Candidates Oppose Violence To Gain Student Demands

The four candidates for student body president speaking at a public press conference Thursday night, declared themselves opposed to the use of violence to gain student-backed demands.

Three—Steve Antonacci, Gary Krischer and Orrin Bern—advocated the use of nonviolent protest in varying degrees.

Antonacci, running on the ACTION party ticket, said the student Senate should "approach every subject as one issue," he said protests should be halted now in view of the tense atmosphere on campus.

Antonacci also opposed allowing military recruiters to use Area H of the University Center. They should set up at the Placement Service, he said.

Sam Panayotovich, IMPACT candidate, said he would "work with the administration for students." He stressed that student government should work for students and the administration responsibly.

Panayotovich said student government should go to the students and that students should be "pulled on just about everything."

Benn, an independent, said he would work to have the University hire more black teachers and coaches and institute courses in black history.

Protests should take lawful forms, Benn said, and should only occur after all channels have been exhausted.

Krischer, RAP's nominee, charged that student government has been largely ineffective. He said that the women's hours compromise and did not accomplish what students wanted.

Krischer called for education changes in the General Course System. Antonacci, who helped negotiate the women's hours experiment, defended it and said administrators as much as promised that sophomores would be included in the no hours plan next fall. The press conference was sponsored by the SIU Student Senate, including evaluation of teachers by students.

Police Prepared Trouble Outbreak Was Anticipated

By John Epperson

The confrontation—at least the first—finally came, and the Security Police were prepared.

Various groups, black, white, mixed and those who have been advocating a Columbia University style takeover of a campus building, were scheduled to appear Wednesday night.

The attempt came around 11 p.m., Wednesday, but the police were on hand. According to President Deylone W. Morris, the police "were good, timely and efficient.

The 200 or so students crowding the door to Morris' office were predominately Negro, and they were angry over the administration's decision not to let Stekely Carmichael appear at SIU May 19.

Security officers said they had been warned as early as 10 p.m. that something was brewing. When the crowd came, officers went around the 5th floor, down around Morris' office and office. More mementos were arrested at the hour and moved to a rational and stable atmosphere.

Student Senate Passes New Amendment

The Student Senate passed an amendment to the Constitution Wednesday night substituting a new set of by-laws for the judiciary branch.

The new by-laws, approved by the Faculty Council and University administration, give the specified judicial bodies the authority to act on student violations of social rules.

The recently-approved Student Conduct Review Board would handle all cases referred to it by student appeals or from the Campus Judicial Board. The conduct review board will be comprised of three faculty members, appointed by the Faculty Council and five students appointed by the student body president. One of the five students will be a graduate student. All of the appointees have not been made.

Jerry Paluch, chairman of the Internal Affairs Committee, which drew up the new by-laws, said they clarify and redefine the jurisdiction the judicial bodies presently hold. He said the old by-laws were unclear in defining which violations fall under the jurisdiction of the judicial boards.

The new by-laws would give the Student Conduct Review Board the authority to act on the violation of several social rules. Included are: stealing from another member of the University community; forgery and alteration or misuse of documents, records, files, identification or library cards.

This board will act on student violations of hours, signs-out or violations restrictions and the possession, consumption or furnishing of alcoholic beverages in or on University property.

Paluch explained that violations of academic rules would be handled by the administration, although the accused student could ask that the judicial boards make recommendations. Among the academic violations are the acquisition by a student without permission of any academic material, any form of cheating, and any form of plagiarism.

According to Paluch, the violations were stated in the by-laws "to let the student know what he can or cannot do." He said prior to these new by-laws the judicial boards acted arbitrarily.

Paluch pointed out that if the new by-laws are approved by the administration, a student would be able to take a case to either the judicial boards or the administration.

The judicial boards would not have the power, however, to put a student on probation, suspend or expel him without the administration's approval. They would be able to reprimand or fine students in violation of social rules.

