MOSLEM PRAYERS—Thursday was a day of Thanksgiving, Eid-ul-Fitr, for Moslem students from 21 nations who are attending SIU. This group met at the University Center Thursday morning for prayers which mark the end of the Moslem holy month, Ramadan. The prayers express thanks to God for the completion of the month of fasting.

SIU Negotiating Dormitory Lease For Office Use

By Mike Nauer

SIU is negotiating to lease Park Place dormitory at 611 E. Park St. for use as office space.

The negotiations follows the acquisition last week of Washington Square dorm by the SIU Foundation, and the leasing of the Good Luck Glove plant and two buildings which are part of the College Square dorm complex.

John S. Rendleman, vice president for Business Affairs, said the dormitories will be used for office space, and the glove plant will provide storage for the textbook rental service.

The Student Work and Financial Assistance and the Student Affairs offices are scheduled to begin moving into the Washington Square buildings immediately.

The business offices, which include disbursements, purchasing and part of the Registrar's Office, will begin moving into the Park Place dorm after the lease is consummated.

Rendleman said all of the offices located in temporary buildings and houses along south side of Harwood Street will be moved to make way for the general office building which is scheduled to go into that area.

Rendleman said the idea of leasing the dormitories was presented to SIU by the dormitory owners. All of the dorms in question had very low occupancy rates last quarter and were faced with insolvency.

Washington Square was reported to have been only 20 per cent filled during the fall quarter and Park Place was said to have fewer than 15 occupants.

Rendleman said the University is paying the dormitory owners the exact amount of the mortgage payments and it is paid directly to the financial interest holding the liens on the buildings.

Rendleman said the leases on the buildings will expire at the end of the current biennium, June 30 of this year. The University then has the option to renew the contract for a two-year period. The vice president said this is the maximum length contract the University can negotiate under state law.

SIU is just beginning to gain momentum in the construction of buildings for office space. Rendleman said the University should have most of the offices moved out of temporary quarters and into permanent buildings within the next five years.

In the next two years, construction will begin on new wings for the Life Science, University Center and Communications buildings, and on the Social Science and Humanities Building.

Rendleman said these additions, coupled with the General Office Building, will absorb a great number of the administrative and academic offices.

Enrollment Incomplete Sans Cards

Students who have not yet returned the address post card to the Registrar's Office should do so immediately.

Until these cards have been received by the Registrar's Office, a student's winter quarter registration will be considered incomplete.

The cooperative response by the students has been quite good, according to Robert A. McGrath, registrar, but he said that in an operation this size there are always those who, for various reasons, have not responded.

Several cards that have been received were without names or numbers so that there is no way of identifying the student. In a very small number of other cases students had completed the cards with obviously incorrect information, McGrath said.

If there is any question as to whether a student is involved in this process, he should check the listing of names on the bulletin board outside of the Registrar's Office, in the University Center Room H, or on the bulletin board in Lawson Hall, McGrath said.

SIU Alum Named Cooking Champion

Woodrow Rust, a 1949 graduate of SIU has won the California state championship in the 1967 National Cooking Championship.

His entry of a "Roll and Roasted Round Steak" will now be entered in competition with other western state winners in a regional championship. The four regional winners will be flown with their wives to Boston for a week-long vacation and the national championship competition.

Rust, who lives in Santa Monica, is a draftsman and a school teacher.

At SIU he was a member of the Chi Delta Chi fraternity and editor of the 1947 Obelisk.

Living Area Activity Fee Receives Residents' O.K.

Residents of the four University living areas voted 3,215 to 393 Wednesday in favor of reinstating a living area activity fee. "No opinion" votes totaled 64.

The fee, which was spent for such things as movies and scholarships in the 10 years it existed, will have to be approved by the SIU Board of Trustees before taking effect.

Residents of the living areas told residents in a letter earlier this week that 90 per cent of them would have to vote in favor of reinstatement in order for the Board to consider approving such a fee.

The vote Wednesday did not affect the $10.50 University activity fee required of all students.

University administration termed the fee illegal last June. Money already collected was not used by the living areas. The University loaned them money to operate with during fall term.

John Anderson, president of Thompson Point, said the results will be mailed to members of the Board of Trustees. The Campus Senate will be asked to approve the fee at its next meeting. Its recommendation then goes to administration officials.

Meanwhile, Anderson said the living areas will ask the administration to release some funds to them because nearly all the funds loaned them last fall have been used.

Wednesday's voting totals:

Woody Hall: 420 of 421 residents voted, or 99.76 per cent.

Thompson Point: 1,317 of 1,375 voted, or 95.78 per cent.

Southern Acres: 291 of 304 residents voted, or 95.72 per cent.

