Woolard-Mitchell race winds down

By Lisa Miller
Staff Writer

Primary today will seal political fate for Dems

State Rep. Larry Woolard and Sesser Mayor Ned Mitchell are ready for the final Democratic battle—the primary election on Tuesday.

As Illinois citizens go to the polls Tuesday, which open at 6 a.m. and close at 7 p.m., the political fate of the two candidates vying for the 117th district seat will be determined.

Woolard, the Cartermville Democrat who was appointed to the office in January 1989, said he's ready for a victory, but he's not underestimating his opponent. Woolard has been leading Mitchell in the polls by more than a 2-1 margin.

Mitchell, who has served as mayor of Sesser for more than a decade, has accused Woolard of being a "puppet" of Chicago-area Democrats and House Speaker Michael Madigan.

"I think Woolard made it a point from day one to jump right in with the Speaker and say, 'Whatever you want, I will do.' I think he wrote us off down here," Mitchell said.

But Woolard disagrees. He said that although he respects

Madigan, he had never been dictated by the speaker. He also disputed the assertion that he neglected Southern Illinois during his term in office.

Woolard said he has a long list of accomplishments for Southern Illinois during his 13 months in office, including:

- Helping raise more than $300,000 in emergency funding for life-safety improvements in the Christopher Elementary School,

- Helping stop the closure of the West Frankfort Job Service,
- Expanding at the Mariah Boat Factory in Benton,

- Helping locate the VF Factory Outlet mall at the Illinois 149 and Interstate 57 intersection near Benton.

Lithuanian upheaval continues

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet government Monday ordered direct control from Moscow of all national enterprises in Lithuania and instructed the KGB and internal police to establish customs control in the fractious republic.

The statement, signed by Premier Nikolai Ryzhkov and released by Tass late Monday, amounted to direct rule by the Moscow ministries over communications, sea lanes and the property it deems to be of national as opposed to republican character.

"All sites designated as all-union will be run directly by the ministries of the U.S.S.R.," the order said in a heightening of what is emerging as a Kremlin economic war to slow down Lithuania's rush to independence and secession.

"The Ministry of Interior and the KGB of the U.S.S.R. are instructed to establish customs control on the territory of the Lithuanian republic," the order said.

The order instructed managers of state enterprises in Lithuania not to hand over any property that deals with the economy of the entire Soviet Union.

The statement by the Council of Ministers "ordered its representatives in the republic not to enter into any kind of negotiations on transferring property under their jurisdiction or the organizations themselves to the control of Lithuania."

It mandated increased security at atomic power stations, which are under the maneuvers in the Baltic republic and warned foreign countries against recognizing its recent declaration of independence.

The garbage man cometh

Poshard sifts through trash to stress recycling

By Phil Pearson

Rep. Glenn Poshard, D-Cartermville, dug through a bag of trash to make the point that "developing a clear federal policy (on recycling) is a priority."

After scrounging through the garbage, Poshard outlined two House bills promoting recycling Monday morning at the Southern Recycling Center in Carbondale to kick off a list of Earth Day 1990 activities sponsored by the Shawnee Earth Day 1990 Committee.

The first bill, sponsored by Rep. George Hochbrueckner, D-New York, would establish guidelines for a national recycling and composting program, Poshard said. He said composting could reduce landfill volume by as much as one-third.

The other bill, sponsored by Rep. Tom Luken, D-Ohio, is designed to put the government in the lead in creating a market for recycled goods, Poshard said.

"The federal government under this bill would give a 10-

Latvian, Estonian nationalists sweep to victory

MOSCOW (UPI) — Latvian and Estonian nationalist candidates swept to victory in the weekend's legislative elections, gaining control of their republican parliaments and bolstering the wave of independence sentiment sweeping the Baltics, partial voting tallies showed yesterday.

The election victories by the popular parties put Estonia and Latvia right behind Lithuania in the Baltic independence sweepstakes. Lithuania's Parliament declared independence March 11, setting up a confrontation with Moscow.

Estonian President Arno Rutel

said President Mikhail Gorbachev had appointed Anatoly Lukyanov, the chairman of the Supreme Soviet, to negotiate with the Estonians in their quest for independence.

Rutel was part of a high-level delegation summoned to Moscow by Gorbachev for a meeting Monday. Communist Party leader Vaino Valyas and Prime Minister Indrek Toome also participated in the talks, which Estonia radio said lasted three hours and 50 minutes.

Rutel said Gorbachev appointed Lukyanov to conduct the negotiations with Estonia to accelerate independence and said the talks would start "in the near future."

Valios said, "We were not threatened with the Lithuanian phenomenon. We will steadfastly stick to our own path."

Toome said the talks formed "basis for the continuation of negotiations."

All three said that the delegation was treated as partners having equal rights. They said Politburo hardliner Yegor Ligachev also participated, asking questions.

Estonia Radio projected that two-thirds of the 105 seats in the legislature in the Sunday balloting would go to the Popular Front.

Of the 63 seats already decided in the 105-member Estonian Parliament, 27 went to Popular Front candidates, the broadcast said. Pure communists, who have no allegiance to the Popular Front, won a mere four seats so far. One of those elected was the Communist Part First Secretary Vaino Valyas.

Of the 170 seats in the 201-member Latvian Parliament already decided, the Latvian Popular Front has won 108, the official Soviet news agency Tass said.

Germany on path to unification

EAST BERLIN (UPI) — The leader of East Germany's conservative alliance, fresh from an election victory that won him a sweeping endorsement for swift German unification, said Monday he will form a broad coalition government to guide the nation along the path to unity.

"Out of national responsibility and in order to form a broad basis to enable decisive and efficient handling by the government, we want to establish a preferably large coalition," conservative leader Lothar de Maiziere told reporters at a news conference.

"We therefore invite the Social-Democratic party of Germany and the (liberal) Federation of free Democrat to coalition talks," said de Maiziere, who leads the Christian Democrat Party, the largest of the three parties in the conservative Alliance for Germany.

De Maiziere, 50, who is likely to become East Germany's first non-communist prime minister, said the talks on forming a coalition could start this week.

De Maiziere said both his party and SPD favor a free-market economy for East Germany.

"There are no major differences that would make a coalition impossible," he said.