Student Body President

Operate with Realistic Goals

The time has come for all students to do a little soul searching. Do you want a Student Government which is experienced, hard working, realistic in its goals and one which operates with the student’s opinion foremost in all decisions that are made?

This is what I and my running mate, Jerry Finney and Derryl Reed, have to offer you. We offer no quick solution to all problems, but rather present an approach which is effective in its desired ends and one which is realistic in terms of University administration acceptance.

I do not intend to draw up a long list of grievances and threaten the administration with sit-ins until all these problems are remedied immediately. Rather, I intend to approach each problem singularly and follow it through until a suitable end has been met. This approach, however, does not preclude a sleep-out or sit-in if it is necessary to do so. I agree fully that such tactics have real value if applied at the right time and under the proper circumstances as to gain the greatest benefit.

A perfect example of this sensible tactic was the meaningful change that the Senate instituted concerning women’s hours. We attacked the problem realistically and followed it through the channels until we gained what we considered a very significant victory. It is my understanding with Dean Moulton and Vice President MacVicar that in all probability our original Senate bill calling for the abolishment of sophomore, junior and senior hours will be fully instituted fall quarter.

Having a working relationship among the three executive officers is an important factor to also consider. I have two people whom I am confident I can work with, and who are well qualified and experienced in their respective areas. Together we can pursue the same objectives and present to administration officials a united front of student opinion and support.

There will be a unified and cooperative student government next year if I am elected. Not one which has in the past presented a fractionalized working order and one which the administration has taken advantage of because of this disunity.

If you the students want responsible people who are willing to spend as much time as needed to see small and academic policies changed on this campus, then this is what myself and my running mates have to offer. As the French political scientist, De Lescroquer, once wrote, “The most natural right of man after that of acting on his own is that of combining his efforts, with those of his fellows and acting together.”

Steve Atonacci

Call for More Black Faculty

After much urging by others and lengthy deliberation within myself I decided to declare myself a candidate for Student Body President. I have been concerned for some time with the issues that face us as students.

Even though the last administration has made tremendous gains during its period of office, I think more could be accomplished with initiative, foresight and planning. I am confident of my ability to assume this role because of wide experience. Presently I am president of the International Relations Club; I have been on the University Varsity Debating Team and until my resignation a week ago, I was chairman of the Controversial Speakers Forum.

My platform calls for:

(1) More Student Influence in the Activities and Organization of the University Center.

Every quarter students are required to pay a $2.00 University Building fee, but yet our general influence in its activities and organization is minimal. I believe that apart from the classroom there should be a building on campus which can be identified with students because it exemplifies students influence in its activities. With more student involvement, organization and planning of its activities, the students of SIU can have a student union that truly represents them.

(2) Student Legal Advisor.

My second proposal calls for the hiring of a lawyer as Student Legal Advisor. In the past students who have had legal problems with landlords, Carbondale stores and police in general, have been at a disadvantage because of excessive lawyer’s fees. My proposal calls for the hiring of a private lawyer on a part time basis who will be paid by the Student Government for consultation with students. In the event that a student wishes to retain the lawyer’s services, the student would be responsible for payment.

(3) Reading Week

In England, at the University of Toronto, at Washington University in St. Louis, and at an increasing number of American schools a week known as Reading Week is set aside prior to final examinations for students to complete term papers, conduct study sessions and in general make final preparations for exams. At SIU students attend classes until the week before finals. If elected president I would inquire into the feasibility of instituting such a program at SIU.

(4) Black Faculty

At this period of unrest, resistance and social injustice in the United States it is my opinion that a state university such as this one must have an insatiable urge and commitment to right the wrongs of centuries and in general be identified with the disadvantaged and underprivileged. Examining the situation at SIU I find that even though black students play an integral part in its functions there are no black coaches and fewer than five black faculty members or administrators make up its staff. As president I would be committed to bringing this to the attention of those responsible for the hiring of faculty in an attempt to alter the situation.