University Park: 1,725 of 1,870 voted, or 92.24 per cent.

The total vote was 3,753 of a possible total vote of 3,970 or 94.53 per cent.

The margins were announced as follows:

Woody Hall, 370 yes, 38 no, and 10 no opinion.

Thompson Point, 1,143 yes, 83 no, and 19 no opinion.

Southern Acres: 258 yes, 21 no, and 5 no opinion.

University Park: 1,444 yes, 251 no, and 30 no opinion.

Officials Pleased

Final SIU Budget Totals $105 Million

Although the SIU budget request of $110 million was cut $4.5 million by the Illinois Board of Higher Education, University officials were pleased with the final allocation.

John S. Rendleman, vice president for business affairs, said the $105 million amounts to a "substantial increase over the $80,555,893 budget for the current biennium."

Absence of Snow Not Unusual Here

Freezing winds and heavy frosts, but where's the snow?

According to David M. Sharpe, instructor of geography at the Climatology Laboratory, it's not unusual for there to be no snow at this time of the year. Most of the Carbondale area's snowfall is around March.

"Many people call and say, 'Am I going to have trouble getting home to Chicago this weekend?'" but I don't know," said Sharpe.

Although listed under "weather station" in the SIU directory, the Department of Climatology does not forecast the weather. It's involved with developing research and keeping track of the Southern area climate.

Rendleman said the cut will in no way affect proposed construction because the money approved Wednesday is for the operating budget.

The vice president said the increased amount over the current biennium will allow SIU to expand and accommodate an additional 3,000 students during the next two years.

"This will mean enlarging our faculty to handle the added number of students that projected enrollment figures indicate will attend the University," Rendleman said.

The cut in the budget will be felt by new research and experimental programs, he said. Rendleman did not indicate which programs would be placed on back burners until more money is available.

Campus Speeding To Bring Penalty

Students found violating the 20 mile an hour speed limit on campus are likely to lose motor vehicle privileges on campus, according to Joseph F. Zaleski, assistant dean of student affairs.

The revocation of campus driving privileges does not necessarily involve loss of driver's license or academic suspension, he said.

"We are more concerned with prevention of possible accident than with correction after it has happened; but we must deal with both," he said.

Looks Like Another Long War

Television's Op, Pop, Slop Shows Wasteland Gets Worse

In the spring of 1961, newly appointed FCC Chairman newton N. Minow told the annual convention of the National Association of Broadcasters that television was a vast wasteland.

Today, surveying the carnage that the ratings game has wrought on shows of substance like the Richard Boone Theater, The Defenders, Slatery's People and meaty documentaries, we can't help but feel that this wasteland is much vaster.

The second season has ushered in more "op," "pop" and slop.

This year the viewer must suffer through hokey panel shows like the "Dating Game," more prattle about the adventures of the dynamic duo from Gotham City, the maudlin trials of a family of kids trying to make it on the frontier, and an endless array of recent movies edited into pablum to make them offensive to no one.

Last week Harry Reasoner on the Columbia Broadcasting System's Current Events Quiz bemoaned the results showing that the American public wasn't abreast of what's happening.

Television has contributed very little to the public knowledge, unless "Pistols and Petticoats" or "Lost in Space" can be regarded as a social commentary.

Strangely enough, some of the best programs are created at the local level. These are the "talk shows" like Larry Attebery's or Kup's show out of Chicago. Unfortunately these appear late at night and long after the little old ladies have taken off their sneakers and gone to bed.

Downstate, late-night programming is limited to a 1937 movie starring Greer Garson, the sign-off and the test pattern.

We really can't complain though, the tube was a wedding gift, and the electric bill is the same regardless. Like the man says, "You pay for what you get and you get what you pay for."

Hunters Too Close to Housing

To the Editor

Carelessness with guns is never excusable, but it is especially inexcusable when it may endanger the lives and safety of other persons.

The safety of the Southern Hills area may have been threatened Tuesday evening when two persons, apparently students, were observed hunting in the woods behind Buildings 125 and 126.

The two hunters, who were carrying a shotgun, probably had no intention of shooting in the direction of Southern Hills. But in the sudden excitement of sighting a rabbit, birds or other game, it would be easy to fire unintentionally in the direction of the buildings. This, of course, could lead to a tragic accident.

Southern Hills is a very populous living area and there are large numbers of children playing in the area at most hours of the day. Some of the play areas are within 50 yards of the railroad tracks where the hunters were observed; It would be easy for a stray or accidental shot to strike one of the children.

Students, as well as other hunters, should be aware of this danger and refrain from hunting in the wooded area that borders Southern Hills. Persons hunting in this area should realize also that they are a danger not only to residents of Southern Hills but to persons traveling the roads and streets which border these same woods.