But SPD officials said Monday they were not prepared to join a coalition with the conservatives, who favor a much faster reunification process.

De Maiziere, in an attempt to reassure the Soviet Union said Moscow would remain a key ally of East Germany.

"We cannot deny that our democratic process started with Solidarity in Poland and (Soviet

Vincent: Season to begin on April 9

NEW YORK (UPI) — Major league team owners and the players' union agreed in principle to end the 32-day-old spring training lockout and start the 1990 season a week late, Commissioner Fay Vincent announced early Monday.

Shortly after 6 a.m., the negotiators showed up with the news that they have "signed off on a memorandum of understanding."

"It was not an easy effort," said Chuck O'Connor, who represented management in the talks.

Added union chief Don Fehr, "It has been a tortuous process."

Vincent said the 1990 season will begin on April 9 and that at least 158 regular-season games will be scheduled. The commissioner said doubleheaders and make-up games could provide a full 162-game season.

"I have a very pleasant duty and it is simply to announce that tonight an agreement in principle has been reached between the Players Association and the Players Relations Committee — the owners association — and the labor agreement in baseball will be executed in the very near future," Vincent said.

American League President Dr. Bobby Brown said if the deal is signed Monday, camps will open Tuesday with clubs free to play exhibition games on March 26 should they desire.

Vincent said the new four-year agreement includes a minimum salary of $100,000 for major league players, up from the current $68,000; an annual $55 million owners' contribution to players' benefits, and "arrangements" relating to how much major league service a player must have before he becomes eligible for salary arbitration.

Jerry Reinsdorf, owner of the Chicago White Sox and a member of the Player Relations Committee, outlined the details of the salary arbitration settlement, which had proved the thorniest issue of the dispute.

He said that players with 2 and a half years of major league service and who had at least 866 days of service in the year just concluded, would form a pool. Of the players in that group, the 17 percent with the most service would be eligible for arbitration, he said.

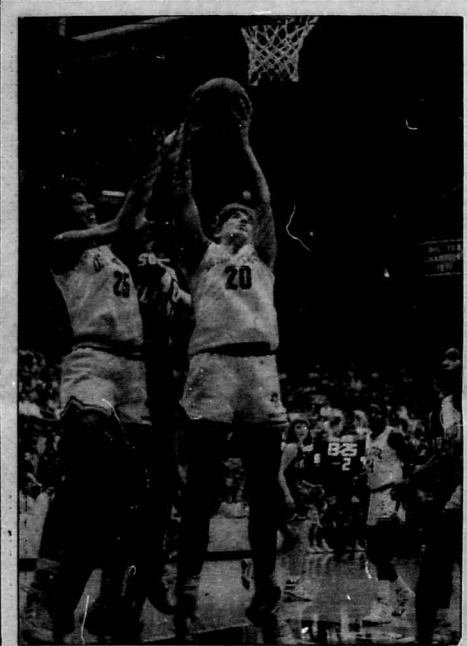

Owners had previously said they would not move on their position that a player need three full years of experience before becoming eligible for arbitration. Players had sought a roll back to the pre-1985 agreement, when players needed only two years.

Asked by a reporter if a lockout had damaged baseball Vincent said, "I think it was damaged. I believe the recuperative powers of baseball are very strong and I don't believe the damage will be permanent."

Despite the agreement, the 1990 lockout became the second longest baseball stoppage of this century. Players struck for 49 days in 1981, creating a split season. Owners locked out players for three weeks in 1976 before Commissioner Bowie Kuhn ordered camps opened and the season began on time.

After a hiatus of eight days, the negotiations at Vincent's office intensified over the weekend, with a marathon session Friday.

Women Salukis fall in first-round game

By Eric Bugger

COLUMBUS, OHIO — Only two bats flying around Ohio State's St. John Arena were able to scare the Lady Buckeyes off the court last Wednesday in a first round NCAA Tournament game against SIU-C.

As the bats swooped down near the court, the Buckeyes went screaming off the court into their locker room. They returned moments later to terrorize the Salukis with tenacious defense and ran away with a 73-61 victory.

The Salukis went into the matchup with a six-game winning streak. They advanced out of the Gateway Conference Tournament by defeating Bradley 62-58 and Illinois State in the championship game 71-54.

Ohio State finished in a tie for fourth place in the Big Ten Conference and received an at-large bid from the NCAA selection committee. The Buckeyes have appeared eight times in the nine-year history of the NCAA Tournament.

The March 14 matchup was only the second meeting between the Salukis and Buckeyes since 1977 when Ohio State defeated SIU-C 78-59.

The Salukis began the game with a 4-0 lead and controlled the tempo of the game throughout most of the first half.

Ohio State came out with a full-court press, but the Salukis finagled their way through it to get several uncontested layups.

There were seven lead changes in the grueling first half, but Ohio State went on a 10-2 run with 6:45 remaining in the half to take a 33-29 lead into the locker room at intermission.

Salukis wind up season with loss to Wisconsin-Green Bay in the NIT

The Salukis' season came to a screeching halt with a disappointing loss to Wisconsin-Green Bay in the first round of the National Invitation Tournament.

The Dawgs played a lackluster game after being denied an invitation to the NCAA tournament and fell 73-60 Thursday at the Arena. SIU-C finished its season at 26-8 (12-2 at home) while playing in front of 6,169 fans — even though the University was on spring break.

WGB advanced to the second round with a 24-7 record.

The Salukis lost consecutive games for the first time this season. The first was in the Valley Conference championship game to Illinois State, costing them an automatic bid to the NCAA's before closing out their season against the Phoenix.

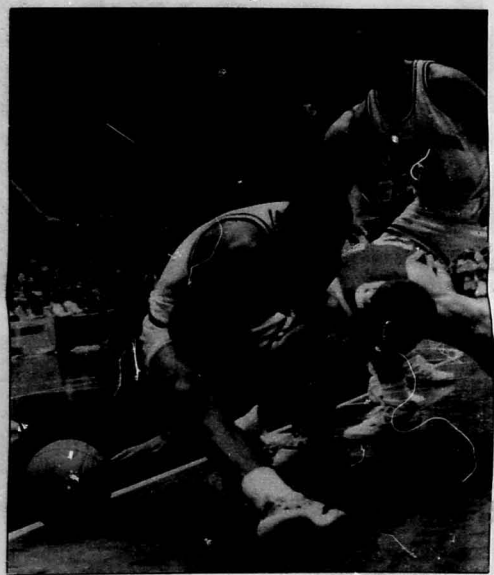

Saluki head coach Rich Herrin was down but not disappointed after the season-ending game.

