Letter Will Go To Air Society

Social Senate Still Involved In Debate Over ROTC Cuff-Link Petition; Other Requests OK'd

The cuff-linked ghost of the ROTC Military Ball continues to haunt the Social Senate as the meeting of last Tuesday became a "what to do with the ROTC."

After the regular business of the meeting had been dispensed with, the Senate became involved in a tedious debate over the Cuff's ball.

Sherman Adleman, junior, started the long confabulation when he moved to have the Senate "send a letter to the Arnold Air Society requesting that it complete a report from the chairman of the various committees connected with the ball, and especially from the steering committee, and that this report be submitted in one month's time."

The motion failed to get a second, but the theme was set for talk on the ROTC. After several minutes of how, why, where, and when, but regarding the Dale Ashmore, president of the ball, it was finally resolved that the Senate would write a letter explaining to the ROTC what were the desired procedures for handling petitions, running dances, and selling knick-knacks.

It was felt generally by those present that "a sense of assistance and cooperation" was the main point of any Senate action regarding the inadequacies surrounding an affair.

In the other business of the day, the Senate approved the petition of Theta Xi for its traditional Variety Show.

It also granted approval to Delta Chi for the Count Basic concert set for Feb. 20; and the International Relations Club and the Student Union's House Committee joint request for a Sunday night series of suppers.

The suppers were to be a money making scheme to raise funds so delegates could be sent to their forthcoming conventions. Foreign dishes prepared by various foreign students on campus would be featured at the feasts.

Also approved was a petition from a Woody Hall Scholarship dance for Feb. 28. The money gathered from this event would be used for a scholarship fund for girls in Woody Hall.

Bill Berry reported that the treasury funds were in the same amount as given last week. His report of the activities of the Judicial Committee revealed that work continued on writing of the new constitution. Another meeting of the committee was arranged for 10 a. m. Saturday morning and all interested parties were invited to attend.

'Moment Of Truth' Plays In Library Sunday

A busy doctor, a young artist, and the doctor's actress wife; these are the essential elements of "Moment of Truth," the Southern Film Society's presentation to be presented Sunday in the library auditorium.

The film concerns the consequences of the doctor's discovery that his wife has been involved in an affair with the artist. Her confession and explanation make up the substance of the film.

Michele Morgan stars as the wife; Jean Gabin, as the doctor. Also in the cast are Madeline Richard, Dr. Pierre Richard, and Walter Chiari, familiar to American audiences from his appearance in "The Little Hut," with Ava Gardner.

The movie will be shown at 2:30 and 8:30 p.m. Sunday. Admission is 40 cents for adults and 25 cents for adults and 25 cents for students.

Traffic Problems, 'Alert' Siren Major Items On Council Agenda

Traffic problems and an "alert" siren will be two major items faced by the Chautauqua Housing Project's council at the Feb. 3 meeting to be held at 6:30 p.m. in the Nursery.

At the first council meeting, this term council members noted that drivers were not observing the 10-mile per hour speed zone in the housing project. Since the first meeting, members of the council have been on one-hour watches of the streets in the project to note the number of traffic violators. A report concerning the number of violators and the manner in which the traffic problem can be reduced will be made at the Feb. 3 meeting.

Geo. Connell, a junior education major from West Frankfort, will

Freshman Wins Nurse's Uniform Design Contest

Linda Walters, 18-year-old freshman in nursing, has been named winner of a Nurse's Uniform Design Contest sponsored by the SIU Department of Nursing.

The uniform she designed will be worn by SIU's student nurses beginning next October, according to Miss Virginia Harrison, department chairman.

For submitting the winning entry, Miss Walters will receive a year's free tuition here. Funds for the award were donated privately.

Six judges selected Miss Walters' design on the basis of its originality and adaptability for street and hospital wear, Miss Harrison said.

The uniform will be a golfer type with a yoke. Paired color, roll-up sleeves, and action back. The blouse will be buttoned and the five-gore skirt will be gripper-fastened. Other features are a satin belt and reinforced pockets. No decision has been made concerning the uniform's color.

Leasing Construction Bids Due In March

Will House 160 Families, 675 Single Students

SIU will advertise for construction bids in February and March on new residence hall and apartment housing for 160 staff families and 675 single students.

Construction arrangements can now be made after the Board of Trustees, meeting yesterday at Alton, signed final government loan approval papers — largely a formality since the government already had approved a loan based on architect's plans previously approved by the Board.

Made possible by a $3,000,000 loan from the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency, the projects are scheduled for completion in June and July of 1959.

The new residence halls will boost Southern's permanent facilities for single students to over 1,825 beds. The 160 apartments will represent the first university permanent housing for staff and student families.

2-Story Apartments

To be constructed on a rolling, wooded site east of the campus, the family housing project will include 10 separate buildings designed by Glenn Frasier, Champaign architect. Features will be informal grouping of the apartment units.

Three separate clusters of the structures will be grouped around large, grassy "malls" — spacious courtyards landscaped to heighten the "non-institutional" aspect of the overall plan.

Outside walls will be of brick and prefabricated metal panels, and all second floor apartments will front on a covered balcony.

The apartments themselves — 100 two-bedroom, 48 one-bedroom and 12 efficiency units — will be designed for one-family living and will be completely finished with built-in wardrobes, chests, and packaged kitchens. The wardrobes, in most cases, also will serve as room dividers. The flooring and acoustical tile ceilings will be utilized throughout the project.

Although planned primarily for graduate students, faculty assistants and some undergraduate families, the apartments also will be available to faculty members.

The small residence halls project, to be built west of the present Thompson Point residence halls, across Thompson Lake, will include 15 buildings, each with a 45-student capacity. Present plans call for 10 of the halls to be occupied by men students, the other five by women.

