USG to sponsor registration drive

By Amanda Estabrook
Daily Egyptian Reporter

The Undergraduate Student Government is sponsoring a voter registration drive in hopes of registering students for the upcoming mayoral and city council elections.

USG will have voter registration tables set up in all three dining halls during dinner hours on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Susan Hall, coordinator of the voter registration drive, said the deadline to register to vote in the city elections is Jan. 30, 30 days before the primary election on Feb. 28.

Currently 11 candidates are running in the primary, and only four will make it onto the April 5 ballot. Hall encouraged students to vote in the primary otherwise choices might be limited in the general election.

USG will be doing other activities to register students besides setting up tables in the cafeterias, Hall said.

A phone number database, which is being set up by Drew Hendricks, a USG member working on the drive, will enable registration workers to call students to remind them to register or to confirm whether they are registered at the correct address. Hall said students who have moved over break will need to fill out a change of address form to be eligible to vote.

Setting up registration tables at meetings of other organizations also will be done, she said. The veterans club will be one of those clubs. Hall said that there are at least 70 deputy registrars from the USG and GPSC offices that could register voters.

She said she believes the number of students voting has gone up though not in local elections. A registration drive was held last semester in which 400-500 students registered.

She said since the number of students voting in local elections has been low, it is easy for their voice to be ignored. Hall said that if the voters want to have a strong voice in the issues that affect them, they need to vote in the elections.

She said many students don't realize how easy it is to register in Carbondale and then transfer that registration when they go home.

Hall said that the student councils work hard to maintain credibility with the county clerk. "We have to make sure that everything we do is within the rules, regulations and laws. We have to go that extra step to prove ourselves and it has paid off."

TV coverage of Simpson trial to vary

Los Angeles Times

LOS ANGELES—As the curtain finally rises on what some have called "The Trial of the Century," television viewers can choose between "All O.J.," "No O.J.," "Top of the Hour O.J.," "O.J. Straight" or "O.J. Lite."

The media coverage of the O.J. Simpson murder trial will range from the straightforward gavel-to-gavel approach of CNN and Court TV to the more off-beat involvement of E! Entertainment Television, a cable network which is preempting its usual schedule devoted to the promoting of films and TV shows to

Group to help 'quake, flood victims

By Dustin Coleman

SIUC students and faculty have created a disaster-relief task force to help victims of the Kobe, Japan earthquake and recent California floods. The task force is working in with local businesses and the American Red Cross, and is looking for volunteers to help.

Chuck Rossum, coordinator of student development at SIUC and faculty adviser for the United Asian-American Council, said the goal of the fund-raiser is not only to raise money but to bring different cultures together.

"We hope to bring together people from all across the campus spectrum," Rossum said. "We are a

Bost takes oath as state representative

By Stephanie Moletti
Daily Egyptian Reporter

It has been three-and-a-half years in coming for local firefighter-turned-politician Mike Bost but the hard work and nasty campaigning between Bost and former representative Gerald Hawkins finally paid off.

Representative Mike Bost, R-

Murphysboro, has spent the last few weeks learning the ropes of the Illinois House of Representatives. Bost, representative of the 115th District, was sworn into office Jan. 11 during ceremonies held at the State Capital.

Bost said the idea of running for state representative first entered his mind in 1988, but he refused to run against now retired state representative Bruce Richmond.

"He (Richmond) was unbeatable," he said.

However, seven years after the thought first came to him and after three-and-a-half years of campaigning, Bost is in office.

Bost said he is aware he was voted into office by Democrats, even though he is a Republican.

"The good thing is that I'm not going to feel obligated to my party," Bost said. "I'm a Republican elected by Democrats, so I will be more likely to vote for the people and not the party."

Last week he had the grand opening and ribbon-cutting ceremony of his Carbondale office and this week he will get to work on his newly appointed committees.

Illinois House Speaker Lee Daniels appointed Bost to the BOSNIA PRISONER EXCHANGE FREES 100 FRIDAY — SARAJEVO, Bosnia-Herzegovina—On his first day of freedom after months inside a Serbian prison, Raif Hodzic wept Saturday as he remembered the terrifying torture that he was sure would end his life. Hodzic gained his freedom in the first prisoner exchange carried out by Bosnia's rebel Serbs and the Muslim-dominated government as part of a four-month cease-fire agreement signed Dec. 31. The release of 100 prisoners late Friday represents the only element in the agreement to be fulfilled thus far. There have been repeated violations of the cease-fire and continued disputes over the promised re-opening of roads into Sarajevo and the establishment of a demilitarized zone south of the capital.

CHECHNYA FIGHTERS COMMUTING TO BATTLE — VEDENO, Russia—Shirvani Basayev stood up after dinner, donned a flak jacket stuffed with grenades, flares, ammunition and daggers, and excused himself from a full table of house guests still drinking tea. It was 10 p.m., time to get back to the war. Basayev, a district commander in southeastern Chechnya, had to deliver a supply truck to fighters defending the secessionist republic's capital, Grozny, against Russian troops. The 38-mile journey winds down icy roads from his farmhouse 8,200 feet up in the Caucasus Mountains. For six weeks now, Chechens in pickup trucks and beat-up sedans have waged a "commuter war."

WIND, RAIN RAKE EARTHQUAKE-STRICKEN KOBE — KOBE, Japan—Winds and rains began pelting weary residents of this quake-stricken city Sunday, triggering fears of landslides that abruptly sent hundreds of new evacuees fleeing to relief centers already overwhelmed by 300,000 refugees. The grim weather, landslides and warnings of possible new tremors sent relief workers scurrying to protect food supplies and battered anew the spirit of victims who had endured Japan's worst earthquake disaster in 70 years.

MAN COULD GET 25 YEARS FOR STEALING PIZZA — LOS ANGELES—Jerry Dewayne Williams — a small-time street criminal described by his girlfriend as a man with a taste for "stupid, stupid" crimes — was found guilty Friday of stealing a single slice of pepperoni pizza and now faces 25 years to life in prison under California's sweeping "three strikes" law. Word of the Superior Court verdict in suburban Torrance and the specter of a life sentence for the 27-year-old Compton warehouseman appalled critics of the law, and is certain to fuel debate between those who say the law is the get-tough stance a society of victims has long demanded and those who believe it imposes unfair punishment.

QUAYLE ACCUSER TO GET SUPREME COURT EAR — WASHINGTON—At a particularly delicate moment for former Vice President Dan Quayle, the U.S. Supreme Court Friday agreed to hear the appeal of a man who claims to have sold him marijuana. The court said it would hear the appeal by former prison inmate Brett Kimberlin that his "First Amendment and civil rights were violated when prison officials put him in solitary confinement on the eve of the 1988 presidential election. Kimberlin, then serving a 51-year sentence on drug dealing and explosives charges, was to have held a prison news conference on his allegations the day he was put in solitary, five days before Quayle was elected vice president. The court will hear oral arguments in April and probably announce a decision in June, drawing negative attention to Quayle while he is in the midst of a crucial fund-raising effort for his campaign for the 1996 Republican presidential nomination.

ROSTY WANTS CORRUPTION TRIAL IN CHICAGO — WASHINGTON—Former representative Dan Rostenkowski, D-Ill., wants his trial on corruption charges moved to his native Chicago because he and many of the witnesses in the case no longer live in Washington. Rostenkowski's lawyers asked U.S. District Judge Norma Holloway Johnson for a change of venue because the costs of a lengthy trial in Washington would be too high for Rostenkowski, his former employees and numerous character witnesses they intend to call in his defense.

Law, accounting students in tax clinic to offer clients guidance

By David R. Kazak
Daily Egyptian Reporter

The daily sort through the junk mail comes to an abrupt halt. There it is, an envelope with the dreaded words in the upper left-hand corner -- Internal Revenue Service.

It is an audit notice. The pulse quickens. Maybe that new stereo system should not have been claimed as an entertainment expense. Where did all those receipts go? Is jail in the future? Bankruptcy?

SIUC's School of Accountancy, in conjunction with the School of Law, now can help those who have received an audit notice. In late November of last year, the school received tax clinic status by the IRS, and this tax season, the program will be put to the test.

Randy Hahn, faculty adviser for the tax clinic group, said when someone receives an audit notice in the mail, they also will receive a letter informing the recipient of the tax clinic.

The program is a volunteer students from the School of Law and the School of Accountancy to help clients prepare for an audit by going over problem areas in income tax returns, Hahn said.

Some students also will be able to represent the clients at meetings with the IRS, he said.

Alfred Sanders, one of two law students who campaigned for the clinic, said there will be 26 students involved in the program. He said he did not know how much work they will have to do, but they are prepared.

"We don't know if this is going to catch on or if we (are) going to get swamped," Sanders said. "It's all a matter of who calls us for help."

Sanders said after talking to members of tax clinics at other universities, he found they usually work on 30 to 50 cases a semester.

"I'm not sure we'll get that many," he said. "We may get 15 or 20 cases, but it's all up in the air right now."

Those who do call for help will most likely be self-employed business people who do their own taxes, the handicapped, the elderly, and low income individuals, Hahn said.

Law Student James Cundiff, who also helped organize the clinic, said this will be an excellent opportunity for the students involved to gain specific skills at a variety of different jobs, which range from representation of the client to research and support of tax and accounting issues.

Cundiff also said SIUC is the first school outside of Chicago to be awarded tax clinic status.