"I think we had great respect for them, we just got beat by a good basketball team," Herrin said. "It's been a great year for us. We've had an enjoyable season. It's just over with now."

The Dawgs were sluggish from the outset, falling behind 20-6 midway through the first half. The Salukis bounced back and assumed a 36-30 halftime advantage.

The Phoenix went on a 13-2 run and captured the lead for the remainder of the game.

The Dawgs shot a woeful 25 percent from the field in the second half and finished the game at 32 percent. The Phoenix shot 43 percent for the game. The total goal percentage and point total were season lows for the Salukis.

"It kind of showed the disappointment when we got to the NIT game," Herrin said. "We probably weren't as mentally prepared to play the game as we should have been."

If the Saluki baseball team's early success is any indication, fan excitement from basketball season will carry over into the spring.

After splitting their first two games of the season at Louisville, the Salukis went on a Florida rampage.

The Salukis won nine of 10 games in Florida including a 1-0 victory over third-ranked Miami on March 10. The Salukis avenged an earlier 5-1 defeat to Miami on March 9.

The Salukis are 10-2 on the season.

"It was a great trip and we won games in a variety of ways," Saluki coach Richard "Itchy" Jones said. "The hitting attack was tremendous and many different hitters picked us up."

In an attempt to rebound from a disappointing 26-38 record last season, the Salukis appear to be operating on all cylinders. As a team, the Salukis are hitting .337 and their pitching staff has an earned run average of 2.97. The Salukis scored 110 runs during the Florida trip and they have stolen 23 bases in 28 attempts this season.

Jones has received a spark from junior right-handed pitcher Al Levine. Levine, a transfer from Harper Junior College in Chicago, has not given up an earned run in 11.6 innings pitched. Levine is 2-0 with two saves and was named the Missouri Valley Conference Player-of-the-Week.

Right-handers Bob Finder and Tom Strabavy, also junior college transfers, have paid dividends for Jones on the mound. Finder has two victories and Strabavy struck out six in his debut to lead the Salukis to a 13-2 victory over Lewis University March 10.

Newspaper says Carter held talks with hostage holders

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Former President Jimmy Carter met with leaders of the pro-Iranian Hezbollah group last week in an attempt to win the release of Western hostages held by the group, a Lebanese newspaper said Monday. The daily Ad Diyar newspaper, which has good contacts with Syria, quoted diplomatic sources as saying that Carter met with high-ranking Hezbollah officials last week during his three-day visit to Damascus. Carter was not available for comment, but a Hezbollah official called the report "a mere lie." Hezbollah has repeatedly denied holding hostages or having links with the hostages' captors.

ANC: Apartheid struggle far from being over

LUSAKA, Zambia (UPI) — African National Congress Secretary-General Alfred Nzo cautioned the Organization of African Unity Monday against re-establishing links with South Africa in the belief the struggle against apartheid was over. Nzo urged the 14 members of the OAU's committee on Southern Africa, meeting for the fifth time in a one-day session in the Zambian capital, to "come out with a clear message warning against such a trend."

Poindexter trial moving faster than expected

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Despite complaints from U.S. District Judge Harold Greene about the sluggishness of some testimony, the criminal trial of John Poindexter is moving faster than anticipated. Green had complained early in the proceeding that a key prosecution witness, retired Lt. Col. Oliver North, was wasting valuable time by trying to be over precise in recalling conversations rather than testifying about their general content. But on Friday, the judge told the jurors the trial was proceeding more quickly than expected.

Bush says environmental decision his alone

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Bush shrugged off talk of discord among his advisor Monday as the stuff of "endless inside-the-Beltway speculation" and said he alone has the final say in matters of environment policy. "Don't believe all this big feuding that's going on between the EPA and the White House," he said. Speaking to a gathering of the state attorneys general, Bush vented irritation at recurrent accounts of how White House Chief-of-Staff John Sununu has wielded a powerful and restraining hand in the formulation of environmental policy.

Police searching world for stolen artworks

BOSTON (UPI) — Police around the world were on alert Monday for signs of movement of uninsured masterworks stolen from the Isabella Stewart Gardner Museum in what was called the biggest art theft in history. Two thieves, apparently unarmed and posing as police, overpowered museum guards early Sunday and stole 12 paintings, drawings and etchings by such masters as Rembrandt, Vermeer, Monet and Degas. Museum spokesman Corey Cronin said the cost of insurance coverage for the collection would be prohibitive. Police estimate the value of the objects stolen at more than $200 million.

Corrections/Clarifications

In the article titled "Minority employees limited at SIU," which appeared in the Daily Egyptian March 9, the statement "we (women) can't stand up to men," was wrongly attributed to Uma Sekaran, coordinator of University Women's Professional Advancement. She did not make the statement. The subtitle of the article, "Minority women in need of political, negotiation skills," was incorrect and was also wrongly attributed to Sekaran. In the final paragraph, Sekaran was attributed to a statement that should have read: More must be done to attract women students to SIU-C. The DE regrets these errors.

The University's Pollution Control recycling program is collecting newsprint but is concentrating more on computer and ledger paper, Patrick Glisson, student coordinator of the program, said. He also said workers collect about 700 pounds of paper per week and the potential is for 500 tons of paper to be recycled annually on campus. This information was incorrectly reported in the Daily Egyptian March 9.

The March 21 performance of the play, "Marat Sade," will be a dinner theater. It will feature authentic French dishes, to be served at 6:30 p.m. in the Old Main Room. The performance will be at 8 p.m. Tickets are $15. This information was inadvertently omitted from an article in the Daily Egyptian March 9.

Democratic fly-around lands in Southern Illinois

By Lisa Miller
Staff Writer

U.S. Sen. Paul Simon, State Sen. Dawn Clark Netsch and State Rep. Peg Breslin called for support of the historic Democratic ticket in the primary Tuesday as they ended their state fly-around in Southern Illinois.