3 Designs For Dorms

Three different building designs by Architect Thomas A. Graman of Metropolis will be utilized in this project. Although concrete slabs and brick exterior walls are common to all buildings, a variety of materials will be used in facades, giving each building an appearance different from the others.

Each residence hall will include an apartment for the resident counselor, central kitchen and dining facilities, lounge, living room, central dormitory and double room for study. The study rooms will feature built-in wardrobe and desk units.

Charles Pulley, University Architect, estimates completion of the residence halls by June 15, 1959, and the family units one month later.

Approval of the loan brings to $7,455,000 the amount of housing construction money made available to SIU by the Housing and Home Finance Agency since 1953. The Agency's loan of $3,335,000 for the Thompson Point residence hall project was the largest transaction in the Agency's history. All the projects are self-financing.

SIU Vice President George H. Hand said today that local residents who rent rooms to students need not be alarmed because of the new housing construction. "With University enrollment continuing to in-

Festival Schedule Revised By Committee

The changing of the "Miss Southern" contest from an afternoon to a night affair and a possible change of sites for the event were decided upon at the Spring Festival Steering Committee's first meeting this week.

Several other modifications of the festival schedule were also discussed.

The beauty contest also will be moved up one day to allow the queen to reign over all activities. Scheduled for the Woody Hall patio or McAndrew Stadium Thursday May 1, the contest will be held in conjunction with a band concert and an ice cream social, a departure from past events.

The annual carnival midway will again be in operation Friday night along with the traditional vaudeville show, but will operate again on Saturday afternoon along with the water show.

Two stage shows, similar to those contracted for Homecoming the past years, are planned for Saturday night along with a semi-formal dance at the Thompson Point Service Center.

The annual breakfast will be held in the Recreation room at TP, and tentative plans have been made for a picnic Sunday at Little Casey.

Opera Cast Announced For 'La Boheme'

The cast for "La Boheme," the first full-length opera to be performed at SIU, has been announced by William Taylor, director of the Opera Workshop.

The cast in order of their appearance is as follows: (Rodolph) — Burke Fry; (Marcello) — Wayne Stevers; (Colline) — Fred Bertram; (Schaunard) — John Wilkinson; (Benoit) — Joe Embser; and in a double cast of Mimmi are Geraldine Weber and June Nightwaine.

Others in the cast are: (Alcindoro) — Bill Davis; (Musetta) — another double cast with Delores Doolens and Priscilla Metcalf in two roles; (Parvino) — Phyllis Falcone; and (Custom House Sergeant) — Robert Green.

Rehearsals for the opera were to get underway shortly, said Taylor, and would be held twice weekly during regular choir time.

The opera chorus will not begin its rehearsals until late March or early April. "La Boheme" is to be given May 22 and 23.

The chorus for the opera was to be filled with members of the university choir in order to complete the necessary number of singers.

"La Boheme" is being presented through the co-operation of the Music and the Theatre departments of SIU.

Archibald McLeod of the theatre department will be the stage director and scene designer will be Darwin Payne, also of Theatre.

Charles Zocleier of theatre will be the technical director.

Carmine Ficelli of the music department will conduct the orchestra at the performance.

Jim Butler Will Emcee Variety Show

Jim Butler, KMOX disc-jockey, will emcee the Theta Xi Variety Show both nights — Feb. 7 and 8th.

The show will begin at 7 p. m. and last until 10 p. m.

Butler, 29, conducts the "Early Morning" and "Mid Morning" Jim Butler Show. He also presides over a Saturday and Sunday music show, featuring popular recordings. During the broadcasts of the Hawks' basketball games, he does the "color."

While attending Notre Dame University, he was writer-producer of college broadcasts. After he received his A. B. degree in journalism, he served as staff announcer, actor and emcee for a radio station in South Bend. From there he went to WJVM Olney and then to KMOX.

Jim won the title "Unofficial Night Mayor" of the St. Louis chapter of Commerce for his "Record Bar" broadcast from midnight to 5:30 a. m.

His show is broadcast from 6 to 9 a. m.

Movie Hour Films To Play Three Times On Fridays

Beginning tonight, the movie hour films at the University School Auditorium will have three showings instead of two each night. From now on, programs will be scheduled at 6, 8, and 10 p. m. on Fridays. Admission prices will remain the same.

The extra showing, according to Frank Carson of the Audio-Visual department, was added because of the large attendance at the recent showing of "East of Eden," and also because of its convenience for students with 7:35 classes on the nights of the movies.

"The showings will not be continuous," Carson said. "Each movie will be shown three separate times, and these will start on time, unless the length of the feature whose wife has left him for a neat."

Playing tonight at the University School will be "The Baker's Wife," a French movie with English subtitles. The story of the film concerns a small-town baker whose wife has left him for a young shepherd, and who refuses to take any bread until she comes back. The desperate townspeople, rather than do without their bread, take it upon themselves to find her and persuade her to return.

Starring Ramon Giron, Ginitie Leclerc, and a Robert Vattier, "The Baker's Wife" has been praised by critics as one of the funniest shows to come from France in many years.

Music Auditions Set For March

The annual music scholarship auditions have been set for Saturday, March 15 at 1 p. m. in Shrock Auditorium.

The announcement came from Dr. Henry A. Brunsma, chairman of the Department of Music, through the University Committee of Scholarships.

Scholarships are available to singers, pianists, and players of all bands and orchestra instruments.

The scholarships and activity awards cover the cost of tuition for in-state as well as out-of-state students.

Application forms may be obtained from the Admissions Office of the University.

Photographic Censorship

There has been much debate and clamor lately about whether to shoot or not to shoot pictures in costumes. The Carbondale Players recently moved your door to have to go into a confessional room to be barred from taking pictures: just attend one of their plays.