Owning and using a gun is a privilege which should not be abused. Because it is a privilege, using a gun also imposes a responsibility on the user to operate that gun with care.

And hunting in a place that borders a populous area such as Southern Hills is not a safe or responsible use of guns. It is an abrogation of that responsibility.

Activity Fee Story Little Known

The activity fee referendum vote Wednesday at four University living areas was more significant than previous publicity might have indicated. The election and the circumstances behind the election show that the students and (more importantly) the administration really do "care."

Residents at Woody Hall, Thompson Point, Southern Acres and University Park Yankees, Go Home

The two American civilians held captive for seven months by the Viet Cong said they sang their way to freedom with such arias as "Jingle Bells" and "My Wild Irish Rose."

A little experience with some of the harmonizers hereabouts raises a question as to whether the Viet Cong released their prisoners as a reward—

Or to rest their ears.

—Tampa (Fla.) Tribune

rallied for the election, and 95 per cent of the students turned out to vote. This figure is at least 50 per cent higher than any recorded on this campus for student referendum votes.

Even more commendable is the fact that 85 per cent of those students voting indicated that they wanted to reinstate the activity fee that had previously been illegally added to their housing contract down payment.

The method of collection was termed illegal because the money collected by on-campus living areas must be used only for retirement of the bonds sold to finance construction of the buildings.

The administration rose to the aid of these areas last fall when the bookkeeping "faux pas" was realized and loaned a total of $16,000 to compensate for the frozen funds. This benevolent gesture went unnoticed as students revolted against administrative action concerning motorcycle and housing rules in the fall.

If it had not been for the administration's stepping in to help, the situation could have been catastrophic to the on-campus residence structure. Despite this help, Thompson Point still had to discontinue weekend movies and other area service projects.

The administration deserves a long-overdue pat on the back.

The activity fee itself has several more channels to travel before it is actually written into the laws, but the most important battle has been won.

Through the combined efforts of the residents of University housing and the administration, an extremely sticky situation was smoothed over because both parties "cared" enough.

TO THE RESCUE

SIU's School Survey Recommendations Do Nothing to Build Good Relations

One of our favorite universities is SIU, and for a number of good reasons. We consider some of the "wheels" of the organization as our good friends, for one; and for another, they're the type of people who get the job done. While others are waiting around making surveys and such, these guys get the wheels turning. The growth of SIU at Carbondale must surely be a phenomena of the past two decades, and you know what they've done in Madison County. While others talked about getting a university in this area, SIU did it.

There is just one hitch in the apparent free-lancing of some of the staff. They make surveys that create a bit of havoc in the area.

A couple of years ago Dr. Cohen made a survey of governments, and in his attempt to prove that one big inflated white father is better than a lot of little financially-troubled governments, recommended that all small towns have to go. He included Highland in the group of such communities that wasn't financially able to support itself. We blew the whistle on that pretty quick, and later had some explanation, but we've forgotten now what it was.

When county zoning came up, we always felt that a couple of SIU men helped mess up the proposal, and considerable blood was let before the ordinance was finally passed.

Now still another SIU report is muddying the waters. Although county and state officials have pointed out that it is illegal to take territory away from an already established school district, the SIU boys have recommended to the people of Livingston and Worden school districts that they form a new unit and take along with them Alhambra and New Douglas from Highland, Hamel from Edwardsville, and an area from Staunton.

As far back as last January the parties concerned were informed that the steps being taken were illegal. In one letter from the state, a pertinent paragraph of a letter to the Livingston and Worden school districts stated, "Based on experience throughout the state, it would be very, very unusual if the countyboard of school trustees approved the transfers out of the existing units if there are any objections. . . judging from phone calls this morning, I can assure you there will be objections."

The school code of Illinois and all factors of the case seem to bear out the statement of Highland Supt. of Schools Stratton that "the entire proposal of the Livingston-Worden School District appears to be legally, financially and educationally unsound."

Why, with such information, the SIU survey committee went ahead with its report and recommendation, only its members know. The committee certainly did nothing to foster the good will of anyone, anybody, or anything.—Highland (Ill.) News-Leader.

Fluoride Wins Again

In the legal argument, fluoridation is often called "forced medication," in violation of the 14th amendment to the Constitution. For those who oppose medicines, it is seen as a violation of the first amendment's religious guarantee as well. We agree with the view that fluoridation isn't treating anyone for anything. It must be considered in the same light as chlorine, which prevents typhoid or the vaccinations required of schoolchildren.

Meanwhile, evidence is accumulating that fluoridation not only reduces the incidence of osteoporosis in older persons but it also appears to lower the incidence of calcification of the aorta (the body's main arterial trunk).