For the first time in Illinois history, the Democratic party endorsed two women for state offices and Simon, D-Makanda, said if the two were elected "Illinois would get top priority leadership."

"The Democratic field is strong from top to bottom," Simon said at the Williamson County Airport. "We have the candidates who can make a difference for the working families of Illinois."

On the six city fly-around—including Rockford, the Quad cities, East St. Louis and Springfield—the three candidates spoke on behalf of the entire Democratic ticket: Neil Hartigan for governor, Jim Burns for lieutenant governor, Jerry Cosentino for secretary of state and Roland Burris for attorney general.

Netsch, who is seeking the Democratic nomination for Comptroller, said she felt she has earned the votes of Illinois citizens.

"I don't want people to vote for me just because I'm a woman," Netsch said. "I want them to vote for me because I can do the best job."

Netsch, a former law professor, served as a senator for the 4th district for more than 17 years and chairs the Senate Revenue committee and co-chairs the legislature's Economic and Fiscal Commission.

fought and tough, but it is well worth the fight, and I am prepared to be tough with every Illinois tax dollar."

Peg Breslin, who is seeking the Democratic nomination for treasurer, said she was proud and grateful to be on this historic ticket.

"I have been plowing a lot of new ground in Illinois politics, but I still have a long way to go."

Breslin said.

Breslin said she has worked hard campaigning and her hard work is going to pay off with a victory in the primary.

Breslin, an Ottawa native, has served in the Illinois House of Representatives for more than 14 years. She serves as an assistant majority leader and has been a member of the Banking, Judiciary and Rules Committee.

Mass transportation comes to University

IMAGINE, if you will, a way to get around Carbondale inexpensively and efficiently. A mass transit service would help bring Carbondale into the '90s. For some students, this could mean no more parking hassles, no more suffering through all ranges of weather, and no more harrowing late night walks home. You simply walk to a designated spot and wait for a bus to arrive.

Sound like something too good to hope for? Guess again. A bill providing for a temporary Saluki bus shuttle to transport people to and from various locations on campus was passed by the Undergraduate Student Government shortly before Spring Break.

ALTHOUGH THE LOGISTICS of the shuttle, including such details as schedules, routes and workers, have not been determined yet, we support USG's effort to improve the quality of transportation for students.

USG suspended its own rules concerning finance committee reviews of the proposal so the group could take the bus service into immediate consideration. This action showed a concern for the University community that superseded any bureaucratic red tape, but it also highlights that the group needs to put some careful consideration toward any such plan before putting it into action.

STUDIES MUST BE made concerning what would be the best routes for the service, who would use the service, how much the service would charge and what type of radius the service should encompass.

USG plans a trial run of the service during the week of April 2-6 to determine if students would use the busses if they were made available, but more research needs to be done before attacking this project wholeheartedly.

IF THE SHUTTLE is deemed a success, USG will allocate funding to maintain the service until such a system would be considered unnecessary. Ed Walthers, a USG senator and the author of the bill said this would occur if the service is found to be feasible. It will be continued until a full mass transit system could be implemented and gradually phased out.

While some may view the bus service as a stop-gap measure, it could make a major difference on this campus. If properly implemented, the service could serve students in a multitude of ways. It has the possibility to cut students transportation costs.

THINK ABOUT the effects. If students had the added economic incentive of a cost-efficient mass transit system, they would ride the busses. This, in turn, could help the environment by creating less automobile exhaust, much in the same way carpooling works. It also could help improve the overall safety of the campus by providing a safe way home through a dark and deserted campus at night. It also could possibly cut down on the huge burden posed by late night students to the Student Transit Service, the Women's Night Transit and the Women's Safety Van.

A regularly scheduled bus route would help eliminate these hassles and allow students to focus more on why they're actually here—to study. Any way you look at it, mass transit is the way to go towards improving the future of Carbondale and the University. Although several details have yet to be worked out, the idea is sound enough to merit action.

Amtrak editorial flawed, lacks reason

I must take exception to the editorial of March 9, 1990, bemoaning Amtrak's federal operating subsidy. The editorial is factually flawed, lacking foresight and reason.

Amtrak was formed in 1971 as a result of the bankruptcy and discontinuation of passenger service of the private railroads. Amtrak inherited a badly deteriorated and neglected infrastructure including track, stations, facilities and rail cars.

You stated that without government funds, Amtrak's freight and passenger service could not stay afloat. First, Amtrak does not operate freight trains, secondly, I cannot think of a single passenger railroad in the world that is not government subsidized.

The clincher in your editorial was when you ask how can we justify subsidizing Amtrak over other enterprises. Why not give the airlines a few million a year along with trucking, shipping and the United Parcel Service. This happens to be exactly what the government does do. The subsidy to Amtrak is peanuts compared to the benefits other industries receive. Who do you think pays for the construction and maintenance of airports, runways, the FAA, radar and control towers, highways, bridges, ports, canals and a myriad of other structures and services that private industry benefit from?

Why doesn't Greyhound build their own highways? Why don't the airlines build and maintain their own airports? Why then should Amtrak be required to solely maintain over 20,000 miles of track, bridges, crossings and signaling devices?

The proposal to eliminate the Amtrak operating subsidy is a visible and easy political target. Amtrak is a necessary and useful part of America's transportation network. The elimination of the subsidy will destroy 19 years of public investment. Amtrak is healthier today than at any time in its history. It would be penny wise and pound foolish to eliminate Amtrak. — Mark Morris, senior, education.

Motorcycles dangerous, especially to those unaware of possible accidents, other motorists

Every time someone gets hurt or killed in a motorcycle accident, I hear a lot of talk about how dangerous motorcycles are. I'm glad to hear it, too, because it's so true. The reasons ought to be obvious, but hearing them again and again does no harm.

What really bothers me is that I'm not sure that it does any good. Does it sink into the heads of my fellow motorcyclists? Too many people say, "You never think it'll happen to you," or, "I was just minding my own business when some jerk hit me." These attitudes are bad ones for drivers of any kind of vehicle, but especially bad for those on just two wheels.

Every time I get on my bike, I assume there will be accidents to avoid. I know it can happen to me, and should I ever forget it, I'll never ride again.

I've been hit twice in my car by people who didn't see me. Once, stopped in traffic, I was rear-ended as I was about to pull out of a parking space, but hadn't even moved before I was hit. If these people didn't see me in a car, do you think they would have seen me on a motorcycle? Not a chance.