A member of the Canadian Players troupe was stationed at the door in Shropshire Auditorium during its performance here Monday night. One of his apparent duties was to keep out photographers.

The local daily newspaper was told not to take pictures. The photographic service photographer was told NOT to take pictures. The EGYPTIAN was told NOT to take pictures.

The reason given for not allowing the taking of pictures was that it would disturb the players. One could assume that flash photography could disturb the performance. One could not so easily assume that taking pictures without the use of flashbulbs would cause a disturbance. In fact, a photographer DID take some pictures sitting in the center of the auditorium. Neither the audience nor the players were aware of it.

In these days of fast films and cameras developing their flash does not have to be so conspicuous. A photographer can take his pictures silently, without disturbing anyone.

Why a troupe, such as the Canadian Players, which depends a great deal on publicity, would want to stifle publicity beyond comprehension. If such a group, no matter how good it is, continues such action it will soon find its popularity on the wane.

Alumnus Protests Parking Ban

Dear Editor:

I was reminded again (by your Jan. 14th issue) of the acute automobile problem at Southern Illinois. I can see no valid reason for this and would like to ask those who made this decision to come forward with the reasons for it: it so that students, former students, and future students could understand the thinking behind our administrative decisions.

I have given this problem a great deal of thought in the past year and feel that it needs the immediate attention of those interested in Southern's future because I feel that senseless decisions like this can kill a student morale which is already low. The only arguments that I have heard to date (by reading Egyptians) are based on the lack of physical facilities for student cars. As a planner, I can testify that if there is a lack of physical facilities, it is due to other administrative decisions and is not due to the lack of money, land or other unavoidable circumstances. The University has been almost completely rebuilt by the present Administration and could have been planned for an automobile age student population. The responsibility rests with the present Administration from which I request a public statement.

In an attempt to be at least partially constructive in my criticism, I would like to offer a suggestion. There are not enough parking places at the present to accommodate all students and it appears likely that there will not be enough for some time to come. Currently only seniors are allowed to park on campus. I would like to suggest that these few existing parking places, and any built in the future, be assigned to the best students, not the seniors. In this way the "party boys" who make low grades would find themselves on foot and might find some added incentive for school work. Then each Fall the new grade point averages could be used as a means of determining which students could have parking stickers and which ones could bring cars to Southern. The poor students would thus be penalized and the good ones rewarded. Freshmen

Library Glass Cases Emphasize Books, Materials

"The emphasis is always on library books and materials," Miss Genee Kite, chairman of the display committee, said of the displays in the glass cases in the library hall.

"The purpose of each display is to bring before the public a specific grouping of books or materials would have something else to work toward during that all-crucial first year.

I hope that this letter can stimulate some worthwhile arguments. I feel that the persons who decided that students would not have cars in 1960 were a little shortsighted. It sound to me like the type of harassment I get in the Army.

Sincerely,

ials," she explained. The displays in the four main cases are based on extensive study and research, and are worked out each month by a member of the display committee. Of the other two cases, one is reserved for the use of the University Press, and the other is used to show the new books and materials received by the library.

"We try to spread the interest around in this case," Miss Kite said. "We use four or five books from each library, and change the display each week. On special occasions, such as Christmas or the visit of some distinguished person, we use this case with the main display."

In February the main display cases will be used to show "Library Resources for Regional History," Miss Kite said. In March the subject will be "The Library and Librarians," in connection with National Library Week. This display will show the history of libraries and librarianships.

CUTTING UP

the GOOD and the BAD

By DON HECKE

Southern males do not, in general, dress nearly as well as they could. From the looks of the clothing on most of them in classroom and walking about campus the trouble is in up-keep—not quality.

Our campus is noted for its formal atmosphere. This informal atmosphere was long ago carried over into the realm of clothing.

The trend of the male population seems to be an extension of the same styles of clothing they wore in high school—only difference being that here they do not bother to keep their clothing in a pressed and orderly manner.

Many strangers get the distinct impression that one mark of success of the undergraduate is sloppy dressing. Many a campus "what" is distinct only by his straggled casual dress.

Those students and teachers who have been on other campuses will more than likely tell you that informal dress is to be found on other campuses, but nowhere near the degree it is here.

In this day of conformity most students are eager to conform to the will of the majority. Transfer students who come here wearing a tie and sportcoat are stared at and then ignored—most of the time.

The same thing is true of many other students who are used to a more presentable form of dress—and suddenly find themselves in a community where a coat and tie is the exception rather than the rule. As a result, the student who wants to blend in with the surroundings quickly puts his clothes in a closet—sneering spending a few dollars for a pair of cotton wash slacks and a button-down ivory shirt.

Four years ago I came to this campus as a freshman—and with a pair of pants with a buckle in the back—and with a pair of desert boots—for off-hour leisure-wear pleasure. Other students stared at me—some wanted to know what firm I came from.

Today if I were to come on this campus without the back-strap on the pants and the desert boots students would still stare at me—and want to know what firm I came from.

I had nothing to do with the switch in student acceptance. The "Ivy League" style has been followed in the ease for more years than undergraduate students are old. The so-called new style was prompted by the clothing industry—the gray flannel suit boys in New York. The point is, I was not wearing the clothing generally accepted by the group—and this somehow was not considered "in."

There was nothing wrong with Ivy styling four years ago—and there is nothing wrong with it now. But Ivy styling—or any other that can be called a "style" delegates into a sort of "fad" when worn ubiquitously.

Four years ago there did not seem to be any set style on this campus. But the clothes the males wore were much neater in appearance than those worn today.