Its opponents have claimed that it is harmful to the elderly. Its striking effect upon heart disease is one more argument that it should be available to all persons of all ages.—Atlanta Constitution.

Poll Favors Big Institutions Over Small

Enrollment Size Not Very Important

The success of an individual at college depends on the kind of person he is rather than on the kind of campus he attends. Students at large universities sometimes have to try harder, but the first-rate education they feel they are getting makes any added effort worthwhile.

These responses were only those of a few students cited in a questionnaire designed to sample student opinions about campus size.

The questionnaire, released by the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges, was answered by approximately 100 students. They ranged from freshmen to graduate students with grade point averages from honor level to near failing.

Almost all of the students believed that advantages of size outweighed any disadvantages. Only a few complained of depersonalization, and most felt it was possible to cope with campus bureaucracies and establish useful contact with others on campus.

Here are some of the answers students gave to the question: "Are there ways in which your college experience has been enriched by the size of your institution?"

"Yes, it makes the university more like a miniature society with different types of people so I can test my views, personality, and adjustment on it."

A senior attending the University of Houston said: "Because we are large and rapidly growing, I have an opportunity to meet all kinds of people from many different cultures, including foreign students. Also there are a large variety of courses offered."

The few students who disagreed claimed alienation, bureaucracy and the "just-another-number" syndrome as making college life unpleasant and more difficult to pursue an education.

Asked if there is a particular kind of student who should attend a large university rather than a small college, many students stressed that success depends on the individual, not the kind of campus he attends.

Also expressed was the opinion that shy and retiring persons might not be able to cope with campus bigness, while the more outgoing and aggressive students would adjust with relative ease.

The responses to the questionnaire confirmed the findings of a survey reported in Changing Times magazine last February. Basing its conclusion on responses to 400 student leaders attending the 1965 annual meeting of the U.S. National Student Association, the survey said that "most striking is the strong evidence that bigness doesn't matter anywhere near as much as people think. Limited as this survey was, it indicates that for bright, well-motivated students, large institutions can be just as good or even preferable to small ones."

Answers to the questionnaire revealed that size in higher education is relative. Some students at institutions enrolling from 10,000 to 15,000 students consider their campuses small, especially when compared to universities with more than 25,000 students. Others at institutions with 10,000 to 15,000 students consider them large and hopelessly impersonal.

Government-Legalized Sin Finds Few Takers Despite Pretty Frills

By Arthur Hoppe
(San Francisco Chronicle)

Herewith is another chapter in that standard unpublished reference book, "A History of the World, 1950-1999." The title of this unprinted chapter is, "The Advent of Socialized Sin."

It was in the late 1960s that the Great Society made a magnificent leap forward to realize one of mankind's age-old dreams—legalized prostitution.

Long advocated by liberals, feminists and assorted sociologists, this progressive social change met strong opposition from hide-bound conservatives.

Their protests culminated in the "March for Free Enterprise," in which 5,000 young ladies paraded down Pennsylvania Avenue waving pin-cards saying, "No Government Controls!," "Individual Initiative Made This Country Great," "No Fee Schedules!," "Don't Destroy the Sacred Practitioner-Patient Relationship," and "Heaven Help Us Working Girls."

The President met them with the ringing words, "Ask not what your country can do for you . . ." And the measure finally passed Congress.

Now that the profession was legal, a bitter dispute arose in Washington as to which Government agency should control it. Parks and Recreation, Health, Education and Welfare, the Department of Natural Resources and the Bureau of Wildlife Management—all claimed jurisdiction.

At last, the President created a new agency, The Office of Vice Control, to direct what he called "The War on Promiscuity." Corporal Shriver (no relation) was named to run it.

As a first step, all young ladies of the evening were required to obtain licenses, issued only after rigorous written examinations administered in most States by the Department of Motor Vehicles.

With the help of the Bureau of Vocational Standards and the Department of Labor, services were standardized and Federal minimum wages of sin established.

A vast building program resulted in a new Government building in each postal zone, complete with flag, flagpole and the words chiseled into its concrete facade: "UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT BORDELLO."

Inside, each boasted gleaming linoleum floors, bright fluorescent lights, pictures of the President and George Washington on the walls and a clerk ready to help the public fill in the necessary application forms and direct them to their physical examinations and supervised showers. At the exit, a trained social worker waited to compile valuable data for official studies and surveys through interviews in depth.

After the initial year of operation, Corporal Shriver reported proudly to the President on the program's unqualified success.

"For the first time in the history of mankind, sir," he said, "we have put sin on a clean, orderly and superbly efficient basis."

"A triumph," said the President, well-pleased. "And how do the customers like it?"

"You know, it's odd, sir," said Corporal Shriver, frowning. "But we haven't had one yet."