(5) Women’s Hours

I am satisfied with the immediate gains achieved by the present student government administration regarding women’s hours. However, should I be elected president my emphasis would be on getting the University to reconsider its policy, and to permit male and female visiting in dormitory rooms at specified times.

(6) International Speakers

Students at a university the size of SIU should have the opportunity to be acquainted with speakers of national and international repute. As Student Body President I would attempt to initiate a program whereby students could enjoy such speakers.

Administratration Doesn't Take Students Seriously

There are more students enrolled in SIU than there are citizens of Carbondale, and yet the University is influenced more by the Carbondale area than by the students. For this reason Southern is about four years behind other universities of the same size.

While social rules have been liberalized or totally abolished at other universities, they have been made more restrictive at Southern. We are denied the use of cars or motorcycles. We are forced to live in dormitories which greatly restrict our activities. Girls are locked in their dormitories at night with little regard for their maturity or intelligence.

Students of SIU are in an inferior position in the Carbondale area as well as at the University. We are overcharged and regarded as dirt by the Carbondale merchants in town who put pressure on the University to keep students from having cars so the students will be forced to shop in town. The money the students spend keeps Carbondale going and yet the student neighborhoods have the poorest streets and lighting and the fewest sidewalks of any neighborhood in town.

Our condition worsens instead of becoming better because the University administration regards us as school children who must be told what to do and when to do it. The punishment is often severe for those who break the outdated University rules. Some girls are confined to their rooms for 12 hours because they arrived home at twelve o’clock instead of at 11:30.

Because the administration does not take the needs of the students seriously, the interests of big business are given more importance than the needs of the students. The University feels morally obligated to fill the large dormitories private companies have built. The University forces a certain number of students to live in dormitories and students often have to pay for meals they cannot eat. It is time to start treating students as individuals and not as numbers.

Even the activities of Southern are geared for the Carbondale area and not for the students. Students should not have to travel hundreds of miles to attend performances by contemporary groups like the Cream, Jefferson Airplane, Temptations, etc. The University must offer events that appeal to the students and not to the area. How can there be any school spirit when the students cannot take part in the events of the University?

We can change the University and make it serve us if we show the University and the city of Carbondale that we are dissatisfied. If we come together we have the power to change things.

RAP asks for your vote on May 15 so the changes can start. We are not concerned with making a better Student Government because even the best student government is ineffective. Vote RAP in the student elections and let’s get this campus moving.

$100,000 Education Grant Helps SIU Continue Exchange

The cooperative effort between SIU and predominately Negro Winston-Salem (N.C.) State College will continue through the coming year with help from a $100,000 grant from the U.S. Office of Education.

The program, involving two schools in contrasting cultural areas, was started in 1965 and received its first federal funds in 1966. Donald W. Robinson, associate dean of the project, said all details of the grant renewal are not presently available but that the faculty exchange program definitely is included.

Robinson said much good has come to both institutions as a result of the faculty exchange program and persons interested in going to Winston-Salem should contact him. He is assistant dean for graduate studies and research in the College of Education.

Student Senate Suggests Bill
For Changing Vehicle Statutes

The Student Senate Wednesday night heard a resolution asking that a bill be taken to determine student opinions on the functions and effectiveness of student government this year.

The resolution, submitted by student senator James Hodi, was sent to the Internal Affairs Committee to study the feasibility of having the student opinions computerized.

Jerry Paluch, chairman of the Internal Affairs Committee, said he is preparing for the action asked for by the Senate, a resolution of Imperial West's "approved" status.

The bill will be drawn up in accordance with the University Center Board (UCB) and the Internal Affairs Committee's regulations. The bill will be ready in time for the presidential and senate elections May 15, since the committee is not scheduled to report back until next week.

Another resolution asking the senate to support the present policy of the University Center Board (UCB) concerning Armed Forces recruiting on campus was sent to the Student Physical Facilities Committee for further study.