Questioning fellow undergraduates about clothing usually results in a flat answer: "This is not a place to show off—no we come here for an education—we come here to get an education—with no money to spare. But, at the end of two weeks' walk, those who will find an assortment of suits, sport coats and accessories to match. Those clothes usually stay in the closets—because to wear them would be to show a "difference" from the group.

Indeed, we are all here for an education. But surely if one can afford an education he can afford a small laundry bill. Appearance does not make the man—but it helps. It at least shows the individual thinks enough of his fellow men to make himself decently presentable to them.

Sloppy dressing on this campus does not appear to have much to do with the monetary means of the individual. In fact, many of the boys who could afford the best wear the worst.

On the other hand, some of the poorest students I know—myself for one—try to keep their pants pressed and their shoes shined—regardless of their quality—or age.

There are some good signs. Some students who wore sloppy khaki's a year ago are now wearing pressed khaki's. Some others they have progressed from freshman to senior and have adapted a sport coat and tie to their everyday wear.

Recently an organized group required its members to wear a tie and coat one day a week.

Even a Southern conformer soberly remarked the other day that he was close to getting in the world of men—and was going to have to wear a white shirt and tie—and figured he might as well get used to it now. Good show!

Gus Bode Says

Gus overheard two husbands, who are going to the Dames Club dance and the crowning of Miss Southern, practicing their lines: "Yes, darling, she is cute, but I much prefer you..."

Gus has all ready to take a pole, about then he found out it involved a needle.

Gus swears he saw two coolies planting rice on the U-school lawn after the recent rains.

After a week-end on the town, Gus charges that "militants are being poured down the rathole."

Gus thinks the University would save money by planting grass before it puts in walks. At the end of two weeks' walk, those who will find an assortment of suits, sport coats and accessories to match. Those clothes usually stay in the closets—because to wear them would be to show a "difference" from the group.

That whirring noise every Tuesday morning at 10, Gus advises, is General Logan spinning in his grave.

Gus says he just found out that orientation isn't a course in Chinese customs.

Community development in Southern Illinois may once again be represented in New York at the National Industrial Development Exposition April 7-12.

Representatives from five towns and three counties of Southern Illinois met at SIU last Friday (Jan. 24) to hear plans for the second annual NIDE show.

"This exposition offers an excellent opportunity for towns interested in further development to contact companies seeking relocation," said Robert S. Henderson, industrial consultant for the SIU department of community development.

"Last year's Southern Illinois exhibit netted 45 industrial prospects for the area," he said. "At this time there are 20 of those still current and seven very active in this area."

"Officials of the exposition are expecting about 120 exhibits this year, 54 from 22 states, having already made reservations."

The 40 delegates decided that community development areas wishing to participate in this year's show should make reservations before Feb. 15. The costs of the exhibit put up by each area will be prorated according to population of the area.

The Southern Illinois display last year was made up of exhibits from Cobden, Cairo, Mounds, Hardin County, Coulterville, Florio, Pope County and Eldorado. These areas jointly sponsored the exhibit with the assistance of SIU.

"Other development areas which have recently started a development program are also invited to participate in the exhibit," said Henderson.

These areas include Edwardsville, Mt. Vernon and Srelevelle, which are receiving counseling from the SIU department of community development.

Sputnik Fans Politics

By R. E. Porter

SPUTNIK ONE MORE PEG IN POLITICAL PLATFORM

Now that the dust has settled after the take-offs of the two Russian moons, the Democrats and Republicans have added Sputnik debates to their campaign platforms.

The Eisenhower Administration responding to the stimulus of the Sputniks has:

Injected more money and energy into the U. S. missile and antisatellite programs.

Made a start on reorganizing the defense establishment to provide clearer lines of decision.

Called for greater emphasis on basic scientific research in and out of the government and reinvigoration of the educational system with emphasis on turning out more scientists and technicians.

These steps met with wide-spread approval. But they are also thought of as just a beginning to bigger and better things.

Many of the Democrats feel that the Administration's backing on the reorganization question is faulty. They, like many other people, are still waiting for the evidence of the vigorous action on reorganization the President seemed to promise in his State of the Union message. Lucius Clay, former U.S. commander in Germany and a close friend of President Eisenhower, told the Johnson committee last week that under the present set-up the Defense secretary was a "big overhead" and the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff was powerless.

Politically this defense debate has spelled trouble for the Republican party. Public opinion polls show the prestige of the President to have slipped since the Sputniks. The odds are against the party in the forthcoming Congressional elections. First because it is an off-year, when the voters traditionally whittle down the party controlling the White House, and second because of the mathematics of the situation. Democrats control the Senate by a margin of 49 to 47.

Last week the Republicans, seemingly full of fight, formally opened their campaign to regain control of congress. Taking the occasion presented by the fifth anniversary of President Eisenhower's first inauguration, the GOP on Monday held forty-seven dinners in twenty-seven states and the District of Columbia. The speakers, who included most of the party's big guns, held to the theme that the country is in good shape and can thank the GOP for that fact (Just think of all that money that could be put toward defense spending!)

Want to win a trophy or a two week trip to New York free? That's what's in store for some lucky student or faculty member.

The annual Photo Fair, sponsored by Kappa Alpha Mu, honorary photographic fraternity, will sponsor a contest to find some of the best photographic works of students and faculty members.

"There will be four trophies for the best news pictures, and three for the best commercial pieces of photography," said Dr. C. William Horell, director of the Photographic. "Anyone wishing the full details concerning this contest may obtain them at the Photo Service. The deadline for all applications is March 1."

"If anyone wishes to enter the competition for the National Kappa Alpha Mu trip to New York, World War I emergency officers' retirement pay, and a fee-lifting and remodeling job to the tune of $200,000 beginning sometime this month.

The Photo Fair is scheduled to take place on the campus Sun., March 1. It is being sponsored in conjunction with the National Convention of the National Press Photography Association.