I don't want people to think this opinion is coming from some ultra-conservative biker and dismiss it as being to whimsical. Sure, I tach it up and get down on my bike when I think it would be least dangerous to do so. It's a combination risk and exhilaration that makes it fun. But I guarantee you won't see me doing it down South Illinois Avenue.

Read page 110 of the April '90 edition of Cycle magazine. To quote from Clement Salvadori's article, "Uncommon Sense," "It is not enough to mind your own business; you must also mind that of everyone else."

If you're one of these people with a "it won't happen to me" attitude, I suggest you either not ride at all or realize that your next ride could be your last one. It might save your life. — Don Paulson, senior, computer science.

Headline not appropriate for outrageous letter

It was outrageous and an example of "gutter" journalism for you to put the headline "Cult Leader Spoils Life at Baptist Student Center" in Tuesday's Daily Egyptian letters to the editor.

The running of a letter to the editor which was no more than a personal diatribe and attack on the Rev. Phil Nelson lowers the quality of your newspaper drastically. It is not a question of whether William M. Stephens had a right to say what he did, but whether your newspaper had the right to print it, and particularly whether the headline was even appropriate.

Has the Daily Egyptian sunk to the depths of the tabloids? A newspaper at a university should certainly be above printing gossip, rumor and slander.

In the academic atmosphere, personal vendettas are not appropriate and even though they do occur, should not be supported by the University newspaper. — the Rev. Lewis A. Payne, director, Canterbury Fellowship (Episcopal Student Group)

Student curious about University mysteries

Now that my academic career here at SIU is almost completed, several questions remain unanswered:

■ Is Faner Hall supposed to be a statement in Spartanism, or did the University run out of funds before the contractor actually finished the job?

■ Would Chancellor Pettit consent to a 60 Minutes interview with Mike Wallace regarding University spending which probably would trigger a Senate Investigating Committee probe on the issue?

■ If the University has a no smoking policy in the classroom, shouldn't that policy extend to chewing tobacco users who nauseatingly spit into soda cans during class?

■ What is the purpose of writing to a newspaper editor?

Just thought I'd ask. — Bren Adams, agriculture education and mechanics.

percent preference to buying recycled products," Poshard said.

He explained that the government would be paying 10 percent more for recycled goods than goods made from virgin materials.

To compensate for higher prices paid, Poshard said, the bill calls for a trust fund to be created. The fund would be supported by the taxation of companies that use unrecycled materials. Poshard said this could create as much as $300 million a year to support other recycling programs.

The plan also would require that 25 percent of waste in the country be recycled in four years and that the level of recycling would be 50 percent in eight years, Poshard said.

Margaret Ellis, one of the committee co-chairpersons, charged that the government should get behind recycling. She also proposed the government end subsidies to companies who cut down trees and give that money to recycling mills. Garbage should be treated as a natural resource, she added.

"We're wasting our waste," Ellis said.

To make a point about recycling, Poshard sifted through a bag of garbage containing plastics, paper, glass and other household waste.

Gary Wolf, media coordinator for the committee, said the garbage Poshard went through was put together to make a sample representative of garbage collected in the Carbondale area. Fifteen bags of garbage were collected to survey of what area residents throw away, he said, adding the survey "wasn't very scientific."

Poshard said data from the Office of Technology Assessment show that each person in the United States throws away about 1,000 pounds of garbage a year.

"I would say 85 to 90 percent of the stuff we went through here is recyclable," he said.

The two candidates, however, do agree that education and jobs should be high priorities in the legislature.

Mitchell said the General Assembly spends most of Illinois' funds and leaves education for the leftovers. He said he would support making the two-year income tax hike permanent to help pay for the growing monetary demands of education.

"I think people have gotten accustomed to spending the money, so there is no reason to take it away now," Mitchell said.

Woolard said he would vote to maintain the tax increase if it was needed to rescue education. He said the General Assembly needed to look for a new formula for funding education and a permanent tax increase may be one solution.

Public hearings to be held on sale of city property

By Nora Bentley
Staff Writer

Public hearings concerning the sale of city-owned Tower Road property and the Ryan and McMillen Annexation Agreement (Route 51 South) will be held during tonight's City Council meeting.

The city has been approached by parties interested in purchasing the 16 acres of land on the east side of Tower Road that was acquired by the city in 1983 in exchange for the old Public Works Building at 300 E. Main St. The transaction had the stipulation that a public hearing be held before any use or sale of the land was made.

The land is zoned R-1-12, low density residential and there haven't been indications that the intended use would be in violation of the zoning. The council discussed the sale at its Feb. 20 meeting and an appraisal of the land puts it at $57,400. It was estimated that approximately 8.36 acres of the land is usable for residential development.

The second hearing deals with a petition filed by John and Marsha Ryan and Gregg and Linda McMillen requesting that their property be rezoned from rural residential to secondary business.

The Planning Commission has recommended that the City Council approve the change and authorization will be voted on at tonight's meeting.

Other business includes:
■ Action on a request from the Women's Center, the Good Samaritan House and Mary's House for certificates of local approval for state emergency shelter grants.

■ Action on FY 1990 year-end budget adjustments.

■ Annexing Burke Property on New Era Road.

■ Adopting the ICMA Retirement Corporation Deferred Compensation Program.

■ Amending Section 2-5-4, D of city code. This code permits civic, service or charitable organizations to apply for modification of hours of liquor establishments.

■ Approving Parrish rezoning from general agriculture (AG) and R-1-15, low density residential to R-1-12, low density residential.

■ Approving Parrish rezoning from AG to R-2.4, medium density residential.

■ Annexing Parrish property west of Violet Lane.

■ Approving Parrish Acres West 6th Plat.

■ Approving a time extension for National Super Markets, Inc. expansion on West Main Street.

■ A report on Southern Illinois-St. Louis Freeway Cooperative effort.

University students to enter finals of International Law Moot Court

By Eric Reyes
Staff Writer

Five SIU-C law school students will battle 11 American and 30 international teams in the Phillip C. Jessup International Law Moot Court final competition March 24-31.