Anthropologist Sees Beatnik Generation As Herald of Peace

(St. Louis Post-Dispatch)

A provocative view of how mankind may acquire the values and the cultural manners to become a peaceable member of the society of living creatures is offered by an eminent British anthropologist, Geoffrey Gorer. It may indeed well be infuriating, for the anthropologist finds his brightest hope in perhaps the most contemned, ridiculed and rejected group in our present culture—the beatniks. His reasoning is that they share the traits common to all the world's "gentle societies" which do not hurt or kill one another or their neighbors although they possess the weapons to do so.

Among these peaceable peoples Mr. Gorer examples the Arapesh of New Guinea, the Lepchas of Sikkim in the Himalayas and the pygmies of the Ituri rain-forest in the Congo. All, he says, "manifest enormous gusto for concrete physical pleasures—eating, drinking, sex, laughter" and "make very little distinction between the ideal characters of men and women," particularly in having "no ideal of brave, aggressive masculinity."

Mr. Gorer considers that particular "ideal" a wellspring of war. "Mankind is safer," he declares, "when men seek pleasure than when they seek the power and the glory." It seems possible, he believes, that the youth international which has developed in the last generation "has inarticulately sensed the necessity to redefine the concepts of 'a real man' and 'a true woman' if we are not to destroy ourselves completely."

"If," he concludes, "the members of the youth international—the beats and the swingers, the provos and the stilyagi—maintain the same scale of values and the same sex ideals 20 years hence when they themselves are middle-aged and parents, then they may, just possibly, have produced a permanent change in the value systems and sex roles of their societies, which will turn the joy of killing into an unhappy episode of man's historic past."

LONGSTRETH AND ESCOSA

Perform at Convocations

Harpists Open Harmony Week

Longstreth and Escosa, duo-harpists, performed at University Convocations Series Thursday and opened Harmony Week at SIU.

The duo-harpists entertained the audience with a program of classical and pop music.

Natives of Indiana, both men studied at Wainwright, Ind., and have been performing together at concerts and night clubs for three years.

Longstreth demonstrated the method of playing the harp by pushing the copper and silver-wrapped strings with the last three fingers and pulling them with the thumb.

Escosa had a more modern, streamlined harp while Longstreth had one which was covered in part by 24 square inches of gold leaf. The gold harp contained 2,000 moving parts, nine different types of wood and seven different types of metal. Today seven layers of lamination of wood is used in construction of the harp on which 2,000 pounds of pressure is exerted by the strings. At the Coffee Hour following the morning performance at Shryock Auditorium, Longstreth stressed the problem of harpists in obtaining music for the instrument.

A current senior lifesaving card is necessary, Hallock said. The starting pay is $1.10 an hour and the work schedule will be organized around the student's class schedule.

Further information may be obtained from the Student Activities office, 3-2307.

USSR Launches Campaign Against Mao

MOSCOW (AP) — A tremendous vigilance campaign is sweeping across the Soviet Union in a Kremlin effort to remove the last traces of friendship with Red China under Mao Tse-tung.

The Soviet Communist party that once preached brotherhood with the Chinese is now spreading the word that China under party Chairman Mao has become a potential enemy. Communist sources say this campaign to establish a new climate of public opinion is unmatched by any internal propaganda effort in the last decade.

The current campaign was decided upon at a meeting Dec. 12-13 of the party's Central Committee, its main policy forum.

The party general secretary, Leonid I. Brezhnev, spoke for 3 1/2 hours, the sources said.

A resolution made public after the meeting said "the great - power, anti - Soviet policy of Mao Tse-tung and his group has entered a new, dangerous stage."

For the last eight days, Brezhnev and other party leaders have been touring the Soviet Union warning of the new danger, exposing, stepping up the internal struggle in secret speeches to local party officials.

'HOW THAT LITTLE DOGGIE HAS GROWN'

Mao Gets Support of Army In Struggle With Liu Faction

TOKYO (AP) — Mao Tse-tung issued an ultimatum to his enemies Thursday to surrender and appealed for and got army support in his power struggle, Radio Peking said. But the army admitted "stubborn elements" in its ranks oppose the party chairman.

Mao was reported back in Peking taking personal charge of his struggle against the faction headed by President Liu Shao-chi.

Peking radio said Mao's appeal was met by immediate declarations of loyalty on all sides for the leadership of the 2.5 - million - man Chinese people's army.

But an editorial in the army newspaper Liberation Army Daily conceded the existence of dissidents with this declaration: "Let's start a struggle against the handful of stubborn elements within the military who follow a bourgeois and reactionary line."

An editorial in the Peking People's Daily and the theoretical journal Red Flag, both under Mao's control, warned the opposing faction "to make a final reconsideration immediately and surrender to the revolutionary people."