"The main speaker for the fair will be Tom Abercrombie," Horell said. "He will relate his experiences with the National Geographic Magazine and his recent trips to the South Pole and Egypt."

GI Checks Are Not Taxable But GI Insurance Is

Although payments for Veterans Administration benefits are tax-free and need not be reported on 1957 Federal income tax returns, interest earned on GI life insurance dividends left on deposit with VA is not a "benefit" and is taxable.

VA said the ruling on dividend interest was made last year by the Internal Revenue Service.

Still tax-free are the proceeds of a GI life insurance policy, including the dividends themselves. The agency added that other VA benefits which need not be reported on Federal income tax returns include:

Education and training allowances for veterans of the Korean conflict period who are in school or training establishments under the Korean GI Bill.

Subsistence allowances paid to World War II veterans training under the original World War II GI Bill.

Subsistence payments made to disabled World War II and Korean conflict veterans training under Public Law 16, the Vocational Rehabilitation Act.

Disability compensation and pension payments received by veterans for service-connected and nonservice-connected disabilities.

Grants to seriously disabled veterans for homes designed for "wheelchair living."

Grants for motor vehicles to veterans who lost their sight or lost the use of their limbs.

World War I emergency officers' retirement pay.

VA said death benefits to families of deceased veterans also are exempt from taxation. They include death compensation and pension, indemnity and all GI insurance payments.

'Jack Of All Trades'

Bavel To Be Soloist In Concert Tuesday

A composer, a musician, a mathematician, an athlete and a freedom fighter... all these are Lamir Bavel, born in Israel, will appear with the Southern Illinois Symphony Orchestra as a featured soloist when the symphony gives its second concert of the season, Tuesday, at 8:15 p. m. in Shryock Auditorium.

The young violinist came to SIU in 1952 as an exchange student and in two years, won bachelor's degrees in education, music, and mathematics. A year later he received a master's degree in mathematics.

"I received my musical education in Tel Aviv," said Amzie while sipping a cup of black coffee, "and it consisted of private instruction and later study at the Shulamit Conservatory of Music."

Composing Since Six

"I have been writing music since I was six or seven years old. When I was eight, I had my own radio program which carried my pieces, and also other compositions of young composers."

"By young composers I mean those up to 15 years old. The radio station was the only one in the country and was government owned. It was called the 'Voice of Jerusalem.'"

Zamir explained the background of his violin study in Israel.

"I didn't start studying the violin seriously until I was around 13 years old. For four years I 'really hit it' (He burst out laughing in using the American idiom)."

"I practiced for six hours a day, day in and day out."

Pop Tunes Writer

Bavel, in addition to making concert appearances throughout Israel, also was a well-known composer of popular songs in Israel, and was an accomplished athlete and teacher.

He wrote an "Israeli Rhapsody," and improvisation of tunes written in Israeli folk style, which was premiered by the Southern Illinois symphony two years ago and later praised by Leonard Bernstein.

"Bernstein read my score some three months ago," added Bavel, "and he called it 'charming and effective.'"

"He wrote a terrific review on my revised form and sent it to the Israeli Philharmonic Orchestra."

"This is particularly unusual praise by Bernstein since he seldom writes to anyone."

Worked For Underground

The wary, dark-haired instructor mentioned his underground activities in Israel and his country's determined struggle for independence.

"Although I prefer not to discuss the topic, I will say that I participated in the freedom movement of Israel from 1944 to 1948, and was active in the underground."

"This was nothing unusual since every young man and woman in the small nation participated in the activities out of sheer patriotism."

He spoke excellently English and related some of his humorous experiences on first coming to the United States.

"When I first came here, I couldn't understand a word of English and I couldn't understand the bus driver as he called out the names of the cities from New York to Cambridge."

"But, I think English is an easy language to learn, and now I have no difficulty speaking it."

"I have to use big words sometimes because I don't know the slang expression, and at times this can be very funny."

Bavel will play solo parts in Mozart's "Concerto No. 4 in D Major for violin and orchestra," and the allegro non troppo movement from Lalo's "Symphonie Espagnole" for violin and orchestra.

Altgeld Getting Face-Lifting

Altgeld Hall, known for its music classes and as the second oldest building on the campus, will get a face-lifting and remodeling job to the tune of $200,000 beginning sometime this month.

Five companies will be engaged in the project to reconstruct the sixty-two-year-old traditional campus music center. The job is scheduled to be finished sometime in August. Another contract has been awarded for an FM radio transmitter building.

The entire three-story building, with the exception of the museum, is to be air conditioned. The first floor will include a 30-by-50 foot choir room, theory and general classroom, combination listening room and lounge, departmental offices and new rest rooms.

"The second floor will be dominated by practice rooms and studios," said Carl E. Bretscher, planning engineer at the University Architects Office. "There will be 25 individual and ensemble studios, 10 pianos and voice and organ rooms."

FROSH GET OBELISK POSTS

Two freshmen have been appointed associate editors for the winter term on the "Obelisk," SIU's yearbook.

Marion McBride, Marion and Ronald Vaskie, Elkville, have been appointed to succeed Elaine Hoskins, who had served as associate editor for two terms.

ANIMAL SCIENCE CLUB TO HEAR SINGING

The Angeliets and Angeliets are going to provide the entertainment for the Animal Science Club meeting, Feb. 6, Paul Gibbons, president announced today.

There will be a business meeting for the members at 7 p. m. to discuss and vote on the proposal to change the name of the club from the constitutional name of the Pharaoh's Fauna Club, to the name that everyone now associates with the club, Animal Science Club.

The entertainment will start at 8 p. m. in the Agriculture Building.

There will be 10 pianos and voice and organ rooms."