"We beat out the University of Illinois," Cundiff said. "They are still trying to get tax clinic status."

Cundiff said the program is unique among tax clinic programs at other schools across the nation.

"We are the only program to include both the School of Law and the School of Accountancy," he said. "Other schools' programs include one or the other, but not both."

Hahn, who estimated that there are approximately 25 to 30 business

Future brides gather ideas at wedding 'Extravaganza'

By Kellie Huttes
Daily Egyptian Reporter

SHAWN NESBITT — The Daily Egyptian

Various wedding attire, including flower girl gowns, were displayed in Sunday's Bridal Extravaganza at the SIUC Student Center.

Every woman has a different picture of her perfect wedding, and for three brides-to-be attending Sunday's Bridal Extravaganza at SIUC's Student Center ballrooms plans were made and ideas were shared.

Stephanie Tallman envisioned her dream wedding as a child. A beautiful white gown and a large church with stained-glass windows were images in her mind before her fiance proposed last Valentine's Day. Now a wedding date is set for July and the plans are almost complete.

Tallman, a 1994 SIUC graduate, and her mother Valerie were two of more than 500 attending the event.

"You need to allow at least a year to plan for a wedding day," Tallman said. "There are so many things that can happen and change from the engagement to the (wedding) day."

Tallman said her mother has been involved with the planning of her wedding and has provided her with moral support.

"We keep telling each other that it is our day," she said. "The planning has been a wonderful time for us to get together for lunch and to go shopping."

International students focus of violence study

By Michael D. DeFord
Daily Egyptian Reporter

Goals include increasing awareness, information

A study will be conducted among members of the international community in February in an effort to generate awareness on the subject of domestic violence.

Heading the study will be Naseem Ahmed, research specialist for SIUC's International Programs and Services.

Ahmed said the study is the first of its kind to be conducted at SIUC. She said it will be used to determine the needs and concerns of both male and female members of the international community.

"The issue of domestic violence is not just a women's issue," Ahmed said. "It is a human rights issue, a health issue and a crime-and-safety issue. It is an issue that needs to be addressed by both men and women."

"Addressing the issue of domestic violence is in my opinion, not about breaking up families, but about making families safe and nurturing," she said. "Domestic violence has no winners — even though marriages may endure within unsafe homes."

Beth Firestein of Women's Services at SIUC said there is a definite need for the study and believes it will increase the awareness of domestic violence in Carbondale.

"I'm pleased to see the study being conducted and I feel there is a need to assess the level of family violence here," Firestein said.

"I think the survey itself will have an impact of increasing the information of domestic violence among international students," she said.

According to James Quisenberry, director of International Programs and Services, the information on domestic violence among international students is very limited.

"Our perspective here at IPS is that there is a big blank screen that

"I feel very strongly about this because people will be made more aware of what domestic violence is and what their options are."

Sharmistha Ghose
study assistant

doesn't have any information at this point, and we are very concerned with the lives of our international students," Quisenberry said.

Sharmistha Ghose, a graduate student in economics from India, will assist in the study. She feels that because of the study, issues surrounding domestic violence will become more clear among the international students.

"I feel very strongly about this because people will be made more aware of what domestic violence is and what their options are," she said.

Ahmed says the study will be in questionnaire form and about 700 will be distributed.

"I'm going to target all international female students, married or unmarried, and the spouses of the international male students," she said. "I am mostly interested in the family housing areas of Southern Hills and Evergreen Terrace."

Ahmed said many legal issues arise concerning domestic violence with international student.

"Compounding the issues concerning domestic violence is the fact that many victims of violence may feel entrapped in their relationships because the legality of their entry and stay in the U.S. is tied to the continuation of that relationship," she said.

Ahmed says that if the study is successful, it may lead to programs and services geared to aid international students who are victims of domestic violence.

"Depending on the response to the survey, relevant units on campus and in the local community can collaborate to create programs which will address or alleviate this problem," she said.

"I would urge all SIUC students — male and female, international and U.S. — to think about and respond to these observations. I am very open to a dialogue with all interested persons," she said.

The grant supporting the study has been funded through the 1994-95 Women's Studies Competition here at SIUC.

IBHE realizes need, improves assistance

IN A TIME WHEN STUDENTS ARE FINDING IT increasingly harder to pay for their college educations, the Illinois Board of Higher Education should be commended for recognizing and acting upon this problem.

The board, which monitors spending at Illinois colleges and universities and also recommends budgets for the individual institutions, which are subject to separate approval by the state Legislature, is recommending an $11.1 million increase in funding for need-based scholarships.

STUDIES CONDUCTED BY THE BOARD DURING the past several years have shown a shift of the cost burden for funding a college education from the shoulders of the state government to the shoulders of students and their families. Steady increases in tuition, such as SIUC's 3.5-percent undergraduate student hike for fall 1995 after a 3-percent increase in 1994, are testimony to this trend.

By recommending an increase in funding for need-based scholarships, the board has acted upon the information it has gathered. Now an additional 3,000 scholarships will be available to students at SIUC alone, with the maximum award increasing from $3,800 to $3,900.

THE BOARD HAS TAKEN A POSITIVE STEP TO open the doors of higher education to many who would otherwise be unable to fund such a service. The new scholarship opportunities are still subject to approval by the Illinois General Assembly, however, and we can only hope that the politicians in Springfield welcome this proposal with open arms.

Chung controversy lacks real relevance

IT IS UNFORTUNATE THAT ONE WORD CAN consume so much national attention for so long.

In a recent interview, Connie Chung coaxed House Speaker Newt Gingrich's mother into repeating her son's unflattering private description of Hillary Clinton on national television. After the segment appeared on "Eye to Eye," Republicans and some media personnel challenged Chung's ethics in airing the reference to Clinton.

When Chung asked Mrs. Gingrich to "whisper" her son's opinion of the first lady, she implied that Gingrich's comments would be kept off the record. One may argue that the speaker's mother should have realized it is a bad idea to reveal family secrets while television cameras are rolling. But since Mrs. Gingrich is not a public figure, Chung probably needed to clarify her intent when she said "Whisper it to me."

AT THE SAME TIME, THE ENTIRE INCIDENT HAS been blown far out of proportion. Chung may have been treading on thin ethical ice, but whether Newt Gingrich calls the first lady a slang term for a female dog in private conversations with his mom is irrelevant. If Clinton is upset, she has the same First Amendment rights as Newt, so she is free to call him any name she likes.

REGARDLESS OF ETHICS, CHUNG'S DECISION to air the remark was ill-advised, because the resulting controversy overshadowed the rest of the interview and turned a potentially enlightening personality profile into yet another mindless sideshow in America's three-branch media circus.

Kochan can serve effectively from SIUC. While the Daily Egyptian and student leaders criticize Kochan for not having his priorities straight, I believe he does have his priorities in correct order. Some of our esteemed student leaders may believe that education comes second to extra-curricular activities. If student leaders truly believe that, then they should not be student leaders. Students are students in order to earn an education. Mark Kochan, like us, is a student and is earning an education by taking this internship. Third, more than any other student leader by far, I believe Mark Kochan can both serve his internship and keep contact with his fellow students at SIUC. While serving as student trustee, Kochan has continued to pursue his education, continued to pursue his interest, continued to pursue his hobbies, continued to pursue his career goals and continued to maintain contact with his friends. While some other student leaders may only be able to do one thing at a time, Kochan can do many.

In conclusion, Mark Kochan will continue to faithfully serve as student trustee for his fellow students at SIUC. Unlike some other student "leaders," Kochan is a proven leader. While in Chicago, Mark Kochan will continue, as he has for two years, to listen to the viewpoints of SIUC students. Kochan has nothing to lose. If for one second he thought he could not continue to serve as student trustee, he would resign. Mark Kochan is a hard worker. Kochan's hard work will show as he continues to serve at SIUC as well as he has in the past.

Article on new marijuana strains overlooks significant information

An article on the front page of Friday's DE issue caught my attention, and I thought I would write to lend my voice to the concerns expressed.

I am referring to the feature, "Youth-adult drug use increasing," in which it was stated that there are "new strains of marijuana up to 10 times more potent than previous varieties" that are "sweeping the country."

If this were not alarming enough, it was further noted that this marijuana had "potential ... to seriously impair judgement."

The director of the Office of National Drug Control Policy was quoted as saying that this new marijuana was so powerful that "it causes problems in terms of judgment, learning and driving." I was reminded of some of the warnings from recent decades about what was then being called "killer dope."

There was one question not addressed, however, which was raised by the seriousness of this matter — namely, where? Where is this dangerous super-potent marijuana? Those of us who would like to avoid this menacing new threat to public safety and personal well-being will have an interest in knowing, as precisely as possible, where this stuff is.

Armed with such knowledge, it will be much easier to avoid the dangers it poses. The DE and the LA Times are to be commended for bringing this matter to our attention, but how about filling us in a little further?

Imaginative invention allows youths to experience aviation

By William C. Phillips III
Daily Egyptian Reporter

A local aviation association is helping youths soar to new heights by turning ordinary school desks into educational pilot seats.

The Rotor and Wing Association builds airplane desks which they donate to elementary schools for classroom use.

Charles Rodriguez, faculty adviser of the association, said he is trying to both motivate and make youths aware of aviation.

"One of their main goals is to promote aviation education," he said.

Jason Pointer, president of Rotor and Wing association, said he enjoys working with children.