Reductions In Budget Criticized

CHICAGO (AP)—A charge that a former California administrator has become the most powerful figure of Illinois' higher education spending was made Thursday by Howard W. Clement, president of the University of Illinois trustees.

Clement, of Des Plaines, criticized sharply cuts totaling more than $9 million made Wednesday by the Illinois Board of Higher Education in the U of I request for $282 million to operate the university during the 1967-68 biennium.

Also affected by the board's budget cuts was a $4.5 million reduction in SIU's request of nearly $110 million.

Wednesday night the state board approved $105,464,984 for Southern's operational budget.

Clement singled out Lyman A. Glenn, executive director of the board, as responsible for recommending elimination of funds for vital university needs.

Glenn, 48, came to the board in 1962 as assistant to the former executive director, Richard Browne, after directing a study of higher education needs in Nebraska in 1960 and serving as a consultant in studies of California's higher education needs. Earlier, he taught at Sacramento State College and the University of Iowa. He succeeded Browne as director of the Illinois board July 1, 1965.

Glenn's recommendations were accepted by the board members almost without exception, but two motions for restoration of fund cuts by Clement, a member of the board of higher education as well as a university trustee were adopted, restoring $468,000 which Glenn had recommended be denied.

"I think we have seen the executive director Glenn of the State Board of Higher Education rise to the position of being the most powerful figure in higher education in the state of Illinois," Clement said in a statement.

Gardner Suggests Nicotine Reports

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Welfare John W. Gardner recommended Thursday night that cigarette makers be required to report the tar and nicotine levels of their brands on packages and in advertising.

Gardner made his suggestion in a letter to Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., who said he once again will sponsor legislation to require those disclosures.

The cigarette industry now is required by law to print this notice on its packages—but not in advertising: "Caution: Cigarette smoking may be hazardous to your health."

Gardner based his recommendation on a Public Health Service report which said lower tar and nicotine levels in cigarette smoke would reduce the harmful effect of smoking.

The Public Health Service said scientific studies "support the existence of a dose-response relationship between exposure to cigarette smoke and the risks most clearly associated with cigarette smoking — lung cancer, chronic obstructive pulmonary disease, and cardiovascular diseases."

Sen. Kennedy Criticizes Draft, Suggests Restructure of Law

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., called Thursday for overhaul of a Selective Service System which he said "sends tens of thousands of young men into the Army simply because they cannot afford to go to college."

In a speech for a National Press Club luncheon, Kennedy argued that the current system "lets 75 per cent of those wealthy enough or bright enough to go on to graduate school escape military service completely."

Kennedy noted that the law expires June 30 and said that before that date Congress must take some action if conscription is to continue.

"Our opportunity this year is to restructure the draft-to make it not just a more efficient and equitable instrument of conscription, but something which represents the highest traditions of our society, and will call forth a more wholesome response from our young people," he said.

Dean Simeone Plans Talk To Professors' Association

William Simeone, dean of SIU's Graduate School, will discuss "The Graduate School" Tuesday at the meeting of the American Association of University Professors (AAUP).

The meeting of SIU chapter will be held at the Student Christian Foundation at Grand and Illinois Avenues. The dinner will be at 6:45 p.m., followed by the program at 7:30 p.m.

The chapter secretary, Robert B. Harrell said, "The graduate school of SIU is growing almost twice as fast as the undergraduate school." He said this growth presents many problems to a graduate school.

Harrell said that Simeone's commentary will touch on these problems in at least five main areas: quality and quantity of research; laboratory, library, classroom, and office space; curriculum; faculty; and students.

Harrell also said that a question and answer session will give ample opportunity for specific questions.

Although enrollment in SIU has increased, Harrell continued, the faculty membership in AAUP has not kept abreast. He said, "Many national members have simply neglected to renew membership; others have neglected to join the local chapter. Let this be a reminder that national membership must be renewed in January."

The price for the dinner is $1.75 a person and reservations should be sent to Joseph P. Vavra, Department of Plant Industries. Reservations should be made by January 10.

tions should be paid by check, made out to AAUP-SIU Chapter, and sent to Vavra by Friday.

Cafe Night to Offer Taped Mood Music For 'Couples Only'

The night of simulated night club atmosphere will be 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. in the second floor study lounge of the University Center.

The couples-only event will feature taped stereo music for listening and dancing.

Cafe Night is sponsored by the Dance Committee of the Activities Programming Board, and is being held in conjunction with Harmony Weekend.

Sounds for the night will include jazz, dixieland, cha-cha, tango, Hawaiian, exotic and more traditional strains of the Tommy Dorsey Orchestra.

Refreshments will be served.

Admission is free.

