we set out to make our most advanced scientific calculators, we gave a lot of thought to what your science, math and engineering problems are. Then we designed our calculators around them. The result: the TI-60 and the new TI-65 are both packed with built-in functions. Plus, there are programming steps to speed you through repetitive calculations. But even though both can handle the hardest problems, they're easy to use. Large, color-coded keys and simple keyboard layouts mean you spend less time figuring out the calculator and more time figuring out your problems.

So if you're the kind of student who's got science on the brain, get the calculators from the folks who've given their brains to science. The Advanced Scientifics from Texas Instruments.

Green defends managerial pick; Vukovich wants to manage Cubs

CHICAGO (UPI) — Third base coach John Vukovich wants to be the Chicago Cubs' manager, Frank Lucchesi, the Cubs' interim manager, says Vukovich would be a good choice.

So why didn't Vukovich get the job as soon as manager Gene Michael resigned Monday?

"By naming Frank the interim manager, we also take some pressure away from anybody else," Cubs' general manager Dallas Green said. "This will give us time to gather our thoughts and give us time regarding our managerial decision. We'd like to make that decision in October or November, but we won't make a decision until we're completely satisfied.

"Anybody coaching now will get as much consideration as anyone from outside the organization," Green said.

That's good news for Vukovich, who has been with the Cubs for six years and is considered managerial material. Vukovich definitely wants the job, which he held for two days on an interim basis himself in between Jim Frey and Michael in June of 1986.

"I have the possibility at the end of the season to get the job and we will take it from there," Vukovich said with a stiff upper lip Tuesday. "Dallas said the timing is not good right now for anybody to take over on more than an interim basis. To a certain degree, I understand it."

Vukovich then listed his qualifications, which includes managing Chicago's Instructional League team last fall. He has worked as dugout coach, first base coach and third base coach for the Cubs since joining the club in 1981.

Vukovich played for Green in the Philadelphia Phillies organization as a third baseman and knows what it takes to work with Green.

"He's a demanding guy who wants to win," Vukovich said. "I probably argued with him more than anybody. When he gets louder, I tell him louder doesn't make him right. If I do get the call, I'm going to be myself, like I was then."

Lucchesi himself said Vukovich could do the job.

"I'm a Vukovich man, for more reasons than one," Lucchesi said. "He's a straight-up guy. He's honest."

There are other candidates. The pressure to place a black man in a major league managerial role gives Hall of Fame outfielder and current Cubs' batting coach Billy Williams some leverage. Williams has been named to manage the Instructional League team this fall.

Pat's Collins ready to play after summer cocaine rehab

FOXBORO, Mass. (UPI) — New England Patriots running back Tony Collins suffered a relapse of his cocaine habit during the offseason and was treated for a month at a Houston clinic, a published report said Wednesday.

"Nobody knew I was back into drugs again," Collins told The Boston Herald. "It's all behind me now, though. I'm ready to play football. I feel like a rookie again."

Collins, a seven-year veteran, was one of six

Patriots linked to drug use following the club's Super Bowl appearance after the 1985 season. He had tested positive for drug use after the 1984 season and went through counseling and rehabilitation.

Because of his drug involvement, Collins was tested regularly during the 1985 and 1986 seasons, with no indication of further drug use.

Collins told The Tribune that his problems with cocaine were suffered in the off-season only.

Saluki women golfer's set goals, Gateway title, trophies head list

By Todd Mounce
Staff Writer

Winning the Gateway Conference title and bringing home trophies are goals of the 1987 Saluki women's golf team, coach Diane Daugherty said.

"We want to place in the hardware," Daugherty said, "we want to bring home trophies."

"If we finish in the top 50 percent I'll be happy," Daugherty said, "If we finish in the top 10 percent, I'll be ecstatic."

Daugherty added that "any time we compete with Big 10 or Big Eight schools, we have our hands full."

After opening the season at the Lady Boiler Fall Classic the Salukis travel to Illinois State University in Normal for the Illinois State Invitational Sept. 18-20.

Daugherty expects the team to finish in the top two at that meet. Six Salukis will compete in the 36-hole tournament. ISU has the home course advantage and Daugherty expects them to be one of the tougher competitors there. Other teams include Missouri, Western Kentucky and Northern Illinois.

The Lady Northern Intercollegiate, slated for Sept. 25-27, is expected to be another challenging tournament and Daugherty said last year the Salukis tied for ninth out of a field of 17.

The Lady Northern is hosted by a different university each year and this year's host is Ohio State University in Columbus, Ohio. Five Saluki linksters will compete in the 54-hole tournament.

The Huskie Classic is scheduled for Oct. 9 and 10 at Northern Illinois University in DeKalb. The Saluki women finished fourth last year out of a 10-team field. Six Saluki linksters will compete in the 54-hole tournament.