In February the team defeated Yeshiva University of New York City, Northern Illinois University, Pace University of New York and Rutgers-Camden and Rutgers-

Newark of New Jersey in the eastern regionals. The team took first place for both courtroom and writing skills.

The team used to be in the Midwest region, but because of its wins the team advanced to the Eastern region. Maria Frankowska, law school professor and team coach, said.

Frankowska said it was the University's fifth regional championship in six years.

"We are not casual about this (constant winning)," Solverson said. "We work our tails off. We have at least 14 practice rounds before we go."

Frankowska said the team began to work in January.

"They worked very hard. I'm very impressed with the attitude toward competition. I can only say that victory does not come easy," Frankowska said.

Frankowska said the case involves a hypothetical dispute between two countries.

AIDS week to increase awareness

By Richard Hund
Staff Writer

AIDS awareness week, officially beginning March 26, will feature entertainment and lectures to spread information on AIDS and HIV infection.

Facts about the disease still must be given to increase awareness, Carren Summerfield, coordinator of sexuality education at the Wellness Center, said.

"We need to focus on why we're not changing our (sexual) behavior" even though the information has been given out in the past years, she said. Some of the programs to take place during the week will include:

■ The "Let's Shake AIDS" dance-a-thon at the Recreation Center from 8 to 11 p.m. on March 23.

■ The "Wizard of AIDS" play in the Lesar Law Building Auditorium at 7 p.m., March 24.

■ An "AIDS in the 1990s: Hope and Greater Challenges" address by Dr. Richard Keeling in the Student Center Auditorium at 7 p.m., March 28.

■ A rally "in support of those living with AIDS" on the steps of Shryock Auditorium at 6 p.m., March 29.

Assassinated archbishop remembered by SILASC

By Dale Walker
Staff Writer

On the 10th anniversary of the assassination of Oscar Romero, an archbishop in El Salvador who was outspoken against repression, the Southern Illinois Latin America Solidarity Committee will sponsor Central America Week.

Oscar Romero, who was assassinated on March 24, 1980, is the subject of the movie "Romero," with Raul Julia, who starred in "Kiss of the Spider Woman," playing Romero.

"Romero," a depiction of his life, will be shown at 2 and 6 p.m., Sunday at the Student Center Auditorium, Randy Hughes, assistant math professor and member of SILASC, said.

Following the film, Tim

McMann, a jesuit priest who had worked with the six priests slain in El Salvador, will reflect on the lives and the work of the assassinated priests and the work of Romero, Hughes said.

The six priests, a cook and her teen-age daughter were assassinated November 16, 1989.

Six Salvadoran military persons were arrested for the murders, Kathleen McGuire, Peace and Justice coordinator for the Adorers of the Blood of Christ, said.

Central America Week began with "Children in Debt," a short video that focused on the debt crisis in Latin America and its effect on children, Hughes said. Central America Week will run until Sunday.

Today at 3 and 3:30 p.m. "Environment Under Fire," a video focusing on the effects of war and development on the environment will be shown, Hughes said.

Wednesday through Friday from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., there will be an information table in the Student Center.

There will be printed information with up-to-date news on the situation in Central America along with buttons, T-shirts and bumper stickers, Hughes said.

Students can get involved in SILASC and meet its members at the information table, he said.

At 6 p.m. Friday, there will be an "Oscar Romero Prayer Service" at the Newman Center. Following the service there will be a beans and rice dinner.

"Romero" is co-sponsored by the Student Programming Council and SILASC.

Resume writing workshop slated

By Dale Walker
Staff Writer

After spending considerable time and money in getting an education in a chosen field, students often find the biggest obstacle they face is not applying their skills but finding employment, an International Programs and Services faculty member, said.

For many international students, the skill of selling oneself is often underrated, Diane Wissinger, academic adviser for International Programs and Services, said.

A resume writing workshop will instruct international students in the fine art of writing resumes and cover letters March 26, 1990 from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. in the Mississippi Room.

Judy Eaton, a University Placement Center faculty member, will give the presentation.

"A lot of international students don't know what a resume is or its purpose," Wissinger said.

International students will see examples of resumes and cover letters besides receiving instruction on how to write them, Wissinger said.

Handouts will be given to international students to aid them in preparing a resume, Wissinger said.

For details and registration, one may contact Betsy or Ming at International Programs and Services, 453-5774.

President Mikhail Gorbachev in Moscow," he said.

A two-thirds majority in the 400-seat Parliament in necessary to introduce constitutional amendments such as those that will be needed for unification with West Germany.

The conservative Alliance for Germany consisting of de Maiziere's Christian Democrats, the East German counterpart of West German Chancellor Helmut Kohl's party, and two smaller conservative parties, won 48.15 percent of the vote and 193 parliamentary seats in Sunday's election, just short of an absolute majority.

The stunning landslide victory of the three conservative parties was a humiliating defeat for the Social Democratic Party, which got less than 22 percent of the ballot.

The vote stripped the communists of any power they had, formally ending four decades of communist rule in East Germany.

But the communist party led by outgoing Prime Minister Hans Modrow, renamed the Party of Democratic Socialism, did better than expected, winning 16.33 percent and 65 seats.

The election results were seen as a defeat of the Social Democratic approach toward unity advocating a slower pace compared to the Christian Democrats' sweeping endorsement of Kohl's blueprint for rapidly incorporating the German Democratic Republic into the Federal Republic of Germany.

Monday, De Maiziere reiterated his support for Kohl's blueprint as provided for under West German constitution.

"This was one of our statements during the electoral campaign and I don't see why we should depart from it," he said.

The conservative leader said it was now essential to pull down the Berlin Wall as a clear sign the two Germans are moving toward unity.

"The wall should be removed as soon as possible as a clear sign of the growing-together of Germany," he said.

In an interview with the Bonn Express Newspaper, De Maiziere said the most important task he faced was to halt the daily exodus of an estimated 2,000 East Germans seeking a better life in West Germany.

De Maiziere said he wants to cement East-West German ties prior to unification by introducing the West Germany currency into the East Germany before Parliament's recess, "perhaps in June."

Kohl told reporters at his Christian Democratic headquarters in Bonn that East Germans gave a "clear buff" to the communists and voted "to travel with the Federal Republic along the path to a unified Germany."