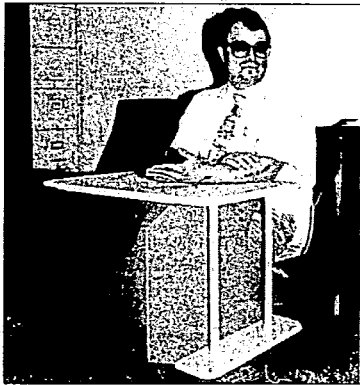

Rodriguez said the desks are primarily used to motivate students performance and discipline in the classroom. "If youngsters develop good homework habits it might last them a lifetime."

Teresa Rodriguez, a third grade teacher at McElvain School, said the donated desk has had a significant effect on the students.

"The atmosphere in the classroom has changed; students are turning in their homework on time," she said. Rodriguez said every Friday a student's name is pulled from a container. The student picked to sit at the desk has their picture taken. Only those students who have turned in their homework on time or who have avoided disciplinary problems in the classroom are allowed to sit at the desk.

The Rotor and Wing Association does more than just build aerodynamic desks to make students aware of aviation, Rodriguez said.

"A whole buffet of gadgets and gimmicks are used to attract and educate students about aviation," he said. "We like to do our part and participate in the community."

MICHAEL J. DESISTI — THE DAILY EGYPTIAN

SIUC Rotor and Wing Association faculty adviser Charles Rodriguez displays one of the desks Wednesday at the SIU airport that is to be donated to a local elementary school. The design of the desks is constructed in a way that is meant to promote aviation education at an early age.

There are 12 members in the association which started in 1982 as the Helicopter Association of America. Rodriguez said the group open to new members.

The association began building the airplane desks about six years ago. Since then, 31 desks have been built.

Material and equipment needed in building the desks are donated by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

"I would hope to focus on good, efficient government and get rid of the fat and excess," he said. "I am a strong believer in the Jeffersonian theory: Less government is better government, local government is better government."

Bost said his agenda will focus on education funding, economic development, holding the line on taxes and crime control.

He said he believes the fast track legislation on workers compensation reform will help the area's economy.

"We need to make sure we bring our insurance rates down but not affect the benefits to the employee," Bost said of the legislation. "We want to remove the loop holes which allow for frivolous law suits."

Bost said although the state wants prisons and gambling boats, prisons simply create a shifting of tax dollars and gambling boats create a transference of money. Neither generate new revenue for the state.

He said the state will not see economic growth without bringing in product-producing industry.

"We have to create manufacturing jobs to increase the wealth," Bost said.

Research for a toll highway in the area is underway and Bost is reviewing the feasibility study and data that has been compiled.

Bost said he will push for the SWIFT (Southwest Illinois Freeway Team) legislation, which proposes a four-lane toll way connecting Southern Illinois and metro St. Louis and will "add to economic development."

"I believe this tollway is an essential part of the process we need to move Southern Illinois towards the economic growth we are all striving for," Bost said. "I will work with the parties involved to make sure we can achieve our goal in the most timely and effective manner."

Bost said he plans to spend as much time as possible in the Southern Illinois area. He resides in Murphysboro with wife Tracy, son Steven, 14, and daughters Casey, 13 and Kaitlin, 6.

Bost said the highly negative campaigning of last fall's election was harder on his family than him.

As for the future of Bost's political career, he said he is not sure. "I just want to do a good job right here and see what happens," he said.

Committees on Transportation, Agriculture and Conservation, Higher Education, and Appropriation-Education.

"It's a dream come true," Bost said of his committee appointments. "I got every committee I asked for."

Of his appointment to the Committee on Agriculture and Conservation, Bost said he has been involved in agriculture through his family's trucking business which hauls fertilizer and grain.

"Farming is still a major industry here," he said.

He said he agrees with Gov. Edgar's proposal to combine much of the state's bureaucracy, by doing away with some departments or combining them with others in a similar areas. However, he will continue to promote Southern Illinois interests during the consolidation of state departments.

Bost said he believes the state government will continue downsizing.

TO PLAY, CUT OUT THIS AD and assemble in a bar, dorm room or anywhere else you can get COMEDY CENTRAL. Then watch State of The Union: Undressed, DENNIS MILLER'S live sarcastic play-by-play of the President's big speech, and follow the rules below.

* Note: When playing, please drink the beverage of your choice. COMEDY CENTRAL prefers 2% low-fat milk. If you choose alcohol, drink responsibly and please don't drive.

 You make it, too; then raise a glass and say (with false sincerity): I share your pain.

When Hillary appears on screen:
 Stand at attention and salute the commander-in-chief; drink.

When Newt appears on screen:
 Say Newwwwwt! drink conservatively from the right side of your mouth.

When Tax Cut is said:
 Cheer, then take 2 drinks (1 for you; 1 for the IRS).

If Bill resigns during the speech:
 Go straight home and pray Al Gore stays healthy because Newt will be a heartbeat away from the Presidency.

Still Thir-ty?

When Bill says Bipartisan: Women and men alternate buying each other drinks.

When Bill says Crime Bill: Attempt to pick pocket of person sitting to your left; if successful, buy a round with his/her money; return wallet.

the fund raising as a joint project, with more than just one organization doing the work.

"Anyone can be a part of it," Russum said. "The whole idea is that everyone is working as a whole."

Chirag Shah, co-chair of the fund-relief task force, said the project is important in localizing world problems.

"The theme is 'One World, One Campus,'" Shah said. "We are using this theme so students can unify and overlook race and language differences."

Though the fund-raiser has had a good start, it still lacks a few things which are needed, Shah said.

"We lack manpower," Shah said. "We want to try and get as much of the student body together to integrate as people and help."

Many University groups and some local businesses have offered their help to the task force, but Shah said more would be appreciated.

The task force has benefited from the help of Student Programming, International Programs and Services, the Recreation Center and McDonald's, just to name a few.

SIUC Athletic Director Jim Hart and the athletic department have also offered to help, Shah said.

"Jim Hart has given us permission to collect donations at the women's basketball games, and said the proceeds from the Hoopshow at half time during the SIUC-Tulsa game would go towards the relief," Shah said.

Shah also said others have offered to let the task force hold fund-raisers at their places.

Shirley Gioia — The Daily Egyptian

Co-chair of the relief task force, Chirag Shah (left), a senior in physiology, and Vice-President of the Japanese Student Association, Yumiko Yoshimura, a junior in economics.

"We are working with the American Red Cross. They are donating the cans we use," Shah said. "Then they send the money to California or Japan."

Yumiko Yoshimura, vice president of the Japanese Student Association, said they have already taken steps to find where the money is needed.

"Masaki Wada, the president of the Japanese Student Association, went to the Japanese Embassy in Chicago to see where the money is needed in Japan," Yoshimura said.

Yoshimura said she really appreciates the help they have received and will appreciate more help.

"I was really happy when they came to me and got me involved," Yoshimura said. "I really appreciate the people who have gotten involved already and to those who plan to."

The task force will be holding a meeting Wednesday at 7 p.m. in the Cambria Room of the Student Center. Shah said everyone is welcome to attend and to help out with the relief fund.

SIUC Program to Prevent the Use of Illicit Drugs and the Abuse of Alcohol by Students and Employees

MEMORANDUM

To: The University Community
 From: John C. Guyon
 Re: Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act

To receive federal financial assistance of any kind, institutions of higher education must certify that they have adopted and implemented a program to prevent the unlawful possession, use, or distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol by students and employees. This certification is mandated by the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act amendments of 1989. The materials which follow are being distributed as a means of our complying with this legislation, and perhaps more importantly, informing the entire University community of the standards of conduct required with regard to illicit drugs and alcohol and the possible consequences of inappropriate behavior.

The requirements of the law are separate and distinct from the requirements specified by the Drug-Free Workplace Act of 1988, which relate only to employees (including student workers) involved in work supported by or paid from federal grants and contracts. The Drug-Free Workplace Guidelines Drug-Free Awareness Program specified in my June 12, 1989, memorandum remain in effect. The rules under the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act are much broader in scope, covering drugs and alcohol, students and employees, on University property or as part of University activities.

The following provides: (a) a statement of acceptable conduct; (b) a description of the health risks associated with use of illicit drugs and the abuse of alcohol; (c) a description of programs available to members of the University community for counseling, treatment, and rehabilitation; (d) a statement of possible disciplinary sanctions which are applicable to members of the University community who violate law or University policy with respect to the manufacture, possession, use, or distribution of illicit drugs or the abuse of alcohol; (e) a description of applicable legal sanctions under local, state, and federal law for the unlawful possession, use, and distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol.

Standards of Conduct

Faculty, staff, and students must adhere to a code of conduct that recognizes that the unlawful manufacture, sale, delivery, unauthorized possession, or use of any illicit drug is prohibited on property owned or controlled by the SIUC Board of Trustees or as part of any University activity.

The use, including the sale, delivery, possession, and consumption of alcoholic beverages in or on property owned or controlled by the University or as part of any University activity is strictly prohibited except as otherwise provided in the Regulations Governing Alcoholic Beverages at SIUC. Where permitted under these regulations, the use of alcoholic beverages on University premises shall be considered a privilege and may be allowed only if consistent with State laws and University regulations, and only when it will not interfere with the decorum and academic atmosphere of the campus.