Last year, thousands of lawyers, bankers, accountants, engineers, doctors and businessmen went back to college.

And not just for the football games.

We'd like to clear up what appears to be a misunderstanding. It is somewhat popular on campus to decry a business career on the grounds that you stop learning once you start working for Cliché Nuts & Bolts.

That idea is groundless.

We can't speak for Cliché, but we can for ourselves—Western Electric, the manufacturing and supply unit of the Bell System. 6 out of 10 college graduates who have joined us over the past 10 years, for example, have continued their higher education.

How're these for openers:

W.E.'s Tuition Refund Plan lets employees pursue degrees while working for us. Over 6 thousand have attended schools in 41 states under this plan. We refund more than $1 million in tuition costs to employees a year.

To name another program: advanced engineering study, under the direction of Lehigh University, is conducted at our Engineering Research Center in Princeton, N. J. Selected employees are sent there from all over the country for a year's concentrated study leading to a master's degree.

You get the idea. We're for more learning in our business. After all, Western Electric doesn't make buggy whips. We make advanced communications equipment. And the Bell telephone network will need even more sophisticated devices by the time your fifth reunion rolls around. The state of the art, never static, is where the action is.

At Western Electric, what's happening is the excitement and satisfaction of continued doing and learning. If this happens to appeal to you, no matter what degree you're aiming for, check us out. And grab a piece of the action.

Postal Rate Hike Begins in July

Use of ZIP Code will make it easier to mail packages after Sunday, Acting Postmaster Ervin Sullivan of Carbondale said.

New rates and a new system for identifying parcel post zones will go into effect as provided in new legislation, Sullivan said.

The rate increases will average about 10 cents a parcel. Starting July 1, the law provides for a series of size and weight increases on packages mailed between first-class offices. Carbondale is a first class office. The size and weight increases will be in five annual steps, the last coming on July 1, 1971.

Use of ZIP Code in the recipient's address will enable the sender or a mail clerk to quickly determine the proper zone, and thus the rate, for the package. The zones will be based on the distance a parcel travels between the 552 sectional centers in the county.

By consulting a simple chart, which is available at all post offices, the zone can be readily identified because the first three numbers of the ZIP Code represent the sectional center. This replaces a method in which a directory often had to be consulted to locate the proper zone for each of the nation's 33,000 post offices.

The new rates will range from 40 cents for a three-pound parcel destined for local delivery to 60 cents for the same parcel to zone 3 (150 to 300 miles) to $1.05 to 8 (over 1,800 miles). The new zoning method will also apply to air parcel post, catalogs and to publishers who pay zone rates on the advertising portion of their periodicals.

Sullivan said all parcels mailed between post offices within the Carbondale sectional center will be charged at the first zone rate. There are 96 post offices within the Carbondale sectional center.

Hardest Test of Year for Gymnasts Saturday

By Bill Kindt

The roughest gymnastics meet of the year, SIU vs. Iowa State, is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Saturday at the SIU Arena. The Cyclones will bring a team which lost only one meet last year—to the Salukis—and finished fourth in the NCAA championships.

Since Ed Gagnier took over the helm at Iowa State the Cyclones have steadily improved their team until they are one of the better gymnastics squads in the nation at present. Gagnier's record as coach reads 25-10. This includes two back-to-back Big Eight championships plus last year's No. 4 finish in the national finals.

Last year the Cyclones won the Big Eight championship with 186.55 points to second-place Colorado's 175.25 points. This season the Cyclones have won two dual meets and have added to their prestige with impressive showings in invitational.

"I feel the team can be stronger this year than we were last year because of our depth," says Gagnier.

Cyclone Mike Jacki will work as the all-around man in Saturday's meet and will compete in all the events except the trampoline.

Besides Jacki, the Cyclones feature Jerry Fontana and Jerry Crowder the two co-captains. Crowder was the 1966 regional parallel bar champion and was second in the NCAA finals in that event. He was named on the 1966 gymnastics All-American team. Fontana was the 1966 Big Eight and Regional all-around champion. He is expected to see action in all events except the floor exercise and the trampoline against the Salukis.

"Our team will be well tested by Tim Clarke and Homer Sardina in the trampoline, Jim Barber and Jacki in the floor exercise and Fontana in the high bar," says Coach Bill Meade.

Clarke was the regional trampoline champion last season and finished fourth in the NCAA. Barber is the Big Eight champion in the floor exercise.

The weakest event on the Cyclone team appears to be the side horse, an event they were No. 1 in the country last season. Three of the top performers from that side horse team have graduated. Jacki and Fontana have taken over as the big men in that event for Gagnier.

Clarke and Sardina finished No. 2 and 3 at the recent Midwest Open in the trampoline. SIU's Dale Hardt finished first in that event and Saluki Hutch Dvorak took fourth.