The Salukis face what Daugherty calls the toughest competition of the year at the Lady Kat Invitational in Lexington, Ky.

The Lady Kat featured 17 teams last year, and SIU-C finished seventh. Five Saluki linksters will compete in the 54-hole tournament.

Women's golf opens year at Lady Boiler

The Saluki women's golf team begins its season Saturday at the Lady Boiler Fall Classic, a 36-hole tournament hosted by Purdue in West Lafayette, Ind.

The women linksters didn't compete there last year, but hope to start with a solid performance to gain confidence for the upcoming season, coach Diane Daugherty said.

The six players who qualified for competition are senior ace Tina Kozlowski, sophomore Lisa Merrit, sophomore Julie Shumaker, junior Peggy Ellsworth, senior Vicki Higgerson and sophomore Lisa Johnson.

Teams involved in the tournament include Cincinnati, Western Kentucky, Wisconsin-Whitewater, Evansville, Indianapolis, Notre Dame University, Northern Illinois University and Indiana.

Other teams are tentatively scheduled to play.

The University of Indiana and Michigan State University are expected to be two of the tougher competitors.

Expos beat Cards

MONTREAL (UPI) — Vance Law hit a tie-breaking, two-run homer to help Dennis Martinez win his ninth game Wednesday night, pacing the Montreal Expos to their fifth straight victory, 8-3 over the St. Louis Cardinals.

The Expos swept a three-game series from St. Louis to pull within two games of the first-place Cardinals in the National League East. The New York Mets are 1 1/2 games out.

The Expos are 10-4 against St. Louis this season. Montreal moved 20 games over .500 for the first time since the closing day of the 1979 season.

Martinez, a free agent signed by Montreal in May, was brought up from Triple-A Indianapolis on June 8. Martinez, 9-3, pitched 6 1/3 innings, allowed 10 hits, walked two and struck out five. Joe Hesketh and Tim Burke closed the game for Montreal.

St. Louis first baseman Jack

Clark, who leads the team in homers and RBI, left the game with a sprained right ankle in the sixth inning after he tripped at first base running out a groundball. He will be treated in New York, where the Cardinals start a three-game series against the Mets Friday.

The Expos broke a 2-2 deadlock in the fourth and added three runs off Scott Terry in the fifth. Mitch Webster walked with one out and Tim Wallach singled with two out, putting runners on first and third. Andres Galaraga beat out a single, scoring Webster.

Hubie Brooks grounded out with the bases loaded in the sixth to drive home Mike Fitzgerald and increase the lead to 8-2.

With runners at first and third in the seventh, Martinez was called for a ball, allowing John Morris to score and drawing St. Louis to 8-3.

She called the Midwest Invitational at Bloomington, Ind. an "excellent tournament." Big Ten Champ Indiana and Kentucky, both in the top ten last season, head the field, which also includes Wisconsin and Western Michigan.

Auld said Wichita State and even when their team is at the bottom half of the conference like Purdue.

The Salukis will travel to four invitational tournaments where only individual records are kept, scores that do not count toward the team match limit set by the NCAA.

"The invitational tournaments will give some good people some good competition," Auld said.

Netters set goal for Gateway title

Saluki tennis player Ellen Moellering returns a serve during practice Wednesday at the Arena tennis courts.

By Dave Miller
Staff Writer

The Saluki women's tennis team, which includes all the top players from last season and three recruits, one nationally ranked, "could be the best ever," coach Judy Auld said.

"We are a team to be reckoned with," Auld said. "We have the depth. The potential's there. Now we have to live up to that potential."

However, injuries and sickness keep Auld from determining her singles positions and trying different doubles combinations.

"I'm as frustrated as my players," she said. "We haven't been able to play challenge matches in practice to determine our lineup."

She said Ellen Moellering, Dana Cherebetiu and Beth Boardman are the top three singles players. The only doubles combination Auld has set is Moellering-Boardman. Their 34-9 record last year set a season win record.

Moellering, a senior, went 25-20 at the No. 1 singles spot last season and Auld said

Moellering has still has an advantage in gaining the No. 1 spot because of her experience.

Cherebetiu, a junior from Mexico City, was 30-16 at No. 2 singles last season.

Boardman carries a 15-match winning streak into the fall. She went 44-6, with 40 wins occurring in straight sets, for an 880 percentage her freshman year. Her win total and winning percentage are both SIU-C records.

Veterans Sue Stueby, Maria Coch and Sherri Knight compete with freshmen Michelle "Missy" Jeffrey, Michele Toye and Becky Baumann for the final three singles positions.

Jeffrey, SIU-C's first nationally ranked recruit, will not play this weekend because of bronchitis. She has ranked in the top 20 players in Texas and currently ranks No. 148 in 'girl's 18s.