If an individual associated with the University is apprehended for violation of any drug or alcohol-related law when on University property or participating in a University activity, the University will cooperate fully with law enforcement and other agencies in administering a corrective or rehabilitation program for the individual. The University also reserves the right to initiate concurrent disciplinary action up to, and including where appropriate, the termination of the individual's association with the University.

Health Risks of Alcohol and Other Drugs

Alcohol is the most abused drug in society as well as on college campuses. Alcohol, which is used by 85% of SIUC students and approximately 70% of employees, is directly involved in many injuries, assaults, and the majority of deaths in people under age 25. Other commonly abused illegal drugs include marijuana, cocaine, stimulants, hallucinogens, depressants, narcotics, steroids, and inhalants. Legal drugs such as caffeine, nicotine, over-the-counter, and prescription drugs also have wide use and associated health risks.

Health risks of using alcohol or other drugs include both physical and psychological effects. The health consequences of drugs depend on the frequency, duration and intensity of use. For all drugs, there is a risk of overdose. Overdose can result in coma, convulsions, psychosis, or death. Combinations of certain drugs, such as alcohol and barbiturates, can be lethal. The purity and strength of doses of illegal drugs are uncertain.

Continued use of substances can lead to tolerance (requiring more and more of a drug to get the same effect), dependence (physical or psychological need), or withdrawal (a painful, difficult and dangerous symptom when stopping use of drugs). Long-term chronic use of drugs can lead to malnutrition, organic damage to the body, and psychological problems. The risk of AIDS and other diseases increases if drugs are injected. The consumption of alcohol or drugs by pregnant women may cause abnormalities, such as Fetal Alcohol Syndrome (the third leading cause of birth defects), in babies.

Disciplinary Sanctions

Faculty, staff members, and students who engage in the unlawful manufacture, possession, use, or distribution of illicit drugs, or suffer from alcohol abuse, will be subject to disciplinary sanctions by the University as well as any criminal penalties that might be levied by the courts.

Civil Service Employees

Disciplinary sanctions that the University may take directly against a Civil Service employee are governed by the Guidelines for Progressive Disciplinary Actions—Civil Service Employees for the Carbondale campus and the Civil Service Employee Disciplinary Management Program—Policy on Employee Conduct and Discipline for the Springfield campus and, in part, by the Statute and Rules of the State Universities Civil Service System.

Under the Guidelines for the Carbondale campus, possession of an alcoholic beverage in violation of the University's Regulations Governing Alcoholic Beverages would constitute a Level I infraction, calling for a warning or reprimand on the first such offense and pursuance of discharge on the fifth. Drinking intoxicating beverages in violation of these regulations would constitute a Level III infraction, calling for a 1-10-work-day suspension without pay on the first such offense and pursuance of discharge on the third. Any criminal act that would qualify as a misdemeanor is a level IV infraction, calling for a 15-20-work-day suspension without pay on the first such offense and pursuance of discharge on the second. Any criminal act that would qualify as a felony is a Level V infraction calling for pursuance of discharge on the first such offense. Unlawful possession, use, or distribution of illicit drugs or alcohol is by definition a misdemeanor or felony.

Under the Policy for the Springfield campus, possession of an alcoholic beverage in violation of the University's Regulations Governing Alcoholic Beverages or pertinent School of Medicine regulations and administrative guidelines would constitute a Level I infraction, calling for a warning or reprimand on the first such offense and pursuance of discharge on the sixth. Drinking intoxicating beverages in violation of these regulations or School of Medicine regulations or administrative guidelines would constitute a Level III infraction, calling for a 5 work-day suspension without pay on the first such offense, a 20-work-day suspension on the second, and pursuance of discharge on the third. Any criminal act that would qualify as a misdemeanor is a Level IV infraction, calling for a 20-work-day suspension on the first such offense and pursuance of discharge on the second. Any criminal act that would qualify as a felony is a Level V infraction, calling for pursuance of discharge on the first such offense. Unlawful possession, use, or distribution of illicit drugs or alcohol is by definition a misdemeanor or felony. Under the Policy the School of Medicine Director of Personnel may take into account factors in mitigation and aggravation as well as other matters deemed relevant, such as the cumulative effect of an employee's overall disciplinary record in determining the disciplinary action to be taken.

This description does not list all substances for which possession, use, or distribution is prohibited by state or federal law; it does include a summary of many of the substances which carry criminal penalties for possession, use, or distribution. This description has been prepared for distribution by Southern Illinois University at Carbondale and cannot be relied upon as providing legal advice or interpretation of the law to any individual. UEC 9450 8/94

In addition to direct sanctions imposed by the University, any evidence of a criminal act by an employee involving the unlawful possession, use, or distribution of illicit drugs or alcohol will be brought to the attention of the proper law enforcement authorities.

Even legal use of alcohol or undetected use of illicit drugs off the job which impairs an employee's ability to perform his/her job duties in a satisfactory manner exposes that employee to disciplinary sanctions up to and including discharge if the impairment is not corrected.

Faculty and A/P Staff

Disciplinary sanctions applicable to SIUC faculty and A/P staff for violation of Standards of Conduct required by the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act Amendments of 1989 (Public Law 101-226):

A. Introduction

The Standards of Conduct of the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act Policy of SIUC prohibit the unlawful manufacture, sale, delivery unauthorized possession, or use of any illicit drug on property owned or controlled by the University or as a part of any University activity. The Standards also prohibit the use, including the sale, delivery, possession, and consumption, of alcoholic beverages in or on property owned or controlled by the University or as a part of any University activity, except as otherwise provided for in the Regulations Governing Alcoholic Beverages at SIUC (6 Policies, Procedures, and Regulations D).

SIUC requires that all faculty and staff members comply with the Standards of Conduct of the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act Policy and, for any concerns related to the use or abuse of illicit drugs or alcohol, encourages individuals to voluntarily seek assistance through the alcohol and drug prevention and counseling service available through SIUC, including the Springfield campus of the School of Medicine, or the community.

B. University Procedures

Before any disciplinary sanction for violation of the Standards of Conduct of the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act Policy may be imposed, a faculty or staff member suspected or alleged to have violated the Standards shall be afforded the benefit of due process procedure, including (1) notice in writing of the specific violation that is charged, (2) a meaningful opportunity to be heard and present any relevant information in response to the charge, (3) the right to assistance in such proceedings by an advisor of his or her choice, (4) a determination based on clear and convincing evidence that a violation of the Standards of Conduct occurred, and (5) an opportunity for appeal pursuant to the applicable grievance procedure.

C. University Sanctions

The disciplinary sanctions that may be imposed for violations of the Standards of Conduct of the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act Policy include: a) written reprimand and/or warning; b) disciplinary probation; c) disciplinary suspension without pay; and d) termination of employment. Assessment, counseling, or rehabilitative treatment in some situations may be required for continued employment. An individual charged with a violation of the Standards of Conduct may be temporarily relieved of assigned duties with pay, or an individual may be suspended with pay pending any necessary investigation of an alleged violation of the Standards of Conduct. In addition to sanctions for violations of the Standards of Conduct on University owned or controlled property or as part of any University activity, the University reserves the right to take appropriate disciplinary action for any other use of illicit drugs or alcohol by employees which directly or indirectly affects performance of employment responsibilities.

When the illegal possession, use, or distribution of drugs or alcohol is involved, the administrative action will include referring any evidence of such criminal act by an employee to the attention of the proper law enforcement authorities. The University reserves the right to initiate concurrent disciplinary action and impose sanctions for violations of the Standards of Conduct of the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act Policy.

Disciplinary sanctions for violations of the Standards of Conduct of the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act Policy shall be consistently enforced in order to promote fair and equitable treatment of any individual determined to have violated those Standards. The following guidelines for particular violations of those Standards shall be used as a means of assuring the imposition of similar sanctions for similar offenses, but shall not be applied in a way that discourages an individual from seeking assistance for the abuse of alcohol and/or use and abuse of illicit drugs.

1. Any felony conviction for manufacturing (which includes growing), selling, or distributing drugs or alcohol on University owned or controlled property or as a part of any University activity shall result in termination of employment.
2. A felony conviction for possession or use of drugs or alcohol on University owned or controlled property or as part of any University activity shall result in a range of penalties with a minimum of a six-month suspension with loss of pay to termination of employment, depending on the severity of the offense. Suspension must be accompanied by referral for assessment and/or treatment.
3. Illegal distribution or manufacture of drugs or alcohol on University owned or controlled property or as part of any University activity, under any circumstances other than felony conviction, shall result in a minimum of a three-month suspension with loss of pay. A second incidence of such illegal distribution or manufacture of drugs or alcohol shall result in termination of employment.
4. The illegal possession or use of drugs on University owned or controlled property or as part of any University activity, other than a felony offense, shall result in a range of penalties with a minimum of written reprimand or warning to a maximum of a thirty-day suspension and a loss of pay depending on the severity of the offense. Whenever a suspension is imposed, referral for assessment and/or treatment is mandatory. A second incidence of such possession or use shall result in a six-month suspension and loss of pay with mandatory referral for treatment. A third incidence of such possession or use shall result in termination of employment. If a felony conviction for possession or use of drugs on University owned or controlled property or as part of any University activity follows a lesser violation for which an action (referral, suspension, or warning) was taken, then it shall result in termination of employment.
5. Any possession or use of alcohol in violation of the Regulations Governing Alcoholic Beverages at SIUC shall result in a first sanction of either a written reprimand, warning, and/or suspension for up to ten days with loss of pay, depending on the severity of the offense, and may result in a referral for assessment. Subsequent violations shall result in more severe sanctions, and may result in referral for assessment and/or treatment.
6. When the use of alcohol or illicit drugs off the job affects job performance, the initial focus for control is the rehabilitation of the offender. If unsatisfactory performance, as a result of drug or alcohol abuse, is observed during this rehabilitation period, suspension with loss of pay or termination are alternatives. The conditions which warrant this type of administrative action should be determined on the basis of the circumstances specific to the case.