To match the Iowa State depth and all-around ability, the Cyclones have a high degree of confidence for this meet. They reportedly think that they can beat Southern, something no team has been able to do in the last six years. Well, maybe they can, this meet at the ticket office in the Arena. Prices are an athletic contest. 50 cents for students and $1.50 Tickets are on sale for the general public.

Freshmen Score 94-68 Victory

The Saluki freshmen opened SIU's perfect night Wednesday with a 94-68 victory over the Louisville frosh.

The Salukis made it two in a row over the Cardinals, whom they defeated early in the season at Louisville by only two points.

Big guns for the freshmen were Bruce Butchko, who scored 32 points, Bill Steppe and Charles Hughes with 13, Rex Barker and Juarez Roshprough 12 and Mike Dixon with six points.

Butchko was also the leading rebounder in the game with 10.

The Cardinals were led by guard Joe Gromada, who scored 35 points.

Southern led at the half 55-37. The Salukis shot an impressive .625 from the field and .828 from the free throw line. Louisville's percentages were 47 and 52 respectively.

Southern also outrebounded Louisville 40-30. The victory boosts the freshman record to 4-2. They play next against Kentucky Wesleyan Monday night.

NCAA Turns Down Bylaw Omission

HOUSTON (AP)—The Ivy League and other Eastern colleges have been rebuffed in their efforts to eliminate the 1.6 rule which puts a minimum on academic requirements for a player to compete.

The National Collegiate Athletic Association's 61st convention voted 153-113 against the East's move to strike out the bylaw.

The Ivy League schools have contended it did not apply to them because they do not give scholarships based on athletic ability alone.

SOMETHING TO CHEER ABOUT—When Southern's basketball team beat Louisville, local fans had something to cheer about and cheer they did. The Salukis won, 53 to 50. Louisville has been ranked second in the big-college polls. (Photo by David Lunan)

Matmen Favored to Win Saturday

The Saluki wrestling team, ranked in the top 20 in the nation, heads for Springfield, Mo., to take part in the Southwest Missouri State Quadrangular Saturday.

This is the second quadrangular for Coach Jim Wilkinson's grapplers in as many weeks. The Salukis have been getting into shape rather quickly this season and Wilkinson says they continue to improve with each appearance.

The Salukis will enter Saturday's meet as the team favorites, as they did in the Miami (Ohio) meet last weekend. SIU was victorious in the Miami meet after five Salukis captured individual championships.

Wilkinson feels the main opposition to the wrestling Salukis will come from Northwest Missouri State, a recent winner of the Missouri Invitational and Graceland Invitational.

Impressive individual performers on the Saluki squad this season have been Joe Domko; 12-1-1, Larry Baron; 10-2, Allen Bulow; 9-4, Terry Magoon; 8-4 and Buck Deadrich 8-0.

Deadrich is back with the Salukis after a week off following his most valuable wrestler achievement at the Castro Invitational. Deadrich normally wrestles at the heavyweight, but may move down to 191-pounds because of Richard Seloover.

Seloover has a record of 7-3 including a championship at Miami. Wilkinson has felt all along that the Salukis would be stronger with Seloover at heavyweight and Deadrich at 191-class. This would mean Wilkinson probably would move Bulow to the 177-pound division and let Domko wrestle at his usual 167-pound class. Domko wrestled at 177 at Miami and came away with a title.

Champion's Draft Deal Rejected

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay's request for draft exemption as a Black Muslim minister was rejected Thursday, a spokesman for his draft board reported.

The spokesman, declining to be identified, said Board 47 met and turned down Clay's appeal.

The spokesman said this shuts off all appeals for Clay unless a federal court should order a review of Thursday's decision.

Game Was 3rd Sellout In 3 Years for Arena

Mrs. Neoma Kinney, athletic ticket sales manager, reports that Wednesday night was the third time in the last three years the Arena has been sold out. The last two Evansville games were also sell-outs.

A crowd of 10,014 persons attended the Southern-Louisville game.

The large crowds actually present less of a problem than the smaller ones, she said. Students seem to plan ahead for tickets to the popular games and pick up their tickets earlier. They wait until the last minute before the smaller games and there is usually a tie-up at the ticket office.

"The Kentucky Wesleyan game at Owensboro is also a sellout. All students planning to attend the game who do not already have tickets are out of luck. The Wesleyan ticket manager said that all the tickets were gone when I requested a block of seats for Southern," said Mrs. Kinney.

She advised students to get tickets for future games as soon as they go on sale—three days before each game.

"Most students don't realize that the ticket office is open every Saturday before a game from 8:30-12:00. This is always a good time to pick up tickets," she said.