The resolution asks that military recruiters be permitted space for their teams in the University Center as they have been for the past five years in accordance with the UCB. It also permits each branch of the military to operate on campus three days of each quarter.

According to the resolution and the UCB, the military recruiters should be accommodated in the best possible manner without depriving students of their rights and privileges. The recruiters are subject to daily ruling with regards to the availability of space.

Pete Rezeli, student senator, submitted the resolution because of the great number of students on the campus who "show an interest and desire to volunteer their skills to the United States government through the military services."

Black Students Seek Release, Bond Money

By Ivez Rencher

Black students concentrated their efforts Thursday mainly on obtaining release for six members who they felt were "unjustly" arrested after protest actions Wednesday night.

Some of the students had arranged talks for early afternoon with President Donald W. Morris, but Paul Morrison, assistant to the president, said none of the students had arrived as late as an hour and a half after the appointed time.

The purpose of the meeting was an attempt to get the arrested students reinstated at SIU and to get charges by

Protests Held
At 2 Illinois Universities

CHARLESTON, Ill. (AP)— Negro students at Eastern Illinois University presented the institution with a list of demands Tuesday including open housing, access to membership in fraternities and sororities and increased financial aid.

Dr. Quincy Doudna, university president to whom the demands were submitted, responded by saying his institution is "committed to continued and increased efforts to find solutions.

Doudna said, "Most of the problems enumerated have been matters of concern to the university for years and have not been completely solved and do not lend themselves to easy solution."

However, he termed the student action as being "in harmony with the spirit within the student administration relationships."

In a less successful protest campaign, Roosevelt University in Chicago Thursday suspended 24 students arrested during a sit-in Wednesday night outside the office of university President Wolf, A. Weil.

Other students, meanwhile, resumed the sit-in protest against Weil's refusal to hire a full-time black history instructor Stoughton Lynd, a Vietnam War critic.

The University said the suspensions would be effective June 8, allowing the students to complete the semester.

Lexi said that the group raising the money has decided that an attempt will be made to have Carmichael appear off campus, if University officials won't grant use of an SIU building.

Another table was set up by black students most of the day in front of the center to get petition signatures for a continuing campaign to rename the General Classroom Building in honor of the late Martin Luther King Jr. The first petitions were circulated last month.

Indian Concert Set May 20

A concert of Indian music will be presented at 8 p.m. May 20 in Furr Auditorium of the University High School.

The concert, sponsored by the Indian Students Association, will feature sitarist Shyamadas Chakraborty and tabla player Nava Kumar Panda.

Shyamadas and Nava Kumar are involved in a cultural exchange tour sponsored by the Davis campus of the University of California.

Shyamadas studies at Calcutta University and was tutored at the Ali Akbar College of Music. He has played the sitar for All India Radio and movie soundtracks.

Nava Kumar was taught by his father and received a Government of India Scholarship for instruction from various Indian teachers.

He has taught tabla at music colleges in East India and has played accompaniment to many sitarists in India and Nepal, as well as performing in concerts.

The sitar is a string instrument with 19 or 20 frets and seven main strings running over a large bridge and 11 or 13 finer strings running under the frets and over a small bridge.

The main strings are plucked by a steel wire plectrum worn on the right index finger while the fingers of the left had slide on the frets and wires both horizontally and vertically.

Composed of two hand drums, the tabla is the most popular drum of India. The left-hand drum called the tala serves as the bass part while the right-hand drum called tabla serves as the treble.

Tickets for the concert are now on sale for $1 at the Information Desk of the University Center.

Communication Called Main War Problem

Communication is one of the biggest problems to overcome in helping an underdeveloped country, according to a member of the first SU team sent overseas to promote international education, Fred Armistead, associate professor in the Department of Education, made the observation Wednesday night in a talk entitled "The Other War in Vietnam." It was one of the Great Decisions of 1968 speech series.

In Vietnam, Armistead said, no help can be given unless the people want it, and they have to know that help exists.

A new law passed by the Illinois legislature requiring all firearm owners to register firearms has met with approval from local gun salesmen.