Students

The sanctions that may be imposed on students for drug and alcohol abuse violations... are subject to the provisions of the Student Conduct Code and guidelines established by the Vice President for Student Affairs. These sanctions vary in severity, depending on the seriousness of the offense. Section 5 of the Code states:

5. Sanctions

The following are sanctions which may be imposed for a violation of this code. Also, a condition may accompany a sanction. Conditions include but are not limited to restitution of damages, work projects, required counseling or therapy, required academic performance, etc. A condition may include loss of certain University privileges. If a condition accompanies a sanction, the condition must be related to the violation.

5.3 Disciplinary Reprimand

In cases of minor violations and when the violation is acknowledged by the student, a written reprimand may be issued by the Coordinator of Student Judicial Affairs or that officer's designee on recommendation of a University Official.

5.4 Disciplinary Censure

Disciplinary Censure is a written warning to the student that the cited behavior is not acceptable in the University community and that further misconduct may result in more severe disciplinary action. The student may appeal the severity of the action.

5.5 Disciplinary Probation

Disciplinary Probation removes a student from good disciplinary standing. The probation shall last for a stated period of time and until specific conditions, if imposed, have been met. Any misconduct during the probationary period will bring further disciplinary action and may result in suspension. Probationary status prevents the student from representing the University in some extracurricular activities and may result in the loss of some types of financial assistance.

5.6 Disciplinary Suspension

Disciplinary Suspension is an involuntary separation of the student from the University for a stated period of time and until a stated condition, if imposed, is met, after which readmission will be permitted. Disciplinary Suspension is entered on the student's transcript for the duration of the suspension.

5.7 Indefinite Suspension

Indefinite Suspension is an involuntary separation of the student from the University for an unprescribed period of time and until a stated condition, if imposed, is met. Any consideration for readmission requires a written petition to the appropriate administrative official before readmission will be considered. The Indefinite Suspension is entered on the student's transcript for the duration of the suspension.

5.8 Interim Separation

If the President or that officer's designee has reasonable cause to believe that a serious and direct threat to the safety and well-being of the members and/or property of the University community will be present if an individual is permitted to remain an active member of the community, an Interim Separation may be imposed. A preliminary hearing or the opportunity of a preliminary hearing shall be afforded. If it is impossible or unreasonably difficult to conduct a preliminary hearing prior to the Interim Separation, the individual shall be afforded the opportunity for such a preliminary hearing at the earliest practical time. The purpose of the preliminary hearing is to determine if there is justification to invoke an Interim Separation. During the preliminary hearing, the student will be provided a statement of the reasons for Interim Separation and will be afforded an opportunity to rebut. Interim Separation is temporary and shall be enforced only until the completion of a full disciplinary hearing. A full disciplinary hearing shall be provided within a reasonable period of time.

Students at Southern Illinois University School of Medicine also are responsible for conforming to the standards of Academic Conduct established by the School of Medicine under its Student Progress System.

Students should be aware that their actions are also subject to all local, state, and federal laws relating to drugs and alcohol abuse. The University will bring unlawful acts to the attention of proper law enforcement authorities.

"It (the wedding) ain't gonna happen for a while," French's father said. "The good thing about it is that she'll take her hand out of my pocket and put it into his (Kampe's)."

French and Kampe were engaged Christmas and plan an October wedding.

Laura McCague, a senior in hotel and restaurant management from Herrin, sat between her mother, Barb, and her future mother-in-law, Shirley Franklin, and watched a performer from Nashville sing popular wedding songs.

"I'm still looking for someone to sing at my wedding," she said. "Our song is 'I Swear'."

McCague, who has been engaged since Valentine's Day, has involved her mother and Franklin in plans for her June wedding.

"We haven't had any fights yet. It's really been a fun time," Franklin said. "I have a big mouth and told them I would suggest a lot, but they don't have to go by any of it."

Although many brides-to-be have their own ideas for their wedding, more than 30 vendors were at the Student Center to offer suggestions.

Kendra Richardson, a bridal consultant from Illinois Center's Dillard's store in Marion, said many women were signing the bridal registry, a gift wish list.

"The registry is a good idea for a couple to sign up for to tell guests what they want for their home," she said.

Richardson said china, crystal and flatware are popular gift items along with lingerie, bed and bath linens.

Tax clinic

Hahn, who estimated that there are approximately 25 to 30 business schools across the nation with tax clinic status, said, "This is really a feather in our cap."

Hahn, Cundiff and Sanders all said there would not be any competition with local accountants who work with audited clients on a regular basis.

"The people who will come to us are those who either can't afford a professional CPA or have not had their taxes prepared by a professional," Sanders said.

Cundiff said, "Although we technically can help out anyone who asks, we will have an initial meeting with the client in which we will determine whether they can best be served by us or a professional in the field. If that is the case, we will tell them," he said.

Sanders said, "We will be working on civil tax cases only. Any cases involving criminal activity will be passed on."

Cundiff said getting the tax clinic running was more difficult than he expected, but they are now functional and ready to take on clients.

MICHAEL DESISTI — The Daily Egyptian

College keglers: SIUC bowler Duane Berkland, a junior in electrical engineering from Marseilles, attempts to pick up a spare in Saturday's intercollegiate bowling meet at the Student Center. SIUC competed against the University of Mississippi-St. Louis, Central Mississippi State University and South East Mississippi State University. The Saluki squad of five women and 12 men finished the weekend-long series late Sunday in St. Louis.

Strong finishes too little to carry day for Salukis

By Cynthia Sheets
Daily Egyptian Reporter

Strong finishes were not enough to pull the SIUC men's and women's swimming/diving teams past the opposition Saturday as the water Dawgs split the meet with Notre Dame and Purdue.

The SIUC men's swimming team defeated the Irish, 144-95, but lost to Purdue, 162-81.

A first-place time was established by the 400-yard freestyle relay team, and sound second place finishes were taken by Jeff Clark (100 Free), Steve Munz (200 Back), Tyler Cadham (200 Breast) and Chris Pelant (200 Free). The 400-yard medley relay team also had a strong showing.

SIUC men's swimming coach Rick Walker said the team did a terrific job coming off its Christmas break training. He was proud of the second place finishes against Purdue.

"Purdue is not a top-25 ranked team, but I think they should be," Walker said. "They are the strongest team by far we have met this season, with the exception of number one ranked Michigan."

Saluki diver Rob Stracusanu grabbed his 20th pool record at the Rolf Aquatics Center on Saturday, winning both the 1-meter and 3-meter competitions. The record had been previously held by former Canadian Olympian Mark Rouke when he dove competitively for Alabama.

Stracusanu was pleased with his performance and thrilled to be diving at Notre Dame, a school that he holds in high esteem.

"I just took one dive at a time," Stracusanu stated. "At the beginning of a meet, I never look to break a record, but I'm pretty excited about it."

Alex Wright seized second place in both events behind Stracusanu, and Karla Gerzema and Lisa Holland captured second places in the women's 3-meter and 1-meter events respectively.

The SIUC women's swimming/diving team struggled against its opponents, losing the double dual meet on Saturday to Notre Dame, 123-65, and Purdue, 125-63.

Melodie Dickerson secured a second place finish in the 200-yard freestyle and was backed by strong third place performances from Jennifer Bobanic (200 Butterfly), Andi Dexter (1,000 Free), Melanie Davis in the 200-yard individual medley, and the 400-yd. medley relay and 400-yard freestyle relay teams.

"I had hoped the team would perform better than they did."

SIUC women's swimming coach Mark Klumper didn't feel the team swam up to its potential.

"I had hoped the team would perform better than they did," Klumper said.

Klumper said he looks to the rematch with the Fighting Irish next year on home territory to make up the performances by the team.

SIUC will take on Kentucky Saturday as the Salukis complete a four meet road trip.

Coach Walker said that it will be an extremely close race, and whoever can step it up and do the job will come away with the win.

caused him to sit out the Booster Invite, was acting up.

Although the loss of the athletes cost the Salukis a few points, Cornell said the negative mental effect that hit the rest of the squad from the last minute pull-outs had a larger impact.

"Jessie Tai goes to the training room and says his hamstring hurts," Cornell said. "He (McGee) said he can't get any push off his foot. It appeared to be okay in practice this week. That all has an effect on the team."

Cornell said that in a big meet like this weekend's, sometimes players need to play through their injuries.

"Sometimes you won't feel the pain when you're running and sometimes you'll even feel better," he said.

"The month long layoff the squad had over the holiday break may have caught up with them.

"Maybe it was because we were off for five weeks," he said "Last week's meet was a tough meet and sometimes when you have all that time off it doesn't show until the second week."

The three first place finishes came from Jerome Kiaku, who leaped 6.62 meters in the long jump, Kris McGee, who high jumped 2.09 meters, and Stelios Marneros, who took the 3,000 meter run with a time of 8:24.7.