Auld considers defending Gateway champ Western Illinois a favorite to win the conference. Last season SIU-C finished 23-12 and tied for third with Drake. Wichita State finished second.

Schedule set to challenge women netters

By Dave Miller
Staff Writer

The women's tennis fall schedule gives the team a chance to find out just how good they are.

"This is one of the tougher schedules we have had," coach Judy Auld said. "We have teams that will definitely challenge us."

The Salukis challenge starts when they play defending Gateway Conference champ Western Illinois on Saturday. Also slated are traditional rivals Memphis State, Louisville and Purdue.

"We have trouble scheduling certain Big Ten teams," Auld said and added that they ask what SIU-C can do for them. SIU-C have the toughest schedules among Gateway Conference teams.

Indiana first foe on Saluki Invitational slate

By Troy Taylor
Staff Writer

Indiana's volleyball team wants only one thing to happen when it opens the Saluki Invitational against coach Debbie Hunter's host squad at 7 p.m. Thursday.

The Hoosiers want the air conditioning in Davies Gym to break down so they can play in the heat and humidity.

Last week Indiana battled nationally ranked Arizona State under those conditions and nearly upset the Sun Devils in five games. "We got them where we wanted them — in a hot, muggy gym. They couldn't keep up, we should've won," said first-year coach Tom Shoji.

Shoji, head coach at New Mexico State for the past six years, now is busy rebuilding an Indiana club that finished fifth in the Big Ten last season.

Indiana has a 2-2 record that includes a 3-1 win over Notre Dame, the team that defeated the Salukis three straight Aug. 30. However, Shoji admitted that results against common opponents has little meaning. His concern is to keep scores close.

"We want to put ourselves in a position where we might win every match. At least we want to be in every match and not get blown out," Shoji said.

Twins Karen and Patty Dunham are senior leaders for the Hoosiers. Patty is a 5-6 outside hitter while Karen, a 5-8 setter, has been the premier player since being named Big Ten "Freshman of the Year" in 1984.

But the person to watch, according to Shoji, is 6-0 sophomore middle blocker Julie Goedde. "She is playing extremely well. She is strong, physical and she has really turned it on in the last week."

Indiana also starts Jill Beggs and Lisa John as outside hitters and Liz Armbrustmacher at middle blocker.

As for the 1-3 Salukis, Hunter is pleased with the progress in communication between 5-6 junior setter Dawn Thompson and the hitters.

"All of our attack is better, more consistent. The hitters feel more in tune. Dawn has done a good job of getting the ball into position so they can swing away," Hunter said.

Dorothy Buchanan and Nina Brackins are the starting middle blockers. Joan Wallenberg, Beth Winsett and Teri Noble are the outside hitters.

Expected to see action for the Salukis are Lori Simpson, Amy Johnson, Margaret Cooney and Linda Walker.

Although the Salukis have an 8-6 series lead, Indiana won the last meeting 15-3, 15-9, 16-14 on Oct. 3, 1985 in Bloomington.

The Salukis won the tournament twice and finished second four times. The tournament has not been held since 1985 when Texas A&M won and Central Michigan was the runner-up.

Besides the Salukis and Indiana, Western Michigan, North Carolina and Iowa State will compete.

Western Michigan has yet to play a match this season, but enjoyed a good performance in 1986. The Broncos went 27-7 overall and captured the Mid-American Conference at 16-0 before they advanced to the regional semi-finals of the national tournament.

Coach Robert Buck has five returning starters, but said the team is an "untested entity."

"I just don't know what we'll be like until we get on the court. There is no reason to speculate," he said.

The Broncos start Andrea Pedrick at setter. The middle blockers are Katharine Wermé and Gail Church and outside hitters are Lise Martin, Laurie Maierhofer and Lynda McLean.

North Carolina opened its season with a win over Virginia Tech. In 1986 the Tarheels were 25-13 overall and took the Atlantic Coast Conference with a 7-0 record.

Yet, coach Peggy Bradley-Doppes doesn't have a senior in her starting lineup and two positions are filled by freshmen.

Outside hitter Andrea Wells led North Carolina with 528 kills last season. Other outside hitters are Sharon German and Liz Berg. Ann Schildmeyer and Sara Wilson are the middle blockers and Sherri Vogel is the setter.

Iowa State, which went 15-15 a year ago and finished fourth in Big Eight play at 4-6, hopes to gain some experience.

"We know there is good competition. We're excited to play against the good teams in our region," second-year Cyclone coach Vicki Mealer said.

Iowa State's top player is Lisa Evans, a three-time all-Big Eight outside hitter. Sue Nosal and Linda Welch are outside hitters.