Education key to U.S. economy

By Tony Mancuso
Staff Writer

The future of the United States economy is directly related to the future of the nation's chemistry and biochemistry programs, James Tyrrell, chairman of the SIU-C chemistry and biochemistry department, said.

"One of the University's basic requirements is to produce people who are capable of developing new products and new methods of thinking—both of which are vital to economic growth," Tyrrell said.

He said the current trend for college students is to shy away from the sciences in general and chemistry in particular.

Tyrrell said President George Bush's education goals and SIU Chancellor Lawrence K. Pettit's strategic plan for the 21st century both are steps in the right direction, but secondary and higher education need much more emphasis on the sciences.

"Talk is not good enough. We need funds for equipment and research. We also need a way to get more people interested in chemistry," Tyrrell said.

He said chemistry at the secondary education level is not adequate. Many students entering college are already out of the picture as far as getting into chemistry is concerned.

Although the number of chemistry majors at SIU-C has stayed about the same for the past seven years (64 undergraduates and 55 graduates this spring), Tyrrell said the numbers are far too low and the quality of the students has decreased considerably.

"I feel a good indication of the problem we have is that in a university of more than 20,000 students, less than 5 percent finish with science degrees," he said.

"The number of useful and qualified chemists may very well determine whether the U.S. will remain an economic power or become a second-rate nation."

The country must soon find a large number of qualified chemists because many jobs are opening in chemistry and many more will soon follow.

Tyrrell said chemistry occupations are focusing on two major thrusts, both of which will be expanding and needing competent workers.

"First, we are using chemistry and biochemistry to study, understand and even re-create biological systems. To better understand (biological systems), we study them at the molecular and genetic level," he said.

Gene molecular biology involves developmental work at the molecular level, also known as cloning, Tyrrell said.

"Cloning is often misconstrued as making artificial humans, but scientists are mostly working in plant molecular biology," he said.

"They are creating plants that are disease resistant and pest resistant, plants that grow faster and plants that create their own nitrogen," Tyrrell said. "All of these improvements help the nation's economy by requiring less expenses for herbicides, pesticides and fertilizers."

Tyrrell said scientists are just beginning to look at the molecular level for such topics as new varieties of farm animals and curing human disease.

The second thrust chemistry is focusing on is materials science and engineering. This thrust involves anything associated with development and study of the nature of materials, Tyrrell said.

DISCOVER THE TASTE OF EATING RIGHT

March is National Nutrition Month!
Scavenger Hunt (scaven-jer hunt) a game in which persons are sent out to bring a number of prescribed miscellaneous items without buying them.

Here they are, the clues for the Scavenger Hunt!

March 5: "Look for the Body," we may quiz you.

* I can't believe we have a project due after Spring Break!!! My blood is BOILING!! I had better go to the SHAC and have it checked out.

* Swimsuits??? With the way I have been eating these last few weeks, I can only assess that it is a matter of time before the fat on my body folds over and envelopes me...EEEEK!!! I had better stop by the REC training Room and see if they can help me. They will probably tell me to Walk for Health and that it will make me full of VITALITY.

* I am such a connoisseur of burger, shakes and fries, I never gave that fat content no nevermind, but when I saw the scales tipping, I said, "How many calories can there be in a bucket of Colonel's fried chicken?" You can get food info fast one night at the Student Center.

* An investment of $5 on March 21 could lead to a lifetime of savings!!! You need no invest but need to investigate.

3-2-4-4, 4-2-4-4, 2-2-4-4, 4-2-4-4

One of these numbers is:

A. The phone number of your favorite delivery pizza.

B. The pick 4 Lotto.

C. The combination for "How to Eat for Good Health"

* Boy, these food and nutrition questions are tough! I had better stop at second floor Quigley to see if I can find the answer.

* Apples are red, grapes are inky, when you think of balance, think of a slinky. Confucius say... Good Eating for Every Body always leads to Healthy Weigh! This thought is Centered around Wellness.

* This guy from Agriculture really helped me on me "Sofine Bovine" essay. I have got to invite him to dinner but he does not have a phone! I guess I will just stop by and leave a message with the Secretary. P.S. His face is in the case!

* For additional tokens, go to the three tables, and find out about myths, nutrirobics and labels.

shut down the scoring attack of Saluki forward Amy Rakers, but Rakers emerged with a game-high 22 points. Rakers, at 6-foot-2, battled her biggest opponent all year in 6-foot-5 Buckeye center Mindy Smith.

"I think Stacie Bruce and Mindy Smith did a good job on Rakers in just trying to make her work very hard for everything that she got," Ohio State coach Nancy Darsch said. "Rakers is a very fine player. That was obvious tonight."

With about 15 minutes to play in the game Darsch decided to change her defense to have Bruce key on Rakers with Smith giving weak-side support.

At the 14:54 mark Saluki guard Karrie Redeker sunk a 19-foot jumper to tie the score at 39, but then the Salukis went cold.

Ohio State made a 25-6 run to take a 64-45 lead with 7:30 left.

The second half run "was probably the best we've had all year," Darsh said. "The fans got excited and the players got excited and it seemed that everything started falling our way."

After the game SIU-C coach Cindy Scott commented on the Ohio State defense and rebounding.

"I think they did a great job of sinking and doubling up on Amy, but I don't think that was the difference in the ball game," Scott said. "I think the key to the game was our inability to keep them off the offensive boards."

Even though the Salukis out rebounded Ohio State 41-39, the Buckeyes worked their way underneath to grab 13 offensive boards.

The Salukis made an attempt at a comeback late in the game, but were unable to shut down the Buckeyes' attack.

SIU-C softball team fares well in South

By Eric Bugger
Staff Writer

The SIU-C softball team took Georgia and Florida by storm last week as it traveled around those states to play 12 games.

The Salukis won nine games and lost only three before the rains came and canceled the remainder of the Florida State Invitational.

SIU-C began its spring trip March 11 winning a doubleheader against Mercer University in Atlanta, Georgia. Saluki sophomore pitcher Dede Darnell pitched a 1-0 shutout in the first game and teammate junior Lisa Robinson threw a 3-0 shutout in the nightcap.

The next day Florida State handed SIU-C its first loss of the season. The Seminoles blanked the Salukis 4-0.