Cornell said he does not plan to harp on the performance during this week's practice, in which the Salukis will prepare twelve to fifteen players for this weekend's U.S. Air Invitational in Tennessee.

"I don't like to drag the team down too low," Cornell said. "We've got to forget about this."

occasion under those type of circumstances," she said. "Frankly, I was very worried just for that reason."

The worst free throw shooting team in the conference, the Saluki women came through in the clutch hitting nine out of 10 free throws in the last moments of the game. SIUC hit 16 of 21 from the charity-stripe against Bradley.

"That's the biggest positive from this game, the fact we hit free throws under pressure," she said.

The Lady Braves were led by Carolyn Hagerty, who poured in 19 points and Michelle Nason, who scored 14.

The Saluki women will host Northern Iowa tonight. SIUC has won 11 straight at home against the Panthers, but Scott knows what to expect.

"I think everybody around the league is sending out a fax saying 'Zone Southern' and we'll have to be ready for that."

Salukis cut down Sycamores, 83-68

Joe Gawlowicz — The Daily Egyptian

Marcus Timmons, #40, scores against the Indiana State University Sycamores in a game held Saturday night at the Arena. The Dawgs defeated the Sycamores 83-68. The Salukis travel to Roberts Stadium tonight to take on the Evansville Aces. Tip-off is at 7:35 p.m.

Dawgs battle Evansville tonight

By Grant Deady
DE Sports Editor

So much for Southern hospitality. First year Indiana State head coach Sherman Dillard made his inaugural trip to Carbondale Saturday night and was greeted with an 83-68 pounding from the Saluki men's basketball team.

SIUC put four players in double figures and received single digit performances from five others, which turned out to be too much for the 5-10 Sycamores to handle.

Dillard had some high praise for Saluki head coach Rich Herrin and this season's version of the maroon and white after the game.

"I think Rich has assembled a fine ballclub," he said. "Probably talent-wise, they are better than anyone we've faced so far. We knew we'd have to play a near perfect game to stay in this one."

SIUC led by as many as 17 in the first half, but ISU was able to come within 11 before the Dawgs pulled away for good.

Saluki forward Scott Burzynski came off the bench and hit back-to-back three-pointers midway through the second half to highlight the balanced SIUC attack.

Burzynski finished the game with a season-high 11 points and said he's finally feeling 100-percent after suffering from some back problems earlier in the season.

"My back is fine. For a while there I was hurting a lot, but right now there's just a little pain," he said. "I'm getting to the open spot right now and fortunately they're (shots) going in. Hopefully it will continue."

SIUC was paced by senior swingman Marcus Timmons, who poured in 16 points and swiped 15 rebounds. Saluki fan favorite Ian Stewart continued his streak of strong showings with 13 points and eight boards.

With the Sycamores out of the way, SIUC is focused on tonight's showdown at Missouri Valley Conference newcomer Evansville.

The Aces boast one of the league's most prolific scorers in Andy Elkins and play in one of college basketball's most hostile environments- Roberts Stadium.

"It's (Evansville) a hard place to play. Their intensity level is really great and I think that's the main reason they're so tough to beat at home," Herrin said. "Evansville is one of those teams that plays so much harder at home than they do on the road."

"They can shoot the basketball and they create match-up problems for us."

SIUC's success at EU will depend greatly upon the shooting of junior forward Chris Carr, who has been in some what of a slump in the last three games. Carr scored 30 or more in three games this season and was the Valley's leading point-man until last week.

Herrin said he has no doubts Carr's offensive output will pick up soon.

"If he (Carr) has a little bit of patience, he'll get the shot down," he said. "He'll be alright. He's a good basketball player. Anyone who has ever played the game of basketball knows you can't be perfect every time. He's done a good job for us."

Tonight's tip-off with Evansville is slated for 7:35 and can be seen live on KBSI as the MVC game of the week.

'Ashamed' Cornell sees track team fall to Illinois

By David Vingren
Daily Egyptian Reporter

Their star long distance runner returned. They lost to their opponent by only six points last season. And, they were pumped up during last week's preparation for the big intrastate rivalry.

So how do you explain the Saluki men's track team lethargically bowing out to Illinois, 102-54, at the dual meet in Champaign?

Head coach Bill Cornell is clueless. "I'm dumbfounded," he said. "I've never seen anything like it. Normally we only have two or three runners not compete well; this time it seemed like only two or three players did compete. With a rivalry like that it's hard to explain. I told them I was ashamed of them."

Of the sixteen events, the Salukis had only three first-place and five second-place finishes. "I told them we'd better start performing like we're capable of or it's going to be a long year," Cornell said.

Freshman high jumper

Rodney White said he noticed the team started to lose focus on Friday's bus trip to Illinois.

"We had a good attitude in practice, but that attitude started to change on the bus," he said. "There was a lot of laughing and goofing around going on and that's okay to some extent, but there is a limit."

"Almost everyone had a bad performance," sophomore long distance runner Stelios Marneros said. "Maybe most athletes are tired from last week's meet (Saluki Booster Invite)."

Cornell proposed three explanations for the sluggish performance.

"Even though ace runner Marneros returned after missing last weekend's Booster Invite, two other key athletes pulled out just prior to the meet due to injuries."

Senior long jumper Jessie Tai backed out due to a nagging hamstring injury and freshman long jumper Orlando McKee pulled out at the last minute claiming a sprained foot, which Women's hoopsters scalp Lady Braves, look ahead to Indiana St.

By Doug Durso

For one half, Bradley controlled the pace and kept SIUC out of rhythm, but the Saluki women played their style of game in the last 20 minutes and ran away with a 71-60 victory at Carbondale, Saturday.

The Salukis roared out in the second half to a 12-0 run, including seven points from Kasia McClendon, and held on to send the Lady Braves back to Bradley with a loss.

SIUC head coach Cindy Scott said at halftime she told her team to play with more desire.

"We just talked a little bit about playing with some pride and our team and our program and what we're trying to do and where we're trying to get," she said.

With the 26th consecutive win over Bradley, the Salukis women improve to 9-5 overall and 4-2 in the Missouri Valley Conference, while the Lady Braves fall to 2-5 in the MVC and 7-7 overall.

Nikki Gilmore led the Salukis with 20 points and six assists, Cari Hassell added 14 points, including four clutch free throws down the stretch, and Kasia McClendon chipped in with 12. McClendon, who in addition to her 12 points, pulled down eight rebounds and had five steals, said Scott's talk at halftime was the key to the Saluki run.

"We just fed off her speech at halftime," she said. "We just woke up in the second half."

Hassell, Gilmore and McClendon scored 38 of SIUC 41 second half points. Gilmore said that playing with McClendon and Hassell is a good for her and the Salukis.

"I love when we're all in the game together because it is easier for us to get into our fast break and we like playing in transition," she said.

Bradley came into the game shorthanded as their top rebounder and second-leading scorer, Carrie Coffman was ruled ineligible by the NCAA because she did not attend the minimum 12 hours class load.

Bradley head coach Lisa Boyer said her team played well even with the absence of Coffman.

"We weren't able to establish an inside game all afternoon so not having her obviously hurt there," she said. "But I thought that the game plan we had worked well it was just the first few minutes of the second half that hurt us."

Scott said she was concerned about the Lady Braves coming out more focused with Coffman out of the lineup.

JANUARY-FEBRUARY, 1995

City of Carbondale

Business Revolving Loan Fund

The City of Carbondale has a Revolving Loan Fund to assist with job creation and job retention in the City. This fund was created when the City received grants from the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs (DCCA) to make loans to some local businesses. As those loans are paid back, the funds go into the Revolving Loan Fund (RLF). The original source of the funds from DCCA was the Federal Government.

Consequently, when the City makes a loan from the RLF, it must do so in conformity with Federal and State laws and regulations. Compliance with these laws and regulations is also required of loan recipients.

The Loan Application Process: The City has a standard loan application form. Items on the form include the legal identity of the applicant, the project description, project costs/funding, information on job creation/retention and a justification for RLF assistance.

Among the required attachments to the application are a history of the business, market information and a marketing plan, financial statements of the business and persons associated with it, sources or financing other than the RLF, and a projected cash flow for three years. Once an application is received it is reviewed by the City's Finance and Legal departments. If the application is complete and meets the technical requirements of the State and Federal regulations, it is referred to the City's Loan and Grant Review Board (a committee comprised of citizens knowledgeable about business practices and financing).

The Board then makes a recommendation to the City Manager who makes the final decision. If a loan is approved, an environmental assessment is performed, the necessary legal documents are prepared and executed, and funds are dispersed.

Uses of Loan Funds: Loans may be made to for-profit or not-for-profit businesses for fixed assets including land, buildings, machinery and equipment (including new construction or renovation of facilities) and to provide working capital. RLF loans cannot be used to refinance existing debts, finance the relocation of a business from one part of the State to another, or to finance speculative activities.

Private or Other Public Financing Also Required: Financing from individuals, financial institutions and/or other public sources must account for at least one-half of the project's funding. Investments made into the business prior to the approval of the RLF loan are not counted toward the private or other public financing requirement.

Maximum Loan Amount: Although no maximum figure has been established, loans are restricted to the amount of funds available and not previously committed from the RLF.

For this reason loans are likely to be for amounts such as $10,000 or $25,000. If sufficient funds are available in the RLF, larger loans are possible. There is a State requirement that at least one job must be created or retained for each $10,000 of RLF funds invested in a project.