William Hinchcliff, proprietor of Bill's Gun Shop in Carbondale, is one who feels favorably toward the new statute.

"From a dealer's standpoint I like the law," Hinchcliff said, who is also a member of the Southern Illinois and the Egyptian Gun Collectors Association. "It places the responsibility of who can own a gun on the state."

The new law provides that gun owners must file an ownership form, a $5 fee, and a photograph of themselves to the Department of Public Safety in Springfield by July 1. Upon receipt of the application, the Department will issue or deny a permit within 30 days. The $5 fee covers a period of five years.

"A firearm is anything that expels a projectile by power charge or by explosion," Hinchcliff explained. "That excludes air rifles under 10-caliber or non-operating rifles. Actually the law had been established on the federal level, but was never enforced at the state level."

The state has five requirements for legal gun registration: (1) the registrant must be 21 years old; (2) he must not have been convicted of a crime within the past five years; (3) he must not be a mental patient or mentally retarded; (4) he must not be a drug addict; and (5) must be a U.S. citizen.

"This law closes up the loopholes," Hinchcliff said, "Now a person cannot purchase a hunting license, ammunition or any other firearms without the permit."

The law also provides for minors and out-of-state hunters or persons under the age of 21 may obtain a firearm owner's permit providing his parent or guardian has a legally registered firearm and has given the minor his written consent.

Out-of-state hunters must comply with all firearms laws in their own state and purchase a special out-of-state hunting permit. Out-of-state hunters must also keep their gun licenses issued and un malformed to Illinois residents while transporting a firearm.

Sheriff Raymond Dillinger of Jackson County received a number of complaints from callers wondering if they had to pay for two permits, one for a minor, even though their parents do not own guns. Most of the complaints were from persons who blamed legislators for just wanting another $5.

Masley Hawks of the State Department of Public Safety clarified the dual-application by saying that a minor cannot file the required registration form unless his parent or guardian has already filed a form and obtained a registration number.

This stipulation will hold true even if the parent or guardian does not intend to purchase guns or ammunition and does not intend to buy a hunting license, Hawks added. "The general public seems to feel this is just another revenue bill, but the educated members of the National Rifle Association endorse the law as long as it is not a stepping stone to stricter gun enforcement," Hinchcliff said.

"NRA members feel that anyone who can hunt and afford guns can afford the $5 fee and there is nothing in the law detrimental to sportsmanship," Hinchcliff concluded.

1968 Orioles Resemble 1966 Champs

Baltimore (AP) - The remainder of the American League would do well to cast a wary eye at the fast-breaking Baltimore Orioles. The 1968 Orioles resemble the 1966 pennant-winners in personnel and performance. But there are some differences that could make them more effective.

So far the pitching has been vastly superior to 1966.

Wittenberg Pitcher Definitely Jinxed

John Millner, a junior right-hander from St. Louis College, (O), recently lost a no-hitter when the "final out" was an infield error. Three hits quickly followed.

with the hitting less potent.

Just as important as raw ability, perhaps, as outfielder Refugee, the return of the winning spirit.

"We're out to show we're not as bad as last year," Blair said after the collapse which tumbling the Orioles into a sixth-place tie.

"Last year we sat back and waited for something to happen," said Blair. "This year, we're making things happen and forcing the other teams to make mistakes."

Only 12 of the current 25 players on the Orioles were around through the entire 1966 season, but they include seven of the original eight pitchers. 1966 was a year of learning for most of them.

The lone exception in shortstop Mark Belanger, the young, all-star son of the 1966 team. Since his father left the club, Mark has decided to give up hitting and focus on improving his fielding ability. Perhaps, as a shortfielder.

SIU, Illinois State to Renew Rivalry

Normal, Ill. (AP) - After a seven-year lull, Illinois State University and SIU will renew their annual baseball series starting in 1970.

Meet Weatbecker, Normal athletic director, announced Thursday Normal will play 10 and Dave May into action.