The team journeyed back to Georgia March 13 for a doubleheader with Valdosta State. Darnell and senior Jennifer Brown pitched the Salukis to a sweep of the twin bill 16-0 and 8-3.

The final game for the Salukis before the highly-competitive

Florida State Invitational was with Florida A&M. Robinson picked up her second win in a 12-1 six inning game. Darnell threw her third shutout of the season while her teammates crushed Florida A&M 12-0.

The invitational began March 16 with the Salukis sweeping a tripleheader of Connecticut (6-2), Nicholls State (3-1) and Miami of Ohio (7-0).

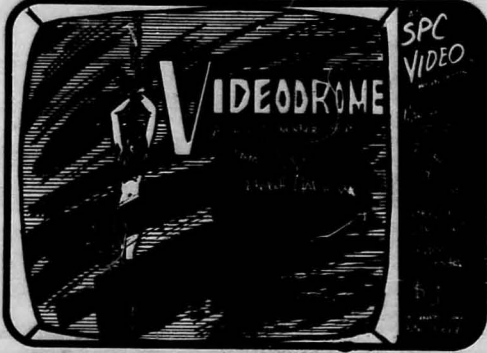

Nebraska and Furman defeated the Salukis the next day.

"I'm real happy with the way we played," Saluki head coach Kay Brechtelsbauer said. "I'm a little disappointed that we lost that last game, but overall I'm pleased with the team's performance."

The Salukis pounded out a total of 72 runs during their trip while giving up only 17. They slapped 10 home runs while compiling a team batting average of .335.

"We got some very good performances from our pitchers, but we played awfully good to really help the pitchers out," Brechtelsbauer said. "Mary Jo Firnbach made some plays at third base that were next to unbelievable."

have to go on," Herrin said.
McSwain scored 15 points and 10 rebounds to pace the Salukis. Despite a disheartening end to an otherwise great season, McSwain was content with the success the team had this season.
"We're proud of the season and what our coaches have taught us, that is to have respect for yourself and what you believe in," McSwain said.

Jones was the only other Saluki in double figures with 11 points. Jones gained a close bond with his teammates in his two seasons as a Saluki.

"When I first came to Southern I was kind of nervous," Jones said. "But after I started playing I fell in love with the school."

der, went 2-0 on the Florida trip and has a 2.40 earned run average. Sean Bergman, a sophomore right-hander, is 1-1 with a 2.21 earned run average in 16.3 innings pitched.
"The pitching staff did a tremendous job," Jones said. "Guys were throwing strikes down there and we received a real lift from Al Levine out of the bullpen."

The Salukis also are hot at the plate. Senior center fielder Doug Shields, an all-Missouri Valley Conference selection last season, leads the Salukis with a .377 batting average and 18 runs batted in.

Senior second baseman Tim Davis is second on the team in RBI's with 15, is hitting .361 and leads the Salukis with 16 runs scored.

"This is a fine start if we can continue to build on this effort," Jones said.

If you now have a CD Player, or are planning to get one, you will surely prefer to take CDs from the Club at this time. As an introduction, you are entitled to any 8 CDs for only one penny, plus shipping and handling. And you'll have no problem in finding 8 CDs you really want, because all of the selections offered here are now available on Compact Discs.

To receive your 8 CDs, simply fill in and mail this application, and we'll bill you only 1¢ plus shipping and handling. In exchange, you agree to buy just six CDs within the next three years, at regular Club prices (which currently are $12.98-$15.98, plus shipping and handling)—and you may then cancel your membership at any time after buying six CDs.

Half-Price Bonus Plan: if you decide to continue as a member after fulfilling your membership obligation, you'll be eligible for our money-saving bonus plan. It lets you buy one CD at half price for each CD you buy at regular Club prices. And you'll enjoy this 50% off saving for as long as you remain a member.

Otherwise, the Club works in the same manner as previously outlined, so be sure to read the "How the Club Operates" and "10-Day Free Trial" information on the other side. Remember—your risk absolutely nothing by mailing this application today!

Extra Bonus Offer: as a special offer to new members, take one additional CD right now for only $6.95. This discount purchase entitles you to choose an extra CD as a bonus FREE. And you'll receive your discounted CD and your bonus CD with your 8 introductory selections—that's 10 CDs in all!

To get 12 cassettes for a penny!

...just join our music club now. It's your best guide to today's best music—and a great deal, too! To get any 12 cassettes from your favorite artists, just fill in and mail the application together with your check or money order for $1.86 as payment (that's 1/2 for your first 12 selections, plus $1.86 to cover shipping and handling). In exchange, you simply agree to buy 8 more cassettes (at regular Club prices) in the next three years—and you may cancel membership anytime after doing so.

How the Club operates: Every four weeks (13 times a year) you'll receive the Club's music magazine, which describes the Selection of the Month for each musical interest... plus hundreds of alternatives from every field of music. In addition, up to six times a year you may receive offers of Special Selections, usually at a discount... regular Club prices, for a total of up to 19 buying opportunities.

If you wish to receive the Selection of the Month or the Special Selection, you need do nothing—it will be shipped automatically. If you prefer an alternate selection, or none at all, simply fill in the response card always provided and mail it by the date specified. You will always have at least 10 days to make your decision. If you ever receive any Selection without having had at least 10 days to decide, you may return it at our expense.

The cassettes you order during your membership will be billed at regular Club prices, which currently are $7.98 to $9.98—plus shipping and handling. (Multi-unit sets, special and classical selections may be somewhat higher.) And if you continue as a member after completing your enrollment agreement, you'll be eligible for our generous "buy one—get one free" money-saving bonus plan!

10-Day Risk-Free Trial: We'll send details of the Club's operation with your introductory shipment. If you are not satisfied for any reason whatsoever, just return everything within 10 days for a full refund and you will have no further obligation. So act now!

Order your first selection now at a big discount—and get 2 extra cassettes FREE! You may also choose your first selection right now—we'll give it to you for up to 60% off regular Club prices—only $3.98. Enrolment payment now and you'll receive it with your 12 introductory cassettes. This discount purchase immediately reduces your membership obligation—you then need buy just 7 more selections (instead of 8) in the next three years. What's more, this discount purchase also entitles you to still 2 more cassettes as a bonus, FREE. Just check the box in the application and fill in the numbers of your first selection and the 2 free bonus cassettes you want now.