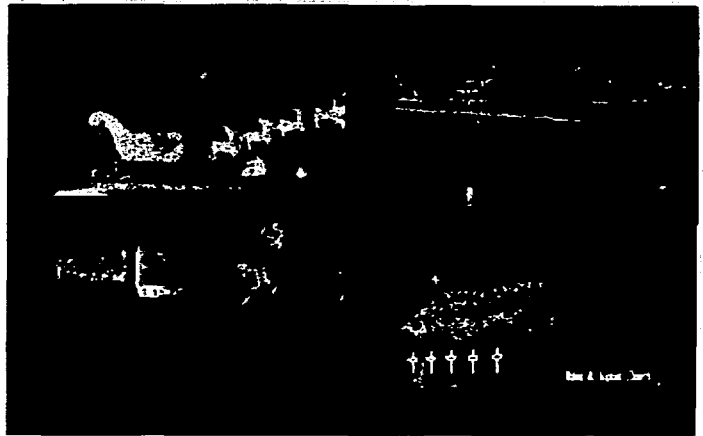

Interest Rate: The RLF loan interest rate will be no lower than necessary to facilitate the business project. Loans will be made for no less than a 3% interest rate.

Loan Security: All RLF loans must be secured with a mortgage, security agreement, promissory note, financing statement or other assignment of rights of the assets of the assisted business. The City may require personal guarantees of the owners of the business.

Justification for RLF Assistance: Under Federal regulations an RLF loan can only be made if one of the following circumstances exists and has been verified: 1) The loan applicant can raise only a portion of the necessary funding from private or other public sources. 2) The business is considering multi-state location options and RLF funds are needed to equalize cost variation between states. 3) Full financing is available from private or other public sources, but the rate of return is insufficient to induce the development to proceed.

Job Creation: The purpose of the loan program is to create jobs for low and moderate income persons. As noted above, at least one job must be created for each $10,000 of RLF funds invested in a project. Also at least 51% of all jobs created or retained as a result of an RLF loan must go to low or moderate income persons. The results of job creation/retention must be documented by the completion of forms provided by the City, and the results must be reported quarterly to the City once the loan is approved.

Application Form Availability, Program Information, and Submission of Applications: RLF application forms and information are available from Donald Monty, Finance Department, City Hall Room 223, 609 East College Street, P.O. Box 2047, Carbondale, IL 62902-2047, phone (618) 457-3233. Completed applications are to be submitted to Mr. Monty.

What A Spectacular Sight

The Annual Lights Fantastic Parade just keeps getting bigger and better. At 6:30 p.m. on December 4 all eyes were fixed on Illinois Avenue and on Jackson Street, and with the arrival of the remote controlled police car, the time had finally arrived. The beginning of the Lights Parade -and was it fantastic! The thousands who had gathered to witness this event were in a festive and jovial mood as they explained to their little ones and to first-time spectators what they were about to witness. What a fantastic parade. Thanks to everyone who had anything to do with this year's activities, and Congratulations to all the winners. Come join us next year.

Fire Safety House Arrives

The Carbondale Fire Department is proud to announce the arrival of our Fire Safety House. The Fire Safety House is a 29-foot mobile classroom designed to teach children fire prevention, safety and fire escape techniques through a fun, safe simulation of common hazards.

The Fire Safety House is scaled down to "kid size" with a kitchen, living room and bedroom. The house has functioning smoke detectors, a telephone and a door that can be heated to simulate feeling a "hot door" in a fire situation. We can fill the house with a non-toxic smoke to teach children to crawl low under smoke.

The Fire Safety House was purchased through donations, both private and by area businesses. We would like to thank anyone that helped us purchase this unique and helpful teaching aid.

Your generosity is greatly appreciated. The Safety House will go a long way in our efforts to teach fire safety to the area children.

We plan to visit all of the Carbondale grade schools with the Safety House during the coming weeks. We recently completed our initial pilot program at Parrish School. The students were very enthusiastic, had a great time and hopefully gained some lifelong lessons in fire safety.

Any group interested in scheduling the Fire Safety House for a visit can do so by contacting Assistant Chief Harry Threlkeld at 457-3299 or 529-5115.

City's Plans for 1995: Continued Progress!

The Carbondale Community has enjoyed considerable growth and progress during recent years due mainly to the progressive cooperative effort by local government and the business community. We have witnessed the renovation and expansion of the University Mall, Downtown redevelopment, the establishment of the Enterprise Zone that encourages new businesses and the expansion of existing businesses, a successful public-private partnership through the Carbondale Business Development Corporation, the retention of tesa tape, inc., the revival and growth of Compac International, the expansion of Carbondale's health industry, the annexation and development of new housing subdivisions, the development of positive community events, and the completion of the City's new water treatment plant that will serve our Community's needs well into the 21st century.

1995 offers Carbondale tremendous opportunities to continue its growth and progress. The construction of the City Hall/Civic Center will begin and will serve as an important anchor for the Community's Downtown redevelopment efforts. Already, this project is generating other interests for Downtown private developments. The City will continue its aggressive Capital Improvements Program that enhances the Community's infrastructure and allows for new and expanded business and residential developments. Major projects that will begin in 1995 include the Mill Street Underpass, the Emerald Lane -Route 13 Intersection reconstruction, the Old City Reservoir Spillway reconstruction, North Washington Street improvements, completion of the Town Square improvements including renovation of the old ICRR Passenger Depot, sanitary sewer replacements on College Street and Kent Drive, the reconstruction of East Fisher Street and West Freeman Street, and the South Wall Street Water Main Replacement.

The Carbondale Community will experience more physical growth in 1995. Memorial Hospital of Carbondale will continue its $25 Million expansion program and Southern Illinois University at Carbondale will begin its $100 Million construction program with the renovation of its Physical Plant and the expansion of its Technology Building.

Additional housing subdivisions are planned for 1995, and we will witness the continued development of areas around the University Mall. The construction industry will remain busy in Carbondale throughout 1995.

Economic development continues to be a high priority with the City. The City supports CBDC to develop new jobs in the Commu-

ty. In 1995, the City and CBDC will work closely to attract businesses to the Bicentennial Industrial Park and into the old tesa tape, inc. property.

Another important priority with the City is Public Safety. The Carbondale Police Department will continue its efforts to implement Community Policing through many new and innovative programs. The Carbondale Fire Department will expand its education program with the introduction of the Smoke House. The City prides itself on delivering quality services with fiscal responsibility. In 1995, the City will maintain its property tax levy with no increase. This action along with the anticipated increase in the equalized assessed valuation will result in a lower tax rate and lower taxes in the city government line item on tax bills.

The Carbondale Community has accomplished a great deal during the past few years. We remain in the middle of many projects and programs that are important to our Community and considerable work remains to see them completed. We also continue to struggle with issues that are controversial and that have no clear solutions. There does exist a renewed Community Pride and a willingness among Carbondale citizens to work on Community projects and to seek the best answers to those difficult questions our diverse Community faces.

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

Maybe it's that a few held the fortunes and destinies of many in their efforts to serve. Maybe it's that a few attempted to hold in check insurmountable natural/manmade forces that would wreck havoc with their fellow citizens. Maybe it's just the need of a few to feel challenged and to have expanded their energies one hundred and four percent in a heroic cause.

If you are one of the few, then the City of Carbondale Emergency Management Services has an opening for you. Every year the city is faced with fires, floods, tornadoes, the threat of an earthquake and other natural disasters. There are also the manmade threats of chemical, biological and nuclear releases. Thousands would be effected. The City of Carbondale Emergency Management Services (EMS) cannot change destiny; however, with the help of the few, we can make life more tolerable.

This is not a calling for everyone, only the few. It takes commitment, preparedness, training and good health. The call to action may come with no notice, it may come at any hour or season. If you have what it takes to be part of the few, contact your local EMS Coordinator, Jeffery Anderson at 609 East College Street, Carbondale IL, Room 325 or call 457-3245.

COMMUNITY SERVICES EVER HAD A DISPUTE WITH A NEIGHBOR Well-Guess What!

Residents of Carbondale will soon have assistance available to help them resolve their own disputes. The City of Carbondale is working with the Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) Clinic at the SIU School of Law to develop a Community Dispute Resolution Center. The Center will offer a Mediation Service for residents who are involved in a variety of disputes.

Examples include disputes between neighbors (noise, property, weeds, etc.) and landlords and tenants.

Mediation is a process designed to help people who are in conflict communicate more effectively about the conflict. In mediation the disput-parties sit down with a neutral third party, a mediator, who is trained to help the opposing parties talk and listen to one another productively. The mediator does not make any kind of decision, but instead guides the parties through a structured process toward their own resolution.

The focus in mediation is not on who is right or wrong, but on how the parties can work together to resolve the problem with which they are dealing. The process also gives the participants a structure for dealing with future conflicts that may arise out of the same relationship or circumstances.

The Center's planning team includes: (from the City) Community Relations Officer Cleveland Matthews, Assistant City Attorney Dan O'Brien, Patrol Officer Deandra Cross and Building and Neighborhood Services Manager Morris McDaniel, and (from the SIU School of Law ADR Clinic) ADR Project Coordinator Suzanne Schmitz, Assistant ADR Project Coordinator Alicia Hill, and law students Sean Smoot and Toby Harryman. The planning is in its initial stages, but the team aims to have the Center operational sometime in the Spring of 1995.