Top-Notch Illini Dumps Salukis, 70-40, Before Thrilled Crowd Last Monday

Approximately 1100 fans were treated to one of the finest exhibitions of inter-collegiate athletics seen on Southern's campus in a long time last Monday when the Saluki gymnasts faced the "Fightin' Illini".

Illinois, the top gymnastic team in the country, handed Southern's gymnasts their first defeat of the season, 70-40.

The defeat, if it could be called that, wasn't actually a defeat for the Salukis as they tallied twice as many points as they got last year against the same Illinois team.

Illinois, who has been Big-Ten champ for the last eight consecutive years, brought only six men to the meet—three of them were national champs last year.

Abe Grossfeld, last years high bar champ, opened up the meet by taking the free exercise. Oettle of SIU grabbed a third in this event.

Frank Hailand of Illinois took the honors on the tramp, the only event Southern was favored in. Roger Council, the Salukis outstanding man on the tramp, had a "bad night" and took a fourth.

John Davis showed why he was national side horse champ last as he racked up that division. Gene Salmon of Southern did a very fine job to finish second.

Abe Grossfeld, a participant for the United States in 1956 captured the high bar event. He was also national high bar champ last year. John Taylor of Southern did a very good job on the high bar to finish a close second, only eight points behind last years national champ.

Grossfeld, who won everything entered, also took top honors on the Parallel bars. His teammates Balzak and Combs took second and third.

The next event, the rings, brought the most approval from the large crowd as three freshmen from Southern finished a surprising second third and fourth. Bob Foster taking second, Ed Foster taking third and Chuck Hilliard, fourth. Of course, Abe Grossfeld won the event.

The final event, tumbling, brought more ows's and a's from the crowd than any other event. Frank Hailand, last years national tumbling champ, thrilled the crowd with a fantastic exhibition. Hailand successfully attempted and completed a double summersault—he is one of the few men in the United States capable of doing it. Hailand was given an ovation for about 50 seconds after completing his feat.

Coach Bill Meade was well satisfied with the showing of Southern's squad, especially the freshmen. Meade also was very pleased with the crowd.

Undefeated
Illinois is still undefeated and is favored to stay undefeated. They have a good show at the national title for which they were runner-up's last year. They won the title in 1955 and 1956.

Southern is now 2-1 in dual meet competition as they travel to Western Illinois Saturday. They will return home for a dual meet with a very tough Ball State squad on Saturday Feb. 8.

RESULTS OF ILL. MEET

Free Exercise — Grossfeld, I; Hailand, I; Oettle, SIU; Blazek, I; Salmon, SIU. High score 279.

Trampoline — Hailand, I; Council, SIU. High score, 264.

Side Horse—Davis, I; Salmon, SIU; Blazek, I; Ostarelo, SIU; Combs, I. High Score—274.

Rings — Grossfeld, I; Foster, SIU; Foster, SIU; Hilliard, SIU; Combs, I. High Score, 275.

Tumbling—Hailand, I; Harvey, I; Hauser, SIU; Council, SIU. High Score, 288.

Meet Cancelled For Tonight

Eastern Michigan has cancelled the wrestling meet scheduled with Southern for tonight.

No reason was given for the cancellation, but this means that Southern has another victory post. The cancellation gave the matmen a victory and they never touched a mat or even granted and granted one.

Southern's matmen have a 5-0 record for the season, and have won all of the meets easily.

Lee Grubbs, Herman Avers, and Jim Bledsoe have all performed valiantly for the Salukis while they picked up their clean record according to Bob Franz, head wrestling coach.

Coach Franz said that he would try to schedule another meet for tonight, but at the time of publication he didn't have anything definite.

The matmen will participate in the Wheaton Tournament, Feb. 14 and 15. Then they will host Great Lakes for their fourth home meet.

I Might Get Hit But...

Head gymnastic coach, Bill Meade, assistant coach Don Leas, and Southern's gymnastic squad certainly deserve a lot of credit for the job they did against Illinois, the top team in the country.

Even though the Salukis didn't take a first in the whole meet, the improvement that they showed over last year was, in some people's eyes, almost unbelievable.

Great Team
After the meet, head Illini coach, Charlie Pond, immediately walked over the Bill Meade and said, "You've got a great team here Bill, they have really improved."

Pond also said that Southern even with the mistakes they made could have beaten, "Ohio State, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Northwestern, and Indiana."

Pond time and time again marveled at the improvement of Southern's squad over last year and especially at the work of the freshmen on Southern's team.

Outstanding freshmen for Southern were Bob Foster and Ed Foster on the rings, and John Taylor, Jerry Bickenback, Ed Buffum on the high bar. Taylor lost to Abe Grossfeld, national high bar champion, by only eight points.

On The Top
"Why if you keep this up, in a couple of years you will be right up at the top," said Pond.

Commenting on the crowd, Pond said, "I wish we had crowds like this at Illinois when we have our meets. When the boys have a crowd like you ad here tonight, they feel like working."

Going back to his own favorite subject, his squad, Pond commented on Hailand's tumbling. "He is the only man in the United States that I have ever seen do this double summersault and come out of it the way he does it, and I have seen a lot of them try it."

Big Differences
Last year the Illini rolled over a green Southern team, 73-42-23. This years totals were 70-40, quite a tribute to coach Meade and his team for a lot of hard work.

Last Saturday night Southern played Austin Peay, from Clarksville Tenn. When looking over the roses after the ball game it was noted that even though it is a small school, no one player on the team is from Tennessee.

MY GUESS
I guessed kinda' wrong last week as far as the basketball team prediction, but I guess the best can make mistakes! Less so if we can't do a little better with the cagers this week. They play a Central Michigan Friday night and at Eastern Michigan Saturday. The way they have been playing on the road this year I will guess an even split. They will win one and lose one.