Not only have the youngsters played capably this season—they did it in college. The team has not suffered from a lack of exp erience. Even the transformation of outfielder Curt Belfort into a career RP pitcher has been made almost without a hitch.

Baseball Team Faces Busy Weekend Schedule

The SIU baseball team will face a tight schedule this weekend with five home games slated in three days.

Coach Joe Lutz's squad will kick off the home stand Friday by hosting David Lipscomb College in a doubleheader to begin at 1 p.m.

The Salukis play another home twin-bill Saturday against arch rival Kentucky Wesleyan College. That game also will start at 1 p.m.

The weekend closes with a single game Sunday with St. Louis University. Game time will be 2 p.m.

In past games between SIU and the three teams Southern holds a cumulative record of 10-7. The Salukis have beaten KWC five of the six encounters, St. Louis in 13 of 19 games, and Oklahoma in Columbia.

Defeated by Duzy, Toldeo, 6-4 and 6-1.

Joe Lutz was still undecided on the starting rotation for the three teams.

As of Thursday afternoon Lutz was still undecided on the starting rotation for the five games.

Tennis Team Defeats Toledo for 14th Win

SLU's tennis team continued its winning pace when the squad defeated Toledo, 8-1, here Wednesday. The victory was the 15th in 15 starts for the Salukis.

Johnny Yang remains unbeaten with a 15-0 record. The Salukis will meet Missouri and Oklahoma State Saturday in Columbia.

The results of the meet:

Singles:

Fritz Gildermeister, SLU defeated Schwartz, Toledo, 6-2 and 6-1.

Joe Villaree, SLU defeated Duzy, Toledo, 6-1 and 6-0.

Mike Sprengelmeyer, SLU beat Brown, Toledo, 6-4 and 6-3.

Saluki Flying Club

Members of the Saluki Flying Club and Alpha Eta Rho are participating in the National Intercollegiate Flying Association meet at Athens, Ohio.

Twenty-five entrants were entered in the competition which began Thursday and will end Saturday.

The Salukis, who carry a 28-12 record going into Friday's action, need just one more victory to set a new school record for the most wins during the regular season.

Junior Barry O'Sullivan leads the team in hitting with a .299 average. His 41 hits and 29 RBI's are also tops on the club.

Centerfielder Jerry Bond is second with a .286 mark and his 14 stolen bases leads the team.

Mike Rogodinski, the right-fielder, and second baseman Terry Brumfield are both hitting .279.

First baseman Bob Blakely and shortstop Don Kirkland are hitting .270 and .271 respectively.

Bob Susce continues to anchor the mound staff with a 7-1 record and 1.85 ERA.

Jerry Paetchofeld (5-2), Bob Ash (6-2) and Howard Nickason (5-2) all have ERA's under 2.00.

Southpaw Skip Pitlock has a 4-2 record and a 4.21 ERA.

Frosh Team Stands 8-2

SLU's froshmen baseball team, coached by Ron Guagenni, has won eight out of 10 games this season.

Guagenni, a 25-year-old graduate student in physical education, said a strong defense has helped pave the way.

He points out that the team is averaging two doubles a game.

A strong pitching staff has helped the froshmen squad. Two hurlers in right-hander Jack Nelson with a 4.0 record and an earned run average of only 0.52. Rich Colle, also a righthander, has a 4-1 record and a 1.66 ERA.

Individual batting leaders include centerfielder Ron Michalak with a .380 average and left fielder Ed Lemon with a .301 average. First baseman Mark Bellich is hitting .350. The team average is .257.

Victims of Southern's froshmen squad have been Forest Park Community College, four times; Kaskaskia Junior College, twice; and Paducah Junior College and Menard State Penitentiary, once each.

The team has lost only to Belleville Junior College in both ends of a doubleheader, 2-0 and 1.

The froshmen team will play Rend Lake Junior College of Mt. Vernon here next week. No date has been set.