The SIU Law School ADR Clinic has received funding for this project through the federal Learn and Serve America: Higher Education Grant.

Police Department Adds To Its Staff

Jasper, the Police Department's new canine, was welcomed to the staff in early November. Jasper was "sworn-in" in ceremonies at the Carbondale Elementary schools.

Jasper is trained to search for lost persons and narcotics, recover evidence, search buildings, and track fugitives. On his first night on the street, Jasper recovered over 900 grams of marijuana, and has made several other "sniffs" since then. Jasper's handler is Ptl. Doug Brinkley.

Retiring President Passes The Gavel

Retiring President of the Partnership on Disability Issues, Curt Kohring was honored by members of the group at its meeting on Tuesday, November 15, 1994. On behalf of the Partnership, LaVerne O'Brien, Chair of the Accessibility Committee, presented him with a plaque in appreciation of his outstanding leadership. Kohring has been a member of the Partnership since its creation by Carbondale City Council in 1981. He has served as President since 1989.

The Partnership is advisory to the City of Carbondale on the needs of persons with disabilities. Partnership efforts resulted in the Southern Illinois Center for Independent Living. The group continues to seek removal of environmental barriers and the integration of persons with disability in the community. New officers of the Partnership installed at the meeting are: Paulette Subka, President; Suzanne Gorrell, President Elect; Connie Potter, and Clara McClure, Secretary.

Candidates File For Mayor And City Council

Four Carbondale residents have filed for the office of Mayor, and eleven residents have filed for the two City Council positions that will come up for election next spring.

In order to reduce the number of candidates to two per seat (two Mayoral candidates and four City Council candidates), state law requires that a primary election be held on Tuesday, February 28, 1995.

Assuming no objections are filed to any of the nominating petitions, the four Mayoral candidates (in the order they will appear on the primary ballot) are:

1. Andrew Ensor, 103 Warren Hall, SIUC
2. Neil Dillard, 500 S. Oakland (Incumbent)
3. Mark Robinson, 302 W. Walnut
4. Matthew D. Parsons, 202 N. Almond

Assuming no objections are filed on any of the candidates for Councilmember, the eleven candidates (in the order they will appear on the ballot) are:

1. Barbara A. Parrish, 1200 Carter
2. Michael G. Neill, 604 Glenview
3. Jeffrey T. Shepard, 300 S. Marion Apt. 309
4. Richard E. Morris, 604 Skyline Drive (Incumbent)
5. Kendall L. Woods, 312 Lynda
6. Robert A. "Bob" Stalls, 202 E. Oak Street

7. Darryl K. Cox, 1019 West Willow
 8. Roxann V. Hall, 322 Lynda Drive
 9. Lorenzo Henderson, 415 S. Washington #3
 10. Anna Helene Lundsteen, 404 W. Mill #2
 11. Kyle Englert, 500 Skyline Drive
- Incumbent Councilman John Mills did not file for reelection.

The two Mayoral candidates and the four City Council candidates who receive the most votes at the February primary election will be placed on the ballot for the April 4th general election. Ballot placement for the general election is determined by the number of votes received by each candidate, with the candidate receiving the most votes appearing in first position on the ballot.

All Mayoral and City Council candidates run on a non-partisan basis, which means that they are not affiliated with a specific political party for the municipal election. They are also elected at-large rather than from wards, which entitles them to receive votes from all areas of the City. Once the Mayor or Councilmembers are elected, they represent the entire City and all of its citizens, not just one geographic area or one particular group of people.

The deadline for registering to vote prior to the February 28th primary election is January 30, 1995.

COUNCIL COMMENTS

Upcoming City Council Primary Elections

By: Councilman John A. Yow

I know of no better way for one to serve their community than giving their time and talents by serving as a member of the Carbondale City Council.

Because of the number of individuals interested in becoming candidates in the February 28, 1995, City Council primary elections, I felt it would be timely to make a few comments about being elected for the first time to our City Council.

If the number of petition packets picked up at the City Clerk's Office by or for individuals who wish to be candidates in the primary elections are any indication, this primary should be quite interesting.

A number of individuals have asked if I was seeking re-election to the Council this time around. The answer is no. I was re-elected to serve a four-year term in April of 1993. Consequently, I have more than two years to serve.

I do not want to encourage or discourage anyone from being a candidate in the primary election, but would like to perhaps educate those candidates who have never served on the Carbondale City Council and may have attended very few council meetings (if any).

In prior elections, I have observed various Council candidates attending two or maybe three Council meetings before the election.

However, after the votes are counted, I seldom see those candidates who did not get elected attending Council meetings. This makes one wonder if some candidates are truly interested in our city government. It would be great to see some of the candidates who did not get elected continue in attendance at some of our Council meetings when possible.

Serving on the Carbondale City Council is not a matter that should be taken lightly. It is a responsibility that often requires difficult and complex issues and decisions.

All Council Agenda items require careful review and sound judgment before taking action on the agenda items. Most Council issues require a lot of reading and personal understanding. Then you have to make decisions that you can live with. All of this and much more goes with the job and most of the time you get little and, at times, no appreciation at all from the general public. Some individuals may be under the impression that Carbondale City Council elections are of partisan politics. Our Council elections are non-partisan. There is no information on the ballots relative to Democrat or Republican affiliation.

When campaigning, some candidates may make promises or indicate that, if elected, they will make changes in particular Carbondale codes or dismiss a particular City employee, or make City staff changes. Well, should any candidate have this in mind, they had might as well forget it.

Under Carbondale's form of City

Government, the Mayor or any one Council person does not have the right or authority to dismiss, or to hire an employee, make changes in City codes or make City staff changes. The City Manager and City Clerk are appointed or dismissed by the majority vote of the City Council. The City Manager has the responsibility of hiring or dismissing all other City employees.

I am hopeful that all the candidates are wholeheartedly interested in our city government continuing to move forward in a positive manner. I trust they will always be mindful of those things that are in the best interest of our City and its citizens. A public official must serve to the best of his/her ability by always placing public good above individual or special interest groups.

Carbondale is comprised of a very diverse population. Serving on the City Council requires a high standard of integrity and public confidence which will respond to citizen concerns with fairness and loyalty.

People are Carbondale's most valuable asset. United we can find workable solutions to present and future challenges facing our City.

Things happen for the better, when we work together.

Tune in to Cable Channel 16 and watch Carbondale City Council Meetings LIVE: beginning at 7:00 P.M. every 1st, 3rd and 5th Tuesday each month.

CRITTER CORNER

By Cindy Nelson, Animal Control Officer

NUISANCE WILDLIFE

The presence of wild animals in urban areas reflects their ability to adapt to replacement of fields, trees and streams by lawns, ponds, gardens and chimneys. Animals may use this new environment at the expense of their human neighbors, creating a disturbance or causing property damage. However, these animals are behaving naturally, not acting with malicious intent.

It is illegal to live-trap or kill most wild animals without appropriate permits from the Illinois Department of Conservation. The City of Carbondale has an Animal Control Officer who is authorized to live-trap and remove an offending animal. Also, commercially licensed animal removal services can be recommended by the Illinois Department of Conservation.

RECOMMENDED PROCEDURES:

To discourage an animal from an outdoor den site: Spread baking flour in front of the den entrance at dusk and monitor for pawprints. When the animal has left, place an ammonia-soaked rag in the den and fill it in, leaving additional soaked rags along the outside perimeter of the site. Leave the rags in place for two to three days, re-soaking when needed.

The hollow spaces under concrete stoops can be filled in with instant concrete. Another barrier is chicken wire buried in an "L" shape which discourages burrowing animals when they reach the curve of the "L."

To discourage an animal from an indoor den site: Illuminate the den with as much light as possible and leave a loud radio playing 24 hours for two to three days. Ammonia-soaked rags may be placed directly inside or outside the entry hole. After the third day, tape a piece of paper over the hole and monitor for 24 hours. If it remains unbroken, the animal has vacated. Make repairs immediately.

To assist an animal out of a window well: Lower a rough-surfaced board (tacked with burlap, carpet scraps, etc.) into a window well at an angle. Nocturnal animals climb out after dark.

To discourage garbage-raiding: Garbage attracts animals—dogs, cats, raccoons, skunks, opossums and crows. To effectively discourage garbage-raiding, store garbage cans where they can not be reached or use cans with lids which can be tied or locked in place.

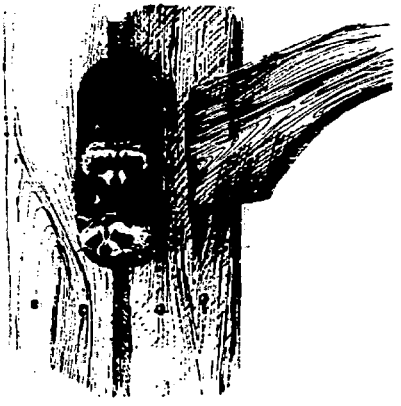

Ammonia-soaked rags can be placed on top of garbage before securing the lid.

Trapping and relocating animals: This is not recommended, even when legal. Removing one animal does not eliminate the presence of others. Relocation causes stress for the animal, for any young left behind, and for the existing population at the place of release.

It is illegal to relocate wild animals to any forest preserve.

IMPORTANT: When ammonia is recommended, do not use it during the breeding season.

It will injure infant wildlife which are too young to escape.