Swimming team jumps over to St. Louis University Southern Wrestlers meet Eastern Michigan here Friday night and let's hope

Freshmen Take Baptist Activities Freshmen Week

The freshmen have taken over all activities formerly held by the executive council this week in observance of the Baptist Student Union's Freshman Week.

During the week, freshmen have charge of noonday chapel held each noon at the Baptist Foundation and also the program for old folks out at Sunset Home. They have contacted over 300 prospective Baptist Student Union members on campus, striving for enrollment.

Last Saturday evening, as a kick-off to Freshmen Week, a "Winter Wonderland Party" was led by Marilyn Tipton and Orvil Clay both freshmen.

The week is observed in order to develop future leadership, according to Lucille Steele, Baptist Student Union director.

"By having Freshmen Week," Miss Steele said, "we learn the potentialities of our freshmen and strive to develop that leadership during the next year."

This year's freshmen council and their committees consisted of 68 freshmen. Don Magray of Sparta is the freshman council president.

SIU's cagers have a 1-8 record on the road, but have won all three of their home games. Five of the eight losses on the road have been by margins of two points or less.

Tom McGreal was high point man for SIU's cagers last Saturday night against Ft. Leonard Wood, and grabbed 12 rebounds for an impressive night.

Longest field goal in the Big Ten last season was turned in by Bob Prescott of Iowa against Minnesota. His three pointer went 35 yards.

Saluki Cagers Michigan Bound Over Weekend

SIU's cagers will invade Central and Eastern Michigan this weekend after rousting the highly rated Austin Peay Governors last Saturday night.

The Salukis will be attempting to break a road jinx that has followed and haunted them constantly this season, and in past seasons.

They have a five and eight record for the season. Four of the five victories have been at home compared to a 1-9 record on the road.

Warren Talley, SIU forward who was injured in a game last Saturday night, will make the trip with the cagers. An examination showed that there were no fractures, but Talley's hand is still sore.

Coach Holder listed Talley, Newsome, McGreal, Sams, and Bryson as the starting lineup for the Friday night game at Central Michigan. The cagers will take on Eastern Michigan Saturday night. Neither team is rated as strong, but the Salukis have had troubles on the road, with virtually every one.

Tom McGreal, 6' 6" freshman freshman forward, has proved outstanding in the last four games scoring a total of 64 points for a 16 point per game average.

Coach Holder said that the team had been looking good in practice.

Larry Wylie, hot-shooting sensation for the Northern Illinois University Huskies, held on to his conference scoring lead in week end basketball action.

The Northern Illinois Huskies have a 6-5 record for the season, and are boasting a 77-7 points average per game.

5-11 junior guard from Shawneetown, who has 47.

The Jayves will entertain Eastern Illinois' JV squad here Feb. 6.

Against Southern Monday night, Grossfeld won everything he entered while Hailand took the first on the trampoline and in tumbling. He thrilled the crowd when he did a double summersault in the tumbling event. The Illini won the meet, 70-40.

Fresh And Ready Tankmen At St. Louis W.

Southern's tankmen, fresh from bombing Western Illinois last weekend, journeyed over to St. Louis University for a dual meet with the Bills.

Last weekend, the Salukis really unloaded on Western, breaking four records and winning easily, 57-29.

400yd medley relay team knocked 19 seconds off the pool record last weekend with a time of 4:30.8.

New Records
Joe Barry and Bob Steele set individual marks as they broke the 100yd freestyle and the 200yd freestyle respectively.

Last year the Saluki tankmen drubbed the Bills 70-15. This was the highest point total ever racked up by a Saluki swimming squad.

Southern's record is now 3-1.

the only loss was at the hands of Beloit.

Even though the squad was defeated by injuries and ineligibility, the team seems to be going very well and shouldn't have too much trouble with the Bills.

The tankmen return home on Friday, February 7, for a dual meet with Loyola University.

Southern cagers hope to keep their home slate clean as they host an impressive Austin Peay State College crew here tomorrow night.

Garrison Newsom was recently hoisted from the Junior varsity squad to play first string guard for Southern's cagers.

Northern Illinois University's wrestling team has posted six victories in eight starts.

WROC Gives Examination

Examinations are not limited to college students as the members of the women's physical education department will learn Saturday at 9 a.m.

At this time the WNORC, which is the Women's National Official Rating Committee, will give a national examination for all basketball officials.

WNORC has presented three members of the staff with honorary ratings. Dr. Lura Evans, Dr. Dorothy Davies, and Miss Jean Stehr were the recipients of the awards.

The examination will be both written and oral.

Miss Virginia Young is chairman of the local board of WNORC, and Miss Yvonne Dempsey is the secretary.

JV's Have Winning Touch

Southern Illinois University's Junior - Varsity basketball team seems to have mastered the trick of winning close games. Resting on a four-game winning streak, the young Salukis have stopped Murray State College Junior-Varsity twice, 61-57 and 80-76, and have edged out Mt. Vernon Junior College twice, 82-77, and 77-70.

Don Hepler, 6-4 freshman forward from Champaign, leads the Jayves in scoring with 53 points, followed by Bill Roberts, 6-4 freshman from Monticello with 51

The hardwood was hot Thursday night, Jan. 23, as the Chautauqua Braves took their first defeat from the 29ers.
This took the league lead away from the Braves and put % in the pocket of the 29ers with a record of 5-1.
At the final whistle blew the score showed 44-28. Arlen Hill and Dick Nelson helped the winners to the top position by dropping in 12 and 10 points respectively. Tom Frey was able to gain 8 for the losers.
The T. P. Warriors were successful in action against the T. P. Janitor by a score of 52-41. The warriors are now leading their league with a record of 4-1.

Blind Student Wrestlers

A Southern Illinois University wrestler is proving that it doesn't take two good eyes — or even one — to succeed in college athletics.
Although totally blind, the wrestler, Durward Edwards, New Hartford, Mo., has earned a freshman starting position on the SIU wrestling team and is currently undefeated.
"He's the most coachable boy I have," says SIU Coach Bob Franz.
Blinded by a hunting accident when he was 11, "Deke," as he is fondly called by teammates, tackles his rigid training and conditioning with considerable enthusiasm. An extremely friendly person whose pet word is an optimistic "sure," he displays a remarkable degree of independence and confidence in many activities not normally associated with blindness. Having no desire for a "seeing dog," he claims that canes "are for crowded places." Apparently he does not consider SIU with its more than 6,000 on-campus students a "crowded place" as he walks around campus without any aids.

"It was hard at first," he explains "and between classes I had trouble keeping up of everybody's way. If I bump into someone, I don't bother to explain that I'm blind; I just say 'Excuse me' and go ahead. My only real problem is bulldozers. Bulldozers which are being used in new on-campus construction) keep me from hearing oncoming cars."
Deke likes to go to movies and watch T-V in his spare time. "That may sound funny," he says "but I can generally follow the action."

Newman Club No. 2 Leads

By Bill Christie
Newman Club No. 2, aiming at a grand sweep of SIU Independent Students Bowling League honors, risks its slim two-point second-half lead Monday night at the Congress Lanes in Carbonado. Supplying the opposition will be four-place Stearns Residence.
Brown Jug
In other action this Monday, the Brown Jug draws the Suctildobetter Hut on alleys 1 and 2; Newman Club No. 1 meets Chautauqua Co-op on 3 and 4; and the Chemistry Department opposes the Egyptians on 5 and 6. The Newman No. 2 Stearns battle takes place on 7 and 8. Doyle Dorm is inactive because of drawing a bye.
Newman
Newman No. 2, by taking all four points from Doyle Dorm last Monday, picked up one point on the rest of the field. The sweep knocked Doyle right out of a second-place tie. The Egyptians, at so knotted for second, lost ground, too, after rallying to grab a 3-1 decision from the Brown Jug.
Chemistry
The Chemistry Department boosted its stock and place in the standings with a 4-0 whitewash of Newman Club No. 1, and the Suctildobetter Hut sank into the depths of the basement in the circuit after losing all four points to Stearns Residence. 6. The Newman No. 1 league, leading Newmans experienced little difficulty with Doyle Dorm. They swept all three games, and had a 2637-2406 edge on the evening's total pinball. The pace-setters now have a 9-3 won't rest mark in second-half competition and 12 points.
Cratin
Joe Cronin captured the lime light for Newman No. 2. He fired a 203 opening game, main reason why the Newmans as a team came up with a sparkling 948 total, second highest in all league activity this season.
Joe Dukey contributed a 499 series to the Newmans' cause. High in defeat for Doyle Dorm was Harlan Highsmith, with a 474 total.
The Egyptians, down by a seemingly insurmountable margin of 155 pins after losing the opening game of the night to the Brown

NEVER SEES AN OPPONENT

Southern Illinois University freshman Durward (Deke) Edwards of New Hartford, Mo., who has been blind since a hunting accident when he was 11, not only has established himself as a first-class wrestler but is undefeated for the season, winning his last two matches by pinning his opponent. The undefeated SIU wrestling team meets Central Michigan there Friday (Jan. 24), returning home for a match against Eastern Michigan Jan. 31.
Strophonic sound at movies helps.
Also sharp on the academic side, he had three A's and a B 1 + 1 term. Using Braille books and a reader who also makes tape recordings, he is currently carrying 17 hours (16 is average, including education, and wrestling. He hopes to teach after graduation.
No newcomer to wrestling, he compiled a remarkable 75-3 record at Missouri School for the Blind in St. Louis. He won 58 matches by pins, captured two Missouri State High School championships, and had a perfect 17-0 record his senior year.
"Sure, there are disadvantages in being blind," he said. "I some-

They pounced on the boys from UD's during the second quarter, and tied up the game. During the second quarter, UD's scored only 4 points compared to 11 for the Minors' Jug.
The Minors' Jug took control of the football champs, and they didn't arise to the realm of the living until the fourth quarter when they came within one point of tying up the hard-fighting contest.
The Minors' Jug took control of the game, and came up with a 55-48 victory much to the surprise of myself and several other basketball fans who had played against the boys from the Plaza.

What girls won't do just to look nice hasn't been thought of yet. They will suffer the agonies of tight, laced girdles, the uncomfortable bulky hoop skirts, high, pointed toes and scratchy net formals.

Hours and hours of their time is spent washing, setting and drying their hair. More hours are spent putting on make-up and accessories.

What does all of this give to the girls? A sense of mental balance and self-confidence. She likes to feel that she is appealing to both the girls and the boys with her clothes and make-up too.

Recently I was looking through Mademoiselle and came upon an article telling about a new cosmetic which gives your skin that healthy glow which shines and tells everyone that you are ready and set to go anywhere at any time without having to spend hours and hours before your mirror.

A new lotion has come on the market and can be bought in several drugstores around the country.

The main purpose of the new cosmetic is to stimulate the circulatory system so it will give a new blush of color to the skin.

The only big problem with the lotion is if you can stand the prickly pain which accompanies this treatment. At first your skin will slightly burn, then it will get worse and worse until your skin turns a crimson. After the burning vanishes, you wash the cream off and you discover that lovely new complexion which is supposedly the result of the procedure.

It's up to you girls . . . a little pain and new beauty or no pain and no new beauty.
